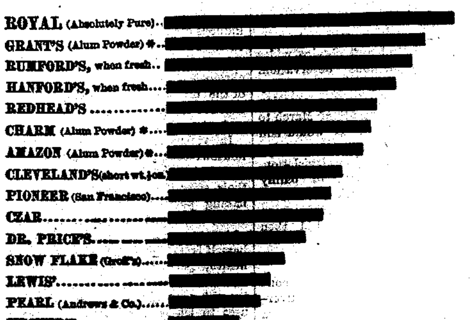
A BIG OFFER. To introduce them, we will GIVE AWAY 1,000 Self-Operating Washing Machines. If you want one send us your name, P. O. and express office at once. The National Co., 21 Dey St., N.Y.

COMPARATIVE WORTH OF BAKING POWDERS.



REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. Love, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. Mott, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. Henry Morton, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. Dana Hayes, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; [illegible]

[illegible]

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button Shoes.

"Hand Made."

Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe

IN THE COUNTY.

CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

SALMON SHOE STORE,

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,

THE PLUMBER,

has moved his office and shop

Under Collins' Shoe Store

and is now prepared to do all kinds of

PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING

Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods,

Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods

of all kinds. Also a full line of

GAS FIXTURES.

10tf S. C. North.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
—ALSO AGENT FOR—

Perfection Weather Strip.

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$5.00	2.63	1.44
Nut	5.00	2.63	1.44
Mix	5.00	2.63	1.44
Egg	4.60	2.43	1.34
Grate	4.60	2.43	1.34
Pea	4.00	2.13	1.19

Yard and Office Upper Landing. [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables, Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

G. D. BALL, Civil engineer, land surveyer and Attorney at Law. Leveling for Drainage, Sewerage, Street Grading etc., and conveyancy. Orders left at H. E. Nichols' law office in Nichols hal block.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and
7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts, Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!

The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.

White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

The Backus Water Motor.

IS THE MOST Economical Power Known!
—FOR—
DRIVING LIGHT MACHINERY

It takes but little room.
It never gets out of repair.
It can not blow up.
It requires no fuel.
It needs no engineer.

There is no delay; no firing up; no ashes to clean away; no extra insurance to pay; no repairing necessary; no coal bills to pay, and it is always ready for use.

It is invaluable for blowing Church Organs, for running Printing Presses, Sewing Machines, Turning Lathes, Scroll Saws, Grind Stones, Coffee Mills, Sausage Machines, Feed Cutters, Corn Mills, Elevators, etc.

Four-horse power at 40 pounds pressure of water. It is noiseless, neat, compact, steady, and above all

IT IS VERY CHEAP.

Price $15 to $300

Send for circular to the Backus Water Moto Co., Newark, N. J., stating paper you saw advertisement in.

Mr. S. C. North of this village having set a number of the Backus Motors will be pleased to answe any inquiries that parties may wish to make.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Stove	$5.00	Grate	4.60
Nut	5.00	Pea	4.00
Egg	4.60	Smith	4.50
No 4	5.25	Mixed	5.00

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

E. E. SCHENCK,
Planing Mill, and Lumber [illegible]
Ceilings, Sidings,
Pickets, Shingles,
Lath, [illegible]

[illegible] its history as a village, and the [illegible] board have better opportunity than any recent board has had of making a brilliant record for itself, in the treatment of the various questions that arise. First in importance is the question of contract with the Water Works Co. In this extreme caution should be exercised, as it is a matter closely allied to our future development, and any rash or unguarded act on the part of the new board might cripple us for years. Then there is the agitation in regard to sewerage. Everyone will concede that a good system of sewerage is sorely needed, and if this desideratum could be placed in the way of being accomplished in a substantial and economical way, it will be a work that any board can proud of. The street railway question is important. Our village seems to be at the open door of what might be a great revival of the manufacturing industry. Everyone knows that upon the village fathers depends largely the making of public opinion, and if the board enter upon their duties with a firm and conscientious resolve to use their best endeavors to educate the people to liberal mindedness in their treatment of manufacturing projects. We will say "God speed them." For fifty years back we have suffered by closefistedness and narrow mindedness in many of our citizens, who should have shown the open hand and heart. We lost Kingsford's manufactory with its 2,000 employes, Condé's with 300 to 500 employes, and so on through the long list. We have water power, building space, most excellent transportation facilities, everything except the manufactures, and we might have had them but for treatment which manufacturers have received. We say to the board look to these things. Educate the people to a liberal spirit. The same spirit you show in your proceedings as a board, you will find copied by many citizens. Therefore it is necessary that the board's proceedings be marked by fidelity in serving public interests—no spirit of jealousy—but a liberal, progressive policy. The question of a new depot to be built by the Midland R. R., is mooted. Use your influence to bring this to success. Our streets and sidewalks are in bad shape. Upon the capability of a street commissioner depends the good or bad condition of our streets. This selection cannot be made by the making or carrying out of "deals." The question of the distribution of hose companies to different parts of our village needs attention and good judgment used in acting upon the matter.

INCLUDED in the river and harbor bill accepted by the house committee at Washington last Saturday was $95,000 for Oswego harbor.

A MAN named James Little, while picking up coal near Deep Cut about two miles from Oswego Monday fell through a jimmy and was killed.

THERE is considerable sickness at present among the Cabinet officers Secretaries Manning, Garland and Lamar are all unable to attend to their duties.

THE River and Harbor bill calls for an appropriation of $15,164,200, larger, with one exception, than has ever before been proposed in Congress for this purpose.

THE great chess contest for a purse of $2,000 and championship of the world ended in New Orleans last Monday. During the contest Steinitz won 10 games, Zukertort 5, and 5 were drawn.

THE trial of Fong Ah Yu, for the murder of Sing Lee, a Chinese laundryman, was begun before Judge Kennedy last Monday at Rome. The defence will attempt to show that the prisoner was in Cleveland, Ohio, at the time of the murder.

ABOUT 12 o'clock Saturday night the United States Life Saving station at Texas, in this county took fire and was burned to the ground. The boats and all the apparatus were totally destroyed. It is not known how the fire originated. About the same hour several barns on on the farm of Homer Wilcox, a mile east of Mexico took fire and were destroyed with their contents.

EVERYTHING looked favorable to a speedy termination of the great strike on the Gould system of railroads in the west after the consultation of Mr. Gould and Grand Master Workman Powderly on last Sunday night. Orders were sent out for the strikers to resume work but it seems there was some misunderstanding concerning the agreement for arbitration and the order to move the trains was on Monday recalled. This strike said to cover 8,000 miles of road with, at the least calculation, 12,000 direct employees. In addition to these thousands of men and women have been thrown out of work by the closing of mills and factories, which has been brought about by the failure to run trains. It is to be hoped that the conference held between Mr. Gould and Mr. Powderly in New York yesterday will bring about good results.

WHILE the latest reports concerning the condition of Daniel Manning, Secretary of the Treasury, are gratifying and encouraging he is by no means out of danger. His sickness which was brought on by overtaxing his mental and physical powers should prove a great lesson to persons who, like Secretary Manning, having a strong constitution neglect to take a required amount of rest and the necessary sanitary precautions.

St. Clair McKelway of the Brooklyn Eagle, who was long connected with Mr. Manning writes in the Eagle as follows: "Hon. Daniel Manning is permanently incapacitated. He may recover from this immediate stroke; but he will have to devote the rest of his years to rest, quietude and retire[illegible]. He is a victim of neglect of the [illegible] systematic sleep[illegible] of not stop[illegible] quick enough to [illegible] physical and [illegible]. It is a great pity; it is a [illegible]

[illegible] world. He is over 80.

Attorney-General Garland is suffering from a severe cold and is confined to his bed. His physician has advised him to remain away from the department for a few days.

Belva Lockwood enters the dress reform discussion by attacking trains, which she characterises as "untidy, extravagant and in crowded assemblies positively vulgar."

Secretary Bayard's home is now presided over by his third daughter, Miss Mamie Bayard. She and her sister are striking looking girls in their simple mourning garb, and the Secretary is greatly interested in their housekeeping efforts.

Secretary Manning has four children by a previous wife: James H. who edits the Albany Argus; Frank C., Mrs. Delahanty, and an unmarried daughter. Mr. Manning's second marriage took place a short time before he was appointed a Cabinet officer.

King William, entering upon his 90th year, is a standing illustration of the fact that threatened men live long. He will be the last of the old-fashioned style of "divine right" kings.—[Boston Herald.

Senator Payne, whose election is now being overhauled in Ohio, will be 76 years of ago in November next, and it is said that he is worth at least $5,000,000. He is tall and thin, with clear, clean-cut features, high cheek-bones and a prominent forehead.

The notorious Ald. Jaehne has sent in his resignation as vice-president of the Board of Aldermen of New York city, and it will probably be accepted at the meeting this evening. Jaehne has also resigned from the County Democracy and the New Amsterdam club. It is understood that the aldermen who voted for the Broadway and cable road franchise will all be forced to resign.

STATE AND VICINITY

The executive committee of the State agricultural association held in Albany, last Thursday, resolved to hold the state fair this year at Utica at the usual time.

The skating rink at Alexandria Bay has been taken possession of by Captain Hume, an English visitor to the Bay, who will turn it into a sort of summer theatre.

Over 3,125,000 fish fry have been hatched and deposited in the St. Lawrence river by M. B. Hill, proprietor of the Clayton fish hatchery, since he received his appointment last year.

William K. Vanderbilt's private car recently turned out from the Central car company's works at Schenectady, is said to be the handsomest car in the country. The cost of building it was $20,000.

A body supposed to be that of Charles Sloan, of Clinton Springs or Albany, was found in the canal at Syracuse, Friday, badly decomposed. Letters on the person justify the supposition. Death was caused by suicide about Jan. 1.

While Miles VanAllen was at work upon a staging on a new building at Alexandria Bay, last Wednesday, it suddenly gave away and VanAllen, fell fell to the ground. He struck on his head and was instantly killed.

Geo. Covell, a young unmarried man, at Candor, a few miles south of Ithaca, was blown into fragments by the accidental explosion of a dynamite cartridge last Monday night. His arms, legs and head were blown off and his body shockingly mangled.

A case in the state board of claims at Syracuse the other day, was argued on behalf of John Meritt, for a claim of $441 damages alleged to have been sustained by the breaking of a swing bridge over the Oneida river at Oak Orchard, near the Oswego county line, on August 14, 1884, when an engine and boiler boiler belonging to Mr. Merritt broke through the rotten timbers under the weight of 4,500 pounds, and the entire load with one horse was precipitated into the stream. The defense claims that the two towns between which the road ran, and not the state are responsible for the rotten condition of the bridge.

COUNTY COMMENT.

Central Square is favored with a detachment of the Salvation Army.

Prof. A. W. Farnham enters the drug department of the store of W. J. Brewster &Co. in Hannibal.

The stores of A. T. Low & Co., and J. P. Dix of Central Square, were burgalized one night last week.

Rev. Father Hughes, the new pastor of St. John's church, Oswego, officiated last Sunday.

The farewell address of Rev. W. C. Johnson to the Southwest Oswego Baptist church will be delivered next Sunday.

The jury investigating the cause of the recent fire in Pulaski has adjourned until April 5th Nothing can be learned as to the result of the investigation thus far.

Carrie A. Barnes, who will be remembered in connection with the John W. Spencer case, sold at public auction her household goods, &c. at Mexico last Friday.

The Jacobs-White bastardy case which is creating such a stir in Hannibal was on last Wednesday, posponed until April 7, when the examinatian will be continued.

The elegant residence of Mrs. Danar Averill of Pulaski took fire last Wednesday morning and was with difficulty saved. Both house and furniture were much damaged by fire and water.

About two o'clock Thursday morning the flouring mill of Chas. Rogers & Son at Hannibal Centre was destroyed by fire. The loss is from $7,000 to $8,000. No insurance. Some sawdust is supposed to have taken fire Wednesday and smoldered until in the night.

In the town of Orwell Thursday, Ebenezer Blakeman and a boy named Hamlin were in the woods together, when a revolver in the hands of the latter was discharged. The ball passed through Blakeman's right lung and inflicted a probably fatal wound.

About 4 o'clock Thursday morning [illegible]

[illegible] the Treasury [illegible] quite critical. The affair has cast a gloom over his Department, and the people look for bulletins in regard to his condition every hour. Mr. Manning is a very hard worker, and his present prostration is ascribed to intense application to his official duties. "Such close confinement and hard work as the Secretary has imposed upon himself," remarked a Treasury Official, "often working until morning, was enough to prostrate any man."

Owing to Mr. Manning's size and weight, it was a difficult matter to remove him from the Treasury to his home. He was placed in a chair and carried to the elevator. In lifting the chair from the elevator to carry him to the carriage, one of the chair legs broke under the heavy weight, and a fall was narrowly prevented. In their efforts to support him the men who were carrying him had their clothing almost all tore off of them, giving those who saw him taken from the building the impression that he was in a dying condition. His friends are very apprehensive about his recovery, since his flushed face and labored breathing indicate that his accident was of apoplectic origin.

The House of Representatives is now trying to act upon some of the practical questions of the day, while the Senate is still discussing the political question, "What are public and private papers," and "how to get them."

The labor troubles throughout the country are occupying the attention of many members of Congress. Representative Weaver of Iowa, thinks our present Republican form of government cannot stand much longer if the present state of affairs continue. He says the labor question must be settled by legislation. There are three great monopolies that oppress labor—the railroads, the land and the brokerage monopolies. Congress can control the railroad and public land matters, and can correct the others by giving a sound currency.

Representative O'Neil, of St., Louis who has just returned from the scene of the strikers thinks the question is such a serious one that he has not been able to settle upon any plan yet to propose to Congress for the adjustment of differences between employers and employes. He is formulating some plans, however, which he will lay before the President asking for his opinion of them and suggestions for some measures equal to the emergency. When both parties refuse voluntary arbitration it is hard to tell what can be done.

A few mornings since the blind chaplain of the House made an opening prayer that was attentively listened to and caused quite a sensation among the members. On motion of Mr. Butterworth of Ohio, seconded by Mr. Weaver, of Iowa, it was ordered to be printed in the Congessional Record. He asked God to teach the people of this country that money gained otherwise than by the sweat of the face, as the fair and honest wage of honorable, manly work of brain or hand, is gained by theft, no matter how we name the stealing; that money is never converted into wealth unless it ceases to be the paner of our lusts and lifts us above the level of the animal, lighting us to the graces of life, making us kindly with our kind, and patient to God's laws. He prayed that the land might be rid of all gamesters, whether they gamble with dice or cards or chips, wheat or stocks, corn or cotton, and that we might be delivered from robbers, who entice there victims to boards of trade, stock exchanges and bucket shops, and who name their practice of plunder "shearing the lambs."

When the chaplain prays, the most devotional man on the floor of the House apparently, is Mr. Henderson of North Carolina. He stands with closed eyes and upturned face, his hands raised in front of him, palm to palm. He parts his fingers and brings them together again as the prayer progresses, keeping time, as it were, to the periods. Mr. Henderson is a ritualist, and with his smooth shaven face has a clerical appearance himself. He comes from a historical family of N. C. and is one of the prominent lawyers of his State.

The proposition to change Inauguration day from the fourth of March to the thirtieth of April meets with approval of our law-makers and is sure to be applauded by the country. The day is steadily growing in interest for the people. With each quadrennial it attracts to the capitol and obtains wider and more ceremonious observation. There are several good reasons why Congress should transfer the occasion from the inclement month of March to the last day of April. It would add sixty day to the session, thus giving time for more and better legislation. It would give the benefit of balmy weather to the celebration, and the Capital of the Nation, clothed in green and brilliant with color, could then be seen by visitors at its best.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY

For April has an inviting table of contents. The opening paper on Gouverneur Morris, by Henry Cabot Lodge is a strong and thoroughly interesting article. Sarah Jewell contributes a delightful short story entitled "The Dudian Ladies." Mr. James' and Miss Murfree's serial stories are continued. Julian Hawthorn writes of "The Scarlet Letter." A number of other articles furnish pleasant reading. There is a poem by Whittier, and verses by Hedbrook and Libby. There are also the usual departments near the close always of a most interesting and enjoying nature.

THE APRIL CENTURY

Contains a timely article upon "Strikes, Lockouts and Arbitration." The author is George May Powell. There is also a suggestive editorial on the Grant Memorial, "Who shall make the monument? What kind of a structure shall it be?" A most engaging article on "Glimpses of Longfellow in Social Life" by Mrs. Jas. T. Fields, accompanied by a new and striking portrait of the poet. There is a full table of contents. The illustrations are unusually elegant and attractive. Open letters and Bric-a-brac attract the attention of the general reader. [illegible]

[illegible] United States Minister Hubbard [illegible] and Admiral Davis' visit and introduction to that renowned person [illegible].

It was arranged, Sept. 9th, that the Admiral and suite the Minister and Secretary should be presented at court at as early a date as could be secured. The next morning Gov. Hubbard, notified the Minister that before presentation it was necessary that he and the Admiral should make formal calls on the Foreign Office and the Navy Department. The two, thereupon, went to Tokio on the 11th, and were met at the depot by the Governor's Secretary with carriage. They repaired to the Legation and there with Gov. Hubbard called at the Foreign Office and Navy Department.

On the following day the party consisting of Gov. H., Col. Denby and Secretary, Admiral Davis and staff repaired at 11 o'clock to the imperial palace. The Minister to China and Secretary were in evening dress with white kid gloves; the Admiral and staff in full uniform with white gloves.

The palace is not remarkable for architecture, but is a large, roomy building. The secretary and chamberlains were all attired in blue dress coats with velvet collar, blue pants with gold stripes, epaulettes and dress swords.

The party were escorted into a large and beautiful room where cigarettes and cigars were tendered them. After remaining a few minutes they were escorted to another large and beautiful room. After waiting a few minutes the English Minister with Admiral Dowell, R. N. came from the reception room and then the American party were escorted into the presence of the Mikado. He was standing near a chair which constituted all the furniture of the room, a large oblong hall; on his right stood the Grand Chamberlain and on his left a Secretary. The Mikado is 33 years of age. He was dressed in a dark semi uniform suit; the coat dark blue, heavily embroidered in front, the pants plain blue. Gov. Hubbard made a short presentation speech, simply naming the persons present and stating that they desired to pay their respects to the Mikado.

The Mikado through the Grand Chamberlain asked several questions of Minister Denby; inquired how long he would stay in Japan and how he was going to China. He pleasantly inquired of the health of Minister Hubbard.

It should be stated that on entering the hall all the party bowed, advanced four paces, bowed again and so continued until they came within about six paces of the Mikado. On concluding the above recorded ceremony the party withdrew bowing as before.

Yokohama, Feb'y. 28, 1886. W.

The Danger Before Us.

We have already alluded to the importance of housekeepers paying more attention so the kind of baking powder used in leavening their bread. This is a matter to which we cannot draw attention too often, because it is something which involves the most serious consequences to the general body of mankind. Temperance apostles tell us—and there is ample foundation for the statement—that there is disease both moral and physical in the intoxicating cup; and in the same way there is disease, slow perhaps, but certain, in the leavening agent which is employed in one-half the homes on this continent; sickness, perhaps death, in the bread we eat at every meal—slow poison, placed there, too, by loving hands, by mothers whose every thought is for the health and happiness of their children, by wives whose chief solace is the life and comfort of their husbands. The victim of intoxication goes to his fate with a full consciousness of what he is doing; but the victim of the adulterated and poisonous baking powder fails and knows not whence comes the blow that struck him. The certificates of chemists with high sounding titles have been read in confidence, the toothsome cake has been given in generous abundance to the children; the daily bread has been eaten in fancied security. But all the time the poison has been working its slow effect. There come spells of headache, loss of appetite, a fluttering of the heart; the child is seized with an apparently causeless cough. The coating of the stomach is destroyed, perhaps; one of the vital organs is rendered almost useless; the kidneys are attacked with Bright's disease. The health of the child is irreparably broken down; the adult becomes a chronic invalid. These are the doings of the modern cheap baking powders that are composed of lime, alum, acids and other vile things.

In view of these facts, surely all housewives should exercise the care that is, we know, now exercised by some in their selections of a proper brand of baking powder. She who does not do so, whether the neglect is the result of ignorance or recklessness, cannot free herself from the responsibility for the health, perhaps life endangered. No housewife need be ignorant of the quality and composition of the article she uses to leaven her bread, biscuit and cake. The official reports of the government chemists, who are certainly unprejudiced, have been published and show very clearly the quality and strength of all the baking powders in the market. The Royal Baking Powder, which is accessible at every hand, is reported absolutely free from lime, alum, phosphatic acid, or any injurious ingredients. It is further stated by the most eminent authorities on food hygiene that food leavened with it is more wholesome than when raised by any other method. Its use is therefore to be commended. It is to be regretted that no other baking powder, when there are so many in the market, some of which will find their way into use, is free from all of these substances. They all contain either lime or alum. The housekeeper who regards the health of her loved ones should not only order the Royal, but make personal examination to be sure that no other brand is sent her in its place.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa. [illegible]

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M.D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

LITERARY.

A UNIQUE CYCLOPEDIA.

An extremely valuable Cyclopedia, and of very great popular interest is ALDEN'S Cyclopedia of Universal Literature, Volume II, of which is just published. Novel in plan, and novel in form, at once beautiful and convenient, and at a price low even compared with Mr. Alden's always low prices, this volume gives in its nearly 500 pages biographical sketches of one hundred and eleven prominent authors, with characteristic selections from their writings. The following authors, among others, appear in this volume: Audubon, St. Augustine, D'Auvergne, Bacon, Balzac, Bancroft, Banim, Barbauld, Beaumont, Beecher (several of the name), Bentham, Bion, Bjornsón, Black (William), Blackstone Blessington (Countess of), and Boccaccio; thus representing nearly all ages and all nations even in this volume American, English, French, German, Italian, Greek, Latin, Swedish, Portugese, Scotch, Dutch, Irish, Norwegian and Danish authors—from the period 280 B. C. to A. D. 1886. The literary and mechanical workmanship are both of a high order. The work is really one that ought to find a place in every home library; it offers a fund of entertainment and instruction that will prove well-nigh inexhaustible. The price, only 60 cents a volume, makes its possession possible even to nearly every school-boy. The work is published also in parts of 160 pages each (exchangeable at any time for bound volumes), which are sent post-paid for 15 cents each. Every reader of this notice ought to get at least a specimen part for examination. JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, New York;

NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINES.

Harper for April opens with a new storg entitled "Their Pilgrimage" by Charles Dudley Warner, a most entertaining article. It is the first of a series of papers, depicting characteristic features of fashionable society at summer resorts. A new novel by the author of "John Halifax, Gentleman" is begun and is one of thrilling interest. "Springhaven" a new story by R. D. Blackmore, fully illustrated is a striking feature of April, Harper. "A Postmaster's experience of Civil Service Reform" makes interesting reading for this latitude. The Chair, Study and Drawer are of unusual interest and altogether this is a model number.

The April Wide Awake opens seasonably with an ideal Easter picture, "On Easter day," a very lovely drawing by W. L. Taylor; this is followed by a charming springtime poem, "Willy's Garden," by Kate Putnam Osgood. Lucy Larcom also has a notable poem, "A ballad of the Hemlock-tree," for which Taylor again furnishes a fine full-page drawing together with text illustrations. Mary Lathbury, too, has an illustrated poem, very piquant, "A Fairy Story," There are some excellent illustrated stories. "Taz a Taz," by F. L. Stealey," "The Button Boy," by A.M. Griffin, "The Boy Soldiers of Cherry Valley," by Caro Lloyd, and "Diccon, the Foot-boy," by E. S. Brooks, besides "Pollie Panama" and "What a Frog Lived Through." The instructive papers of the number are admirable and of great variety: Mrs. Sherwood in "Royal Girls" writes of "Carmen Sylva," the Queen of Roumania, Mrs. Fremont of Madame Recamier and her faithfulness to early friends, C. F. Holder of "Feathered Giants," Miss Harris of Alice and Phœbe Cary in her series, "Pleasant Authors," Mrs. Treat of "Cave Spiders," Julian Arnold of An Arab Dinner Party," G. E. Vincent of "Juvenal the Satirist," E. B. Gurton of "How to make an Aquarium." Susan Power of "What to do in Emergencies," while Mr. Adams goes on with his "Search-Questions in English Literature." There are also three fine serial stories in progress. $3.00 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston.

LIPPINCOTT'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

In the April number of Lippincott's Magazine a novel series of articles is commenced under the general heading of "Our Experience Meetings," in which a sort of public confessional will be provided for leading authors, actors, artists, politicians, business men, etc., who feel autobiographically disposed.

The present meeting is attended by Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Fawcett, and Joel Chandler Harris, each of whom gives an interesting sketch of his literary career, as seen from the inside. Alice Wellington Rollins contributes a well-written essay, "Two Days in Utah, by an Impressionist," discussing the Mormon question from a common-sense point of view. Fanny Courtenay Baylor, whose "On Both Sides" was one of the most successful of last year's novels, has a delightful short story, a careful study of negro character in Georgia, entitled "Aunt Sukey." Another story, by M. H. Catherwood, tells in a bright and cheery manner the adventures that befell two girls who had surreptitiously got possession of "A Vacant House." Grant Allen in "Scores and Tallies" supplies the usual quantum of information, good sense, and good humor, for which all his semi-scientific essays are noted. The present instalment of "Taken by Siege" takes us to a meeting of the "Daughters of Sappho" at Delmonico's, to a millionaire's ball, etc., introducing a number of familiar types in New York social and literary life, while "A Bachelor's Blunder" gives us chapters in the early married life of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Herbert. The Monthly Gossip is full of live discussions of current affairs, and there are poems by C. H. Phelps, Dora Read Goodale, and Charlotte Fiske Bates.

[illegible]

VICINITY NOTES.

South Scriba.

Mrs. Matthew Connor is seriously ill, her life has been dispaired of for several days.

Dr. Phelp's health is very poor, he is confined to the house most of the time. His sister from Waterloo is visiting him.

Edward Potter who left his farm last spring to try public works has moved back on his farm.

Clinton Bartlett and family started for Dakota last week. Elmer Gilman went with them.

Mrs. Adelia Mullin of Bradford, Pa., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. M. Connor.

Our school began Monday with Miss Ida Potter as teacher, this will be her fourth term here.

The Board of Health has appointed Dr. Phelps, Health Officer.

Palermo.

The Gardner Family of Syracuse, will appear in Fulton in the month of April with a musical entertainment and a play called "Rufles" which is very fine. The company has a brass and also a string band and a first-class company.

Officer Poole was in town Saturday looking after a stolen horse which was found with E. O. Parsons, who had received it of Clarence Ware.

Henry Davis of Clifford, who was recently cut with an ax is able to be out again, and thinks that his leg will not be stiff as was at first thought.

Miss Flora Marsh of Syracuse, is visiting at Wm. H. Hannan's, of the Palermo Center house. Miss Marsh is a fine singer.

George Trask of Clifford, who has been sick for a long time, is failing fast.

A WALKING SKELETON.

Mr. E. Springer, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: "I was afflicted with lung fever and abcess on lungs, and reduced to a walking skeleton. Got a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles, found myself once more a man, completely restored to health, with a hearty appetite, and a gain in flesh of 48 lbs.". Call at Phillips Drug Store and get a free trial bottle of this certain cure for all Lung diseases. Large bottles $1.00.

Miss Lucy M. Salmon's Book.

We have before us a copy of Miss Lucy M. Salmon's book entitled "History of the Appointing Power of the President," just issued from the press of G. P. Putnam's Sons and being the fifth of the works furnished to the World by the American Historical Association. The first being "The Report of the Organization and Proceedings of the American Historical Association at Saratoga, September 9—10, 1884." By Herbert B. Adams, Secretary of the Association; second, "An address on Studies in General History and History of Civilization. By Andrew D. White, first president of the Aasociation; third, "History and Management of Federal Land Grants for Education in the Northwest Territory." By Geo. W. Knight, Ph. D.; fourth, "The Land Purchase in its Influence upon the American System. By Rt. Rev. C. F. Robertson. Miss Salmon, the author of the fifth work of this series, is a former resident of this village and well known in this vicinity, being the daughter of the late George Salmon and the sister of F. K. Salmon of this place. After several years of student life in Falley Seminary, she completed a four year's course of study at Ann Harbor, Michigan. At the close of which she became preceptress of the High School at Mt. McGergor, Iowa. She afterward took a post graduate course at Michigan University, then accepting a position as instructress in History at Terre Haute, Ind., which position she still fills. Miss Salmon spent her vacation last summer among the libraries of Boston and Cambridge, collecting material for this volume which is destined to become a standard work. Her untiring labor and the result of it is receiving the commendation of press and public. In an extended review in Harper's Weekly of the 21st inst., George W. Curtis says: "It is the most complete and thoroughly historical study yet made of the spoil system of this country."

TO MY PATRONS AND FRIENDS.

Why should we languish "when the whole world is a Market." Please read the following verbatim copy of another combination missive, and draw your own conclusions:

ULICA, N. Y., March 8, 1886.

H. C. GIESLER,

Dear Sir—We are in receipt of your valued order of the 5th inst., and will be pleased to fill the same, with the exception of the Patent Medicines; these we are obliged to decline to send at present. Kindly inform us if you desire us to send the balance of the order and we will forward the goods at once.

Very Respectfully Yours

JOHN H. SHEEHAN & Co.

The Oswego County Druggists Combination has taken another step towards "elevating the standing" of the drug trade in our village. How we apples swim. Oh how happy we would be, if in high prices we could agree, but join your gang I never shall until I meet you plumb in Halifax. We continue to keep a full line of find Drugs and Medicines of all kinds and shall continue to do so during our natural life, in spite of spies, tailtales and combinations.—

H. C. GIESLER, Druggist,
Opposite the Opera House,
Fulton, N. Y.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, [illegible]

SNOW AND LOOMIS
No 7 First Street,
FULTON, N. Y.
HARDWARE DEALERS.
——Have a New and Complete Line of——
STOVES AND RANGES.
——THE——
WORLDS' JEWEL
S THE FINEST STOVE MADE.
Stoves at Prices to Suit all Purchasers.

CALL ON
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
and DUCHESS Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains previous to moving into my new store. Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

——THE——
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCE[illegible]ENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smok pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N Y.
F. G. WEEKS, President.
E R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
STONEWARE,
Vitrified, Glazed Sewer Pipe
AND
DRAIN TILE,
Taps, Benches, Elbows,
T's Y's &c.
FIRE SAND, CLAY, and HAND
STONEWARE CHIMNEY TOPS.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. Address STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY, Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

E. E. SCHENCK,
PLANING MILL, AND
LUMBER DEALER,
Ceilings, Sidings,
Pickets, Shingles,
Lath, c.
Custom Work Done on Short Notice,
[illegible]

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
in this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
Q. RUST.

When you have occasion to buy another SUIT OF CLOTHES or OVERCOAT, for yourself or boys, see that the above [illegible] is on the coat, and you will [illegible] the BEST FITTING, [illegible] WEARING and [illegible] ING CLOTHING [illegible]. Every garment bears a [illegible] which appears [illegible] monogram [illegible]
Sold [illegible]

[illegible] Proprietors

L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] Express	8:27 a. m
[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express	11:28 a. m
[illegible] and Elmira Express	4:02 p. m
[illegible] York and Phil. Night Express	7:28 p. m

GOING NORTH.

[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express	7:29 a. m.
[illegible]	9:05 a. m.
[illegible] Express	3:08 p. m.
[illegible] and Accommodation	6:10 p. m.
[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express	7:28 p. m.

[illegible] 9:05 a. m., 7:20 a. m., and 7:28 p. m. trains will run Sundays. There will also be a special Sunday train for Syracuse leaving Fulton station at [illegible] p. m.

[illegible] Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

W. K. Niver, Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:50 a. m
Norwich Express	3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

[illegible] Night Express	6:18 a. m.
[illegible] Express	10:56 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	6:06 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:24	11:54	5:24
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

☞ Trains going south leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

FRED B. HIGHRITER - Local Editor

PERSONAL.

Herm Lang of Syracuse visited his parents Sunday.

Mrs. R. Bradshaw is confined to the house by illness.

Mrs. J. Woodin has returned from an extended visit in the South.

W. V. Poole of Oswego, made Fulton friends a visit Sunday.

H. N. Gilbert of Syracuse, has been visiting friends in this village for several days.

Charles Carver of Syracuse, spent Sunday in town, the guest of his brother-in-law, H. J. Baker,

Miss Mollie Royce, who has been teaching school in Colorado for some time is home on a visit.

Mrs. S. S. Stryker of Utica, is spending a short time at her mother's, Mrs. Kendall's, on Fourth street.

Miss Stella Crosby of Baldwinsville spent Sunday and Monday with friends in Fulton and Oswego Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stone of Oswego. spent Sunday in town with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connell and son Fred of Fulton have been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Tullar.—[Mexico Independent.

P. F. Conger leaves in a few days for Steele, Dakota, where he usually spends the summer superintending his extensive farming and ranch interests.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gardner, who have been visiting in town the past week, returned to their home at Thousand Island Park yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Hibbard of Auburn, N. Y., Mrs. M. E. Adams of South Bend, Ind., and Mrs. B. Brook of Baldwinsville, N. Y., were in town last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Harriet Briggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Phillips returned home last Thursday after an extended tour of over fifteen months into the western states. During their trip they stopped at nine states, Dakota Territory and Manatoba, visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Phillips it will be remembered wrote some very interesting letters to the Times during his trip.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

Hart Bros.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in the post office at Fulton, Oswego county N. Y. on March, 31st, 1886:

Joseph James Bolger, Captain Chubbs (Boat Hoames,) Gorane Caparella, Ada E. Cook, Charles Donaldson, L. G. Fuller, Henry Foelds, Licitta Hubbard, Benj. Hoose, Geo. Martin, D. R. Miller, N. H. Tompkins, Zina Victory, Miss Rorey, Friedr Petschlay (foreign,) Alphonse Lavigne, Anthony Souter, William Jetto, Alvin Parish, Edward G, Canert, (foreign).

Persons calling for the above please say 'advertised.'

S. B. Whitaker,
Postmaster.

FOR SALE.

The house and lot on the corner of Sixth and Seneca streets, known as the VanVorst place. The house is in fine condition, lot well stocked with all kinds of fruit, and is in every way a very desirable place. Also the farm of 64 acres, about 1½ miles north of Fulton on the Calkins road, known as the VanVorst farm. The buildings are all new, with every convenience. Farm well stocked with fruit, well watered and under a [illegible] of cultivation, largely seeded [illegible]. Enquire at Charles Whitaker's meat market on Oneida street.

41w7

Annual Election.

The Stockholders of Mt. Adnah Cemetery are hereby notified that the Annual election of said Association will be held at the office of Howe & Rice on the 5th day of April next at 7½ o'clock p.m. for the purpose of electing three trustees in the place of George M. Case, Wm. G. Gage and S. Crombie, whose term of office will expire on that day, and also to transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

Fulton, March 29d, 1886.

[illegible] S. Crombie, Clerk.

You can buy Drugs and Medicines, Dye Stuffs, Toilet Articles, [illegible] Cheaper at R. B. [illegible] No. 4 First [illegible] Fulton, N. Y. Than at [illegible] place in the County. [illegible]

[illegible] politicians of the different [illegible] primarily the outgrowth of Tammany Hall occupancy of office. Now since Alderman Jaehne has been indicted and arrested for bribery, and he a member of the county Democracy and chairman of his Aldermanic District Committee, the Tammany men are putting on a sanctified look, walking about with a mysterious air as much as to say, "I told you so." They perhaps look upon the sturdiness with which their member of the Board in 1884, Mr. Hugh Grant, held out against the seductions of Jake Sharp and his compeers as evidence of their honesty and trustworthiness in the conduct of municipal affairs.

Let me give you an example of the business methods of one of our Aldermen. When in business in 1879, he failed. That did not make him feel sad for he put his property in his wife's name and she was the business manager. She had the bank account and transferred the property and all that sort of thing. But lest she might make a mistake, she gave her husband a power of attorney and as far as one can find out he, was just as well off, as if he were the owner of the business. That state of things was pleasant for him but alas the poor creditors. That alderman was Duffy, of Duffyville. Now Duffyville is in the vicinity of 106th and 107th streets in this city. Yet Duffy is popular and always had on election day a $1,000 in his pocket.

But there is much more one could write of the crookedness of aldermanic ways. Take those of the time of Tweed regieme on whom condign punishment was visited on the heads of the guilty, so to-day the hand of the law will be heavily laid upon the bribe-taking unscrupulous aldermen interested in the Broadway steal.

There is now an antagonism between the two Stock Exchanges of the city. The Exchange in Wall street was founded in 1792, and has had a long existence in polite gambling. Some few years ago an Exchange was opened for the dealing in mining securities. When the Standard Oil Company became so far reaching in its oil holdings, an exchange was opened for that class of speculation. About three years ago, all these exchanges were united under the consolidated Exchange. This Exchange now deals in oil, mining and railroad stocks and bonds. Last week the sales were over 200,000 shares daily, while the old Exchange dealt in some 500,000 daily. The old Exchange begins to get frightened and the governing committee has forbidden the members trading in the new Exchange. The claim is that most of the consolidated business comes from the New York. The fight will be watched with interest.

A determined effort is being made by both to put down bucket shops. A bucket shop is a sort of office where the quotations of stock are recorded and you buy fictitious stock on a margin. A better way to put it would be this: you go there and bet that such a stock will go up or down and if it don't then you lose, if it does you win. That is buying on a margin. The same can be done in the Exchanges and thousands are yearly fleeced out of their hard earnings. In the opera of Claude Duval there is a topical sung by Blood Red Bill, that is apropos to stock dabbling.

Away down in Wall street the bulls and the bears
Play see-saw with stocks and also with shares,
And if for a point you should chance to inquire
When this will be lower or that will be higher
You had better invest all your cash in the fire.

Great activity is manifested in real estate. There seems to be a general demand for good property. On Broadway a quarter of an acre sold for a half million. The lower part of Broadway is coming into favor as a business part of the city for financiers. It was predicted by the wiseacres that Field would have a white elephant on his hands when he put up the Washington building on the site of the hotel which was Washington's headquarters during the revolution. It is close to Battery Park. Not only has it been a successful venture but he has applied for permission to add three more stories at an outlay of $200,000.

The Equitable Insurance Co. have been gradually acquiring the property adjacent to their building on Broadway, and will shortly raze to the ground all the buildings on the plot of ground bounded by Broadway, Cedar, Nassau and Pine. Some of these buildings are as substantial as any in the city. The new building they will erect will cost $3,000,000, and will cover the plot of ground. The investment will no doubt pay since its offices will be much sought after.

A decision of our courts has given rise to considerable discussion. A suit was brought by a Bowery land owner against the elevated road for damages. Judge VanBrunt has held that no damages can lie because this particular street belongs to the city in fee simple and the abutting property has no authority over the same, that being vested in the city. The Legislature has a right to do with it as it chooses. Other streets are not so owned by the city and hence this decision cannot be said to apply to them.

There has been as a result a great overhauling of the records and much peculiar evidence will be adduced in the future suits.

The Floral Exhibition has many beautiful specimens of the Florist's art. A beautiful specimen of the Venus Fly Trap is exciting a great deal of attention. It is a fashionable exhibition, too; for the ladies who lead society are the patrons of the same.

Next week I will try to tell your readers something of the theatre's doings.

Wanderer.

OUR SEMI-ANNUAL
—O-P-E-N-I-N-G—
—of—
Dry Goods, Carpets & Millinery will occur
Next Week Thursday.
F. E. BACON.

FOR SALE.
1 BEDROOM SET,
1 PARLOR SET,
[illegible]

Shop worn Boots and Shoes at cost, for the next two weeks, to make room for our immense Stock of Spring goods now coming.

A. E. NETTLETON.

Dr. W. A. Hall will occupy part of the Laycock house on Fourth street.

Remember the grand opening at the "Bee Hive" on April 8th, 9th and 10th.

D. C. More has moved into the Collins house corner Fourth and Oneida streets.

Rev. H. B. Goodyear of this village, officiated at St. Paul's church in Chittenango, last Sunday.

The last party of the series given by the Odd Fellows will occur to-morrow evening. It is to be a masquerade.

H. C. Giesler received yesterday his new soda fountain. It is a magnificent affair and is said to have cost about $1,000.

The fourteenth annual session of the Northern New York conference begins in the M. E. church two week's from to-morrow.

H. B. Rose and family have moved into the Hanna house on Oneida street. R. N, Hoff will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Rose.

Some of the sidewalks in this village are in a deplorable condition particularly those on Third between Rochester and Buffalo streets. It would be well if these were attended to before some one is injured thereby.

Personal.—A young lady with considerable spare time on hand would like to correspond with a "live" young man, for amusement and mutual enjoyment. Address "Confidential," Care "Times" office, Fulton, N. Y.

Miss E. Halliday, an experienced dress maker of this village, has fitted up the pleasant rooms over J. J. Wright's store in an elegant manner and to-morrow will open a dress making establishment, where she will be pleased to see her many friends.

A short time since we had the pleasure of listening to Capt. P. F. Conger while narrating an incident of California life and prevailed upon him to write it out for The Times believing that it would prove as interesting to our readers as it was to us. The roving spirit of Captain Conger in his younger days led him over a large part of the world and he can always spin a very entertaining yarn of his adventures on sea or land. We print his Incident of California Life on the first page of this issue.

Thomas Slack, a laboring man of Syracuse came to Fulton a short time ago, looking for work. He obtained employment with Taylor Bros., & Co. and after working only three hours was taken sick. He was carried to his hotel, the Windsor house, when a physician was summoned who pronounced the disease typhoid pneumonia. His wife was sent for and arrived Thursday. The man died on Saturday night. He left a widow and two or three children in destitute circumstances. Officer Roderick interested himself in their behalf and starting out with a subscription paper soon raised about $30. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Back took the best of care of the family while here. The body was taken to Syracuse Sunday night.

OPENING DAY.
We are going to display an elegant stock of Dry Goods, Carpets & Millinery,
Next Week Thursday.
F. E. BACON.

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. Graff & Co.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

For door and window frames, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters etc., wholesale or retail, go to McCully's planing mill, Fulton, N.Y.

The finest line of confectionery ever shown in Fulton has been received by John Barker at the Vienna bakery. A full line of bread, cake and other bakestuffs fresh every day. 28tf

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c.& $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
GermanCornRemover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Charges Against Dr. Stow.

Dr. T. D. Stow, of Mexico, for many years a well-known and respected physician of this village, makes an extended statement in regard to himself in last week's Mexico Independent. The statement is made in reply to a letter from the Women's Christian Temperance Union of that village. It appears that upon election day, March 2d., a number of ladies were present at the polls, though for what purpose is not stated. Dr. Stowe identified himself with the ladies in their object and in his article says that he "very quietly and respectfully requested two men who live in the village, to refrain from smoking." In response he was accused of being a drunkard, of being driven out of Fulton and Fall River and numerous other charges, all of which the Doctor emphatically denies. Although we are not personally acquainted with Dr. Stow, yet those who knew him while he was in Fulton have no hesitation in saying that the charges against him are utterly false. A Times reporter visited a large number of representative citizens of this village, every one of whom spoke of Dr. Stow in terms of the highest praise. One gentleman said: "I consider Dr. Stow an unexceptionally honest, straightforward and conscientious man." Another said, "Dr. Stow was, in my opinion, one of the best citizens we ever had in Fulton, and instead of his being driven out of town, as the charges allege, I don't know of a man, woman or child that knew him, but that was sorry to have him go." The testimony of all the gentlemen spoken to shows that during his residence here he held the highest esteem of everyone.

A Complicated "Hoss" Trade.

Last Wednesday two young men living in this vicinity, John Green and Clarence Ware came to Fulton with a horse that belonged to Green. The animal was placed in Becker's barn, while the young men proceeded to fill their skins full of fiery red liquor, preparatory to painting the town. Green claims that about ten o'clock Ware purchased a pint of annihilator, in which he put some belladonna or some other vile drug. The soothing and soporific effect of this compound soon reduced Green to a state of almost total insensibility and while in this condition he claims that Ware placed thirty dollars in his (Green's) hand and drove away with his horse. The next morning when Green came to himself and realized the state of affairs he procured a warrant and Officer Poole was put upon Ware's track. The officer on Saturday tracked Ware to Palermo, where he found the horse in a blacksmith shop, the property of a man named Parsons, with whom Ware had traded getting $50 and a bay mare. Ware then traded this horse to a man named Atwater, at Volney getting bay mare and $30 in cash. Monday Ware came to Fulton and gave himself up. He was held in the sum of $300 to appear for trial to-day, Parsons, to whom he had traded the first horse, becoming his bondsman.

Who will be Chief?

Next Tuesday evening occurs the annual meeting of the Fulton Fire Department. At this meeting officers for the different companies will be elected for the coming year. Delegates will also be elected who on Thursday, April 8th, will choose a chief engineer and two assistants. The office of chief engineer is an important one; it can truthfully be said that upon him almost wholly depends the efficiency of the department He must have sufficient experience to place his men so that they can work to the most advantage, and they must have confidence enough in him to implicitly obey his orders. For this office there are several candidates and it is to be earnestly hoped that great care will be shown in the selection of an efficient officer. The question of selecting a younger officer than has been chosen of late years, is being strongly agitated, and while we do not want to say one word against those who have served in the capacity of chief in former years, yet we do think it is advisable for the different companies to elect delegates who will choose a young man, active and strong, who will take pride in keeping the fire department up to the high standard it has held of late.

Fire at Lower Oswego Falls.

Shortly after two o'clock yesterday morning fire was discovered in the house of Wm. Coville a short distance beyond the tannery in Lower Oswego Falls. Night Watchman Martin of the tannery gave the alarm but being in a sparcely settled locality very little could be done. The house which was a one story, wooded structure with its contents was destroyed. There was very little insurance.

Teacher's Examination.

A Teacher's examination for such as require it will be held at the school house District No. 2, Fulton, Saturday April 3d. D. D. Metcalf, Com.

F. K. Jones sells violin strings for a nickel each.

Try Red Cross Cough Syrup, 25cts. at 39m3 M. M. Williams.

Crackers, four pounds for 25 cents, at the Vienna Bakery on First street. 36tf

Go to Bristol's for Musical Instruments of all kinds.

George Sylvester is the new clerk in Williams drug store.

Seward Green has leased the Benj. Robinson farm, just east of the village.

N. N. Stranahan's face is wreathed in smiles. It is a boy and weighed 9½ pounds.

Owing to illness, Rev. Mr. Smith was unable to preach last Sunday and the pulpit was supplied from the seminary at Auburn.

Rev. E. Moyses, formerly of this village, was in town yesterday. He has severed his connection with the Episcopal church at Adams and has gone to Minnesota to become rector of a church in that state.

Cass Gardner, who for the last two years has been engaged as clerk with M. M. Williams, severed his connection with that establishment Saturday. Mr. Gardner has secured a position with the Howe stove company.

Ida Palmer, who has been spending the winter with friends in town is slowly recovering from a severe attack of fever. She will return to her home in Meridan, Conn., as soon as possible. Dr. Lee is attending her.

The Baltimore & Ohio telegraph company have opened a branch office in Eggleston's book store. It will be under the management of A. B. Cook of this village. Miss Ella Griffith of Buffalo has been engaged as operator.

Mr. William Briggs and daughters wish to thank their friends and neighbors for their kindly aid and sympathy during the illness of the late Mrs. Harriet Briggs. Thanks are also extended to the choir who assisted at the funeral.

Dr. W. A. Hall has sold his residence on First street to Dr. W. H. Loomis of Palermo. Consideration $6,000. Drs. Hall and Loomis have formed a partnership for the practice of medicine and surgery and will conduct business at the same office, No. 41 First street.

"Terry the Fox" was the attraction at the Academy in Oswego last Monday, Paddy Ryan, the pugilist, appeared in it, as the Boy from America. Last evening's Palladium in speaking of it says: "The play contains much that is good but needs to be rewritten. Take Ryan out of the combination and every member remaining would be very likely to be able to tell the number of railroad ties to a mile without doing much figuring."

OBITUARY.

George D. Richardson, for many years a well-known business man of this village, died last Thursday night at the home of his brother, Edward Richardson, aged 45 years. For about a year past Mr. Richardson has been an invalid from consumption. Funeral services were held from the house on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. C. Breaker officiating.

Word has been received of the death of John M., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Roderick of East Saginaw, Mich., which occurred in that city recently. Mr. Roderick is a brother of Paul Roderick of this village.

In the assembly last Thursday Mr. Tappan introduced a bill to change the boundry line between Oswego and Onondaga counties by removing the line from the south shore of Oneida lake, where it borders on Onondaga county, to the centre of the lake and annex all that portion of the lake between this central line and the south shore to Onondaga county. If this bill is passed Onondaga will receive an addition of 5,841.8 acres of water and land the latter containing Frenchman's Island with an area of about 30 acres and Lotus Island of about 20 acres. It is reasonable to suppose that the owners of these islands desire this change, as it will make their property a part of the town of Cicero, Onondaga county instead of Constantia in this county, as they will escape the heavy tax with which the latter town is afflicted, Before the matter is settled there is likely to be a lively strife with Senator Sloan and Assemblymen Howe and Ainsworth on one side, and Senator Hendricks and Assemblymen Tappan, McCarthy and Stacy on the other.

O-P-E-N-I-N-G D-A-Y
—at—
F. E. BACON'S,
Next Week Thursday.
It will pay any one to travel 10 miles to attend the opening of Dry Goods, Millinery and Carpets
—of—
F. E. BACON.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Thomas Slack, desires to express her sincere gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Back, who so generously assisted her during the illness and death of her husband, and also to P. Roderick, and others for their practical help and sympathy.

Mrs. Thos. Slack.

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, Lead, Lime, Alabastine, &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. Williams' Drug Store.

PROBABLY YOU OR YOUR SONS will want a New Suit, Spring Overcoat, Hat or something of the kind, and we would suggest that you go to
D. C. MORE & CO.
The One Price dealers for them. No tricks on traders there. They will show you the best stock
—of—
Men's, Boys, and Children's Clothing, Hats, Caps and Gents' Furnishing Goods

[illegible]

Charter Election in this village yesterday passed off quietly and an unprecedentedly large vote was polled. The number was 867, over 160 more than last year. The entire Democratic ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 23 to 130. Following is the result:

Dem.		Rep.
FOR PRESIDENT
J. N. Sharp	498	W. G. Gage	368
Sharp's majority, 130
FOR TRUSTEE
D. Pardee	489	Ed. A. Waugh	380
Pardee's majority, 109.
FOR TRUSTEE
J. More	457	T. D. Lewis	397
More's majority, 60.
FOR COLLECTOR
P. O'Grady	460	O. Sholtz	412
O Grady's majority, 48.
FOR ASSESSOR
M. Havens	461	J. Watson	405
Haven's Majority, 56.
FOR TREASURER
W. Lovejoy	435	J. A. Morrell	412
Lovejoy's majority, 23.

IN OSWEGO FALLS.

The entire democratic ticket, with the exception of one trustee was elected. The vote polled was smaller than last year by about 50. The number reached yesterday was 299. Following is the result.

Dem.		Rep.
FOR PRESIDENT
E. M. Baker	155	M. Ellis	144
Baker's majority, 11.
FOR TRUSTEES
W. Roberts	157	C. C. Fowler	142
S. Wood	160	J. Grigson	139
M. Thompson	131	Wm. Kelley	168
J. Frawley	159	T. G. Somers	140
Chas. Lilly	160	J. W. Rigley	139
FOR ASSESSOR
L. Carvey	155	Jas. Stephens	144
Carvey's majority, 11.
FOR COLLECTOR
J. Jones	161	G. W. Guile	138
Jones majority, 23.
FOR TREASURER
J. Shannon	162	G. Whitaker	137
Shannon's majority, 22.

The Caucuses.

The Republican caucus met in Stephens Opera House hall last Saturday evening and was called to order at 7:30 by Dr. W. A. Hall, who nominated H. E. Nichols as chairman. Fred Bennett and N. N. Stranahan were chosen as Secretaries and Arvin Rice and N. E. Burdick as tellers. The following ticket was then nominated:

For President, William G. Gage; for Trustees Ed. A. Waugh, Thos. D. Lewis; for Collector, Otto H. Sholz; for Assessor, Jesse Watson; for Treasurer, Jesse A. Morrill.

The Democratic caucus organized afterward in the same hall, but as the hour was so late it was deemed advisable to adjourn till Monday evening, when the following nominations were made:

For President, John N. Sharp; for Trustees, Daniel Pardee, John More; for Collecter, Patrick O'Grady; for Assessor, Myron Mavens; for Treasurer, Wil- J. Lovejoy.

The Truth.

Last Saturday night the Republicans held their caucus. Two tickets were in the field for nomination. One supported by the Gage faction and the other by the Case faction. This spirit grew so hot that Will Toppins, an employe of Mr. Gage and Mike Matthews an employe of Mr. Case went to pounding each other, which unmanly proceeding was also entered into by their friends. We are creditably informed that a number of policemen were present upon this occasion and steered clear of the pugilistic exhibition. We cannot but think it utter folly on the part of any political party to allow themselves to fight out a factional matter which will generally result in their own destruction, while a strong non-factional ticket might have been put in the field. It is nonsense to allow party feelings to be sacrificed for personal ones.

Yesterday the Republicans were divided and we understand that the Democrats came within an iota of being divided likewise, a pretty state of affairs at a time when our village needs every political consideration pushed aside and only the best men chosen regardless of party. And yet at this time it looks as though public questions were not thought of and only "deals" and jealousies considered. We have strong grounds for beliveing that charter election yesterday was as disgraceful affair as was ever enacted here. It was current report that men's votes were bought up as you would buy a drove of cattle; and during the day it was remarked. "They are paying two dollars a head now." and later "They cost us four dollars." We heard one heeler say "I offered four of them $3.50 each" Then came oaths from the other. It seems that the "pot" had become low. Then No. 1 said, "We'll git 'em to vote and give em two dollars and tell 'em to go to h—ll," A man that can sacrifice honor and manhood for a few paltry dollars is the foulest stench in society. Take away manhood and what is left except flesh and bones? It is moral leprosy. The man who buys the vote is nearly as bad as the man who sells his vote. He puts a premium upon all that is base in man. He is the champion of moral slavery. A nice thing for a thing of flesh and bones to walk the streets thinking to himself I am a moral thief, a stain. A being devoid of manhood. It is not true that men who are candidates for office and pay or permit others to pay their money for votes are cowards and dare not take their chances of election without "Tickling the foul blot." We can see no distinction in parties in this respect—both are held guilty of the same act.—What a remark is this "You Republicans held the 'pot' at town meeting, but we've got it to-day."

Draper has reduced the price on all [illegible]

This Complete Outfit came from Peebles & Cook's.

Every Garment Warranted equal to Custom Work.

It's not necessary to enumerate what we have. The public expects to find all kinds and sizes of seasonable goods in our stock, and we assure them they will not be disappointed.

We have also added a fine line of HATS and CAPS to our stock,

PEEBLES & COOK,
Opposite Opera House.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FARM FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A very desirable farm, about 100 acres of land, located ½ mile south of Oswego Falls, in town of Granby. Will be sold on easy terms. Apply to N. M. White, Savings Bank Building, Syracuse, N. Y.

TO RENT: One half of store in with postoffice at Oswego Falls. Most desirable location in the village. Enquire at the store.

FOR SALE. A two seated carriage in good condition, also a buggy, the property of Mr. D. Ramsden. Apply for particulars to John Bacchus, Oswego Falls. 46w2

I offer for rent the coming year my property situated on Fay street, in Fulton. There are about 10 acres of land, a fine fruit orchard, large barn &c. The house is new and elegantly finished. Will rent the house separately as a residence, or the entire property. Apply at once.

Geo. J. Emeny.

TO RENT—My former residence on the Emory road, a few rods east of Seventh street, comprising house, barn and two acres of land, good well, cistern and fruit—apples, pears and grapes. For particulars enquire of J. M. Chesbro.

W. W. Hill.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—Houses and Lots Nos. 89 and 91 2d street, pleasant, covenient and desirable. For sale cheap. Enquire of R. B. McCully.

FOR SALE.—Seven acres of land facing Emory street in Fulton, known as the "Jennings property." The object is to sell. Buyers may have the easiest terms for payment.

F. D. VanWagenen.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—House and lot No. 31 Erie st. Lot 3 by 8 rods, with good variety of fruit. House 2 story, recently enlarged and repaired.

FOR SALE.—House and lot, Utica St., near school. Lot 48 by 100 feet. Plenty of fruit. House medium size, in good condition. Can be bought cheap, terms easy.

FOR SALE.—House and Lot No. 94 Oneida St. 4 by 18 rods. Large quantity and many varieties of fruit. House 2 story, contains 13 rooms, and is in excellent condition. Also a good barn with basement on this lot. This place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a smaller house and lot in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida or Canastota, N. Y.

HOUSE AND LOT.—No. 21 Seneca street, 2 story, 13 rooms besides closets and hall, fruit, good well, cistern.

FOR SALE.—A small place of two acres with a 2 story dwelling and barn with basement, both in good condition. Fruit in endless variety and quality, fine. Situate in town of Volney on river road, five miles from Fulton.

FOR SALE.—A fine dairy farm of 130 acres in Granby about 5 miles from Fulton, and one mile from cheese factory, school, church and P. O. Farm well fenced, and watered, buildings in excellent repair and plenty of them. Will be sold on easy terms or will exchange for a smaller farm in Western New York.

FOR SALE.—A farm of 53 acres with good buildings, fences and well watered. Situate in town of Volney about 3½ miles East of Fulton.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

A FARM of 25 acres, within a mile of Fulton. Excellent buildings, a fine young orchard in bearing. Will exchange for a house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville. If not sold soon will be to rent.

A FARM of 67 acres, within 3½ miles of Fulton. Good buildings, well watered; 12 acres sown to winter grain and twenty acres timber. Will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Oswego Falls, or will be sold at a bargain for cash.

FOR SALE.—Two good building lots. Situate on on the N.W. Corner of Buffalo and Fifth streets

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y, C. W. Streeter.

DWELLING HOUSES AND LOTS FOR SALE.

The subscriber will sell any of the following Residences at low price and on easy terms of payment, such as will enable any mechanic or laboring man (of good habits) to have a comfortable home of his own, instead of paying for one in rents and never having one.

HOUSE BARN &c. cor. Oneida and Fourth St. (now occupied by S. B. Whitaker.)

HOUSE, BARN, &c. cor. Oneida and Seventh.

HOUSE on Rochester street near Seventh.

HOUSE on Second street near Broadway.

HOUSE on Third street near Free M. Church.

HOUSE, BARN, &c. cor. Third and Pratt St's

TWO HOUSES, BARN, &c. on First street, 4th Ward. Also vacant lots in choicest localities for dwellings, as follows: South side Oneida. North side Cayuga near Seventh St. Either side of Third South of Broadway. Also on Fourth, Second, First, State, Division, Pratt, Lyon and other St's South of Broadway. Title perfect, terms easy.

W. S. Nelson.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Fulton, N. Y., Mar. 24, 1886.

Board met pursuant to a call by the President. Present, President Waugh and Trustees Bradford, Chase, Gage, and Hulett.

Minutes of meetings held March 17th and 18th insts. were read and approved.

The bill to provide a system of sewerage for the Village of Fulton was presented and some amendments thereto were suggested, and the clerk was instructed to notify the Member of Assembly of this district thereof.

On motion of Herman Hulett the bill of Jno. Robinson for oil for the Police Court Room was audited at the am ounts claimed, viz: 75c.

On motion of Mr. Chase an order on the Treasury for $50, balance appropriation for fire fund, was granted to C. W. Streeter, Treasurer of the fire department.

On motion of Mr. Gage the Board adjourned to Tuesday, March 30th, inst., at 8½ o'clock a. m. at the Stephens Opera House hall, to attend the annual meeting and annual election of the village.

Arvin Rice, Clerk.

MONEY LOANED on good bond and mortgage F. D. VanWagenen, Jr.

Trunks and satchels. The largest and best assortment in the country at W. McCully's,

Red Cross Cough Syrup is a sure cure, Sold by Williams. 39m3

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

MILTON S. PRICE,
38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets.
THE MOST EXTENSIVE
DRY GOODS, CARPETS
—AND—
FURNITURE,
Establishment in the State,
Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.
COME AND SEE
the Finest and Most Complete Stock of
Dry Goods and Fancy Goods
ever shown in this section.
COME AND SEE.
THE IMMENSE STOCK OF
CARPETS, RUGS, OIL CLOTHS, Etc.
COME AND SEE
THE FINE DISPLAY OF
FURNITURE
AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES
at prices far below competion,
FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.
BARGAINS
NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.
REMEMBER
MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

GRAND OPENING!
—AT THE—
"B-E-E H-I-V-E"
—OF—
SILKS, DRESS GOODS,
—AND—
CARPETS,
Thursday, Friday & Saturday
April 8th, 9th and 10th.

April 8th, 9th and 10th.

Better spend ten minutes putting a thing in its proper place when you have it in your hand than hunt for it an hour when you have forgotten where you used it last.

Drawing manure to the field and leaving it in large heaps makes one more handling of the manure, but this in most cases is needed to get it fine enough for use.

Before you pay traveling dealers a high price for new seeds, examine the catalogue of respectable seedsmen. Seedsmen are selling Bohemian oats for $1.50 per bushel, while traveling agents ask $10.

The object in feeding animal food is to supply nitrogen, which enters largely into the composition of the albumen, or white of the eggs. On farms where meat can not be obtained, milk should be given liberally as a substitute.

By going over the meadows with a fine-tooth harrow, using a heavy one, until the sod is torn to pieces, mixed grass seed may be sown and the meadow renewed. In such cases a heavy coating of well rotted manure should be applied and the whole field rolled with a heavy roller.

Don't breed from the same stock of poultry year after year; it pays to change occasionally. Mixed breeds frequently are more profitable to the average farmer than where the flock is kept pure. When eggs are the main consideration it will hardly pay to go in for pure or fancy breeds.

A correspondent of the American Cultivator sends in the following recipe for breaking up the setting habit in hens: Shut up the hen in a close coop, feed as much Indian meal at a time as can be rubbed into a quantity of hog's lard the size of an egg. Continue this regimen for three or four days, and the most inveterate sitter will be cured.

Dr. J. A. Sewell of Boulder, Col., professor of the Colorado University, desires those who have swine affected with cholera to send him a few drops of blood from such for examination. He has discovered a new microbe in every blood specimen received, but has not found the microbe in the blood of healthy hogs. He is cultivating the microbe for purposes of inoculation, and believes his results will be of great importance.

Salt is and is not a manure. It is an indirect agent in the growth of plants. The elements to be looked after in a fertilizer are nitrogen, potash and phosphoric acid. Farmers ought to have learned that much of agricultural chemistry by this time. And yet how many have tried to find which of these elements their fields must need, or in what amounts and proportions these elements their field must need, or in what amounts and proportions these elements are found in the fertilizers they use?

A gentlement writes; About my process of irrigation—I plow along each side of my rows of celery and fill the furrows full of water. I do this the same as to-day and fill the furrows again tomorrow. Then I plow back the furrows and it needs no other watering for about a week or ten days, when I do the same thing again. My water is all supplied by means of a steam pump from a driven well. I can irrigate, with three men, three acres in a day.

Early Seed Sowing.

Last spring I sowed Egyptian beets while the soil underneath was frozen, and never had a finer crop. I once sowed lettuce in February, and though we had a long and severe frost afterwards, the plants came up thick, and no harm was done.

Celery seed we sow with a hand drill, as soon as the snow disappears. I have sown it when the soil was so wet and sticky, that the coulter of the drill had to be lifted out of the ground, and the seed simply dropped on the surface. I never had earlier or better celery plants. We had considerable snow and frost afterwards, and there was no necessity of covering the seed with soil. There was no danger of the seed drying out, as is sometimes the case when sown later. I ought to remark that the soil, where the celery is sown so early, is of a mucky nature. Such soil will not "bake."

On light, sandy, dry soil, we aim to sow peas as soon as the snow disappears, and generally with decided advantage. And not content with this early sowing, we have for several years soaked the peas for forty-eight hours, and kept them until they were sprouted an inch long, before sowing. If the soil is not ready for them, their growth may be checked by putting them in a cool cellar.

Potatoes can be planted very early with little or no risk. In fact, although after the potatoes were planted, we have several times had the soil frozen an inch or more deep, we have never had them injured. Of course we have had the crop destroyed by frost after the potatoes were up. But in such a case, all early planted potatoes are likely to be injured.

"But is there any advantare in this excessively early planting?" I think so. At any rate, it does no harm. Last spring we planted as soon as the snow disappeared, and had new potatoes to eat July 2d, and our season, in Western New York, is two or three weeks later than the neighborhood of New York city.

The true plan, so far as early garden crops are concerned, is to sow a little seed of the crop named as early as possible, but do not depend on it. Sow at at the usual time, and if the early sowing or planting is destroyed, "your eggs are not all in one basket." You have lost only the seed and labor. The land can be replanted in season afterwards.—Joseph Harris in American Agriculturist for April.

[illegible]

Number of domestic animals in New York for the year 1885:

	Number.	Average price.	Value.
Horses	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Mules	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cows	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Oxen	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sheep	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hogs	[illegible]	7 58	[illegible]

The domestic animals on farms in the State of New York are generally healthy. The cold and wet season was unfavorable to sheep, and it is a general complaint that they did not do as well as usual, and were thinner in flesh at the beginning of winter. When grass is too succulent it is not good for sheep. There has been more sickness among swine than was ever known before, but not of an epidemic character. These various disorders, not contagious are mostly owing to the cold and wet weather, which kind of exposure is unnatural to swine.

Both butter and cheese have been at a value lower in proportion to cost than grain, and so has wool and pork. The depression in dairy products and in meat has lead to a reduction in the value and numbers of animals, which would have been still more but for the impossibility of selling at a price which the owner would accept. Many have held on to their stock where they had fodder, hoping for a rise in value and to get the benefit of the manure for the land.

The natural basis of stock-breeding has changed in New York, owing to the steady supply of dressed meat from the West. Feeding grain in the winter, or "tall feeding," as the practice is termed, cannot be followed any longer with any profit, except under very favorable circumstances.

The sooner the producers and consumers of butter come to an understanding and deal directly with each other, the sooner both parties will be benefited and the painstaking and honest dairyman kept from sacrificing his dairy and the over credulous consumer be kept from being a victim to a remorseless and profitable fraud. For a local trade in the fresh article small packages are desirable. Cheap wooden boxes are now furnished which will contain from five to twenty-five pounds. These may be placed in a frame and can be shipped without injury. It will only pay to keep the best of cows, as the margins are so close that one or two cows, kept at a loss, may turn the scale on the losing side. No dairy of cows can now pay a profit on care and keeping unless they average 200 pounds of butter to the cow. It is better to keep fewer cows and supply them with better food and so get a greater proportionate yield. There must be a greater proportionate yield. There must be a greater percentage of income above the natural animal substance, for in this only does the profit arise. The same law holds good with sheep husbandry and in the rearing of swine.

One of the most profitable auxilaries to the farm in the keeping of stock is the growing of fodder corn, and this crop has now become an important factor both in the dairy and for general stock-feeding. In some portions of the state there has been a small increase in abortion in cows, which is supposed to be the effect of ergot.

In some counties the high price of fodder has caused a large decrease in sheep amounting to twenty per cent, with considerable reduction everywhere, and also a reduction in cattle of from five to ten per cent. The foundation of future profitable farming in the state must be with grass, both as pasture and hay. The excessive price of labor, as compared with its results on the farm, will compel farmers to cultivate fewer acres and to depend more on pasturage. From every part of the state there is complaint of the unprofitable results of both butter and cheese making. A large amount of stale butter is piled up in the market unsold.

More cheese is not wanted but better, so that it can be better digested and made more universally an article of food. This would enhance its value. Cheese must be made to go beyond the limits of a dessert to increase the sale and value and to afford a compensating return to the dairymen of the state.

I have never known pigs to be cheaper than last autumn. There was a large loss of pigs in the spring on account of the cold, and as many of the sows were allowed to breed again there was a great supply of late pigs, with a very small value.

The demand for horses has kept up their price, and also oxen and mules for teams. Several counties report as many as 200 sheep killed by dogs, one county 400, and four others from 100 to 150. More stringent dog laws are required.

Farm Hints For April.

April is a busy month from Prince Edwards Island to Puget Sound. When spring comes in the high northern latitudes, it is upon us at once. It is winter one day and almost summer the next. The heavy snow draws the frost from the soil, so that when this disappears the ground is ready for the plow. While snow lasts get out the manure, the work goes so much quicker and easier on runners than on wheels. One of the earliest jobs is harrowing winter grain. The advantage of a thorough harrowing with a smoothing harrow is so great that it pays not to sow grass in the autumn, but at the time of harrowing in the spring. Grain sowed broadcast by itself should always be harrowed several times. Multitudes of weeds are thus killed, and the stirring of the soil is a great advantage. Grass sown by itself will almost uniformly give satisfaction. The earlier spring grains are sown the better. Forage crops, such as peas and oats, spring rye, wheat and vetches or peas, should be put in succession once in two weeks. Certain seeds of root crops are very sensitive to dry weather. Parsnips must be sown very early; an admirable crop for milk, and for neat cattle. Mangels and sugar beets are best put in early; but carrots at any time before midsummer. The tendency of good practice is to grow more roots, green forage, and fodder, either for ensilage or [illegible]

MRS. I. H. [illegible], of [illegible] Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter [illegible] has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is doing well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The late freshet in the Delaware river completely washed away twenty-five acres of Duck island, which has been famous for many years for the excellent quality of tobacco grown upon it.

A LUXURY AND NECESSITY.

For rich and poor who wish to enjoy good health, and do not wish to resort to bitter nauseous liver medicines and cathartics, is the concentrated liquid fruit remedy Syrup of figs sample battle free, and 50c. and $1 bottles for sale by H. C. Giesler. 40m3

The largest barn in the world is probably that of the Union Cattle company of Cheyenne, near Omaha. It covers five acres, cost $125,000, and accommodates 3,750 head of cattle.

THE PERFECTION

Of the age in the medical line is the liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal. It is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, harmless in its nature, painless but prompt and thorough in its action. For sale by H. C. Giesler. 40m3

Over 20,000 Polish Jews emigrated from Russian Poland to the United States during 1875 on account of persecutions from the Greek church.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

Although the city of Bangor, Me., has a good old-fashioned prohibitory law: of 627 persons arrested last year 348 were for drunkenness.

HAPPINESS AND HEALTH

Are important problems, the former depending greatly on the latter. Everybody is familiar with the healthy properties of fruit, and no one can afford to be sick and miserable while the pleasant concentrated liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, may be had of our enterprising druggist, H. C. Giesler. 40m3

An average Boston horse car earns from $25 to $30 a day and it costs only $7 to run one. The figures are nearly double in New York city.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

The secretary of the treasury has issued a call for $10,000,000 3 per cent. bonds of the issue of 1882.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Keep the feet dry this spring. A dollar's worth of comfort is as good as the same value of anything else, and where it adds to the safety of the health, it is worth still more.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites

In Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

DR. C. W. BARRINGER, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "I find Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is a very fine preparation, and fills a long felt want. It is very useful in consumption and wasting diseases." 45w

Mr. Tilden is said to have in his home at Yonkers a large variety of Maltese cats, pugs and St. Bernard dogs.

THOUSANDS SAY SO.

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure liver and kidney complaints. Purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be with out them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

The claims for damages during the recent London riots amount to $400,000, with more in sight.

SICK HEADACHE—Thousands who have suffered intensely with sick headache say that Hood's Sarsaparilla has completely cured them. One gentleman thus relieved, writes: "Hood's Sarsaparilla has completely cured them. One gentleman thus relieved writes, "Hood's Sarsaparilla is worth its weight in gold.' Reader, if you are a sufferer with sick headache, give Hood's Sarparilla a trial. It will do you positive good. Made by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Lady McDonald, wife of the Premier of Canada, has a private car when she travels about the Dominion or through the United States.

Where's the sense in spending money for a doubtful affair, when a sure and reliable thing is offered? Hop Porous Plasters for all aches, pains and soreness. [illegible]

[illegible]

A Wonderful STRENGTHENER

For Neuralgia

For Neuralgia

For Neuralgia

For Neuralgia

For Rheumatism

For Rheumatism

For Rheumatism

For Rheumatism

For a Lame Back

For a Lame Back

For a Lame Back

For a Lame Back

Doctor Thomas' Eclectric Oil

Doctor Thomas' Eclectric Oil

Doctor Thomas' Eclectric Oil

Doctor Thomas' Eclectric Oil

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS

PRICE 50c. and $1.00.

FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Prop's, BUFFALO. N. Y.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dress ing the dead. 51t

Sure Thing! Sure Thing!

TRADE MARK
Cordial
Elixir

For the speedy and permanent cure of Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, and the Summer Complaint of Children Teething.

Purely vegetable in its composition. We can heartily commend it for its speedy and decided effects in even the worst cases, curing without infection, and soothing and healing as it cures. It Never fails, I feel confident in affirming that no one has produced a Remedy which can equal the CORDIAL ELIXIR in the number and excellence of its points. It is so palatable and pleasant to the taste that it subdues in stead of producing nausea on during it very effective with children.

For sale by Charles Giesler, Fulton, N. Y.

☞ Use Dr. Sawens' improved MANDRAKE PILLS They are mild and effective. Price 25 Cents.

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

COAL!

The best coal in the market is the Lackawanna.

IT IS THE

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

[illegible]

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

The famous cedars of Lebanon are taken care of by the authorities. There are 398 of them—22 more than in 1810 and 373 more than in 1573, when they were counted by the German botanist, Ramvelff.

Itching Piles—Symptoms and Cure.

The symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, intense itching increased by scratching; very distressing, particularly at night; seems as pin-worms were crawling in and about the rectum; the private parts are sometimes affected. If allowed to continue very serious results may follow. "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT" is a pleasant, sure cure. Also for Tetter, Itch, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Erysipelas, Barbers' Itch, Blotches, all scaly and crusty Skin Diseases. Box, by mail, 50 cts.; 3 for $1.25. Address DR. SWAYNE & SON, Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by Druggists. 10y1

The lobster business of Prince Edward island is a pretty extensive industry Last season more than 73,000 cases, or about 3,500,000 cans of lobster, were put up. Nova Scotia put up about 7,000,000 cans last season.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27cow

There are in twenty-two states of the Union 308,478 more women than men. Dakota has 29,415 more men than women.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane, almost invariably originating in the nasal passages and maintaining its stronghold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh in its worst stages, and gives immediate relief from cold in head. It contains no injurious drugs. Price fifty cents. 43w4

It is said that out of 15,000 cigarmakers in New Yotk city only 300 are skilled hand workers; the rest use moulds. The moulded cigar is inferior.

One of my children, a girl about nine years old, had a very bad discharge from her head and nose of a thick, yellowish matter, and was growing worse. We had two different physicians prescribe for her but without benefit. We tried Ely's Cream Balm, and much to our surprise in three days there was a marked imrovement. We continued using the Balm and in a short time the discharge was apparently cured.

A woman at Easton, Pa., who is 24 years old, has had four husbands in a married life of ten years.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

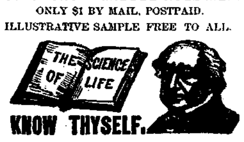
It is not unusual to see on posters advertising church festivals in Penobscot county, Me., these words in bold letters, "No flirting."

A STANDARD MEDICAL WORK

FOR YOUNG and MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

ONLY $1 BY MAIL, POSTPAID.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL.



A Great Medical Work on Manhood.

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle-aged and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each one of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 23 years is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full guilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in evers sense than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1.00 by mail, postpaid. Illustrative sample free to any body. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the President of which, the Hon. P. A. Bissell, and associate officers of the Board the reader is respectfully referred.

The Science of Life is worth more to the young and middle-aged men of this generation than all the gold mines of California and the silver mines of Nevada combined.—S. F. Chronicle.

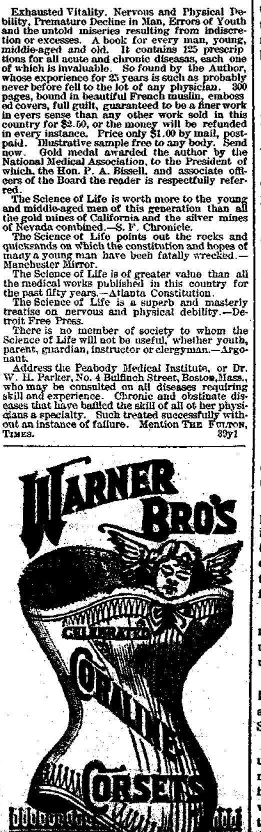
The Science of Life points out the rocks and quicksands on which the constitution and hopes of many a young man have been fatally wrecked.—Manchester Mirror.

The Science of Life is of greater value than all the medical works published in this country for the past fifty years.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Science of Life is a superb and masterly treatise on nervous and physical debility.—Detroit Free Press.

There is no member of society to whom the Science of Life will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all ot her physicians a specialty. Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. Mention THE FULTON, TIMES. 39y1



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "Dr. Warner's Coraline" is printed on inside of steel cover.

[illegible]

[illegible] marbles when he grows.—[Boston Courier.

RIB SHAKERS.

"Innocuous Desuetude."

From a protoplasmic presence
In a state of efflorescence,
The Senatorial Wilson doth conclude
That the Cleveland evolution
Will evolve the institution
Of an imminent "innocuous desuetude."
Hence,
There's a cosmic ambiguity
About our perpetuity
As a nation from the White House to the Flats
And coexistent unity
In politico-community,
Sic transit gloria Muddi—Tuesday—Rats!
—[Washington Critic.

She usually walks up the aisle
Dressed up in extravagant staisle;
In her blue-blooded waigh,
As much as to saigh,
"O, ain't I the daisy for staisle!"
—[Exchange.

Engaged in "filling up flats"—the bartender.—[New York Journal.

A walk-over—the Brooklyn bridge.—[Puck.

Fashionable bonnets are being made of paper. The press is gradually working its way upward. From the bustle to the bonnet is a great stride.—[St. Paul Herald.

Mrs. Fizzletop overheard her son Johnny swear like a trooper.

"Why, Johnny," she exclaimed, "who taught you to swear that way?"

"Taught me to swear!" exclaimed Johnny, "why it's me who teaches the other boys."—[Texas Siftings.

Miss Sharpstone (guest at a stiff and unenjoyable evening party)—Mr. Dorkins, can you tell me why this reception is like a gentleman's opera hat?

Youthful Scion—Aw! he-he! I suppoth becauth it ith a wegular "crush."

Miss S.—Not exactly, but for this reason: It is one of the flattest things I've seen this season.—[Chicago Rambler.

When a woman wants to take a mean revenge on her husband for some fancied slight or injury she has only to read aloud to him one of his old love-letters four years after his marriage.—[Somerville Journal.

"Say," observed Tommy to Mr. Gimlet the other evening, "does it hurt a man to be shot?"

"Of course it does, Tommy," replied that gentleman. "Why do you ask?"

"Oh nothing," responded the youth, "only I should think you'd suffer awfully. I heard pa tell Mary last night that you had been half shot for the past six months."—[N. Y. Graphic.

A young man in New York has been fined $20 for wearing his hat at the theatre. Behold the consistency of the law! It allows a woman to wear a hat four stories high with a mansard roof and chimney, but a man must sit in the draught with his head uncovered because he is a man.—[Troy Times.

De Baggs—There, look at that!

Pugsby—That cracked jug?

De Baggs—Cracked jug! Man alive, that's a tenth century devergne.

Pugsby—I wouldn't have it in the house. It's ugly.

De Baggs—[stiffly)—It cost three thousand dollars.

Pugsby—Three thous—How beautiful! —[Phila. Call.

"An order for three tons of capital I's," said the proprietor of a type foundry to the foreman. "What's up now?" asked the foreman; "New fishing story?" "Oh, no, another magazine article on the battle of Shiloh."—[Burdette, in Eagle.

The poet has gone through the skylight so free,
And the man with the essay on money
Has gone up the auriferous stairs, tiralee,
Beware of the editor, sonny!
—[Washington Hatchet.

Stranger (to fellow passenger)—Excuse me, but am I not right in taking you for a professional man?

Fellow Passenger—Yes, sir.

Stranger—Thanks. It's not often that I make a mistake in judging my fellow men. Your work is head work altogether, of course?

Fellow passenger—Oh, yes sir, entirely so.

Stranger—Er— lawyer?

Fellow passenger—No, sir; barber.

"O, Mr. Van Dusen," said a young dudine at the opera recently, "doesn't this music make you surge?" "Ah, yas. I believe it's gwand." "It is so tenderly, wonderfully exquisitely perfect; it it makes me wave all over." "High tide," said a disgusted listener, and the conversation stopped.—[Philadelphia Call.

Somebody has found out that copperas will prevent grape rot. Now if some body would find out something to prevent the rot that is forced upon editors and others who don't raise grapes the world will be pretty comfortably fixed, thanks.—[Detroit Journal.

Why are printers the most merciful of men? Because they never kill things until they are dead.—[New York Tribune.

We have just been presented with a large new waste-basket. Now send along your spring poetry.—[Kentucky State Journal.

A Minneapolis man is earning the reputation among his neighbors of being mean. He brought home an old button hole the other night and requested his wife to build a shirt around it. He is the same man who recently cut up a cellar into post holes and shipped them to Dakota.—[St Paul Herald.

A Humorist Has a Serious Thought.

Mark Twain has conferred another bon mot on his generation. At a recent dinner party the subject of eternal life and future punishment came up for a lengthy discussion, in which Twain took no part. A lady near him turned suddenly toward him and exclaimed:

"Why do you not say anything? I want your opinion."

Twain replied, gravely: "Madame, you must excuse me. I am silent of necessity. I have friends in both places."

[illegible]

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

GREENWAY'S

INDIA PALE ALE

Is manufactured only from the very best quality of Hops and selected Canada Malt. Read the following certificate:

BOSTON, April 24th, 1885.

Jas. O. Gray, & Co.:

Gentlemen:—I have made a chemical anlaysis of a sample of "India Pale Ale," from the THE GREENWAY BREWING CO., SYRACUSE, N. Y. with the following results:

Alcohol by vol. at 60 deg. F......7.04 per cent.
Hop and Malt Extract......5.29 "
Ash......0.30 "

This Ale is one of perfect purity, and I do not find it to contain anything but the products of Malt, Hops and Water. It has a most delicate aroma, and I do not hesitate to declare, that it is fully equal in purity and quality to the best imported goods. Respectfully,

JAS. F. BABCOCK,
State Assayer.

Greenway's Ales and Lager on draught at E. J Elder's. 45t4

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS.

Send sketch or model of invention and $5 for examination. Applications for patents prepared and prosecuted. Rejected cases, infringements, interferences and legal opinions a specialty. Send stamp for book on Patents.

HENRY WISE GARNETT,

Solicitor of Patents, Attorney-at-Law, and Counselor in Patent Causes, Washington, D. C. References: Riggs & Co., Bankers, and 2d Nat. Bk., Wash., D. C.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted.
STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y, 40w4 Boston, Mass.

LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes. $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment.

Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'FG. CO.
P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ELY'S

CREAM BALM

IS WORTH

$1,000

TO ANY MAN

Woman or Child suffering from

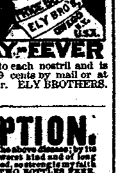
CATARRH!

—A. E. NEWMAN,
Graling, Mich.



A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents by mail or at Druggists. Send for circular. ELY BROTHERS. Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
Address Dr. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. McALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

Established FAY'S 1866.

MANILLA ROOFING!

Takes the lead; does not corrode like tin or iron, nor decay like shingles or tar compositions, easy to apply; strong and durable; at half the cost of tin. Is also a SUBSTITUTE for PLASTER at Half the Cost. CARPETS and RUGS of same material, double the wear of Oil Cloths. Catalogue and samples FREE. W. H. FAY & CO., CAMDEN, N. J.

LADIES WANTED to work for us at their own homes. $7 to $10 per week can be easily made. no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment. Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G CO., P. O. Box 1915, Boston, Mass.

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. Address STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY Washington Street. Boston, Mass. 37w4

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.

HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES.

Over 2,000 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free. A. J. HOLMAN, & CO., Philadelphia.

Solid Fact, Solid Fact.

U
T
K
HOP
IRON

HOP AND IRON BITTERS are composed of Hops, Buchu, and other herbs combined with Iron, thus forming one of the best remedies in the market for the cure of Dyspepsia, Kidney and Urinary Diseases, Nervousness, Indigestion, Liver Complaint and General Debility. Being so concentrated one bottle contains more medical properties and virtues than three bottles of any other business in market. The dose being but one teaspoonful, while others are three to four tablespoonful, or a wine glass full, proving that one 50 c. bottle is worth three or four one dollar bottles. For Sale by H. C. [illegible]

☞ Use Dr. Sawen's Improved MANDRAKE PILLS. They are mild [illegible]

[illegible] FREE

[illegible]

Central Square.—At the [illegible] House, Central Square, on April 18th and September [illegible]

Phoenix—At A. H. & J. S. [illegible]'s law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

[illegible] Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.
FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 18, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.
ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank against Alzina Hubbard and others. In pursuance and by virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale duly rendered in the above entitled action and entered in the clerk's office of the county of Oswego, on the sixteenth day of February, 1886, I the undersigned, sheriff of Oswego county, to whom it was referred in and by said judgment to make such sale will sell at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 3rd day of April, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the real estate and premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold, and described therein as follows, to wit: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby, County of Oswego, and State of New York, and being a part of Lot number twenty-seven (27) in said Town of Granby, beginning at the north-west corner of said piece of land, running from thence south thirty degrees east along the highway three chains and fifty links; thence south thirty-seven degrees east six chains; thence south thirty one degrees east three chains and sixty-five links intersecting the highway running east and south-west; thence west five chains and thirty links to the east line of Lot number 28; thence north along said line three chains and three links to a stake; thence west twenty-one chains and twenty-four links to a stake near the woodland; thence north twenty-four degrees west eight chains and forty-three links to the south line of a certain twenty acres deeded to Alzina Allen, now Hubbard; thence east along said line to the highway and place of beginning containing twenty acres and seventy seven one hundredths of an acre of land excepting and reserving the right of way through said piece of land for said Allen to go through as stated in deed from Weston Allen to William Hubbard dated August 21, 1852.

Dated Feb'y 16, 1886.
GILES S. PIPER, Plaintiff's Attorney, Fulton, N. Y.
A. N. BEADLE, Sheriff of Oswego County. By W. J. PENTELOW, Under Sheriff.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Joel Chubb and Jane Chubb delivered to Eunice A. Pardee, dated the first day of Jan'y., 1877, recorded with the power of sale therein contained in the clerks office of Oswego county, on the seventh day of February, 1877, in Liber 111, of mortgages, at page 260, given to secure the payment of the sum of $1300. And whereas the sum of $181.67 is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice and to become due the further sum of $980, and an action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof and said power of sale has become operative. Therefore notice is hereby given that by reason of the facts aforesaid and in pursuance of the Statute in such case made and provided the mortgaged premises discribed in said mortgage as follows, to wit.: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby (formerly Lysander) and known and distinguished as the south half of survey fifty acres of Lot No. nine (9) in the town aforesaid. Also all that other tract or parcel of land situate in said Town of Granby, and being a lot of one and one half acres of land on Great Lot No. nine (9) of the original township of Lysander, now Granby, and being on the east side of the river road leading from the south line of said town to the city of Oswego. The said lot hereby intended to be conveyed being bounded on the north by lands owned by Smith Southard, on the east by the survey fifty acres of said lot No. nine (9), on the south by lands formerly owned by Nahum Chubb, and west by the centre of said river road and being the same premises conveyed by Nahum Chubb to Jane Chubb by deed dated Jan'y. 17, 1876. Also all that other tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby aforesaid known as subdivision No. four (4) of Lot No. sixty-two (62) in the original township of Hannibal, now Granby, as subdivided by Barnet Mooney, Samuel Farnham and Asa Dudley commissioners in partition appointed by the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Oswego—will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper in the village of Fulton, county of Oswego, New York, on the 24th day of April, 1886, at 10 a. m. of that day and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.

Dated Jan'y 26, 1886.
GILES S. PIPER, Attorney, Fulton, N.Y.
EUNICE A. PARDEE, Mortgagee.

MORTGAGE SALE—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Joel Chubb, delivered to Richard Smith, dated the twenty-fourth day of October, 1857, recorded with the power of sale therein contained in the clerk's office of the county of Oswego, on the twenty-sixth day of October, 1857, in Liber 46 of mortgages, at page 218, given to secure the payment of the sum of $706.66 duly assigned by said Richard Smith to Benjamin Smith and by said Benjamin Smith to Richard L. Smith, who is now the lawful holder and owner of the same, and whereas the sum of $1138. is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice being the whole amount unpaid secured by said mortgage and an action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof and said power of sale has become operative. Therefore notice is hereby given that by reason of the facts aforesaid and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided the mortgaged premises described in said mortgage as follows, to wit.: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Lysander (originally) but in the present town of Granby, in the county of Oswego, and state of New York, known and distinguished as the south half of the survey fifty acres of Lot number nine in the town aforesaid. Also all that other piece or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby, county of Oswego and State of New York known and distinguished as subdivision Lot number four of the original Lot number sixty-two in the original town-township of Hannibal, in the state aforesaid as subdivided by Barnet Mooney, Samuel Farnham and Asa Dudley, commissioners appointed by the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Oswego, to make partition of said Lot number sixty-two, to wit.: Beginning at the north-east corner of Lot number sixty-two; thence south on the line of said lot to the north east corner of States' hundred number six; thence west on the north line of States' hundred number six aforesaid to the south-east corner of Thomas Sanburn's land; thence north on the east line of the said Sanburn's land to the north line of said lot and thence east to the place of beginning containing eighty-nine acres be the same more or less.; the two parcels above described are the same premises conveyed to the party of the first part herein by the three following described conveyances to which conveyances reference is hereby made for a more full description to wit.; First deed Asa Phillips and wife to Joel Chubb, dated May 31, 1853, recorded in the clerk's office of Oswego Co., Aug. 19, 1853, in Book 62 of deeds, page 555; Samuel Cogdell and wife to Joel Chubb, dated November 20, 1854. recorded in the Oswego County clerk's office, February 19, 1854, in Book 68 of deeds, pages 87 and 88; Third Garrit Smith and wife to Joel Chubb April 7, 1852, recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, August 19, 1853, in Book No. 62, of deeds, pages 555 and 556, will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, New York, on the [illegible] day of April, 1886, at 10 a. m. of that day, and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.

Dated Jan'y 28, 1886.
GILES S. PIPER, Attorney, Fulton, N. Y.
RICHARD L. SMITH, Assignee.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

$100 [illegible]

JUST [illegible]

CLEGG'S PATENT [illegible]

Save time and [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR, "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 18—NUMBER 48

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

West and East.

In olden days, when Dives dined in state,
The poor lay starving at his palace gate;
And hungry wretches bared their blains and sores
Within a yard of his frequented doors;
Yet, though reminded hourly of his death,
The man of wealth was able to forget
The claims of want on those who never feel
The grinding tread of fortune's iron heel.

And if with want beneath his very eyes,
A man could shut his heart to hunger's cries
How easy for the Dives of to-day
To fail to hear the groans of far away.
Small need of music at a Mayfair feast
To drown the clamor of the distant East,
For Lazarus no longer dares infest
The swept and garnished pavements of the West.

Crouched in his sordid room, on dirty straw.
He champs the bones that dogs disdain to gnaw,
And shivers, fireless, while the frozen blast
Through paneless windows whistles sharply past.
Empty and naked, comfortless and faint,
He moans, and no one hears his woeful plaint;
The busy world knows nothing of his sigh,
And Lazarus is left alone to die.

Five miles away, the streets are full of life,
And Dives drives in furs beside his wife;
The bracelet that her small white wrist surrounds
Has cost her lord a trifling thousand pounds
Then home to dinner, where the fires are bright
And stores of plate reflect the dancing light.
The times are bad, no doubt, but might be worse,
And Dives still retains a portly purse.

Shall the old tragedy be played again,
With Dives in the hideous part of Cain,
Indignantly demanding: "Why should I
Be held responsible when others die?"
Or will the West search out the hungry East,
Ere the dull cry for succor shall have ceased,
And give what help a royal brother can
To him who is, at least a fellowman?

Too seldom, nowadays, the gulf is spanned
That ever wider yawns across the land;
But, while we live, the bonds of love may link
The nearer border with the further brink,
Tis death alone that makes the gulf so wide
That none may travel to the other side
To offer there the long withholden dole--
A cup of water to a thirsty soul.

—[London Daily News.

Papa's Pet Names.

When I come home my children glad
Rush out with joy to meet their "Dad."

Then quietly will my little Caddie
Bring forth warm slippers for her "Daddy."

Miss Kate an easy chair will draw
Close to the fire for her "Paw."

And Fred jumps nimbly in my lap
To hear a story from his "Pap."

And Willie proudly shows his top
And tries to spin it for his "Pop."

And Ethel says I musn't stop her
When she kisses dear "Popper."

And Miss Amanda, full of love,
Gets supper ready for her "Gov."

And Grace, as big a rogue as Topsy,
With plump wee arms hugs "Poppsy-wopsy."

And Tommy gives his head a toss,
And wants to ride upon the "Boss."

I love my tots—yet I would rather
Have them only call me "Father."

H. C. Dodge in Goodal's Sun.

ON THE BAYOU ST. JOHN.

THE Bayou St. John, which takes its rise in the long, level plain in the rear of the city, called the "commons" by the old surveyors, like all other bayous in the state is not a particularly straight water course. After leaving the spot where the Canal Carondelet enters, it winds away in graceful curves, and down where now the Bayou Bridge spans its lazy waters, by some freak it makes a short, sudden turn, almost doubling up on itself as if anxious to retrace its steps. Even now there remains something of the picturesque about the place that attracts the visiting stranger, but thirty years ago it was a charming spot.

Looking toward the city, dimly through the haze of distance the faint outline of a spire or two could be caught and the listening ear, if the day was still, might fall upon a note or two of the Cathedral's bells, calling the prayerful to their devotions.

Although within the corporate limits of the municipality, it seemed to be miles from any civilization. The tinkling of cow-bells, the whistle of the cardinal-bird, or the call of the herd-boys riding through the palmetto undergrowth after the cows, were the only sounds belonging to the spot. In the twilight the report of a gun echoing and re-echoing through the woods, told of the evening flight of the grosbecks overhead, but even this was seldom heard except at certain seasons of the year.

On the point of land spoken of and beneath the shadow of one of the largest live-oaks, stood a modest little house of three rooms, built, as were so many in those days, with large shingles for its covering, and its sides made up of brick and mortar between the wooden framework. The roof was sharp, and extending over the sides with a long hood-like slope that afforded shelter from rain to the open windows beneath. The shutters were of boards, and when closed at nightfall made the question of interior ventilation a problem to the sanitarium of the present day. In fact these shutters were fashionable in the Crescent City itself, and even up to the present time most of the old Creole houses retain the solid shutters of other days.

Although the place seemed most retired and not a spot where one would look for evidences of culture and refinement, yet a glance into the open door of the house would satisfy the observer that more than ordinary taste was displayed in the selection and arrangement of the furniture and ornaments. On the walls were hung water-color sketches, painted with wonderful dash and spirit, and resting on artistically carved brackets [illegible] two or three delicately modeled [illegible] in marble. The floor was [illegible] covered by a large rug made of [illegible] rags deftly put together, [illegible] of the wide fireplace stood a [illegible] on which some dainty [illegible] with remarkable [illegible] orange blossoms [illegible] with lace slips, and the musquito-bar was looped up by a band of pale blue ribbon that held it in position, out of the way, behind the highly ornamented headboard. The large, round pedestals on which this ponderous piece of furniture rested were polished and shone with the brightness of new metal.

In the rear of this room was a neat kitchen, where every article evidenced the painstaking care of the presiding genius of the house. The third room of the building was closed and the passer never caught a glimpse of the interior, at least no one living in that section had ever been so fortunate. Indeed, there were few who had seen much more than the exterior of the house, for its inmates appeared to avoid the society of those residing thereabouts, and even the baker, who called just after daylight each morning, with his gray horse, rattling cart and wheezy tin horn, complained that they tried to make people believe that they belonged to the haut ton, for they never had asked him in. These reports certainly did not in the least affect the individuals referred to, for the canary bird sang just as blithely in its little cage beside the window, and was listened to with as much enjoyment by a petite figure in the rocking chair near the door.

"Do you think you will finish it this week, Paul?" called out a musical voice to the inmate of the corner room that was never opened.

"I hope so, cherie. The tools are a little dull, but I am doing all I can to hurry."

"You know Mons. Levat wants it for Celeste's birthday, which is Tuesday.

"And to-day is Thursday?"

"Yes, Thursday morning."

"Is the weather good?"

"Delightful. The sun is out; and don't you hear the birds? Why, across the bayou the rushes are full of them. There goes out Duguo with his gun now. I hate men who shoot these dear things. Now, it's perhaps right to kill the big ones for food, but the little ones—no, no!" As she rocked back and forth her fingers plied the needle rapidly, and her attention seemed wrapped in the fashioning of a little garment not much too large for a doll.

The voice from the inside room was low, yet clear and deep. There was, perhaps, a shade of sadness in it, a touch as it were, of sentiment, but it was manly, and without a view of the speaker one would guess him to be a tall, well built man, with broad shoulders and a frank and open countenance. And so he was. Educated in France, he returned to New Orleans to settle down to quiet plantation life and continue his studies. Paris had awarded him many honors and his works in sculpture were known to the connoisseurs of the capitals of Europe. Six months had not elapsed after his return when he met, at a reception in New Orleans, the young and beautiful Heloise Duchet, then the music teacher in the family where the entertainment was given. The young lady, who was endowed with great intellectual as well as personal charms, had been thrown on her own resources by the bankrupcy and death of her father, and with that bravery and energy so characteristic of Creole ladies, she resolved to earn her own livelihood rather than be dependent on relatives.

When Paul Latourelle announced to his father his intention of asking Mlle. Heloise for her hand, there was a stormy discussion, and the old gentleman announced that unless Paul espoused the daughter of their neighbor, the wealthy Mons. Duduc, he need never expect to become heir to Grand Champ plantation. The young man resented his father's efforts to control his affections, and was seldom seen about the house, meeting the family only at meal times. His dog and gun were his constant companions and the woods his resort. After some months of this unpleasant sort of domestic life, he established a studio in the city and began life for himself with bright prospects for success. His father never visited him and all association between the two was cut off forever. Overwork and close application soon told on his health and he was prostrated with fever from which he recovered with the loss of his sight. Even this did not move the heart of the father, and for a long time the young artist lived on the small sum he had saved from his earnings.

It was then that the noble qualities of Heloise Duchet shone out with all their pristine beauty.

An old French writer has said for a lady of the salon, go to France, for a woman to entertain friends, go to England, for a housekeeper there is the American, but for a wife, embodying all, take a Creole. Certain it is for pure, unselfish devotion, nobility of soul and domestic companionship, Creole wives are entitled to all the praise given them. Queens of the home, disloyal must be the man who permits his allegiance to be weaned to outside allurements. There is a charm about a Creole household found nowhere else.

Heloise was unremitting in her attentions to her betrothed. She braved the opinions of some who would restrain her and called daily at his residence, leaving what delicacies she thought would be tempting to the convalescent's appetite. He dared not speak to her now of his love. He felt that he was cut off from all hope of marriage. Loving her too well to ask her to burden her life with a blind and almost helpless husband, he refrained from mentioning the subject of their engagement. Not so Heloise. She spoke encouragingly to him. Urged him to try his hand in modeling by touch, and by her cheerful words created a new hope within his breast.

One morning she was leading him along one of their retired streets, where [illegible]

"You must be tired leading me," said he. "You have your scholars to attend and you cannot afford to lose these morning hours."

"Tired of leading you? No, Paul. If you would only let me, I would be willing to lead you to the end."

"To the very end?"

"To the very end."

A mocking bird aloft in one of the oak trees on Rue Claiborne street set up a piccolo roulade of piping notes that made the air almost scintillate.

The sonorous call of the negro venders of clothes poles sounded down the side street, and the long drawn cry of "blackberree! blackberree!" announced that the toothsome fruit was already in season. The two promenaders heard neither the bird nor the hucksters. They were standing still now, and he was holding her hand in both of his. Her face was suffused in blushes, his lighted with a smile that made his paleness all the more interesting.

When the little plot of ground on the Bayou St. John was put up at auction in the rotunda of the old St. Louis Hotel, among the bidders was noticed a lady and gentleman, the latter blind. The lady did the bidding and became the purchaser of the property, house, garden and all. Bystanders spoke of the gentleman as the blind sculptor so well known in France.

The other day as a well known family carriage passed the now changed place, an elderly lady, pointing to the dilapidated old house which still stands, with her fan, said: "It is a pity they do not care for it better. Isn't it? Just to think, Paul, we would have been living there yet if you had not recovered your sight. I love the spot, for there dawned the love that has lighted my life ever since."

"God bless you, my darling, and may that light never leave us, until the end," the old gentleman replied, and the carriage passed on, taking the old shell road for Spanish Fort.—[New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Longfellow in Early Life.

From Mrs. James T. Field's paper, entitled "Glimpses of Longfellow in Social Life," accompaning the frontispiece, in the April Century, we quote the following: "Hawthorne once said in speaking of his own early life and the days at Bowdoin College, where he and Longfellow were in the same class, that no two young men could have been more unlike. Longfellow, he explained, was a tremendous student, and always carefully dressed, while he himself was extremely careless of his appearance, no student at all, and entirely incapable at that period of appreciating Longfellow. Later in life a warm friendship grew up between them, and I find a little note from Longfellow in which he says he has had a sad letter from Hawthorne, and adds: 'I wish we could have a little dinner for him, of two sad authors and two jolly publishers, nobody else!'

"Of Longfellow's student-days Mr. Fields once wrote: 'I hope they keep bright the little room numbered twenty-seven in Maine Hall, in Bowdoin College, for it was in that pleasant apartment, looking out on the pine groves, that the young poet of nineteen wrote many of those beautiful earlier pieces, now collected in his works. These early poems were all composed in 1824 and 1825, during his last year in college, and were printed first in a periodical called "The United States Literary Gazette," the sapient editor of which magazine once kindly advised the ardent young scholar to give up poetry and buckle down to the study of law! "No good can come of it," he said; "don't let him do such things; make him stick to prose!" But the pine-trees waving outside his window kept up a perpetual melody in his heart, and he could not choose but sing back to them."

HOT AND DRY SKIN, frequent chills and fever, burning patches upon the skin, scanty dark colored water which contains sand or mucous, indicate that the system has been attcked by extreme kidney disorder, which can only by cured by Warner's safe cure.

A True Woman.

Thus writeth a true woman to her friend:

"I love my husband dearly, and believe that in all things right and fair my first duty is to him, but I owe a debt of twenty-five years standing to my father and mother, which under no circumstances can I repudiate. When my husband and I became one, we mutually assumed each other's debts. Ours was not a partnership to clear us of our previous obligations. I did not make over all property, viz., my heart, my time, my thoughts to him, to keep them from any creditors; no I must pay my debts, and he ought to help me in so doing, as I ought to help him. Thus we may be enabled to pay those just debts more easily and fully than we could alone."

These are the sentiments of an honorable woman, and deserve to be read by every human being on the road to womanhood.

The Changes of the Earth's Surface.

The recent appearance of a new island in one of the Pacific ocean groups illustrates the fact that hundreds of geographers and surveyors have all they can do to keep their work abreast of the never ending physical changes of the earth's surface. Great Britain employs ten ships and 600 men in its admiralty surveys, and much of their work consists in making new charts of water that were carefully surveyed from ten to thirty years ago. New surveys along the east and west coasts of England last year showed important changes in depths and other features have occurred since the previous surveys. Navigation [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Tucks are revived for spring frocks.

Long draperies will be used on cotton dresses.

Embroidery the color of the dress will be worn.

Sashes will be generally worn with cotton dresses.

Polonaises and basques divide favor almost evenly.

New hats and bonnets are as high as ever, or higher.

Round waists gathered to a belt are liked for muslin dresses.

Full skirts and round waists are the features of little girls' frocks.

Diagonal fronts on both basques and street jackets are popular.

The fashionable wraps for this and the coming season will be short.

Black will be as fashionably worn as ever in transparent materials.

Clasps or large buttons are worn more than pins for fastening collars.

For white muslins those with embroidered stripes are the newest style.

Lace skirts will be worn under polonaises of silk the coming summer.

Ruchings for the neck and sleeves are a trifle fuller, though flat folds are still used.

The waists to costumes are as short as they can be and lay claim to the title of basques.

The small cushion of hair, together with the steels in the dress skirt are the popular supports for dresses.

The gathered basque will be much used for cotton dresses. The fullness is in front and may be made by adding two or three inches to the fronts when cutting the basque and gathering this at the throat, waist line and end of the basque.

About Marriage.

Some marry for the sake of a good companion and never discover their mistake. This is lucky.

It is better to have a comely "helpmeet" of some use than a brilliant one simply of "some pumpkins."

Don't marry a man for his reputation. It is liable to be only a second-hand affair, borrowed from his ancestors.

Many women have married men for their exterior. But that's all there is to an ancient egg worth mentioning.

Many marry to spite some one else only to learn that they got the butt-end of the transaction, and its worst end at that.

Many a man has married for beauty, only to learn that he paid $10 for what can be purchased for 25 cents at all druggists. This is hard.

I say when you are ready to get married, get married. However, it isn't so much trouble to get married as to know when you want to get married.

The hot-headed youth marries in a hurry because he fears marriageable females will be scarce next year, and lives to wonder how the supply holds out.

Marriage resulting from love at first sight is not generally wedded bliss on a par with sour milk. One or the other gets swindled, and often both.

The man who marries a woman simply because she is a handy arrangement to have about the house does so from a purely business standpoint, and in the end, if she is not compelled to support him, she has done better than any woman I know of.

Many a man who has married for money has never realized a dividend upon the investment; and many women who have done the same thing have left word for their posterity that, although a fair transaction upon the face of it, yet it is just as liable to be a put-up job.

A Celebrated Humorist's Ugliness.

In and out of season I know Bill Nye. He is the homliest man in seven states, Not many months ago Bill and I and another went on a trip west together. William was lecturing. The more I traveled with him and saw him in the primitive state, the more I became convinced of his ugliness. I became really ashamed of him. At the hotels where we stopped Bill's homeliness actually took away my appetite. His face will stop the hands of a clock any day. Yet with all these strongly developed physical phenomena Bill is vain, positively vain, and loves to pose before the ladies. He does it, too, with tact and diplomacy, that wins admiration and makes the fair creatures forget that he has a face. Nye is bald. He is painfully bald. Out of one hundred bald heads his would be the man you would pick as the mark for particular baldness. He is tall and loose jointed, and wherever he goes he is attired in a claw-hammer coat. He stands with his hand behind and his toes turned in. At Waupaca, Wis., his family tailor resides. I didn't know that he had a game eye until recently. He is totally blind in his left eye and has a cast in it. His full name is Edgar William Nye. He knows how to talk sweetly and sprightly to ladies, and it goes without saying that he is very popular, not only with them, but with men. —[Eugene Field.

Approximation.

Attorney (examining witness)—"You say you saw the shots fired?"

Witness—"Yes, sir."

Attorney—"How near were you to the scene of the affray?"

Witness—"When the first shot was fired I was ten feet from the shooter."

Attorney—"Ten feet? Well, now, tell the court where you were when the second shot was fired."

Witness—"I didn't measure." [illegible]

The Greatest Clock in the World.

The famous clock of Strasburg is put completely into the shade by the great world clock, or the 10,000-year time indicator. It was constructed in Germany, during many years' labor, by Christian Martim, clockmaker. The clock marks the years and leap years, and will run for a hundred centuries when its mechanical works will have to be changed. The face of the clock is about ten feet square and has a large number of dials and little niches where 122 little figures have their abiding place. These figures are to allegorize human life. Every minute a sorrowful-looking angel hits a bell with a sledge-hammer. When he has done this fifteen times another angel with a red robe strikes the first quarter. The genius, dressed in Louis XIV. costume, turns a dial so that the figure is shown. At the same time the figure of a child appears at a lower door. At the second quarter a youth appears, at the third a middle-aged man with spectacles and a high hat, and at the fourth a decrepid old wreck with a white wig. While all this is going on below, Death in the shape of a Comanche Indian with wings has been vainly endeavoring to hammar a bell in an upper niche, but an angel has headed him off in every case and protected the human family "by raising the right hand in allegorical relation," as per programme, until the fourth quarter. Then Death gets the better of the struggle, strikes the hour, and bundles the old man off into eternity.

The twelve apostles are trotted out each. Above them is a figure of Christ, who blesses with both hands each apostle in passing with mathematical exactness. At morning, noon and night, a number of bell ringers ring their respective bells with vindictive energy and and an old man drops upon his knees, as if some one had kicked his legs out from under him. All these and many other wonders exposing the family secrets of the zodiac, the heathen gods, the seasons, the moon and the globe, all run regularly. The whole structure is surmounted by a cock, which crows at 6 and 12 o'clock.

Golden News from the Golden Gate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 13, 1885.—"While in New Mexico, I contracted a severe case of catarrh of the bladder, from exposure to cold. Passed blood continuously until I could not walk, Warner's safe cure with Warner's safe pills used according to directions, for nearly a year, saved my life.—W. D. SOUTHWORTH.

Where Gough First Signed the Pledge.

It was in the old town hall, now the city hall. It was Monday night, stormy and uninviting out of doors. As he walked down the centre aisle all eyes were turned upon him. How well many remember that pale, haggard face, the long, flowing unkempt hair of raven blackness, which Gough nervously pushed back from his forehead as he entered the meeting. His coat was buttoned up at the top only. A crowd of those who had laughed at his Bacchanalian songs, his wonderful powers of mimicry, and his grotesque dancing had followed him into the meeting. As he nervously affixed his signature to the pledge a half surpressed, sneering laugh was heard by those in the rear of the hall. Gough heard it also, and as he laid down the pen he turned suddenly on those assembled with "Why do you laugh? Am I not a man?" The meeting was silent in an instant, and then followed one of those impassioned temperance addresses which in after years made him foremost among the most effective workers of the temperance cause. In his after life he never moved an audience more than in this, his first temperance address. Tears were brought to the eyes of all, and it was a sight never to be forgotten by those who witnessed the scene.—[Worcester Spy.

That's the Point.

The Chicago News tells a funny story about a certain Chicago society lady and Herr Sylva, the tenor-robusto of the German opera troupe. It seems that this lady wanted to give a grand society splurge at her palatial residence, and she was especially ambitious to regale her honored guests with the dulcet strains of Herr Sylva's vocal organs. Accordingly she secured an introduction to the German tenor, and at once she invited him to grace her spacious drawing-rooms with his presence and to ravish the atmosphere circumambient thereof with his tuneful melodies. To impress the Tutanic troubadour with the awful grandeur of the distinction she was conferring upon him, as well as with the extraorinary solemnity of the contemplated event, the lady said: "The affair will be very recherche; we are to have a distinguished company, superb floral decorations, a perfect lovely orchestra and delightful refreshments!" "Ach! mein Gott in himmel!" cried the minstrel from over the Rhine; "der flowers und der gompany und der refreshments eez very goot, but how vos dose dings going to buy brod und buzzer for mine frau and babbies?"

The Presidents.

The deceased Presidents of the United States sleep widely apart. Virginia holds five of them—Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Tyler—making her soil indeed sacred; Tennessee three—Jackson, Polk, and Johnson; Massachusetts two—John Adams and John Quincy Adams, father and son; New York three—VanBuren, Filmore and Grant; Ohio two—Harrison and Garfield; New Hampshire one—Pierce; Pennsylvania one—Buchanan; Illinois one—Lincoln; Kentucky one—Taylor. All of them, with the exception of Taylor [illegible]

Analyzing Baking Powder.

Under the direction of the New York State Board of Health, eighty-four different kinds of baking powders, embracing all the brands that could be found for sale in the State, were submitted to examination and analysis by Prof. C. F. Chandler, a Member of the State Board and President of the New York City Board of Health, assisted by Prof. EDWARD G. LOVE, the well-known late United States Government chemist.

The official report shows that a large number of the powders examined were found to contain alum or lime; many of them to such an extent as to render them seriously objectionable for use in the preperation of human food.

Alum was found in twenty-nine samples. This drug is employed in baking powders to cheapen their cost. The presence of lime is attributed to the impure cream of tartar of commerce used in their manufacture. Such cream of Tartar was also analyzed, and found to contain lime and other impurities; in some samples to the extent of 93 per cent. of their entire weight.

All the baking powders of the market, with the single exception of "Royal" (not including the alum and phosphate powders, which were long since discarded as unsafe or inefficient by prudent housekeepers) are made from the impure cream of tartar of commerce, and consequently contain lime to a corresponding extent.

The only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely free from lime and absolutely pure is the "Royal." This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes of the N. Y. Tartar Co., which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and on account of this greater cost is used in no baking powder but the "Royal;"

Prof. Love, who made the analysis of baking powders for the New York State Board of Health as well as for the government, says of the purity and wholesomeness of "Royal:"

"I have tested a package of 'Royal Baking Powder' which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates or any injurious substances. E. G. LOVE, PH. D."

"I was all run down, and Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the medicine I needed," write hundreds of people. Take it now. 100 Doses One Dollar.

A Clever Critic Has Noticed.

That purses will hold nickles as well as gold.

That all men are honest when well watched.

That there is more gratitude in dogs than there is in men.

That poverty is the worst banner that a man can put up.

That a young wife with an old man is like a light in a sick room.

That the most enduring love is that of a mother for her children,

That nearly every office seeker is the right man in the right place.

That mock philanthropy is like giving a mermaid a pair of boots.

That life is to short to give young men advice as to whom they should marry.

That most men choose a wife as a child does a doll, no matter if the head is filled with sawdust.

That diamonds, silks, firs, broadcloth, velvet and gold watches and chains are often bought with other people's money. —[Barber's Gazette.

She Was There.

One of our prominent business-men is frequently detained until a late hour by the pressure of business (?). This morning his wife said to him:

"That was a splendid play last night, wasn't it?"

"What play, my dear?"

"That one you attended with Miss Nebbins."

"Why—I—you are mistaken, my dear."

"Oh, don't think I'm angry, John; I was also there, and I had such a pleasant escort."

"The devil!"

"Oh, dear, no. He was a perfect gentleman, and I enjoyed his company as much as I did the play.

"Zounds, madam! What right have you to attend a theatre in company with another man!"

"The same right that you had to attend a theatre in company with another woman."

"Who was the villian?"

"My father."

—[Goodall's Sun.

Rich in Fruits.

The production of California is something wonderful. During 1885 she produced in raisins over 9,000,500 pounds, or nearly three times as much as in 1884. She also sent to market last year 1,500,000 pounds of prunes, 1,823,000 pounds of apples, 1,900,000 pounds of peaches, 1,190,000 pounds of plums, 650,000 pounds of apricots, 2,250,000 pound of honey, 1,250,000 pounds of walnuts, and 1,050,000 pounds of almonds.

Silver has been discovered and mines partially worked in twenty-one counties in Texas.

America cotributes upwards of $50,000,000 annually to the cause of Ireland, according to John Boyle O'Reilly.

May Cecil Hay is now lying hopelessly ill at her residence near Worthing, England, having already written "Fmis" to her last story.

Joseph English, of Boston, recently wrote 4,100 words on one postal card.

At Budapest, Hungary, the Austrian [illegible]

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button Shoes.

"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe

IN THE COUNTY.

CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

SALMON SHOE STORE,

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,

THE PLUMBER,

has moved his office and shop

Under Collins' Shoe Store

and is now prepared to do all kinds of

PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING

Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.

Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods

of all kinds. Also a full line of

GAS FIXTURES.

10tf S. C. NORTH.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
—ALSO AGENT FOR—

Perfection Weather Strip.

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$5.00	2.63	1.44
Nut	5.00	2.63	1.44
Mix	5.00	2.63	1.44
Egg	4.60	2.43	1.34
Grate	4.60	2.43	1.34
Pea	4.00	2.13	1.19

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered [illegible]
J. [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

G. D. BALL, Civil engineer, land surveyor and Attorney at Law. Levelling for Drainage, Sewerage, Street Grading etc., and conveyancy. Orders left at H. K. Nichols' law office in Nichols hal block.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and
7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER

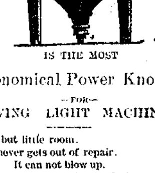
VITRIFIED

Sewer Pipe!

The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock
at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.

White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

The Backus Water Motor.



IS THE MOST

Economical Power Known!

—FOR—

DRIVING LIGHT MACHINERY

It takes but little room.
It never gets out of repair.
It can not blow up.
It requires no fuel.
It needs no engineer.

There is no delay; no firing up; no ashes to clean away; no extra insurance to pay; no repairing necessary; no coal bills to pay, and it is always ready for use.

It is invaluable for blowing Church Organs, for running Printing Presses, Sewing Machines, Turning Lathes, Scroll Saws, Grind Stones, Coffee Mills, Sausage Machines, Feed Cutters, Corn Mills, Elevators, etc.

Four-horse power at 40 pounds pressure of water. It is noiseless, neat, compact, steady, and above all

IT IS VERY CHEAP.

Price $15 to $300

Send for circular to the Backus Water Moto Co., Newark, N. J., stating paper you saw advertisement in.

Mr. S. C. North of this village having set a number of the Backus Motors will be pleased to answe any inquiries that parties may wish to make.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars,

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Stove	$5.00	Grate	4.60
Nut	5.00	Pea	4.00
Egg	4.60	Smith	4.50
No 4	5.25	Mixed	5.00

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

LADIES WANTED to work for us at their own homes. $7 to $10 per week can be easily made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment. Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G CO., P. O. Box 1915, Boston, Mass.

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. [illegible] salary and all expenses. [illegible]

[illegible] caused by the sinking of the [illegible] Oregon is estimated at [illegible]

[illegible] Grant monument fund is slowly [illegible]. The committee reports that the subscriptions now amount to [illegible]

DR. HAMILTON reports Secretary Manning's condition as improving and thinks that he will be able to sit up in a short time.

THE imports of dry goods for the nine months of the fiscal year ending with March were $97,564,681 against $85,202,661 last year.

THE annual university boat race between the Oxford and Cambridge crews was rowed Saturday afternoon over the usual course on the Thames river. Cambridge won after a hard pull.

MR. H. M. HOXIE, first vice-president of the Wabash system, who has become so prominent in connection with the great railroad strike, was born a poor boy in Iowa, and in early life was a hostler in a hotel near Des Moines.

THE treasurer of Barnum's "greatest show on earth" has skipped for Canada, taking $6,500 of his employer's money with him. Mr. Barnum, it is said takes the matter philosophically, perhaps thinking that the advertising he gets by it worth more than the money stolen.

REPORTS give the business failures in the United States for the first quarter of 1886, 3,203, with liabilities slightly over $29,000,000. The failures for the same period of 1885 numbered 3,658, with liabilities of $46,000,000. The liabilities for the last quarter are less than for any similar period since 1873.

THE Washington Post has made this remarkable discovery: "A Pennsylvania lady raised a family of fourteen boys. Thirteen were in the Union army and one the Confederate. Eleven out of the thirteen were killed on the field of battle, and one in the Confederate army has not been heard from. Two out of the thirteen returned home, and one of them has applied for a pension."

NORTH'S PHILADELPHIA MUSICAL JOURNAL for April is on our table. The number contains many things such as musicians and those musically inclined most relish and appreciate, a capital story "A Violin Romanza" by C. Leon Gumpert, a seasonable poem "The Resurrection Morn," a forcible editorial on the reasons of Mme. Judic's failure in this country, letters from New York, Boston and Chicago, giving the musical news of these great centres, together with a number of sheet music selections.

Published by
F. A. NORTH & Co.
Philadelphia, Pa.

THE conference between Jay Gould and the Executive Committee of the Knights of Labor, which, about a week ago promised to bring about a resumption of work on the Missouri Pacific railroad has virtually come to naught. Complications, even greater than before, still exist in the matter. The committee of the Knights of Labor have announced the unanimous determination of the board to continue the present strike until an arrangement has been entered into with Mr. Hoxie restoring all strikers to their former positions with the exception of only those who participated in acts of violence and destruction of property since the strike began. This is a decided advance from the position they held Saturday.

Manager Hoxie of the Gould system of railroads announces that 258 trains are moving on the system and that many more are ready to move, and also says that there were more applications for work yesterday than on any day since the strike began. General Master Workman Powderly lies in his home at Scranton, Pa., and is not allowed by his physician to read anything concerning the strike. His incapacity is a great loss to all concerned, for while able to look into the affairs of the strikers personally, he showed that he was a man of great discretion and executive powers, while Mr. Irons, his successor, seems to lack discretion and is liable to do great damage to the cause which he advocates. This fact seems to have been recognized by the Order and, considering that the mistakes of Irons was jeopardizing the work of their Order, he has, to a considerable extent, been superseded in power by the general executive board.

COUNTY NEWS.

W. W. Merriam of Clifford will open the cheese factory at Bowens Corners the latter part of this week.

W. W. Merriam of Clifford has rented his cheese factory in Clifford to W. J. Bushnell an experienced cheese maker. The factory will also make butter in the fall.

The Rev C. H. Guile lectured at the M. E. church, Mexico on "The strikes or the labor troubles of to-day,"last Friday evening.

John A. Byrne of Hannibal and Chas. B. Hewitt of New Haven have been appointed inspectors of customs for the season, at $3 per diem.

Mr. James Decker of Oswego Town, has a cow that on Friday last gave birth to a calf which weighed one hundred and fifty pounds.

Frank Severence, the Hamilton college student, who was struck by a locomotive and injured a week ago yesterday, was taken to his home at Mexico Saturday,on a cot.

B. J. Saxe of the Watkens house, Sandy Creek, will become the landlord of the Central Hotel, Lacona on May 1. James Bishop, of Henderson will move into the Watkins house.

Raphel DeCotnonville of Colosse, who was fined $300 or 300 days in jail a few days ago by M. J. Collins, a justice of the peace of that place, for an assault in the third degree upon Margaret George, an aged woman, has appealed and was taken before Justice Wright of Mexico, where he furnished $600 bail pending the appeal.

The body of Mathew Gorman, the [illegible], who was knocked off the bridge by a train in Oswego last November, was found Saturday on the lake shore near Grindstone creek, twenty [illegible] badly mangled. It [illegible]

[illegible] postmistress [illegible] cause being heart disease. She was the wife of William Thompson of New York.

The branch manufactory of Lorillard & Lattimer, Utica, N. Y., was burned Sunday morning. Loss $15,000; insurance $10,000.

Cornell University now has sixty instructors and 653 students, 289 of whom are freshmen, while the senior class contains only eighty-four.

It costs about $12,000 per annum to support the village government of Seneca Falls. Of this sum $1,800 are expended for lighting.

The three farms in Dutchess county owned by John Roach, the ship builder, were sold at assignee's sale on Saturday for upward of $10,000. Mr. Roach's son bought two of them.

The Committee of One Hundred, it is said, will go to Skaneateles, where an official investigation of the lake as a means of water supply for the city of Syracuse will be made.

Peter Louis Otto, wife murderer, of Buffalo, whose conviction was recently affirmed by the court of appeals, was this afternoon sentenced by judge Childs to be hanged May 21.

The schooner Speedwell, with barley from Toronto, arrived at Oswego Thursday evening, being the first arrival. The first arrival last season was on May 6. The Speedwell reports the lake free of ice.

Fong Ah Yu, the young Chinaman of Montreal, who was charged with the murder of Sing Lee of Rome, in July, 1885, was convicted on Friday of murder in the second degree. He was sentenced on Monday to Auburn prison for life.

Two hundred and thirty-six entries have been received by the executive committee of the New York State Trotting Horse Breeder's Association, for the races of the second annual meeting to be held at the Rochester driving park, September 7, 8 and 9.

At one o'clock Monday afternoon a a work train, in rounding a sharp curve at Skaneateles junction, struck a hand car on which were two men, one Charles McCurdy of Rochester, was so severely injured that he died soon after. The other man, John J. Bailey of Batavia, escaped with slight injuries. The men were Western Union line repairers.

Robert Bonner has sixty-one horses in his stables, among them the following which have been purchased within nine years; Maud S., 2:08¾; Rarus, 2:13¼—trial, 2:11½; Edwin Forrest, 2:18—trial, 2:11¾; Pickard, 2:18¼; Rusella, sister of Maud S.; Nutbourne, brother of Nutwood, and also out of the dam of Maud S., and Daybreak, out of the dam of Jay-Eye-See.

Personal and Political.

Thomas A. Hendrick's portrait is to be placed on the new $10 silver certificate.

"Billy" Moloney of New York is in Montreal. He is very reticent about New York affairs.

Mrs. Hancock will receive the largest pension, $2,000 per year, paid to the widow of any soldier. Mrs. Shields, widow of the general, receives $1,200.

To-morrow has been fixed as the day which will bring to a vote in the House of Representatives the question bearing upon silver coinage.

The assembly committee to investigate the Buffalo common council will go to Buffalo to-morrow. It is thought the work will be finished in a few days.

The memorial services relative to the late ex-Gov. Horatio Seymour, before the joint session of the two houses, will be held in the assembly chamber on Wednesday, the 14th inst. The address will be delivered by the Hon. Erastus Brooks.

Among the members of the United States Senate, Ingalls talks loudest, Edmunds most, Mahone least, while Evarts sits and muses quietly. Hoar looks most like a grandmother, and Gorman receives most callers and is a favorite of the Senate page boys, as he was once a page himself.

The assembly excise committee on Friday in executive session, by a vote of 7 to 5 agreed to report favorably Mr. Curtis's bill to submit to the people the question of adopting a prohibitory amendment to the constitution. The committee also agreed to report for printing and recommittal the high-license bill, and will give a final hearing upon it to-day.

The house committee on foreign affairs has agreed to a favorable report on Mr. Creary's bill, authorizing the President of the United States to arrange a conference for the purpose of encouraging peaceful and reciprocal commercial relations, between the United States and republics of Mexico and South America and the empire of Brazil.

Mr. Gladstone's voice is causing him some anxiety, and he has gone to the country to spend two or three days for the purpose of recuperating. His physicians have impressed upon him that he must reserve his energies if he wishes to speak in the house of commons to morrow, when his anxiously expected statement regarding the government of Ireland is to be made.

Attorney-General Garland lives in a shabby-looking, old-fashioned frame house that sits back in a bare and dismal yard. His little old-fashioned mother, Mrs. Hubbard, known all over Washington as Grandma Garland, keeps house for him. She is a silvery, sweet little body, reminding one of an old-fashioned French pink. Her self-possession is well known, and she explains it by saying: "My dear, at my age there are no great men."

The Wrong Place For Scales.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 6, 1886—In the spring of 1881, had a slight eruption, particularly on the hands, itching intensely. Spread to my face and my eyes swelled, and nearly closed. Face and hands covered with scales. Consulted physician with no relief. When I had given up hopes of recovery, took twenty bottles of Warner's safe cure, which completely cured me. It is one of the greatest remedies of the age.—CAPT. W. B. ROBINSON, U. S. Marine Inspector.

A fire broke out in the Planter's house, the largest and best known [illegible]

[illegible] Many [illegible] fer to Manning [illegible] and among these is the peerless and incomparable Mary Anderson. [illegible] was possessed of keen judgment in selecting his stars. Though often he obtained inexperience for leading parts, his admirable management brought success from otherwise failure.

These theatrical men of the days when a farce, a comedy, and a tragedy were all acted in one evening are fast passing away. E. L. Davenport, Brougham, McCulloch, Southern, Forrest, the elder and Booth are no more. Of that noble company only a few now remain. Gilbert and Wallack still live as active, as full of fire and energy, in their parts, as ever. Few people who within 4 or 5 years have seen Lester Wallack would suppose that 60 years have rolled over his head, yet such is the case.

Of the more modern managers, Augustin Daly is the most noted. Daly has been very fortunate lately with his Broadway venture. He seems to have rare taste and a refined judgment. It is not the great pieces of comedy or tragedy he presents, but something neat and pretty in its action, requiring brilliant, clever abilities rather than those of the Booth style. His company is, perhaps, the most thoroughly organized one in the city. Its success lies largely in his leading lady, Ada Rehan. No actress in this city has a greater array of arts. There is scarcely any character she cannot take and render the same to perfection. While she is eminently successful on the stage, no actress has a more beautiful private life than she.

This season has been noted for plays having long runs. "Dixey's Adonis," is on the last 50 of a 600 night run. "Rice's Evangeline," at the 14th Street Theatre has been running since September. "The Mikado," that quasi Japanese operetta, has had an equally long season. "One of Our Girls," by Helen Dauvray's company at the New Lyceum, is working wonders for the box office. Helen Dauvray is an instance of what hard, persistent, persevering, conscientious work can do.

It may not be generally known that there is a theatre in the city, the property of an Episcopal clergyman, yet such is the case. The Madison Square Theatre in this city is owned by the Rev. Mr. Malloy. It was in this theatre that "Hazel Kirke" had so long a run.

The "Black Crook" again appears at Niblo's, for the fourth time in eighteen years. There are no persons so successful in spectacular drama as the Kiralfys. The first time the "Black Crook" was played, the expenses were $40,000, and I doubt not that 20,000 will no more than cover the expense this time. "Black Crook" is nothing than a very picturesque Faust. The various changes of the ballet, together with the gorgousness of the scenic effects make it one of most beautiful plays of our modern theatre.

The tide of popular indignation against our Aldermen is fast rising, and Alderman Waite, fearing least he would be submerged sought safety by turning state's evidence. He has told his story to our District Attorney, and to the grand jury. Under constant watch by the District Attorney, he has had the whole story worried out of him. So far as can be seen, Waite was influenced by his friendliness to ex-Assemblyman Richmond, the president of the illegal Broadway road, and the bauble of political preferment and high official appointment having been held before his eye, he betrayed his trust. The probable appointment office commissioner allured him to his fate. The immediate result of his story was the arrest of Aldermen Kirk and Pearson. Kirk is by no means a saint. He is a Fourth Warder. The story is that he is the only man in the Fourth Ward that was ever Mayor or wore a silk hat. But that he has an unsavory reputation is true. He begun his career as School Trustee, accepted a bribe from a teacher, and was removed from his position. Of course he says he is innocent and protests with great vehemence that it is a trick to run him out. The District Attorney is in a very peculiar and unenvious position. These men whom he must prosecute, and against whom indictments which if proven will send those so indicted to the State prison for 5 years besides a possible fine of $10,000 and loss of all liability to hold office, are his political associates and friends. So far as can be seen he is doing his duty fearlessly and honestly.

I dropped into the sale of Mr. Benah Wall's collection of paintings the other evening. As I glanced over the catalogue I was struck with the preponderance of Foreign painters having pictures in the collection, of 270 pictures not more than 20 American artists were represented. This scarcity of examples of American artist's work is characteristic of the sales this season. The Morgan collection recently sold and that of Ex-Gov Morgan were largely the work of foreign artists. It seems strange that this should be the case. In only a very few instances is a great price paid for American art. The pictures that Bierstadt might paint which if painted by a French artist would bring twice the price even though no better painted. This season the sale of pictures has been very active. More than $350,000 has been invested in pictures, the prices varying from $25 to $42,500.

The annual banquet of the Sorosis occurred recently. This society is composed entirely of ladies. It numbers among its members, Mrs. Dodge of St. Nicholas, Mrs. Booth of Harper's Bazaar, Mrs. Croly and many of the female leaders in literature and society. The society has become famous and in its way is as successful as the Union League.

Speaking of clubs it is a remarkable fact that nearly all of the clubs have now located on Fifth avenue. The Lotus, Manhattan, Union, American, Yacht, and the St. Nicholas. This latter club has for its object the preservation of all matters of historical importance to our city. [illegible]

[illegible] Washington, April 2, 1886.

Three sick Cabinet officers, and three remarkable exhibitions of legislative asininity, one in the Senate, one in the House, and another in a committee room all on the same day, argue something wrong in the atmosphere of the Capital and Capitol.

In the Senate Messrs. Logan and Teller indulged in personalities as far as the dignity of that body would allow them. Each said the other was no statesman, and made several similar remarks equally caustic. In the House two members from Tennessee, compared each other to occupants of prison cells and to criminals who had suffered death on the gallows. And down in the basement of the Capitol, where the Telephone Investigation Committee assembles daily, a distinguished witness was informed by a venerable legislature that he was impudent, and the witness (Col. Casey Young) retorted by calling the Massachusetts Congressman (Mr. Ranney) a "pettifogging lawyer."

The sick Administration is convalescent, with the exception of Secretary Manning. His condition still causes much apprehension. Hope for his recovery is only based on the fact that he becomes no worse. There has been no reccurrence of the rupture of the same blood vessel, and the paralysis has partly disappeared, but the patient does not gain strength, his voice is husky, and he frequently doses in the midst of conversation. On awaking, he resumes talk at the point where he left it. He complains of his beef tea and milk diet and wonders why they do not give him something solid to build up on.

The President has had a great deal of advice recently to the effect that he must avoid Mr. Manning's fate by taking more recreation and exercise. He has gained forty pounds since he has been at the White House, and his friends express considerable solicitude in regard to his physical condition. A prominent physician remarked that the present Cabinet were working simply with their heads. They increase in avoirdupois, and the trouble is that the blood vessels will grow soft and flabby, swell up and then any undue excitement will cause them to burst. His advice to the President and his Cabinet was to get patent gymnasiums and use them morning and night in their rooms if they would not take outdoor exercise.

Even should Secretary Manning recover, it is fully conceeded here that he will never again dare to resume the onerous duties of his office. As to his successor, the latest rumor in the corridors of the Treasury Deppartment, is that Hon. W. L. Scott the Pennsylvania Congressman will be tendered that portfolio. Mr. Scott has been prominent in the financial discussions this session, and he proposed some plan of his own for settling the silver problem. He is said to be the richest man in the lower House, he lives in a plain stone house beside Senator Stanford of California who is said to be the wealthiest Senator.

The absence now of stirring political questions in this country may be perceived in the nature of Congressional proceedings. The chief topics discussed are those which effect more or less locally, the business affairs of the different sections. What we hear most about just now are the strikes.

Representative Reed of Kansas summed up a good deal of the common sense of the situation when he said during the debate on the arbitration bill in the House; "It may turn out that this legislation may amount to but little. It may turn out that it will amount to much. Suppose we try it, and when we learn more, do more." The tenor of the debate throughout showed that, however the partakers of it might differ about details, they were a unit in recognizing arbitration as the key to the whole labor problem. Great reforms do not mature like fungi. Their beginnings are often feeble and their evolution the work of time. As Mr. Reed suggests, it is worth trying even an imperfect measure and see how it works. When its faults are apparent, they can be corrected. Meanwhile the friends of progress will have the satisfaction of seeing the United States Government, by the hand of Congress, set the stamp of its approval on arbitration as a principle. That of itself will be a great point gained.

The Chaplain of the House has made no more sensational prayers since a certain Congressman from New York characterized his prayer which referred to strikes as an "incendiary speech." Dr. Milburn said he had no desire to make speeches before Congress, and then it is stated that Col. Morrison who is supposed to give all his thoughts to Tariff reduction, wrote the Congressman a letter advising a more conservative course in regard to his morning invocations.

Woman, do you suffer from painful periods? If so it is wrong, and Warner's safe cure will by restoring the delicate organs to their proper condition, soon remove it and give you health.

Central New York League.

Notice and invitation are hereby extended to all Central New York Amateur or semi-professional Base Ball Associations, to appear by two duly authorized delegates, at the Oneida Opera House in Oneida, N. Y., on Monday, April 19, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of considering the propriety of organizing and if then deemed expedient, to organize a Central New York State League of Base Ball clubs. It is desired, that all organizations intending to participate, so signify by as early notice as practicable, to the undersigned who will yield such information upon the subject as may be desired. Address

DR. M. CAVANA, Pres. O. B. B. A.
Oneida, N. Y.

In accordance with a request made by several temperance organizations, both national and state, that a Gough memorial service be held on Sunday, April 11th, all interested in temperance and the movement are invited to meet in Church's hall next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, where such memorial will be held.

A fire broke out in La Crosse, Wis., yesterday which soon got beyond the control of the firemen. Telegrams for aid were sent to other towns and engines [illegible]

Valuable Real Estate.

Situate in the flourishing village of Fulton and vicinity. The lands and premises hereinafter mentioned will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder at the "Broadway Station" of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad Company in said village, commencing at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of SATURDAY, April 10th, 1886, and continuing until all the premises herein mentioned are sold.

The premises offered for sale are described as follows:

FIRST PARCEL.

The westerly half of lots 16, 17 and 18 in block 134, making a piece of land 50 feet front on Pratt street by 150 feet deep, and being a part of the Patrick Coleman property. The sale will include the house on the east half of lots 16 and 17, with the privilege of entering on said land and removing and taking away the house together with all stones in the cellar walls or foundations thereof upon condition that such removal shall take place within ninety days from the date of the deed thereof. The house is new, two story and well built. Size 22½ x 24½ feet with wing 16 x 20. It is insured for $700. Policy of Insurance will be assigned to purchaser.

SECOND PARCEL.

The westerly 164½ feet of lots 19 and 20 of block 134, being the Margaret Fitzsimmons property, except the easterly 50 feet thereof. The sale of this property will include the house now on the easterly 50 feet of said lot 19, and giving and granting unto the purchaser the same right to enter upon lands necessary to remove the house and stone in the walls and foundations thereof, and subject to the same conditions as stated in the description of the parcel first above described; also giving to the purchaser the right of way and easement over a strip of land 20 feet in width, extending from said lands to Division Street, which has been formerly dedicated to the use of the public forever.

THIRD PARCEL.

The westerly 164½ feet of lots 21 and 22 in block 134. This is a portion of the Eliza Hutton property, and contains a story and a half dwelling 18½ x 24, feet a wing 16 x 20 feet, and additions 16½ x 20 feet, and a barn 24 x 32. Said buildings are insured for nine hundred dollars; policy expires April 22d, 1888, and will be assigned to purchaser. Same rights and conditions as to entry and removal of house and foundations as stated in first parcel, and same rights of easement over 20 feet strip as stated in case of second parcel.

FOURTH PARCEL.

Lot No. 25 in block 134, 50 feet front on Division street by 130 feet deep, with a one story dwelling 22½ feet by 30½ feet. House is insured for $300. Policy of insurance will be given to purchaser. These premises were formerly owned by Mary Dunn.

FIFTH PARCEL.

Lot No. 17 and the south 50 feet of lot No. 10 in block 142. There is on these premises a one story dwelling house 20 x 32 feet; also a barn 16 by 24 feet; These premises are known as the LaMay property. The purchaser has the joint use of a well on the line between lots 17 and 18.

SIXTH PARCEL.

Lot No. 18 and the north ten feet of lot No. 19, making a lot 60 feet front on Second Street by 100 feet deep. This property has a dwelling house upon it 20 x 28 feet, known as the Edward Tofield residence. Premises are insured for $300 and policy of insurance will be given to the purchaser who also has the joint use and benefit of a well upon the line between lots 17 and 18.

SEVENTH PARCEL.

A tract of land containing 4 and 2-5 acres or thereabouts, just outside of the village limits on the west and lying between the lands of William Dexter on the south and the right of way of the Fulton and Oswego Railroad on the north. These premises formerly belonged to Isaac D. Markland.

EIGHTH PARCEL.

A tract of land containing 3 and 2-5 acres or thereabouts, outside of the village limits on the west and adjoining the parcel last above described on the west and lying between the lands of William Dexter on the south and the right of way of the Fulton and Oswego railroad on the north.

The terms of the sale are that twenty per cent. of the purchase price shall be paid down in cash upon the day of the sale, and the remainder shall be due and paid upon the delivery of the deeds of the premises properly executed. Deeds of each parcel to be sold have been prepared for execution, and will be read, or their contents made known, at the time of sale.

The above sale will afford an opportunity occurring but once in a lifetime to purchase valuable property at your own price. Tenements are in good demand. A house constructed on block 26 in the immediate vicinity of most of this property paid its owner from rents received therefor in five years the entire cost of construction.

You are invited to be present at the sale and secure some of the bargains which it will afford.

Remember real estate is the safest investment you can make. It is the foundation of all security.

The undersigned will be at the Broadway station in the forenoon of April 9th to confer with contemplating purchasers and explain all matters in relation to said property and the sale thereof.

Abstracts of titles of property to be sold have been left with the agent at the Broadway station, where they may be examined by those contemplating purchasing.

MAX B. RICHARDSON,
Attorney, Oswego, N. Y.

[illegible] Oswego River [illegible] FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1886.

Name	Res.	What for	Time	[illegible]	amt.
John Boardman	Fulton	Foreman	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Walter Bradley	"	Carpent'r	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
E L Richardson	"	"	[illegible]	1 60	7 00
J Hayden	"	C. Labor	1¼d	1 00	1 25
					[illegible]

The above labor was performed as follows:
6¼ days Foreman, rep wheel barrows $15 00
1½ " " " shears 3 00
2½ " " making pike poles 6 00
17½ " Foreman, 49 00
16¼ " Carpenter " paddles 29 25
4⅜ " Carpenter 7 00
1¼ " Com Labor, moving lumber 1 25

E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	5⅝d	1 60	9 00
F Garrison	"	Com. Labor	10 d	1 00	10 00
M Connors	"	"	10 d	"	10 00
J Hayden	"	"	10 d	"	10 00
N Miller	"	"	10 d	"	10 00
G Barrett	"	"	6⅞d	"	6 87
J Back	"	Team	2¼d	2 40	5 40
					61 27

The above labor was performed as follows:
1¼ days Foreman $ 2 00
12½ days Com Labor 12 50
2¼ days Team unloading lumber 5 40
4⅜ days Foreman 7 00
34⅜ days C Labor relaying wall 34 37

CHECK ROLL.

G W Briggs	Sen Hill	Foreman	3 7-16	1 60	5 50
S Grummons	"	C Labor	3 7-16	1 00	3 44
John Butler	"	"	1 ⅞	1 00	1 87
A N Graham	"	"	2 3-16	1 00	2 19
John Knapp	"	"	3 7-16	1 00	3 44
J Baker	"	"	3 7-16	1 00	3 44
Geo Baker	"	"	3 7-16	1 00	3 44
J T Bunker	"	"	3 7-16	1 00	3 44
Geo Hamilton	"	"	3 7-16	1 00	3 44
Henry Pero	"	"	3 7-16	1 00	3 44
Gardner Briggs	"	Team	3 7-16	2 40	8 25
					41 89

The above labor was removing landslide at Lock 13.

D V'nValk'nburg, Oswego, watchman	1 m	20 00
E L Richardson, Fulton, watchman	½m	5 00
Fulton Times, publishing abstract		1 12
Edward Coyer Oswego rep. spill way		1 94
Thomas Murphy " " " "		1 94
Total		236 66

STATE OF NEW YORK, } ss:
Oswego County, }
L. T. Richardson, Superintendant of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $236.66, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of March, '86.
Subscribed and sworn to before me } this 3d day of April, 1886. }
L. T. RICHARDSON
Superintendent.
C W STREETER
Notary Public.
Oswego Co., N. Y.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases; mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Ahead of All Competion.

A Cleveland speculator sent his son to Wisconsin to buy hops, telling him to keep his eyes open for another speculation. After a few days a dispatch came saying:

"A widow has got a corner on the hop market of this state. Shall I marry her?"

"Certainly," was the reply sent over the wires.

Twelve hours later the son announced: "Got the hops, the widow and seven step children, and shall go to Chicago to-morrow to see about a divorce.—[Wall Street News.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The coming memoirs of Pope Leo will make the tremendous edition of over 2,000,000 copies.

Commending the Doctor.

An old member of the medical profession in this city tells us a story which he says Dr. J. Adams Allen told him many years ago. Dr. Allen, as the story goes, was just beginning his practice when, one winter day, seated in a car, muffled to the ears, he overheard this conversation between two passengers who were setting where they could not see his face.

"Say, George," said one, What kind of a doctor is this young Allen?"

"All I know about him is that he snatched my aunt from the grave last summer—that is, I shall always think he did."

"Did he, indeed?" said the other; "well, he must be a pretty good doctor, then. What was the matter with your aunt?"

"Oh, she was dead and buried, you know."

TO MY PATRONS AND FRIENDS.

Why should we languish "when the whole world is a Market." Please read the following verbatim copy of another combination missive, and draw your own conclusions:

UTICA, N. Y., March 8, 1886.

H. C. GIESLER,
Dear Sir—We are in receipt of your valued order of the 5th inst., and will be pleased to fill the same, with the exception of the Patent Medicines; these we are obliged to decline to send at present. Kindly inform us if you desire us to send the balance of the order and we will forward the goods at once.
Very Respectfully Yours
JOHN H. SHEEHAN & Co.

The Oswego County Druggists Combination has taken another step towards "elevating the standing" of the drug trade in our village. How we apples swim. Oh how happy we would be, if in high prices we could agree, but join your gang I never shall until I meet you plumb in Halifax. We continue to keep a full line of find Drugs and Medicines of all kinds and shall continue to do so during our natural life, in spite of spies, telltales and combinations.

H. C. GIESLER, Druggist,
Opposite the Opera House,
Fulton, N. Y.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
[illegible]

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Repairing
[illegible]

SNOW AND LOOMIS,
No 7 First Street,
FULTON, N. Y.
HARDWARE DEALERS,
——Have a New and Complete Line of——
STOVES AND RANGES.
——THE——
WORLDS' JEWEL
IS THE FINEST STOVE MADE.
Stoves at Prices to Suit all Purchasers.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains previous to moving into my new store. Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.
MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N Y.
F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
A. LMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
STONEWARE,
Vitrified Glazed Sewer Pipe
AND
DRAIN TILE,
Traps, Bends, Elbows,
T's Y's &c.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY, and SAND STONEWARE CHIMNEYS and TAPS.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. Address STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY, Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPE.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact
[illegible]

SULPHUR BITTERS
The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.
[illegible]
BLUE PILLS
[illegible]

[illegible] F. [illegible], To-morrow.

THE FULTON TIMES

FULTON 'BUS

The Fulton Omnibus will leave the Lewis House for trains on the Oswego & Syracuse Railroad by the following time table:

	A. M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M
For Syracuse	8:15	11:00	3:40		7:00
For Oswego	7:05	8:45	2:40	5:30	7:00

Tickets to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents for sale on the Omnibus.

LEONARD & WILSON, Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express.......................8:37 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express....11:28 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express.......4:03 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express.....7:38 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express....7:29 a. m.
Day Express.......................9:05 a. m.
Day Express.......................8:03 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation..........6:10 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....7:28 p. m.

The 9:05 a. m., 7:29 a. m., and 7:28 p. m. trains will run Sundays. There will also be a special Sunday train for Syracuse leaving Fulton station at 6:28 p. m.

Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

W. K. NIVER, Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express...............7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation..........8:50 a. m
Norwich Express....................3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express.................9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express...............6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express.....................10:58 a. m.
Freight and accommodation..........6:08 p. m.
Oswego Day Express.................9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:24	11:54	5:24
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

Trains going south leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

FRED B. HIGHRITER - Local Editor

PERSONAL.

John C. O'Brien left Monday for New York, to purchase goods for the spring trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Hill of Canastota were the guests of A. L. Warner last Monday.

Edward Hill, who is attending Syracuse University, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Miss Minnie Hook of Oswego, spent Sunday in town as the guest of Miss Cora La Sage.

Mrs. George Chauncey of Niagara Falls is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bradshaw.

J. J. Stephens of Washington, is in town looking after his interests here. He has just recovered from a severe illness.

Willard G. Reynolds left Monday morning for Andover, Mass., where he will attend the present term of Phillips academy.

Mr. Oliver Mabie of Kirkville, was in Fulton last week, visiting A. L. Warner. Master Fred Warner returned home with him to spend a short time.

Richard Carr, formerly of this village, was in town last Saturday. Mr. Carr is at present filling the position of head bookkeeper for F. G. Weeks, Skaneateles Falls, N. Y.

Incurable Changed to Curable.

DURHAM, N. C., Aug. 16th, 1885. I had been in bad health for ten years. Case was pronouced incurable. Began to use Warner's safe cure, and three week after using it, gravels from the size of a large pea down to the size of a shot commenced passing. Had fifteen pass in two months, and am now well.—[MAURICE BERKECK.

Have your feather beds and pillows made light and clean by Blount's improved steam renovator. Leave orders at Blount's auction rooms.

The undersigned has a quantity of lumber, lath, shingles, pickets, eave troughs &c., recently bought at sheriff's sale, which will be sold out very cheap, enquire at the Planing mill of

48tf R. B. McCULLY

FOR SALE.

1 BEDROOM SET,
1 PARLOR SET,
1 WHIST TABLE,
AND OTHER ARTICLES.
MRS. S. LAYCOCK.

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCULLY.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

HART BROS.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify. Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

THE FOREIGN MISSIONS.

A Lady From Mt. Lebanon Tells of Its Work in her Native Country.

The Presbyterian church was filled last Monday afternoon to listen to a discourse by Mrs. Layyah Barakat, a woman of Syria, whom it had been announced would lecture upon the work of foreign missions in her native country. After a song by the choir, the scriptures were read and a prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Smith, who then introduced the speaker, Mrs. Barakat, who, after reciting the verse "Cast thy bread upon the waters, and after many days it shall return to you," in her native tongue, took the words as her subject. Mrs. Barakat is a fine-looking woman, and, considering the time she has been in America, three and a half years, speaks English remarkably well. She vividly portrayed her early life, the sufferings of the early missionaries and the persecutions and trials they and their converts were compelled to undergo, in a manner which brought tears to the eyes of many in the audience. She contrasted the sad condition of the women of Syria and other so-called heathen countries with the women of America. At the age of 12 years she embraced the Christian religion and suffered confinement, privations and punishment because she would not renounce it. One of the duties, she said, was to carry water in a a jar on her shoulder and many times she has stood under the windows of the mission school, listening to the teachings of the missionaries. After the death of her father, the family being very poor, her mother and six children were compelled to live in one small room, and many nights, she said, after the rest were asleep, she had knelt down and prayed, and while thus engaged, her brother would awake and would strike and beat her into silence. She was provided for and educated with the funds furnished by a Sunday school in Philadelphia. After her education, she went to Egypt as a teacher and she vividly portrayed the almost hopeless condition of that people and especially of their slaves, who, she said, in many instances, after entering the kitchen of their masters, never crossed the threshold again into the open air. In conclusion she said, "Don't be discouraged, my friends, 'cast your bread upon the waters and after many days it may yet return to you.' Many times during her remarks a number of the audience were in tears. The entire lecture, which occupied nearly two hours, was very interesting, and was listened to with rapt attention by the large audience until its close. The interest in the speaker and her work was testified by the fact that the offering made at the close of the services amounted to $43. Mrs. Barakat is at present almost constantly occupied in speaking in behalf of Foreign Missions, her services being in earnest demand. The money she receives she has devoted, save her necessary expenses, to a fund for the erection of an orphanage for little girls in her native land, whither she expects, in due time to return.

Election of Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Fulton Fire Department held last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

No. 1.—President, Chas. M. Sabin; Vice-President Earnest Hayford; Sec'y. G. W. Hoff; Treas., S.B. Mead; Foreman steamer, H. B. Kendall; 1st ass't., M. M. Williams; 2d ass't., N. Sykes; Foreman hose, F. W. Richardson; 1st ass't., L. G. Barnes; 2d ass't., Geo. Campbell; Wardens, N. Sykes, E. Hayford; Delegates, N. Sykes, E. Hayford, A. Seymour; Property Clerk, John Hammond.

No. 2.—President, M. F. Crahan; Vice-President, W. T. Mosher; Sec'y. W. J. Lovejoy; Treas., Dan'l Roach; Forman steamer, Edward Briggs; 1st ass't., Thos. Cavenaugh; 2d ass't., J. Shackelton; Foreman hose S. Taylor; 1st ass't. W. A. Allen; 2d ass't., J. Brennen; Pipeman, Chas. Sweet, Chas. Potter, D. Chetney, W. T. Mosher; Wardens, M. F. Crahan. W. J. Lovejoy; Delegates, Jas. Briggs, Wm. Stowe, Thos. Ingersoll.

Hook and Ladder.—Foreman, Cass Gardner; Ass't., Chas. A. Miller; Sec'y., Treas., and Property Clerk, W. Bradley; Wardens, C. R. Nichols, Job Bennett; Delegates, C. A. Miller, J. Bennett, and C. W. Streeter.

A Gents Calf Button Shoe for two dollars, at Nettleton's.

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

Special Sale of

HAMBURGS!

THE BOSTON BAZAAR

—WILL OFFER ON—

Friday and Saturday,

April 9th and 10th,

150 Choice Patterns of Hamburgs,

[illegible]

A. E. NETTLETON,

Is offering for Ladies foot wear something entirely new. A bright finish Dongola Button. The best wearing shoe made. Don't forget them. Sign of The Big Boot.

The Mikado to-night.

Frank Dilts is improving his residence on Cayuga street.

Geo. LeMay has purchased and moved into the old Fay place.

Have you seen the display of Easter cards in Mrs. Beals' window?

William H. Blakeman of this town, is confined to the house by pneumonia.

LeRoy Owens of Pennellville will run the cheese factory at Battle Island this summer.

A term of the Surrogate's court will be held to-morrow at the office of C. H. David in this village.

The ground around the Broadway depot is being graded so that the whole presents a nice appearance.

THE TIMES is under obligations to Nathan Hodson of Yeadon, England, for copies of late English papers.

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C., will be held at the residence of Mrs. H. C. Beals Monday evening, April 12th.

The last party—a masquerade—of the series given by the Odd Fellows last Thursday evening was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

John Tyler has moved his restaurant to the store on the corner of Cayuga and Second streets, formerly occupied by Mrs. E. A. Cooper.

The B. & O. telegraph office in C. S. Eggleston's store is now open and ready for business. Miss Ella Griffiths of Buffalo is the operator.

Rev. Theron Cooper, a former Methodist pastor of this village, will lecture to-morrow evening at the University Avenue Methodist church in Syracuse, on the "Plains of Esdraelon."

The indications are that considerable building will be done during the present season, especially in the upper part of the village. The new Broadway depot having a tendency to give it an impetus in that locality.

A young man from the suburbs stepped into the news room last Friday to obtain a certain number of a story paper. After scratching his head in a vain attempt to remember the number, he said, after expressing his regret, "It isn't for me, it's for another girl!"

W. J. Watson is making some extensive alterations and improvements in the interior of his drug store. The prescription case has been changed, facing the street, and handsome new counters have been put in. When entirely finished "Doc" will have as attractive a store as can be found in Oswego county.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel quart or pound.

Opening Days
at the
"BEE HIVE"
Thursday, Friday and Saturday,
when we shall display all the new Goods for early Spring
Wear.
BENNETT & STEWART.

If you want to dye easy and happy buy your dye stuffs at R. E. Phillips Drug Store. He always keeps the best quality and all you have to do is to weigh your goods—he can give you the desired amount of Dye Stuffs to color any given quantity, as he has had over twenty-five years experience in selling dyestuffs—and his prices are below all competition. 48w4

—All the New—
SPRING NOVELTIES will be opened this week at O'BRIEN'S.
1st door North of Lewis House.

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. GRAFF & CO.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

For door and window frames, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters etc., wholesale or retail, go to McCULLY'S planing mill, Fulton, N.Y.

The finest line of confectionery ever shown in Fulton has been received by John Barker at the Vienna bakery. A full line of bread, cake and other bakestuffs fresh every day. 28tf

Look at the size of Red Cross Cough Syrup bottle at Williams. 39m3

New Deputy Sheriff.

Thomas G. Poole of this village has for some time past held the offices of constable and policeman. That he has made one of the most fearless and efficient officers Fulton ever had, is conceded by all except those who feared or disliked him. At town meeting last month the whole republican ticket was elected with the exception of Poole, who was up for constable. He was defeated by a large majority. It is said that at the village election last week that one of the reasons for the defeat of the republican candidates for trustee, was that they might if elected, reappoint Poole policeman. Those who had reason to fear his power as a vigilant officer, who would do his duty under all circumstances, strenuously fought against all chances of his reappointment. Last Wednesday Poole went to Oswego, and, armed with a petition gotten up by men who wanted their property protected and signed by nearly all the business men, was appointed deputy sheriff of Oswego county, for two years, and those who were so frantic in their opposition to him, have the satisfaction (?) of knowing that their labor was all in vain. Poole will continue to be as much of a terror to the violators of the laws in the future as he has been in the past, or more, as his power and authority are increased. THE TIMES congratulates Deputy Sheriff Poole and the citizens, who, knowing his efficiency were instrumental in securing his appointment.

A Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sandhovel formerly of Fulton at present of Jersey City, on last Thursday evening received a gathering of relatives and friends, of which there were present over a hundred, the occasion being the celebration of their silver (25th) wedding anniversary. They were the recipients of very many beautiful and costly presents, during the evening dancing was indulged in by those that desired, there was also music, singing, social conversation and an oyster supper including the dainties of the season. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Ruckout, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Scouten, Miss Annie Scouten, Mrs. Albert Swart, Mr. and Mrs. S. LaVeck, Miss Addie LaVeck, Mr. Albert LaVeck and Mr. Charles Waffle all formerly of Oswego Co. That they may live to enjoy many such pleasant anniversaries is the wish of their numerous friends.

The Mikado.

The Mikado was presented in the opera house Monday night. One of the "Three little girls from school" possesses a very sweet voice but lacks strength and seemingly confidence and at times sang out of tune. Claude Brooke as KoKo and Miss Annie Leaf as Yum Yum were both excellent and these characters alone were well worth seeing. Nanki Poo was exceedingly tame. The Opera is probably the best of Gilbert & Sullivan's productions, and to those who have not seen it we would say see it. The company although not as good as Stetson's, does very well and the two leading characters are well sustained. The Mikado will be repeated at the opera house to-night.

The First Accident.

The through freight train on the Syracuse, Phœnix & Oswego railroad which arrives here at 11:53 p. m., was wrecked last Saturday a short distance this side of Three River Point. A box car jumped the track derailed the engine and one truck. Two passenger trains were delayed at the scene an hour and a half. The passengers were transferred from one train to the other. A wrecking train was sent from Oswego and the track was cleared early Sunday morning. This is the first accident on the new road since its opening last September.

The Street Railroad.

Henry Altman, a contractor of New York, and Alfred Egerton of Albany, a civil engineer, were in town Monday looking over the proposed route of the much talked of street rail road. It is said that work upon its construction will commence about the last of the present month, and the road will be finished before June 1st. We earnestly hope the report is true and that ere many weeks have elapsed, Fultonians can enjoy the many benefits offered by a street rail road.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in the post office at Fulton, Oswego county N. Y. on April 7th, 1886:

Able Aultus, Mrs. Luna Allen, Hattie Bartlett, Lontie Baldwin, Max Endlekofer, J. J. Foster, Emma Gore, Solomon Hicks, Jane Hendrick, Mrs. Emma Harwood, E. Hale, L. L. Kemp, Jacob Lampmon, Lizzie Mahoney, R. McKay, (care F. VanWagenen,) Elma McClellen, Mrs. Okley, Pictero DaLia, Huldah Phillips, Mrs. Fred Peterson, N. H. Tompkins, E. B. Wescott, Chas. F. Youngs.

Persons calling for the above please say 'advertised.'

S. B. WHITAKER,
Postmaster.

—Spring Opening of—
——DRY GOODS——
Thursday, Friday and Saturday
At O'BRIEN'S.

Don't fail to hear the Mikado.

Mr. Frank Dunn is soon to build a new house on Third street.

Fred Roberts is preparing to build a two story frame house on Fifth street.

John C. O'Brien has moved his stock of dry goods to the store formerly occupied by John Hadcock.

The Amusement club will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. G. W. Morton on Academy street.

W. Ross has laid the foundation for a two story brick house on the corner lot of the old ball grounds on Fourth street.

F. E. Hulett has established a hackstand near the Clark house and is ready to serve the public at a moment's notice, at a nominal price. He has a fine turn-out.

Daniel S. Shattuck of Oswego Falls was, on Monday appointed by County Judge Wright, a committee to take charge of the estate of Phœbe Althouse a lunatic,

By mutual consent, Miss Jane Broadwell has resigned her agency for "The Illustrated Family Atlas of the World" and the town will be canvassed by another party.

THE HEAT OF SUMMER easily prostrates a man whose blood has lost its vigor by excess of uric acid. It can be rapidly corrected by that great blood tonic, Warner's safe cure.

The Minetto shade cloth company have commenced the erection of a large wooded building, 150x60 feet, near their works in Minetto, which will be used by them as a store house.

Justice VanWagenen rendered his decision Saturday in the case of Clarence Ware, who was charged with grand larceny. Ware was held to await the grand jury in the sum of $500.

The new Carpets are selling splendidly at F. E. Bacon's, still we want to urge the people to keep coming as we shall keep up a full assortment until May 1. We never have given as good value for the prices as this Spring.

M. Edick is making some extensive improvements in the appearance of the ground in front of his residence on Oneida street. The steps leading from the walk to the house will be narrowed, a brown-stone coping built and a handsome fountain erected on the lawn.

On next week Thursday, the Northern New York Conference will open its 14th session at the M. E. Church, This will bring into our midst over three hundred visitors, and may the people as a unit endeavor to make the visit of these guests pleasant and enjoyable, so that on their return to their different homes they can speak in the highest praise of our beautiful village and the kindness and hospitality of its people.

Rev. W. F. Markham will on Sunday morning next, preach his last sermon as pastor of the M. E. Church in this village. In the evening the sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered in connection with the reception of some probationers into full membership. Mr. Markham has been pastor of the Methodist church for three years, which is the longest time allotted by this denomination for a pastor to remain, and during that time, by his faithful and untiring labors and personal excellence has accomplished much. That his work in the new field to which he may be assigned may be as fully appreciated and as conducive of good as it has been in Fulton is the wish of all.

A lot of Books, and stationery from Hadcock's stock, which will be sold very cheap at Blount's auction rooms.

Opening Days
at the
"BEE HIVE"
Thursday, Friday and Saturday,
when we shall display all the new Goods for early Spring
Wear.
BENNETT & STEWART.

Don't forget to get a pair of the new kind of Kid Dongola Button at Nettleton's.

F. K. Jones sells violin strings for a nickel each.

Try Red Cross Cough Syrup, 25cts. at 39m3 M. M. WILLIAMS.

Crackers, four pounds for 25 cents, at the Vienna Bakery on First street. 36tf

Go to Bristol's for Musical Instruments of all kinds.

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, Lead, Lime, Alabastine, &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. WILLIAMS' Drug Store.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c. 50c & $1. Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c. German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions, 25c. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c. Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c. Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

Another Large Stock of

Mens' Youths' Boys' and Childrens

[illegible]

Only Twenty-six of Them.

Our beautiful village park with its immediate surroundings is destined with the advent of spring weather to become so blockaded with baby carriages that the honest pedestrian, who is compelled to go to the upper part of the village, will find it no easy task to reach his destination in safety.

If the increase in new arrivals continues in that locality at the rate which it has during the past year, before another season, an additional path will, of necessity, have to be laid diagonally through the park. As the case now stands we can picture in our minds many standing at the edge of the park deliberating whether it will be safer to force their way through among the infantile vehicles or take the "round about way" and run chances of breaking their necks on the dilapidated sidewalks, It is an instance of "two evils choose the least" and will require a person of sound judgment to make the choice. In the past. Dr. Woodbury has been on hand in that locality to attend to the cherubs when medical aid was required, but it is not to be expected that one physician is sufficient, therefore Dr. Hall will soon be in that vicinity to assist in administering to their wants (we expect a compensation for this). But to figures. There are at the least calculation twenty-six under the age of six years, to wit: Arvin Rice, three; C. C. Benedict, one; A. Bristol, three; F. E. Bacon, three; Giles Piper, two; James Coats, one; Dr. Hall, two; Mrs. Laycock, two; F. D. Van Wagenen, two; John Case, two; F. Emerick, two; W. Morton, one; Dr. Woodbury, one; and last but not least N. N. Stranahan, one; grand total twenty-six. If we have omitted any, please leave word at the TIMES office and in our next issue will give a double leaded paragraph to make up for the omission.

It will be seen from the above that physicians, lawyers, merchants and manufacturers are thicker than snowflakes. The children between the ages of six and sixteen are by no means to be discounted and we may be able to ascertain the number after Governor Hill orders the census to be taken.

Now, if our park is not the centre of present prosperity and future greatness, produce the locality that is.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings, Annual Meeting and Election of the village of Fulton, N. Y., March 30, 1886, at Stephens Opera House hall.

Board met at 8:30 a. m., pursuant to adjournment.

Present, President Waugh and Trustees Bradford, Chase, Gage, Hulett, Johnson and Kendrick.

The President's annual report was read to the meeting of the electors, and on motion the same was accepted.

On motion the following amounts were voted for the following ordinary expenses of the village for the ensuing year, and for the special purposes named, viz:

For Ordinary Expenses –
" Lighting Streets,	$1,100.
" Assessors,	100.
" Board of Health	100.
" Cross Walks	200.
" Clerk,	100.
" Court Room	52.
" Printing	200.
" Fire Dept.	1,000.
" Incidentals,	1,000
		$3,852 00
For Highways—
" General Repairs.	$2,000
" Permanent Improvement	500
		$2,500 00
For Special Purposes—
" New Hose,	500
" Clearing out channel Waterhouse creek and repairing butment near Sixth street bridge	200
For purchase of gravel bed S½. Lot 1, Blk 66, 112	112
		$812 00
		$7,164 00

The following resolution was presented and unanimously adopted, viz:

Resolved, That on the expiration of the present contract with the Fulton Water Works Company, before renewal thereof by the Trustees, the question of such a renewal shall be submitted to a vote of the taxpayers.

The polls of the election were opened at 9 o'clock a. m., and closed at 4 p. m. The whole number of votes cast was eight hundred and seventy-two, and after canvassing the same, the following named persons were duly declared elected to the offices named, viz:

John Sharp, President; Daniel Pardee and John More, Trustees for three years; Myron Havens, Assessor for three years; Patrick O'Grady, Collector; William J. Lovejoy, Treasurer.

Dated March 30, 1886.

WILLIAM WAUGH, President.
ALEX'R BRADFORD, AMBROSE P. CHASE, WM. G. GAGE, HERM HULETT, WILLARD JOHNSON, H. H. KENDRICK, Trustees
ARVIN RICE, Clerk.

On motion Mr. ——the Board adjourned to March 31st, inst., at 7½ o'clock p. m.

ARVIN RICE, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y., March 31, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, President Waugh and Trustees Bradford, Chase, Gage, Hulett, Johnson and Kendrick.

Minutes of meetings held March 24th and annual meeting March 30th insts. were read and approved.

The following bills were presented and on motion of Mr. Johnson the same were audited and the Clerk instructed to draw orders on the Treasurer therefor, viz:

C. S. Murphy, Special Police	$ 2 00
J. N. Clarke, Street Commissioner,	148 54

The Clerk reported that he had collected the balance of license fee for the opera house, to-wit: $25 and paid same to village Treasurer.

Mr. Thos. G. Poole came before the Board and tendered his resignation as Policeman and returned his badge and key.

The newly elected President, John N. Sharp, and Trustees John More and Daniel Pardee here came forward and duly took the official oaths of office, and took their seats as members of the Board.

Mr. H. Hulett came before the board and stated that Mr. Britton, manager of the R. W. & O. R. R. had authorized him to say to the Board of Trustees that he would furnish and deliver at the crossing of Broadway on Second street sufficient gravel to gravel Broadway between First and Second streets.

On motion of Mr. Johnson the Board accepted the offer.

On motion of Mr. Bradford, the thanks of the old members of the Board were returned to Mr. Waugh, late President, and Messrs. Gage and Hulett, Trustees for their services during the past year.

On motion of Mr. Johnson the Board adjourned to April 7, 1886, at 7½ o'clock p. m.

ARVIN RICE, Clerk.

We have just received a large invoice of Ladies' Dongola Kid Button shoes in C. D and E widths common sense last also the largest, cheapest and best variety of Gents' shoes ever offered to the citizens of this place. Call and see them at the Salmon Shoe store. 48w2

Visit O'Brien's
—SPRING OPENING—
This Week.

Don't buy any more clothing before examining some of the "T. C. & Co." goods. See advertisement.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,

OLD BOYS

and young boys, big boys and small boys, fat boys and lean boys, any kind or condition of boys clothed and outfitted in a manner entirely satisfactory to fastidious mammas, and particularly papas, or to suit provident parents who want good goods for the smallest possible amount of cash.

Strictly One Price.

PEEBLES & COOK,

Opposite Opera House.

Annual Report of Mt. Adnah Cemetery Association.

Following is the Annual Report of the Superintendent of Mt. Adnah Cemetery Association for the year ending March 31st, 1886:

Total income	$1089.83
Disbursements	658.29
Balance to Treasurer	$431.54
Due Association by note and book account	733.63

NUMBER OF INTERMENTS.——64.

Cause of Death		Cause of Death
Old Age	2	Dropsy	2
Phithesis Pulmonatus	4	Cancer	4
Child birth	1	Tuberculosis	1
Inanition	3	Chronic Gastritis	1
Rheumatism	2	Hupertrophy of Heart	1
Cholera Infantum	1	Collision with cars	1
Heart Disease	2	Pneumonia	5
Still born	1	Disease of Stomach	1
Synchal Fever	1	Ascites	1
Unknown	2	Blood Poison	1
Erysipelas	1	Appoplexy	3
Asthenia	1	Cerebro Spinal Menegitis	1
Inflammation Bowels	1	Consumption	6
Paralysis	2	Yellow Atrophy of Liver	1
Fracture of the leg	1	Convulsions	2
Drowned	2	Suicide	1
Liver Complaint	1	Urinary Poisoning	1
TuberculaLargrigetis	1	Cerebral Hemorrhage	1
Premature Birth	1

All of which is respectfully Submitted.

WM. PARKHOUSE,
Supt. of Mt. Adnah.

Oswego Falls.

Work is being pushed on the quarries at Oswego Falls.

H. H. Merriam, president of the Oswego Falls Agricultural society, was in town to-day.—[Oswego Times Monday.

J. D. Stowell is home from Rochester, stopping with his parents. He is out of health.

Friday morning Mr. John Vedder of the north part of the town died of consumption. Mr. Vedder was a prominent citizen of this town, having represented the town as supervisor several terms. A few years ago he figured largely in the politics of the town and was considered the leader of the Democratic party.

Mr. Joseph Hinchy is not expected to recover from an attack of heart disease.

A man named Mack was arrested Friday evening and lodged in jail for being drunk and making a disturbance. He came here with his wife a week ago and advertised to do hair work, but his proclivities towards drink caused trouble and his wife went to her home in Ogdensburg and he went to jail. Justice Shannon fined him $5 or 30 days in the O. P.

Hannibal.

Mr. B. F. Byrne will move back here from Syracuse and open a harness shop.

Mr. Thomas Gately has moved to Syracuse where he will work at his trade of bricklaying.

Mr. Brownell has rented the Williams mill and residence. We may expect to see the mill in operation again as soon as Mr. Brownell gets it thorough repaired.

W. T. Warsop is storing his household goods here. He will board in Oswego until he finds a suitable business opening.

Mr. M. Prell and son, W. A. Prell, have moved their families to Amsterdam.

The burning of the Hannibal Centre mill has increased business at Chamberlain's roller mill.

Althouse & Son, who recently bought the old building on Mill street belonging to W. J. Brewster, are modeling it over for a barrel factory, which they will occupy when completed.

The Mikado.

—To Be Repeated At—

Stephens Opera House

TO-NIGHT.

Prices 25c. and 35c.

Reserved Seats 50c.

On Sale at Watson's Drug Store.

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Stove $5.00 Grate 4.60

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FARM FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A very desirable farm, about 100 acres of land, located ½ mile south of Oswego Falls, in town of Granby. Will be sold on easy terms. Apply to N. M. WHITE, Savings Bank Building, Syracuse, N. Y.

TO RENT: One half of store in with postoffice at Oswego Falls. Most desirable location in the village. Enquire at the store.

I offer for rent the coming year my property situated on Fay street, in Fulton. There are about 10 acres of land, a fine fruit orchard, large barn &c. The house is new and elegantly finished. Will rent the house separately as a residence, or the entire property. Apply at once.

GEO. J. EMENY.

TO RENT—My former residence on the Emory road, a few rods east of Seventh street, comprising house, barn and two acres of land, good well, cistern and fruit—apples, pears and grapes. For particulars enquire of J. M. CHESBRO.

W. W. HILL.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—House and lot No. 31 Erie st. Lot 3 by 8 rods, with good variety of fruit. House 2 story, recently enlarged and repaired.

FOR SALE.—House and lot, Utica St., near school. Lot 43 by 100 feet. Plenty of fruit. House medium size, in good condition. Can be bought cheap, terms easy.

FOR SALE.—House and Lot No. 94 Oneida St. 4 by 18 rods. Large quantity and many varieties of fruit. House 2 story, contains 13 rooms, and is in excellent condition. Also a good barn with basement on this lot. This place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a smaller house and lot in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida or Canastota, N. Y.

HOUSE AND LOT.—No. 21 Seneca street, 2 story, 13 rooms besides closets and hall, fruit, good well, cistern.

FOR SALE.—A small place of two acres with a 2 story dwelling and barn with basement, both in good condition. Fruit in endless variety and quality, fine. Situate in town of Volney on river road, five miles from Fulton.

FOR SALE.—A fine dairy farm of 130 acres in Granby about 5 miles from Fulton, and one mile from cheese factory, school, church and P. O. Farm well fenced, and watered, buildings in excellent repair and plenty of them. Will be sold on easy terms or will exchange for a smaller farm in Western New York,

FOR SALE.—A farm of 53 acres with good buildings, fences and well watered. Situate in town of Volney about 3½ miles East of Fulton.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

A FARM of 25 acres, within a mile of Fulton. Excellent buildings, a fine young orchard in bearing. Will exchange for a house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville. If not sold soon will be to rent.

A FARM of 67 acres, within 3½ miles of Fulton. Good buildings, well watered; 12 acres sown to winter grain and twenty acres timber. Will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Oswego Falls, or will be sold at a bargain for cash.

FOR SALE.—Two good building lots. Situate on on the N.W. Corner of Buffalo and Fifth streets

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y, C. W. STREETER.

MONEY LOANED on good bond and mortgage F. D. VANWAGENEN, JR

Trunks and satchels. The largest and best assortment in the country at W. McCully's.

Red Cross Cough Syrup is a sure cure, Sold by Williams. 39m3

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

MILTON S. PRICE,
38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33
Clinton Streets.
THE MOST EXTENSIVE
DRY GOODS, CARPETS
—AND—
FURNITURE,
Establishment in the State,
Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.
COME AND SEE
the Finest and Most Complete Stock of
Dry Goods and Fancy Goods
ever shown in this section.
COME AND SEE.
THE IMMENSE STOCK OF CARPETS, RUGS, OIL
CLOTHS, Etc.
COME AND SEE
THE FINE DISPLAY OF
FURNITURE
AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES
at prices far below competion.
FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.
BARGAINS
NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT
OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.
REMEMBER
MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Worth Knowing.

Order your seeds early.

Scrape the tree trunks.

Burnt earth is very fertile.

Roughing it won't do for hens.

Cheese is a more nourishing food than meat.

Notice how fowls will fret when food comes late.

This is a good time to consider the need of shelter belts to a garden.

More than one generation is needed to establish a breed or strain in live stock.

The best of all ways to prevent the bad effects of drouth is persistent cultivation.

Cotton seed crushed or ground to meal makes a better fertilizer than the whole seeds.

Corn is good feed for cold weather, but care should be taken not to feed to liberally.

Sift the coal ashes in the poultry-house for the fowls to pick at and dust themselves in.

Permanent pastures do not succeed on high, dry ground where the soil is light and sandy.

Remember that plenty of manure and tillage are the true secrets of raising fine vegetables.

President M. P. Wilder recommends the Washington apple as next in value to the Gravenstein.

In selecting brood sows choose those with long, wide bodies and thirteen or fourteen teats, the more the better.

If the fences are out of repair they should be strengthened up without delay. It pays to keep the cattle out of the corn.

Commercial phosphate manures are very valuable for old pasture lands and meadows. The production of milk takes the phosphate constituents out of the soil.

It is claimed by an Iowa wool grower that five fine-wooled sheep can be easily kept on the feed required by three coarse-wooled ones.

After all of Germany's fuss over American trichinæ, it turns out that their own swine are worse affected than any other on the globe.

Did you ever try feeding nice, sweet, fine-cut clover hay to fowls in winter? It's tip-top feed. Timothy is first-rate and corn stalks are good.

To kill the lice on cattle one good way is to wash the animals in tobacco water. Boiling water poured over any kind of tobacco, or over tobacco stems will make the fluid. To kill their eggs and all apply twice.

China nest eggs are a real economy at this season. First of all they never break from frost. By their use the hens, if at large, may be attracted to a familiar spot, to lay, when if no nest-egg were there, the nest might go to a new place and not be found.

The curing of clover in the barn depends upon how it is stored. Some barns are tight and have solid floors at the bottom of the mow, while others have cracks in the walls and a lot of loose rails for the hay to rest on. While the tight barn my sometimes keep green clover, like a silo, the other will not.

An Ohio farmer has brutally disgraced the whole profession. He had 300 sheep when winter set in, and plenty of grain and fodder, but the other day an agent of the Humane society found seventy-one of the sheep dead, forty being piled in the basement of one barn and twenty-three in another, and scattered about the place. They had all starved to death.

Treatment of Calves.

By long experience we have learned that a cow should be turned dry at least six weeks before calving: if not, the cow will not be strong, and the calf will be little and sometimes very weak. We take the calf away from the cow as soon as it is dropped, put a piece of old carpet around it and carry it to a warm place, if it is cold weather, and rub it until it is dry. Then get milk from its mother and put one finger in its mouth and hold its mouth in the milk, so it can breathe. As soon as it tastes the milk it will begin to suck; then take the finger out of it's mouth. In two or three times feeding a calf will learn to drink without further trouble. By this treatment the calf is weaned, and if it is kept out of sight of the cow a few weeks the cow will not pay any attention to it, and the calf can be put in the same pasture with the cow. We keep the calfs in a suitable place until it is quite tame. By gentle treatment it soon learns to come to its owner when called.

Calves treated with gentleness always make tame, quiet cows. On the other hand, if a calf is beaten and handled roughly it becomes timid and will not drink enough milk. The result is a poor, wild calf and if it lives to be grown it will never be tame. In fact, a calf that is neglected and frightened while it is being fed milk, will never make a nice quiet animal. We feed our calves milk about three months. The first four weeks we feed them three times a day, after that morning and evening. They will drink skim milk well. In summer time turn them on pasture, in winter give them clover hay—as much as they will eat. If milk is not plenty we soak pieces of stale bread in the milk, and for a change in the milk, a tablespoonful of cotton seed meal. They relish it and it makes them fat.—[Mrs. J. W. Archard in New York World.

A Wreck Raised and Put Afloat!

CLEVELAND, O., Oct., 30th 1885.—From the time I was 18 years of age, I was almost a confirmed invalid with liver and kidney trouble. Confined to my bed three weeks out of four. Face covered with a dirty eruption. Never expected to get well. Have taken fifty-three bottles of Warner's safe cure. Can do my work, marketing, walking any distance without fatigue. Warner's safe cure saved my life, for I was a complete wreck.—MRS. LOUISA DeMOOY.

Since Christmas, 75 fishermen from Gloucester, Mass., have been drowned at sea.—[illegible]

[illegible]

Bathe the horse's shoulders with cold water or brine as quick as the collars come off, before the sweat begins to dry, and rub off the collars and saddle pieces with a moist cloth. This will prevent sore shoulders. All changes of food should be gradual, but in proportion to the work. Heavily taxed muscles make demands on the stomach; hence, increase the feed after work begins—never in anticipation. A horse fed up before he is called to work gets soft and fat. Be careful to protect horses from drafts when warm; rub down, blanket, or let them stand in close stables. Cows at calving need little care, the less the better if in a loose box or the open field. "Fussing" over them is always provocative of injury. Give no grain, but a loosening diet of bran and roots for some days, and gradually increase feed as feverish symptoms pass away. Keep calves growing thriftily; skim-milk with a little linseed meal scalded and added to as a substitute for cream, is just as good for them as whole milk fed from the pail. Sheep must be kept in dry yards or there will be danger to their feet. Ewes with lambs should have grain daily, at least until they come to pasture. Swine.—Those who buy young pigs for feeding should buy none but half-bloods by a Berkshire, Yorkshire, Poland or other pure sire. They grow faster and fatten with less feed. Poultry.—Reduce the stock of fowls as soon as this year's hatch is well provided for, but hold on to old turkeys and old geese, they get used to the ways of the farm and are worth much more as breeders than young ones. Ducks also are good till three years old. A turkey is in her prime at five, and a goose at twenty.—[American Agriculturist for April.

Test the Eggs.

With the hatching season at hand, the testing of the eggs becomes an important item. Too many neglect this entirely, and lose the food supplied for the little chicks, which might be obtained from the infertile eggs. In France they test the eggs the second day, and all not fertile are removed and sold in the markets. But few of our breeders have acquired the skill necessary to enable them to detect the living germ so early, and the eggs that will not hatch are, or should be, removed by the seventh or eighth day, and saved to cook and feed. Any one hatching one hundred chicks would be satisfied if that number was realized from 150 eggs. These fifty eggs are worth saving, and are worth just as much for food for the chicks as the fresh laid. More than this, in setting six or eight hens, enough eggs will be found infertile, so that if removed, the remainder can be given to four or five, and room made for a fresh supply, thus saving valuable time and increasing the possible number of chicks. Eggs tested are sold by dealers of poultry supplies, but this expense is by no means necessary. Take a sheet of heavy white paper and roll it round a stick somewhat smaller in diameter than an ordinary egg—paste in shape, and then withdraw the stick. By placing an egg at one end (sideways) and looking through to the sun, or a lighted lamp, holding the egg close to the light—you can see very plainly every stage of the progress of incubation, even to the pulsation of the heart in some cases, and trace the branching blood vessels in every direction as they spread over the yolk. In a very short time, one will become expert in examining, and be able to detect the living germ by the fourth day.—[Maine Farmer.

Dairy Interests.

"Yes, this is about the time of the year that cheese factories are beginning to open for the season," answered Robert McAdam, the well known cheese dealer, to a Sentinel Reporter's question; "but they will be generally a little later than usual this spring."

"What is the outlook?"

"Well, it is fair, certainly not any worse than last year, and I am a little inclined to think it will be a little better. Stock is light just at present and will be entirely cleared out before new cheese comes into the market. There seems to be a better demand. Fine cheese is sold for from ten to eleven cents. A good deal depends on the foreign demand. What that will be of course I can not tell. It depends altogether upon trade, of course. You see other products are being sent over in all forms and so cheaply that cheese, if it brings any price at all, can not compete with them. The chances of trade brightening up in England, I think, are good. I see they are going to spend $45,000,000 in strengthening their navy and make other extended improvements. This will give a new impulse to the iron trade. I do do not think the prospects for farm produce are any better than last year. Butter is in good demand."—[Rome Sentinel.

Maxims.

Too much importance is self-importance.

You may cheat others now, but yourself also in the long run.

What man is deficient of in senses he usually makes up in mulishness.

Remember this: However small you consider your possessions, there is some one who envies you.

There is no luck, but there is such a thing as hard work and knowing how to make it answers for what others call "luck."

Too many young men believe that "the world owes every man a living," and that it requires no effort on man's part to make the collection.

Much of the world is prejudiced against facts, because facts stick to the text and don't go out of the way to concoct a palatable medium for the world's own genteel taste and wise opinions.

Simply believing the truths of religion doesn't make you religious; you may appreciate right and yet not do right; weeping over martyrs is not as heroic as having had your lamp suffered at the stake.

One breach of faith will always be remembered, no matter how loyal your subsequent life may be. People may imagine that they trust you, yet all the time they have an eye to the former break.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. [illegible]'s Italian Pile Ointment [illegible]

[illegible] H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great [illegible] For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Chelsea, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness is without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Persons having a superstitious dread of Friday will not be pleased to learn that this is a thoroughly Friday year. It came in on a Friday will go out on a Friday, and will have fifty-three Fridays. There are four months in the year that have five Fridays each; changes of the moon occur five times on Friday, and the longest and shortest day of the year each falls on a Friday.

Many persons have catarrh in its first stages who suppose themselves to be troubled with nothing more serious than a severe and stubborn cold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm gives instant relief from colds in the head, and a thorough treatment will cure catarrh. For sale by every druggist in the land. 48w4

On the first day of January, 1885, a contribution box was placed in the conversation room of the Working Men's Institute, at Millville, N. J., the object being to raise six hundred dollars to place a town clock on the belfry. On January 1, 1886, the box was opened and found to contain fifteen cents.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

M. Pasteur has at present thirty persons under his care. He has treated to date 290 dog-bitten patients and with the exception of one particular case, undertaken to late, all have been prevented from having hydrophia.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Hereafter widows of deceased soldiers who have been receiving $8 a month pension will draw $12, a bill of increase to that amount having passed both houses and the president.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

President Cleveland is said to be heeding the warning conveyed in Mr. Manning's sudden illness. He is taking more exercise and confining himself less closely to official duties.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane, almost invariably originating in the nasal passages and maintaining its stronghold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh in its worst stages, and gives immediate relief from cold in head. It contains no injurious drugs. Price fifty cents. 43w4

Attention is called to two races of men which must soon become extinct: The Maoris, of New Zealand, now reduced to less than forty-five thousand souls, and the Laplanders, who number about thirty thousand.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites

In Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

DR. C. W. BARRINGER, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "I find Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is a very fine preparation, and fills a long felt want. It is very useful in consumption and wasting diseases." 45w

You often pass a vacant store
Upon some busy street.
Where words "To Let" upon the door
Your wondering eyes doth meet.
You view the empty wareroom o'er,
And ask, with some surprise,
"Where is the man who kept this store?"
He did not advertise.
—[N. Y. Journal.

AN ENTERPRISING, RELIABLE HOUSE.

R. E. Phillips can always be relied upon, not only to carry in stock the best of everything, but to secure the Agency for such articles as have well-known merit, and are popular with the people, thereby sustaining the reputation of being always enterprising, and very reliable. Having secured the Agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and every affection of Throat, Lungs, and Chest, and to show our confidence, we invite you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free.

It is stated that a citizen of Reading, Penn., has invented self-winding clocks, one of which has been running for five years.

I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for the last five years. About three years ago I commenced the use of Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only remedy for catarrh I have used with satisfaction, and it has accomplished a cure in my case.—H. L. Myer, Waverly, N. Y.

It is estimated that fifteen cars a day for a period of four months will be required to market the orange crop of Southern California.

A CURE FOR PIMPLES!

My face for the last few years was covered with [illegible]

[illegible] ARE CURED BY THE HOP PLASTER.

Hosts of people [illegible] this porous plaster, because it is the strongest and best ever known. When applied to any sort of soreness, or weakness, it acts instantly, removing pain and strengthening the parts. Prepared from Burgundy Pitch, Canada Balsam, and the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops. They never tend to irritate—always soothe, stimulate and strengthen weak and tired muscles. Quick relief for sudden pains. All ready to apply. Hop Plasters are sold by all dealers, 25c., 5 for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price.
HOP PLASTER COMPANY, Boston Mass.

[illegible]

[illegible]

THE KIDNEYS.

They are the most important secretory organs. Into and through the kidneys flow the waste fluids of the body, containing poisonous matter taken out of the system. If the Kidneys do not act properly this matter is retained, the whole system becomes disordered and the following symptoms will follow: Headache, weakness, pain in the small of back and loins, flushes of heat, chills, with disordered stomach and bowels. You can thoroughly protect the Kidneys by BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS, and when any of these symptoms manifest themselves you can quickly rid yourself of them by this best of all medicines for the Kidneys. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS are sold everywhere at $1 per bottle, and one bottle will prove it [illegible].

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,
The old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5tf

George Fassel
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL!

The best coal in the market is the Lackawanna.

IT IS THE

Purest, Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

SCOTT'S
EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

E. E. SCHENCK,
PLANING MILL, AND
LUMBER DEALER.
Ceilings, Sidings,
Pickets, Shingles.

[illegible] has usually produced in a whole [illegible] year. The heaviest delivery was made to Turkey, after which came Greece and Servia.

House wives, shop girls and saleswomen all suffer more or less from Weak Back and Sideache. Apply a Hop Porous Plaster and get instant relief. A famous strengthener. 25c. druggists.

The most important sale of race horses ever made in this country, took place at Pierre Lorillard's stables, near Johnstown, N. J. Twenty-seven racers brought $149,000, one alone was sold for $29,000.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

The fishermen about Oneida Lake average about $75 a month by fishing through the ice. The fish taken are mostly pike.

M. L. Blair, Alderman 5th Ward, Scranton, Pa., stated Nov. 9, '83: He has used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for sprains, burns, cuts, bruises and rheumatism. Cured every time.

It is said that the name Dakota is an abbreviation of the Indian word "Pa-ha-oota," meaning "many heads" or "plenty."

AN ANSWER WANTED.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaint quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale at 50 cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

Manhattan Island, Professor Fairchild says, is gradually sinking, and the sea will yet cover the present site of New York.

A BABY SAVED!

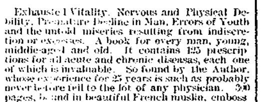
Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it was no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more the sores all healed and I considered my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

Fear of hydrophobia has caused the death of 10,000 unlicensed dogs in London within the last few weeks.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

The Panama canal has 102,000 stockholders, of whom 16,000 are women.



A STANDARD MEDICAL WORK
FOR YOUNG and MIDDLE-AGED MEN.
ONLY $1 BY MAIL, POSTPAID.
ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL.

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood.

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle-aged and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each one of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 25 years is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1.00 by mail, postpaid. Illustrative sample free to any body. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the President of which, the Hon. P. A. Bissell, and associate officers of the Board the reader is respectfully referred.

The Science of Life is worth more to the young and middle-aged men of this generation than all the gold mines of California and the silver mines of Nevada combined.—S. F. Chronicle.

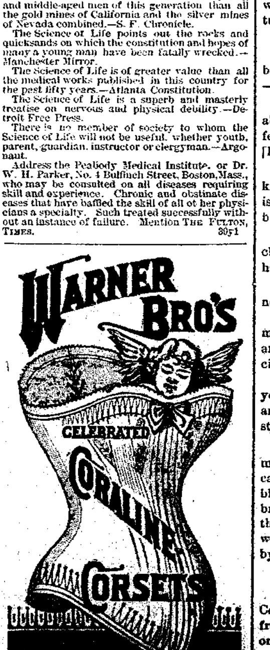
The Science of Life points out the rocks and quicksands on which the constitution and hopes of many a young man have been fatally wrecked.—Manchester Mirror.

The Science of Life is of greater value than all the medical works published in this country for the past fifty years.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Science of Life is a superb and masterly treatise on nervous and physical debility.—Detroit Free Press.

There is no member of society to whom the Science of Life will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all other physicians a specialty. Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. Mention THE FULTON TIMES. 39y1



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,

awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "Dr. Warner's Coraline" is printed [illegible]

[illegible] And she [illegible] —[Providence Star.

"Velvet will be as much worn as ever this spring." Alack, we fear the little velvet on our spring overcoat collar will be more worn than ever when we endeavor to prepare it for business.—[Boston Post.

"You play chess, do you not, Mr. La Dedah?" "Oh, no indeed, Miss Ethel; I don't play any chess, don't you know; none of our set does; it isn't considered a nintellechooal at all in sassiety, you know; I don't play anything but lon tennis, you know, and we don't play any of these light games."—[Burdette.

Young Hobson—'What beastly stuff this is!" Uncle John—"They say on the bill of fare it is their own importation, from the Box & Cox Company (limited), wine merchants to his Highness the Prince of Wales." Young Hobson—"Bah Jove! let's have another bottle."—[New York Life.

Tommy asked his father the name of a large building which they were passing. "That is a blind asylum." said his father. "Then," said Tommy, "what's the use of putting windows in it?"—[Paris Figaro.

WHY THE BIRD DIDN'T SING.

Mrs. Clamwhooper, an elegantly dressed lady, followed by a servant in livery bearing a cage in which was a green parrot, entered the establishment of a New York bird dealer.

"I bought this bird of you six months ago, and he hasent spoken a word yet. When I bought him you told me that he would repeat every word he heard," said the lady, indignantly.

"Well, I say so yet. He will repeat every word he hears," replied the bird dealer, camly.

"But he doesn't repeat a single word."

"That's because he can't hear a single word. He is as deaf as a post. You forgot to ask if he could hear, and I forgot to mention it. My motto is 'Honesty is the best policy.' Morning, ma'am."

Mrs. Clamwhooper left the place suffering from rage.—[Texas Siftings.

A recent lesson in the Sabbath-school was on the death of Elisha, and when one of the scholars came to the clause, "They buried him," the teacher asked: "Why did they not cremate him? Do you think there is any encouragement in the Bible for cremation?" "No encouragement whatever," was the reply. "They tried it on the three that were cast into the fiery furnace, and didn't make it work."—[Harper's Bazar.

Interlude of waltz; "Do you know Miss Sharp, I have been tewibly distwessed about the state of my hands after playing tennis, but I find weawing gloves to bed is very efficious; it keeps them weahly exceedingly soft."

"Indeed, Mr. Flat and may I ask do wear your hat to bed, too?"—[S. F. News Letter.

When the Generals have finished fighting the battle of Shiloh the privates will take a hand. The general public has no idea that there were any privates in that famous scrimmage.—[Philadelphia Call.

A remarkable accident happened to a young man in this city. He is courting a very fat girl and the other evening she planked her self down on his lap so suddenly that her weight drove his feet clear through his boots.—[Philadelphia Herald.

A man was recently arrested in the market for stealing one of the interior organs of an ox. He defended himself on the ground that he was poor, and that his minister told him to take heart.—[Boston Budget.

Property-holder—"Hey. wake up there! I think there's a burglar in my house." Weary Officer—"Well you've got gall to wake a man out of a sound sleep to tell him what you think."—[The Judge.

A man is always a bachelor until he gets married, and then he is anything his wife chooses to call him, and she usually does.—[Merchant Traveler.

One of the meanest and stingiest men in the world is a bachelor farmer near this city—he is talking of going to Chicago to hunt a wife so he can utilize her big feet by making her tramp out wheat and oats on the barn floor.—[Kentucky State Journal.

"Why is a sailor called an old salt?"

"To distinguish him from the cabin boy, who is usually a little too fresh."—[Boston Budget.

A silver dollar is never more despicable than when it is jingling in another fellow's pocket instead of your own.—[Fall River Advance.

It is a strange thing that the man who knows exactly how to run a newspaper is always engaged in some other kind of business.—[New Haven News.

Why does a childless boy resemble a childless monarch? Because there is no heir apparent.—[Judge.

They were arguing about the sinfulness of using tobacco.

"What would you think," said the minister impressively, "if you met an angel coming down the street with a cigar in his mouth."

"What," retorted the sinner, "would you think if you saw one in a plug hat and a pair of ear muffs coming up the street?"—[Lowell Citizen.

AN ANNOYING and perplexing loss of memory even of ordinary things indicates, in general, impovishment of the blood and consequent failure of the brain. This impovishment is caused by the excess of uric acid in the blood, which can be neutralized and removed by Warner's safe cure only.

"Innocuous Desetude."

"As I was remarking, Grover," said Col. "Dan." Lamont, as he looked up from a report of Sen. Edmunds' speech on meeting the President for the first time on Wednesday morning, "it is not wise to fool with the business end of a mule or the claw end of a buzz saw. Some men may do it but when they get through with the job they are not to be recognized by their friends."

"'Dan,' I don't understand your references," said the President, suavely.

"That," responded the gallant colonel, with slight acerbity, "that is probably because your mind has got into a condition of innocuous desuetude."

There was a brief and appalling silence, and then the President and his Secretary [illegible]

THE GREAT German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

[illegible] SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

[illegible] SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

GREENWAY'S
INDIA PALE ALE

Is manufactured only from the very best quality of Hops and selected Canada Malt. Read the following certificate:

BOSTON, April 24th, 1885.

Jas. O. Gray, & Co.:

Gentlemen:—I have made a chemical anlaysis of a sample of "India Pale Ale," from the THE GREENWAY BREWING CO., SYRACUSE, N. Y. with the following results:

Alcohol by vol. at 60 deg. F. .....7.01 per cent.
Hop and Malt Extract ....5.20 "
Ash..0.30 "

This Ale is one of perfect purity, and I do not find it to contain anything but the products of Malt, Hops and Water. It has a most delicate aroma, and I do not hesitate to declare, that it is fully equal in purity and quality to the best imported goods. Respectfully,

JAS. F. BABCOCK,
State Assayer.

Greenway's Ales and Lager on draught at E. J Elder's. 45t4

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS.

Send sketch or model of invention and $5 for examination. Applications for patents prepared and prosecuted. Rejected cases, infringements, interferences and legal opinions a specialty. Send stamp for book on Patents.

HENRY WISE GARNETT,

Solicitor of Patents, Attorney-at-Law, and Counselor in Patent Causes, Washington, D. C. References: Riggs & Co., Bankers, and 2d Nat. Bk., Wash., D. C.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted.
STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y,
40w1 Boston, Mass

LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment.

Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G. CO.
P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CATARRH
CURES COLD IN HEAD
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BROS
OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.

ELY'S CREAM BALM CATARRH HAY-FEVER

when applied into the nostrils, will be absorbed effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores sense of taste and smell. Not a Liquid or a Snuff. Apply a particle of the Balm into each nostril. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents, by mail, or at druggists.

ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

WANTED--LADY Active and intelligent, to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
16 Barclay St. N Y.

March April May

SPRING is a trying time. Indications of disease should be heeded. If you have Indigestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver and kidneys, or Want of Appetite, take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to PURIFY THE BLOOD without delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house, and take it with you on journeys. It is cheaper than sickness, and as pleasant as the hand of a friend

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY.
By all Druggists. $1; 6 for $5. Rondout, N. Y.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
Address Dr. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. McALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

FITS STOPPED FREE
Marvelous success.
Insane Persons Restored
Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER
for all BRAIN & NERVE DISEASES. Only sure cure for Nerve Affections, Fits, Epilepsy, etc. INFALLIBLE if taken as directed. No Fits after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges on box when received. Send names, P. O. and express address of afflicted to Dr. KLINE, 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. See Druggists. BEWARE OF IMITATING FRAUDS.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost
of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
[illegible]

SURROGATE'S COURT.

[illegible] the year [illegible] of the Surrogate's Court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

[illegible]—At the Surrogate's Office in [illegible] Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 2nd, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. Davis, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 30th and September 28th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 29th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

CHESBRO, THOMAS W. In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Chesbro, late of the Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, the Citizens' National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886, next. Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.

FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Joel Chubb and Jane Chubb delivered to Eunice A. Pardee, dated the first day of Jan'y., 1877, recorded with the power of sale therein contained in the clerks office of Oswego county, on the seventh day of February, 1877, in Liber 111, of mortgages, at page 260, given to secure the payment of the sum of $1300. And whereas the sum of $121.67 is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice and to become due the further sum of $980, and an action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof and said power of sale has become operative. Therefore notice is hereby given that by reason of the facts aforesaid and in pursuance of the Statute in such case made and provided the mortgaged premises discribed in said mortgage as follows, to wit.: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby (formerly Lysander) and known and distinguished as the south half of survey fifty acres of Lot No. nine (9) in the town aforesaid. Also all that other tract or parcel of land situate in said Town of Granby, and being a lot of one and one half acres of land on Great Lot No. nine (9) of the original township of Lysander, now Granby, and being on the east side of the river road leading from the south line of said town to the city of Oswego. The said lot hereby intended to be conveyed being bounded on the north by lands owned by Smith Southard, on the east by the survey fifty acres of said lot No. nine (9), on the south by lands formerly owned by Nahum Chubb, and west by the centre of said river road and being the same premises conveyed by Nahum Chubb to Jane Chubb by deed dated Jan'y. 17, 1870. Also all that other tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby aforesaid known as subdivision No. four (4) of Lot No. sixty-two (62) in the original township of Hannibal, now Granby, as subdivided by Barnet Mooney, Samuel Farnham and Asa Dudley commissioners in partition appointed by the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Oswego—will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper in the village of Fulton, county of Oswego, New York, on the 24th day of April, 1886, at 10 a. m. of that day and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.

Dated Jan'y 26, 1886.

GILES S. PIPER, Attorney, Fulton, N.Y.
EUNICE A. PARDEE, Mortgagee.

MORTGAGE SALE—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Joel Chubb, delivered to Richard Smith, dated the twenty-fourth day of October, 1857, recorded with the power of sale therein contained in the clerk's office of the county of Oswego, on the twenty-sixth day of October, 1857, in Liber 46 of mortgages, at page 218, given to secure the payment of the sum of $708.86 duly assigned by said Richard Smith to Benjamin Smith and by said Benjamin Smith to Richard L. Smith, who is now the lawful holder and owner of the same, and whereas the sum of $1138, is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice being the whole amount unpaid secured by said mortgage and an action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof and said power of sale has become operative. Therefore notice is hereby given that by reason of the facts aforesaid and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided the mortgaged premises described in said mortgage as follows, to wit.: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Lysander (originally) but in the present town of Granby, in the county of Oswego, and state of New York, known and distinguished as the south half of the survey fifty acres of Lot number nine in the town aforesaid. Also all that other piece or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby, county of Oswego and State of New York known and distinguished as subdivision Lot number four of the original Lot number sixty-two in the original town-township of Hannibal, in the state aforesaid as subdivided by Barnet Mooney, Samuel Farnham and Asa Dudley, commissioners appointed by the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Oswego, to make partition of said Lot number sixty-two, to wit.: Beginning at the north-east corner of Lot number sixty-two; thence south on the line of said lot to the north east corner of States' hundred number six; thence west on the north line of States' hundred number six aforesaid to the south-east corner of Thomas Sanburn's land; thence north on the east line of the said Sanburn's land to the north line of said lot and thence east to the place of beginning containing eighty-nine acres be the same more or less.; the two parcels above described are the same premises conveyed to the party of the first part herein by the three following described conveyances to which conveyances reference is hereby made for a more full description to wit.; First deed Asa Phillips and wife to Joel Chubb, dated May 31, 1853, recorded in the clerk's office of Oswego Co., Aug. 19, 1853, in Book 62 of deeds, page 556; Samuel Cogsdell and wife to Joel Chubb, dated November 25, 1854, recorded in the Oswego County clerk's office, February 19, 1854, in Book 68 of deeds, pages 87 and 88; Third Garrit Smith and wife to Joel Chubb April 7, 1852, recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, August 19, 1853, in Book No. 62, of deeds, pages 555 and 556, will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, New York, on the 24th day of April, 1886, at 10 a. m. of that day, and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.

Dated Jan'y 26, 1886:

GILES S. PIPER, Attorney, Fulton, N. Y.
RICHARD L. SMITH, Assignee.

CLOTHING

The "T. C. & CO." clothing FITS Nicely, has a CUSTOM FINISH and is MADE TO WEAR. It is FAMOUS for being the BEST and CHEAPEST, and is made in ALL GRADES, ALL SIZES, ALL SHAPES and for ALL AGES.

These Goods may be known by the above trade mark on the [illegible] buy any more clothing until you have seen some of the T. C. & Co. brand.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK,
Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.
9tf

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen Exclusive territory Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO. Stewart Building, N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPE.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, recommended by the [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 18—NUMBER 49

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Lost At Sea.

Often when the shadows mingle gently with the sunset gold,
In my mind a sacred mem'ry rises from the days of old;
And a melody seems floating all around with magic spell,
Sweeter than the echoed music of a distant vesper bell.

And my mind goes back to girlhood and the lowly cottage home,
Where I heard the waves of ocean in the hollow caverns moan;
Where upon the rocks I listened to the sobbing of the sea,
Thinking of the quaint old stories told so many times to me.
Thinking of my sailor lover who was out upon the bay,
Coming back to greet his darling at the closing of the day,
Singing songs of love and beauty—gentle songs that I love best—
As the sun sank slowly downward in the rainbow-tinted West.

And I seem to see my Willie, as we walked together home—
Heard him tell of life at ocean, when he o'er the sea should roam—
Of the joy of his home-coming with his wealth of shells and pearls—
Of a home upon the hillside, as he fondled o'er my curls.

Seems to feel the kiss at parting ling'ring on my whitened brow
Through the years that fill the places 'twixt the Then and 'twixt the Now,
Hear the loving songs he sang me e'er he left me for the sea
And his "Willie, we have missed you," seems prophetic unto me.

Hear the storm that wailed and whistled through a weary, weary night.
Round my home and o'er the ocean 'till the dawning of the light;
Feel the stifling pain and anguish of those awful days of woe
When I knew my Willie, lover, slept beneath the waters low.
Seems to live the old days over, when my life was nothing more
Than a weary waste of waters or a sterile, stormy shore.
Feel the peace, the resignation, coming sweetly from above
Sent me by the one who chastened but was still the God of Love.
I am now an aged woman, silvered in my once gold hair,
Life has had its joy and sorrow and its resting and its care;
It has been a long, long journey, fifty years have sped away
Since he sailed upon the waters, parting with me on the bay.
Oft my lonely heart cries for him and will not be comforted
Till I meet him in that Harbor where the "sea gives up its dead."
When the fading sunset glory changes to the twilight dim,
Softly sweet the mem'ry fadeth, but not all my thoughts of him.

THE WAR CORRESPONDENT.

Lecture by Archibald Forbes, at Otley, Eng., for Ten Years War Correspondent of the London Daily News.

Mr. Forbes, whose rising was warmly greeted, commenced his lecture by saying: "It was down by the Danube, in the early days of the Russo-Turkish War. Poor young General Scoboloff and myself were squatting in a hole in the ground to escape the rain of bullets and shells which the Turks were pouring across the river on the reconnoitring party which he commanded. 'Here you and I are,' said the General with a laugh, 'looking the enemy in the face right in the foreground of the battle, and how strange it is that quiet stay-at-home folks all over the world, who take their morning papers just as they do their breakfasts, know ever so much more of the war as a whole than we fellows do who are actually listening to the whistling of the bullets and the crash of the shells.' Scobeloff did not pursue the subject further, because just at that moment a shell exploded right in front of us, and, of the dirt which it threw up, a lump flew in his face and plastered up his eyes with mud. But, continued Mr. Forbes, nevertheless the General's remark was a very true one; war correspondence and the electric telegraph have given the peaceful citizen the advantage in the matter of quick and wide intelligence, over the soldier who is face to face with the enemy in the actual battle. This intelligence, although the public take but little account of the manner in which it was got, and had come to look upon it as a thing of course, was the outcome only of long, thoughtful and stupendous exertion. His hearers already knew the war correspondent simply by what he performed for them, and it was his purpose that evening to tell them something of the manner of the war correspondent's work in life, and something of the dangers that crowded on the part of a correspondent's duties. If the recital of some personal experiences in that particular field of labor should strike them as involving the imputation of egotism, he begged of them to entertain the excuse that no method had as yet been invented whereby it was possible for a man to avoid egotism when that man was speaking of himself. (Laughter.) The war correspondent had to distinguish. Of course, he should see all that was to be seen; know all that he could know; but that of itself was not all. He had almost said it were worse than useless unless the correspondent be able by dint of a combination of qualifications and attributes, to make the world an early sharer with him in the intelligence and the phases of the issue of any particular event. At a casual glance it might seem that the principal qualification needed in a war correspondent was that he should be a brilliant writer; able so to depict a scene that the reader may almost imagine that he had witnessed it himself; capable of so describing a battle that the reader may glow with the swelling enthusiasm of victory and weep for the anguish of the wounded. The ability to do this was unquestionably a great faculty; yet a man might possess it and be [illegible] failure as a war correspondent. In [illegible] so voracious was [illegible] for the earliest intelligence, [illegible] by the swift man of action, who could get his bundle of dry, concise manuscript in print a couple of days earlier than the most brilliant descriptive writer. To-day, in war correspondence, the race was comparatively to the swift, and the battle to the strong. In his day dreams—indulged in mostly when smarting under the humiliating conciousness of his own many deficiencies—he had tried to think out the attributes that ought to be concentrated in the ideal war correspondent, and he had come to the conclusion the war correspondent ought to be possessed of the gift of being conversant with all European languages, a selection of the Asiatic, and a neat assortment of the African tongues, including Zulu, Kaffir and Soudanese. He should have the sweet angelic temper of a woman; be as affable as a candidate canvassing for a vote; and at the same time be big enough and ugly enough to impress those with whom he came into contact that it would be highly unwise to take liberties with him. (Laughter.) The war correspondent should be able to ride anything that chance might send him—from a giraffe to a rat; be able to ride a hundred miles at a stretch; to go without food for a week if needed, and without sleep for as long; never to get tired—never to feel a sensation of a slight sinking, you know—and to be able at the end of a journey, however long, arduous and sleepless, to write round hand for a foreign telegraph clerk, ignorant of a word of the correspondent's language, at the rate of a column an hour for six consecutive hours, after which, as a matter of course, he should gallop back to the scene of action without a moment's delay. He should be both a practical and a scientific soldier; he should have a genuine instinct of the place and the day of impending combat—he should be able, as it were, to scent the battle from afar—and to allow nothing to hinder him from getting to it in time to be a spectator of the conflict. He should be so constituted as to have an acute perception, be able to discern victory from defeat, while as yet, to the spectator not so gifted, the scene of strife appears to be "confusion worse confounded," and so to rely upon his own judgment as to venture, ere the turmoil is ended, to write off the earliest intelligence. Alas! there never was such a man, and there never would be. He thought Julius Cæsar would have been an exceptionally brilliant war correspondent, if the profession had been invented in his time, and if he could have weaned himself of the habit of leading armies, conquering nations, &c. If the first Napoleon could have been a little truthful occasionally, he would have eclipsed Julius Cæsar and would have knocked William Howard Russel into a cocked hat. Although, before the Franco-Prussian War, some of the war correspondents had made for themselves worthy reputations, to vie with which no representative of the newer school had any claim, their work was carried on under much less arduous conditions than those which confronted the war correspondent of to-day. They had no telegraph to be at once their boon and curse, for then there was seldom any other expedient than the post from the camp; nor was it incumbent upon them to carry their lives in their hands. Before the far-reaching rifle came into use, it was quite easy to see a battle without getting within range of fire. But that was no longer possible. With sea guns that carried shell seven miles; with field artillery having a range of four miles, and rifles that killed, without benefit of clergy, at two miles, a war correspondent might as well stay at home with his mother, unless he had armed his heart to take his full share of the danger. Indeed, the risk was much greater than that to which the ordinary soldier was exposed. Certainly not more than twenty correspondents and writers were in the Soudan during the recent fighting in that miserable region, yet the corpses of six of them lie buried in the sands there, these including O'Donovan, Power, Cameron and St. Leger Herbert. It was the Franco-Prussian War that brought about the revolution in war correspondence, and of that revolution he had the good fortune to be one of the pioneers. There seemed no thought, whether among the veterans or amongst the youngsters who were engaged in that war, of elaborating strategical combinations, having for their object the quick transfer of news. There was an early concentration of interest, but, as yet, to none of them had come the inspiration of telegraphing in full—a prac- now universally resorted to now in war correspondence. * * * *

The Franco-German War with its speedy battles and its sudden collapse of the French imperial arms, with its astounding lack of military prestige, culminated in that stupendous event, the Capitulation of Paris to the German Army in 1871. His hearers would readily understand that all the correspondents were on the qui vive, each being anxious to be the first to enter the beleagered city, and to tell the outside world of its plight. He believed some fifty of his colleagues and rivals had congregated at Versailles, all eager to enter on the first opportunity. He was alone, and had elaborated his own scheme. The day after the capitulation was announced, he got a pass which carried him through the German lines, between Versailles and the fortifications of Paris, and he then rode quietly on and got in without serious obstruction, the first food that entered Paris after the besiegement being stowed in a wallet on his back. This was shown up and down the streets by the Germans as a curiosity. It required no acuteness to discern to what a plight Paris had been reduced, before she would suffer the humiliation of surrendering. That night she was alone with her grief, and not until the morrow came the commiserations of the Britons, who together with the French, endured the hardships of the [illegible] War. One [illegible] splendor and illumination, for there were no promenaders to entice; and the gaieties, profusion and sinfulness of Paris, which one had known, gave place to sombre dejection, and its appearance was at once beautiful, startling and sad. In a dingy house he found several of his comrades, who had remained in Paris throughout the long siege. They were dining on horse flesh, followed by a stew of dog, and a few scraps of bread on the table, were made of a sort of dark looking paste, about one half of which was sad. Here Mr. Forbes said horse flesh was very good eating, only you are obliged to get a little accustomed to it before you quite relish it. It had a curious, sweetish taste, and the fat was scarcely satisfactory. The Parisians had become quite connoiseurs in the matter of horse flesh, and were able to tell by the color and age of a horse what kind of meat it would make. For him to have entered Paris was one thing, and to get out and transmit the first intelligence of its condition, was another. Next day he rode through the stricken city, and after awhile managed to make his exit by the Vincenes Gate. After galloping about twenty miles to Lagny, he caught a train which carried him through France, and thence into Germany, to Carlsruhe, where he succeeded in getting a long despatch telegraphed to England. He then took the return train, and was back inside Paris within forty-eight hours, after a journey of some 700 miles. * * * *

The lecturer then went on to say that his hearers would no doubt remember that the awful days of the Commune followed hard upon the termination of the siege of Paris. The conditions under which correspondents tried to fulfill their duties were then more full of peril than anyone could undergo in any battle of his experience. In a battle a man knew of the danger, for the enemy were mostly in front of him and he could either stand up and take his chance of the fire or take cover and protect himself from it. But, Mr. Forbes said, in this turmoil of the last days of the Commune bullets were flying from all sides. There was a universal thirst for blood, and as Mr. Labouchere cheerfully wrote "They shot you first and apologized to your corpse afterwards.' Leaving the Franco-Prussia war, Mr. Forbes turned to the Russo-Turkish war, and remarked that in the Spring of 1877 the Russian hosts destined for the invasion of Turkey were slowly massing, prior to the commencement of the war. There has been a thorough awakening as to the value of the telegraph in war correspondence, and it was during this war that telegraphing was extensively used as a swift means of conveying to the outside world the earliest intelligence. The first thing for a correspondent to do was to obtain permission to go with the armies into the field, for a correspondent failing to do so was liable to be treated as a spy, and would soon find himself in trouble over and over again. He himself had been a prisoner in France, Spain, Servia, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Russia, Romania, Bulgaria and Turkey, and he could not recommend any of these countries from this point of view. (Laughter). After detailing the privileges which were offered to the correspondents who accompanied the Russian army, to which he attached himself, Mr. Forbes said that one of his colleagues in this war was Mr. J. A. McGahan, whom he regarded as one of the most brilliant men in his profession, and who, after going through the campaign under the greatest difficulties, having a lame leg which would have permanently disabled most men, died at the premature age of thirty-two years. The first fighting in the Russo-Turkish war occurred on that June morning when General Dragmiroff's division of the Rusian army forced a passage across the Danube, under fire of the Turkish batteries. He (Mr. Forbes) happened to be the only war correspondent that was present when the passage was effected. It was about midnight when he made his way to the shore of the Danube, where the brigade was waiting to be taken across in pontoons. It was a strange weary time, for the darkness was so dense that nothing was to be seen around one. The opposite bank was only just discernable looming black against a sullen sky which was hardly less black. Stumbling forward through the darkness, he struck against something like a wall, but which felt warm, and which, on looking up, he found to be a line of soldiers, silent and motionless, till the signal for the "move" forward. He took up his position in the third pontoon, which started just as the gloomy night was waning, and when across the broad swirl of the waters, the crags of the turkish fort in which the Turks were, could be seen. While crossing, shells were flying all around them, but the pontoon was so full that each man was obliged to stand in the open boat and take his chance. On reaching the opposite bank the men were ordered to lie down to avoid the volleys of Turkish musketry, and to wait till a sufficient force had been landed for the purpose of carrying the position at the bayonet's point—a gloomy prospect truly. Boat after boat discharged its living freight, and then the word was given and the soldiers rushed up the steep precipitous slopes. A detachment of Turkish militia held the post, and these died where they stood, neither quavering nor asking for quarter. (Applause). In campaigning in Bulgaria, Mr. Forbes said the correspondents had to rely entirely upon their own resources. It was like going "a-gipsying," with now and then a battle thrown in by way of variety. His companion in this, as in several previous and subsequent campaigns, was young Frederick Villiers, the artist for the Graphic. Villiers was an excellent fellow, but like the rest of us he had his weak points. Perhaps his weakest point was that he imagined [illegible]

He and Villiers had for their joint attendant a Servian, named Andrius, who was a capital servant. Andrius had a mania for the purchase of poultry, and for accumulating them in the wagon, in order to provide against a day of starvation which never occurred. He (Mr. Forbes) did not know whether any one present had ever had any experience of domestic poultry as bedfellows, but to any one who was thinking of making the experiment, he would give Punch's advice as regards marriage, and say, "Don't." Andrius was a capital cook, but he had a curious habit. At dinner, after a dish of stew, no other viands appearing to loom up in the near future, Villiers and himself would betake themselves to smoking or slumber. From this they would be aroused by Andrius to partake of a second course of roast chicken, the bird having been alive and unconscious of its impending fate when the first course was served. (Laughter.) Another charateristic of Andrius was his habit of awakening them in the still watches of the night, for the purpose of imparting his views on the Eastern Question. * * * * *

Describing their mode of traveling, Mr. Forbes said he and Villers had a van which was a sufficient habitation for two men who could give and take with each other. The floor of this van became at night a bed, the cushions and the poultry serving for a mattress. (Laughter.) Their cooking appliances consisted of a stew-pan, a pot and a frying-pan. These were the only weapons required, provided a plain cook had previously been secured. He was a plain cook himself. (Laughter.) Perhaps to be more expressive he should say that was a very plain cook. (Laughter.) Of one grand discovery in the culinary science he should however boast, for he found out that when anyone attempted to fry lean meat without lard, or butter, or oil, not only was the meat burned, but the frying pan was also burned. (Laughter.) The wagon was drawn by two sturdy grey horses, one of which was blind, a characteristic which the man who sold them to him claimed as an important advantage, and as was calculated to make him steadier in the crowd. (Laughter.) In the early days of this struggle the lion's share of the work fell on his (Mr. Forbes') shoulders, his ground covering Bulgaria from the right to the left flank of the Russian main advance. He had to be in the saddle morning, noon, and night, and after writing his dispatches, he had to be his own carrier to the nearest telegraph office at Bucharest. He was present at the Battle of Schipka Pass, arriving here early in the morning, just as the Russians had had so much of the balance of the struggle in their favor that he felt certain that they could hold their position. So he turned away from the scene, and by means of relays of horses, which he had previously posted, reached Bucharest, 190 miles away, about noon the following day. After he had dispatched the news of the battle, he encountered a Russian general with whom he was acquainted, and he was by him introduced to the Emperor of Russia, so ruthlessly assassinated a few years ago. As no official intelligence had up to then reached his Royal Highness, he (Mr. Forbes) had the honor of relating to His Majesty all that he knew concerning the battle of Schipka. The Emperor, who was quite alone, received him with great kindness, shaking hands with him and paying a compliment with reference to his celerity. His Highness was gaunt, his voice was broken by nervousness and by the asthma which affected him; his face had a worn, anxious, wistful look, and there was an expression in his eyes like that of a hunted deer. He told the Emperor that he could make him understand much better if he had a pen and ink and paper, and the Czar at once requested the general to procure some. While he and the Emperor were alone, with a small green baize table dividing them, there came into the face of the Russian king a strange troubled expression, which seemed to reveal to him (Mr. Forbes) the thought, "What if this man should kill me." The general, however, immediately returned with the necessary materials, and the look passed away. The Emperor caught up the points and surroundings of the position which Mr. Forbes sketched, with a trained military intelligence, and when all had been explained, he turned saying: "Mr. Forbes, you have been a soldier in the artillery or engineers." On being informed that he had been a private in the cavalry the Emperor expressed surprise, and was no doubt under the impression that all privates in the English cavalry were similarly gifted. Mr. Forbes went on to say that Villiers and himself were the only civilian spectators of the desperate attempt which the Russians made on that lovely summer's day in 1877 upon the fortifications with which Osman Pasha had surrounded the Bulgarian town of Plevna, and gave a graphic description of the struggle which there took place. After narrating an instance of the remarkable swiftness with which war news could be transmitted to all pars of the world by means of the electric telegraph, Mr. Forbes, in referring to the Zulu war, said he did not reach South Africa till after the gastly massacre of Isandlwana had taken place. He, however, visited the battlefield almost immediately afterwards. Here Mr. Forbes described the horrible sights which were to be seen on every hand, and related how he with others, had come across the body of the young Prince Imperial. The body had been stabbed from head to foot with assegais, and around the neck was a little gold chain, to which was attached a locket containing a photograph of the Prince's mother. These and a lock of the Prince's short dark hair, were forwarded to the Empress Eugenie. Mr. Forbes then described the battle of Ulundi, and related some thrilling incidents connected with that struggle. He [illegible] Her Majesty's ministers read to both Houses of Parliament as the only intelligence that had been received up to date. (Applause.) It might have occurred to them whilst he had been speaking, that he had had to go through a great deal of privation, and that the profession of a war correspondent was a weary one, calculated to make a man old before his time, and not wisely to be persevered in by any one who was in the heyday of physical and mental vigor. Ten years of war correspondence, now that the electric telegraph was extensively made use of, would suffice to undermine the strongest constitution, and thus it was that when the wars broke out in Egypt and the Transvaal, it behooved him to stand aside whilst younger and fresher men took his place. Mr. Forbes, in concluding, said that war—let it wear its most beguiling face—was a wretched business, and it behooves us all, from the depths of our hearts, to pray for that happy time when "Men shall study war no more." (Applause.)—[The Wharfedale and Airedale (Eng.) Observer.

Bitter Bread.

Complaint is frequently made by those who use baking powders that they leave in bread, biscuit, or cake raised by them, a disagreeable, bitter taste. This taste follows the use of all impure baking powders, and is caused either by their containing alum (introduced to make a cheap article,) by the impure and adulterated character of other ingredients used, or from the ignorance of their manufacturers of the proper methods of combining them. These baking powders leave in the bread a residum formed of lime, earth, alum or other deleterious matters, not always, though frequently, tastable in the food, and by all physicians classed as injurious to the health. The Royal Baking Powder is free from this serious defect. In its use no residum is left, and the loaf raised by it is always sweet, light and wholesome, and noticably free from this peculiar taste complained of. The reason of this is because it is composed of nothing but absolutely pure materials, scientifically combined in exactly the proper portions of acid and alkali to act upon and destroy each other, while producing the largest amount of raising power. We are justified in this assertion from the unqualified statements, made by the Government chemists, who after thorough and exhaustive tests recommend the "Royal" for Governmental use because of its superiority over all others in purity, strength and wholesomeness. There is no danger of bitter bread or biscuit where it alone is used.

Q. WHAT IS THE opinion of standard medical authorities on kidney disease?

A. That the blood vessels and tubes of the kidneys have become paralyzed by repeated and long neglected congestion and, having no nerve power to control their action, the albumen, the life of the blood escapes, while the uric acid and waste remain in and destroy the blood. This sometimes results in dangerous blood poisoning; the only true scientific blood tonic, before which these symptoms and diseases rapidly flee away, is Warner's safe cure.

A Word to Boys.

You are made to be kind, boys, generous, and magnanimous.

If there is a boy in school who has a clubfoot, don't let him know you ever saw it.

If there is a poor boy with ragged clothes, don't talk about rags in his hearing.

If there is a lame boy assign him some part in the game that doesn't require running.

If there is a hungry one give him a part of your dinner.

If there is a dull one, help him learn his lesson.

If there is a bright one be not envious of him; for if one boy is proud of his talents and another is envious of them, there are two great wrongs, and no more talent than before.

If a larger or stronger boy has injured you, and is sorry for it, forgive him. All the school will show by their countenance how much better it is than to have a great fuss.—[Horace Mann.

The Spring Months

Are undoubtedly the best in which to purify the blood and strengthen the system, because at this time the body is most susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla. The feeling of debility, langor, and lassitude, caused by the changing season, is entirely overcome and scrofula and all humors are expelled from the blood by the powerful reviving and purifying influences of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Do Not Delay—Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It is made by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists. 100 Doses one dollar.

Most Dangerous Nation on Earth.

Should the Chinese nation awake to the advantage of modern improvements build railways, buy modern ships of war and learn to navigate them, it would become the most dangerous power on earth. It could assail the commerce of the strongest foreign nation without danger of retaliation, for it has no shipping of its own, while the invasion of a land boasting of 400,000,000 people equipped with the best of arms would be, as the French have found it, practically impossible.

The combination, proportion, and process used in the preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Great Britain is to expend $65,000,000 for war vessels the present year.

[illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

White pilot-cloth is a novelty for spring jackets.

Lace gowns will be in high favor the coming season.

Sateens and foulard cambrics will be much used for polonaise.

Red or white soft vests are seen on dresses of almost any color.

Black lace and jet passementerie will be much used to trim India silks.

Silk poplins of Irish manufacture will be popular for handsome gowns.

The favorite colors to be worn next season are red, straw color and heliotrope.

A bright yellow or poppy red Japanese crape vest is liked for black silk dresses.

Havana brow, dark blue, blue, gray and red cloth jackets are made to wear with any gown.

The most popular goods for spring dresses are those having in them some suggestions of canvas.

Both single and double-breasted jackets will be worn; tailors add revers, or a velvet vest or military braiding.

The home dressmaker is advised that soft vests are easily put on, and are more stylish than smooth ones.

For the coming season many gowns will be made with the waist of one sort of goods and the skirt of another.

A high velvet dog collar freshens up a dress and may be lapped to the left and held with a small bow of ribbon.

Among the simple styles for misses and young ladies' wool dresses, that of the kilt skirt and apron drapery remains popular.

But Little Credit to the Profession.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6, 1885.—Three years ago, I suffered much from enlarged prostrate gland. Had to have my water drawn. The more I doctored, the worse I got. Was completely broken down. Almost out of my head. Have used 102 bottles of Warner's safe cure, and am perfectly and entirely relieved.—SOLOMON WESLEY, 354 Grand River avenue.

An Indian Doctor of Mohawk Blood.

Onontiyoh, a full-blooded Indian, graduated No. 18 in a class of forty-eight at the Buffalo Medical college. He is the first of his race to take honors in a course of medicine in this country. His uncle, Oronyetekha, (Burning Sky) was graduated at Oxford, England, and is now a successful practitioner at London, Ont. Onontiyoh is of pure Mohawk blood, and his name signifies "Beautiful Mountain." Between the Beautiful Mountain and the Burning Sky the red men should certainly find health and happiness.

The Largest City in the World.

The population of London now exceeds every other city, ancient or modern, in the world. New York and all its adjacent cities combined are not equal to two-thirds of it. Scotland, Switzerland and the Australian colonies each contain fewer souls, while Norway, Servia, Greece and Denmark have scarcely half so many. Yet, at the beginning of the present century the population of all London did not reach 1,000,000.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

There are over 300,000 Knights of Labor in the United States.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
STONEWARE,
Vitrified Glazed Sewer Pipe
AND
DRAIN TILE,
Traps, Bends, Elbows,
T's Y's &c.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY, and SAND
STONEWARE CHIMNEYS and TAPS
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes.
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

—COAL.—
The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$5.00	2.63	1.44
Nut	5.00	2.63	1.44
Mix	5.00	2.63	1.44
Egg	4.60	2.43	1.34
Grate	4.60	2.43	1.34
Pea	4.00	2.13	1.19

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
—ALSO AGENT FOR—
Perfection Weather Strip.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 43 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. E. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

G. D. BALL, Civil engineer, land surveyor and Attorney at Law. Leveling for Drainage, Sewerage, Street Grading etc., and conveyancy. Orders left at H. E. Nichols' law office in Nichols hal block.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts.
Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!
The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.
White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

The Backus Water Motor.

IS THE MOST Economical Power Known!
—FOR—
DRIVING LIGHT MACHINERY
It takes but little room.
It never gets out of repair.
It can not blow up.
It requires no fuel.
It needs no engineer.
There is no delay; no firing up; no ashes to clean away; no extra insurance to pay; no repairing necessary; no coal bills to pay, and it is always ready for use.
It is invaluable for blowing Church Organs, for running Printing Presses, Sewing Machines, Turning Lathes, Scroll Saws, Grind Stones, Coffee Mills, Sausage Machines, Feed Cutters, Corn Mills, Elevators, etc.
Four-horse power at 40 pounds pressure of water. It is noiseless, neat, compact, steady, and above all
IT IS VERY CHEAP.
Price $15 to $300
Send for circular to the Backus Water Motor Co., Newark, N. J., stating paper you saw advertisement in.
Mr. S. C. North of this village having set a number of the Backus Motors will be pleased to answer any inquiries that parties may wish to make.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Stove	$5.00	Grate	4.60
Nut	5.00	Pea	4.00
Egg	4.60	Smith	4.50
No 4	5.25	Mixed	5.00

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

TO MY PATRONS AND FRIENDS.

Why should we languish "when the whole world is a Market." Please read the following verbatim copy of another combination missive, and draw your own conclusions:

UTICA, N. Y., March 8, 1886.

H. C. GIESLER.

Dear Sir—We are in receipt of your valued order of the 5th inst., and will be pleased to fill the same, with the exception of the Patent Medicines; these we are obliged to decline to send at present. Kindly inform us if you desire us to send the balance of the order and we will forward the goods at once.

Very Respectfully Yours
JOHN H. SHEEHAN & CO.

The Oswego County Druggists Combination has taken another step towards "elevating the standing" of the drug trade in our village. How we apples swim. Oh how happy we would be, if in high prices we could agree, but join your gang I never shall until I meet you plumb in Halifax. We continue to keep a full line of find Drugs and Medicines of all kinds and shall continue to do so during our natural life, in spite of spies, telltales and combinations.

H. C. GIESLER, Druggist,
Opposite the Opera House,
Fulton, N. Y.

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. Address STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY, Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

DYSPEPSIA.—[illegible]

[illegible] could be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

MR. GLADSTONE made one of the greatest efforts of his eventful life in a speech which occupied nearly three hours and a half in the House of Commons last Thursday, that being the day appointed by Mr. Gladstone some time ago for asking permission to introduce his bill "to amend previous legislation and to make provision for the future government of Ireland."

His plan, briefly stated, is this: A parliament is to be established at Dublin, to consist of two orders sitting together with the right of each to vote separately. The first order is to comprise the present twenty-eight Irish peers, and seventy-five members to be chosen for ten years, and each of whom is to own property of the value of $1,000. The second order is to be composed as the British house of commons. Irish representatives are to have no seats in the Westminister parliament. The Dublin parliament is not to have control of trade or coinage or the army or navy or foreign or colonial affairs. Customs laws are to be made only at Westminister, but the collections from that source in Ireland are to be set apart and used exclusively for the benefit of Ireland. For the present the constabulary is to remain under imperial control, and a portion of the cost is paid by the imperial Treasury, although the police force is to be subject to demestic legislation.

The chronicles of British legislation do not record scenes of such great historic interest as were manifested on this occasion. It is only natural, perhaps, that this great statesmon, who has spent so much of his life in striving to secure independence for other nationalities should have resolved to close his career by making this supreme effort of his life for Ireland.

THE Senate has passed a bill annulling the charter of the Broadway surface railroad.

VOLUNTARY contributions of about $6,000 are said to be received weekly at St. Louis from all over the country to aid in the maintenance of the railroad strikers.

MR. PULITZER, proprietor and editor of the New York World, has resigned his office as congressman of the ninth district of New York, giving as his reasons the press of private business which renders it impossible for him to give proper attention to his public duties.

THE long dead-lock which has existed in the board at Oswego is at last ended and James Doyle has been elected chief-of-police. Many seem to think that this is a satisfactory settlement and that Mr. Doyle will do as much as any man could to bring order and system out of the present chaotic state of affairs.

THE depressing effect of the labor disturbances throughout the country is seen in the refusal of large manufacturers to take extensive contracts until the trouble is absolutely settled. As an instance it may be stated that a Delaware car company has refused contracts amounting to $385,000 during the last six weeks.

ASSEMBLYMAN TAPPAN on Friday last introduced a bill into the Assembly entitled "an act to prevent construction and maintenance of eel-wiers in the Oswego and Oneida rivers." Its provisions are directly in opposition to the bill which has been introduced by Mr. Ainsworth (already passed in the Assembly) and over which so much has been said.

THE great strike in the west continues. The latest reports, however indicate weakness on the part of many of the strikers who, becoming tired of idleness, seem to be about ready to return to work. The work is being done under military protection. The shooting of seven persons by the militia at the railroad yards in East St. Louis is criticised by many as an act that was, to say the least, questionable if not entirely unnecessary.

ANOTHER big haul was made by the authorities of New York yesterday. Ten more Aldermen were arrested and lodged in jail, all members of the corrupt board of 1884. The manner in which District Attorney Martine is doing his duty and the energy with which Inspector Byrnes and his assistants perform their work will have a tendency to make corrupt Aldermen tremble and hesitate before accepting bribes in the future.

DR. MARY WALKER is suffering all manner of abuses. Her ruffled feelings, caused by her recent arrest in Newport, have scarcely returned their normal state, when she is again abused, this time by a boy ten years of age, who threw a three-cornered brickbat at her in Washington last week, while she was walking the streets, daintily attired in a Prince Albert coat, trousers, stovepipe hat and carrying a dandy's cane. There is some excuse tor the lad as he was undoubaedly convinced that it was alive. The boy on complaint of the doctor, was brought into the clutches of the law and fined $5. This was by no means satisfactory to Mary, who demanded that the offender should be banished from the city.

A GRADUAL FAILURE of strength, with extreme pallor of face, fullness under the eyes, prostration, swelling of ankles and legs, indicate unmistakably a deranged condition of the kidneys, which should remove all this water from the system; if they do not, you certainly need the great kidney specific, Warner's safe cure.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in the post office at Fulton, Oswego county N. Y. on April 14th, 1886:

Armena L. Clark, Sarah Coeman, Cora Lamphier, Miss Alida S. Payne (2,) Miss Jennie L. Wilcox.

Persons calling for the above please say 'advertised.'

S. B. Whitaker,
Postmaster.

Before sailing for England last week James Russell Lowell is said to have refused a number of requests from publishers of magazines for articles, for which $1,000 each was offered.

Ex-President Arthur is very much improved in health. He receives visitors [illegible] the papers. He is not confin[illegible] to the room, and expects to go out in [illegible]

Many of the [illegible] Band [illegible].

Police Justice Shannon has been seriously ill this week.

Mr. Jas. Jones has opened a new shoe store here.

Eddie DeLany is assisting Mr. Jones in his boot and shoe store.

Postmaster Sullivan has moved the office to the back part of the store and improved its appearance very much.

Mr. Tilton E. Coe, who has been a resident of this place for the past five years has moved back to Scriba from whence he came.

Mr. Frank Smith of Thousand Island Park, was in town last week on business and pleasure. He was looking well and his friends were glad to see him.

Miss E. J. Shord, former,y of New Haven, has just opened a millinery shop in all its branches in the Howe block corner of Broadway and First street.

Mr. Charles Wetherby has purchased the meat business of Mr. Cronyn at Lower Oswego Falls and has taken possession of the market. He deserves success and we hope he will have it.

The new village board met last Thursday evening and organized. Milo Burke was appointed Street Commissioner and Daniel H. Gilbert Clerk; Michael Frawley jailor; Wm. Younglove, Stephen Pegden, Thomas Keyes, Wm. Jones, Michael Murphy, Thomas Costello, and Daniel Allen, policemen.

Judging from the present outlook there is to be a great amount of building done here this season. Already a large number of houses have been begun.

The factory company are moving the looms out of the wheel house, that building having been condemned, is to be torn down, when it is expected that a larger building will be erected in its place.

South Granby.

N. B. Howe is moving on to Russell's farm near High Banks.

F. W. Palmer is at work on his new milk house. He intends manufacturing creamery butter the coming season.

Peter Dingman is drawing his large crop of potatoes to the station where he receives 45 cents per bushel.

There will be a prayer meeting here at the school house next Thursday evening and preaching Sunday the 25th at 11 o'clock a. m.

Farmers have commenced plowing and also have started their tobacco crop by putting the seed sprouting.

F. W. Fenner contemplates building a large barn 100 feet long on his farm near Jacksonville this season. T. C. Lewis of Jacksonville is the builder.

The anniversary exercises given by the Good Templars at their lodge room in Jacksonville last week Wednesday night was a success financially and although the roads were bad a full house was present.

Tobacco buyers are plenty now days, but the price offered for the weed is very low, still they find a great many ready to dispose of their crop at some price. We think the larger part of the tobacco has been purchased at from 7 to 10 cents per pound. Others are still waiting for higher prices which we are afraid will not be seen this season.

The patrons of the South Granby factory held a meeting at the factory Saturday afternoon for the purpose of chosing a salesman and secretary. G. A. Fuller was chosen salesman and F. W. Palmer secretary. G. T. Trimble, the proprietor, expects more milk than he has had at any previous season and will include butter making with cheese. He expects to secure for the present from 7 to 10 cents a hundred pounds of milk more by making butter than cheese alone.

Hannibal.

Walter Green is in Oswego attending a short hand school.

Charlie Schoonmaker has gone to Iowa.

The Williams mill is now ready for custom grinding.

The interdict which was procured against Hannibal lodge 550 F. & A. M., by some of the members who were opposed to a change of rooms, has been removed by Frank R. Lawrence, grand master. The lodge is now in working order again.

Mrs. R. VanAuken has a "Lily of the Nile" in her window which contains seven large blossoms.

Frank Crandell arrived home from the the west Wednesday.

Ettie VanAuken has gone to Bradford Pa., to attend the funeral of a relative.

Mrs. Samuel Crandell has gone to Columbia county on a visit.

J. Stevenson is building a new cooler in his market.

B. F. Byrne has moved back here from Syracuse and will open a harness shop in the old stand.

Mr. James Cassidy has a fine boy baby at his house.

South Scriba.

There was a Good Templar Lodge organized at Mount Pleasant last Friday night with 31 charter members. M. C. Graves was elected W. C. T.

News was received here Wednesday of the death of Rev. J. A. Cosgrove, which occurred near Rochester, Friday, April 2d, of rheumatism of the heart. Mr. Cosgrove was a nephew of Mrs. J. J. Peck, and was for three years pastor of Mount Pleasant church, and was well and favorably known throughout this county. The remains were taken to Haverstraw, N. Y., his former home for interment.

Married, at the parsonage of Mount Pleasant M. E. church, April 4, 1886, by Rev. C. E. Miller, pastor, Mr. Herbert McDougal and Miss Lillie Lauton, both of South Scriba.

Mr. W. H. Eggleston of Mt. Pleasant has been appointed administrator and is settling up the estate of the late Loren Clarke.

Parish.

The Parish Manufacturing company is organized and the job let to erect the building. The contractor is J. H Miller of our place, he being the lowest bidder. The contract to erect the building is let at $6,800 and is to be built of brick, and be ready by the middle of July next. This will be the first type writer factory in Oswego county.

A. N. Ludington of this place, formerly of Fulton is very low caused by bleeding at the nose. [illegible]

[illegible] Washington, April 8, 1886.

The people of the Capital have had another fright about the Washington Monument. A rumor spread like wildfire that the noble structure was cracking and was doomed. It stands between the Potomac river and Babcock lake, and the recent heavy rains which have saturated its foundations and raised the surrounding waters naturally gave credence to this report. At different points in the city, crowds of people were scrutinizing the Monument through opera glasses. What appeared to be the largest fissure, or a gaping crack, was about fifteen feet below the 500 foot level. The sensation soon subsided, however. The dark streaks on the White marble were not cracks a all. They were only stains at certain vertical and horizontal joints caused by neglect of the cleaning process on the part of the workmen in their haste to complete the structure.

The interior of the Monument is now practically completed. The iron stairway leading to the summit is to have ten elevator stages, each of which run out to the elevator shaft at every fifty feet of the ascent.

Upon the completion of this stairway it was intended to afforded the public every facility for seeing the monument by issuing passes, and providing those who wished to climb to the top with a lantern. But as there are no provisions for keeping a watchman on hand, every opportunity would be given to vandals and relic hunters to deface the structure, either by tampering with the memorial stones or by writing their names upon the walls. Whenever Congress provides custody for the Monument, and makes an appropriation for running the elevator, it will be open to the public and visitors may roam up and down it at will.

All the gossip about a new Secretary of the Treasury will have to subside for a time. The President holds to the belief that his favorite advisor will fully recover despite the doctor's opinion that Mr. Manning will never be able to assist again at the Cabinet councils. The President does not expect the sick Secretary will again be able to devote himself so exclusively to business as he has in the past, but he thinks the burden of Mr. Mannin's work can be lightened by shifting it on others. At any rate the President will not even consider the subject of a new Secretary until Mr. Manning indicates to him what he would like to have done, and the latter may name his own successor.

The Library bill appropriates $500,000 to commence the construction of a building for the library of Congress, on a site directly east of the Capital. It creates a commission consisting of the Secretary of Interior, the Architect of the Capitol, and the Libraian of Congress, who shall be authorized to make the contracts, and it further appropriates a sum of not over $550,000 for the purchase of the land.

The bill to enlarge the White House has been reported favorably to the senate, and is expected to pass that body by a unanimous vote. The popularity of the measure is explained by the fact that nearly every Senator has an eye of faith on the old mansion as futura place of residence for himself.

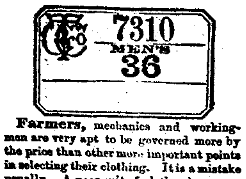
The Chaplain of the House whose morning prayers were creating so much sensation a foright ago, and who has been praying quite conservatively since, has made another invocation in which he gave a deplorable picture of the times. He stated that the masses of men were drifting further and further from the churches, educated men were asking "Is life worth living?" and men in the market places were teaching doctrines of despair, pessimism, agnosticism and atheism; scarcely a day passed but brought to light some new evil to crimson the face of the patriot, After itemizing a long list of the worst transgressions he closed by saying that divine charity took the form a machine and was administered by proxy, and that our boasted civilization was stained with blots as black as death.

Apropos of the subject, although it is believed throught the country that this is the most demoralized city in the land, there is a great deal of Christian work done here in Washington. It goes on silently in many homes, but it goes on constantly and it fills the churches on Sunday with audiences of such size as are found in few places in the world.

Made Short Work of It.

OFFICE OF DAYTON Journal, DAYTON, O., Nov. 11, 1885.—In April, of 1883, after doctoring for four months, for kidney trouble, began taking Warner's safe cure. In one week, I was relieved of a stone as large as a peanut, followed by sediment that indicated dissolution of the stone.—W. H. ROUZER, foreman of job-room.

Mrs. Grant has sent a certified check for $25,000 to Mrs. Virginia Corbin, the General's sister, who invested that amount with Grant & Ward.



Farmers, mechanics and workingmen are very apt to be governed more by the price than other more important points in selecting their clothing. It is a mistake usually. A poor suit of clothes is expensive at any price. The best is always the cheapest, though not necessarily the highest priced. The "T, C. & Co." clothing is made for service. It fits perfectly, is custom finished, and costs no more than the "baggy" stuff offered.

The above represents the ticket that will be found on all the "T, C. & Co." Clothing. Buy it for yourself and boys, and you will make no mistake.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK, Fulton.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT, an elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, produc[illegible]

[illegible] of Aspinal, Cont[illegible] Co., died at his residence in New York, last week.

Moses Summers post, G. A. R., of Baldwinsville, will present the military drama, "The Blue and the Grey," at Howard Opera House in that village on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. The proceeds will go towards increasing the relief fund of the post.

A farmer of Ithaca had to defer the completion of some important legal papers the other day because after trying for twenty minutes to recollect the full name of his wife, he failed to do so.

A small row boat, in which Richard Robson, John Hummel and Andrew Hill, two aged 14 and one aged 15 years, was out on Monro's pond at Albany, Sunday and capsized. Robson and Hummel were drowned. Hill saved his life by swimming ashore.

The wife of Rev. R. T. Smith of Le Roy committed suicide by throwing herself into a cistern last Sunday. Sickness and despondency were the probable causes.

Ellis Fagh, aged 21 and Earnest Hooker, aged 20 were drowned in the Mohawk river four miles west from Schenectady last Sunday morning. They were working some finishing lines and nets when their boats upset.

Miss Lizzie Louth a young and estimable lady of sixteen summers living at Farmer's Village near Ithaca, committed suicide last Friday by hanging herself to an apple tree.

GENERAL NEWS.

About 200 Mormon converts will sail from Liverpool to Utah on the 17th inst. Two other bands of pilgrims are expected to sail from England on May 22d and June 26.

The Bible used in administering the oath to Jefferson Davis as President of the Confederate States is still used in swearing in the Governors of Alabama at Montgomery.

Miss Nina Moulton of New York was on last Wednesday married to Baron von Raaben, who is said to be the richest nobleman in Denmark.

Washington is building the largest sewer in the world. It is to be twenty feet in height for a distance of nearly a mile, and it is to cost over $700,000. In its smallest part it will be larger than he great sewer of Paris.

Sir Thaddeus Fairbanks, inventor of the world-famous Fairbanks scales, died Monday at St Johnsbury Vt. He was knighted by the Emperor of Austria during the Vienna Exposition of 1873.

John Humphrey Noyes, the founder of the Oneida Community, died yesterday in Niagara Falls, where he has been living for some years with his wife, a sister and a few devotees.

Deputy Sheriffs in East St. Louis on last Friday, fired into two groups of people, killing or fatally wounding six men and one woman. Many of the strikers after the tradegy procured arms and it nearly resulted in a great riot.

A terrible accident occurred on the Fitchburg railroad last Wednesday evening near Deerfield, Massachusetts. The train left the track and plunged down 200 feet into the Deerfield river. Ten persons were killed and thirty injured. The escape of the rest was simply miraculous.

The Days of the Holy Week.

The last week of Lent is called Holy Week and in it is commemorated the Passsion, i. e. Sufferings and Death of the Saviour. The following gives the order of the events which culminated in His Death on Calvary:

PALM SUNDAY.—The Lord Jesus weeps over Jerusalem; Rides into the city in triumph, heals many sick people. (S. Matt. xxi 1—17.)

MONDAY.—Jesus curses the barren fig-tree; drives the buyers and sellers out of the Temple. The Chief Priests and Scribes take council against Him. (S. Mark xi. 12—19.)

TUESDAY.—Jesus teaches in the Temple; answers the questions of His enemies; Speaks many parables; denounces woe on the Scribes and Pharisees; S. Mark xi. 20—27; xii. 1—41.) Foretells the destruction of Jerusalem. (S. Matt. xxiv. 25.)

WEDNESDAY.—Jesus foretells His betrayal, The Chief Priests agree with Judas for thirty pieces of silver. (S. Luke xxi. 1—6.)

MAUNDY-THURSDAY.—The Last Supper. Jesus washes the disciples' feet; Gives the sop to Judas, and warns Peter. He institutes the Sacrement of the Holy Communion. (S. Matt. xxvi. 17—28.) He comforts the Disciples, promising the Holy Ghost. He prays to His father. (S. John xiv.—xvii.) In the Garden of Gethsemane. He is in an agony; His bloody sweat. Judas betrays Him with a kiss. He is taken; forsaken by all the Disciples; led before the High Priest; denied by Peter; condemned to death. (S. Matt. xxvi. 48—66.

GOOD FRIDAY.—Jesus is brought before Pilate and examined; sent to Herod, mocked, and sent back to Pilate; Barabbas is preferred before him. The scourging; the Purple Robe; the Crown of Thorns; the Reed; the Spitting, Smiting and Mockery. He is given over to Death, and led to Crucifixion bearing the Cross. S. Matt. xxvi. 1—34.)

Jesus is crucified between two thieves. The soldiers part His garments and cast lots. He is reviled. The penitent thief. The Seven Sayings on the Cross. They give Him vinegar and gall. Jesus dies. The sun is darkened. The veil of the temple is rent in twain. The graves are opened. His side is pierced. Blood and water flow from it. (S. Luke xxiii. 33—49 S. John xix. 31.)

Joseph and Nicodemus take His body from the cross and lay it in a new tomb. (S. Matt. xxviii. 57—60.)

SATURDAY.—Easter Eve.—The Rest of the Sabbath Day. The guard of soldiers. The Lord's body lies in the sepulchre; His spirit is with the departed. (S. Luke xviii. 50—56. 1 Peter iii. 18—19.)

SUNDAY.—Easter Day.—The Lord is risen. Mary Magdaline finds the Sepulchre empty. Peter and John run to the sepulchre. Two angels are seen. (S. Luke xxiv. 1—10.) Jesus is seen by Mary. He calls her by her name. He shows Himself to the holy women. (S. John xx. 11—17.) He makes himself known to the two disciples at Emmaus in breaking of bread. S. Luke xxiii. 13—35.) He appears to the ten disciples at Jerusalem; gives them His peace, and power to forgive sins. He eats before them. (S. John xx. 19—23; S. Luke [illegible]

[illegible]

Rochester, March 18, 1886.

Pardee Medicine Co.

I desire to express to you something of my feelings of gratitude for what your remedy has done for me and my family. For three years I have suffered everything but death, with rheumatism in its worst and most dangerous form, as it affected the heart at times, to that extent, that my life was despared of by my friends, but to me death would have been a happy relief. I have spent thousands of dollars in doctoring, and different kinds of treatment and in experiments at different watering places, none of which afforded me even temporary relief.

I gave up all hope of ever being cured, when a friend urged me to try Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, referring me to some well known and reliable parties who had been cured or greatly benefitted by its use.

I reluctantly tried it, and after using three bottles I could see a vast improvement in my feelings, and the pain was much less severe, and at much longer intervals.

My daughter was in very poor health, she had no strength, no color in her face; she did not look as though she could live a month. The used your remedy and to-day she is as well as ever. We can truthfully and conscientiously say that Dr. Pardee's Remedy is one of the best medicines ever compounded and that I know it will do all you claim for it.

I am very truly yours,
FRANCIS T. DOWNING.
Contractor and Builder, 385, Brown St.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—This is to certify that I was suffering with Inflammatory Rheumatism of the worst type. Hearing of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, I purchased it and was completely cured by its use, and can now recommend it to those similarly afflicted, having the utmost confidence in its efficacy.

NICAOLAS HAMMEL,
No 37 Fulton Avenue.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy and take no other.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Board of Trusees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., April 7, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, President Sharp and Trustees Bradford, Chase, Johnson, Kendrick, More and Pardee.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The clerk reported that all the officers elected at the last charter election had duly taken and filed the oath of office, and that the Treasurer had given a bond which had been duly approved of by the President.

On motion of Mr. Johnson, Messrs. Kendrick, Pardee and Chase were appointed a committee to settle with the late Treasurer of the Village.

Trustee Johnson offered the following resolution which was duly adopted.

Resolved, That the Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton respectfully request His Excellency, David B. Hill, Governor of the State of New York, to sign the bill legalizing the acts of the Fulton and Oswego Falls street Railway Company, passed April 6, 1886, by the Legislature and that the clerk be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution immediately.

The following bills were reported from the finance committee, and on motion of Mr. Johnson the same were audited at the amounts claimed, viz:

J. Cavanaugh, lamp lighting,	38.67
J. J. Stephens, rent of court room and hall.	33.00
J. A. McKay, Clerk Charter Election,	2.00
P. Roderick, Special Police,	2.00

On motion of Mr. Johnson, the bill of S. C. North for gas for street lamps at $3 per 1,000 feet was audited at the amount claimed, vis: $32.40.

On motion of Mr. Pardee, the President and Trustee Kendrick were appointed a committee to interview the proprietors of the village papers and ascertain for what price they would publish the proceedings of the board and the printing for the Board of Health for the ensuing year.

On motion of Mr, Pardee the office of policeman No, 1 was declared vacant.

On motion of Mr. More, Thomas Nelligan was appointed Policeman No. 1.

On motion of Mr. Pardee the office of Policeman No. 2 be declared vacant, and on motion of Mr. More E. A. Jones was appointed Policeman No. 2.

On motion of Mr. More the offices of Policemen Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 were declared vacant.

On motion of Mr, Johnson Charles Wilkinson was appointed Policeman No. 3.

Mr. Bradford moved that H. J. Miller be appointed Policeman No. 4, which was lost.

Mr. Kendrick moved that Willard Curtis be appointed Policeman No. 4, which was lost.

On motion of Mr. Pardee the farther appointment of Policemen was postponed to the next meeting of the Board.

On motion, Oscar Hannis, Joseph LaLonde and M. F. Crahan were appointed members of the Board of Health for the ensuing year.

Mr. Pardee moved that Morris C. Highriter be appointed Clerk.

Mr. Bradford moved as an amendment tha Arvin Rice be appointed clerk.

The amendment was lost and the original motion was carried.

The clerk elect then took the official oath and the position of Clerk.

On motion of Trustee Johnson, Wm. C. Stephens was appointed attorney for the Board.

On motion the Board proceeded to an informal ballot for Street Commissioner, resulting as follows, viz: Whole number 6. Jas. Barnes, 3; Frederick Sharp, 2 and P. W. Hyde, 1.

The Board then proceeded to a formal ballot Frederick Sharp being declared elected.

An informal ballot was then taken for jailor, Result, J. C. Dresser, 3; Patrick Cullen, 2; D. T. Morfa, 1.

A formal ballot was then taken, resulting in the choice of John C. Dresser.

On motion the bond of the Street Commissioner was fixed at $3,000.

On motion the Street Commissioner be required to furnish vouchers by the men employed and for each seperate bill of material furnished.

On motion the Beard adjourned to Wednesday evening next at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

SNOW AND LOOMIS,
No 7 First Street,
FULTON, N. Y.

HARDWARE DEALERS,

——Have a New and Complete Line of——

STOVES AND RANGES.

——THE——

WORLDS' JEWEL

IS THE FINEST STOVE MADE.

[illegible] to Suit all Purchasers.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

We are prepared to offer extraordinary Inducements. We have by far the largest stock we ever carried. By a visit to our stores you will be convinced that we will sell you cheaper than any small concern can buy the same at wholesale. In our

C-L-O-T-H-I-N-G

BOYS' DEPARTMENT

We have made special effort to make it so attractive in new designs and varieties and at such price that we believe will merit the attention of every mother. Call and be convinced that you can save money by buying your clothing and dry goods at

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

H.&A. ROSENBLOOM

Invite inspection to by far the most complete assortment of New and Choice designs in

DRESS FABRICS, ROBES,

in all the Leading Spring and Summer shades, Boucle and Jersey cloth

Jackets, Wraps, Cashmere Shawls,

in all shades. Our line of

Fringes, Hosiery, Embroideries,

And white goods are unsurpassed. It would be useless to mention all the novelties we have to show this season. When you visit our stores goods will be shown pleasantly and prices given cheerfully.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.

HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES!

Over 2,000 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free.

A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Philada.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS

—IN—

Drugs, Patent Medicines,

—AND—

DYE STUFFS

—AT—

R. E. PHILLIPS'

Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

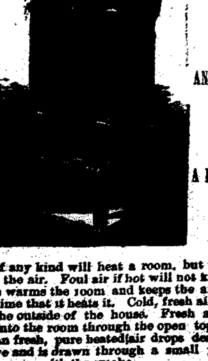
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.



A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N Y

F. G. [illegible], President.
E. R. [illegible], Vice-President.
A. [illegible], Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. [illegible], Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

FULTON 'BUS

The Fulton Omnibus will leave the Lewis House [illegible] station on the Oswego & Syracuse Railroad by the following time table:

	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
For Syracuse	8:15	11:00	3:40	[illegible]	7:30
For Oswego	7:05	9:45	2:40	5:20	7:05

Tickets to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents on sale on the Omnibus.

LEONARD & WILSON, Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:37 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:22 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	4:02 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	7:28 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	7:29 a. m.
Day Express	9:06 a. m.
Day Express	3:08 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:10 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:23 p. m.

The 9:06 a. m., 7:29 a. m., and 7:23 p. m. trains will run Sundays. There will also be a special Sunday train for Syracuse, leaving Fulton station at 6:23 p. m.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

W. K. NIVER, Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:50 a. m
Norwich Express	3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express	10:58 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	6:08 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:24	11:54	5:24
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

FRED B. HIGHRITER - Local Editor

PERSONAL.

Mrs. E. T. Blanchard of Oswego was in town Saturday visiting friends.

Miss Ella Poole was in Oswego last week, the guest of Miss Annie Goit.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrison, and Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, spent Sunday in town.

Mrs. S. S. Striker, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Kendall, returned yesterday to her home in Utica.

Miss Anna Foster, who has been visiting Miss Mary Johnson for some time returned Monday to her home in Canandaigua.

See the new spring styles in shoes and slippers at Collins'.

COUNTY NEWS.

The Astor house at Minetto has been refitted and repainted.

Friday, a party who were out rowing on the river at Minetto had a narrow escape from going over the river dam.

Judge N. W. Nutting, it is said will deliver the Memorial Day address at Wolcot, May 30.

It is stated that upwards of $800 have been subscribed by the people of Hannibal Center and vicinity towards replacing the Rogers' mill recently destroyed by fire.

E. F. Newell, collector of Oswego Town, was assaulted with a club by a man named Murphy last Thursday. Murphy was arrested. Verily, a collector's life is not a happy one.

At the annual meeting of the Sandy Creek Wood Manufacturing Company the secretary reported that the company had done about $20,000 worth of business during the past year.

The question of building a depot on the R. W. & O. railroad between Fulton and Phœnix is being agitated by parties interested with fair prospects of success.

Rev. W. H. York of Syracuse, lectures to-morrow evening at the M. E. church in Phœnix, subject,—"Young America."

Thomas Manning, aged 69 years died suddenly at Hannibal last Thursday evening. He had lived in that town for fifty years and was much respected.

NOTICE.

The Hadcock--Bibbens stock of Books, Stationery, Fancy Goods, etc., is being closed out by W. P. Osborne and he offers some rare bargains.

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it.

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, Lead, Lime, Alabastine, &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. WILLIAMS' Drug Store.

The undersigned has a quantity of lumber, lath, shingles, pickets, eave troughs &c., recently bought at sheriff's sale, which will be sold out very cheap, enquire at the Planing mill of

48tf R. B. McCULLY

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCULLY.

A lot of Books, and stationery from Hadcock's stock, which will be sold very cheap at Blount's auction rooms.

[illegible] adversely on Mr. Tappan's bill to set off Frenchman's and Lotus islands in Oneida Lake, together with 5,841.8 acres of water from the town of Constantia, Oswego county, to the town of Cicero, Onondaga county. The purport and meaning of the bill were fully set forth in a recent Albany letter to the Herald. The fate the bill has met was foreshadowed when by a vote of the house on the motion of Mr. Ainsworth of Oswego it was sent to the judiciary committee, instead of to the committee on civil divisions where it naturally belonged. It was, in fact, dropped right into the clutches of the enemy, for Mr. Assemblyman Howe, of Oswego, is an influential member of the judiciary committee. While he is not a member from the Constantia district, he would be expected to stand between his colleague, Mr. Ainsworth, and all harm to the latter's district. It is suspected that the modest Ainsworth was not wholly without guile when he made the motion to send the bill to his friend and colleague's committee. The rape of the islands by the aggressive Mr. Tappan has been headed off and the flag of Oswego will still float over them. The hearing today developed the fact that there are about six voters on the islands permanently or temporarily. Mr. Tappan presented the grievance of the islanders in a speech which would have carried conviction if it had not been addressed to a committee one member of whom was an interested party against the bill.

He showed that all the interests of the islanders—their schools, voting places, the preservation of order and the protection from piratical craft on the lake—would all be best subserved if they were under the jurisdiction of Onondaga county. It was no use. The persuasive Ainsworth replied to the Onondaga brave setting forth the bad precedent that would be established if these six voters should be taken from his district and landed with one sweep of the legislative fish pole over on the Onondaga shore. The committee showed unanimous courtesy to their fellow committee man Howe and voted to report adversely on the bill.—[Syracuse Herald.

The Bee Hive Opening.

Last Thursday, Friday and Saturday occurred the Spring opening at the Bee Hive. The store was filled from floor to ceiling with an elegant and elaborate display of dress goods of infinite variety, laces, silks, satins, velvets, etc., and were artistically arranged showing them off to perfection. The display of children's and ladies robes, kid gloves of every conceivable shade, handkerchiefs, collars, collarettes, cuffs, buttons in endless variety, from the the size of a pin-head to a door-knob, and white and colored Hamburgs, was elaborate enough to suit the most fastidious. A noticeable feature of the fine display was "the bride," a form arranged entirely in white lace raiment, the the scientific name of which the reporter was woefully ignorant of. The line of parasols was large and varied, a new one the "Mikado," being shown. The stock of carpets and rugs, in both Ingrain and Brussels was very complete. We can, owing to our limited space give but a very faint idea of the beautiful goods shown by Bennett & Stewart in their opening. The store each day was crowded with visitors and the many exclamations of approval and delight plainly showed that the efforts of the proprietors were fully appreciated.

Another Accident.

As the 4:30 p. m. freight train on the Syracuse, Phœnix & Oswego railroad reached a point a short distance south of Broadway last Thursday afternoon, the west rail settled, throwing two loaded freight cars down the embankment, where they laid on their side. The forward truck of the next car was thrown from the track. The passenger trains in both directions were delayed and the passengers were transferred. A wrecking train from Oswego arrived at the scene and a large force of men cleared away the wreck and repaired the track. This is the second accident on the new road within a week.

O'Brien has moved his Dry Goods store into the Lewis House Block.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Crackers, four pounds for 25 cents, at the Vienna Bakery on First street. 36tf

Go to Bristol's for Musical Instruments of all kinds.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

--SPRING OPENING--

—AT—

THE BOSTON BAZAAR

Next Week

Friday and Saturday,

April 23d and 24th,

Our stock of goods in the different lines we carry was never so complete as at the present time, consequently the display will be one of the finest ever made by the Boston Bazaar. Everything new in spring Hosiery, Laces, Beautiful Ribbons, Kid, Silk and Lisle gloves in all the new shades, Rouchings, Lace Collars, Buttons, Towels and all the novelties that belong to fancy Dry Goods. This is the the time of year when picture framing is in great demand. Get our prices you will find them the Lowest.

Be sure and come to the Boston Bazaar Opening

Yours for bargains

A Full Line of John Kelley Kid Button Shoes, for Ladies, at NETTLETON'S.

OBITUARY.

John C. Gillespie, and old and much respected resident of this town, died yesterday at his home about a mile east of this village, aged 75 years and 5 months. Mr. Gillespie has been in poor health for the past two years, being confined to the house during the past winter. He has been connected with the Presbyterian church during his residence here, about 20 years, and was honored and respected by all who knew him. For the past ten years Mr. Gillespie has held the position of a director in the Citizen's National Bank. A meeting of the directors has been held and resolutions of respect passed.

He leaves a widow and three children, all of the latter being married. Funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock from the house, Rev. C. M. Smith officiating. Interment will be made in Mt. Adnah.

Mrs. Rachel A. Woodson, one of the oldest and most respected residents of this village, died at her home last Saturday, aged 65 years and 10 months. Mrs. Woodson has been a resident of Fulton about 40 years and for 25 years has been a faithful and earnest member of the M. E. church. By her conscientious, upright life she won the respect and confidence of all who knew her and left many friends to mourn her loss. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the house, Rev. W. F. Markham officiating.

Last Wednesday evening, Mrs. Emoline Coats, widow of the late H. H. Coats, died at her home in this village, aged 71 years. For many years Mrs. Coats has been a helpless invalid, for the last 13 years having suffered from paralysis. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the house, Rev. H. B. Goodyear officiating.

As We Feared.

In our summary of the future representatives of our Union, who are now making the homes of their parents happy in the vicinity of the park, we omitted to mention Rev. Mr. Breaker's two year old son. Our humble apologies to Master Breaker together with the assertion that now "We've got him on the Last."

AN UNNATURAL shortness of breath, with unusual disposition to pleurisy and bronchial affection, indicate that the bloon is full of uric acid poison, which can be removed through the kidneys by means of Warner's safe cure.

Special Bargains in Cottons, Ginghams, Calicos and Dress Goods this week at O'Brien's New Store, Lewis House Block.

We have just received a large invoice of Ladies' Dongola Kid Button shoes in C. D and E widths common sense last also the largest, cheapest and best variety of Gents' shoes ever offered to the citizens of this place. Call and see them at the Salmon Shoe store. 48w2

Ladies' friend carpet sweeper for sale at N. R. Cole's, Oneida street.

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

FOR SALE—The iron fence in front of J. W. Pratt's residence on First street. Enquire on the premises.

AT O'BRIEN'S.

New Silk Warp Henrietta.
New Jersey Cords,
New Black Cashmeres,
New Shawls,
New Hosiery,
New Sateens,
New Fringes,
New Gloves,
At very low prices at O'Briens.
Lewis House Block.

Notice of Dissolution.

The milling firm heretofore existing under the name of Patterson & Smith has been dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the late firm should be settled with C. O. Smith.

W. D. PATTERSON,
C. O. SMITH.

Fulton, N. Y., April 14th, 1886 3t

If you want to dye easy and happy buy your dye stuffs at R. E. Phillips Drug Store. He always keeps the best quality and all you have to do is to weigh your goods—he can give you the desired amount of Dye Stuffs to color any given quantity, as he has had over twenty-five years experience in selling dyestuffs—and his prices are below all competition. 48w4

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

F. K. Jones sells violin strings for a nickel each.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. GRAFF & CO.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

For door and window frames, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters etc., wholesale or retail, go to McCULLY's planing mill, Fulton, N.Y.

The finest line of confectionery ever shown in Fulton has been received by John Barker at the Vienna bakery. A full line of bread, cake and other bakestuffs fresh every day. 28tf

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Try Red Cross Cough Syrup [illegible]

Northern New York Conference.

The fourteenth annual session of the Northern New York M. E. conference commenced yesterday in the M. E. church. The gathering is a notable one as many of the oldest and ablest ministers in the church are present. The church has been handsomely trimmed with flowers and presents a very fine appearance. Below we give the program of the conference:

PROGRAMME.

TUESDAY, APRIL 13th, at 7 p. m.

Admission on Trial, ……… In Gallery
First Year, ……… In Auditorium
Second Year, …. Right-hand Class Room
Third Year, …… Left-hand Class Room
Fourth Year, …… Room over Vestibule
Local Deacon's Orders, Presby'an Church
Local Elder's Orders, " "

WEDNESDAY APRIL 14th.

7:30 P. M. Clerical Life Ins'ance Meeting

THURSDAY, APRIL 15th.

9:00 A. M. ……… Opening Session
2:00 P. M. ……… Statistical Session
3:00 " Clerical Life Ins'ance Meeting
7:30 " Freeman's Aid Anniversary.—Speakers: Rev. J. C. Hartzell, D. D. Rev. W. M. Holbrook, Rev. S. T. Dibble.

FRIDAY, APRIL 16th.

8:30 A. M. Devot'nal and Business Session
5:30 P. M. Conference Sermon by Rev. M. D. Kinney.
7:30 P. M. Educational Anniversary—Speakers: C. N. Sims, D. D. of Syracuse University, Rev. W. R. Cobb, and Rev. W. D. Marsh.

SATURDAY, APRIL 17th.

8:30 A. M. Devo'nal and Business Sermon
2:30 P. M. Missionary Sermon by Rev. J. E. Ensign, Principal Ives Seminary.
7:30 P. M. Church extension Anniversary—Speakers: Wm. A. Spencer, D. D. Assistant Corresponding Secretary: Rev. W. F. Brown and Rev. C. W. McCormick.

SUNDAY APRIL 18th.

9:00 A. M. Conference Love Feast led by Rev. Samuel Call.
10:30 A. M. Ordination of Deacons followed by Sermon by Bishop Merrill.
2:30 P. M. Ordination of Elders followed by preaching.
7:00 P. M. Missionary Anniversary.—Chaplain C. C. McCabe, D. D.; Rev. J. L. Humphy and Rev. B. DeF. Snyder.

Monday, APRIL 19th.

8:30 A. M. Devoti'nal and Business Session
3:00 P. M. Woman's Foreign Missionary Society Anniversary.

TUESDAY, APRIL 20th.

8:30 A. M. Devotn'al and Business Session.

Bacon's Spring Opening.

Last Thursday was a red-letter day for the female sex in Fulton. F. E. Bacon's spring opening occurred that day, and the crowds that thronged through the spacious stores, feasting their eyes on the beautiful goods so artistically displayed, while the sounds of music and the singing of birds fell upon the ear, gave ample evidence that the opening was a perfect success. The windows were marvels of beauty both in the goods displayed and the perfect taste shown in arranging them, and all day long they attracted universal attention. The interiors of the stores were simply indescribable. Everything, from the most elaborate and beautiful trimming for the head gear of the fair sex to the less pretentious ornaments, and from the richest velvets, silks and satins, to the plainer dress goods, being arranged with exquisite taste and skill. An important feature of the opening was the marking of all goods in plain figures with the price. From cursory examination of the display, it would seem as if no finer stock of goods has ever been shown in Fulton than can be found at Bacon's and those who failed to attend his "opening day" missed a rare treat.

An Absconding Treasurer.

The Thespian Opera Company, of New played the "Mikado" last week Monday in Stephens Opera House to a fair audience. After the opera was over, it was found the treasruer W. J. Donnelly, had absconded with the funds of the company, about $200, and the baggage of one of the troupe, leaving the company entirely without means. Tuesday they went to Baldwinsville and on Wednesday returned to Fulton and played to a house the receipts of which were $8.40. Under these circumstances the only thing for the company to do was to break up, which it did, some of them going to Syracuse, and the others to Oswego. In the latter place a benefit was tendered them by Manager Pierce, of the Academy of Music. The company was assisted by local talent and from the receipts of their entertainment they were enabled to get, to their homes in New York. It is thought shat the absconding treasurer is in that city, and it is hoped he that he will get his deserts.

An Ex-Lt. Governor's Successful Risk.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan 1st, 1884.—Three years ago I felt tired and worn out. Had nausea, occasional retchings, sense of weight and fullness in the lower part of the body. Feverish, hot and chilled. Seemed to be giving out. Unable to obtain relief. Determined to take my case in my own hands. Used Warner's safe cure. Am completely restored to health. Nothing like it for diseases incident to declining years.—T. G. ALVORD, Ex-State Lieut-Gov.

WANTED.—A situation in a small family to do general housework. Enquire of Mrs. Sullivan, on Oneida street between 5th and 6th.

Look at the size of Red Cross Cough Syrup bottle at Williams. 39m3

Perfect fitting, durable, stylish—the "T. G. & Co." clothing. See advertisement.

Buy Crane's stationery at W. P. Osborne's.

Mrs. A. Kniblo is recovering from a severe illness.

The spring term of the No. 1 school began last Monday.

O'Brien has moved his Dry Goods store into the Lewis House Block.

O'Brien has moved his Dry Goods store into the Lewis House Block.

William Dexter has assumed charge of the Thayer bakery on Oneida street.

Dr. N. F. Hall has opened an office over C. R. Nichol's jewelry store on First street.

Gents French calf and Kangaroo hand sewed shoes all styles and widths at Collins'.

A new sewer is being laid under the barber shop in the basement of the Lewis House.

You will find something that will interest you in the lower right hand corner of this page.

Street Commissioner Sharp is doing a much-needed work in cleaning up the streets. A force of men were put on Monday.

C. C. Marchant, who has been confined to the house by illness for several months, was down town last week for the first time.

A large pulley was broken at the Oswego Falls factory yesterday, which has necessitated the closing of two rooms for a few days.

H. & A. Rosenbloom, the clothiers, are doing an extensive spring trade. They offer goods in their line cheaper than small establishments can purchase the same at wholesale. See advertisement elsewhere.

S. C. North, who has had charge of the gas works in this place for some time has sold out to the company and has retired from the management. Mr. North contemplates remaining in town, and making a speciality of the plumbing business.

Dr I. C. Curtis, anticipated taking a sea voyage for a few weeks, but has deferred the same to some future time by reason of professional engagements and inability to secure suitable accomodations on board of a sailing vessel at the present time.

Foss Peters formerly of this village, now of Syracuse and C. S. Boyde of Ithaca were the principals in a disgraceful slugging match, for $50 a side, last Monday evening in Cortland. Four rounds were fought and the match was declared in favor of Peters.

The delegates to the Fire Council met last Thursday evening for the purpose of nominating a chief engineer and two assistants, but were unable to agree upon a chief. F. W. Richardson was nominated for first assistant and C. W. Streeter for second. The council then adjourned until this evening.

A Fulton grocery firm decided last Saturday after mature deliberation, that in order to keep up with the times they must have an opening. So an elaborately lettered sign labelled "Our Opening" was fastened to a box in front of the store. On the top of the box laid a dozen or more large-wide-open clam shells. The opening was a success.

We publish on the first page of this issue extracts from a lecture delivered in Otley, England, recently, by Archibald Forbes, the famous war correspondent of the London Daily News. The lecture was published in the Wharfedale and Airedale (Eng.,) Observer for a copy of which we are under obligations to Nathan Hodgson of Yeadon. It is worthy of perusal.

Joseph Murphy plays "Kerry Gow," in Oswego next Friday evening at the Academy of Music. Manager Pierce announces that a special train will be run to Fulton and Phœnix immediately after the performance. Fare from Fulton to Oswego and return, 50 cents. A number of Fultonians will probably attend. Seats can be secured upon application to J. R. Pierce Oswego, N. Y., either by mail, telephone or telegraph.

Rev. J. Austin of Mexico one of the oldest members of the Conference, now in session in this village, is in attendance with a great assortment of religious works among which are to be found Wesley's sermons and those of the wonderful Rev. Sam. Jones published in pamphlet form. Mr. Austin can be found four doors west of the church in the store of Geo. Berzee on Oneida street. He is a preacher of fifty-six years standing and will be pleased to meet all who are in attendance at the conference.

"In Pace."

"Jim," a beautiful white cat that has been in the family of Mrs. H. G. Salmon for some 14 years, died Tuesday afternoon. He was an unusually intelligent and affectionate cat, and seemed to remember all with whom he had formed acquaintance. His friends were many. His answering fidelity to his mistress, was the crowning trait of his character. But age and its infirmities had impaired his usefulness, and what could he do but die. Re-qui-es-cat.

Chattel Mortgage Sale.

On Wednesday April 21, at ten o'clock the following articles will be sold at public auction on the premises of N. H. McCracken known as the Crandal place, near Spafford's mill pond in the town of Volney: One Frick Co. separator, complete; One team of horses; One double harness; One lumber wagon (nearly new); One Democrat wagon; One water tank. C. S. MURRAY, Mortgagee's Agent.

[illegible]

[illegible] have been rapidly displaced by stately [illegible] brick or [illegible] made from their [illegible] in the hands of [illegible] recall their existence. I was struck with this when I saw the demolition of Alexander Hamilton's old city residence in Jane street. One hundred years ago and at the beginning of the present century Jane street was the fashionable portion of the city. The Greenwich village that was thereabouts became the home of respectable burghers who chatted quietly to their neighbors from the little front porch. It was in Jane street that Hamilton lived when he went that pleasant morning to Wehawken to fight that fatal and disastrous duel with Aaron Burr; and it was from this house he was borne to his burial in Trinity church yard. Hamilton had a summer residence in the upper part of the island at what is now 180th street. It was called the Grange and there his widow lived for years afterward. This house is still standing.

A story is told that forty years after Hamilton's death, Burr met the widow on a steamboat, going from Albany to New York and he had the audacity to speak to her. It is said that Mrs. Hamilton drew herself away with queenly dignity and with look of insulted innocence and unutterable scorn exclaimed, "Sir, your very presence is a pollution." Burr is said to have quailed from the presence of the widow.

* *

Another chapter is added to the Aldermanic scandal in the matter of the Broadway franchise. The Grand Jury of Part II. of the General Sessions took occasion to indict some of the Aldermen. When the Recorder charged the new Grand Jury, he took occasion to remind them that the law was particularly forcible in regard to the punishment of the bribe giver and he laid great stress on this. Alderman Waite of whom I wrote last week was brought before the Grand Jury and now James Richmond, the president of the Broadway road is indicted. Richmond is a native of Little Falls, this state, and is reckoned a smart, slippery fellow. He has been an Assemblyman, but latterly has been a member of the third house. He knows to perfection how to manage the assemblymen whose vote is necessary, and so carefully and slyly is this done that he leaves no trace which will lead to the enforcement of the law's penalty. He came here comparatively poor and is now considered worth a million.

So the net is gradually being drawn in. Jaehne, Kirk, Pearson, Miller and Dempsey are indicted. Rothman and DeLacy have flown, while Kienan of Maloney the men who manipulated the boodle are outside the jurisdiction of the courts.

From present appearances I judge that a righteous punishment will be meted out to all the 18 Aldermen who on that beautiful morning in the month of August, 1884, assembled at 9 a. m., and passed the franchise over the Mayor's veto. The expression of public opinion is "Let no guilty man escape."

* *

The second trial, that of Gen. A. Shaler for bribery will occupy the attention of Judge Barrett during the coming week. Shaler is a native of this city, served with gallantry during the war and rose to the rank of Major-General. He entered the militia service of this state and has risen to the rank of Major-General in command of the New York city division. He was a member of the Armory Board for the purchase of the site and building of a new armory. It is claimed that through his intimate friend M. B. Wilson, acting as agent for the proposed site that a price was fixed above the owner's value and the difference was to go to Gen. Shaler. Last week Col. Bliss retired from the case as counsel for Shaler and an affecting scene took place in court, when Elihu Root was moving for a delay so as to obtain other counsel. Root referred to the gallant services of Shaler and spoke of the significance of the fact that a good man's reputation was in the balance. During the address, Shaler wept.

* *

Speaking of the courts reminds me of the fact that Judge Donohue of the Supreme Court is liable to impeachment or at least an effort is being made toward that end. Donohue has been on the bench a long time and has always been accommodating when it was consistant with his duty. Of course like all other public officials he has enemies. The present movement is headed by Crosby and Gen. Barlow. The latter becomes prominent in the matter to pay off some political grudge and has trumped up some little irregularity, making, as it were, a mountain out of a mole hill, while the former takes umbrage because Donohue has restrained the operations of excise law at the Madison Square Garden, on several occasions. Donohue has always been an honest, upright and learned judge. The present trouble has more the nature of a persecution than anything else.

* *

Pulitzer of the World has found that to be an editor of a great New York daily and a representative of the ninth district are impossible at the same time, so he has resigned the latter office. Pulitzer is a wonderful man. In three years he has raised the daily circulation from 60,000 to 200,000. In him the Herald has found a terrible rival. He seems to have a wonderful deal of tact and judgment. The raising of $100,000 for the Bartholdi statue was a wonderful piece of newspaper sagacity, for it tripled the circulation of the paper. When the Herald would not permit Joe Howard to sign the articles he furnished, Pulitzer secured him for the World staff permitting him to sign his articles, at a salary of $150 per week. The World in the hands of such a man is deserving of the success it has attained.

* *

The question of half holiday on Saturday is agitating the working men of the city, while the opening of our Park Museums on Sunday is filling the minds of the churchpeople with apprehensive dread of the desecration of the Sabbath. The latter question is the substance of a bill now before the legislature of the state and has passed one branch. I [illegible] tendance. I was told that 300 daily was about the average. At the Art Museum many of the pictures are loaned, the owners claim if they are exhibited on Sunday they will remove them. That this question could be solved by the adoption of the half holiday on Saturday seems apparent to the

WANDERER.

OLD BOYS

and young boys, big boys and small boys, fat boys and lean boys, any kind or condition of boys clothed and outfitted in a manner entirely satisfactory to fastidious mammas, and particularly papas, or to suit provident parents who want good goods for the smallest possible amount of cash.

Strictly One Price.

PEEBLES & COOK,

Opposite Opera House.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

I offer for rent the coming year my property situated on Fay street, in Fulton. There are about 10 acres of land, a fine fruit orchard, large barn &c. The house is new and elegantly finished. Will rent the house separately as a residence, or the entire property. Apply at once. GEO. J. EMENY.

TO RENT—My former residence on the Emory road, a few rods east of Seventh street, comprising house, barn and two acres of land, good well, cistern and fruit—apples, pears and grapes. For particulars enquire of J. M. Chesbro. W. W. HILL.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—A fine dairy farm of 130 acres in Granby about 5 miles from Fulton, and one mile from cheese factory, school, church and P. O. Farm well fenced, and watered, buildings in excellent repair and plenty of them. Will be sold on easy terms or will exchange for a smaller farm in Western New York.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y. C. W. STREETER.

MONEY LOANED on good bond and mortgage F. D. VANWAGENEN, JR.

Trunks and satchels. The largest and best assortment in the country at W. McCully's.

Red Cross Cough Syrup is a sure cure, Sold by Williams. 39m3

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Palermo.

Ira Marks is the new clerk at Trimble's store.

Plowing has already commenced among our farmers here.

Wm. Clark and wife of Syracuse have come to Palermo to live with her brother, F. C. Church.

The summer school at Palermo Center will commence on Monday next with Miss Mattie Sampson of Mexico as teacher.

Palermo's four young men who went West this spring report wages very low, only fifteen dollars a month for farm hands.

W. H. Loomis M. D., will leave town this week for Fulton. The doctor has made many friends while here and will leave a large practice.

Dr. Green who has bought the Dr. Loomis house is not a stranger here and will attend to the sick that were formerly attended to by Dr. Loomis.

Mrs. Louise Mills nee Getman who has been in town during the past winter, will return to her home in Illinois this week. It is said she will return here in June.

The cheese factory at Butterfly was burned on Friday night. It was owned by George Page of Palermo and he was to move into this week. It was insured.

Spring Wheat, choice for seed at Genesee mills.

49w4 W. S. NELSON.

LOST—A flat folding key. The finder will confer a favor by leaving the same at this office.

MILTON S. PRICE,

38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets.

THE MOST EXTENSIVE

DRY GOODS, CARPETS

—AND—

FURNITURE,

Establishment in the State,

Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.

COME AND SEE

the Finest and Most Complete Stock of

Dry Goods and Fancy Goods

ever shown in this section.

COME AND SEE.

THE IMMENSE STOCK OF

CARPETS, RUGS, OIL CLOTHS, Etc.

COME AND SEE

THE FINE DISPLAY OF

FURNITURE AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES

at prices far below competion,

FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

BARGAINS

NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.

REMEMBER

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical. HART BROS.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify. Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

This Will Interest You.

We can now show you the Largest and Finest stock of Spring Clothing ever offered in Fulton, and we shall continue as we have in the past year, to give you more and better Goods for the money than you will get elsewhere. This we guarantee, no matter what inducements may be offered by others to influence customers. We make a specialty of Fine suits for young men and can show a large line of them. All the Latest Styles of Hats and Caps. The Boys say we have the largest and finest assortment of neckwear in town.

One Price To All.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

D. C. MOORE & Co.

Opposite Lewis House.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Worth Knowing.

Rotten corncobs are said to be a valuable fertilizer.

Grow a crop of peas in the old orchard and let the pigs harvest it.

Give hogs a variety of food and they will grow faster than if kept on grain entirely.

Different breeds of sheep should not be kept together, as the same conditions are not equally suited to all.

When land is plowed very early in the spring the grass seeds often fail to sprout, especially on heavy soils, because of low temperature.

Eggs should be sold by weight. So long as they are not, inducements are lacking to lead those who produce for market to keep breeds that lay large ones.

When a young lamb becomes weak and debilitated, after nearly ready for weaning, it may be strengthened by giving it a feed twice a day with oatmeal gruel and warmed milk.

Now is the time to prepare the garden. Use plenty of well rotted manure, and work the soil to the finest possible condition.

Ploughing to different depths in successive years to prevent the formation of hard pan is a correct practice. It is already followed by our best orchard men and others engaged in field culture.

Use plenty of grass seed, in order to make an allowance for that which will be destroyed or eaten by birds and insects. A light harrowing will always prove beneficial upon newly seeded grass lands.

Boil a potful of potatoes daily for the growing chickens. Mash them and mix with sour milk, put into troughs and let the chicks eat when they want to. It will make them grow and keep them healthy.

If the soil is not in a proper condition for the reception of seed, failure to germinate will be the result. The most important matter is to render the seed bed fine, and any extra preparation in that respect will be greatly to the advantage of the young plants after they have started.

Bacon properly cured is much more digestible than pork, the smoke giving it certain properties not contained in uncured pork. It has no equal for army and navy use and in pioneering.

Here are two good ways of preserving eggs that are in vogue in England: Rub the eggs all over with clarified suet, or with a mixture of boiled olive oil and beeswax. Either way will preserve them.

Carlyle has said: "Our grand business is, not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand." This truth is eloquent in agriculture. The man who sees clearly what to do and does it is prosperous.

The shepherd should breed for size, weight of fleece, evenness of distribution over the body, for length of staple and fineness, for vigor, healthfulness and constitution, and as a result he will soon have a flock of large, thrifty sheep, which will yield him each season fleeces of the highest merit.

If a plow or other steel implement has become very rusty, make a mixture of half a pint of oil of vitriol poured slowly into a quart of water and apply to the rusted metal. Wash off with water, and scour in the usual manner. It is better, however, not to let any implement get rusty.

Laying Sod to Suit a Hog.

In the spring there is a class of mean farmers who turn their cattle into the road, that their pastures may get a better start. Their cows, leaving the highways, play the mischief with grassy lawns or shrubbery, and occasionally find their way into a garden, destroying everything above ground. When they leave, the industrious hog, who is let out for a little fresh spring food, completes the destruction of the horned brute. He has a nose for business. He detects the tender bulbs with his keen scent as surely as the setter does the quail. He never fails to bring up and devour anything that suits his taste, and he has an appetite that is never satisfied with what he unearths, and he is omnivorous in his habits. One old one, with her never-tiring followers, can destroy more sod, and tear up more gutters and plants in one day than the whole horde is worth.

A learned divine who had cultivated tastes and means to gratify them had, at great expense, tastefully graded and sodded a large yard in front of his beautiful home. The morning after the work had been completed he stepped out before breakfast to gratify his eye in beholding what the night before was a thing of beauty to all passers by. But, alas! to his horror, during that first night the neighbor's enterprising sow and family had been there and turned the nice sod into a disgusting mass. The D. D. did not utter cuss words. He folded his arms peacefully and remarked meekly: "Well, no man ever could lay sod to suit a hog."—[Ben. Perley Poore in American Cultivator.

Little Things.

The sum total of life, it has well been said, is made up of little things. The business man, farmer or housewife who has the cast of mind which enables them to grasp all the details of their calling, is apt to succeed. The farmer who cares for only the corn and wheat crop may be a success as a producer of grain, but grain producing is a small part of the business of farming. On the average farm there are the horses, cows, sheep and fowls, all of which need attention to secure their health, comfort and prosperity. The proceeds from the livestock of our farms amount to more than that derived from the sale of corn and wheat. The man who bolts his meals and is off to the field may have the name of being a hard worker. And indeed he is. For surely he makes his money by the hardest labor. While he is devoting his energy to the lesser he is unwisely [illegible] the greater. He uses his [illegible] more than he does his brains. [illegible] pointed he evidently [illegible] to the development of [illegible]

[illegible] horses have [illegible] though they are [illegible] well [illegible] yet it is difficult for them to eat enough hay to keep them in the best condition, because it is not so easily digestible and as nutritious as fresh young grass. They may look plump, and may even be fat, but fat gives no strength, and is wholly deceptive as to condition of health and strength. Hay is not a complete food, as it does not furnish the requisite proteine for the production of flesh and the restoration of the waste of nitrogenous matter from the system by every muscular movement. The majority of farmers and especially of lumbermen, freighters, and others, whose horses work hard, favor the use of corn and oats, or corn and rye finely ground, and fed without hay in only sufficient quantity to fill the stomach. The usual ration of the street car horses, whose work is the hardest and most tiresome of any, is five pounds of cut hay and eight pounds of mixed corn and oats ground given three times a day. The writer's practice has been to give the same ration of hay with four pounds of the mixed ground feed during the winter, and in the summer the same twice a day, with eight pounds of oats at noon.

Fred Douglass and His White Wife.

It goes without saying that Fred Douglass is interesting. His wife is also interesting, and the pair in private life are a study. I am stating facts, and have not the remotest intention of touching on the reasons or influences bringing about their marriage. That it is a happy union no one can doubt. There is no overdemonstration of affection, but it exists and is genuine. Mrs. Douglass's father has never been reconciled to her marriage, but her mother and sisters who were deeply grieved at the time, have recently visited her. Her uncle's family, who have resided here for some years, have not forgiven her, and held no intercourse with her in any way. It is said that when they go to Europe her father will come to Washington to visit his brother, but that while his daughter and her husband are here he will not come. Perhaps it is not strange that Douglass should have wished to marry this woman somewhat his equal intellectually. She is an attractive woman. On the other hand, Mrs. Douglass is very much in love with her husband. That she admires and is proud of him is plain to be seen. She is not a woman of impulses, but one of strong, sustained character, and so far from ever regretting the step which led her to marry Douglass, she is rather growing more happier and more satisfied, as she seems the more sure of her affection for him. Of course she could never have doubted his love for her. To a looker-on, Douglass's manner towards his wife has a tender deference that is a beautiful sentiment of unspoken devotion.

The Country's Growth.

The Cincinnati Sportsman has a curious complication of facts relating to the growth of this country:

Twenty-five years ago we were 30,000,000 of people; now we are nearly 60,000,000. Then we had 141 cities and towns of over 8,000 inhabitants, now we have 286 such cities and towns. Then the total population of our cities was 5,000,000, now it is about 12,000,000.

Our coal mines then produced 14,000,000 tons, now 86,000,000 tons, or six times as much.

The iron product amounted to 900,000 tons of ore; to-day it foots up over 8,000,000 tons a year, almost a nine fold increase.

In 1860 our metal industries employed about 53,000 hands, consumed $100,000,000 worth of material, and turned out about $80,000,000 in annual products. To-day these industries employ 300,000 hands, and consume $380,000,000 of material, their annual product amounts to $600,000,000 a year.

In 1860 the wool industries employed 130,000 persons; to-day they employ 340,000 while the value of their annual product has trebled.

The woolen industry employed 600 persons then, and now employs 160,000, while our home mills, which produced goods of the value of $80,000,000 in 1860, now turn out a nannual product of $270,000,000.

In 1860 we imported 220,000,000 yards of cotton goods; in 1881 we only imported 70,000,000 yards. In the meantime the number of hands employed in American cotton mills has increased to 200,000, and we expert nearly 150,000,000 yards of cotton a year instead of importing $220,000,000 yards as we used to do.

The total of our exports has doubled. In 1860 it stood at $400,000,000, and now it stands at about $900,000,000.

The Funny Man.

The humorist sat in his high arm chair, his boots were patched and his coat threadbare; his face was thin and his locks were gray, and his feeble life seemed passing away. "I have toiled and wrought in the summer heat, I have cracked my jokes in the winter sleet; I have hammered the far-drawn sickly pun, but now I think that my race is run; the chestnuts old, and the verses thin, I have disinterred and run them in, 'till the people sigh for a little rest, and I'll have to quit, for I've done my best." The humorist lost his long held place, and stood and stared in his face, when a bright thought flashed through his fertile brain, and his face was wreathed in smiles again. "I'll rattle along with my old dry bones, and go in halves with Samuel Jones." He cast to the dogs his well used pen, and and went to the work of rescuing men; he ceased to write his innocent lies, to write the glory of Paradise. His voice was cracked and his sermons stale, and he slings in slang till the world grows pale, but the people flock to his massive tent, and he beats them out of the last red cent.

Life Gets the Better of Death.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 18, 1885.—For eleven years I was a confirmed invalid, suffering all the agony a person could stand. Was several times pronounced dead. Two best physicians pronounced my trouble female complaints. Used Warner's safe cure. I passed a large stone. Am well to-day as when a girl. It was a miracle in my case.—MRS. J. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] N. Y., says: [illegible]

[illegible] For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTYRE, of [illegible] Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged [illegible], has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C Giesler.

Some idea of the hardships entailed by the people of Texas by the blockade of the railways during the recent strike, is shown in the fact that the first freight cars loaded to go into the commonwealth contained 610 kegs of lager beer.

Many persons have catarrh in its first stages who suppose themselves to be troubled with nothing more serious than a severe and stubborn cold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm gives instant relief from colds in the head, and a thorough treatment will cure catarrh. For sale by every druggist in the land. 48w4

Ten per cent of the present freshmen class at Cornell are girls, and Professor Jones, of that institution, is quoted as saying that the average scholarship of the young women is superior to that of the young men.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

There is an average of one voter to every four persons in the United States, while there is one voter to every seven persons in Great Brinin.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

In the United States every 200th man takes a college course; in England every 500th; in Scotland every 615th, and in Germany every 213th.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Miss Genevia Armstrong, one of the teachers of music in Elmira College, has invented a device for feeding and watering cattle while they are journeying in cattle cars.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane, almost invariably originating in the nasal passages and maintaining its stronghold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh in its worst stages, and gives immediate relief from cold in head. It contains no injurious drugs. Price fifty cents. 43w4

The Mormons expect to complete their great temple in about two years. Its cost will be about $3,000,000.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites In Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

DR. C. W. BARRINGER, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "I find Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is a very fine preparation, and fills a long felt want. It is very useful in consumption and wasting diseases." 45w

A western member of Congress is said to have won $40,000 at poker since the beginning of the present session.

AN ENTERPRISING, RELIABLE HOUSE.

R. E. Phillips can always be relied upon, not only to carry in stock the best of everything, but to secure the Agency tor such articles as have well-known merit, and are popular with the people, thereby sustaining the reputation of being always enterprising, and very reliable. Having secured the Agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and every affection of Throat, Lungs, and Chest, and to show our confidence, we invite you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free.

Switzerland is about to regulate by law the amount of corset pressure women may put upon themselves.

I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for the last five years. About three years ago I commenced the use of Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only remedy for catarrh I have used with satisfaction, and it has accomplished a cure in my case.—H. L. Myer, Waverly, N. Y.

Captain Cannon, who sued the Baltimore American for $20,000 damages for libel, was awarded one cent.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

On March 4th, 1887, 25 Senatorships expire, of which 16 are now filled by Republicans and 9 by Democrats.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

In the United States there are nine hundred costly monuments, erected to the commemoration of Washington.

A CURE FOR PIMPLES.

My face for the last few years was covered with pimples [illegible]

[illegible] why you should continue to suffer. Experiment with a good medicine. Try Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Recollect it is GUARANTEED by every druggist. Neuralgia and Rheumatism never stood before it.

SHOW us a man or women, if you can, afflicted with toothache, earache, headache, backache, any ache, that has sought relief in Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to no advantage, and in return we will refer you to thousands similiarly affected whom this medicine has restored and cured completely.

FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Prop's.
BUFFALO, N. Y.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.
Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.
Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.
We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5tf

George Fassel!

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL!

The best coal in the market is the Lackawanna.

IT IS THE

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 39m6

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

E. E. SCHENCK,

PLANING MILL, AND
LUMBER DEALER.

Ceilings, Sidings,
Pickets, Shingles,
Lath, &c.

[illegible] every limb with [illegible] age of $1,500.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guarantaneed. 27eow

It has been decided to hold the next meeting of the American Congress of Churches at Cleveland, Ohio, on May 25, 26, and 27. Gov. Foraker will preside.

AN ANSWER WANTED.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaint quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale at 50 cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

The annual message of the Governor of Texas, is printed in four different languages: English, German, Spanish and Bohemian.

A BABY SAVED!

Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it was no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more the sores all healed and I considered my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

The Grand Opera House, New York, brings the largest rent of any theatre in the country. The rate is $40,000 a year.

"Have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for croup and colds, and declare it a positive cure." Contributed by Wm. Kay, 570 Plymouth Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Sweden imposes a tax on all foreign concert singers who attempt to sing within her borders.

Never out of place: Hop Plasters for sudden pains, weaknesses and strains. Always sure. 25c.

THE ROOT OF THE EVIL.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it from all impurities and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured of scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood-purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

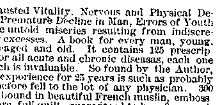
Bonnat, the French portrait painter, is estimated to make $100,000 a year with his brushes.

In China the flesh of rats, dried and salted, is deemed an excellent hair restorer.

London has about 11,000 policemen.

The daily expense of Congress is $16,000.

A STANDARD MEDICAL WORK
FOR YOUNG and MIDDLE-AGED MEN.
ONLY $1 BY MAIL, POSTPAID.
ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL.



A Great Medical Work on Manhood.

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle-aged and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each one of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 25 years is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1.00 by mail, postpaid. Illustrative sample free to any body. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the President of which, the Hon. P. A. Bissell, and associate officers of the Board the reader is respectfully referred.

The Science of Life is worth more to the young and middle-aged men of this generation than all the gold mines of California and the silver mines of Nevada combined.—S. F. Chronicle.

The Science of Life points out the rocks and quicksands on which the constitution and hopes of many a young man have been fatally wrecked.—Manchester Mirror.

The Science of Life is of greater value than all the medical works published in this country for the past fifty years.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Science of Life is a superb and masterly treatise on nervous and physical debility.—Detroit Free Press.

There is no member of society to whom the Science of Life will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all other physicians a specialty. Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. Mention THE FULTON TIMES. 39y1

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "Dr. Warner's Coraline" is printed on inside of steel cover.

[illegible]

[illegible]
—[Washington Critic.

[illegible] exchange says:
An Arab came to a river side
With a donkey bearing an obelisk;
But he did not care to stem the tide
As he had too good an *.

"Does John L. Sullivan ever feel for his fellow-man?" asks a subscriber. He is widely credited with so doing—with both hands, and when he feels his fellow man, he generally feels pretty hard. Yet, Mr. Sullivan is not what would be called a sympathetic man.—[Puck.

Ladies are called dears because it costs so much to maintain them.—[Waterloo Observer.

Young reporter—"The storm king hurled his torn and tumbling torrents over the ruins of the broken and dismembered edifice."

Old editor—"What's that? What do you mean, young fellow?"

Young reporter—"I—e-er—the flood washed away Patrick McDougal's old soap factory."—[Lynn (Mass.) Union.

Miss Clara—"Pasteur seems to have made a great reputation for himself, Mr. Featherly." Mr. Featherly—"Yes, and he deserves it all. There are few better variety singers than Tony"—[New York Sun.

"Well Joe, they say you are going to be married?" "Yes." "Failed in business last week, didn't you?" "Yes." "Lost everything?" "Yes." "Should think it would be a rather inopportune time to get married." "Must support myself some way."—[Lynn Union.

A news item says: "The shortest man in Pennsylvania is Ellis Reinhart, of Goldsboro, who is 28 years old and only 33 inches high." He's rather small but not half as "short" as a man who has a note of $1,000 coming due on the morrow, and has only 3 cents and a trousers button with which to meet it. —[Norristown Herald.

Saturday evening a gentleman left an advertisement at this office of a house to rent, which was to be inserted in Monday's paper. Before the paper was issued the house was rented. It pays to advertise.—[Oil City Blizzard.

"Are you a customs officer?" "Yes, sir." "Well, I had a little package sent over to me by steamer Oregon—just a little valueless package, not worth more than $10. Has it come in yet?" "Why, man, haven't you heard that the Oregon was sunk?" "No, was she? By George! I must go right up and put in a bill for that package. There were $12,000 worth of diamonds in it."—[Chicago News.

A New York woman is said to sleep in a chamber which cost, in decoration alone, $20,000. When she eats a pickle, some ice cream and a slice of fruit cake before retiring, her dreams are no more pleasant and costly than those of a tramp who sleeps in a hogshead, the decorations of which don't cost a dollar.—[Norristown Herald.

Miss Clara—"Are you familiar with Dante's 'Divine Comedy?" Mr. K. (who is a sophomore)—"No; I have never seen it. The fact is, Miss Clara, I think this comedy business is overdone. The sooner the stage returns to the legitimate drama the better it will be for the profession."—[Academica.

Clerk (who had been vainly trying to employ his time, to employer)—"Shall I answer this letter now, sir?"

Employer—"Certainly not; if you do they will think we are doing no business. Wait four weeks."—[The Rambler.

First dude—Yes, Chawley is a good enough fellow; but he's so fearfully defawned, you know.

Second dude—Defawmed? No, I didn't know it. In what way is Chawley defawmed?

First dude—Why, Gawge, you see he has a hawid great cowlick wight on his forehead, so he can't part his hair in the middle. It's too duced bad, you knaw, for aside from his defawmity Chawley is a deuced good fellah, you knaw,—[Danville Breeze.

"Crimsonbeak, I am going to raise your rent for you the coming year," said his landlord to him recently.

"Oh, you are awfully kind for I've had the hardest kind of work to raise it myself the past year."—[Yonkers Statesman.

Very accommodating—Parent—"So you want to marry my daughter, eh? The question is, though, do you think you can support yourself and wife?" Prospective son-in-law—"Aw, don't trouble yourself on that point. I'll leave that entirely to you, don't y' know?"—[Judge.

A Tennesee man has invented a new lemon squeezer. If it will squeeze lemon pies out of dried apples it will fill a long felt want.—[Dansville Breeze.

Miss Smithers—"Charlie, dear, what kind of a flower is that?"

Mr. Roseman (a young collegian)—"Love, that is not a flower; it is a tobacco plant."

Miss Smithers—"Oh, how nice it must look when the plugs are hanging on it." —[Judge.

WE CANNOT too strongly impress upon our readers the fact that most diseases are caused by irregular action of the kidneys; and this is true even though you do not feel any pain in them, for they are deficient in nerves of sensation and give forth pain only in the last stages of disease. It is an undeniable fact that for all diseases of the kidneys caused by excess of uric acid in the blood, Warner's safe cure has no equal.

Miss Cleveland in the White House.

Life in the White House appears to have agreed with her, as she has gained flesh and roundness of outline, a brighter and more vivacious expression, and seems always in humor and gay spirits. Altering the style of her hair has made quite another person of her; although her evening dresses are always rich and tasteful and cut in the conventional way, to the limit that she admits of, she is most becomingly attired and appears to far greater advantage in the simpler black silk gowns of the house, fastened up to the chin and caught in her favorite pin, a branch of golden thistle. Every evening there is some one calling at the White House by appointment to spend an informal after [illegible]

[illegible]

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

GREENWAY'S INDIA PALE ALE

Is manufactured only from the very best quality of Hops and selected Canada Malt. Read the following certificate:

BOSTON, April 21th, 1885.

Jas. O. Gray, & Co.:

Gentlemen:—I have made a chemical anlaysis of a sample of "India Pale Ale," from the THE GREENWAY BREWING CO., SYRACUSE, N. Y. with the following results:

Alcohol by vol. at 60 deg. F.	7.04 per cent.
Hop and Malt Extract	5.29 "
Ash	0.30 "

This Ale is one of perfect purity, and I do not find it to contain anything but the products of Malt, Hops and Water. It has a most delicate aroma, and I do not hesitate to declare, that it is fully equal in purity and quality to the best imported goods.

Respectfully,
JAS. F. BABCOCK,
State Assayer.

Greenway's Ales and Lager on draught at E. J Elder's. 45t4

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS.

Send sketch or model of invention and $5 for examination. Applications for patents prepared and prosecuted. Rejected cases, infringements, interferences and legal opinions a specialty. Send stamp for book on Patents.

HENRY WISE GARNETT,
Solicitor of Patents, Attorney-at-Law, and Counselor in Patent Causes, Washington, D. C. References: Riggs & Co., Bankers, and 2d Nat. Bk., Wash., D. C.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted.
STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y,
40w4 Boston, Mass.

LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment.
Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G. CO.
P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 961 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

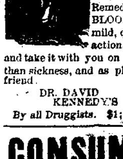
ELY'S CREAM BALM

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
CURES COLD IN HEAD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO, N.Y. U.S.A.
HAY-FEVER

when applied into the nostrils, will be absorbed effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores sense of taste and smell. Not a Liquid or a Snuff. Apply a particle of the Balm into each nostril. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents, by mail, or at druggists.

ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
16 Barclay St. N Y.



March April May

SPRING is a trying time. Indications of disease should be heeded. If you have Indigestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver and kidneys, or Want of Appetite, take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to PURIFY THE BLOOD without delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house, and take it with you on journeys. It is cheaper than sickness, and as pleasant as the hand of a friend.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY,
By all Druggists. $1; 6 for $5. Rondout, N. Y.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
Address Dr. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

FITS STOPPED FREE

Marvelous success. Insane Persons Restored. Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER for all BRAIN & NERVE DISEASES. Only sure cure for Nerve Affections, Fits, Epilepsy, etc. INFALLIBLE if taken as directed. No Fits after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges on box when received. Send names, P. O. and express address of afflicted to DR. KLINE, 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. See Druggists. BEWARE OF IMITATING FRAUDS.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost
of any proposed line of advertising in American
papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.
HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES
Over 2400 [illegible] Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. [illegible] A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Philadelphia.

[illegible]

[illegible]

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the [illegible]

[illegible] the third Friday in [illegible]

FULTON—At the office of C. E. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 15th and September 15th.

PARISH—At A. H. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 20th, July 20th and Sept. 20th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

CHESEBRO, THOMAS W.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Chesebro, late of the Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, the Citizens National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886, next. Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.

FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 18th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Joel Chubb and Jane Chubb delivered to Eunice A. Pardee, dated the first day of Jan'y., 1877, recorded with the power of sale therein contained in the clerks office of Oswego county, on the seventh day of February, 1877, in Liber 111, of mortgages, at page 260, given to secure the payment of the sum of $1200. And whereas the sum of $121.67 is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice and to become due the further sum of $960, and an action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof and said power of sale has become operative. Therefore notice is hereby given that by reason of the facts aforesaid and in pursuance of the Statute in such case made and provided the mortgaged premises discribed in said mortgage as follows, to wit.: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby (formerly Lysander) and known and distinguished as the south half of survey fifty acres of Lot No. nine (9) in the town aforesaid. Also all that other tract or parcel of land situate in said Town of Granby, and being a lot of one and one half acres of land on Great Lot No. nine (9) of the original township of Lysander, now Granby, and being on the east side of the river road leading from the south line of said town to the city of Oswego. The said lot hereby intended to be conveyed being bounded on the north by lands owned by Smith Southard, on the east by the survey fifty acres of said lot No. nine (9), on the south by lands formerly owned by Nahum Chubb, and west by the centre of said river road and being the same premises conveyed by Nahum Chubb to Jane Chubb by deed dated Jan'y. 17, 1876. Also all that other tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby aforesaid known as subdivision No. four (4) of Lot No. sixty-two (62) in the original township of Hannibal, now Granby, as subdivided by Barnet Mooney, Samuel Farnham and Asa Dudley commissioners in partition appointed by the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Oswego—will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper in the village of Fulton, county of Oswego, New York, on the 24th day of April, 1886, at 10 a. m. of that day and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.

Dated Jan'y 26, 1886.

GILES S. PIPER, Attorney, Fulton, N.Y.
EUNICE A. PARDEE, Mortgagee.

MORTGAGE SALE—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Joel Chubb, delivered to Richard Smith, dated the twenty-fourth day of October, 1857, recorded with the power of sale therein contained in the clerk's office of the county of Oswego, on the twenty-sixth day of October, 1857, in Liber 46 of mortgages, at page 218, given to secure the payment of the sum of $706.86 duly assigned by said Richard Smith to Benjamin Smith and by said Benjamin Smith to Richard L. Smith, who is now the lawful holder and owner of the same, and whereas the sum of $1138. is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice being the whole amount unpaid secured by said mortgage and an action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof and said power of sale has become operative. Therefore notice is hereby given that by reason of the facts aforesaid and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided the mortgaged premises described in said mortgage as follows, to wit.: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Lysander (originally) but in the present town of Granby, in the county of Oswego, and state of New York, known and distinguished as the south half of the survey fifty acres of Lot number nine in the town aforesaid. Also all that other piece or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby, county of Oswego and State of New York known and distinguished as subdivision Lot number four of the original Lot number sixty-two in the original town-township of Hannibal, in the state aforesaid as subdivided by Barnet Mooney, Samuel Farnham and Asa Dudley, commissioners appointed by the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Oswego, to make partition of said Lot number sixty-two, to wit.: Beginning at the north-east corner of Lot number sixty-two; thence south on the line of said lot to the north east corner of States' hundred number six; thence west on the north line of States' hundred number six aforesaid to the south-east corner of Thomas Sanburn's land; thence north on the east line of the said Sanburn's land to the north line of said lot and thence east to the place of beginning containing eighty-nine acres be the same more or less.; the two parcels above described are the same premises conveyed to the party of the first part herein by the three following described conveyances to which conveyances reference is hereby made for a more full description to wit.; First deed Asa Phillips and wife to Joel Chubb, dated May 31, 1853, recorded in the clerk's office of Oswego Co., Aug. 19, 1853, in Book 62 of deeds, page 556; Samuel Cogsdell and wife to Joel Chubb, dated November 25, 1854, recorded in the Oswego County clerk's office, February 19, 1854, in Book 68 of deeds, pages 87 and 88; Third Garrit Smith and wife to Joel Chubb April 7, 1853, recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, August 19, 1853, in Book No. 62, of deeds, pages 555 and 556, will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, New York, on the 24th day of April, 1886, at 10 a. m. of that day, and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.

Dated Jan'y 26, 1886.

GILES S. PIPER, Attorney, Fulton, N. Y.
RICHARD L. SMITH, Assignee.

Farmers, mechanics and workingmen are very apt to be governed more by the price than other more important points in selecting their clothing. It is a mistake usually. A poor suit of clothes is expensive at any price. The best is always the cheapest, though not necessarily the highest priced. The "T, C. & Co." clothing is made for service. It fits perfectly, is custom finished, and costs no more than the "baggy" stuff offered.

The above represents the ticket that will be found on all the "T, C. & Co." Clothing. Buy it for yourself and boys, and you will make no mistake.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK,
Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact!

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that has ever been [illegible]"
—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

THE FULTON TIMES.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 18—NUMBER 50

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

The Song He Sung.

"I will sing a song, cried the singer,
He of the matchless name;
"Not for those on the earth named 'the happy,'
Nor yet for the children of fame.
'I will sing, and who dares intercept me—
For love not for honor, to-day—
A song from the world's vanquished heroes—
Should I sing for the winner alway?
For the winner, and never the loser?
I to day will sing for the oppressed,
For those who have failed in life's battle,
The weary, cast down and depressed.

"I will sing for the broken hearted,
For those who are filled with distrust,
Who, grasping bright apples of Eden,
Found them bitter with ashes and dust
For those who saw in the distance
The beckoning halo of fame—
Who struggled on bravely—then faltered,
O'ercome by the weight of their aim.
For those who are stooping 'neath crosses,
Whose sad eyes are brimming with tears,
That though they fall fast in the night time
Enrich not the harvest of years.

"For those who come up empty handed
And maimed from life's eager essay,
Who are watching with sad, wistful faces
When the victors come girded with bay.
I will sing and my song shall re-echo
And thrill with a pity divine—
For all of the world's unhappy
Who suffer and make no sign,
For these are the bravest of heroes
Earth's battle-grounds e'er trod,
Though they die forgot, unhonored,
They shall wear crowns with God.

"And the singer lifted the music
Of his marvelous voice on the air,
And those who were listening, whispered.
'It is not a song—but a prayer,'—
"Not a song—but a prayer uplifted
From a strong heart seeking to prove
To vanquished—despised and forsaken—
The might of a puissant love."

A WOMAN'S ATONEMENT.

HE was called to preach in the little stone church at Bayside, and she sang in the choir. That was the beginning of it. As to how it would end, people had various opinions, although on one point they all agreed. He was sure to fall in love with her. It had so long been the fashion for everybody to adore the beautiful Miss Sturtevant, that it was generally accepted as a fact that no masculine heart could resist her fascinations. For ten years nearly all the marriageable young men of Bayside had in turn laid their hearts at her feet, had gone through a brief season of mad despair as she refused them, and then married elsewhere, and learned as the years went by to look into her lovely eyes with indifference. All but one. There was one dark spot in Violet's Sturtevant's life of which she did not love to think. Sidney Kent had seemed to her only a boy, pleasant to have for a devoted slave, and although she knew he was madly in love with her, she kept him at her side for months, and when she could no longer keep back the declaration of his feelings, she made light of his love, called it a boyish passion, and when he vowed to end his life, she only laughed and gave him a year to forget her. But the boy was insane with grief, and within an hour from the time he left her side died by his own hand. This was more of a shock to her than she cared to own. She had been cruel and unfeeling, but all through thoughtlessness. Her pride, however, was great, and she gave no sign of sorrow or repentance. His widowed mother carried her broken heart away from Bayside, and the sad occurrence became a thing of the past.

The shadow of it never left Violet's life. Other suitors came, and it was strange that the heart that drew all others toward it never felt a thrill of love as the old, old story was repeatedly whispered to her. She enjoyed her power over them. She could not live without trying to win every heart thrown in her way, but the sweet unselfishness of a true woman's love was to her an enigma.

The year preceding the time of which I write had been a quiet one for Violet compared with the excitement of her previous life. She had been left alone in the world with the exception of a maiden aunt who shared her home. Possessed of an abundance of means, and a beautiful country home, there were not many girls whose lives were so unfettered and free. There had been a dearth of young men in the village for some time, and just as life was beginning to seem rather tame and uninteresting, the young minister came, and brought with him a ripple of excitement.

* * * * * * * *

The church-bells had ceased ringing, and Miss Martha Sturtevant, in her best black silk, was pacing nervously up and down the long veranda, waiting for her niece. The old coach that had carried three generations of Sturtevants to and from divine service, had been at the gate for ten minutes, and still Violet lingered in her room. If there was any one thing that that amiable spinster disliked, it was being late for church; but there was something else on her mind that increased her nervousness.

"I wonder if she will wear her new dress? And yet, what does it matter? She will still be the same. Perhaps if I should speak to her, warn her a little—I wonder if I dare—"

Just then she heard a [illegible] and turning, saw Violet in [illegible]way.

It was not the new d[illegible] but a creamy nun's veiling, made very simply, with cascades of lace around the white throat, and instead of the new bonnet with its nodding plumes, was a simple white straw with clouds of lace—no flowers, no ribbons; and yet, as Miss Martha looked, she wished she had worn the new dress. Her niece seemed to read her thoughts, and laughed a little defiantly, as they seated themselves and were driven rapidly into the village.

"You are displeased, aunt, and there is something you wish to say to me. Be quick about it. James is driving [illegible]

"[illegible] Violet," said Aunt [illegible] [illegible]ing. Do not try to gain his love, only to throw it away."

"You mean the minister, I suppose. Any one would think, to hear you, I possessed an 'evil eye.' What if he falls in love?—I can't help it. His sacred calling will help him bear his disappointment, if it is to be that. Aunt Martha," she cried, passionately, "have I no heart I wonder? Perhaps my hero has come in the person of this paragon."

"Oh, my dear, I should be so happy!" and the old lady's voice trembled with emotion.

"You are a dear old goose, auntie. It might be wise to wait and see him before we rave in this manner. If he has red hair and wears glasses, my simplicity is wasted."

They reached the church then, and Miss Martha went into the wide, family pew, while her niece flitted up the narrow stairs to the gallery.

It suited her to sing in the choir. It gave her something to do, and some one to rule; for no one in the village had received as good a musical education as herself.

The music was indeed a credit to her, and many a chance visitor from the city turned in surprise, as the glorious old anthems rolled over their heads. More than one heart felt a little flutter of expectancy as a tall, slender man rose in the pulpit to address them.

He did not preach a dry sermon about the old patriarchs, or some knotty problem in theology. He talked to them as if he knew each one's secret grief, and by his delicate sympathy healed the sore heart. He pictured what a true, beautiful life they might lead, until Violet found herself thinking of the past—her frivolous, useless life. The old wound re-opened, and she wildly wished she could bring back to life the one son of that widowed mother who eight years before had blotted out his young life for her sake.

She had a solo in the closing anthem, and many turned to look as her mellow voice floated upward. It seemed to have a new tone, that touched the heart like a prayer of forgiveness.

Ralph Armstrong, as he sat in the pulpit, looked across the little church into a face that seemed like the face of an angel.

There were several matters to speak about to the organist after church, and it was some little time before Violet descended the stairs, where to her surprise, she found her aunt with the minister's hand in hers, while she seemed almost on the verge of hysterics. Hastening to her side, she heard her say:

"To think that you are the son of my old friend, John Armstrong! Such a surprise and pleasure. Violet, do tell him he must come home with us to dinner."

"Pray introduce me aunt, and I certainly will," said her niece, laughing, for Aunt certainly looked very funny, half embracing the young man, while a score of people looked on in wonderment.

Violet's repentant mood was gone. It vanished as she saw a glance of admiration in the dark eyes the young man turned upon her. During the homeward drive and the dinner following, Aunt Martha would have liked to lable her dangerous. She certainly had never seemed more attractive, and the young man would need to pray for strength if he wished to resist.

"Violet," said her aunt, sternly, as she looked into her room to say good-night, "that young man is the son of the dearest friend of my youth. I will have no trifling with his heart."

* * * * * * * *

In the year following, I think Violet Sturtevant received all the punishment she deserved. It was at once the happiest and most wretched year of her life. Happiest, because she had at last learned to love, and hung with rapture on every word uttered by the one who had won her heart. The most wretched, because although she tried every fascinations in her power, he seemed perfectly indifferent to her. At times her heart would exult over some little attention, only to grow cold, as perhaps the same day, she would see the same attention offered to some one else. She could not accuse him of being a flirt. He was simply courteous to all alike. He came often to see Aunt Martha, as his father's friend, and Violet could not complain of lack of opportunity to win his regard. Feeling him hard to please only made her the more anxious to succeed. She would see him sometimes looking at her as one might at a beautiful picture, with pleasure and admiration; but through it all a subtle coldness chilled her heart. He was not engaged; she learned in a thousand different ways that he was generous and warmhearted; but the year went by, and he was still cool and indifferent, paying more attention to the village maidens than to herself; and, as she felt that her case was hopeless, she suffered more than even Aunt Martha, who watched her closely, imagined.

Once she thought, "He thinks me too gay," and forthwith donned a simpler attire, and sang softer airs, only to see him [illegible] her with an amused curiosity that nettled her. A dozen times she vowed to overcome this foolish infatuation, and avoid his presence; but it all ended the same way. After declining to come down and help Aunt Martha entertain him, she would kneel at her window in the darkness just to hear his footsteps as he left the house; murmuring, "Ralph! Ralph!" over and over. If he could only have heard the passion and despair in that faint cry!

At last she felt that she could bear it no longer. She would go away until she could conquer herself, when something happened that seemed to reveal the cause of his indifference.

At a party one evening, some one was speaking of the event which happened in the village [illegible] years before, when [illegible] they spoke of Sidney and his unhappy fate, and imagined she saw a look of scorn on the face of the man she loved. How he must despise her, for his aunt had undoubtedly told him all about her before he came. He had been forewarned, and alas! forearmed.

She found her aunt, and entreated her to leave, as she was ill; and very ill she looked as she lay back in the carriage, saying over and over to herself: "His cousin and I killed him." Her youthful folly seemed fater to mar her whole life.

"You do look sick; I hope you are not coming down with the fever," said Aunt Martha, anxiously. "We must go away at once. They say there are a dozen cases in town, and they fear an epidemic like the one here four years ago. We must leave to-morrow, if possible."

Violet was passive that night, and let her aunt plan out their summer without any opposition, but as she lay and thought during that long terrible night she planned her life anew.

In the morning she said: "You can go, Aunt Martha, but I shall certainly stay. We can be in no danger here. Our spring water is so pure—not like that which supplies the village—and they will need all the help they can get to care for the sick. So many who are able will leave the poor and sick to their fate. I shall invite a number of those who are unable to leave to come out here and stay until the danger is over. There are many I could name now whom it would benefit, even if they were not threatened with the fever. Oh, Aunt Martha, do you think it I could save a life it would atone for the past?"

In that bitter cry her aunt read the story of that poor, suffering heart.

"We will both stay," she said gently. "I was only thinking of you when I urged going. My life is soon over. It does not matter."

The old mansion was large and surrounded by a farm teeming with plenty. The old rooms, unused so long were opened and aired, and soon in everyone were one or more occupants. There were delicate children, poor tired school-teachers, and several old ladies, into whose pinched and sorrowful lives this visit came as a heavenly vision. The village was indeed plague stricken. Many who were able fled, but among those who remained the death-rate ran high. Doctors came from other places, and Ralph Armstrong stayed and nursed and comforted all in his power. His face flushed as he learned of Miss Surtevant's guests, her aunt taking care that he should know to whom the credit was due. He soon heard of her in other was, and met her more than than once beside the dying. She was pale, quiet, and courageous, but never more beautiful. There was one young girl who, in days past, she had believed had won the heart she would have died to possess. She had hated her for her simple beauty then, and now when she heard she was very low with fever, with no regular nurse to attend, a fierce struggle took place in her soul, which ended in her going to her bedside, prepared to stay and battle for the life in the poor fever-racked frame. For days she watched her, taking but little rest herself. Ralph had been in with the doctor and pressed her hand gratefully as he found her there. There seemed no hope, and the doctor said, one day: "I can do no more. If she lives she will owe her life to you, Miss Sturtevant."

All that night she sad by the bed, gave nourishment and medicine, bathed the fevered brow and prayed for life, and as the day dawned she knew her prayer was granted. Some one came to relieve her and she slipped out into the fresh air. She went through the garden to avoid meeting the doctor and Ralph, who she knew were coming that hour. Very pale and worn she looked, as she leaned against a rustic seat; but there was an exultant look in the face lifted toward heaven.

At last she saw Ralph come from the house, looking around as if seeking her, and as he drew near she cried:

"I have saved a life. I have made atonement. Go to her. I saved her for you."

"No, no! did you not know?—she loves and is to marry her cousin. My place is here, if you will let me stay. Here at your feet to ask forgiveness for my doubt of you. To think I could have doubted such a noble heart! I feel that I am unworthy to ask you to love me."

"And you know the past?"

"All; this week has blotted out the past forever."

She turned to him with look that told him more than words could do, of the fiery furnace through which her soul had passed, and stretching out his arms, he lifted her away from it all—to his heart.

Good Luck for an Engineer.

URBANA, Ill.—I had a severe fall upon my right kidney. Caused a great deal of soreness, but thought I would wear it out. Was running express engine, 212 miles with four trips a week. The strain and jarring came near killing me. Cannot describe my suffering. Physicians pronounced it catarrh of the bladder. After using thirty bottles of Warner's safe cure, I am now a well man.—A. S. Hampton, ex-Chief Engineer, Div. 148, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The Proper Thing.

So long as you have a good serviceable claw-hammer coat of black broadcloth, don't mind about the turn of the collar, but put it on, along with the low-cut waistcoat and the trousers, also of black, encircle your neck with a white tie of English tape—that is the correct and most formal thing—have your boots presentable, leave off your watch chain, and [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Velvet-faced brims are still preferred, even for midsummer hats.

Turbans will be worn this spring by those to whom they are becoming.

Long wraps will be worn only for traveling and rainy weather this spring.

Flowers will be used in profusion for trimming bonnets and round hats.

Plaid buttons of ivory and mohair coma among other novelties in big buttons.

The pointed waistcoat front is the marked feature in young girls' spring frocks.

Fine yet rough surfaced cloths are made in short mantles to wear with various dresses.

Fashion decrees that old and elderly ladies may wear colors as well as black and dark gray.

Tailor gowns of serge or light cloth have short jackets of the material to complete them.

Jet bonnets show the fancy fur stripes having fine beads in rows down the crown and from crown to brim.

Scarfs of crape or soft silk are knotted closely around the crowns of hats and fastened with a few slides or pins.

Boys wear white muslin slips precisely like those worn by girls, until they are two and a half or three years of age.

Ladies who are tired of the straight, full back breadths have returned to bouffant draperies. The puffed effect across the tournure is abandoned.

Wide, white Hercules braid, fringed and knotted at the ends, forms the sash belt, falling low on the hips, of many frocks for girls of twelve or fifteen.

Small pokes worn without strings are for young ladies. These have a peak in front and in back, and may be of straw or tulle, or English crape, jet or lace.

New coats for small boys are made of dark blue cloth or corduroy, or else they are called "pink coats," and are of the bright red cloth used for gentlemen's hunting coats.

There is a variety in sleeves. Some of the new spring costumes have them wide from the shoulder to the elbow, and there gathered up so as to form a sort of limp puff, while from the elbow to the wrist they are quite tight and plain.

Cleveland's Bull Dog.

One of Mr. Cleveland's Buffalo friends spoke of the President's life there as the most uneventful of any he ever saw. "He got up in the morning," said he "from his room in Main street and proceeded to Louis Babst's for his breakfast with the utmost regularity, and was always accompanied by the homeliest, meanest and most uncanny bull dog that ever lived in Buffalo."

"Was he much attached to dogs?"

"No, I don't think he was; but he had one little animal that was his constant companion, until a homely white brute belonging to Fayette Cook, took the dog one morning and chewed him all up. Cleveland swore vengence, and sent around to Dean Wilson, the dog-fighter, prize fighter, cock fighter and every other kind of a fighter, and gave him orders to purchase the wickedest bull dog that he could come across. The result was that Grove was soon supplied with the meanest criminal in Buffalo and Fayette Cook's dog was chewed all to pieces that night. I suppose that cursed cur of Cleveland's had more fights on his program during the year that Cleveland owned him than any other canine that ever existed."—[Pittsburg Times.

Had A Dead Arm.

The other day a well-known Detroit doctor was eating lunch in a restaurant alongside of a business man, when the latter remarked:

"I just saw a case to interest you in the cigar store. There is a man there who has no feeling at all in his right arm."

"Case of paralysis, of course, replied the doctor.

"Oh, no, it isn't. He has been examined by some of the most eminent surgeons and they declare that it isn't. If it was a case of paralysis he couldn't move his arm you know."

"How long has it been so?"

Over twenty years he tells me. He says he will pay $5,000 to restore the natural feeling."

"I'll see him," remarked the doctor, and when dinner was over the two went into the cigar store, and the medical man was introduced.

OVER FOUR hundred grains of a deadly poison are taken out of the blood every day by the kidneys, if they are in health; if not, they can be fully restored when everything else fails by Warner's safe cure.

Moving Paragraphs.

Don't put the stove-lids into the same basket with the chinaware. Remember this. Contact with the cups and saucers will rub the blacking off.

On moving into a new house do not forget to feel around on top of the cellar wall. You may find something. Sometimes it is empty, and sometimes there is a drop or two left.

The family cat should be moved first in a load all by herself. The men are fresh and strong and active then. They can move a piano when they are tired, but not the cat.

The revival meetings have been well-timed. A man who goes to church in the evening is not likely to say "gosh" the next day if a bureau chases him down stairs and jumps on his stomach.

April is the month of smiles and tears according to the poets. [illegible]

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M.D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

The Centaur Company, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

[illegible]
OUR SAMPLE BOX OF PLANTS [illegible]

The Eighth Wonder of the World.

A stranger in New York, standing on the middle span of the great Brooklyn Bridge, views with wonder the beauties of New York harbor. He sees the great cities on each side stretching away for miles to the north, east and west. Beneath his feet the rapidly running river, with scores of large and small steamboats coursing up and down. A large four-masted ship, bound for China, is passing under the great bridge in charge of a tugboat on its way to the sea, all hands are busy on deck, and as she passes from under the Bridge the sailors give a shout. If this ship arrives out safely and returns to this port it will be nearly a year before she makes the round trip.

Looking down the bay we see a great steamer going through the Narrows, bound in an opposite direction. Great black clouds of smoke ascend from her funnel. We know that the stokers away down in the boiler-room are replenishing the fires that are to furnish the motive power for the great ship, and must be attended to constantly for the next ten days.

Apparently at our feet, but over a mile away, lies Governor's Island; a picture fresh, green and peaceful. The old fort, with cannons on top large enough for a small child to crawl in, the cannon balls piled in pyramids, the officers' houses and well-kept lawns remind one of the peep show in a pasteboard box that he made when a child.

At our right we see a towering structure on an island—Bedloe's Island, three miles and a half away. It is difficult to realize the distance is so great, as everything stands out as clear and bright on this beautiful spring day. This large structure is the pedestal for Bartholdi's great statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World," which is to be one hundred and forty-two feet high, and will be completed this month.

The engineers and workmen who constructed the great statue will arrive in from France in May, and commence putting in place this great wonder of modern times which will tower three hundred and twenty feet above the waters of the bay; a beacon light that will show far out at sea, and a welcome to all who enter the beautiful harbor from oppressed and overcrowded Europe to make their homes with us.

This great statue is a gift from one great nation to another, which will stand for ages to cement the friendship of France and America.

The committee in charge of the construction of this great pedestal are nearly through with their labors. And all who desire a memento, in the form of a miniature statuette of this great work, with a certificate of subscription from the committee to show their children's children that they helped build the great pedestal, should subscribe at once.

The statuette is a work of art, and has found a place in thousands of homes. Statuettes delivered by mail or express on receipt of subscription price, one dollar, five dollars and ten dollars each. All remittances should be addressed to Richard Butler, Secretary, American Committee of the Satue of Liberty, 33 Mercer Street, New York.

Striking Examples.

"Strike but hear me."
—[Plutarch.

A strike that tells—the blacksmith's.—[Hartford Times.

A successful strike—the eight-day clock's.—[Life.

When the car drivers strike they do not brake anything.—[The Punster's Own.

The burden of news just now is of a striking character.—[Boston Transcript.

Wherein manufactories differ from clocks—it is the hands which strike in the former.—[Lowell Courier.

This month there is more strikes than ever, for the base ball season has begun.—Cincinnati Enquires.

Says the Governor of Missouri to the Governor of Kansas, "It's a long time between trains."—[Peoria Transcript.

Father—"Be sure and carry in that wood, young man." Son—"What'll you gimme?" "I'll give you till supper time to do it." "If that's all there is in it, I'll strike." "If you do I'll follow suit, and don't you think that the old man's good right arm has lost its cunning in the use of the hame-strap either."—[Binghamton Republican.

Breaking Out in a New Place.

In a Buffalo household in which the "Mikado" is a favorite composition, a little girl came down stairs the other day and asked her aunt what dreadful thing she supposed her still younger sister [illegible] in her prayers. The latter [illegible]

She Might be a Punster.

If an editor, sitting by the side of his angelic girl on the sea shore, ask her to allow him to kiss her, what newspapers and periodicals might she name in her reply? "Let there be no Observer, no spectator; neither let there be any Record of it; Chronicle it not, lest somebody Telegraph or Dispatch a Messenger to my Guardian, and I receive a Graphic letter by the Morning Post bidding me to return home within an Hour; or my brother, as the Family Herald, come over Land and Water by the Daily Express, and with pugnacity Punch your head like Fun. But rather wait until the Sun goes down, when Nature is about to seek repose; when the Queen of the night illuminates the Field with her Lamp, and the evening Star glitters on the Standard of the west. Then in a sweet Country dell—safe from the chaff of Funny Folks, free from the fear of Public Opinion, and from any Advertiser of our love—then, in Truth, I will yield you my Hand and Heart, and you may kiss me as many TIMES as the waves beat against the Rock, for no Echo shall betray us to the World, nor disturb the even motion of this Globe. Then indeed shall the Fountain of your love burst forth, and your vows shall be graven on the Tablet of my heart; and with the sound of Wedding Bells ringing in my ears, I shall have something to add to the Daily News of my Guardian."—[Mr. Bowditch in the Troy Times.

Wisdom or Otherwise?

Chemists or chemistry professors use terms which may show wisdom to them but not to readers.

Less technical terms and scientific words would be more intelligible to farmers. Another thing, don't have more than a dozen terms for the same thing, and to appear wise, don't use more than half a dozen big words for the same thing.

It tends to confuse plain people and is really not interesting to them. They generally read everything else first. The plainest terms are the best, and then always use the same ones. This is the best way to instruct the unlearned in any science, and especially in chemistry. Farmers cannot make the nice distinctions which are involved in science, nor can they remember them. Fewer pivisions would be better in the analyses of food, and their adaption for flesh-making, bone or fat, should be stated in plain United States. We want to see the willingness and the learning of these men turned to the practical benefit of the farmers.

"Have used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for Croup and colds, and declare it a positive cure." Contributed by Wm. Kao, 570 Plymouth ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
STONEWARE,
Vitrified Glazed Sewer Pipe
AND
DRAIN TILE,
Traps, Bends, Elbows,
T's Y's &c.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY, and SAND
STONEWARE CHIMNEYS and TAPS
Fire Bricks of desired shapes furnished on application.
[illegible]
Also Agents for [illegible]

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.
100 Doses One Dollar.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes.
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

—COAL.—
The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's
Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$5.00	2.63	1.44
Nut	5.00	2.63	1.44
Mix	5.00	2.63	1.44
Egg	4.60	2.43	1.34
Grate	4.60	2.43	1.34
Pea	4.00	2.13	1.19

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
—ALSO AGENT FOR—
Perfection Weather Strip.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables, Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

G. D. BALL, Civil engineer, land surveyor and Attorney at Law. Leveling for Drainage, Sewerage, Street Grading etc., and conveyancy. Orders left at H. E. Nichols' law office in Nichols hall block.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!
The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.
White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

The Backus Water Motor.

IS THE MOST Economical Power Known!
—FOR—
DRIVING LIGHT MACHINERY
It takes but little room.
It never gets out of repair.
It can not blow up.
It requires no fuel.
It needs no engineer.
There is no delay; no firing up; no ashes to clean away; no extra insurance to pay; no repairing necessary; no coal bills to pay, and it is always ready for use.
It is invaluable for blowing Church Organs, for running Printing Presses, Sewing Machines, Turning Lathes, Scroll Saws, Grind Stones, Coffee Mills, Sausage Machines, Feed Cutters, Corn Mills, Elevators, etc.
Four-horse power at 40 pounds pressure of water. It is noiseless, neat, compact, steady, and above all
IT IS VERY CHEAP.
Price $15 to $300
Send for circular to the Backus Water Moto Co., Newark, N. J., stating paper you saw advertisement in.
Mr. S. C. North of this village having set a number of the Backus Motors will be pleased to answe any inquiries that parties may wish to make.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Stove	$5.00	Grate	4.60
Nut	5.00	Pea	4.00
Egg	4.60	Smith	4.50
No 4	5.25	Mixed	5.00

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

TO MY PATRONS AND FRIENDS.

Why should we languish "when the whole world is a Market." Please read the following verbatim copy of another combination missive, and draw your own conclusions:

ULICA, N. Y., March 8, 1886.

H. C. GIESLER,
Dear Sir—We are in receipt of your valued order of the 5th inst., and will be pleased to fill the same, with the exception of the Patent Medicines; these we are obliged to decline to send at present. Kindly inform us if you desire us to send the balance of the order and we will forward the goods at once.
Very Respectfully Yours
JOHN H. SHEEHAN & Co.

The Oswego County Druggists Combination has taken another step towards "elevating the standing" of the drug trade in our village. How we apples swim. Oh how happy we would be, if in high prices we could agree, but join your gang I never shall until I meet you plumb in Halifax. We continue to keep a full line of find Drugs and Medicines of all kinds and shall continue to do so during our natural life, in spite of spies, telltales and combinations.

H. C. GIESLER, Druggist,
Opposite the Opera House,
Fulton, N. Y.

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] EVERY WEDNESDAY
[illegible] Block, First Street, Opposite Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THERE was another strike on the horse car lines in New York Monday and a general "tie up" occurred. Yesterday all had resumed work but the Third ave. line.

TWELVE persons were drowned and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed by the breaking away of a reservoir dam near East Lee, Mass., yesterday morning.

THE largest flood ever known in Montreal occurred Sunday, a large part of the city was submerged, it is now slowly abating. The loss is variously estimated from $3,000,000 to 5,000,000.

THE Oneida Dispatch has donned its spring garment, and comes to us enlarged to an eight paged paper. The Dispatch is an ably conducted weekly and we wish it the success that it deserves in this, its new venture.

THE Rome Sentinel put in its appearance last week clad in an entirely "new dress" and in an enlarged form. We congratulate The Sentinel on this indication of its prosperity and would add that we consider it one of our best exchanges.

DR. S. R. CALTHROP'S weather predictions for this week have not as yet been verified. He now announces to his non scientific friends that if a considerable storm does not visit the Northern States east of the Rocky Mountains during the latter part of this week that he will disappear altogether as a weather predictor.

ON Saturday evening the new board of trustees met and among other things decided to allow $150 for printing their proceedings. This is a just amount to allot for this purpose, but $100 of it is to be given to the Patriot and $50 to the TIMES. Why this unequal distribution of the apportionment should be made by a democratic board is a matter of conjecture. In every other instance the democratic members have had their own way to such an extent that if any republican member were to make a motion or an appointment it would be voted down so quickly that his efforts would appear ludricous and silly. They, therefore, have remained in their seats during these meetings in deep meditation and blissful silence, while the spoils have been snatched from their grasp and distributed to the friends of the victors. We by no means claim to be a democratic organ but we do claim to be independent and as such should have received at least an equal share in this apportionment.

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS reward for proof that any statement made by the patients of H. H. Warner & Co., and published with original signatures by H. H. Warner & Co., ought to be a satisfactory guarantee to the entire public, that those wonderful testimonials to the merits of Warner's safe cure are genuine.

COUNTY NEWS.

There is a scarcity of butter in the Phœnix market.

"The Arcadian Bell Ringers" gave an entertainment in Hannibal last Saturday evening under the auspices of Hannibal Post G. A. R.

Thomas Foster, the well-known stock breeder, of Pennellville, recently sold a pair of steers of his own raising that aggregated 2,260 lbs.

The Syracuse, Phœnix & Oswego railroad is doing a lively freight business.

A. N. Ludington of Parish was taken with bleeding at the nose the other day and came near bleeding to death, but is so far recovered that he is out again.

E. S. Blodgett, collector of the town of Boylston, settled last Thursday with the county treasurer. His warrant called for $3,550.77 and he returned uncollected $248.45.

It is the intention of Mr. Byer and Mr. Sanford to manufacture furniture of all kinds at the Byer mill in Sterling. We understand they have put in a large quantity of machinery and expect soon to have it in running order. We hope the new establishment will meet with success.—[Hannibal News.

Cakes Without Eggs.

In a little book just published by the Judson Printing Co., New York, a large number of practical, though novel, receipts of various kinds, from the informal griddle cake to the stately bride-cake, without eggs by use of the Royal Baking powder. Experienced housekeepers inform us that this custom has already obtained large precedence over old-fashioned methods in economical kitchens, and that the product is frequently superior to that where eggs are used, and that less butter is also required for shortening purposes. The advantage is not alone in the saving affected, but in the avoidance of the trouble attendant upon securing fresh eggs, and the annoyance of an occasional cake spoiled by the accidental introduction of an egg that has reached a little too nearly the incubatory period. The Royal Baking Powder also invariably insures perfectly light, sweet and handsome cake, or when used for griddle-cakes to be eaten hot [illegible] production in the shortest [illegible]

[illegible] in Fulton. [illegible] tendance, Spirited Discussions, Eloquent Addresses, Encouraging Reports, &c., &c.

The event of the year in Methodist Episcopal circles has occurred during the past six days in this village. The weather has been delightful and following as it did the disagreeable early spring weather, it produced a pleasant effect upon all in attendance at the conference and set out our village to its best advantage. The attendance has been very large. On Sunday morning and evening hundreds were unable to secure even standing room in the church. The last meeting of the conference in Fulton occurred twenty years ago, when Bishop Ames presided.

At the roll call Thursday morning 146 ministers from all parts of the conference territory, which includes Franklin, St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Lewis, Oneida, Herkimer, Oswego and Madison counties east of the New York, Ontario and Western railroad, and the villages of Richfield Springs, Cherry Valley, Springfield and St Johnsville.

The session was opened with devotional exercises, Bishop Merrill reading a Scripture lesson and after the singing of a hymn, he administered the Lord's Supper, assisted by Presiding Elder Mead of this district and some of the other members of the conference.

In connection with the calling of the roll the deaths during the year of Revs. Miles H. Gaylord, Elijah Munger and John A. Cosgrove were announced. M. R. Webster, secretary of the last conference was re-elected, and Rev. W. H. Reese assistant. Charles Brooks was chosen statiscian.

Committees were appointed with chairmen as follows: Anniversary exercises, Rev. L. B. Moulton; apportionments, Rev. S. Salisbury; bible cause, Rev. C. H. Harris; candidates for admission on trial, Rev. W. C. Lent; education, Rev. H. W. Bennett; Episcopal fund, Rev. C. Phelps; freedman's fund, Rev. W. M. Holbrook; church extension, Rev. R. Flint; church finance, Rev. J. B. Hammond; church literature, Rev. I. L. Hunt; class meetings, Rev. O. Holmes; complimentary resolution, Rev. E. W. Jones; conference relations, Rev. M. D. Kinney; district conference records, Rev. S. Short; memoirs, Rev. E. C. Bruce; missions the presiding elders; missionary cause, Rev. J. L. Humphrey; money for the minutes, Rev. George Ernst; necessitous cases, Rev. H. M. Danforth; pastoral address, Rev. W. D. Chase; postoffices, Rev. C. H. Walton; public worship, Rev. G. M. Mead, Rev. W. F. Markham; Sabbath observance, Rev A. J. Cowles; sinful amusements, Rev. S. E. Brown; state of the church, Rev. J. W. Simpson; state of the country, Rev. D. W. Aylesworth; stewards, Rev. S. N. Warn; Sunday schools, Rev. C. E. Dow; temperance, Rev. W. A. Nichols; tract cause, Rev. D. Fulford; Woman's Foreign Missionary, Rev. I. D. Peaslee; Woman's Home Missionary society, Rev. L. D. White.

Chancellor Sims, of Syracuse University, Dr. Hartzell, secretary of the Freedmen's Aid society, Dr. Foster of the New York Conference, the Rev. Mr. Olmstead of the Oswego Falls Congregational church, the Rev. Mr. Mitchell of Boston Theological seminary and Dr. Hunt of the New York Book Concern were introduced. The last named addressed the conference, showing that that the past year had been the most successful in the history of the great church publishing house for which he is one of the agents.

At 2 p. m. the statistical session convened, L. D. White in the chair and W. R. Cobb leading the devotions.

All of the charges were reported except thirteen.

After the singing the benediction was pronounced by H. W. Bennett.

At 3 p. m. the clerical life insurance meeting was held, Rev. W. R. Helms of St. Regis Falls presiding, Rev. W. Ball of Massina, secretary.

Rev. S. O. Barnes of Ilion of committee to revise constitution, reported.

The rest of the session was taken up in lengthy and spirited discussion, finally Rev. S. O. Barnes, Rev. I. B. Hammond, Rev. D. F. Pierce and Rev. L. D. White were appointed a committee to take the minutes of this session and to report the whole matter in a later meeting.

On Thursday evening, Freeman's aid anniversary, Rev. J. V. Furgeson, presiding. Prayer, Rev. W. A. Nichols. Treasurer reported $944 raised with fifteen charges yet to hear from. A wonderfully instructive and entertaining address was then delivered by Dr. J. C. Hartzell, secretary of the society.

FRIDAY

At 8:30 a. m., Rev. A. J. Cowles led the devotional services.

At 9 a. m. the bishop took the chair and the business was resumed.

The report on the book cencern was read; referred to the committee on church literature. The New York book concern shows total assets $1,853,270.42. Net assets $1,547,829.62 and a net gain during the year, $105,868,62. Sales of books and periodicals during the year, $1,018,908.79. The western book concern shows total assets $892,994.02 and a net gain during the year of 67,664,.86. Sales of books and periodcals for the year $779,439.12

Dr. Hartzell was again introduced and spoke on the subject of the Freeman's Aid society.

Prof. Mitchell, of Boston Theological seminary, was introduced and spoke on the important work done in the theological seminaries.

The class of the first year was called. Wang Ching Yu, a missionary in China was continued on trial. Rev. E. H. Joy was represented by P. E. and was continued on trial. Also B. Day Brown, H. L. Holmes, Charles E. Miller, Charles W. Hardendorf, E. I. Getman, M. G. Seymour and M. D. Sill.

Third year's class was called: R. E. King jr. B. M. Phelps, W. D. Marsh, Chas. C. Townsend, after report by P. E. and examination committee were advanced in their course of study.

Fourth year was called: Abner J. Falshaw, H. B. Fritts, Chas. H. Walton, Geo. W. Wood, H. W. Howard and S. E. Greenfield were elected to elders orders after due examination.

In the afternoon the services were conducted by the Rev. M. D. Kinney [illegible]

[illegible] was [illegible] J. [illegible] On [illegible], the [illegible] for Rev. Robert Flint of Madison for vice-president and for Rev. S. O. Barnes of Ilion for secretary and treasurer.

The secretary and treasurer announced the appointment of Rev. E. E. Cheeseman of Herman as one of the assistant secretaries, and the association adjourned to meet Monday next after the afternoon service.

Rev. H. W. Bennett of Utica conducted the evening services and after a prayer by this gentleman, Chancellor Sims of Syracuse University was introduced and delivered the address of the educational anniversary in his usual impressive manner, considering what he called the four great questions of the day: viz. The labor question, ignorant voters, the liquor question and the Sunday problem.

SATURDAY

At 8:30 a. m., the devotional services were led by Rev. J. N. Brown; at 9 a. m. the bishop took the chair and business was resumed.

Dr. Spencer, secretary of the church, made a few remarks. Rev. F. H. Beck transfer by request from the Iowa conference to this. M. W. Chase, Arthur A. Pierce, E. E. Cheeseman and James B. Kenyon were called forward before the conference and the bishop asked the questions of the decipline usual on such occasions. After these questions were answered the bishop addressed the conference on the importance of young men entering the ministry. The persons mentioned were then admitted into full connection and those not deacons were so elected.

W. F. Brown, A. E. Corse, F. B. Stanford, L. B. Noulton, C. E. Beebee, Anson Cheesman, Thomas Richy, S. M. Crofoot, J. S. Bingham, A. J. Cottell, S. F. Danforth, D. Fulford, H. A. Harris Peter LeClar, A. C. Danforth and Henry Ernst of Adams district were passed in character.

The following elders were called: J. G. Brooks, E. Everett, G. H. Van Vliet, F. K. Pierce, Charles Sheard Salisbury, A. G. Markham, L. B. Gray, J. L. Short, R. J. Smith, H. M. Danforth, S. O. Barnes, S. P. Gray, G. Moor, G. B. Fairhead, J. V. Furgeson, L. R. Grant, J. L. Humphrey, I. B. Van Valkenburg, W. W. Van Dusen, W. W. Williams, S. W. Brown, O. Holmes H. Skeel and A. C. Loucks, and were passed in character.

The committee on Education made a report. Chancellor Sims spoke on the subject of the Syracuse University. Seven years ago the conference agreed to raise $40,000 for the endowment of a chair in Syracuse University all but $6,000 has been raised. This matter was ably discused and the time of the session was extended.

In the afternoon Rev. J. E. Ensign of Ives seminary conducted the services and Rev. J. L. Humphrey of Richfield Springs preached the missionary anniversary sermon, taking his text from Mark, 9—27. The church extension anniversary drew a very large attendance in the evening. Rev. A. E. Corse opened the exercises by prayer. This was followed by a report of Rev. Mr. Flint in relation to the amounts raised by the several charges. Rev. W. A. Spencer of Philadelphia then took charge of the meeting and addressed the assemblage for half an hour when Chaplhin McCabe entered the church, having just arrived in the village. The Chaplain was called upon and after eulogizing Dr. Spencer, proceeded with a statistical address which was of great interest. Before the meeting was dismissed over $1,000 was pledged as an amount to be raised for the construction of new churches during the coming year.

SUNDAY

Conference love feast opened at 9 a. m., led by Rev. Samuel Call. At 10:30 the bishop after conducting the opening exercises, gave as his text 2d Peter 1—16 "We have not followed cunningly devised fables." At the close of the sermon, Chaplain McCabe offered a touching prayer. At 3:30 p. m. the ordination services occurred. The bishop conducted the devotions after which he gave an address on ordination of candidates to deacons and elders orders. E. E. Cheesman, A. A. Pierce, Chas A. Redgrove and John A. Decker, were ordained as deacons. After this Rev. T. B. Shepherd and Rev. I. S. Brigham read the ritual and the bishop assisted by the Revs. L. D. White, L. L. Palmer, T. Richey, I. S. Bingham and T.B. Shepherd, ordained as elders A. J. Falshaw, Chas. Walton, H. B. Fritts, Geo. W. Wood, H. W. Howard, H. S. G. Greenfield and M. D. Sill.

In the evening hundreds were unable to find standing room in the church. Rev. J. L. Humphrey conducted the exercises, the treasurer's report was read and a few appropriate remarks were made by W. A. Spencer, D. D, followed by the stirring end interesting address by Chaplain C. C. McCabe.

MONDAY

At 8:30 a. m., Rev. G. Moor, led the devotional services. At 9 a. m. the bishop took the chair. Rev. G. M. Mead, presiding elder of the Oswego district read a report of the work done by his district. Chaplain McCabe spoke in the interest of the missionary society.

The following elders of Oswego district were passed: S. M. Fisk, W. L. Tisdale, D. Marvin, jr., was granted a location, J. G. Bension, C. H. Harris, W. F. Markham, B. DeF. Snyder, S. T. Dibble, H. C. Abbott, C. H. Guile, H. E. Chase, was transferred to Minnesota conference, J. C. Darling, M. R. Webster, S. E. Brown, A. J. Cowles, I. J. Nourse, N. M. Caton, J. H. Buck, J. H. Bury.

The presiding elders of the St. Lawrence, Watertown and Utica districts read reports of their districts and numerous elders were passed in character.

A resolution asking the bishop not to appoint any person as Presiding Elder who uses tobacco was adopted.

The first part of the afternoon was set apart for memorial services, Rev. I. S. Bingham of Lowville, presiding. At the close of the memorial services the Woman's Foreign Missionary society held a meeting. Rev. I. D. Peaslee presiding. Mrs. Geo. Goodier read her report. Addresses made, Mrs. Julia Lore McGrew and Dr. Gracey of the [illegible]. The evening was [illegible]

[illegible] of the death of Rev. F. B. [illegible]. The question arose where the next conference should be held was discussed and laid over to a later session.

The afternoon session commenced at 2 o'clock with devotional services by Rev. T. Richey. L. D. White, chairman.

A resolution was introduced by E. Arnold that the conference ask the legislature to take means to prevent the consolidation of two churches. After much discussion the resolution was tabled.

The reports of several committees through their chairmen were read and adopted. The distribution of the funds to the conference claimants then took place.

A resolution to facilitate the distribution of these funds in the future was introduced by Dr. Bingham and unanimously adopted, Adjourned to 7:30 p. m.

At 7:30 p. m. the final session of the conference convened. Rev. L. D. White, chairman, prayer was offered by T. B. Shepard. The meeting was protracted until after midnight, various committees reported, in every instance the reports were accepted.

The committee on Sabbath observance objected to the encouragement of Sunday newspapers.

The committee on temperance reported in favor of prohibition.

The committee on the state of the country protested against the treatment received by the Chinese in this country, and against violence on the part of striking laborers.

The conference voted to petition Congress to accord to the Chinese their rights under the treaty of 1880.

Miscellaneous business was transacted.

An invitation was extended by representatives of Antwerp for the next conference to meet in that village. Referred to a committee consisting of the six presiding elders and secretary, with power. On motion a resolution of thanks to the people of Fulton and Oswego Falls for their hospitality was unanimously adopted. Remarks by the bishop, reading of appointments, singing, benediction and adjournmet. Following are the appointments:

ADAMS DISTRICT.
B. F. Wood, Presiding Elder.

CHARGES.	PASTORS.
Adams,	W F Brown
Barnes Corners,	J F Clark
Brownville,	A Cheeseman
Cape Vincent,	F E Arthur
Champion,	C E Beebe
Chaumont,	J. B. Kenyon
Constableville,	H L Holmes
Copenhagen,	P LeClar
Greig,	Reuben Kline
Ellisburg,	Thomas Richey
Henderson,	Harvey Caslor
Indian River	Supplied
Lorraine,	George Ernst
Lowville,	C W McCormick
Mannsville,	C H Walton
Martinsburg,	Wm M Holbrook
Montague,	F Severance
New Bremen,	A J Cottrell
Pillar Point,	S F Danforth
Point Peninsula,	Daniel Fulford
Port Lyden,	R E King
Rodman,	W R Helms
Sacketts Harbor,	Lemuel Clark
Three Mile Bay,	W P Hall
Turin,	A C Danforth
Watertown—State street,	C C Townsend
Watson,	J R Clark
West Martinsburg,	Henry Ernst

HERKIMER DISTRICT.
Wm Watson, Presiding Elder.

Brookfield and Leonardsville,	B DeF Snyder
Cedar Lake,	Edward Evertt
Cherry Valley,	S W Brown
Clayville,	E H Joy
Cold Brook and Russia,	F K Pierce
Dolgeville,	A J Felshaw
Earlville,	Samuel Salsbury
East Hamilton,	Wm Williams
Fairfield and Middleville,	L B Gray
Forrestport,	J L Short
Frankfort,	R J Smith
Herkimer,	I S Bingham
Ilion,	S O Barnes
Jordonville,	S P Gray
Lasselville and Oppenheim,	O. M. Kelly
Little Falls,	Goodon Moore
Mohawk,	H D Selleck
Newport and Poland,	J V Ferguson
Norway and Gray,	O Holmes
Ohio,	J N. Lattimer
Ramsen,	I B Van Valkenburg
Richfield Springs,	J L Humphrey
Salisbury,	L L Davy
St. Johnsville,	W W VanDusen
Saquoit,	A G Markham
Schuyler and W. Frankfort,	L. R. Grant
Springfield,	Charles Sheard
Starkville and VanHornsville,	T WEED
Warren,	Supplied
Waterville,	Harlow Skeel
West Winfield,	A C Loucks

OSWEGO DISTRICT.
H. M. Danforth, Presiding Elder.

Amboy,	A J Grant
Camden,	C H Guyle
Central Square	H M Church
Cleveland,	J G Benson
Constantia	G E Huntley
Durhamville and New London,	To be supplied
Florence and Redfield,	C H Harris
Fulton,	W D Chase
Gilberts Mills,	S M Fisk
Granby,	To be supplied
Hannibal,	S T Dibble
Hannibal center and So. Hannibal,	H C Abbott
Mallory,	To be supplied
Mexico,	W R Cobb
New Haven,	G W Wood
North Bay,	C Mendon
Orwell,	B D Brown
Oswego Center,	N M Caton
Oswego—1st Church,	J C Darling
Oswego—Trinity,	M R Webster
Parish,	To be supplied
Pulaski,	S E Brown
Sandy Creek,	L L Palmer
Scriba and Lansing	I J Nourse
South Richland,	C E Miller
Vermillion,	A M Child
Vienna,	J H Buck
Volney,	J F Rathbun
W. Sandy Creek,	J R Smith
Williamstown,	W H Bury

J. E. Ensign, principal Ive's Seminary

G. M. Mead was transferred to the Central New York Conference.

ST. LAWRENCE DISTRICT.
A Bramley, Presiding Elder.

Bangor,	To be supplied
Belmont,	W A Wood
Brasher,	S Short
Buck's Bridge,	Henry Hesselgrave
Burke,	M. TYLER
Canton,	W E Reynolds
Chateaugay,	A D Webster
Colton,	J E Hall
Constable,	W C Lent
Ft. Covington and Bombay,	Reuben Sherman
Ft. Jackson,	E Arnold
Lawrence,	C W Hardendorf
Louisville,	G S Hastings
Lisbon,	B G Sanford
[illegible]	C N Higby
[illegible]	I D Peaslee
[illegible]	W F Ball
[illegible]	W A Nichols
[illegible]	D L Phelps
[illegible]	S J Greenfield
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	W D Marsh
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	C A [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible] DISTRICT.
W F Markham, Presiding Elder.

Ava,	J D Fisher
Boonville,	E H Waugh
Clinton,	R Flint
Deansville,	M G Wadsworth
Delta and Westernville,	Sanger Dewey
Floyd,	A C Eddy
Hamilton,	J S Barnes
Knoxboro,	A A Pierce
Lee Centre,	H A Harris
Lowell,	W Wells
Madison,	W L Tisdale
Maynard,	H W P Allen
New Hartford,	C E Dorr
New York Mills,	J W Simpson
Northwestern,	S M Crofoot
Oriskany Falls,	A R Warner
Rome, 1st Church,	T B Shepherd
Rome, Liberty St.,	To be supplied
Steuben,	H R Northrop
Taberg,	D W Aylesworth
Trenton,	Pomeroy Wright
Utica, Centenary,	L D White
Utica, First Church,	F H Beck
Utica, South St.,	H W Bennett
Vernon,	C E Babcock
Vernon Center,	T H McClenthen
Verona,	W S Titus
Welsh Mission,	W R Griffith
Westmoreland	J G Brooks
Whitestown,	J H Lamb

WATERTOWN DISTRICT.
James Coote, Presiding Elder.

Alexandria Bay,	H W Howard
Antwerp,	G P Kenny
Black River,	J B Hammond
Carthage,	W F Tooke
Clayton,	D F Pierce
DeKalb,	Chamberlayne Phelps
DePawville,	R F Whipple
DePeyster	W C Empy
Edwards and Fine,	L M SMITH
Evans Mills,	O F Nichols
Gouverneur	M W Chase
Hammond,	Isaac Jenkins
Hermon,	E S Cheeseman
Heuvelton,	M M Rice
LaFargeville,	M G Seymour
Macomb,	To be supplied
Natural Bridge,	G W Bent
Ox Bow	Wm Merrifield
Pamelia,	M T Hill
Philadelphia,	S M Warn
Plessis,	A L Smith
Rensselaer Falls,	W H Kanoff
Richville,	E E Cheeseman
Russell,	E I Getman
St. Lawrenceville,	H B Fritts
Spragueville,	B M Phelps
Theresa,	C W Brooks
Thousand Island Park	M D Kinney
Watertown, Arsenal St.,	W H Reese

NOTE: Supplies in Small Caps.

Too Much Business.

BATAVIA, N. Y., July 15th, 1884.—Two years ago my health failed, which I attributed to pressure of business. I grew worse. Confined to my bed for two months. Warner's safe cure cured me. —C. D. DEWEY, president Johnston Harvester Co.

If you desire to buy your Shoes Cheap go to the Salmon Shoe Store,
Opera House Block.

The estimate in Bradstreet is that the total number of men out of work on account of the strikes and lock-outs is 52,610. Of these 23,600 are idle in consequence of disagreements which could be readily settled by arbitration. Eighteen thousand six hundred and fifty are idle because of disputes about wages; and the remainiming 10,385 are standing out on matters of shop regulations, the employment of non-union men, against convict labor, against labor saving machinery and other similar causes. When it is remembered that the loss to labor by the comparitively insignificant strike in the Saginaw Valley was $375,000, the importance of adjusting existing troubles can be measurably appreciated.

How Baking Powders Are made.

When rival companies are disputing as to what ingredients are to be found in the "best baking powder," the public will be interested in the following definition of these now indespensible articles, as given by Appleton's Cyclopedia. by the acknowledged American anthority:

"The best baking powders are composed of bitartrate of potash (cream of tartar,) tartaric acid, carbonate of ammonia, and soda bi-carbonate, bound together by a little starch."

A few years ago Vernon Morley, a resident of Jamestown, lost his wife by beath. On the same day Mrs. Bailey of Villenova, Chautauqua county, buried her husband. A year or so later Morley met Mrs. Bailey. and they were subsequently married. Morley moved to Villenova. A few days ago he died. On the night of his death his wife insisted on all of the househhold leaving her alone for a time with her husband. An hour or so later one of the family entered the room. Mrs. Morley sat by the side of the coffin, dead in her chair.

Red Cross Cough Syrup is a sure cure, Sold by Williams. 39m3

Cornelius, William K., Frederick W. and George W. Vanderbilt, sons of the late William H. Vanderbilt, have given to the College of Physicians and Surgeons at New York $250,000 for the erection, as a memorial of their father, of a building on the college land, corner of Sixteenth-st. and Tenth-ave., to be known as "The Vanderbilt Clinic of the College of Physicians and Surgeons.' The building will be used entirely for clinical teaching. Its erection will be begun at once.

SNOW AND LOOMIS,
No 7 First Street,
FULTON, N. Y.
HARDWARE DEALERS,
—Have a New and Complete Line of—
STOVES AND RANGES.
—THE—
WORLDS' JEWEL
IS THE FINEST STOVE MADE.
[illegible] at Prices to Suit all Purchasers.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

We are prepared to offer extraordinary Inducements. We have by far the largest stock we ever carried. By a visit to our stores you will be convinced that we will sell you cheaper than any small concern can buy the same at wholesale. In our

C-L-O-T-H-I-N-G

BOYS' DEPARTMENT

We have made special effort to make it so attractive in new designs and varieties and at such price that we believe will merit the attention of every mother. Call and be convinced that you can save money by buying your clothing and dry goods at

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM

Invite inspection to by far the most complete assortment of New and Choice designs in

DRESS FABRICS, ROBES,

in all the Leading Spring and Summer shades, Boucle and Jersey cloth

Jackets, Wraps, Cashmere Shawls,

in all shades. Our line of

Fringes, Hosiery, Embroideries,

And white goods are unsurpassed. It would be useless to mention all the novelties we have to show this season. When you visit our stores goods will be shown pleasantly and prices given cheerfully.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.
HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES!
Over 2,000 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free.
A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Philada.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	aud DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

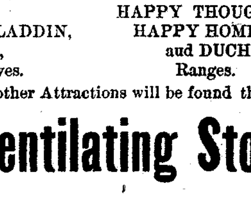
Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.



A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person [illegible]. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the stove pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. [illegible], President.
E. R. [illegible], Vice-President.
A. [illegible], Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. [illegible], Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON [illegible]

FULTON 'BUS

[illegible] will leave the Lewis House [illegible] the Oswego & Syracuse Railroad by [illegible]

	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
[illegible]	6:15	11:30	[illegible]	[illegible]	7:[illegible]
[illegible]	7:05	[illegible]	[illegible]	5:50	7:[illegible]

Tickets to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents for sale on the Omnibus.
LEONARD & WILSON, Proprietors.

DEL. L'KW'NA. & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:27 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:28 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	4:08 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	7:25 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	7:30 a. m.
Day Express	9:55 a. m.
Day Express	5:08 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:10 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:25 p. m.

The 9:55 a. m., 7:30 a. m., and 7:25 p. m. trains will run Sundays. There will also be a special Sunday train for Syracuse leaving Fulton station at 6:25 p. m.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

W. K. NIVEN, Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:50 a. m
Norwich Express	3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express	10:58 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	6:08 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:47 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:24	11:54	5:24
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

FRED B. HIGHRITER - Local Editor

PERSONAL.

Dr. I. C. Curtis visited friends in Hannibal last week.

Mrs. A. D. Pottis of Syracuse, is in town for a short time.

Miss Anna Gilmour returned to Smith's college last Thursday.

Schuyler Schenck of Toledo, Ohio, is in town for a few days.

Mrs. Frank David of Phoenix, has been visiting in town a few days.

Dr. E. C. VanDusen and wife of Cato, spent Sunday in town the guests of Dr. I. C. Curtis.

Mrs. R. Bradshaw, who has been confined to the house for some time, is reported better.

Mrs. H. Giesler of Oneida, was in town last Saturday, the guest of her son, H. C. Giesler.

Mrs. W. H. Watson and two children, of Leroy, N. Y., are visiting William Watson of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cox of West Monroe, formerly of this village, are in town visiting friends.

V. S. Wright and wife of Dwight, Illinois, are visiting a few weeks with friends in Oswego Falls.

H. N. Gilbert of Syracuse, has been in town during the conference, in the interest of the Standard.

Miss Hattie Whitaker of this village, who is teaching in the Oswego Normal school, spent Sunday with her parents.

C. G. Bannister of Antwerp, well-known in this village as a former student of Falley Seminary, has been in town for a few days.

Hon. John W. Vrooman of Herkimer, for many years clerk of the Senate, was in town Friday and Saturday in attendance at the M. E. Conference.

The Misses Pratt of Gloversville, N. Y., who are attending the Oswego Normal school, have been in town for a few days visiting Miss Mable Hubbard.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Lincoln of Springfield, Ohio, formerly of this place, are visiting in town for several days. Mr. Lincoln intends locating in Rochester.

Dr. W. A. Hall has gone to St. Louis to attend the meeting of the American Medical Association as a delegate from the New York State Medical Association. He will be absent about three weeks.

Farmers Crimped Plow Shoes. A perfect dirt excluder. Best thing out. For sale at the Salmon Shoe Store, Opera House Block.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Try Red Cross Cough Syrup, 25cts. at
39m3 M. M. WILLIAMS.

The undersigned has a quantity of lumber, lath, shingles, pickets, eave troughs &c., recently bought at sheriff's sale, which will be sold out very cheap, enquire at the Planing mill of
48tf R. B. McCULLY

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCULLY.

Crackers, four pounds for 25 cents, at the Vienna Bakery on First street. 36tf

[illegible] started a row. With the assistance of friends Mr. Briggs quelled the disturbance. After the fight was over Mr. Briggs felt blood trickling down his leg and upon investigation found a knife cut half an inch long on the left side of the abdomen, from which the blood was flowing freely. The injured man was taken to Dr. Jones of Minetto, who found that the knife had not penetrated far enough to inflict any serious injury and said that with rest and quiet the victim would be around again in a few days, unless inflammation set in. Had the blade penetrated half an inch further the result would probably have proven fatal. Warrants for the assailants were procured and Friday Walter Adams and James Decker of Bundy's Crossing were arrested in this village and held to $300 each to await their examination. At last reports Mr. Briggs was in a fair way to recovery.

A Tearful Disappointment.

A well-known Fulton young man who rejoices in the possession of a best girl, yesterday afternoon stepped into a grocery store and purchased a bag of large, luscious oranges preparatory to the weekly evening session. Being somewhat in a hurry he told the clerk to leave the bag of fruit in an adjoining store, where he would call and get it. Early in the evening the young man, after negotiating with a liveryman for the temporary use of a fiery steed, he drove up to the store and hurriedly seizing his tropical fruit he started for the abode of his fair dulcinea. Here we leave him, simply saying that some unknown person had during his absence in the afternoon substituted some large, healthy onions in place of the oranges. In all probability there was "weeping and gnashing of teeth."

Lowering Freight Rates.

The Gen'l. Freight Agent of the N. Y. O. & W. R. R. has sent out instructions to agents making large reductions in freight rates on butter, cheese and live stock to New York. This class of trade is the principal summer traffic of the road.

The rates which have been issued are as follows: Butter and Cheese to New York from all main line stations, Walden to Guilford, butter 40 cents, cheese 25 cents per 100 pounds, a reduction of 30 per cent in cheese, and from 12 to 15 per cent. in butter.

From Oxford and all stations north to Oswego the rates will be cheese 25 cents and butter 35 cents per 100 pounds, showing about the same reduction as above.

On cattle in car-loads, new rates make all stations on the middle division as far as Youngs $30.00; stations Sidney to Oswego including the new Berlin branch $35.00 per car, a reduction of from 12 to 20 per cent.

The O. & W. Co. have recently purchased several large and powerful feight locomotives specially constructed to enable them to handle with dispatch their fast increasing traffic. The efforts of this company to give our people equal or lower rates than other lines. Coupled with faster lines in dispatch commends itself to our shippers.

Batteries Attached to His Legs.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4th, 1885—Six years ago I was confined to the house. Doctor visited me three times a day and often at night. Whole system uprooted.

Pain in back and kidneys. Slept every night with galvanic batteries attached to my legs. Medicine had not the slightest effect. Spent thousands of dollars. Was in this terrible condition two years. Took fifty bottles of Warner's safe cure, and Warner's safe pills, gained 44 pounds and felt like a new man.—W. H. RHOADES.

Ladies muslin underwear garments. We shall put on sale Saturday, 1000 ladies', misses, and children's muslin underwear garments at the uniform price of 25 cents. This is the most important sale of underwear ever offered in Fulton. H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

Having made arrangements to engage in other business the entire stock of Crockery, Glass and Tinware in my Auction Rooms must be closed out at once.
C. W. BLOUNT.

Gents' German Calf Shoes in Congress, Lace and Button at the Salmon Shoe Store.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

LOST—A flat folding key. The finder will confer a favor by leaving the same at this office.

--SPRING OPENING--

—AT—

THE BOSTON BAZAAR

Next Week

Friday and Saturday,

April 23d and 24th,

Our stock of goods in the different lines we carry was never so complete as at the present time, consequently the display will be one of the finest ever made by the Boston Bazaar. Everything new in spring Hosiery, Laces, Beautiful Ribbons, Kid, Silk and Lisle gloves in all the new shades, Rouchings, Lace Collars, Buttons, Towels and all the novelties that belong to fancy Dry Goods. This is the the time of year when picture framing is in great demand. Get our prices you will find them the lowest. Be sure and come to the Boston Bazaar Opening [illegible]

A Full Line of John Kelley Kid Button Shoes, for Ladies, at

NETTLETON'S.

STATE NEWS.

The dead body of a man named Wilbur was found, tied hand and foot, in a mill at Lyons, N. Y.

The trial of the murderer Scoma, now in the Hudson jail, will take place on the 26th of this month.

From January 1 to April 1 there were 663 fires in New York city. Nine persons killed and fifty-seven injured.

Archie the 10 year old son of Hon. W. H. Sawyer, of Canton, N. Y., was drowned in Grass river, Utica, Saturday evening.

Louis Willett, who killed his employer, Edward Kelland, at Kingston with a beer faucet, was on Thursday sentenced to be hanged on Friday, May, 20.

New York city has $3,000 policemen.

D. M. Osborne & Co's. works in Auburn turn out fifty-four reapers every day. They employ 1,225 men and paid out for wages last month $65,000.

The New York, Ontario & Western railway company are in search of a steamer to ply between Oswego and the Thousand Islands during the summer in connection with their road.

John Carpenter, who brutally murdered his wife in a saloon in New York a year ago and was under sentence of death committed suicide in the Tombs Sunday by cutting open his jugular vein and the veins in his arm.

A sensation prevails in police circles in Auburn over the arrest of patrolman Hugh Taylor. He was reported intoxicated on his beat and drew a revolver on the chief when he took him in custody. He was lodged in the lock-up and bailed on the following day. Friends say he had taken morphine to allay pain. Taylor has served ten years on the force.

From a circular issued by Charles Parsons, president of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad, it is learned that the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad company on April 14 leased the Utica and Black river rail road with its leased line and all the property connected therewith,

The report of the New York police department for the quarter ended March 31, which was submitted to the mayor last Wednesday, shows that 16,531 arrests were made, of which 993 were for felonies. There were 50,672 persons given lodgings at the station houses, and 508 lost children were restored to their homes. The sum of $912,343.32 was expended.

Gilberts Mills.

Our school commenced Monday Miss Nettie Anderson teacher. This is her third term here.

Mr. Thomas Wait has moved to Newport, to live with his son.

Old Mr. Mason visited at Leroy Sanford's Monday. He is quite smart for one of his age.

Mr. Stuart Byer who went to Rochester a short time ago has a large trade. He keeps all kinds of baked stuff, hardware and groceries. His many friends will be glad to hear of his success.

Mr. Elias Thomas is putting a basement under his barn, which will be a great improvement.

Mr. Peck commenced making cheese last Monday.

Mr. Ira Bradford is nicely settled in his new home. He has given up building his store.

Grandma Griffith, as she is generally called, attended church Sunday for the first time since last fall. She is getting well along in years.

Rev. O. H. Denny of Ohio has commenced his labors in the Baptist church for the coming years.

Covenant meeting at the Baptist church next Saturday.

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

FOR SALE—The iron fence in front of J. W. Pratt's residence on First street. Enquire on the premises.

Notice of Dissolution.

The milling firm heretofore existing under the name of Patterson & Smith has been dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the late firm should be settled with C. O. Smith.

W. D. PATTERSON.
C. O. SMITH.
Fulton, N. Y., April 14th, 1886 3t

If you want to dye easy and happy buy your dye stuffs at R. E. Phillips Drug Store. He always keeps the best quality and all you have to do is to weigh your goods—he can give you the desired amount of Dye Stuffs to color any given quantity, as he has had over twenty-five years experience in selling dyestuffs—and his prices are below all competition. 48w4

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

F. K. Jones sells violin strings for a nickel each.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. GRAFF & CO.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

For door and window frames, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters etc., wholesale or retail, go to McCULLY'S planing mill, Fulton, N.Y.

The finest line of [illegible] ever shown in Fulton, has been received by John [illegible] at the Vienna [illegible]

A Favorable Contract.

The Howe Ventilating Stove Co., have entered into an agreement with Thomas Jones of Auburn by which Mr. Jones becomes the general agent for the sale of the stoves. The works in some respects are to be enlarged and pushed to their fullest capacity in manufacturing stoves. If the company fail to supply the demand, Mr. Jones is to have the privilege of manufacturing them also at Peekskill N. Y., but stoves made at Fulton are to be sold before those manufactured at Peekskill. One-fourth of the profits of the stoves made at Peekskill are to be paid the company. We learn from good authority that Mr. Jones is a stove man of large experience, means, energy and integrity; that he is interested in the foundry at Peekskill. These things being true, the home company has certainly received a valuable addition to its corp of workers. We hope and believe that the contract is valuable to both parties. The company can now devote all it's energy to manufacturing and Mr. Jones to selling the stoves. It is a good sign to see so practical and successful a stove man as Mr. Jones enter thus heartily into our stove enterprise.

Services Last Sunday.

Rev. W. A. Spencer of Philadelphia, Pa., occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning and Rev. Samuel Call of Potsdam in the evening.

At the Baptist church Rev. W. H. Reese of Watertown, in the morning and Rev. C. H. Guile of Mexico, in the evening.

At the Congregational church Rev. A. G. Markham of East Hamilton in the morning and Rev J. B. Hammond of Black River in the evening.

At the Universalist church Rev J. B. Kenyon of Oswego Centre, conducted the morning services and Rev C. Sheard of Dolgreville the evening services.

At the Free Methodist church Rev D. Fulford of Point Peninsular, in the morning and Rev J. E. Wright of Depawville, in the evening.

A Second Rip VanWinkle.

In laying a pipe to the water main in Cayuga street last week, workmen came upon an old well that had been covered many years. In the well a frog was found that in all probability had been buried since the well was covered. His frogship was released and after a long look around, a broad smile of recognition came into his face, as much as to say "the same old village," and he hopped mournfully away. The new opera house seemed to puzzle him for a moment, but after carefully reading the label on its front, he seemed satisfied as to its nature. It is presumed that he is making a tour of the village and should any one find him, we hope they will give him all possible information.

The New Chief.

At the meeting of the delegates to the fire council last Wednesday evening Freeman C. Mosher was unanimously chosen as chief engineer of the Fulton Fire department. Mr. Mosher has been connected with the department for many years, has held several important offices and will make a very able and efficient officer.

Easter Services.

Easter Services will be held in Zion church next Sunday as follows:

Morning service and sermon at 10:30.
Sunday school service with baptism of infants at 3:30.
Evening service and sermon at 3:30.

The musical portion of the services will be assisted by cornet accompaniment.

OBITUARY.

D. H. Maynard, for many years a resident of this town and Granby, died at Savannah, N. Y., last Wednesday, aged 53 years. He was a son of A. B. Maynard of this village. He left a widow and eight children. Funeral services were held at Savannah and the remains were interred at Lysander.

CARRIAGES! CARRIAGES!

Bristol has the largest stock of Wagons and Carriages ever seen in Oswego Co., and will sell at prices satisfactory to the closest buyers.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our sincere gratitude to those who so kindly assisted us in our sad affliction of the death of our mother, and especially to those who donated flowers.

HORACE SLATER, CELIA SLATER,
W. WOODSON, MRS. DEACON.

CLOTHING BUYERS.

They Can Find What They Want and at Correct Prices at Kent & Miller's.

The coming of spring necessitates quite a change in men's wearing apparel. More particularly is this true when the change from winter to such extremely warm weather so radical as we have just experienced. The clothier has a wide field for the exercise of his judgment and taste. The public is inclined to be particular, and unless the clothier pretty thoroughly understands his business and the wants of the people he is not likely to become popular to any extent. If one looks over the vast stock of goods in the various departments at Kent & Miller's, South Salina street, he will at once be convinced that they know the wants of the trade and are popular with clothing buyers, too. Their stock seemed never so fine and complete as at present. In men's wear there is no novelty or new style that cannot be selected from their display. The newest fabrics, the latest novelties in color, the correct styles and [illegible] which [illegible] make them really the public [illegible] of the country.

Free Soda at L. D. Spooner's drug store to-night.

R. Bradshaw has sold the A. T. Loomis house on Erie street to John White, Sr.

The Harbengers of spring in the form of bicyclists are now daily seen on our streets.

Easter occurs next Sunday. This makes it later than it has occurred before since 1734.

A horse driven by Arthur Pratt of Gilberts Mills, dropped dead on sixth street last Friday.

We extend congratulations to C. H. Bibbins of the Jordan Times on the birth of a daughter.

A car-load of Sweedish emigrants passed through here Friday, on the N. Y. O. & O. on their way to Minnesota.

Word has been received of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Matteson of Rochester, formerly of this village.

Special bargains in Jersey and Broadcloth Jackets at Rosenbloom's, Friday and Saturday. Come for them quick.

Rev. Father Early gave a very interesting address on temperance in the Catholic church last Sunday morning.

R. K. Harris' Sons have just finished two fine delivery wagons for parties in New York. They weigh 800 pounds each.

Many times have we asked you to turn your eyes to the advertisement of the "T, C. & Co." clothing. Do it now, please.

The residence of William Watson on Buffalo street is being improved by a new coat of paint. E. Jefferds is doing the work.

Rev. W. N. Barber, a former Universalist pastor of this village, will officiate in the Universalist church next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

E. R. Redhead was elected a trustee of Syracuse University by the conference in the place of Hon. Willard Ives of Watertown.

On Friday evening Miss Ethel Tucker's Company will present "Queena" at the opera house and on Saturday evening "The Pearl of Savoy." Tickets on sale at Watson's.

A number of Fultonians visited Oswego last Friday evening to hear Joseph Murphy in "Kerry Gow." A special train was run on the R. W. & O. railroad.

D. A. Waterman has secured the general agency of the Shipman Engine company for Ohio and the river towns of Kentucky and West Virginia, with headquarters at Rochester, N. Y.

A two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Youngs was last Saturday seriously scalded by tipping over a basin of hot tea. The child is attended by Dr. Haviland and will probably recover.

The newly elected officers of the fire department were confirmed by the board of trustees last Saturdoy evening. Five new policemen were appointed: William Curtis, Paul Curtis, Paul Roderick, F. K. Jones, Milo Warner and Thomas Murphy.

Our subscribers will find on the slip each week with their names the date at which their subscriptions for THE TIMES expires. We hope that this will be watched closely and prompt remittance made as it will avoid a great amount of unnecessary annoyance and expense on our part, in collecting.

Rev A. W. Child who was in attendance at the conference was called home by the death of his wife. While in a store at Waterville on Monday evening he was struck by lightning and knocked senseless. All day yesterday he suffered excruciating pain, but is now considered out of danger.

Next Monday evening a grand testimonial benefit will be tendered the Norwegian athletes, Malaja and Olssen in Stephens opera house. The entertainment will consist of specialties by local artists of recognized ability, and will be one of the best entertainments of the kind ever shown in Fulton. Grand musical selections will be furnished by the Fulton cornet band. Admission to all parts of the house, 25 cents. The well-known ability of all the performers and the low price of admission should fill the house to overflowing. Tickets for sale at Watson's.

THOUSANDS of business men are surprised because they suddenly break down; a catastrophe that would not happen to them were the blood kept pure and the kidneys in perfect working order by Warner's safe cure.

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it.

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, Lead, Lime, Alabastine, &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. WILLIAMS' Drug Store.

Volney April 19th 1886. Whereas my wife Sarah has left my bed and board without cause or provocation whatever. I forbid all persons trusting, or harboring her on my account as I shall pay none of her debts. 50w4.
C. M. PERCIVAL.

Buy Crane's stationery at W. P. Osborne's.

Gents French calf and Kangaroo hand sewed shoes all styles and widths at Collins'.

You will find something that will interest you in the lower right hand corner of this page.

Look at the size of Red Cross Cough Syrup bottle at Williams. 39m3

We have just received a large invoice of Ladies' Dongola Kid Button shoes in C. D. and E widths [illegible]

[illegible] the park, [illegible] They represent the wealthiest of America's religious societies. Many of these are handsome in architectural beauty and beautiful in interior ornamentation. One of the most noted is that of Dr. John Hall. Dr. Hall's church is nearest the park, and it is to this church that Robt. Bonner of the Ledger gives so munificently. Between Dr. Hall and Bonner exists a strong personal frendship.

I heard Dr. Hall tell a story recently of Gen. Grant and it may be well to repeat it here. Dr. Hall said that when he was this nation's guest in 1867 and 68, he met among other people Gen. Grant and had a long conversation with him. The conversation turned upon the Indian troubles and Grant gave his opinion after a personal visit and study of the question that many of the so called outrages by the Indians, were the acts, not of Indians, but of white men, having faces stained and costumes adapted to represent the savages. This incident may be considered significant of the reason for Grant's liberal policy toward them when he became President. While Hall's church has a world-wide fame, there are two others of which mention ought to be made.

The Collegiate Reformed Dutch church is as old as the city itself, Two churches of Corporation are on the avenue. Peter Minuit, the first Governor of New Amsterdam, gave the charter to the church and that precious document is zealously guarded. With their grant of land, made by the Staats-General of Holland, came not only sufficient land for the church and school house, but also sufficient to maintain the dominie.

This land, as successive decades have rolled away has become exceedingly valuable, so much so that this corporation is after Trinity the wealthiest in America. It in reality is worth five or six millions, the income from which, they use in practical charity. It is to this church that the old Knickerbocker families belong.

Years ago the city fathers had under their control large blocks of property on 5th avenue. Long before the war some three or four of these were leased for a term of 99 years for the nominal rental of one dollar to the Catholic church. On one of these blocks, the Cathedral was erected. The Cathedral is a magnificent structure, grand and stupendous in its unfinished state, the building has been completed only so far as the money was forth coming. The towers are yet unfinished, some day an imposing ceremony more imposing than the recent conferring of the Pallium, will dedicate this edifice free of debt.

* * * * * * *

The family of ex-President Arthur are opposed to the issuing of bulletins devoted to inform the curious people as to the state of his health. What a mis fortune to be an ex-President! The popular feeling is that he should not engage in any business. Yet, why should Arthur sink into oblivion, except now and then pose before a religious assembly in the capacity of chairman. Arthur is a good lawyer, has been very successful in cases involving grave questions of constitutional and statutory law. This inaction is telling on him and to this is mainly due his recent illness. Yet in hope that some public use may be devised for our ex-President.

* * * * * * *

To the young man who has left a rural home and sought this city to gain a livelihood, the great question is, "How can I make money." On the other hand, the young man to whom a hard working, diligent, sagacious father has left a fortune, the great question is "How can I spend money." Among this last class may be found Mr. Berry Wall, the king of the dudes.

Wall is a good fellow and has good naturel abilities, but the insane idea that to be the leader of the dudes in their silly notions is sufficient fame for one man, has lead him to squander in cards, theatres, women and fine garments, a fortune of half a million in two years or so. Now he is chiefly prominent in a suit to recover a gambling debt.

These dudes get their custom and and habits from England. To be "English you know," is the ne plus ultra of fashion and this has at last, reached its culmination, because this class of people roll up their pants—no, trousers is the word—when ever it rains in London. There was a time when we were free from this lordism. Speed its return.

* * * * * * *

A tempest in a teapot is now raging in the engineering department of the new aqueduct. Lieut. Commander Craven U. S. N., consulting engineer, charges Mr. B. S. Church constructing Engineer with incompetency.

The new aqueduct is a great work, nothing of its kind has ever been constructed, and to be the engineer in charge or connected there with is a great honor and hence that profesional jealousy is the source of the trouble.

The aqueduct will be 25 miles long and is from 50 to 175 feet below the surface of the ground. It will be a tunnel 12 feet high and sufficient to deliver 300 millions gallons of water per day. It is a tremendous piece of work and of necessity must be well done. Mr. Church has been connected with our aqueduct his whole life and has not always consulted Lieut. Craven. Craven got mad and it is the unpleasant duty of Gens. Newton and Greene to investigate his charges. That they will come to the opinion above expressed is firmly believed by the

WANDERER.

Ladies' muslin underwear garments. We shall put on sale Saturday, 1000 Ladies' Misses' and Children's Muslin Underwear Garments at the uniform price of 25 cents. This is the most important sale of underwear ever offered in Fulton. H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

Spring Wheat, choice for seed. at Genesee mills.
49w4 W. S. NELSON.

Notice to Citizens.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of the village of Fulton to immediately clean up their yards, alleys, closets and out-houses of all accumulated filth and to use proper disinfectants in and about the same. All persons neglecting to comply with the requirements of this notice will be [illegible]

-CLOTHING-

Has been somewhat varied, but at last I have found a place to get

RELIABLE GOODS

for myself and boys, that is perfectly satisfactory, and I can heartily recommend others to trade with

PEEBLES & COOK,

Opposite Opera House.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING A SPECIALTY.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

I offer for rent the coming year my property situated on Fay street, in Fulton. There are about 10 acres of land, a fine fruit orchard, large barn &c. The house is new and elegantly finished. Will rent the house separately as a residence, or the entire property. Apply at once.
GEO. J. EMENY.

TO RENT—My former residence on the Emory road, a few rods east of Seventh street, comprising house, barn and two acres of land, good well, cistern and fruit—apples, pears and grapes. For particulars enquire of J. M. CHESBRO.
W. W. HILL.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—A fine dairy farm of 130 acres in Granby about 5 miles from Fulton, and one mile from cheese factory, school, church and P. O. Farm well fenced, and watered, buildings in excellent repair and plenty of them. Will be sold on easy terms or will exchange for a smaller farm in Western New York.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y. C. W. STREETER.

MONEY LOANED on good bond and mortgage
F. D. VANWAGENEN, JR

Ladies' friend carpet sweeper for sale at N. R. Cole's, Oneida street.

Real Estate and Insurance AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

A small place of two acres with a 2 story dwelling and barn with basement both in good condition on river road, five miles from Fulton.

Two good building lots. Situate on the north west corner of Buffalo and Fifth streets.

A Farm of 25 acres within a mile of Fulton, Will exchange for a house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

Stephens Opera House

H. HOWARD, MANAGER.

Two Nights Only.

Fri. and Sat. April 23 and 24.

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.

Miss Ethel Tucker,

And her Superb Company of Artists, in

QUEENA

—AND—

PEARL OF SAVOY.

ADMISSION, - - - - - - - 25, 35, and 50 cents.

☞ Tickets on sale at Watson's Drug Store.

MILTON S. PRICE,

38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets.

THE MOST EXTENSIVE

DRY GOODS, CARPETS

—AND—

FURNITURE,

Establishment in the State,

Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.

COME AND SEE

the Finest and Most Complete Stock of

Dry Goods and Fancy Goods

ever shown in this section.

COME AND SEE.

THE IMMENSE STOCK OF

CARPETS, RUGS, OIL CLOTHS, Etc.

COME AND SEE

THE FINE DISPLAY OF

FURNITURE

AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES

at prices far below competion,

FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

BARGAINS

NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.

REMEMBER

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.
HART BROS.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

This Will Interest You.

We can now show you the Largest and Finest ~~stock~~ of Spring Clothing ever offered in Fulton, and we shall continue as we have in the past year, to give you more and better Goods for the money than you will get elsewhere. This we guarantee, no matter what inducements may be offered by others to influence customers. We make a specialty of Fine suits for young men and can show a large line of them. All the Latest Styles of Hats and Caps. The Boys say we have the largest and finest assortment of neckwear in town.

One Price To All.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

D. C. MORE & Co.

Opposite Lewis House.

[illegible] DEPARTMENT.

Worth Knowing.

Cows pay better than wheat.

Mouldy corn will kill cattle.

Horses always do better on cut food.

The Welcome oats raise very heavy crops.

The English walnut is fruiting near Rochester, N. Y.

Plowing too deep hurts land that has a hard, wet clay bottom.

The Savory Drumhead cabbage is one of the best late varieties ever cultivated.

Leave plenty of potato to your potato eye if you want strong plants.

The desideratum of this country of the merino sheep bred to a mutton standard.

The free use of clover seed and keeping of farm stock enables farmers to maintain land in good condition for ordinary cropping without commercial manures.

Clover is now recognized by all live farmers as one of the most important crops to be grown on the farm, and without its use the farm must run down and finally land its owner into bankruptcy or the poor house.

Rake off the coarse litter from the asparagus bed and carefully fork in the fine manure.

A writer in Popular Gardening thinks plants are injured by having the pots too large rather than too small.

Try new varieties of seed corn, but don't give up your own until you have proof that there is something better.

A farmer who has tried steamed rye says it is the best of all grains for fattening hogs. In forty days he says he can make a hog as fat as may be desired on such food, while one that is thrifty can be finished with about five or six bushels of the the food.

For many reasons it is quite desirable to get in the various spring crops as early as practicable after the soil is in condition to be worked, without injury from moisture. This is especially the case with barley and oats.

France exports more butter than any other country in Europe. Her average for ten years ending in 1885 being over 90,000,000 pounds annually, the average value being $17,800,000. From this sum, however, must be deducted about $3,500,000, the average value of her yearly imports. France imports four times as much cheese as she exports.

The importance of our agricultural interests can in no way be more clearly set forth than by the official figures of our export trade. For several years past agricultural productions have averaged about 76 per cent of the total domestic exports, and last year amounted to a total of $546,244,733. Of this sum $127,000,000 came from animals and their products, and $160,000,000 from breadstuffs. The sum received from our agricultural exports represents but ten per cent of the total farm productions of the country, the other 90 per cent going to feed our own people.

Profits in Poultry Raising.

No other business connected with agricultural pursuits, seems so attractive as poultry farming. Even those who fail in the business and retire from it, aver that they are certain that they could succeed in a new trial. At the start, the general idea is that the business consists of throwing out corn to a flock of hens with one hand and gathering eggs with the other. But while this may be true in some cases, it is very different in others. The expert poultry raiser may perhaps meet with no difficulty, and all may go on smoothly, but the novice is in trouble from the first; the eggs are few, and the chicks die. One may easily keep ten or twelve fowls with profit, who could not double or treble this number all the difficulties which arise, such as want of cleanliness, the presence of vermin, impure air and risk of infection, increase in a much larger ratio than does the number in the flock, there is no reason why he should not do so with several flocks, if each is kept in just the same manner as the original one. Afterwards the flock may be enlarged, but as this is the very point on which most of the younger poultry raisers fail, the greatest caution should be observed in adding to the number of fowls kept in each coop or house, or yard.—[American Agriculturist for April.

A Small Dairy.

For the purpose of encouragement in these discouraging times to those that may be thinking of changing from dairying to something else that might pay better, I will give you the results of my dairy the last year, beginning January 1, 1885, and closing January 1, 1886. I have a small farm of 105 acres and have kept on it during the year three horses, one yearling heifer, one yearling bull, with sixteen cows. This tells the amount of stock kept on the place. I have done all the milking myself with the exception of about twenty times I was absent. The cows were the same ones kept the entire year, except three old ones that I sold and bought one, with two yearling heifers, to take their places. The three did not give more than two-thirds as much milk at any time as the old ones when sold. I have raised about half my cows, the rest are such as I could buy here and there, without any reference to breed. Now as to the feed they have during the year. In summer they had what grass they could pick and one acre of sound corn that was fed in the fall, green. In the winter, all the good early-cut hay they could eat up clean, three and four times a day with plenty of good water, and kept in the stable. I wish I could give the number of pounds of bran fed, but I can't. I fed 7,000 pounds of corn meal.

Pounds milk from 16 cows..............[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] referred to at the proper time. [illegible] hints regarding special crops may be forgotten unless preserved in this manner, [illegible] convenient for reference. Plans for farm buildings or their interior management may be preserved until wanted. Gates, fences, ditches and the numerous other things which make up the business of the farm, require repairs or entire reconstruction, and the hints and helps which may be afforded if the scrap-book has been well kept, are of immense value.

There are many cold and stormy days during the winter that drive the farmer in-doors, which can be spent in the repair shop, looking over and repairing the farm tools, and thus have them ready for use when the busy season comes. This not only saves valuable time when the farmer has all he can do, but it saves paying out considerable money for more extensive repairs, for a little break neglected soon leads to other breaks that will require immediate attention and a skilled workman who will not neglect to charge high for his labor.

A Misrepresented Class.

Editors are born to be misrepresented. The Dawson (Ga.) Journal cites a few of the things they have to put up with:

Editing a paper is a pleasant business—if you like it.

If it contains much political matter, people won't have it.

If the type is large it don't contain much reading matter.

If we publish telegraph reports, folks say they are nothing but lies.

If we omit them, we have no enterprise or suppress them for political effect.

If we have a few jokes folkes say we are nothing but rattleheads.

If we omit jokes we are nothing but fossils.

If we publish original matter they damn us for not giving selections.

If we give selections, people say we are lazy for not writing more, and giving them what they have not read in some other paper.

If we give a complimentary notice we are centured for being partial.

If we don't all hands say we are a great hog.

If we insert an article which pleases the ladies, the men become jealous, vice versa.

If we attend church they say it is for effect.

BECAUSE URIC ACID in the blood causes most human ailments is why Warner's safe cure restores to health so many people suffering from so many apparently different diseases. It neutralizes and removes the uric acid.

A Man With a Club.

There's a man with a club in the office down stairs, looking for the editor, remarked the devil coolly to the boss of the sanctum, as he walked in and set the towel up in the corner.

Good Lord! groaned the editor, are you sure?

Yes, replied the boy he was looking for the editor; that's what he said.

What kind of a man was he?

Tough, country-jake sort o' chap, as big as a skinded hoss an' han's on him like hams, answered the boy, with a wicked smile.

What kind of a club did he have, anything like a dray-pim? suggested the editor, watching the door nervously.

Wait till I go an' see, said the boy kindly.

In a few minutes he returned.

Well? queried the editor, moping the cold prespiration up with a last winter's blotter, well?

Ugh, grunted the boy in disappointed tones, it was a club of twenty new subscribers.

Then the editor kicked the boy gleefully and ordered him to bring the man up.—[Washington Critic.

A Useful Attendant.

Berry Wall may be the king of the dudes, but the emperor of that fraternity is certainly a Boston exquisite now at the Palace. This hot-house flower of of modern "sassity" is followed everywhere by a solemn footman who has never been known to open his lips.

The otherday an acquaintance of the Bostonian met him on Market street, and said:

"By the way, my dear boy, what do you keep that servant tagging after you for? He doesn't seem to be of any use."

"You are very—aw—much mistaken old chappie," drawled the dude. "I-aw—I couldn't get along without him—couldn't, really," and he took out his cigarette case.

"Light!"

The man stepped up and unbuttoned his coat.

"Doncher notice his vest, dear chappie?" said the lu-lu. "It's made of sand paper. I use him to scratch matches on."—[The Wasp.

A Reply That Wasn't Printed.

A patent medicine manufacturer, having sent to the wife of a prominent Newport, Ky., man a bottle of his medicine for trial, after a suitable length of time had passed wrote him as follows:

DEAR SIR—Please write over your own signature what effect the medicine had on your wife.

The reply was as follow: "She only took one dose of it, and it nearly killed her. Another would have had the desired effect, but I couldn't get her to take any more," and though the man signed his name in full to his reply, for some reason or other it was never printed in any paper by the patent medicine man.—[Kentucky State Journal.

How Many Eggs?

The number of eggs a hen will lay depends much on the care and food given. If you do not believe it glance over the following—condensed by the Cincinnati Commercial, from reliable statistics—showing the average number of eggs a hen will lay yearly: Maine [illegible] eggs to each hen; Massachusetts, [illegible]; Connecticut, [illegible]; New Hampshire, [illegible]; Rhode Island, [illegible]; Vermont, [illegible]; Pennsylvania, [illegible]; Indiana, [illegible]; Ohio, [illegible]; Tennessee, [illegible]; Kentucky, [illegible]; Iowa, [illegible]; Illinois, [illegible] Carolina, [illegible]; South Carolina, [illegible]

[illegible] Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC [illegible] Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK BEQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavilion, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with Malaria, Bowel Difficulty and sleepless nights, which I found was wearing me out. After taking Aromatic Wine two days I realized great relief, sleeping well and otherwise feeling like a new man. I cheerfully recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. I. M. DERBY, of Linden, N. Y., says: "The Gilmore Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife." For sale by H. C. Giesler.

The snow that blows in the spring, tra la, and stops all the traffic and trade, is a most undesirable thing, tra la, and catches us all on the wing, tra la, and lays us out as cold as a spade. So that's what I mean when I say or I sing, oh, bother the snow that blows in the spring, tra, la la la la, etc.—[Detroit Free Press.

Many persons have catarrh in its first stages who suppose themselves to be troubled with nothing more serious than a severe and stubborn cold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm gives instant relief from colds in the head, and a thorough treatment will cure catarrh. For sale by every druggist in the land. 48w4

The story about the loss of Mrs. E. D. Morgan's diamonds in the Oregon and their recovery from the sunken vessel, was an invention. Mrs. Morgan carried her diamonds with her when she was transferred to the Fulda. The jewels were worth $50,000.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

Gen. and Mrs. Fremont are in Washington hard at work upon the General's memoirs. Mrs. Fremont is nominally her husband's secretary, but bears fully half the burden of arrangement of materials and composition.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Out of 7,000 bills introduced into the present Congress, only three have become laws up to a recent date.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Parnell is supposed to receive more letters and answer fewer than any other conspicuous politician now in public life.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites
In Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

DR. C. W. BARRINGER, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "I find Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is a very fine preparation, and fills a long felt want. It is very useful in consumption and wasting diseases." 45w

The U. S. mint at New Orleans makes 85,000 silver dollars per day. The waste in coining $1,000 is less than 25 cents.

AN ENTERPRISING, RELIABLE HOUSE.

R. E. Phillips can always be relied upon, not only to carry in stock the best of everything, but to secure the Agency for such articles as have well-known merit, and are popular with the people, thereby sustaining the reputation of being always enterprising, and very reliable. Having secured the Agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and every affection of Throat, Lungs, and Chest, and to show our confidence, we invite you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free.

Grant's birthday, April 27, is to be observed in Binghamton. John A. Logan will deliver an address.

I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for the last five years. About three years ago I commenced the use of Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only remedy for catarrh I have used with satisfaction, and it has accomplished a cure in my case.—H. L. Myer, Waverly, N. Y.

Speaker Husted reports that the Legislature will adjourn sine die either on May 6th or 13th.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

There are eighteen soldier's orphan schools in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

There are about 4,000 women on the pay rolls of the government.

A CURE FOR PIMPLES.

My face for the last few years was covered with pimples so bad, that I used to be ashamed to go anywhere. I took two bottles of Sulphur Bitters and the pimples disappeared. I take them every spring.—[H. T. Dow, Fall River.

Kansas City, with its suburbs, has now [illegible]

[illegible]

A Wonderful Strengthener.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

WHAT IS IT?

A strictly vegetable preparation, composed of a choice and skillful combination of Nature's best remedies. The discoverer does not claim it a cure for all the ills, but boldly warrants it cures every form of disease arising from a torpid liver, impure blood, disordered kidneys, and where there is a broken down condition of the System, requiring a prompt and permanent tonic, it never fails to restore the sufferer. Such is BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Sold by all druggists, who are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the price to any purchaser who is not benefited by their use.

PRICE, $1.00.

FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Props.,

BUFFALO, NEW YORK.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

COAL!

The best coal in the market is the Lackawanna.

IT IS THE

Purest, Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 2m6

E. E. SCHENCK,

Planing Mill, and Lumber Dealer.

Ceilings, Sidings,

[illegible]

[illegible] tells of a remarkable cure effected by Acker's Blood Elixir; [illegible] literally covered with ulcers, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

A telephone now connects New York city with Washington, the distance between the two cities being 228 miles.

AN ANSWER WANTED.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaint quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale at 50 cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

Chicago is in danger of inundation. Lake Michigan rises four inches a year, and in seven years it has raised two and one-half feet.

A BABY SAVED!

Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it was no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more the sores all healed and I considered my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

It is estimated that 15 cars a day for a period of 4 months will be required to market the orange crop of Southern California.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane, almost invariably originating in the nasal passages and maintaining its stronghold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh in its worst stages, and gives immediate relief from cold in head. It contains no injurious drugs. Price fifty cents. 43w4

The Pennsylvania fish commission has just distributed 15,000,000 of young white fish in Lake Erie.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs 70,000 men, a respectable army.

BILIOUSNESS

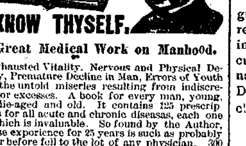
Is very prevalent at this season, symptoms being bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness dizziness, loss of appetite. If this condition is allowed to continue, serious consequences may result. By promptly taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, a fever may be avoided or prevented. It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

A STANDARD MEDICAL WORK

FOR YOUNG and MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

ONLY $1 BY MAIL, POSTPAID.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL.



A Great Medical Work on Manhood.

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle-aged and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each one of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 25 years is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full guilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1.00 by mail, postpaid. Illustrative sample free to any body. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the President of which, the Hon. P. A. Bissell, and associate officers of the Board the reader is respectfully referred.

The Science of Life is worth more to the young and middle-aged men of this generation than all the gold mines of California and the silver mines of Nevada combined.—S. F. Chronicle.

The Science of Life points out the rocks and quicksands on which the constitution and hopes of many a young man have been fatally wrecked.—Manchester Mirror.

The Science of Life is of greater value than all the medical works published in this country for the past fifty years.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Science of Life is a superb and masterly treatise on nervous and physical debility.—Detroit Free Press.

There is no member of society to whom the Science of Life will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all other physicians a specialty. Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. Mention THE FULTON TIMES. 39y1

Established FAY'S [illegible] 1866.

MANILLA ROOFING!

Takes the lead; does not corrode like tin or iron, nor decay like shingles or tar compositions; easy to apply; strong and durable; at half the cost of tin. Is also a SUBSTITUTE for PLASTER at Half the Cost. CARPETS and RUGS of same material, double the wear of Oil Cloths. Catalogue and samples FREE. W. H. FAY & CO., CAMDEN, N. J.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1886 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and Never Breaks.

[illegible]

[illegible]

The poet that blooms in the spring, tra la!
Will ere long be yearning for "space"
With vigor the ink he will sling, tra la!
And the style of the poem he'll bring, tra la!
Will be "chock-full" of genius and grace;
But the editor'll frown when he looks at the thing,
And say: "Bother the poet that blooms in the spring!"
Tra la, la, la, la!
Tra la, la, la, la!
"To the cats with the poem on spring!"
—[Texas Siftings.

He was such a lah-de dah fellah,
Who said, on a joakist intent:
"It's raining; now where's my umbrella?
Why, yes, to be sure; it is Lent!"
Cover him over, Pietro,
And plant in the yard below;
Bid every bell of the convent toll,
For the peace of the poor Lent-Joker's soul!
—[Tid-Bits.

We don't know why the "crush hat" is so called unless it crushes a man's feelings to supply his wife with the articles.—[Stockton Jester.

Proprietor (table d'hote restaurant)—"Would you like more vinegar on your salad, sir?"

Customer—"No, this claret will supply any deficiency in that respect."—[French Joke.

Whether or not silence is golden, speech is undoubtedly silver in the present session of congress.—[Lynn Union.

This being the year of strikes would it not be in order for editors to strike their readers for something to live on?—[National Weekly.

An actor who was pelted with eggs too old to have any fun in life complained to the authorities that he had been fowl-ly dealt with.—[Burlington Free Press.

Nothing recalls to the mind of the married man the joys of single life so vividly as to find that the baby has been eating crackers in bed.—[Texas Siftings.

President Cleveland's eye never wanders; but looks him full in the face of one to whom he speaks. So says the National Weekly. This is not, we suppose, a sly lick at Ben. Butler.—The Pacific Jester.

Solomon was the first man to suggest the parting of the heir in the middle. It was when the woman got into a lawsuit, and each appealed to Solomon to give her the heir and give the other woman fits.—Goodall's Chicago Sun.

Shylock—Dot vas a fine play of Richard III, und und dot Pooth he vas a good actor. Gundlefinger—Ya-as, dot vas so; but he vas no peezness man. Shylock—Vy not? Gundlefinger—Dake dot horse drade in de last act. Did you effer see a man gif himself avay like dot? Vy, I haf a frent dot vould haf solt him de pest horse in New York for den dollars and a halluf, drono de harness in.—[Puck.

First young lady—"These horrid men! There goes three more! Why can't they sit quietly in their seats as we do?" Second ditto—"I don't for my part see how they can know what the play is about." Elderly man, in the rear seat—"We don't. We haved't seen anything but your tall hats or heard anything but your chatter since the curtain rose." He is taken out and promptly shot.—[Philadelphia Call.

What is a Navy Bean?

MORGAN, Tex.—I was afflicted with gravel, and could, only get temporary relief from physicians. Pain excruciating. Used three bottles Warner's safe cure and passed a stone as large as a navy bean, giving me complete relief.—DAVE GILLIS, Organ and sewing machine dealer.

Selected Humor.

Isn't an attempt to prove an alibi self denial.

When a stout printer has the rheumatism he must look out for the "fat ache."

Many a man in a cooper's shop has found that even a barrel hoop will turn if trodden on.

As an Irishman might say, the most unhappy people in the world are those who don't live here.

There may be nothing witty in the wag of a dog's tail, yet it is the animal's way of expressing a smile.

Wanted—The man who can address a Sundy school without beginning his speech with "When I was a little boy."

People who write poetry "just to kill time" will find that time will not be murdered by measure without retaliating.

Teacher.—Give me en instance of procrastination.

Pupil—The Aldermen's unwillingness to squeal.

The Boston girl never hollers "hello" at the mouth of the telephone. She simply says "I take the liberty of addressing you via a wire surcharged with electricity."

A gentleman writes: About my process of irrigation—I plow along each side of my rows of celery and fill the furrows full of water. I do this the same as to-day and fill the furrows again to-morrow. Then I plow back the furrows and it needs no further watering for about a week or ten days, when I do the same thing again. My water is all supplied by means of a steam pump from a driven well, I can irrigate, with three men, three acres in a day.

This is the best season in which to purify the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla gives an appetite and enables the stomach to perform its duty.

His Name Was G. W.

One of the managers of a home for destitute colored children tells a funny story about the way Washington's Birthday was celebrated at that institution. She went out there in the afternoon to see how things were going on, and found a youngster as black as as the inside of a coal mine, tied to a bed post with his hands behind him.

"What's that boy tied up so for?" she asked the attendant.

"For lying, ma'am; he is the worst lying nigger I ever saw."

"What's his name?"

"George Washington, ma'am," was the paralyzing reply.—[Washington Capital.

Major Gen. Terry on Friday assumed command of the department of the Missouri. The transfer was made without ceremony, Gen. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use Sulphur Bitters, and you will not be troubled.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Sulphur Bitters will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

Sulphur Bitters will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.

37tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS.

Send sketch or model of invention and $5 for examination. Applications for patents prepared and prosecuted. Rejected cases, infringements, interferences and legal opinions a specialty. Send stamp for book on Patents.

HENRY WISE GARNETT,

Solicitor of Patents, Attorney-at-Law, and Counselor in Patent Causes, Washington, D. C. References: Riggs & Co., Bankers, and 2d Nat. Bk., Wash., D. C.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted.
STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y,
40w4 Boston, Mass.

LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment.
Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G. CO.
P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

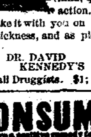
ELY'S

CREAM BALM

CATARRH
ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S
OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
HAY-FEVER

when applied into the nostrils, will be absorbed effectually, cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores sense of taste and smell. Not a Liquid or a Snuff. Apply a particle of the Balm into each nostril. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents, by mail, or at druggists.
ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent, to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
14 Barclay St. N. Y.



March April May

SPRING is a trying time. Indications of disease should be heeded. If you have Indigestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver and kidneys, or Want of Appetite, take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to PURIFY THE BLOOD without delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house, and take it with you on journeys. It is cheaper than sickness, and as pleasant as the hand of a friend.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY,
By all Druggists. $1; 6 for $5. Rondout, N. Y.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
Address Dr. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

FITS STOPPED FREE

Marvelous success. Insane Persons Restored. Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER for all BRAIN & NERVE DISEASES. Only sure cure for Nerve Affections, Fits, Epilepsy, etc. INFALLIBLE if taken as directed. No Fits after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges on box when received. Send names, P. O. and express address of afflicted to Dr. KLINE, 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. See Druggists. BEWARE OF IMITATING FRAUDS.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.
HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES
Over 2,000 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free. A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Philadelphia.

[illegible]

[illegible]

OSWEGO.—At the Court House in Oswego, [illegible] Tuesday in each month, [illegible]

[illegible]—At the law office of Hon. [illegible] on the third Friday [illegible]

FULTON—At the office of C. H. [illegible], in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

[illegible]—At the office of Hon. [illegible], in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, [illegible] and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the [illegible] in Central Square, on April 30th and September [illegible]

PARISH—At A. E. & J. L. [illegible], April 20th, July 20th and Sept. [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

CHESBRO, THOMAS W.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Chesbro, late of the Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, the Citizens' National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886, next.
Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.
FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWageenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 15th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.
ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Joel Chubb and Jane Chubb delivered, to Eunice A. Pardee, dated the first day of Jan'y., 1877, recorded with the power of sale therein contained in the clerk's office of Oswego county, on the seventh day of February, 1877, in Liber 111, of mortgages, at page 260, given to secure the payment of the sum of $1300. And whereas the sum of $[illegible] is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice and to become due the further sum of $[illegible], and no action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof and said power of sale has become operative. Therefore notice is hereby given that by reason of the facts aforesaid and in pursuance of the Statute in such case made and provided the mortgaged premises described in said mortgage as follows, to wit.: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby (formerly Lysander) and known and distinguished as the south half of survey fifty acres of Lot No. nine (9) in the town aforesaid. Also all that other tract or parcel of land situate in said Town of Granby, and being a lot of one and one half acres of land on Great Lot No. nine (9) of the original township of Lysander, now Granby, and being on the east side of the river road leading from the south line of said town to the city of Oswego. The said lot hereby intended to be conveyed being bounded on the north by lands owned by Smith Southard, on the east by the survey fifty acres of said lot No. nine (9), on the south by lands formerly owned by Nahum Chubb, and west by the centre of said river road and being the same premises conveyed by Nahum Chubb to Jane Chubb by deed dated Jan'y. 17, 1876. Also all that other tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby aforesaid known as subdivision No. four (4) of Lot No. sixty-two (62) in the original township of Hannibal, now Granby, as subdivided by Barnet Mooney, Samuel Farnham and Asa Dudley commissioners in partition appointed by the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Oswego—will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper in the village of Fulton, county of Oswego, New York, on the 24th day of April, 1886, at 10 a. m. of that day and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.
Dated Jan'y 26, 1886.
GILES S. PIPER, Attorney, Fulton, N.Y.
EUNICE A. PARDEE, Mortgagee.

MORTGAGE SALE—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Joel Chubb, delivered to Richard Smith, dated the twenty-fourth day of October, 1857, recorded with the power of sale therein contained in the clerk's office of the county of Oswego, on the twenty-sixth day of October, 1857, in Liber 46 of mortgages, at page 218, given to secure the payment of the sum of $704.86 duly assigned by said Richard Smith to Benjamin Smith and by said Benjamin Smith to Richard L. Smith, who is now the lawful holder and owner of the same, and whereas the sum of $1138. is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice being the whole amount unpaid secured by said mortgage and an action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof and said power of sale has become operative. Therefore notice is hereby given that by reason of the facts aforesaid and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided the mortgaged premises described in said mortgage as follows, to wit.: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Lysander (originally) but in the present town of Granby, in the county of Oswego, and state of New York, known and distinguished as the south half of the survey fifty acres of Lot number nine in the town aforesaid. Also all that other piece or parcel of land situate in the Town of Granby, county of Oswego and State of New York known and distinguished as subdivision Lot number four of the original Lot number sixty-two in the original town-township of Hannibal, in the state aforesaid as subdivided by Barnet Mooney, Samuel Farnham and Asa Dudley, commissioners appointed by the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Oswego, to make partition of said Lot number sixty-two, to wit.: Beginning at the north-east corner of Lot number sixty-two; thence south on the line of said lot to the north east corner of States' hundred number six; thence west on the north line of States' hundred number six aforesaid to the south-east corner of Thomas Sanburn's land; thence north on the east line of the said Sanburn's land to the north line of said lot and thence east to the place of beginning containing eighty-nine acres be the same more or less.; the two parcels above described are the same premises conveyed to the party of the first part herein by the three following described conveyances to which conveyances reference is hereby made for a more full description to wit.: First deed Asa Phillips and wife to Joel Chubb, dated May 31, 1853, recorded in the clerk's office of Oswego Co., Aug. 19, 1853, in Book 62 of deeds, page 556; Samuel Cogsdell and wife to Joel Chubb, dated November 26, 1854, recorded in the Oswego County clerk's office, February 19, 1854, in Book 68 of deeds, pages 87 and 88; Third Garrit Smith and wife to Joel Chubb April 7, 1852, recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, August 19, 1855, in Book No. 62, of deeds, pages 555 and 556, will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, New York, on the 24th day of April, 1886, at 10 a. m. of that day, and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.
Dated Jan'y 26, 1886:
GILES S. PIPER, Attorney, Fulton, N. Y.
RICHARD L. SMITH, Assignee.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT, an elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, producing when dissolved in water an Exhilerating, Effervescing Draught, recommended by our best Physicians as a reliable and agreeable remedy. It cures Constipation, cures Dyspepsia, cures Piles, cures Heartburn, cures Sick-Headache, cures Sick Headache, cures Liver Complaint, cures Sick Stomach, and gently urges all the Excretory organs to a proper action. It should be found in every household and be carried by every traveler. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen. Exclusive territory. Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO. Stewart Building, N. Y.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 18—NUMBER 51

$1.50 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

The Old Country Store.

How well I remember,
(Perhaps you do, too,)
When the towns were much smaller,
And the country was new,
How the mails came on horse back,
Once a week, past our door,
And were straightway delivered
At the old country store.

There were dry goods and blankets,
Mixed up with the news;
There was ready-made clothing,
Hats and caps, boots and shoes;
There were large candy apples,
Which were red to the core,
And fat candy babies
At the old country store.

How often I ventured,
While waiting the mail,
To price the toy play-things,
I found there for sale.
There were no "Five-Cent Counters,"
In those glad days of yore;
And 'twas seldom I purchased
At the old country store.

A cheap line of hardware
Filled up the back end.
And a few crooked scythe snaths,
With a natural bend,
Were kept in a barrel
Which stood near the door;
With things large and small,
In that old country store.

There were needles and thimbles,
Horse-collars, and cheese,
Tobacco and liquorice,
Live rats and brisk fleas;
New Orleans molasses,
Almost too thick to pour;
All under one roof
In the old country store.

A Bit of Gossip.

There is a young lady of Troy
Most handsome and winsome and coy;
We are nothing to blame
That we don't give her name,
For that might the story destroy.

She got from a lady a letter—
In Buffalo 'twas that she met her—
We don't know her name,
But, then, that's just the same,
And perhaps it is something the better.

This letter declares, it is said,
That Cleveland's decided to wed;
The bride told the news,
Said she couldn't refuse,
And will soon to the altar be led.

There's the story for what it is worth—
You know its career from its birth;
Perhaps you're suspicious
But of gossip delicious
You'll have to admit there's a dearth.
—[Columbus Dispatch.

WHIST.

I WAS invited by a good friend of mine to a whist party, and I unhesitatingly accepted. I had been at his house before, and had had such a good time that I was anxious to go again. When I told another friend of mine about the invitation, he said:

"I didn't know you could play whist."

"I can't."

"Then why in the world do you go to a whist party."

"Well, I don't suppose they will be playing whist all the time. There will probably be a euchre table or two, and, if not, I can wander around and look at the hands and give suggestions. My ignorance ought to qualify me for throwing out some hints about the play."

"Now," said my friend warningly, "you take my advice. Refuse that invitation at once. Telegraph if necessary. Say you have broken a limb, or your neck, or something. Say anything, but don't go to that party."

"Why, is it so dangerous as all that?"

"Dangerous? Why, you evidently have no idea what whist is. In any event, your partner, whoever it happens to be, will hate you forever afterward with an undying hatred. No object is to be more pitied than the man who plays a poor hand at whist."

"But I don't intend to play an indifferent hand. There is still a week before the party comes off, and I intend to learn the game in that time."

"Oh! you do, do you? Well, try it. I suppose you would have no trouble in learning French or German in a week. If you are able to master the French language in that time, then there is some remote chance that you may learn how to play reasonably well at whist. It's worth experimenting on. Get Cavendish and make the attempt."

"Who is Cavendish?"

"Why, he's the standard authority on the game."

So I went to a bookstore to purchase the volume.

"Looking for some reading matter?" said a friend I met there.

"I am going to get Cavendish on whist."

"Oh, you don't want Cavendish. Pole's your man. That's the authority on whist."

That staggered me, and I didn't make the purchase, but I asked another whist player which was the best book to get on the game, Cavendish or Pole.

"Well," he said, "they are both very learned men, but this is one subject on which they are ignorant, and that is whist. Get Proctor. He's the man you want."

And so it went. Everybody seemed to have a different author. I got around it by buying all the books, and I have them here before me. Mark Twain said he knew what he was talking about when he spoke on the German language, for he had studied it three whole weeks. I am a similar authority on whist, for I [illegible] and have studied the game thoroughly for about [illegible] days.

Some of the books are beautifully [illegible]

[illegible] about his hand from the card that A played, was truly wonderful. He found out that A was strong in certain cards and weak in certain others: that he had this card and that card, and and that if C got the lead he was to do so and so. This information multiplied as the game went on, until it seemed to me that there was little chance of a person concealing what he had in his hand. It strikes me that it would be much more convenient, and save a great deal of trouble, for each person to show his hand at the beginning of the game, still that might not be considered good whist. Well, I spread the cards on the table, divided each fellow's hand as it was given in the book, and then worried through game after game, trying to see how it was that C found out all the things the notes said he did, if he were not gifted with second sight. After I learned the game thoroughly, I invited three friends of mine, who were whist players, up to the house, and we sat down for a genial game of whist. We sat down good humoredly, and the play started out right merrily, but after a while a certain gloom seemed to settle on the company, and I thought I saw a wave of despair pass over my partner's face now and then. After the first game they declined another, and did not seem to feel like playing whist again that evening. I never got them to come again. Before half a dozen games had been played, I had used up all the friends I had who knew whist. Now they appear to avoid me when they meet me, and so I am beginning to think that whist is not at all as sociable a game as some people claim it is. I have all these whist books on hand which I will sell cheap. At present I am reading the stories in them. There is one nice thing about a book on whist; it is full of stories at the end of the book. I find that James Clay was a very noted whist player. He seemed to be a cool, quiet sort of a man. Once when Clay was looking on a game, the player played a knave instead of a king as he should have done. When he lost his trick he turned to Clay and asked him if he thought the finesse of the knave was justifiable. Clay answered very slowly, gazing at the opposite wall in an abstracted manner, "At the game of whist as played in England, (a pause) you are not called upon to win a trick, (another pause) unless you please."

Another answer of his is recorded: "It has been computed," he said very deliberately to a victim who asked him if, under certain conditions, he should have lead trumps; "it has been computed that 11,000 young Englishmen, once heirs to fair fortunes, are wandering about the continent in a state of utter destitution, because they would not lead trumps with five and an honor in their hand."

On another occasion somebody played a wrong card, and, on being taxed with it turned to Clay and asked if he did not think the play was defensible.

Clay meditatingly looked at the ceiling, and answered slowly:

"I have heard of its being done once before (pause) by a dear old friend of mine."

The victim asked if the friend was a good judge of whist.

"I am bound to add," said Clay, as if the admission was wrung from him, "that he died very shortly afterward, (pause) in a lunatic asylum."

The difference in whose ox was gored is shown by the following:

A Major bet £5 on a game that was going on. He walked to the other side of the room, and when the game was finished the player called out:

"Major, that's a fiver!"

The Major replied: "I had no bet."

"Yes, you had," said the player, "you bet me a fiver."

"You are mistaken," said the Major, "I did not bet."

"Yes," said the player, but you won the fiver."

"Oh, yes," said the Major, brightening up, "I recollect, now, I backed that deal."

A player who said he knew how to play whist, asked innocently, when the cards were dealt, "Why, do you deal out all the cards at this game?"

"I don't think you know what finessing means," said an angry player to another.

"Oh, yes, I do," replied the other, "it's playing cards you haven't got."

Proctor seems to be a pretty serious man. When some of the other whist players in their books tell a story, Proctor shows by mathematical calculation that the story cannot be true. Proctor is always for mathematics first and whist afterward. One whist man tells us of how the Earl of Yarborough was always ready to wager £1,000 to £1 against the occurrence of a hand at whist in which there would be no cards better than a nine. To an ordinary person that looked as if the Earl had taken a big risk. Proctor at once jumps on that story and shows that the noble Earl had greatly the advantage. He gives us a page of figures and calculations, which he will excuse me for reproducing here, and the computations show that Yarborough should really have bet £1,827 to £1. He says that if Yarborough had offered that wager to each member of a whist party for ten deals on each of a hundred nights for ten years, he would have cleared £18,000.

I have postponed the study of whist until after I learn the Chinese language.
—[Duke Sharp in Detroit Free Press.

The average hight of Europe has been estimated by a German geographer to be 974 feet. [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Gainesboroughs are coming in all their glory.

Pale bronze is a popular color in spring goods.

Purple and yellow seems to be the prevailing colors.

Cream ecru and gray crochet laces will be used for dress trimmings.

The old-fashion grenadine barege is revived for mourning dresses.

Brilliant scarlet has again become the fashionable color for all ball dresses.

Colored silk laces will be used for trimming silks and for millinery purposes.

Parisian fashion decrees that every dress must have a mantle to correspond.

Lace covered parasols in black, ecru and pure white are very pleasing and very expensive.

Spring jackets corresponding to the walking costume are trimmed with straight card fringe.

Henrietta cloth, covered with crape, is the first choice for dresses worn in the deepest mourning.

White organdy collars and cuffs with deep hems are worn by some widows with their first dresses.

Dark brown cashmere with vest and skirt of buff silk of buff silk striped with brown or red velvet, is very stylish.

Rough checks will be more used for children's blouse wraps than the striped jersey flannels of last year.

Bands and revers of velvet, with beads, drop fringes and passementeries, will be used extensively for trimming.

The fashion of wearing a narrow band of black velvet ribbon about the throat fastened with a small pin is revived.

The polonaise will be again much worn. When of plain material the vest collar, revers and large pockets are of velvet.

Brown, biege, and fawn color are the leading tints of grave colors. Pink will be much worn; the new shade is called Venus.

Pretty little copper kettles fastened above a small alcohol lamp, and fastened with a stand and supports are used for afternoon teas.

The first mourning dress worn for a parent, brother or sister, or child, is of Henrietta cloth in winter or of nun's veiling in the summer.

A pretty French model for next season's summer gowns is in somewhat novel fabric. It is an all-over embroidery of fine nainsook in a delicate shade of blue made over a lining of shell-pink silk.

Entire overdresses of wool guipure, made up without lining, will be worn over silk slips for semi-dress occasions, and fine grade of wool guipure net will be conspicuous in all dresses prepared for summer resorts.

There is nothing prettier for children's dresses that is easily done and inexpensive than feather stitching of a contrasting color, or the beading and fine feather headings which can now be purchased in white.

Young widows wear night caps, in fanchion-pointed shape, with black bows; those who are older, wear the large mob crown, with pleats or folds in front, and strings of the same fastened below the back hair.

Baseball Prizes During 1886.

For losing an ear, appointment as usher in the grand stand.

A broken finger joint, lay off until it is well.

Scraping skin from elbow in stealing a base, promise of an increase in salary; both elbows, two promises.

Getting second on a long slide, (basement of pants must remain intact) autographs of managers.

For having wire from mask driven into the skull, loud applause from directors; for getting killed, set of resolutions, without frame, to relatives.

For twisting the ankle in trying to make an impossible play, a monkey wrench; it will be found a useful implement in such cases.

Bruising the shins, the right to rub them.

For losing the sight of the eyes in trying to catch a fly in the face of the sun, release, with back pay.

For having spike in an opponent's shoe driven through the instep, two day's vacation.

Having teeth knocked out and continuing to play, the privilege of being called "tough."

For killing a scorer, a $1,000 United States bond.

For kicking against the umpire's decisions, when he is known to be right, two shoes from a mule; this an emblematic trophy.

The management in offering the above prizes, does it for the purpose of encouraging the players to put forth their best endeavors, as by doing so the games will be more entertaining; and with the hope that the dividends will be larger than they otherwise would be.—[Boston Herald.

A Large Hand.

"Henry Smith of [illegible], is a palace car conductor on the Erie railway. His 'run' is between Jersey City and Elmira. His [illegible]

Life on the Locomotive.

As a class locomotive engineers are not to be envied. Their position is one of great danger and responsibility, and is obtained only by years of hard and exhaustive training. The hours are long and irregular and the duties so exacting that a trifling error may undo the work of a lifetime. The trade or profession of an engineer differs in no respect from the other trades and professions, in that the first lessons, or preparatory steps must be just as thoroughly mastered. Of course the first step is to learn to keep up steam and to become familiarized with the uses of the different parts of the locomotive. Many a green fireman despairingly rolls his eyes towards the steam gauge and wonders if the time will ever come when it will be an easy task to keep that slender needle above the century point.

It comes to him, however, with practice, but not as quickly, perhaps as does the knack of jumping from a moving train without detriment to clothes or body. Most men stand on the stirrup with the foot farthest from the train held straight out. This is neither the safe nor the easy way. If you wish to jump from, say the right hand side, let your right foot remain on the stirrup, add swinging well back put your left foot from underneath. When you strike the ground your feet are in such position as to be ready for the next step, or if you do fall it will invariably be away from the train, and not under the wheels.

Engineers who have never had an accident, and have always been noted for their careful running, have been known to incontinently throw over reds for greens and make a bad failure in general, showing beyond a doubt their total inability to distinguish colors. Yet these same men would never run past a red light or fail to stop when the proper signal color was shown. The explanation generally given and accepted is that, although a red light may not look red to him, yet he is trained, and experience has taught him, that that particular shade of light or bag signifies danger. It is with a feeling akin to disappointment, to see in an account of a terrible railroad collision that the engineer escaped injury by jumping. It takes very little time for an engineer to do all in his power towards stopping the train, and having done this there is, no valid reason why he should stay on the engine any longer. Old runners, however, say that no fear of personal danger enters the mind when an accident is imminent, but the one thought of stopping the train at all hazzards absorbs them, even until the crash comes, and it is only at almost the last instant that safety is sought in flight.

A Convent Secret.

St. Ann's Academy, 814 Tucker street, Philadelphia, Pa.—One of the sisters was very sick with constant pain in the back. Could not take any solid food. She can eat meat and vegetables, sleeps well and attends to her other duties. She suffered constantly from ulcers in the mouth and throat. Are all gone. She used Warner's safe cure.—SISTER M. VICTORINE.

Twenty-Four O'clock.

It sounds odd, but we are coming to it slowly but surely. The railroads will have to lead off as they did in the scheme for uniformity of time in certain sections, and when a few attempts have been made it will be just as easy to go to bed at twenty-two o'clock as it is now at ten o'clock. The first advance has already been made. The Canadian Pacific railroad is about to adopt the twenty-four hour method of distinguishing time upon its time card for the 1,900 miles of its western division, and no doubt other roads will soon follow the example. It will do away with the cumbersome a. m. and p. m. and once we get accustomed to it there will be no desire to go back to the old method. Charles A. Dowd, A. M., of Saratoga, who was the author of the standard time system adopted by the railroads two years ago and now in such general use, has just written a forcible article in the Railway Age urging the 24-hour method. He admits that it will seem a little awkward at first, but as he points out, usage will soon make it natural. Its very simplicity will finally commend it, and the more the subject is studied the more will people be impressed with its value. It took eleven years of agitation to secure the adoption of standard time. It was presented by Mr. Dowd as early as 1872 in the exact form now in use, but it is evident the other change will be made in much less time. Twenty-four hours make a day; why not then enumerate the hours from one to twenty-four.

Mr. Gould's Liberality.

During his recent Florida trip Mr. Jay Gould visited Fernandina. His advent had been heralded and the town was agog. The baggageman at the depot handled his multitude of trunks and valises with unwonted care. Mr. Gould personally supervised the operation. When it was completed he graciously slipped a coin into the hand of the "smasher." It felt just like a new $5 gold piece, and the lookers observed a glance of joy on the workman's face. For some moments the coin lay unexamined in the palpitating palm. At last Mr. Gould was gone, and the man was no longer restrained from feasting his eyes on the prize. He did so; it was a bright new nickel five cent piece.—[Town Topics.

Heavy Weights.

The present Cabinet is one of heavy weights. The President weighs over [illegible]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 16, 1886.

Although the President is quiet and leads an orderly, business-like life which would seem to furnish no food for the gossips, they again have him about to be married. It would be very remarkable if he could find any time for love-making or love thinking in the midst of his present duties.

In the early morning his desk presents an interesting sight. Papers of every description are there, pertaining to almost every subject, and the writing on the envelopes is a study. People resort to every means to catch his ear and eye and present their claims after their own style. "Personal" is written on most of the letters addressed to him, but his mail is gone through by Col. Lamont and the sub-secretaries, and only the really personal and important letters are laid on the Executive desk.

One of the President's duties is that of appeasing the autograph craze. Whether he takes pleasure in this or not, he is resigned and goes through with it good-naturedly. He usually writes his signature in this way. Grover Cleveland, April 16th, 1886. When he goes to his office in the morning, doorkeeper Loeffler, three times a week, takes in a little load of autograph albums and lays them before him. The President has never refused to write his name in these books, but Loeffler is careful not to burden him with too many at a time.

A few weeks ago some ladies interested in one of the charitable institutions of this city, called on Mr. Cleveland and requested that he donate his signature to be voted for at a fair to be given for the benefit of the charity. He seized a piece of paper, then stopped, and, opening a drawer pulled out his check book, filled it in for a substantial amount, and signed it giving it to them with the remark, "I guess that autograph will do more good."

Not only do residents of the city and visitors leave their albums with the President's doorkeeper for the Presidential autograph, but by every mail, also, come letters requesting the President to send his autograph to the writers. Sometimes he varies the way of writing his name by following the date with "Executive Mansion" or "White House" but never writes "President."

Autograph hunters are always plentiful about the Capitol as well as the White House. Leading Senators and Representatives are daily solicited for their signatures by visitors and residents. Most of them are accommodating and comply with the request of the page who seeks them, book in hand, but I have noticed that the new members show the greatest alacrity in gratifying this demand.

There are real "autograph fiends" who make a business of collecting. They go about it systematically, setting apart one portion of their book for Senators, another for Representatives, Supreme Court Justices, Cabinet Officers, poets, historians, authors and preachers. During the sessions of Congress the the pages make quite a good thing of procuring the autographs of the members for such collections.

Some of the albums left at the White House contain autographs of great interest. In one was the chirography of Josiah Henson, the original of Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom," written in 1878, when Henson was eighty-nine years of age. One of Wendell Phillips' peculiarities was to write with his name the words, "Peace if possible, justice at any cost." A characteristic of the evangelist Moody is to write before his name John 14, 3, in the hope of instilling a seed of Christianity into the minds of those who read by causing them to refer to that chapter of the Testament.

The contest in the Senate for the practical abolition of secret sessions is now going on and the indications are that it will go on until the question shall be decided. It is politics that is back of the movement that on both sides of the chamber. The Republicans believe that by making public all that the committees have gathered and may gather as to the controlling reasons for making changes in office, they will be able to show that the Administration has been influenced more by political reasons than by civil service ideas. The Democrats are not willing to subject themselves to the charge of being afraid to let the public know all that the Senate may learn with regard to removals. The Democratic Senators freely charge that the proposition is a political move on the part of their opponents, but, as one of the most, prominent Democrats of the body said, "we can't afford to oppose it, because it is a popular move."

Senator Logan said, "The secrets of executive sessions were let out in some way." Was there ever an executive session to consider an important matter from which something had not leaked out? The newspaper men got the secrets from somebody—Mr. Logan did not know from whom—probably from the spittoons or the desks of the Senate Chamber—of course not from any Senator.

IF YOU suffer from "blood taint" in any of its three stages, whether "primary" "secondary" or "tertiary," that produces such horrible ravages, and results in cancerous humors, sloughing sores, and communicates its effects to the innocent and helpless, do not have yourself treated by the old methods, and by those who will fill your system with mineral poisons, which invariably leave their effects, the remedy oftimes being as bad as the disease, but give yourself [illegible]

With His Neck Broken.

Frank Spencer, a young man living at Elizabeth, while exercising in a gymnasium in April, 1883, fell from a horizontal bar. He was carried home unconscious. The doctors who were summoned said that he had broken his neck and that he could not live an hour. After four days, however, consciousness returned, but he could not move a muscle below his head. He lingered in this condition for two years, and then Dr. Morris of Bellevue Hospital and other New York surgeons performed an operation intended to make life less a burden to the young man.

An incision was made in the back of his neck and down the spine eight inches from the base of the skull, and the vertebræ and other pieces of bone had been crushed into the spinal column, killing the nerves and checking circulation of blood, producing paralysis. It was hoped by the surgeons that the portion of the spinal column which had become dead could be taken out, and the two live ends of the column joined together. These were taken out and the parts cleaned. It was found that the distance, four and a half inches, was too great to bring the severed ends of the spinal cord together. The incision was was sewed up and the patient recovered from the operation, Dr. Morris saying that though the desired results had not been obtained, yet the life of Spencer would be prolonged and attended with less pain. The young man lived another year, but never during that time moved a limb. His case was a wonder to many medical men. On April fourteenth he died. He was 31 years old. He retained his mental faculties until the last.—[N. Y. Sun.

A Logical Argument.

A man was urged to take a newspaper.

"What is the use of taking it? I never open it, so I don't know what's in it. What good would it do me?"

"You take liver pills occasionally, don't you?"

"Certainly."

"Do they do you any good?"

"Of course they do."

"Do you ever open them and find out what's in them?"

That made him shell out the subscription price.—[Texas Siftings

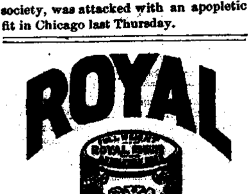
The pay-roll of Barnum's circus is $7,000 per day, and when wet weather strikes it there is music not set down on the lithographic programmes. Last year, when Mr. Hutchinson had occasion to make a business affidavit, he swore that in 1885 the money taken by the circus amounted to $1,038,000. The highest daily receipts were $17,000, during a Boston engagement, when, in a week, they took in $74,000; in a week at Philadelphia, $81,000; in ten days at Chicago, $119,000.

Joseph H. Reall, president of the American agricultural and dairying association, has issued an address to the farmers and dairymen of the United States, declaring that the enemies of the dairy and of the consumers of butter are organizing to defeat the movement in behalf of honest industry and pure food. He calls upon the farmers to organize at once, adopt resolutions and bring their direct influence to bear upon congress.

M. de Lesseps says that the building of the pyramids, which occupied 30,000 men ten years, was boy's play to building the Panama canal. He estimates the power of the machines employed as equal to 500,000 men.

David Johnson, one of the most prominent Scotchmen in America, ex-president of the St. Andrew's society, and one of the founders of the Caledonian society, was attacked with an apoplectic fit in Chicago last Thursday.

ROYAL



BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
STONEWARE,
Vitrified Glazed Sewer Pipe
AND
DRAIN TILE,
Traps, Bends, Elbows,
T's Y's &c.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY, and SAND
STONEWARE CHIMNEYS and TAPS
[illegible]

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are Unknown to Others!

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAFF, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes.
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING

Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.

Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's
Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$5.00	2.63	1.44
Nut	5.00	2.63	1.44
Mix	5.00	2.63	1.44
Egg	4.60	2.43	1.34
Grate	4.60	2.43	1.34
Pea	4.00	2.13	1.19

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
—ALSO AGENT FOR—
[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 46 and 48 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!

The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size. We keep it in stock at our coal yard, Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself. All orders promptly filled.

White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

The Backus Water Motor.

IS THE MOST Economical Power Known!
—FOR—
DRIVING LIGHT MACHINERY

It takes but little room.
It never gets out of repair.
It can not blow up.
It requires no fuel.
It needs no engineer.

There is no delay; no firing up; no ashes to clean away; no extra insurance to pay; no repairing necessary; no coal bills to pay, and it is always ready for use.

It is invaluable for blowing Church Organs, for running Printing Presses, Sewing Machines, Turning Lathes, Scroll Saws, Grind Stones, Coffee Mills, Sausage Machines, Feed Cutters, Corn Mills, Elevators, etc.

Four-horse power at 40 pounds pressure of water. It is noiseless, neat, compact, steady, and above all

IT IS VERY CHEAP.

Price $15 to $300

Send for circular to the Backus Water Motor Co., Newark, N. J., stating paper you saw advertisement in.

Mr. S. C. North of this village having set a number of the Backus Motors will be pleased to answer any inquiries that parties may wish to make.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Stove	$5.00	Grate	4.60
Nut	5.00	Pea	4.00
Egg	4.60	Smith	4.50
No 4	5.25	Mixed	5.00

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

TO MY PATRONS AND FRIENDS.

Why should we languish "when the whole world is a Market." Please read the following verbatim copy of another combination missive, and draw your own conclusions:

ULICA, N. Y., March 8, 1886.

H. C. GIESLER,

Dear Sir—We are in receipt of your valued order of the 5th inst., and will be pleased to fill the same, with the exception of the Patent Medicines; these we are obliged to decline to send at present. Kindly inform us if you desire us to send the balance of the order and we will forward the goods at once.

Very Respectfully Yours
JOHN H. SHEEHAN & Co.

The Oswego County Druggists Combination has taken another step towards "elevating the standing" of the drug trade in our village. How we apples swim. Oh how happy we would be, if in high prices we could agree, but join your gang I never shall until I meet you plumb in Halifax. We continue to keep a full line of find Drugs and Medicines of all kinds and shall continue to do so during our natural life, in spite of spies, telltales and combinations.

H. C. GIESLER, Druggist,
Opposite the Opera House,
Fulton, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

Electricity runs the street cars of Montgomery, Alabama. Syracuse has developed an invention that positively will, by which cars may be run suspended from a single elevated rail just outside the curb.

[illegible] in Advance. An additional charge of ten [illegible] for postage on papers going out of Oswego [illegible]

[illegible] must be accompanied by a [illegible] or a private guarantee of good faith.

[illegible] of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

BISHOP MCNIERNY leaves for Rome on May 22.

GEN GRANT'S tomb at Riverside Park was profusely decorated with flowers on Easter Sunday.

THE condition of ex-President Arthur is no better. He is at present troubled greatly with insomnia.

AMONG the bills signed by the Governor yesterday was one: Providing a system of sewerage in Fulton village.

THE condition of Secretary Manning is greatly improved. On Sunday he was able to receive visitors for the first time.

THE sixty-fourth birthday of General Grant was celebrated in Washington yesterday. Speeches were made by Senator Sherman, Dr. Spruce, ex-Governor Long of Mass., and Dr. J. P. Newman.

GEORGE E. GRAHAM, the evangelist and wife murderer, was taken from the county jail in Springfield, Mo., yesterday morning by a mob of 400 armed men, and hanged to a tree. If lynch law were ever commendable, it was in this case.

MR. JOHN A. BARRY received on Sunday from President Cleveland his commission as postmaster of the city of Oswego for four years from April 6 1886. Mr. Barry will enter upon his duties next Saturday with Mrs. C. T. Richardson as deputy.

JEFFERSON DAVIS left his home at Beauvoir, Missouri, yesterday for Montgomery, Ala., where he is to lecture in aid of the monument to be erected in that place to the soldiers of Alabama, who fell in the late war. His arrival at every station on the route was a signal for an oration, showing that Alabama retains their respect for the man that was president of their Confederacy.

BARNUM claims to have exploded another myth. He has had a special agent in Australia, trying to secure for an attraction to his circus, a real, live boomerang slinger. The agent reports that no such curiosity is to be found, that the popular belief that an Australian redskin can hurl a boomerang twice or three times around his hut, hit his squaw who is washing in the back yard and return to him by the same way it went, only exists in the vivid imagination of the poet and romancer.

WE earnestly hope that there will be sun spots every spring if they bring about the remarkably fine weather that we have had of late. We thought last week that the cold wave promised, was delayed in our locality on account of the large attendance of Methodist preachers at the conference, but as there has been another week of delightful weather we have come to the conclusion that Dr. Calthrop will have to take a back seat with other weather prognosticators, and that advance theories on this subject are exceedingly precarious to say the least.

A. S. DRAPER, State Superintendent of Public Instruction has issued a circular to school commissioners and school superintendents of city schools, announcing that examinations of applicants for state certificates will be held in Albany, Rochester, Watertown, New York city and Binghamton. Commencing Tuesday June 29. Candidates must be present at the beginning of the examination, produce testimonials of character, and have at least two years experience in teaching. The examination will be open to candidates residing in any part of the state.

J. K. EMMET has been playing a week's engagement in Cleveland, Ohio, but at the afternoon performance on last Saturday, when the time came for the curtain to rise he was no where to be found and the spectators were refunded their money. Shortly after Emmet appeared in the barroom attached to the theatre, his clothes torn and in a terrible state of intoxication. He was taken to the dressing room, where he lay for a long time in an unconscious condition. His manager was compelled to pay a large sum as forfeit for the two performances missed. Such is an account of the last of the many debauches of this man whom God seemed to have endowed with far more than natural gifts; who by his true impersonation of character is able to make his audience weep or laugh at his pleasure; whose "Lul-la-by," and "Peek-a-boo" are songs familiar in nearly every nursery in the land, whose home—a splendid residence in the suburbs of Albany is marvelous in its architectural design and beauty, while the grounds surrounding it incite the admiration of all that see them. Yet this man with all his natural gifts, with all his worldly goods, is a slave to that terrible curse which has ruined so many men and blighted so many homes. The case of "Fritz" Emmet is one that should be considered well by all persons who think they can drink when they like and stop when they [illegible]

[illegible] that does not run freely [illegible] The blood is [illegible]

[illegible] York by [illegible] of forty [illegible] last Saturday.

A vein of coal [illegible] feet in thickness was penetrated while parties at Pearl Creek, near Perry, were sinking a salt well.

James Anderson, aged 60 years, a farmer residing near Clinton, committed suicide by shooting, last Saturday morning. Ill health and despondency were the causes.

The Star base ball club of Syracuse, started in by winning their opening game at Lawrence, Mass., but since then they do not seem to have been as successful.

Little Edward Arland, aged six years, living with his parents at Hammondsport, while running fell upon the blade of an open pocket knife. His heart was pierced and he died instantly.

A severe thunder storm passed over the Middletown section of Orange county on Saturday. A farm hand of Allen Lockwood was killed by lightening while plowing. The team was also killed.

The New York, Ontario and Western will take up the old rails from Cornwall to Oswego and replace them with steel, as soon as the work can be accomplished. The new rails are now being distributed along the line.

The will of the late Dr. Willard of Auburn, for many years president of the Oswego starch factory, disposes of about $1,000,000 worth of property. The entire estate is divided between his wife two daughters.

The great Remington works at Ilion have gone into the hands of receivers. This failure is a great blow to Ilion as it supplied almost all the business of the place and has caused considerable embarrassment among local tradesmen.

Recent investigation discloses the fact that within the last few years more than thirty graves have been robbed in the Wayne county almshouse cemetery. Barrels containing the bones have been marked drugs, and shipped mostly to New York and Buffalo.

Harrison York, a laborer, was found dead in the Erie canal near Lockport Monday morning, with his head crushed by falling from the towpath to the rocks below. It is generally supposed that his death was accidental. He was 38 years of age and of unsteady habits.

A fire, supposed to be of incendary origin, occurred in the hotel barns at Macedon, near Palmyra, last Sunday morning. Three valuable horses, a cow and a calf were burned to death. The loss was about $3,000. The well-known trotter "Sky Blue" was one of the horses burned.

Ferdinand Ward has been discovered in an attempt to smuggle letters out of Sing Sing. He said "he did not know it was wrong." That's the trouble with Ward and men of his type. They are actually devoid of any sense of moral responsibility. Some men are born without mind, some without health and some without conscience. Ward is of the last class.

The pedestal of the Bartholdi statue, on Bedloe's Island, was completed last Thursday afternoon, when the capstone of the last course was placed in position by Gen. C. P. Stone, the engineer-in-chief of the work. The work on the pedestal was begun April 18, 1883. The labor of putting up the statue will at once begin and September 3d is the day now fixed for the "unveiling."

A cold-blooded murder was committed near Rhinebeck in Dutchess county last Sunday night. The victim was Gilbert Dykeman, an old man 58 years of age, who for the past ten years has acted as flagman for the Hudson River railroad. He was found on Monday morning sitting in a rough chair in his shanty with his head and forehead crushed in and blood and brains spattered around the room, walls and window panes.

COUNTY NEWS.

The Good Templers of Orwell held their twentieth anniversary at their rooms last evening.

Manager Britton and Superintendent VanHorne of the R. W. & O. railroads were in Richland last week land was mapped out and here it is believed that new railroad shops will be located.

Martin Moore of Sandy Creek committed suicide in Boylston last Friday by hanging. He was found in the woods hanging from a tree. The suicide was 35 years of age, and has been regarded as partially demented for some time. He leaves a wife and three children.

Palmira is excited over the finding of the body of a man on a farm just north of the village. The body was firmly wedged between two trees, disemboweled and a large gash in the throat. The suicide theory has given place to suspicion of foul play.

The body of a supposed suicide, identified by letters in his clothing as Chas. Sawyer, was found in the Seneca river, eight miles north of Syracuse on Sunday. The body had been in the water about two weeks. Sawyer's brother is said to be the prisident of a business college at Petersboro, Ontario.

The body of Samuel Delong who was drowned over two weeks ago at Three River Point, has been found at Hinmanville. It was fully six miles from where he was drowned and was discovered floating in mid stream by a man looking for drift wood. Coroner Marsh was summoned and empaneled a jury and held an inquest. The jury disagreed as to the motive of the fatal leap, but it is understood that all but one were in favor of bringing in a verdict of suicide. It is known that he was well under the influence of liquor and many think that his falling from the bridge was due to this.

Messrs. Samuel N. Bacon and Samuel W. Brown of Albany spent Monday in Mexico looking over the factory of Mr. F. M. Earl, manufacturer of batter trays, with a view to investing capital and enlarging the business. They conduct a large spice business and are gentlemen of means. Mr. [illegible] machinery for producing butter [illegible]

[illegible] time [illegible] Hogarth his son Fred [illegible]

Bullhead fishing on the lake is indulged in by [illegible] with good success.

The new treasurer, James Shannon, has given bonds which have been approved by the board.

The Oswego Falls factories are to put in engines so that in case of stoppage by ice, or any other cause, they can run by steam.

A young boy named Charles Lewis had one of his fingers taken off by the machinery in the factory one day last week. Dr. Wells dressed the wound.

Marvin Thompson has leased the Schenck farm for a year. The stock belonging to the farm will be sold at auction next Wednesday.

The company that is operating the Jennings brown stone quarry is pushing work. More men will be employed than has been done on former years. An office is being built at the quarry.

One of the "bosses" in the factory and one of our leading saloon keepers had a pugilistic battle the other night, in which the saloon man got badly hammered about the face. Whiskey was the incentive.

Pennellville.

Mrs. Burton Young of Elucid, is visiting her parents.

Belle Heffron is home for a few days.

Leroy Owens and family moved to Battle Island Friday to run the cheese factory there.

James Green is moved to his canal boat at Phoenix.

John Limbeck will work for Ed. Conrad, boating this summer.

J. P. Burleigh has rented his farm to Peter Parker.

Work has been commenced on the foundation for Ira Betts' new barn.

Mr. Bamasky's patrons turned out Tuesday and drew gravel for the new road to his cheese factory.

C. P. Kimball and family, A. D. Merry and family and C. K. Williams of Phoenix, visited relatives here Sunday.

A Gregg has made a contract with the railroad company for a supply of water from their water tank to his hotel and is laying a pipe for that purpose.

Pennellville Lodge I. O. G. T. have elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter:

James Morrell, W C T; Nettie Stevens, W V T; Fred Foster, W S; Ardie Hinckley, W F S; Amos Sherwood, W. T; Frank Foster, W C; James Pickard, W M; Will Moyer W I G; Elias Foster, W O G; Henry Burleigh, P W C T.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., April 17, 1886.

Board met by order of the President.

Present, the President and full board.

On motion of Trustee Pardee it was resolved that the rules of order passed April 16th, 1880 by a former Board govern this Board until otherwise ordered.

The following bills were reported from the finance committee, and the clerk directed to draw orders for the amounts, viz:

J. N. Clark, highway work,	$39.03
Alex. Giroux, Board Health,	1.50
J. H. Marshall, " "	.50

The committee appointed at the last meeting to settle with the late Treasurer reported that they had performed their duty, that there is in his hands $588.03. The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

On motion the clerk was directed to request the late Treasurer to pay the above amount over to the new Treasurer.

On motion of Trustee Johnson the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Assessors of the village be, and they are hereby directed to assess upon the taxable inhabitants and property liable to taxation in this village, the following amounts pursuant to Section No. 45 of the Charter.

For Ordinary Expenses—
" Lighting Streets,	$1,100.
" Assessors,	100.
" Board of Health	100.
" Cross Walks	200.
" Clerk,	100.
" Court Room	52.
" Printing	200.
" Fire Dept.	1,000.
" Incidentals,	1,000.
		$3,852 00
For Highways—
" General Repairs,	$2,000
" Permanent Improvement	500
		$2,500 00
For Special Purposes—
" New Hose,	500
" Clearing out channel Waterhouse creek and repairing abutment near Sixth street bridge	200
For purchase of gravel bed S½, Lot 1, Blk 66, 112	112
		$812 00
Fulton Water Works Company,		1,800 00
Balance of Bridge note,		400 00
In all the sum of		$8,864 00

The Clerk reported that the members of the Board of Health appointed at the last meeting had each duly taken and filed the oath of office. Also that the Board of Health organized April 10 by electing Marcus F. Crahan, President and Oscar O. Hannis, Clerk, and that they had appointed Dr. D. Pardee health officer. Also that the Street Commissioner had given a bond which had been duly approved by the President. Also that he had received a Police Badge and Key each from Herman Hulet, Abial T. Laws, E. H. Morgan, Willard Curtis, P. Roderick, A. W. Stoneburgh, George Althouse, Cornelius Murphy, and a key from John Cavanaugh. Also, that he had delivered to Thos. Nelligan Badge No. 1 and key, to E. A. Jones Badge No. 2 and key, Chas. Wilkinson Badge No. 3 and key.

On motion the following were appointed policemen: Willard Curtis, Paul Roderick, F. K. Jones, F. E. Sutherland and Milo Warner.

The Street Commissioner presented an inventory of tools and property received from the late Street Commissioner and the same was ordered on file.

On motion the compensation of the Street Commissioner and men and teams employed by him was fixed as follows:

Street Commissioner, each day actually employed $2.00; team labor, including team, driver and wagon, per day, $3; Common laborer, per day, $1.25.

On motion the Street Commissioner be required to make report up to Saturday night previous to regular meetings.

On motion the room of Chas. Whitaker over his market on Oneida street be rented for future meetings of the Board at the same price as has been paid for the one occupied last year.

The President then appointed the following committees:

On streets, Trustees Pardee, Moyer, and Bradford.

" Lamps, " [illegible]

" Finance, " Johnson, Pardee and Kendrick.

" Supplies, " [illegible]

" Claims, " Moyer, Pardee and Cheney.

" Public pounds " [illegible]

" Ordinances, " [illegible]

" Sidewalks, " Moyer, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] pale. [illegible] while the cloudy pink of the peach tree peeps over garden walls. It is hard to tell what impresses one most—the softness of the climate, the fine avenues, some over two miles long radiating from the Capitol like the sticks of a fan, the green circles and squares and triangles that greet you unexpectedly in every direction, the magnificence of the public buildings, or the cosy elegance of the private residences.

It is not to be wondered at that under the seductions of a Washington spring the President should "lightly turn to thoughts of love." If an oyster could fall in love at all, it would be on one of these bright spring days in Washington. Whether or not Mr. Cleveland is to marry in the near future, it is believed that he will, and the would-be-knowing-ones accuse him of manifesting every matrimonial symptom. He goes out more frequently now than ever before, and those who meet him on his afternoon drives with his private Secretary, come to the imaginative conclusion that he looks very happy and sentimental despite the cares of State.

This is the time for drives and rides and walks about the city, and everybody who can take time for it is out of doors. Members of the Cabinet, Justices of the Supreme Court, Senators, Representatives, and Department officials may be seen after four o'clock p. m., on horseback, on foot, or in more or less elegant turnouts, on the streets and country roads around the city, while the ladies who are busy with spring shopping, throng Pennsylvania avenue all day long.

Congress has come to a point in the session where it is necessary to exercise the pluck of principle. Various appropriation bills—for the aid of education, falsely so styled in some instances for new pensions, for river and harbor improvements, for public buildings, and other enterprises for expending the people's money, are coming up for action. The Republican minority, feeling responsibility neither for the House nor the President, do not care if the record of the session is conspicuous for extravagance, and a grave responsibility is thus placed upon the Democrats in Congress.

The River and Harbor bill is now before the House and Members are working at it section by section and voting away money in order to help each other carry doubtful districts in the coming fall elections. Each one of a dozen little unheard-of rivers and creeks and bays in as many states, wants an appropriation to dredge its channel two feet deeper perhaps, so that the one or two steamboats that ply its waters, may not run aground. Some of these demands upon the Treasury vaults would be ludicrous if they were not so outrageously impudent. Their only excuse is the necessity of Congressmen to buy votes with Government money, and their only chance of passage is the average Member's willingness to log-roll.

The Senate on Wednesday passed between four and five hundred private pension bills; the largest day's work that either branch of Congress ever did. It also voted to build a fire-proof hall in this city for keeping records, and Senator Hoar wittily asked before voting for it if it were specially intended for the safe keeping of the President's "private papers." The Senate continues to debate in a rather languid way during a part of each day, the subject of secret or no secret sessions.

The Attorney General as a witness has infused new interest into the Pan Electric investigation this week. He gave a statement of his connection with the affair, declaring that he had never used official position to advance the interests of the scheme, that he had nothing whatever to do with the bringing of the Government suit, that he still retained his stock which was not a gift, that instead of making, he had lost $400 by Pan Electricity, but that it was a perfectly legitimate enterprise for all that.

Much interest has also been taken in the strike investigation now in progress here, owing to the fact that Grand Master Workman Powderly and Jay Gould among others, were present as witnesses. An exceedingly interesting body of testimony was given all around, but Mr. Powderly drew more attention than the railroad king. He made a full presentation of the labor side of the case, and gave a full history of the Knights' organization.

A Debt that can Never be Paid.

COLDWATER, Mich., Oct 25, 1885.—Four months ago I was paralyzed and blind from kidney and liver diseases. I was unconscious for over two weeks. Physicians said I was incurable, and waited daily for my death. My friends gave me Warner's safe cure, and within a few weeks paralysis left me, bloating went down, enlargement of the liver subsided, and I became well, and owe my life to Warner's safe cure.—MRS. RUTH BROWN.

Sent the Wrong Letter.

The following as the novilists say, explain themselves:

My own Darling Jack: As we drove home from the ball last night I saw the light shining dimly through the closed blinds of your room, and I knew that my darling was lying there sick and weary. My heart ached for you. I felt that I had no business to have gone to enjoy myself while my precious one was ill. All night long is haunted me. But your letter arrived so late, telling me of your sickness and breaking my heart with the information that I should not see you at the dance, that I could not refuse to go. Oh, my own, I do hope this will find you better. I have [illegible]

Your devoted [illegible]

ALICE.

No. 2. [illegible]

[illegible] six poems and thirty-four beautiful engravings.

Wide Awake for May is on our table and as usual is filled with interesting stories, charming pictures and the best of poems. The serials "A Midshipman at Large" and "Dilly and the Captain" continue to increase in interest to the youthful reader. "The Children's Cherry Feast," a ballad, is accompanied by seven full page illustrations. "Prescott's Capture," a true story of the American Revolution and "A Roman May-day," treating of the times of the Emperior Commodus are historic articles, instructive and well told. There is much other miscellany of letter-press and picture in this number.

ST. NICHOLAS

For May has much to commend it. Its usual high standard is fully maintained. The frontispiece connected with the story "When Shakspeare was a Boy" is a beautiful design; "May Song" is an uniquely gotten up poem; "The Girls Tricycle Club" by E. Vinton Blake; "How Conrad Lost His School-Books" by Walter Bobbett; "A Search for the Lace-Leaf" by Alice May; "The Smallest Circus in the World" by C. F. Holden and "The Handiwork of some clever School-Boys" are some of the many articles that go to make up the present number. John A. Coryell, E. P. Roe and Charlotte M Vaile contribute to the St. Nicholas Dog Stories, and Palmer Cox gives a poem "The Brownies on Roller Skates," with his own illustrations.

GENERAL NEWS.

One hundred persons have recently died in New Hampshire between the ages of 80 and 100.

The war cloud which has been hanging over Europe has cleared away and the claims made by Greece will be submitted for arbitration.

Barnum's show left New York for Philadelphia, starting out on its "farewell tour" last Saturday. It required 79 cars in all for the transportation.

Master Workman Martin Irons has promised to contribute to the June Lippincott an article entitled "My Experience with the Labor Movement."

On a card in a Philadelphia street car is a great truth thus succinctly stated: "Advertising is a great deal like making love to a widow—it cannot be overdone."

The retiring Chinese minister will take official leave of the President at Washington next Tuesday, and it is probable his successor will be presented at the same time.

John L. Sullivan says that Jem Smith's talk about fighting for $25,000 or $50,000 a side is all bluff. If he wants to get a reputation by fighting a better man than himself let him come to this country.

Easton, Pa., April 24.—Ex-County Auditor Alfred H. Hahn, who pleaded guilty on April 7 to seven indictments for forgery and larceny, was to-day sentenced to pay $700 fine and costs and to serve four years in jail.

Mrs. Fanny Smith, wife of a farmer living near Keyport, N. J., in a fit of insanity on Saturday morning attacked her four children with an ax, killing one outright, and injuring the others so badly that there is little hope of their recovery.

The levee on the Mississippi river broke Thursday night fifteen miles south of Helena, on the Arkansas side, causing a crevasse forty yards wide, and, as it will be impossible to close it, 1,000,000 acres of the most fertile cotton land in the Mississippi valley will be covered by water from one to six feet deep.

A train on the Missouri Pacific railroad was wrecked last Sunday night near Wayndotte, Kas. Fireman Ben Horton and brakeman Charles Carlisle were instantly killed, and engineer J. H. Fowler was severely injured. Mr. Hoxie has offered a reward of $2,500 for the arrest and conviction of the wreckers.

Geronimo's band of Indians on Monday attacked Casita, a small railway station in Mexico and destroyed all the buildings. Fifteen, persons all Mexicans were killed. A company of soldiers were sent after the hostiles and two soldiers were killed. A reign of terror prevails throughout this part of Mexico.

Of the people who figured prominently in the social and political life of the nation at Washington four years ago. Secretary Frelinghuysen is dead, Miss Tillie Frelinghusen is an invalid, Mrs. Don Cameron is an invalid, Secretary Hunt, General Hunt, and General Grant are dead, and President Arthur is in feeble health.

The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from poisonous drugs and offensive odors. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases where all other remedies have failed. It quickly cures cold in the head and catarrhal headache. Price fifty cents. 51w4

The residence that Mr. Alger is building for Mr. Birch of Oswego, on Water street, is nearing completion and adds much to the appearance of the street. It is of the Queen Anne style.

Inquest into the cause of death of Mrs. Cruias at Dunkirk, whose body was found in a burned shanty, failed to show that a murder was committed. She drank and was of irregular habits, and driven from home by her husband, crept into the building during the night. It is believed the fire was incendiary, but it was not found that the person supposed to have fired it knew the woman was in the building.

An earthquake shock was felt in Onondaga county on Saturday morning. In the village of Baldwinsville the shock was noticed by a large number of people. It lasted but a moment and was strong enough to rattle windows, chandeliers and dishes, while a slight undulating movement was felt and timid persons were much frightened. Reports from [illegible]

[illegible] before the wedding. In a special to the New York World yesterday Mr. H. P. Harmon, a well-known flour merchant of Boston and Montreal, made to the young lady, is reported as saying that there was no doubt but that President Cleveland was going to marry Miss Folsom, that it was their intention not to announce the engagement until some time before the wedding, but unfortunately it was made public by a breach of confidence on the part of friends in Buffalo. Miss Folsom is now traveling in Europe with her mother but it is expected that she will return to this country in a few weeks. The rumor that the expenses of her European trip were paid by the President is denied by Mr. Harmon, who says that it has no foundation of truth and he cannot see how it ever originated.

Mr. Cleveland's acquaintance with the lady began when she was hardly knee high. She used to climb upon his knee and call him "Uncle Cleve." Mr. Cleveland was very fond of her as a child and about three years ago his attentions became serious. Miss Folsom is said to be a very beautiful young lady and her qualities of mind and heart will fit her admirably for a President's wife. She is about thirty years younger than her middle-aged husband-elect and has always been devoted to him as a daughter. Her father was Oscar Folsom, for whom Oscar Folsom Cleveland is named. Oscar Folsom died a tragic death, and his wife and daughter left Buffalo for a time, but when Mr. Cleveland had straightened out the family business affairs, which were in a frightful tangle, mother and child returned to Buffalo. Miss Folsom was educated at Medina and at Wells college at Aurora. It is said that while in the former place she had a lover named Thompson, a clergyman considerably older than herself, who occupied a favored spot in her affections. The continued opposition of the relatives and new conquests soon caused her to forget her first suitor, and after a brief correspondence the affair was dropped. He is still unmarried.

A REMARKABLE CURE OF

Neuralgia and Rheumatism of the Heart.

Rochester, March 16, 1886.

Pardee Medicine Co.

I desire to express to you something of my feelings of gratitude for what your remedy has done for me and my family. For three years I have suffered everything but death, with rheumatism in its worst and most dangerous form, as it affected the heart at times, to that extent, that my life was despaired of by my friends, but to me death would have been a happy relief. I have spent thousands of dollars in doctoring, and different kinds of treatment and in experiments at different watering places, none of which afforded me even temporary relief.

I gave up all hopes of ever being cured, when a friend urged me to try Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, referring me to some well known and reliable parties who had been cured or greatly benefitted by its use.

I reluctantly tried it, and after using three bottles I could see a vast improvement in my feelings, and the pain was much less severe and at much longer intervals.

My daughter was in very poor health, she had no strength, no color in her face; she did not look as if she could live a month. She used your remedy and today is as well as ever. We can truthfully and conscientiously say that Dr. Pardee's Remedy is one of the best remedies ever compounded and that I know it will do all that you claim for it.

I am very truly yours,
FRANCIS T. DOWNING,
Contractor and Buider, 385, Brown St.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—This is to certify that I was suffering with inflammatory Rheumatism of the worst type. Hearing of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, I purchased it and was completely cured by its use, and can now recommend it to those similarly afflicted, having the utmost confidence in its efficacy.

NICHOLAS HAMMEL,
No. 37 Fulton Avenue.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy and take no other.

Pardee Medicine Co. Rochester, N. Y.

Crackers, four pounds for 25 cents, at the Vienna Bakery on First street. 36tf

Volney April 19th 1886. Whereas my wife Sarah has left my bed and board without cause or provocation whatever. I forbid all persons trusting, or harboring her on my account as I shall pay none of her debts. 50w4.

C. M. PERCIVAL.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus, or imitation goods at R. E. [illegible]

SNOW AND LOOMIS,
No 7 First Street,
FULTON, N. Y.
HARDWARE DEALERS,

Have a New and Complete Line of

STOVES AND RANGES.

THE

WORLDS' JEWEL

IS THE FINEST STOVE MADE.

Stoves at Prices to Suit all Purchasers.

OUR SAMPLE BOX OF PLANTS [illegible]

CALL ON
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

THE
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smok pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F.G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

SUPREME COURT—Oswego County.

Norman H. Haviland, plaintiff, vs. William H. H. Hutchings, Levi F. Hutchings and Flora May Hutchings defendants. In pursuance of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action and entered in the Oswego county clerk's office April 27th, 1886, I the undersigned to whom it was by said judgment referred to make such sale, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the law office of H. E. Nichols, in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., the lands and premises directed by said judgment to be sold and which are therein described as follows: "All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, and State of New York, being a part of lot 75 of the 16th Township of Scriba's Patent and bounded as follows, viz.: Beginning in the centre of the highway at the south-east corner of land owned and occupied by Martin Parker; thence southerly along the centre of said highway [illegible] rods; thence westerly in a line parallel with said Parker's south line [illegible] rods; thence northerly in a line parallel with said highway [illegible] to Parker's south line; thence along Parker's south line [illegible] to the place of beginning, containing [illegible] acres of land."

Dated April [illegible]

A. N. BEADLE,
Sheriff of Oswego County, N.Y.

H. E. NICHOLS,
Plff's Att'y., Fulton, N. Y.

ELY'S
CREAM BALM

Cleanses the Head. Allays Inflammation. Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste, Smell, Hearing.

A Quick Relief. A Positive Cure.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents by mail or at Druggists. Send for circular.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

CATARRH
HAY-FEVER

Scranton Coal !

THOROUGHLY SCREENED.

Promptly Delivered !

At the Following Prices:

Stove [illegible]
Nut [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] to Oswego, including Ferriage, [illegible] cents [illegible]

Leonard & Wilson, Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express..........8:37 a. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express....11:[illegible] a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express........4:[illegible] p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express......7:[illegible] p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express....7:[illegible] a. m.
Day Express..........9:[illegible] a. m.
Day Express..........[illegible] p. m.
Freight and Accommodation..........[illegible] p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....7:[illegible] p. m.

The [illegible] a. m., 7:[illegible] a. m., and 7:[illegible] p. m. trains will run Sundays. There will also be a special Sunday train for Syracuse leaving Fulton station at 6:[illegible] p. m.

Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

W. K. Niver, Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express..........7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation..........8:50 a. m
Norwich Express..........8:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express..........9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express..........6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express..........10:56 a. m.
Freight and accommodation..........6:08 p. m.
Oswego Day Express..........9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:34	11:54	5:34
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

FRED B. HIGHRITER - Local Editor

PERSONAL.

Miss Louisa Curtis of Hillsdale, Mich,, is in town visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. VanWagener have gone to Syracuse to reside.

Mis Flora Owen is visiting friends in Liverpool, N. Y., for a few days.

E. V. Lathrop is confined to the house by illness. Dr. Loomis is attending him.

G. A. Fort, freight solicitor of the N. Y. O. & W. railroad, was in town yesterday.

H. S. Robinson of Clay, Onondaga county has been visiting in town for a day or two.

Lester Pedley, of Oswego Falls, who has been visiting in England, returned home this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Foster left for New York yesterday morning, where they will make their future home.

Miss Matthews who has been confined to the house by illness, has resumed her duties as preceptress in No. 1 school.

N. N. Stranahan, assistant district attorney, is in the city preparing cases for the coming term of the county court. —[Times-Express yesterday.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

Call at H. Kendall's and try the new Germania lager.

LOST.

A Gordan setter. Color, black and tan; hair, curly and shaggy; height, about two feet; answers to the name of "Rex." The finder will confer a great favor by returning to Andrew Gilmour, at Seminary.

F. K. Jones sells violin strings for a nickel each.

Gents French calf and Kangaroo hand sewed shoes all styles and widths at Collins'.

You will find something that will interest you in the lower right hand corner of this page.

Look at the size of Red Cross Cough Syrup bottle at Williams. 39m3

Farmers Crimped Plow Shoes. A perfect dirt excluder. Best thing out. For sale at the Salmon Shoe Store, Opera House Block.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Try Red Cross Cough Syrup, 25cts. at 39m3 M. M. Williams.

The undersigned has a quantity of lumber, lath, shingles, pickets, eave troughs &c., recently bought at sheriff's sale, which will be sold out very cheap, enquire at the Planing mill of 48tf R. B. Mc Cully.

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCully.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

[illegible] Dyer [illegible] Sheriff [illegible] on a charge of criminal assault, alleged to have been committed in New Jersey several weeks ago. He was placed in jail and at 6:01 was taken to Oswego and handed over to officers from New Jersey who were in that city armed with requisition papers. The crime for which Dyer was arrested is for an alleged rape said to have been committed upon a servant girl named Lizzie Laing in a small depot of the N. Y. W. S. & B. R. R. company at a place called Little Ferry, between Hackensack and New York. It is a small country station. Dyer was a section boss and his tool house was stationed near the depot. About 11 o'clock on the night of March 18, Lizzie Laing went to the station to take a train. The train which she intended to take had departed, but Dyer told her it was behind time, if she would take a seat in the depot it would soon be along and he would flag it. She did as requested but had hardly seated herself before Dyer came in and assaulted her, tearing her clothes and bruising her in a shocking manner. He then fled and was not seen until the next night, when the officers found him with a gang of men at work on the track a short distance from the scene of the assault. They started towards Dyer, who jumped on a hand car and made his men work it until he escaped. Dyer has been staying in Fulton for two or three weeks with his parents. He is a large powerfully built young man weighing about 280 pounds. His victim is said to be a young woman of slight build, about 25 years of age, and had always borne an excellent character. It is said that Dyer will be arraigned on another charge. He protests his innocence and says that he is the victim of a mistake. The charge is a serious one, and if proven, his punishment under the stringent laws of New Jersey, will doubtless be severe. Dyer was taken to Hackensack, N. J., Saturday morning.

Shakspeare's Memorial Day.

The C. L. S. C. of Lower Oswego Falls observed "Shakspeare memorial day" last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Schenck. An interesting paper was read by Miss Mary E. Stoughton, giving an outline of the career and an estimate of the character of that great author.

Most readers know that an effort has recently been made to prove that Shakspeare was not the real author of many of the productions which have come down to us over that author's name. A persistent effort has been made to show that Lord Bacon was the real author. This question was discussed at considerable length. Mr. Boyd, of Granby Center, leading. It was decided unanimously that "Shakspeare was Shakspeare," as against the claim that any other man is entitled to the honor of being the author of those renowned productions. Miss Olive Carter read "At the Tomb of Shakspeare," by Washington Irving. The society then read "Midsummer Night's Dream." There was also appropriate music. The society will observe the "Addison Memmorial" Friday night of this week at the home of Miss Alice Schenck.

Fill The House.

The entertainment to be given by the ladies of the Universalist church, Friday evening, April 30th, promises to be one of unusual interest, and instruction.

You must go and see the great filter of the century through which the modern religious ideas that we now enjoy had to pass.

You must go and see the tower where Cranmer, Ridley, Latimer were all imprisoned before their martyrdom at Oxford.

You must go and see the tower in which Richard III murdered his two cousins Edward V and the Duke of York.

Go and see St. Peter's chappel in whose vaults the dust of all those martyrs rest.

Go and see the spot where the scaffold was erected so many times, and upon which the brilliant career of Anne Boleyn Katharine Howard and Lady Jane Gray closed.

Go and take a look at the horse armory where are mounted all the monarchs in life size, in suits of armor of the various periods from Henry VI, 1422 to that of James II, 1685.

Go and see that beautiful work of art, "No Cross no Crown", it's alone worth the admission fee.

The Fulton quartette will be present and will enliven the evening with fine selections of music. This will be the most pleasant entertainment of the season. Fill the house.

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

GIVEN AWAY

EVERY DAY AT

THE BOSTON BAZAAR

Immense Bargains Coming Daily.

25 doz. Ladies' Regular Balbriggan Hose at 19cts. worth 25cts.
20 doz. ladies' black and colored Ingrain Hose at 23cts.
Children's Hosiery in Lisle, solid colors and stripes, at rock bottom prices. New styles in

Bustles, Skirts and Corsets,

Just Received,

HANDKERCHIEFS ! All Linen, Hem Stitched.

[illegible] 10 and 19cts. Worth double the money. [illegible] we have the Largest Stock of RIBBONS.

Yours for bargains.

One Hundred and Fifty Pairs of Ladies' [illegible] Goat and Diagonal Cloth Top Button for less than the first cost to Manufacture, at NETTLETON'S.

The Amusement club will meet this evening with Miss Ada Thayer.

Rev. W. D. Chase will enter upon his duties as pastor of the M. E. church next Sunday.

Don't fail to see those Bargains in Boots and Shoes now offered at
A. E. Nettleton.

Rev. A. H. Hanscom will give a free lecture on temperance in Johnson's hall, Oswego Falls, next Friday evening. All are invited.

The stock of fine confectionery, fancy bake-stuffs, bread, cake, etc., at the Vienna bakery is larger and more complete than ever before.

Street Commissioner Sharp is doing a very commendable work in relaying some of the murderous sidewalks on Third street with new ones.

A. L. Merrick of Syracuse, has just completed the plans for a handsome Queen Anne house for F. A. Gage, to be built on the old Hull lot on First street.

Mr. Edward Laycock, who has had much experience in the manufacture and weaving of cloth, has leased the Thayer factory, and will hereafter carry on the business.

The Salvation Army parsonage was robbed last Friday night of a box containing about $8. The thieves gained an entrance by raising a window. There is no clew to the robbers.

W. J. Boomer and James Loomis have formed a partnership and will soon start a lumber yard on the vacant lot formerly occupied by the rink. The business will be conducted by Mr. Loomis.

The Democratic Board of Trustees of Fulton gives the Patriot, the most virulent Republican paper in the county, $100 for printing their proceedings, while the Independent Times gets but $50 for the same work.—[Palladium.

The ice cream parlors in the Vienna bakery have been fitted up for the summer campaign. The cream made and sold in this popular resort recommends itself. It will, if possible this year be better than ever. Call at the Vienna bakery and try it.

A gentleman who said he was a member of the Salvation Army, located at Fulton, called at this office yesterday and requested us to deny the assertion that C. H. Craver was a member of that body. The Army is to be congratulated.—[Palladium, Saturday.

The benefit entertainment last Monday night for the Norwegian athletes was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed. A feature of the entertainment was the recital, by Miss Mason, the elocutionist, of two poems, which were well received. Each performer did well and was accorded generous applause. The benefit was a success in every way.

W. F. Markham, the newly appointed presiding elder of the Utica district of the M. E. church, was in town yesterday. He is undecided as to whether he will settle in this city or Utica. He will have charge of the Liberty M. E. society in this city, until the courts decide regarding the ownership of the church building, which is now in the possession of the Wesleyans.—[Rome Sentinel.

Auction !

The following stock will be sold, commencing at noon Saturday, May 1st, 1886, on the Schenck farm, in Oswego Falls: Four Cows, grade Alderneys, one three-year-old heifer, eight two-year-old heifers, one pair matched three-year-old Steers, one Alderney Bull, two-year-old, one Hog, quantities of Oats, Hay, Rye, Cultivators, Wagons, Harnesses, Sleighs, Stump Machine, &c., &c.
C. W. Blount, Auctioneer. S. C. Schenck.

Spring Wheat, choice for seed at Genesee mills.
49w4 W. S. Nelson.

CARRIAGES ! CARRIAGES !

Bristol has the largest stock of Wagons and Carriages ever seen in Oswego Co., and will sell at prices satisfactory to the closest buyers.

Trunks and satchels. The largest and best assortment in the country at W. McCully's.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

For Sale—The iron fence in front of J. W. Pratt's residence on First street. Enquire on the premises.

Notice of Dissolution.

The milling firm heretofore existing under the name of Patterson & Smith has been dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the late firm should be settled with C. O. Smith.
W. D. Patterson.
C. O. Smith.
Fulton, N. Y., April 14th, 1886 3t

If you want to dye easy and happy buy your dye stuffs at R. E. Phillips Drug Store. He always keeps the best quality and all you have to do is to weigh your goods—he can give you the desired amount of Dye Stuffs to color any given quantity, as he has had over twenty-five years experience in selling dyestuffs—and his prices are below all competition. 49w4

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store ! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

For door and window [illegible] [illegible]

Canal Appointments.

Canal Superintendent Richardson has made the following appointments on section No. 2 of the Oswego Canal:

Guard lock No. 1—H. Farlick, L. Merry.
Guard lock No. 3—H. Howe, L. Torry.
Guard lock No. 4—C. Surdam, C. Darling.
Guard lock No. 5—Edward Connors, Timothy Sweeny.
Lock No. 6.—A. Dingman, L. Montague.
Lock No. 7—D. Quinn, O. Cross.
Lock No. 8—Wm. Patterson, H. Lapman.
Lock No. 9—E. Harvey, N. Miller.
Lock No. 10—W. T. Church, R. Stow.
Lock No. 11.—W. Althouse, C. Perry.
Lock No. 12—S. Storrs, C. Dodge.
Lock No. 13—J. Knapp, G. Doyle.
Lock No. 14.—Wm. Sreves, J. Grantier.
Lock No. 15.—J. Sheridan, B. Cavilear.
Lock No. 16.—C. Bough, J. Murphy.
Lock No. 17.—J. Daly, T. O'Hara.
Lock No. 18—Dixon VanValkenburg, H. Halsted.
Caughdenoy lock and draw bridge—C. Buxton.
Oak Orchard lock and draw bridge—A. McArthur.
Side cut lock, Fulton—P. Conley.
State scow—E. Richardson, foreman; G. Barrett, M. Conners, E. Sayes, J. Gilhooley, F. Garrison, O. Lee, J. Hayden, common laborers; A. Lafountain, team; Mrs. F. Hayden, cook.
State shop.—J. Boardman, foreman carpenter; W. Bradley, common carpenter.

Easter Services.

The Easter services at Zion church last Sunday were largely attended. The church was elaborately trimmed with flowers and presented a fine appearance. A feature of the exercises was the cornet accompaniment.

At the Catholic church an elaborate program was rendered, by F. K. Jones organist, with violin accompaniment by Fred Kenyon and A. N. Palmiter.

At the Presbyterian church in the evening the services consisted of music and scripture, entitled "The King of Glory." The church was handsomely trimmed with plants and flowers.

In the M. E. church an appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. M. W. Frantz of Syracuse.

The Bazaar Opening.

The spring opening at the Boston Bazaar occurred last Friday and Saturday, and was visited by hundreds of people from the village and vicinity. The store was filled from floor to ceiling with beautiful goods, all arranged with exquisite taste. A large and complete line of hosiery in all colors and qualities was shown. The stock of gloves in kid, silk and lisle thread is more complete than ever before. An elaborate line of hamburgs, lace, silk and linen handkerchiefs, ribbons in a bewildering variety of shades and fancy dry goods, are constantly carried by this enterprising firm. The display of vases, bird-cages, stand and hanging lamps, fancy crockery, toilet sets, albums, picture frames, tinware, etc., etc., made by Ney & Allen in their opening is very complete.

Teachers' Institute and Association.

The Oswego County Teachers' Institute will be held at Phœnix May 24th. Circulars with Program of exercises published next week.

A Teachers' Association for the town of Oswego will be held at Oswego Center Saturday May 1st. 9, a. m. And for the town of New Haven at New Haven Saturday May 8th. Organization and discussion of methods of teaching will be the business of these meetings. All teachers in these towns are expected to be in attendance, and all friends of the Schools cordially invited to meet with us. D. D. Metcalf, Com.

Kindergarden.

The Kindergarden Company which will appear at Stephen's Opera House on Friday and Saturday evenings April 30 and May 1st is said to be one of the best Musical Comedy Companies traveling. Incidental to the comedy all the popular selections of the day will be sung, including gems from the operas of "Mikado," "Black Hussar," "Nanan" and other New York successes. They carry their own scenery and introduce many original mechanical effects heretofore unknown to musical comedy. The prices will remain as usual 25, 35, and 50 cents. Seats can now be secured at Watson's.

Election of Officers.

The following officers were elected in Zion church last Monday:

Wardens—S. B. Whitaker, W. A. Hall.
Vestrymen—R. Bradshaw, W. S. Nelson, H. McKiernan, John Bacchus, N. F. Hall, C. A. Miller.

Almost Gave Up the Ghost.

House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.—Last fall I contracted malarial fever. Suffered much for two months. Disease located in my kidneys, and I almost gave up ever getting well. Warner's safe cure, which cured me, is a great blessing to mankind, and if taken regularly will cure almost any disease of the kidneys.—TYRE YORK M. D.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.
A. A. Graff & Co.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.
N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

"Kindergarden" on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Large numbers of fish are being caught on the west bank of the river.

A daughter has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hillick.

The postoffice has been greatly improved lately by the addition of about fifty boxes.

Dr. C. M. Lee is making some extensive improvements in front of his residence on Oneida street.

Rev. H. M. Danforth, the newly appointed presiding elder of this district, preached in the Scriba M. E. church last Sunday.

A $5 gold piece is to be given to the scholar who presents the most words made out of the word "Kindergarden", on Saturday afternoon.

John Barker of the Vienna bakery is making and selling over a hundred loaves of bread a day. He has an enviable reputation as a bread maker.

The board of trustees have leased the hall over Whitaker's meat market on Oneida street and hereafter will occupy it for board meetings and police court trials.

Charles Nichols and Miss Mattie Rice, both of this village, were married last Saturday evening at the home of the groom's parents, by Rev. A. M. Roe. Only a few friends of the parties were present.

Rev. W. F. Markham and family intend remaining in town for a short time, and will spend the summer in their cottage at the Thousand Islands. They will eventually reside in Utica or vicinity.

George Perkins, who has kept a saloon on Oneida street for some time has abandoned his business and closed his place. There are a number of other saloons in town that "never would be missed."

The steamer J. I. VanDoren will commence running next Friday. Instead of making daily trips she will leave Fulton on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, returning on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

One of the windows in Rosenbloom's dry goods store has attracted considerable attention lately. It contains a table set for lunch. The dishes are peachblow and amberina ware and the eatables consist of oranges, bananas &c.

A glance at the committees appointed for the new Board of Trustees shows conclusively that the representatives of one of the political parties have about as much chance of carrying a point as the tail of a dog does in wagging the animal itself.

C. C. Fall, a native of Oswego county., New York, died at Eureka, Nevada, April 13th. Any information in regard to his death or affairs will be furnished to relatives or friends by M. Dowling, Secretary Richmond Hose Co., No. 3, Eureka, Nevada. County papers please copy.

On Friday evening last week the Ethel Tucker Company played "Queena at the opera house to a small audience. Miss Tucker excells as an emotional actress and her support was good. On Saturday evening the same troupe played "Pearl of Savoy" which did not give as general satisfaction.

The Governor Monday signed the bill authorizing the Phœnix Union Academy to borrow money. Also providing for fishways in dams across the Little Salmon river in Mexico, Oswego county. Also legalizing the official acts of assessors of the towns in Oswego county. For the construction of fishways in the state dam across Oswego and Seneca rivers.

Our grandfathers had a favorite expression: "Get the grubs out of your back in the spring of the year and you will be all right for another twelve month." What they really meant was that if you give your blood a good cleaning out in the spring, by the use of a perfect blood purifier like Warner's safe cure, you need not fear that the year will find you under ground.

Easter !

Finds piles of new styles of ready-made and custom-made clothing for men and boys. The "Reliable" flannel suits, as to color, wear and make, at $9, $10 and $11, at Kent & Miller's, 18 and 20 South Salina street. Take a look through all our departments.

Miss Hattie P. VanBuren has moved her dressmaking and pattern establishment to Mrs. Jennings's millinery store on Cayuga street, where she will be pleased to receive her customers and give instructions by dress cutting in the Magic Scale system. 51tf

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it.

Many times have we asked you to turn your eyes to the advertisement of the "T. C. & Co." clothing. Do it now,

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, [illegible]

A [illegible] a radical change in their attitude to the wage workers of our city. This movement is the establishment of a school for the instruction of Jewish youths in the technicalities of the trades. It is a notorious fact that among the artisans and mechanics of this city, there are few Hebrews. If you go down Broadway, the great trade thoroughfare of this continent, or the adjacent streets, you will be struck with the preponderance of Jews who seemingly hold the bulk of trade; but upon the other hand, visit those sections of the city given up to manufacturing, you will find it to be in the hands of people other than Jews. They do not seem to regard the nobility of labor. A few prominent Jews, among whom were Jesse Seligman, the banker, Dr. Moses, and Joseph Hoffman regarded this condition as a blot on Jewish reputation, and about two years ago, the Hebrew Technical Institute was founded. The second annual reception was celebrated at their magnificent temple recently on Fifth avenue. Upon this occasion Carl Schurz delivered the principal address of the evening. It is not supposed that the youth who are instructed in the trades will be proficient mechanics, but that they will become so impressed with their own ability to earn a livlihood that in time the absurd notion that the Jew cannot be an artizan will be done away with and they will enter the labor field as one of its workers. The question is an important one and marks an era in the race, hence deserves especial mention here.

Schurz is not a Jew but seems to be deeply interested in this new movement.

⁂

Schurz has had a checkered career and is a brilliant man, but his influence among the Germans is on the wane. During the thirty years he has been in this country, he has held public office more than half the time. Strange co-incident, isn't it, that when there was a chance for him to occupy a public office he was in sympathy with the reigning party? During the campaign of Hayes, he was a Republican and for his good work received the Secretary of the Interior as his reward.

Schurz is a pleasant looking fellow, has a pleasant voice and it is only occasionally that one hears his German accent. He has always been a sort of a "kicker;" was pre-eminently so in his native land and it was for his revolutionary ideas he left, or was compelled to leave.

⁂

Horse-back riding "is the thing" among the ladies. Any one of these pleasant spring days, if one takes the trouble to go to the park he will see pretty women on prancing horses, riding at the regulation speed with an occasional breakneck canter when the policeman is out of sight. The regulation habit consists of a skirt of extra length, a close fitting tailor-made jacket waist with no trimmings on either, a standing collar and man's cravat. The hair combed smoothly up to the top of the head and this surmounted by a side hat or derby of latest style. This with a pair of patent leather boots completes the outfit. This costume looks funny. The other day I was walking on the avenue and saw near the park a person who had evidently been riding, attired as above described with the addition of a long ulster, but by some mischance, the skirt had been looped up too much, hence the boots and trousers were visible, funny wasn't it? Well it turned up the steps of the residence of a well-known New Yorker and then it proved to be a lady. She had, indeed, been taking a canter.

⁂

It seems strange that the most solemn religious season should be the time for fashionable moulting. When the habiliments of winter are changed and no matter how cold or how hot Easter Sunday, spring garments must be worn. Well, Sunday Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like the people who went to church. I assure you that Sunday morning the pastors had no reason to complain of empty pews. It is beyond the power of man to describe the different styles. All of Eve's daughters were comely and fair to look upon but how the envious glance flashed on some more fortunate sister, and what a procession of lovliness appeared on the avenue when the churches were dismissed at the morning service.

To describe the floral beauty of the churches would be impossible, but many thousand dollars worth of flowers were used yesterday; and to-day they gladden the eyes of the weary pain-tossed invalid in the hospitals and orphanages of the city.

⁂

The season of the American opera company has closed and the venture may be considered a success. About a year ago, Mrs. Jeanette Thurber, the wife of one of the members of the great grocery firm, came to the wise conclusion that there was talent in this country, and perhaps this city, for the production of grand opera by native singers. So she enlisted the sympathies of Theodore Thomas and Chas. R. Locke, the former as musical director and the latter as manager. These three went to work and a highly successful season of German and Italian opera in English was the result. To be sure, the venture has cost Mrs. Thurber's husband a large sum of money. This company have played Faust, Flying Dutchman, Aida, William Tell, besides producing Sylvia and Lakme for the first time. During their engagement they have paid $250 per night for the Academy of Music. Now the directors who believe in the encouragement of home talent, (provided it don't effect their pockets,) want next season to have 200 or more seats placed at their disposal free of cost. That's encouragement of home talent with a vengeance. It's this free seat arrangement that brought poor Col. Mapleson to grief and bankruptcy. As a result of this condition, the American company declare they will go to the Metropolitan and the stockholders will have to shell out, instead of gather in, the shekles the coming season, if they want any grand opera.

The American opera company will be remembered as the first successful attempt after many other failures toward [illegible]

-G-O-O-D C:L:O:T:H:E:S-

Do not necessarily make good boys, neither does it follow that bad clothes make bad boys, but boys good or bad must be clothed. This being established, we wish to call your attention to our boy's department which contains everything requisite to dress a child from three years of age up to man's estate.

PEEBLES & COOK,

Opposite Opera House.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

I offer for rent the coming year my property situated on Fay street, in Fulton. There are about 10 acres of land, a fine fruit orchard, large barn &c. The house is new and elegantly finished. Will rent the house separately as a residence, or the entire property. Apply at once.
Geo. J. Emeny.

TO RENT—My former residence on the Emory road, a few rods east of Seventh street, comprising house, barn and two acres of land, good well, cistern and fruit—apples, pears and grapes. For particulars enquire of J. M. Chesbro.
W. W. Hill.

MONEY LOANED on good bond and mortgage
F. D. VanWagenen, Jr

Ladies' friend carpet sweeper for sale at N. R. Cole's, Oneida street.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y

A small place of two acres with a 2 story dwelling and barn with basement both in good condition on river read, five miles from Fulton.

Two good building lots. Situate on the northwest corner of Buffalo and Fifth streets.

A Farm of 25 acres within a mile of Fulton. Will exchange for a house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton N. Y. C. W. STREETER.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Stephens Opera House

H. HOWARD, MANAGER.

Two Nights and

SATURDAY--MATINEE.

April 30 and May 1,

KINDERGARDEN.

The laughable comedy which is having universal success.

ADMISSION, 25, 35, and 50 cents

☞ Tickets on sale at Watson's Drug Store.

MILTON S. PRICE,

38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets,

THE MOST EXTENSIVE

DRY GOODS, CARPETS

—AND—

FURNITURE,

Establishment in the State,

Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.

COME AND SEE

the Finest and Most Complete Stock of

Dry Goods and Fancy Goods

ever shown in this section.

COME AND SEE.

THE IMMENSE STOCK OF

CARPETS, RUGS, OIL CLOTHS, Etc.

COME AND SEE

THE FINE DISPLAY OF

FURNITURE

AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES

at prices far below competion.

FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

BARGAINS

NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.

REMEMBER

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.
Hart Bros.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

This Will Interest You.

We can now show you the Largest and Finest stock of Spring Clothing ever offered in Fulton, and we shall continue as we have in the past year, to give you more and better Goods for the money than you will get elsewhere. This we guarantee, no matter what inducements may be offered by others to influence customers. We make a specialty of Fine suits for young men and can show a large line of them. All the Latest Styles of Hats and Caps. The Boys say we have the largest and finest assortment of neckwear in town.

One Price To All.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

D. C. MORE & Co.

Opposite Lewis House.

[illegible], TAKE NOTICE!

We have made arrangements by which from now until the first of June, persons can secure one year's subscription to THE FULTON TIMES and the American Agriculturist for $2.00. Every farmer should subscribe for a good agricultural journal. We, therefore, make the above offer, considering the American Agriculturist to be the best magazine for farmers that is published in America. That our present patrons have the benefit of this offer, we will allow them the same by paying one year's advance subscription to THE TIMES, and 75 cents in addition. Send in your order, or call personally at THE TIMES office. Remember that this offer does not hold good after the first of June.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST
FOR MAY, 1886,

is profusely illustrated with engravings by Forbes, Carey, Bennett and other leading artists, and contains nearly one hundred original articles from well-known writers. The opening engraving by Forbes, is a trout-fishing scene in May. There are other illustrations of scenes in the Yellowstone; Black-faced Mountain Sheep; A West Highland Bull; Wyandotte Fowls; New Vegetables, New Fruits and New Flowers, Farm Conveniences, Barn Plans, etc., etc. The Household and Childrens Department is unusually full. The leading paper describing the Rural Life and Surroundings of President Jefferson, written by James Parton, will be read with surpassing interest. It is accompanied by a large engraving (the first of the series twenty-four by nineteen inches, giving original views of Monticello and the surrounding places of interest. These engravings are presented to all subscribers, as they appear with each successive issue of the American Agriculturist. Price, $1.50 per year. Single numbers, 15 cents. 751 Broadway, New York.

Contributors to this May Number:

Some idea of the great variety of reading matter in this number may be obtained from a glance at the list of contributors below, which does not embrace all.

James Parton, Mass.	David W. Judd, N. Y.
Dr. G. Thurber, N. J.	Dr F. M. Hexamer, N. Y.
A. S. Fuller, N. J.	Henry Stuart, N. C.
M. C. Weld, N. J.	Chester P. Dewey, N. Y.
Joseph Harris, N. Y.	D. D. T. Moore, N. Y.
Seth Green, N. Y.	L. C. Root, N. Y.
L. S. Hardin, N. Y.	John M. Stahl, Ill.
Gen G W Wingate, N. Y.	P. H. Jacobs, N. J.
J. P. Battersby, N. Y.	Theodore Goodrich, Ill.
James Webb, Mass.	Mrs. Olive Wright, Col.
E. E. Rexford, Wis.	Mark W Johnson, Ga.
John Gould, O.	Josiah Hoopes, Pa.
Isaac H. Fickel, O.	Miss Agnes C Sage, N. Y.
C G Kleinstueck, Mich.	Mrs Lucy Fleming, Va.
John Jeanin, Jr. N. Y.	Mrs E S Welsh, N. Y.
G H Hopkins, Dak.	Mrs Eva M Niles, Mass.
A J Thompson, N. Y.	Mrs M C Rankin, N. Y.
Judge W A Wood, Mo.	Mrs Mary S Smith, Va.

Worth Knowing.

Put all your fences in repair this month.

Sulphur sprinkled over a nest destroys vermin.

In the cotton states April is the seed planting month.

The small scarlet turnip radish is excellent for breakfast.

As a rule, farmers eat too much and do not bathe often enough.

Dark eggs are richer than light, it is said now, and command a higher price.

The Tewksbury Winter Blush is a late-keeping winter apple that has very valuable qualities.

In April gather the stones off the meadow, so that they will not ruin the scythe and mower.

The Dakota red is now said to be the coming potato. Try it, a few plants at a time, till you are sure.

Cleanliness should be, but is not always, next to good butter.

Give your hens (those confined) exercise by sprinkling a little wheat among straw of any kind.

Damaged cottonseed meal, originally good but injured by wet and mould, or ground from damaged seeds, often gets into the market at low rates, but is valuable only as a fertilizer.

Millett and Hungarian grass, if cut just at or before blossoming, are about equal in value to timothy. Sweet corn, from which the ears are taken for canning or cooking, if cut a few days afterward, cured and housed, makes good fodder. Cows are fond of sheaf oats, and they are excellent for a variety.

Grapes should not be pruned from this time on until they are in full leaf, else they will bleed severely. The rule in pruning grape vines is to shorten the shoots in proportion to their strength. Summer pinching properly performed of the strong shoots should equalize the strength of the vine.

A cow cannot produce something from nothing. The elements of good milk are contained only in good food, and this she must have, in such quantities as her digestive organs can healthfully assimilate, in order to produce a full flow of good milk. A variety is very essential. The same food will not produce a like effect upon two cows. The dairyman must test every cow in order to feed intelligently and economically.

See that the cows have a dry place to lie on. Their udders should not be imbedded in and encrusted with filth.

Cows should be milked with regularity. If this work is postponed beyond the regular time the cows will not yield the usual quantity, and will become dry very rapidly.

At this season when the stock has young grass, plenty of salt should be allowed. Very young and tender grass will sometimes cause bowel disease, especially if the animals have been fed on dry food exclusively during the winter, and as salt counteracts the injurious effects to a certain extent, it should be with convenient access.

The pigs should be turned on grass as soon as they are weaned, and the grass be ready. They will then require no [illegible]

[illegible] the yard, while the farmer himself was following the plow. My friend, noticing that the manure was being spread upon the ground and then plowed under, accosted the owner of the land somewhat as follows:

"My friend, why is it that you plow the manure under instead of spreading it upon the plowed ground?"

"Well, I don't know," was the reply, "It's just as my father used to do. I never have thought much about it, anyway! I suppose the manure wants to be down where the roots can get the benefit of it."

"That's true," said my friend, "but how about the benefit to the grass seed which you will sow? The manure will be below the grass roots just when they need the stimulant most. If you spread it on the plowed soil it will benefit the young grass roots, and will also find its way to the deeper roots of the rye plant, and will do them both good."

"Well, now, I hadn't thought much about the grass seed, anyway. But I do remember this, that I always have a hard time getting a good "catch" of seeding."

Then my friend advised the farmer to stop right where he was and have the balance of the field covered broadcast with the manure, and plow no more under, and as an experiment the farmer heeded the advice, and ordered his teams to drive on the plowed ground and cover it.

About a year later the two men met again, and the convert from old-fogyism said: "That experiment about top-dressing rye was a great success. The difference between the growth of the grass seeding especially, on the two portions of the field, was so marked that I have decided to abandon the old method entirely, and if I had done so 20 years ago I should have been a good deal better off than I now am." Ever since, the rye ground has been top-dressed on that farm.

The above instance simply illustrates the two classes of farmers in almost every farming community. The one was up to the times and put theory into practice; the other was in the "rut" and farming it just as his father and grandfather did, and did so because they did so. Such farming doesn't pay; it can't. There may be "hard times" from low prices, but the times, at the same prices will be made "easier" if farmers get from the soil all it can produce, and not half.—[J. W. Darrow in Our Country Home.

Does This Mean You?

Every farmer ought to have a garden, and a good one. But it is a fact that not all farmers do. Why? Well, because the most of them have got the idea into their heads that "it doesn't pay."

"It isn't worth while to bother with 'em," they'll tell you.

Now I know it does pay. If you have a good garden, and that is the only kind you ought to have, there is no part of the farm that pays better. You may not raise much to sell from it, but you can raise a good share of the family living from it, and no farmer's family should go without the luxuries of fresh vegetables in variety. Farming that brings in the most money is not always the kind that pays best. The health and enjoyment of the family is, or should be, the first consideration, always. But, I am sorry to say that a great many ignore this in practice, if not in theory.

We are naturally fond of a variety of food. Our health demands this. A well-stocked garden enables us to gratify our appetites, and our natural appetites for good things we ought never to be ashamed of, for they were created in us.

Too often the farmer's table is so lacking in variety that there is but little relish for the food provided. Day after day the same things are cooked and eaten until they become tiresome. Now if a good variety of vegetables is grown, there may be such a change in the bill of fare as to make it always attractive. The woman of the house will see to this if you place the means at her disposal.

Most men say they "don't like to putter in a garden." There is no need of "puttering" if you go to work right. With a hand-cultivator and a seed-sower, the work is greatly reduced. Give the land a thorough plowing to begin with. Sow your vegetables in rows, to facilitate the use of the cltivaior between them. There will be a little hand-weeding to be done, as is necessary when the old system of planting in "beds" is adhered to. An hour's work three times a week will keep quite a garden in good condition if labor-saving appliances are used.

On a small piece of ground vegetables enough can be grown to supply a family all through the season and last through the the winter. Have you thought what a variety of food such a garden would afford? Lettuce, peas, tomatoes, cucumbers, beans, beets, parsnips, cabbages, salsify, onions, asparagus, squashes, sweet corn,—why, just think it over once, and ask yourself if you can afford to go without these things when they may be had for so little expense and labor.

The farmer and his family ought to live better than any other class of people, except those who have money to gratify every want. He has the means to do so at hand if he will make use of them. Try it.

Sprouts.

The readiest and most convenient way of getting rid of apple tree or other sprouts is to begin the work of extermination early in the season by battering the sprout from the stub it has grown on with the head of an old ax, or better still, with the bit of a pick broadened out to two inches wide, so that with every clip an inch or so of the root will be detached at the earth collar at the same time. This is much better than leaving the sprout to gain another year's growth by deferring the work until autumn, with a bush hook, only to revive again early in the spring, and more vigorous than ever. If the work is postponed later it will require three years to accomplish the result that can be attained in one, provided the work is well done.

"In one sense, the young man's family [illegible]

[illegible] of July. [illegible] a moderate crop any time in June, but if you want a big crop, sow in May. I have had a very profitable crop of beans planted the middle of June. But of course we plant earlier if we can get time to do the work. We plant with a drill in rows thirty inches apart, and drop about six beans in hills fifteen inches apart in the row. The quantity of seed required per acre, depends on the size of the beans. The white Boston Marrow beans require a bushel per acre. Pea beans, three pecks per acre. If you drill in the seed right along the row, dropping the beans about an inch apart, you require about twice the quantity of seed. Some of our bean growers think they get enough larger crops to more than pay for the extra seed, and for the extra work in pulling the crop.—[American Agriculturist for May.

Farm Hints for May.

Manure "makes" very fast this month. All sorts of rubbish raked and scraped from feeding yards, chip dirt, bark, etc. half decayed leaves from fence corners, and sod trimmings from road-ways and walks, or from around the fruit trees, composted with fresh manure will quickly heat, and the entire mass, after once or twice working over, will be admirable for late crops of corn, corn-fodder and millet, or for top dressing mowing land as soon as the grass is off. May is the month in which tillage of the surface by the harrow and cultivator, tells more to the advantage of the soil and crops than at any other. Weed seeds start quickly, and crop after crop may be killed, while the moisture of the soil and the action of fermenting manures and the heat of the sun, all contribute to those changes in the soil which augment the supply of plant food, and all these are greatly aided by stirring, mellowing and communiating of the surface of the ground.—[American Agriculturist for May.

Most Popular Grapes.

Nurserymen find there is the best demand this spring for the Concord, Empire State, Worden and Moore's Early grape. The Brighton and Champion also sell well. This shows what grapes bear the real test best. The Empire State seems best of all. It is to be hoped we shall find something some day, however, to take the place of the Concord. It is a strong, handsome grape, but it was made to sell, never to eat. For a light grape the Vergennes is most highly recommended.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. O. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C Giesler.

The works of the Ithaca glass company are said to be the largest of the kind in the State. When in full blast 160 men are employed. The capacity of the works are 10,000 boxes of glass per month.

Many persons have catarrh in its first stages who suppose themselves to be troubled with nothing more serious than a severe and stubborn cold in the head. Ely's Cream Balm gives instant relief from colds in the head, and a thorough treatment will cure catarrh. For sale by every druggist in the land. 48w4

Francis Scott Key, who wrote "The Star Spangled Banner," is to have a $15-000 monument in Baltimore. The State will erect it.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them, H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

A Floating planing mill, 170 feet long by seventy feet in width, is being built on the Alleghany river.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

A new census shows the population of the old city by the Tiber to be 345,036, of whom 11,105 are soldiers.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. 6ow

A new map of the city of Syracuse is to be prepared at a cost of $3,000.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites In Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

Dr. C. W. [illegible], Pittsburg, Pa., says: "I find Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is a very fine preparation, and [illegible]" 48w

[illegible]

9 TIMES OUT OF 10

Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil

CURES

Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

99 TIMES OUT OF 100

Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil

CURES

A Cold or a Hoarseness.

19 TIMES OUT OF 20

Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil

CURES

Asthma and Diphtheria.

49 TIMES OUT OF 50

Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil

CURES

Croup and Affections of the Throat.

Price 50 cents and $1.00.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

COAL!

The best coal in the market is the Lackawanna.

IT IS THE

Purest, Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 31m6

E. E. SCHENCK,

PLANING MILL, AND

LUMBER DEALER

Ceilings, Sidings,

[illegible]

[illegible] valuation of the State was $[illegible]. The board of equalization has just completed its labor for the current year, and finds the footing to be $[illegible].

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

Miss Folsom, the President's "elect lady" is a prize beauty. At the "authors carnival" in Buffalo in 1879, she won the first prize for beauty by a large majority in a total of 15,000 votes.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The residences of the Vanderbilts, the Astors, and of Jay Gould, in New York, are said to be constantly guarded by detectives, whose duty include the looking out for "cranks."

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

It requires the annual slaughter of 1000,000 elephants to keep the world supplied with ivory. England alone uses up the product of 30,000 elephants, or 1,200,000 pounds.

BE CAREFUL!

No matter what disease you may have, Be sure that the medicine you take is reliable. Such a medicine you will always find Sulphur Bitters. They are not a cheap rum drink, but are made of the choicest roots and herbs to be found in the vegetable kingdom.—Daily Argus.

Mr. Gladstone is reporten as saying that he has never known what it is to pass a sleepless night on account of a political crisis.

STOP AND THINK

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they may do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches out and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—Boston Daily Globe.

Mr. Blaine has sent a $100 check to the Boston fund for the sufferers in the west of Ireland.

BAD DRAINAGE causes much sickness. Bad blood and improper action of the liver and kidneys is bad drainage to the the human system, which Burdock Blood Bitters will remedy.

Congressmen, as a rule, wear poorer clothes than any class of men who receive $5,000 a year salary.

GOOD RESULTS IN EVERY CASE.

Dr A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously affected with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by the use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

The schools of Waltham, Mass., are closed in consequence of the strike of the teachers.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepard, of Harrisburg, Illinois, says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnaca Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle and Bucklen's Arnaca Salve at 25c per box by R. E Phillips.

The French government proposes to donate 200,000 francs to the Pasteur institute.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guarantaneed. 27eow

The recent floods have caused great damage to crops in Tennessee.

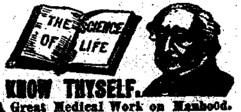
I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for the last five years. About three years ago I commenced the use of Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only remedy for catarrh I have used with satisfaction, and it has accomplished a cure in my case.—H. L. Myer, Waverly, N. Y.

A STANDARD MEDICAL WORK

FOR YOUNG and MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

ONLY $1 BY MAIL, POSTPAID.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood.

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle-aged and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each one of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 25 years is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1.00 by mail, postpaid. Illustrative sample free to any body. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the President of which, the Hon. P. A. Bissell, and associate officers of the Board the reader is respectfully referred.

The Science of Life is worth more to the young and middle-aged men of this generation than all the gold mines of California and the silver mines of Nevada combined.—S. F. Chronicle.

The Science of Life points out the rocks and quicksands on which the constitution and hopes of many a young man have been fatally wrecked.—[illegible]

The Science of Life is of greater value than all the medical works published in this country for [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

—[Tid-Bits.

"Ah me!" exclaimed the henpecked man,
"When all is said and done
'Tis better to have loved and lost
Than to have loved and won!"
—[Boston Courier.

She scorned his love—refused him flat,
And told him she would never wed him,
And handing him his Derby hat,
Unto the front door quickly led him.
From out his lips a fierce oath rung
To wreak his vengeance on Lucinda,
And every night he came and sung
"Sweet Violets" beneath her window!
—[Life.

To be hanged—A picture.—[Hartford Times.

Never borrow trouble. Go bye it.—[Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Net receipts—fish.—[Pittsburg Chronicle.

Scattering remarks—"Mad dog!" "Fire!"—[Burlington Free Press.

A shooting affair—A pistol.—[Pittsburg Chronicle.

The oldest chestnut of The Century—its war story.—[Boston Post.

A motto for the Knights of Labor: "All that glitters is not Gould."—[Boston Budget.

Chaplain Milburn is blind, and can't see the effect of his prayers, or he wouldn't make them.—[Lowell Courier.

"So do I!" sighed the tramp, as he gazed wistfully at the clothing house placard: "One dollar pants for fifty cents."—[Sommerville Journal.

If it be true as a writer asserts, that "whaling isn't what it used to be," we warmly congratulate the "rising generation."—[Somerville Journal.

It may be said of a theater hat, like some other disagreeable things, that there is likely to be a woman at the bottom of it.—[Burlington Free Press.

According to a news item a lawyer of Camden, N. J., charged his client $115 for crossing the river to Philadelphia and drawing $300 from the bank for her. We cant see anything particularly strange about this. The only wonder is that he did not charge her $300.—[New Haven News.

"So you are having your portrait painted, Mrs. ——." "Yes." "May I ask you who the artist is?" "Well, the fact is I don't remember his name, but he came to us well recommended from the Fitznoodles. He painted them all, and did it so beautifully you couldn't tell them from photographs when they were framed."—[Town Topics.

"You favor the study of the dead languages, then, professor Vocative?" "indeed I do; I insist upon it." "And why, pray?" "Why? Because we are all going to be dead some day, and it is best that we should acquire the language while we have an opportunity."—[Burdette.

Bagley—Mrs. De Baggs is the most courageous woman I ever knew.

Mrs. Bagley,—(Skeptically)—Indeed?

Bagley—Yes, she went to church last Sunday wearing last year's bonnet.

Mrs. Bagley—(savagely)—And her husband dared to show himself the same day! What do you think of that for nerve?—[Philadelphia Call.

There was a wedding breakfast. The groom to the little girl: "You have a new brother now, you know." "Yeth" responded the little one, "ma seth it wath Lotties lasth chance, so she better take it." The rest of the little one's talk was drowned in a chatter of knives and forks.—[Evansville Argus.

Father: John, my boy, you have been studying Latin some time; translate this for me Sic trancit gloria mundi.

John (readily) see the glorious transit Monday.

Father (proudly,) of course, and quite like English, too. We must not fail to see it, John, either.—Life.

Faith Increasing

BUFFALO, N. Y. Sept., 22d, 1885.—Some time ago, I had a patient suffering from Bright's disease. Urine nearly half albumen, with casts. Used all the regular remedies. Of no avail. Began to give Warner's safe cure, but had little faith. First bottle patient began to improve, and after half a dozen bottles was entirely cured of kidney trouble. Have since prescribed in in many instances with success.—J. D. A. POHLE, M. D., 759 Michigan street.

How Many Hours For Sleep.

There is an old saying that has frightened a great many people from taking the rest that nature demanded for them. "Nine hours are enough for a fool." They may be; and not be too many for a wise man who feels that he needs them. Goethe, when performing his most prodigious literary feats, felt that he needed nine hours, what is better, he took them. We presume it is conceded by all thoughtful persons that the brain in very young children, say three or four years of age, requires all of twelve hours in rest or sleep. This period is shortened gradually, until at fourteen years of age, the boy is found to need only ten. When full grown and in a healthy condition, the man may find a night of eight hours sufficient to repair the exhaustion of the day and and create himself anew for the morrow. But if he discovers that he needs more sleep he should take it. There is surely something wrong about him; perhaps a forgotten waste must be repaired. His sleep, evidently, has not been made up; and until it has and he can spring to his work with an exhilaration for it, he should sensibly conclude to let his instinct control and stay in bed.

THREE REASONS

Why every one needs and should take, Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:—

1st: Because the system is now in its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength.

2d: Because the blood is sluggish and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies.

3d: Because from the above facts, Hood's Sarsaparilla will do a greater amount of good now than at any other time. Take it now.

President Cleveland has sent his check for $100 to the fund for erecting a monument at Ithaca to the late E. K. Apgar.

[illegible]

[illegible]

BLUE PILLS

[illegible] Sulphur Bitters [illegible] the Invalid's Friend. [illegible]

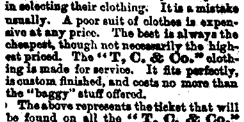
IT IS [illegible]

Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.



Farmers, mechanics and working-men are very apt to be governed more by the price than other more important points in selecting their clothing. It is a mistake usually. A poor suit of clothes is expensive at any price. The best is always the cheapest, though not necessarily the highest priced. The "T. C. & Co." clothing is made for service. It fits perfectly, is custom finished, and costs no more than the "baggy" stuff offered.

The above represents the ticket that will be found on all the "T. C. & Co." Clothing. Buy it for yourself and boys, and you will make no mistake.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK, Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.

37tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS.

Send sketch or model of invention and $5 for examination. Applications for patents prepared and prosecuted. Rejected cases, infringements, interferences and legal opinions a specialty. Send stamp for book on Patents.

HENRY WISE CARNETT,

Solicitor of Patents, Attorney-at-Law, and Counselor in Patent Causes, Washington, D. C. References: Riggs & Co., Bankers, and 2d Nat. Bk., Wash., D. C.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y, Boston, Mass 40w4

LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment.

Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G. CO. P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

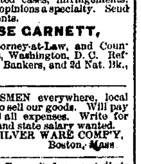
TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ELY'S

CREAM BALM

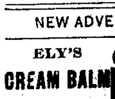
CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

when applied into the nostrils, will be absorbed effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores sense of taste and smell. Not a Liquid or a Snuff. Apply a particle of the Balm into each nostril. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents, by mail, or at druggists. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent, to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary. GAY & BROTHERS, 16 Barclay St. N. Y.



March April May

SPRING is a trying time. Indications of disease should be heeded. If you have Indigestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver and kidneys, or Want of Appetite, take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to PURIFY THE BLOOD without delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house, and take it with you on journeys. It is cheaper than sickness, and as pleasant as the hand of a friend.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY.

By all Druggists. $1; 6 for $5. Rondout, N. Y.

CONSUMPTION.

[illegible]

I CURE FITS!

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

[illegible] Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of June, [illegible] next.

Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 20th day of November, 188[illegible].

FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

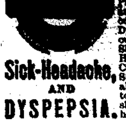
NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, a notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 15th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION,



TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT.

an elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, producing when dissolved in water an Exhilerating, Effervescing Draught, recommended by our best Physicians as a reliable and agreeable remedy. It cures Constipation, cures Dyspepsia, cures Piles, cures Heartburn, cures Sick-Headache, cures Sick Headache, cures Liver Complaint, cures Sick Stomach, and gently urges all the Excretory organs to a proper action. It should be found in every household and be carried by every traveler. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—

FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen Exclusive territory Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., Stewart Building, N. Y.

SCOTT'S

EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

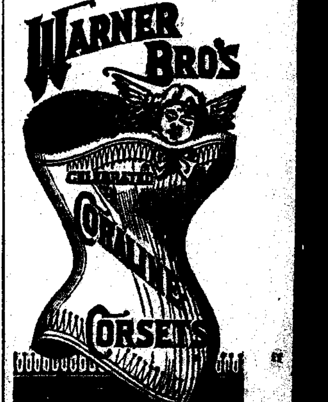
Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,

awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS,

353 Broadway, New York City

Established FAY'S 1866.

MANILLA ROOFING!

[illegible]

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell [illegible]

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

[illegible]TEENTH YEAR.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image."

VOLUME 18—NUMBER 52

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1886.

Single Copies Three Cents

The Cot at the Foot of the Hill.

There's a mansion of stone at the top of the hill,
[illegible]
[illegible]
Where all the long winter abound.
[illegible] are lined with mosaic designs,
Its windows are smothered in laces,
And treasures of art, in marble or oil,
Fill every available space.

At the foot of the hill is a dear little cot
Embowered in clambering vines;
Round doorway and windows the sweet climbing rose
With the fragrant Madeira entwines.
The sunbeams paint pictures all over the walls,
And in front is my small garden-plot,
Where the old-fashioned flowers, in bright flaming tints,
Shed perfume around the dear spot.

In the beautiful house at the top of the hill
Lives a lady so stately and fair;
In satins and velvets her figure is robed;
In the braids of her soft dusky hair
Gleam radiant jewels that shimmer and flash
Like the star-points ashine in the sky;
And yet—her red lips seem just ready to part
And give vent to a heart-broken sigh.

At the foot of the hill in my little white cot,
The hours pass swiftly away;
With my everyday duties and round of small cares
I am happy and busy all day,
In my pretty pink dress and with unadorned hair,
At even a walk to the stile,
To wait for my husband returning from work,
And to give him a kiss and a smile.

The lady who lives at the top of the hill
Has her carriage, her pony to ride;
And often she drives past the door of my cot,
But her husband is ne'er by her side.
And often she meets us, my husband and me,
Going home thro' the long shady lane,
And her beautiful features, so haughty and cold,
Contract in a spasm of pain.

Ah, the house at the top of the hill is a gem!
But it cannot compare with my cot.
All the jewels and wealth of the lady up there
Could not tempt me to change with her lot.
We have love in our cot that, in sunshine or gloom,
Our hearts with pure happiness fills.
Oh, no! I'd not give for the wealth of the world,
My cot at the foot of the hill.

The Land of Story Books.

ROBERT LOUIS STEPHENSON.

At evening when the lamp is lit
Around the fire my parents sit;
They sit at home and talk and sing,
And do not play at anything.

Now, with my little gun I crawl
All in the dark along the wall,
And follow round the forest track
Away behind the sofa back.

There in the night when none can spy,
All in my hunter's camp I lie,
And play at books that I have read
Till it is time to go to bed.

These are the hills, these are the woods,
These are the very solitudes;
And there the river by whose brink
The roaring lions come to drink.

I see the others far away,
As if in firelit camp they lay,
And I, like to an Indian scout,
Around their prey prowled about.

So, when my nurse comes in for me,
Home I returned across the sea,
And go to bed with backward looks,
At my dear land of story books.

MISTRESSES OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

A CENTURY OF BRIGHT WOMEN—FROM MARTHA WASHINGTON TO MISS ROSE CLEVELAND.

THE announcement that the President will marry Miss Frances Folsom in June recalls the historic series of White House nuptials. Washington, it is well-known, married long before he became president or even general of the army. He met the lovely widow Custis at Williamsburg during his service as a member of the Virginia legislature. Mrs. Washington presided over the executive household at the seat of government, first in New York, then in this city, with a good deal of formality. Their house in this city was one rented from Robert Morris, on Market street, between Fifth and Sixth. It was here the Friday levees were held, and the rules were very rigorous.

The first president's wife was born a Jones, that of the second Smith—Abigail Smith—so the republic, so far as the domestic head of it was concerned, was ushered in with a certain democratic simplicity. John Adams married his wife when she was twenty, and her father, who was a clergyman, preached a sermon on the Sunday after the wedding—so a historic old chestnut relates—from the text, "John came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and ye say he hath a devil." During Adams' term of office, in 1800, the government was removed to Washington. Mrs. Adams was the first lady of the White House, but she never liked it, and lived there altogether but four months. Her picture, by Gilbert Stuart, represents her as a cheerful and not unhandsome-looking woman of fifty, with cap, and ringlets of curls wreathing the edge.

Jefferson went into the White House a widower of nineteen years' standing, and his diary, lately published by John Bigelow, shows he understood thoroughly the domestic economies which were necessary in the matter of providing for the wants of the mansion hospitalities. His wife was the widow of Bathurst Skelton, a Virginia gentleman, and the daughter of John Wayles of Charles City county, Virginia. She was said to be a beautiful woman, and Jefferson is said to have won her over other suitors by his musical voice and ability to play the violin.

[illegible] was one of the most [illegible] the White House women. If [illegible] tradition, and yet the con- [illegible] one John Todd, whom she afterward married, had something to do with this. Todd died and left her a widow with one son, so Dolly set her cap for some of the fine-looking young members of the congress then wont to come to Philadelphia to transact the public business, and in 1794 married James Madison, one of the most talented of the body.

Mrs. Monroe was the daughter of a British army officer named Cartwright, a distant relation of the Philadelphia Cartwrights, who settled in New York after the peace of 1783. She was one of four girls. One of these married Mr. Heyliger, grand chamberlain to the king of Denmark; another a Mr. Knox of New York city, whose only daughter was the wife of the late Alexander Hamilton, son of Alexander Hamilton, the first secretary of the treasury; a third married Nicholas Gouverneur of New York, and the fourth Senator James Monroe of Virginia, afterward president.

The first White House wedding was that of President Monroe's youngest daughter, who married her cousin, Samuel Gouverneur, in 1820. It took place in the east room, and was a Knickerbocker affair, stylish and high-toned for the day. A number of brilliant receptions in Washington were tendered to the bridal couple, and the cards were out for a very swell one by Commodore "Essex" Porter and wife, when it had to be given up, owing to the untimely death of Commodore Decatur, killed by Barron in a duel. The dead officer had given the young couple a brilliant party but a few days before at his own home. An older daughter of President Madison married Judge George Hay of Richmond. Hortensia Hay, a beautiful girl, daughter of this match, was the wife of Lord Rogers of Baltimore, whom old society people of this city remember. Lady Rogers died in Paris, and is buried in Pere la Chaise.

Most persons who have read the voluminous diary of the "old man eloquent," know more or less of Louisa Catherine Adams, his wife. She was the daughter of a Marylander named Johnson, who lived in London during the revolution, where she was born. Charles Francis Adams was her third son. She accompanied her distinguished husband during much of his diplomatic and official journeying abroad, and did the honors during his executive term, and was a woman of varied accomplishments. A fine painting of her by Leslie is in possession of the Boston family, and represents her as a pretty woman, elegantly robed, a jeweled tiara in her hair, necklace ornament, and lace shawl, with a handsome gown, cut far more decollete than Rose Cleveland could possibly approve of. Mrs. Adams died in 1852, and is buried with her husband at Quincy.

Gen. Jackson's wife died before he went into the White House, and, as he had married before she was formally divorced, the iron-hearted old Democrat was, with her, often the subject of pitiless political calumny. She was a plain woman, but undoubtedly possessed the undivided affection of the great president, who never was so happy as when praising her memory, or defending it from slander.

Van Buren married a woman who, like himself, came of Dutch stock, Hannah Hoes. She died early in their married life at Albany, and her brilliant husband never took another partner. The wife of Major Van Buren was the lady of the White House during her father-in-law's tenure, and ably filled the place.

Ann Symmes was the wife of General Harrison and was a Jersey girl, born near Morristown, her father being a continental army officer. She never entered the White House, for when the president came East in 1841 to be inaugurated, her health was precarious and would not permit the journey. He died a month after he became president, while she lived until February, 1864.

President Tyler's first wife was Letitia Christian, daughter of Robert Christian of New Kent county, Virginia. Tyler was at the time of his marriage a young law graduate from the office of the celebrated Edmund Randolph, but his political prospects were bright, as the son of Gov. John Tyler, and to this honor of the father the son succeeded, and from thence to the presidency. Miss Christian was a noted eastern Virginia belle, and when her husband became president assumed the White House duties. Her health was feeble at the time, and she died in September, 1842. Elizabeth, third daughter of President Tyler by this union, was married in the White House to a southern gentleman named Waller. Three grandchildren of this president, sons of Lightfoot Jones, who married the eldest daughter, fought in the confederate army. One of them, Robert, received three wounds at Gettysburg. Mrs. Robert Tyler, a daughter-in-law of this president, acted as the White House mistress after his wife's death. She was a lady of great culture and manners, the daughter of the tragedian Cooper. Her eldest child, Letitia, was born in the White House.

President Tyler remained a widower but a short time, paying the Johnsonian compliment to the first spouse by soon selecting another, Miss Juliet Gardiner of New York. She was the daughter of the wealthy gentleman who owned Gardiner's island, familiar to many naval people as near the roadstead in east Long Island where the naval practice squadron, with the Annapolis cadets, spends much of its summer cruising and exercising. Although Mr. Tyler was the first president—and so far the only one—to marry in the high office, the wedding was not [illegible] in the White House, but at the [illegible] in New York. [illegible]

[illegible] Childress, born near Murfreesboro, and married James K. Polk, then member of the Tennessee legislature, in her nineteenth year. He went to congress the following year, and for fourteen sessions continued there, being elected speaker in 1836. In 1839 he became governor of Tennessee, and Mrs. Polk presided with grace at the state executive mansion, so that when in 1845 they came to the White House she proved to be one of the most agreeable and popular of hostesses. Many innovations, or rather changes in old customs of receiving were introduced during Mrs. Polk's residence at the capital, notably the one of dispensing with refreshments during the levees.

The wife of old Rough and Ready was a member of the extensive family of Smiths—Margaret Smith, a Maryland girl—daughter of a plain farmer of that state, and their married life for many years was the prosy one of an army couple on the frontier. The first home they had really was when in 1840 Col. Taylor went to the United States barracks at Baton Rouge. It was while stationed there that Jefferson Davis met and wooed old Zach's second daughter, much again the father's wishes, who disliked to see his children subjected to the same wandering existence he had led his spouse as an army officer. Lieut. Davis was then a handsome young subaltern, and the seceding element was so strong in him even at that time he ran away with Miss Taylor, who died shortly after their marriage and before the stern old parent had become reconciled to the elopement.

Miss Betty Taylor, the youngest, was the mistress of the White House during President Taylor's short incumbency. She became the wife of Major Bliss, Taylor's adjutant general in Mexico, and was a charming woman, well-known in her youthful days in this city, where she went to school. The wife of the president never received or went much in Washington society, and, like Mrs. Garfield, never liked the White House or enjoyed the life there.

Millard Fillmore married a New York school teacher, Miss Abigail Powers, before he became, like Cleveland, a Buffalo lawyer. She performed all the public social duties devolving upon her by reason of her husband's political eminence with great grace and intelligence. When he became chief magistrate she was not in very good health, and a few weeks after the close of his term died at Willard's hotel, Washington, of an illness probably much hastened by her attention to the onerous requirements of her station. President Fillmore survived his wife twenty-one years, dying in 1874 at Buffalo, and both lie buried, with an only daughter, in the beautiful Forest Lawn cemetery of that city.

Franklin Pierce—pronounced Perse up in Boston—was a classmate of Hawthorne's at Bowdoin college. The president of the college then and for many years was the Rev. Jesse Appleton. Jenny Appleton, a daughter of this college president, became Mrs. Pierce, and her husband, at the time of the marriage a young New Hampshire lawyer and congressman, became afterward president of the United States. The first few years of official life at the White House Mrs. Pierce's life was shadowed with grief, owing to the death of their only son a few weeks before the inauguration in a frightful railroad accident, in which Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were also injured. This cast a gloom over the early years of the social regime of the term.

Many living persons remember the incidents of society life of this period, the quiet, graceful manners of Mrs. Pierce and the hearty cordiality of the president, at the levees and state receptions. Mrs. Pierce died at Audover, Mass., during the war, and the ex-president at Concord in 1869. Both are buried in the cemetery, not far from the spot where the embattled farmer fired the shot heard round the world in that pretty New England town.

James Buchanan was a bachelor, and everybody recalls the presiding lady of his stormy career in the White House—Harriet Lane, his niece—who was well-known in her youth in the society of this city, Lancaster and Pittsburg. It was at Bedford Springs she met the young Baltimorean, Johnston, who married her at Wheatland in 1866. The White House never had a more accomplished domestic head than this young Pennsylvania girl. It was while she was hostess that the prince of Wales visited the United States and was entertained at the president's mansion. Albert Edward bore away with him, so the story of the day comes down to us, warm appreciations of the grace and beauty of Miss Lane.

Of Mary Todd Lincoln, the wife of the great emancipator, of Mrs. Johnson, who was Eliza McArdle, and of Julia Dent Grant, the wife of the silent captain and president who has so lately passed away, the public of to-day is familiar. Mrs. Lincoln and Mrs. Grant both took part in the social duties of their stations, as did Mrs Hayes and Mrs. Garfield—the former Lucy Webb, daughter of Dr. Webb of Chillicothe, O., the latter Lucretia Rudolph, daughter of Zebulon Rudolph of Garrettsville, in the same state. Lincoln lost a son, his favorite Tad, in the White House. Nelly Grant, the general's beloved daughter, was married—a brilliant wedding—in the same place.

President Arthur assumed the chief magistracy a widower, and, although rumor was very free with his name during his term, he did not marry. His deceased wife was a daughter of Capt. Herndon of the United States navy, the gallant officer who went down on the Central America. James Buchanan and Grover Cleveland, [illegible] ried when they went into the White House. One alone, President John Tyler, married while holding the executive title.—[Philadelphia Times.

What Baking Powder Shall We Use.

This plain question comes home to every housekeeper. We all desire pure and wholesome food and this cannot be had with the use of impure or poisonous baking powder. There can be no longer a question that all the cheaper, lower grade of baking powders contain either alum, lime or phosphatic acid. As loth as we may be to admit so much against what may have been some of our household gods, there can be no gainsaying the unanimous testimony of the official chemists. Indeed, analysts seem to find no baking powder entirely free from some one of these objectionable ingredients except the Royal, and that they report as chemically pure. We find some of the baking powders advertised as pure, to contain under the tests of Profs. Chandler, Habirshaw and others nearly twelve per cent. of lime, while others are made from alum with no cream of tartar. This, we presume, accounts for their lack of leavening power as sometimes complained of by the cook, and for the bitter taste found in the biscuits so frequently complained of by ourselves.

But aside from the inferiority of the work done by these powders, the physiologists assure us that lime and alum taken into the system in such quantities as this are injurious. They are not decomposed by heat and not dissolved in mixing or baking. They go with the bread, therefore, into the stomach where their physiological effects are indigestion, dyspepsia or worse evils.

The question naturally arises, why do these cheap baking powder makers use these things? Alum is three cents a pound, lime still cheaper, while cream of tarter costs thirty-five or forty. The reasons for the chemical purity of the Royal Baking Powder were recently given in the New York Tribune in an interesting description of a new method for refining argols, or crude cream of tartar. It seems that it is only under this process that cream of tartar can be freed from the lime natural to it and rendered chemically pure; that the patents and plant for this cost the Royal Baking Powder Company about half a million dollars, and that they maintain exclusive control of the rights.

Prof. McMurtrie, late chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., in the interests of commerce, made an examination of this process and reported upon the results attained in the refined cream of tartar. The following extract from his report would seem to answer the question repeated at the head of this article, which we have heard so frequently propounded by our lady friends:

"I have examined the cream of tartar used by the Royal Baking Powder Company in the manufacture of their baking powder, and find it to be perfectly pure, and free from lime in any form. The chemical tests to which I have submitted the Royal Baking Powder prove it perfectly healthful, and free from every deleterious substance.

"WM. McMURTRIE, E. M., Ph. D.,
"Chemist in Chief U.S. Dep't of Agriculture."

THE PROPER THING.

Gray is to be a favorite color for those of plain tastes.

Gray cashmere is made up over striped blue, grey and red silk.

Cream ecru and gray crochet laces will be used for dress trimmings.

Silk surahs are largely imported for early spring and summer dresses.

Black surah dresses for summer may be made with a white gathered vest of silk.

Cape mantles decending in the waist in front and back, without sleeves are new.

Canvas of new varieties, in bars and stripes, imitating English crewell work, will be popular.

Refined dresses of French cashmere are made complete for street or church by a small scarf-like mantle.

Canvas, homespun and other light cloth costumes for the street, have jackets of the material made with hoods.

There will be less matching the glove with the shade of the dress than formerly both this and next season.

Velvet collars, revers and panels are worn on silk dresses, but the fancy of the spring is for passementerie.

The short-basqued bodices with pointed fronts and postillion backs, worn in materials of nearly every description.

Grenadine dresses, black, white and colored, will remain in favor, notwithstanding the fancy for lace, canvas, and etamine toilets.

Rough-surfaced Irish linen note paper is still considered the most fashionable material for letter writing this quite plain and unadorned.

Picot velvet ribbons will be much used upon the hats for next season, and velvet faced brims will still be popular even upon hats and bonnets for midsummer wear.

A French correspondent of a noted fashion journal writes that a transition epoch is predicted for the coming summer, destined gradually to change the fluffy bouffant arrangement of dress, so longe in vogue, to the undraped clinging style.

Look out for bilious fevers in the spring, and prevent them by unloading the liver and kidneys, and restoring them to healthy action by Warner's safe cure.

Two of the most [illegible]

Kate Field's Romance.

The Chicago News contradicts the cruel story that Kate Field is to wed a western journalist, and then explains why the fair and gifted girl will never marry. It was while in Spain some years ago that she captivated a proud Castilian nobleman, Senor Alvaredo Lopez de Ratz. He laid siege to her heart, with the following result, according to the News, whose funny man is a second cousin of Miss Field, and wouldn't be guilty of misrepresenting the facts: "One day Miss Field, accompanied by the young Alvaredo Lopez de Ratz, went to the amphitheater to witness a bull fight, the same being a celebration of the feast of St. Isadore. When they reached the place they found that their seats were on the other side of the amphitheater, and to save time they thought to cut across the arena, the combat not yet having begun. Scarcely, however, had they reached the center of the arena when by some fatal blunder, the door of the bull pen was thrown open, and out rushed a monstrous Andalusian bull, lashing his tail wildly, pawing the earth and bellowing fiercely. Suave mio! Suave mio!" (Save me! Save me!) cried Miss Field, in tones that would have wrung the most callous heart. "Carissima mia!" answered the Alvaredo Lopez de Ratz, "te suavo spezza!" (Dearest, I will save thee!) Then drawing his stiletto, the brave young lover threw himself between the infuriated bull and the red parasol which Miss Field had unfurled, and behind which she stood, pale, shrieking, trembling. While the bull gored at Alvaredo Lopez de Ratz, that valiant young nobleman carved and whittled the shaggy monster's frothing nostrils right dexterously; mean time divers picadors, matadors and cavaliers hastened to the rescue of Miss Field, who was borne insensible from the arena. But what of Alvaredo Lopez de Ratz? Alas, his gored and lifeless remains, mutilated beyond recognition, were raked up and gathered together after the matadors had slain the infuriated bull. A braver man was never borne from the battlefield on two score and ten dustpans. Ever since that tragedy Miss Field has disdained the advances of the masculine sex. Pondering ever since on the fate of her young Spanish suitor, she never hears an empassioned avowal that she does not drop her pretty head and regretfully murmur "Ratz."

Wealth of the Country.

The following interesting compilation of facts regarding the wealth of this country has been made by the Rev. Dr. Behrends:

The total wealth of our country, now the richest in the world, is reported at $43,500,000,000, in a population of 50,000,000, with a total of 17,500,000 producers. An enormous sum in the aggregate, representing, however, the accumulations of 250 years, much of it in land, buildings and machinery. An equal division would give to each man, woman and child a capital of $870, much of it relatively worthless to the individual owner, or of $2,500 to each producer. The latter sum represents the limit of average wealth attainable. There is no more to be had. The same result is emphasized by analyzing the annual production. The most careful estimates place this $10,000,000,000 annually. From this must be deducted $700,000,000 paid in taxes, $1,300,000,000 to make good the annual wear and tear of the means of production, leaving $8,000,000,000 to be divided among 50,000,000 consumers, without allowing anything for interest on invested capital or for its increase. Allowing five per cent. for these, the net production is reduced to $5,725,000,000. Throwing capital out of the account there is only $160 a year for each inhabitant or of $115 if capital is entitled to a dividend—an average of from thirty-one to forty-four cents a day. Forty cents a day must suffice, on the average, to feed, clothe and shelter the people of this country. Or, dividing the annual production among the actual workers, the average income will be between $327 and $475 a year. Three hundred and fifty dollars a year must buy bread, raiment, pay house rent and provide a margin for saving in every family of three persons. Two dollars a day is far above the average income that the productive energy of the country can pay. He who secures it belong to the privileged classes, with many, perhaps, above him, but with many more below him, and every man belongs to the bloated plutocracy, against whom socialism urges its crusade, who owns $2,500 worth of property or who receives more than $400 a year for his work.

A Lemon-Colored Woman.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. Dec. 23, 1885.—Three years ago I was confined to my bed in a deplorable condition. Skin as yellow as a lemon. Slightest food would make me scream. Also had prolapsus and ulceration. Treated by physicians for two months. Grew worse. Doctors said it was the worst case of liver trouble they ever saw. Lost forty pounds of flesh. Could not sleep. Improved rapidly under the use of Warner's safe cure. Am now perfectly well.—MRS. J. J. BAYNE, 59 Lake avenue.

About $[illegible] worth of American-made locomotives are sent abroad yearly.

His Circulation.

An editor was taken seriously ill and a doctor was called at once.

"How is your circulation?" inquired the man of pills.

"Oh," replied the editor excitedly, "my circulation is steadily increasing; it is the largest in the county. It is more than double the circulation of the Daily Tooter and is away out of sight of the [illegible]

GOOD NEWS FOR THE AFFLICTED.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism and Catarrh.

Baldwinsville, N. Y.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN:—About one year ago I chilled my blood and was under the Doctor's care for about six months when I had a council of eight physicians and was given up to die. Soon after, a lady friend came to see me and told me about your great remedy. She said she had been cured by it after having the rheumatism seven years, and that her rheumatism was brought on by a cold. At this time I was suffering severe pain all through my body and near my heart. The doctors called it only "frozen blood." Through the persuasion of my friend I procured a bottle. I found some relief. Seeing this I procured more and was entirely cured by its use; and what was my surprise and pleasure at finding that I was not only cured of Rheumatism, but the catarrh which had been troubling me for several years, and had become very offensive had entirely left me.

Wishing your remedy every success, and thanking you very much for my double cure, I remain,

Truly Yours,
MRS. LUCY BRONSON.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—I was confined to my bed with Inflammatory Rheumatism for over a week; was very badly afflicted, suffering with severe pain in my chest, it was going to my heart. On Thursday, the 15th I commenced using Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy at 9 o'clock, p. m., and on Saturday, the 17th was able to walk all over the house, and have since continued to improve, and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are afflicted with the terrible disease.

EDW. B. WILKINS.

Ask your druggist for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Look Out For:

The advertiser who has got a good clerical position to offer, but wants you to make "a deposit of fifty dollars or more as a guaranty of your reliability."

The lightning-rod agent who agrees to encase a farm building with lightning-rods for five dollars, and subsequently presents a bill for one hundred and five dollars—one hundred dollars for the rods, and five dollars for putting them up.

The party who sells rights for a worthless patent process for curing tobacco.

Worthless recipes for curing hog cholera and other animal diseases.

Swindlers who claim royalties on some patent article which they may find in a farmer's possession.

Quack Traveling dentists who advertise to furnish a set of teeth fully as good as the best for a very small sum of money.

Organizers of Stock Companies who have just a few more shares left, and are willing to let you in "on the ground floor."

The "Experienced Responsible Lawyer," who says he "stands high in his profession," has a record of winning "ninety per cent of his cases," and will do your lawing for you on shares.

The Railroad Scalpers who very frequently palm off worthless tickets as genuine upon the unsuspecting.

The Sharpers who are advertising Australian and Russian oats, which are no better than the so-called Bohemian oats.—[American Agriculturist for May.

We Pause to Hesitate.

When it becomes necessary to call a larger man a liar.

When the assessor asks if there are any dogs concealed under the house.

When an undertaker asks us to patronize him as liberally as possible.

When a bore enters our office, puts his feet on the table and expects us to spare his life.

When the butcher asks us if we won't just settle that little matter and be done with it.

When we are expected to eat the same old hash three times a day and lay aside all the nails and things we find in it.

When our beloved wife asks us to get up and build the fire about three hours before daylight on a cold morning.

When the dentist attempts to beguile us into his parlors where the painless system is in vogue. It is universally conceded that nothing hurts so much as painless dentistry.—[Chicago Tribune.

Penny dinners are given daily for the poor in London.

A Great Victory
A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by
Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.
100 Doses One Dollar.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes.
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
STONEWARE,
Vitrified Glazed Sewer Pipe
AND
DRAIN TILE,
Traps, Bends, Elbows,
T's Y's &c.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY, and SAND
STONEWARE CHIMNEYS and TAPS
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

—COAL.—
The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$5.00	2.63	1.44
Nut	5.00	2.63	1.44
Mix	5.00	2.63	1.44
Egg	4.60	2.43	1.34
Grate	4.60	2.43	1.34
Pea	4.00	2.13	1.19

[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers. First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!
The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.
White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

The Backus Water Motor

IS THE MOST Economical Power Known!
—FOR—
DRIVING LIGHT MACHINERY
It takes but little room.
It never gets out of repair.
It can not blow up.
It requires no fuel.
It needs no engineer.
There is no delay; no firing up; no ashes to clean away; no extra insurance to pay; no repairing necessary; no coal bills to pay, and it is always ready for use.
It is invaluable for blowing Church Organs, for running Printing Presses, Sewing Machines, Turning Lathes, Scroll Saws, Grind Stones, Coffee Mills, Sausage Machines, Feed Cutters, Corn Mills, Elevators, etc.
Four-horse power at 40 pounds pressure of water. It is noiseless, neat, compact, steady, and above all
IT IS VERY CHEAP.
Price $15 to $300
Send for circular to the Backus Water Motor Co., Newark, N. J., stating paper you saw advertisement in.
Mr. S. C. North of this village having set a number of the Backus Motors will be pleased to answer any inquiries that parties may wish to make.

TO MY PATRONS AND FRIENDS.

Why should we languish "when the whole world is a Market." Please read the following verbatim copy of another combination missive, and draw your own conclusions:

UTICA, N. Y., March 8, 1886.

H. C. GIESLER.

Dear Sir—We are in receipt of your valued order of the 5th inst., and will be pleased to fill the same, with the exception of the Patent Medicines; these we are obliged to decline to send at present. Kindly inform us if you desire us to send the balance of the order and we will forward the goods at once.

Very Respectfully Yours
JOHN H. SHEEHAN & CO.

The Oswego County Druggists Combination has taken another step towards "elevating the standing" of the drug trade in our village. How we apples swim. Oh how happy we would be, if in high prices we could agree, but join your gang I never shall until I meet you plumb in Halifax. We continue to keep a full line of find Drugs and Medicines of all kinds and shall continue to do so during our natural life, in spite of spies, telltales and combinations.

H. C. GIESLER, Druggist,
Opposite the Opera House,
Fulton, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Repairing
done on short notice.
[illegible]
—ALSO AGENT FOR— [illegible]

[illegible] An additional charge of ten cents [illegible] out of Oswego [illegible]

[illegible] must be accompanied by a [illegible] private guarantee of good [illegible]

[illegible] made known on application.

[illegible] all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] prices.

[illegible] Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]

[illegible] communications, on business or [illegible] TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE edition of last week's Judge was 43,000. It is under new management.

DR. CALTHROP again comes forward and predicts a storm period and cold wave for the third week in May.

HENRY ANFENGER, aged 81, a Hebrew in good circumstances, hanged himself to a bed post in Syracuse last evening.

THE Colonial Exposition was formerly opened by the Queen. All the elite of London, and many scores of foreign princes and deplomats were present. Mr. Gladstone did not attend.

THERE have been rioting and bloodshed in Chicago this week, caused by strikers who are attempting to inaugerate the eight hour system of labor. Yesterday twenty officers were lying in a station dead or badly wounded

MR. TAPPAN proposes a law to erect the State Capitol at Syracuse. It will hardly meet with popular favor. Enough has been put into the Capitol at Albany to sink the largest ship that ever floated, and the masses do not care to run chances in getting another white elephant on their hands.

THE long strike on the South-western railroad of the Gould system has been declared "off." Most of the old hands have applied for reinstatement and a large majority are taken back in their former places. This strike on the one hand, has resulted in inconvenience to the employer, more or less loss of capital and check to his business operations; while on the other hand it has compelled the strikers to bear the maintenance of themselves and families in idleness and also large numbers of laborers who were not directly connected with the strike were compelled to do likewise.

THE report on the mortality and vital statistics of the United States prepared by Dr. John S. Billings, United States army, place the number of deaths in the cities as larger than in the rural districts. One of the diagrams shows that for fifty cities the proportion of male deaths to female by suicide is three and one-half to one. In the entire country the proportion of deaths of male to female from alcoholism is over five to one and from suicide, four to one. The principal causes of death are stated to be consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria, heart disease, cholera infantum and still-born. The total number of deaths from old age in the census of 1880 was 14,168, of which 6,102 were males and 8,066 were females. It caused 1,872 out of each 100,000 deaths from all causes, as against 1,621 in 1870, 2,762 in 1860 and 2,795 in 1850.

THE enthusiasm manifested throughout the South over Jeff. Davis' reappearance in public, as chief representative of the lost cause, is the theme of much comment and condemnation by the press throughout the country. For over twenty years Jefferson Davis has led a life of seclusion, dead politically and socially; and just as many persons were beginning to forget that such a person ever existed, he appears with one foot in the grave, and gives vent to those feelings that have so long rankled in his breast, subdued but still there. Possibly it would have been as well if he had met with the death that he deserved when secession was overthrown and not lived to the present time to attempt to incite feelings of animosity between North and South, feelings that were fast being healed and passing into oblivion.

THE great tragedians Edward Booth and Salvini have been playing together in "Othello" at the Academy of Music New York city. At the second performance on last Thursday evening Booth who played the part of "Iago" acted very strangely and it was very apparent that he was not himself, he spoke his lines in a voice that was scarcely audiable and merely walked through his part. The climax was reached when in the third act he tottered uncertainly upon his legs for a moment, and then fell face downward near the footlights. He was assisted to his feet and went through the rest of the play in an incoherent manner. This has lead to the belief among many that Mr. Booth was intoxicated on this occasion, but as an actor is as likely to be taken sick as any one, it is advisable to consider well before representing one who has so long been held in popular favor.

Try Red Cross Cough Syrup, 25cts. at
39m3 M. M. WILLIAMS.

25 pairs Nottingham lace curtains, $1.00 per pair at O'BRIEN'S

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE suffer in silent patience from diseases of the bladder. If there is anything more distressing among chronic diseases, medical literature has not yet revealed it. A newspaper is not the place in which to describe the [illegible] of this agony. Every [illegible] knows it for himself, but every [illegible] know what thousands [illegible] that when all others [illegible] have been restored to [illegible] Warner's safe cure. [illegible]

[illegible]

The Sing Sing prison earnings for April were $20,024. Expenditures, $14,018.

The Auburn prison deficiency for April was $8,674. The receipts were only $1,856.

Patrick W. Hogan, a promising young lawyer, died of heart disease while playing ball in Syracuse last Sunday.

Knowersville, near Albany, was visited by the most disastrous fire in its history on Friday night. Seven buildings were destroyed; loss $20,000.

Christiana Spencer, an inmate of the Onondaga county poor house, was killed last Wednesday by falling from the second story window. She was over 85 years of age.

Only $600 is lacking to complete the popular subscription of $25,000 for the monument of Peter Cooper, to be erected in front of the Cooper Union, New York city.

Albany's bi-centennial committee last Friday evening chose Gov. Hill for orater of the day, William A. McElroy of of the New York Tribune, a former Albanian, for poet, and Berthold Fernow of Albany for historian.

The body of a woman, about 60 years of age, identified as the remains of Mrs. Craner of Chippewa, Ont., was found in the whirlpool at Suspension Bridge on Saturday. It is supposed that she fell into the river by accident.

Wm. M. Albertt, who was injured about ten months ago in a railroad accident on the Erie railroad, and whose case was on trial last week at Newburgh received $25,000, it being the fourth largest verdict of the kind ever given in this State.

Guiseppa Scoma cheated the gallows by committing suicide by strangulation in the jail at Hudson last Thursday night. He had been convicted of the murder of Antonio Ricco and sentenced to be executed June 4 next.

The city of Syracuse, when the annexation of Geddes shall have taken place, will be the sixth in population in the State—New York, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Rochester, Albany and Syracuse will be the order.

Dutches county offers $500 and the New York Central & Hudson River rail-Co., $500 for the arrest and conviction of the person who murdered Gilbert Dykeman in the railroad flag shanty near Rhinebeck.

H. H. Warner of Rochester, offered early this year two prizes of $100 each to the person first discovering and reporting to the Warner observatory, comets that might appear during the year. Prof. Brooks of Phelps, N. Y., secures both of these, having discovered the first one on April 27, and a second one last Saturday morning.

COUNTY NEWS.

George Graham, a night workman in Follner's box factory Oswego, lost three fingers from his left hand in a planer Friday.

James Otts has sold his canal boat, the A. P. Hamill, to E. G. Spencer for $1,600. The purchase included three mules. The Hamill is at Oswego.

Collector W. H. Cole of Sandy Creek, has settled with the county treasurer. His warrant amounted to $14,406.03, and he returned uncollected $209.16.

Collector E. L. Newell of the town of Oswego settled with the county treasurer Saturday. His warrant called for $12,426.33 and he returned as uncollected $19.97.

R. M. Barnhard, collector of the town of Constantia has settled. His warrant amounted to $15,035.10 and he returned uncollected $673.29.

Mary E. Walker, M. D. has written a letter to the Palladium, expressing her thanks to the ministers that officiated at her mother's funeral and to all others that rendered their services.

The first funeral held in the new church near Pembers Corners, on the line between Hannibal and Oswego was a double one, two having been appointed at the same time.

One of the oldest news papers in this part of the country is in possession of Mrs. Richard VanAuken of Hannibal. It is an issue of the Boston Weekly Post Boy, bearing date of Monday, April 1st, 1745 making it over 141 years of age.

The teachers of Oswego Town met at the school house in Oswego Center on Saturday for the purpose of organizing a permanent town association. The following officers were elected: President, Miss Mary O'Connor, of Oswego; vice-president, Miss Lucy Hill, Southwest Oswego; secretary, Miss Jennie Daley, Southwest Oswego. The next meeting of the association will be held at Southwest Oswego June 5th.

Miss Prussia Tanner, aged 18, daughter of Hudson C. Tanner of Oswego, for many years stenographer of the State Senate, recently joined the Catholic church without her parents' knowledge. She had been attending a St. Louis academy for young ladies, a Catholic institution. Father Auger says her action is not the result of any influence exerted in the school. Miss Tanner has been a devout and and very earnest member of the Episcopal church. The The matter causes considerable comment.

100 Ladies all wool braided Jerseys $1.00 each at O'BRIEN'S.

"The play's the thing,
Wherein I'll reach the conscience of the king."

And equally true is it that Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" (the original Little Liver Pills) are the most effectual means that can be used to reach the seat of disease, cleansing the bowels and system, and assisting nature in her recuperative work. By druggists.

The "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce cures "female weakness" and kindred affections. By druggists.

Spring Wheat, choice for seed at Genesee mills.
49w4 W. S. NELSON.

LOST.

A Gordon setter. Color black and tan [illegible]

[illegible]

—Gilbert R. [illegible] is canvassing Oswego Falls for the People's Family Atlas.

Work has been commenced in the brick yards. There are four in this village.

A public dance was given in Johnson's hall last Friday evening. Music was furnished by Parker's band.

The people of Lower Oswego Falls have decided by vote to use water from the water works for school purposes.

The case of Stoddard against John Cameron and John McIntosh has been dismissed, the former failing to appear.

Hannibal.

Otis W. Kipp and wife and Orlando Williams have returned from the West.

George Corcoran while at work in the saw mill yesterday suffered a compound fracture of the forearm.

W. F. Brownell has fitted up the Williams grist mill in good shape and is now prepared for business.

Mrs. Mary Sheldon, who has been residing in Fulton for a few years, has returned to Hannibal, and opened a fine line of millinery goods in the Davis store. Her many friends wish her prosperity.

B. F. Byrne, who has been for some time in Syracuse, has also returned to this place and opened his old shop in the corner store building where he repairs and deals in harness, as well as repairing mattresses, chairs, couches, carriage tops, &c. His experience in Syracuse has enlarged his variety of work.

Gilberts Mills.

Rev. C. Brockway is visiting his aunt Mrs. A. T. Mason of this place.

Mrs. Oliver Ross is on the sick list.

Old Mrs. Haskill is dangerously ill and is not expected to live.

Mrs. Doctor Snyder from Scriba called on Mrs. N. J. Blodgett and other friends last week.

Friends and neighbors were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gardner at church again.

Mrs. Leroy Sanford is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Coe.

Mrs. G. Kelley and mother are home from their visit to Palermo.

Old Mr. Mason was taken Sunday evening with a sick spell to which he is subject, and is quite feeble.

The Sunday school at the Baptist church is gaining in numbers since their new pastor, Rev. O. H. Denny came. He takes charge of the Bible class.

Farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather by putting in their crops.

Scriba.

Many people from this village attended the Gough memorial services in Oswego Sunday.

On Saturday occurred the death of Mrs. Catharine Walrod of Scriba at the age of 88 years. Mrs. Walrod was born in Elbridge, Onondaga county, March, 1798. She married George S. Walrod when a young woman and moved to this county where she has resided ever since. Her husband and father were both soldiers in the war of the revolution. She leaves three children, Mrs. Daniel Carson, Mr. Joseph Walrod, of this city, and Mrs. Nicholas Healy of Sheby Mich.

Parish.

Saturday morning about 1 o'clock a fire was discovered in the hardware store of B. Perington & Son. The sufferers by the fire are B. Perington & Son, all of their hardware; LeClaire & Butler, all of their store of goods; W. B. Hearter's furniture store, the goods were removed but nearly all of his household furniture burned; W. G. Baxter's dwelling house; Dr. Harter's dwelling house and nearly all of his household goods; R. C. Robertson's two stores, and Rowe's store. The Good Templars lost all of their regalia and furniture, Lynch's law library was much injured, Hubb's meat market was burned. The estimated loss is $25,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Blood Will Tell.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1885.—In April, 1881, my daughter was taken sick with complication of symptoms. She continued to grow worse under the best medical treatment. Only temporary improvement. Had a relapse, grew rapidly worse, and at this time, had palpitation of the heart, intense pain in the head, nervous dyspepsia, and physicians said, catarrh of the bladder. She fell away from 135 pounds to less than eighty. Began to use Warner's safe cure and Warner's safe pills, together with Warner's Safe Nervine. In ten days she was much better, and in 100 days after she gained fifty pounds in weight, and was restored to good health. JOSEPH H. THORNTON, room 9, Johnson Building.

20 pieces more of those all wool cashmeres 39c per yard this week at O'BRIEN'S.

OBITUARY.

Jay D. Stowell of Rochester, died last Sunday morning at the residence of his father, A. D. Stowell, in Lower Oswego Falls, of heart disease, at the age of 36 years and 6 months. He leaves a widow and one child to mourn his loss. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the house, Rev. Mr. Olmstead officiating. The remains were interred in Mt. Adnah.

Word has been received of the death in the Cortland insane asylum of a Mr. Marshall, a former resident of this village.

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. Williams's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, [illegible] &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. Williams' Drug Store.

[illegible]

[illegible] the sixty-fourth birthday of General Grant was celebrated by a densely packed crowd at the Metropolitan church where he used to worship, and there was a large mass meeting at the Masonic Temple in response to a call to endorse Premier Gladstone's Home rule bill for Ireland.

When Hon. Samuel Randall, who presided at this meeting, stepped upon the stage he was greeted with loud applause. Said he "we sympathize with all people seeking home rule. We sympathize with Greece, with Mexico, and with the Hungarians; why should we deny to Ireland all the aid we could give?" When he finished speaking, the band played "Come back to Erin." The Irish question also received attention from Senators Van Wyck and Riddleberger, and from Representatives Gibson, Phelps, McKinley, O'Hara and others.

A large audience went to the Congregational church Wednesday evening to hear Frederick Douglass lecture on his recollections of slavery times. After speaking of the wrongs perpetrated against the slaves before they were freed, the speaker said "the negro race never hated the South," and, he added "I hope we never will hate it, but we were once hated and we are not much loved to-day. Why is it that no one sings to-day, "Hang Jeff Davis on a sour apple tree?"

He referred to the relations which existed between religion and slavery, and said that it was a pregnant and striking fact that American slavery was never afraid of American religion. They seemed to be on very good terms with each other, while the church and the slave prison stood in the same neighborhood, and the church bell kept time with the bell of the auctioneer.

"Now, to-day, if the American pulpit would thunder as it should thunder forth the wrath of the prophets of God, it would put an end to the scenes of violence that are sweeping over the South in which men are murdered by the wholesale."

Of the present condition of the negro Mr. Douglass said, "Some of our friends despair of attaining our rights in this country, and are asking us whether it is not best to get up and get out. I hold, however, that our best plan is to stay where we are, for I do not know where we could go that we would not find white people."

A protracted session of Congress is looked upon as a certainty now. It is thought the Tariff bill will not come up for discussion now until the last of May. "We will not take it up until all are ready," said Col. Morrison, but after it is once up the question will be when to let it go. About eighty members want to make speeches on the subject, and these will take at least three weeks. The opponents of the bill speak very confidently of disposing of it in short order, and assert, without reservation, that it has not the ghost of a chance of passing the House. Meanwhile the Tariff reformers are watching and praying, and expressing the opinion that the bill will pass. The action of the President in urging the passage of the bill has cut a little both ways, and it is hard to tell whether it has done more good or more harm. It is claimed by Republicans that it will drive back into their ranks, all who had a mind to step over the traces and act with the tariff reformers. But this is a thing that no one can tell about for a certainty.

The Senate has been discussing foreign mail subsidies. Senator Beck, of Ky., held that he wanted our foreign mail delivered in the shortest possible time, regardless of where the ships were built. Senator Plumb of Kans., contended that the American flag should not float over any vessel that was not built in America. He asked Senators who fought for the Confederacy if they wanted to vote money to build British ships over which the American flag was to be floated. Said he "If I read the history of the Confederacy aright, it tells me that the men who fought that gallant fight in a cause that went down after four years of such a struggle as the world had never seen, have more occasion to despise, loathe, and hate Great Britain than any other people in the world. She promised the Confederacy that which made the Confederacy alive with hope, and she broke her promise, as she always does when it suits her interests to do so. She was the friend of the Confederacy at a time when it would stimulate the Confederacy to go on with the struggle, and then, when the struggle was entered on, and there was a Macedonian cry for help that she had promised, she absolutely deserted you. I should like to see the true Confederate who would vote to float the American flag, of which he is now as proud as any one else, over a ship representing British capital—the capital of a nation that was your meanest foe in the hour of trial.

The condition of sentiment both at the South and the North, after the war, Mr. Plumb thought, would not have been averse to war with Great Britain, and he believed the Alabama Commission was General Grant's greatest patent to fame.

According to the latest count New York city has 480 places of worship, 396 of which are Protestant.

THE depressed, anxious, tired, prostrated feeling with disposition to chills and fever, headache, malaria and nervous prostration indicate that the blood is full of uric acid, which can only be effectually remedied by that great blood purifier, Warner's safe cure.

The following letter has been addressed to Jefferson Davis by Col. Nicholas Grumbach of Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 1, 1886.

SIR:—I have read your speech at Montgomery, Ala., and I see you are a rebel still. Should you not have been hung in place of Captain Wirtz, your tool? If my regiment had captured you, it would have been on the first tree. [illegible]

[illegible]

Mrs. James A. Garfield and Miss Mollie Garfield are visiting Harry Garfield, a [illegible] at St. Paul's School, Concord, Mass.

Sir Arthur Sullivan and Mr. W. S. Gilbert will probably be present at the opening performance of the Mikado in Berlin on June 2d.

The private bank of O. S. Langan at Bluften, O., was blown open by dynamite and robbed on last Friday morning. Over $9,000 in cash and other securities were taken.

The Advance elevator Kansas city, Mintor Bros., proprietors, was burned early Saturday morning. Loss $100,000. Forty thousand bushels of wheat and seventeen thousand bushels of wheat and seventeen thousand bushels of corn were destroyed.

Charles Franklin Robertson, Bishop of the diocese of Missouri, died in St. Louis last Saturday morning from a complication of diseases.

The most disastrous fire that has taken place in Baltimore in many years occurred last Friday evening. The losses were over $600,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

An extraordinary hail storm in Texas last week covered the ground with hail stones to the depth of eight inches, and destroyed every vestige of vegetation.

Samuel Marley shot and almost instantly killed his employer, John A. Lyons, a prominent hardware merchant of Indianapolis Saturday night. The trouble between the men grew out of a dispute over a wagon and occurred in the open road. Marley surrendered himself and was locked up.

Louis Somerfield (white) and Richard J. Lee (colored) were hanged at the city jail, Washington, last Friday. Somerfield murdered his wife, Christina Somerfield, and his son-in-law, Gottlieb Eisenbraun, last November. He was a drunkard, and committed the crime because his wife refused to give him money for whisky. Lee brutally murdered his wife after he had driven her away from his house by his cruelty.

LITERARY.

Canon Farrar's New Book.

A few weeks ago, when Canon Farrar was in this country, tens of thousands of people paid as much as one dollar each to hear a single lecture delivered by him, and were well pleased with what they got for their money. Several of the most important of these lectures and addresses with other papers are now published by John B. Alden, of New York, and can now be had in a very handsome cloth bound volume, for the price of 40 cents. Some of the lectures are also published separately in his Elzevir Library, in which form the lecture on Dante sells for 3 cents; on Temperance, 2 cents; on Ideals of Nations 2 cents; Thoughts on America, 3 cents. The millions of intelligent people who admire Canon Farrar and who were not able to hear him lecture, will be delighted to find his brilliant, scholarly and eloquent thoughts placed in this handsome form within their reach. The publisher's illustrated catalogue, 133 pages, is sent to any address on receipt of 4 cents; or condensed catalogue free.
John B. Alden, Publisher, 393 Pearl St., New York.

THE CENTURY

for May begins a volume. It contains:

STRIKING ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES.

"The Flour Mills of Minneapolis," by E. V. Smalley—ten pictures: "A Californian's Gift to Science," Lick Observatory—eleven illustrations. "American Country Dwellings," by Mrs. Van Rensselaer—sixteen illustrations: "Breeding of Fancy Pigeons,"—eleven delicate engravings.

GENERAL M'CLELLAN'S

Posthumous Notes on the critical period between "The Peninsula" and "Antietam," accompanied by two other war articles—"McClellan at the Head of the Grand Army," a private's recollections; and "The Battle of South Mountain," a stirring narrative by Gen. D. H. Hill, all profusely illustrated by battle scenes, portraits, etc.

FICTION.

Short stories by Brander Matthews and Geo. A. Hibbard; chapters of Mr. Howell's novel, "The Minister's Charge;" and a delightful illustrated story of a search for Don Quixote's helmet.

NOTABLE ESSAYS.

"Evolution and the Faith," a thoughtful and forcible paper from Rev. T. T. Munger, D. D.; and Hawthorne's Philosophy," by Julian Hawthorne, a valuable literary study, with portraits.

FURTHER CONTENTS

Comprise "Zweibak, or Notes of a Professional Exile;" editorial comments on the Labor Question, etc.; open letters from George W. Cable and others; poem by Sydney Lanier, R. L. Stevenson and others; Bric-a-Brac, etc. Sold everywhere. Price 35 cenes.

THE CENTURY CO.

LIPPINCOTT'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

In Lippincott's Monthly Magazine for May, the serial story, "Taken by Siege," takes the reader to one of the famous masked balls at the New York Academy of Music. "A Bachelor's Blunder" is as bright, clever and interesting as ever. This promises to be the best of Mr. Norris's novels. In the Experience Meeting, a department of unusual promise, Mrs. Cora Urquhart Potter, the lady whose recitation of "Ostler Joe" excited so much controversy, gives her "Experiences as an Amateur Elocutionist," while Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in her "Literary Confessions of a Western Poetess," not only gives a great deal of curious information about herself, but manages also to criticise her critics with unsparing severity. Julian Hawthorne contributes one of his most ingenius and fantastic stories, "Prof. Weisheit's Experiment," and Andrew Lang, a delightful skit on ghosts and ghost stories, "In Castle Dangerous." Joel Benton's essay on "The Poetry of Thoreau" is subtle and thoughtful. The poetry is supplied by Austin Dobson, Louise Chandler Moulton, and James B. Kenyon, and the Monthly Gossip contains the usual miscellany of entertaining chitchat.

Positive Cure for Piles.

[illegible]

[illegible] A. C. [illegible] interest in the coal business of A. C. Belden & Co., Syracuse.

A. H. Schwartz, who has been made Superintendent of the consolidated divisions is about thirty-five years of age and has been employed by the D.L. & W. company about 16 years. Mr. Schwartz is a German and is spoken of as a very popular gentleman.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware, wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., April 26, 1886.

Present, a full board.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

The following bills were reported from the Finance Committee and the Clerk directed to draw orders for the several amounts, to-wit:

George F. Sharp, Street Commissioner,	$137.56
J. Cavanaugh, lamplighting,	38.67
Willard Johnson, lumber,	9.00
E. B. Abbey, mason work at Engine House,	7.10

The N. Y. O. & W. Railroad, through their agent, George C. Webb, presented plans for th erection of a passenger and freight depot on Second street between Oneida and Cayuga streets.

On motion it was resolved that said R. R. Company be allowed to construct a depot according to the plans and specifications presented.

Mr. Piper appeared before the board, representing "The Fulton Water Works Company," and asked that the time for said Co. to cross the Oswego Canal with their main be extended to a reasonable time beyond the close of navigation the present season.

On motion the request was denied.

Trustee Kendrick was appointed a committee to ascertain the cost of iron girders for paper mill race bridge and if cost will not exceed $200 to order them at once.

Messrs. Boomer and Loomis asked permission to erect a fence on the north side of Broadway between First street and the canal bridge, joining the sidewalk now laid. The request was granted such fence to remain during the pleasure of the board.

The President and Trustee Chase were added to committee on side walks.

On motion the President and Trustees Johnson and Kendrick were appointed a committee to ascertain the cost of drinking fountains and probable cost of putting water pipes in engine house.

Charges were preferred against Policeman Wilkinson, and referred to Trustees Pardee, More and Bradford.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening May 12, at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

Just Received at the
NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE
A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's
READY MIXED PAINTS.
They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.
I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--
At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date.
The New Drug Store.
H. C. GIESLER.

OVER WORKED Women
For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.
A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps.
Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods and prices below all Competition. [illegible]

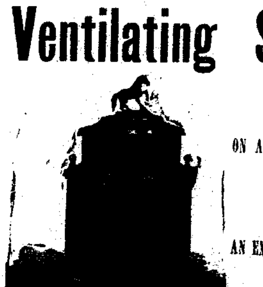
CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

SNOW AND LOOMIS,
No 7 First Street,
FULTON, N. Y.
HARDWARE DEALERS,
——Have a New and Complete Line of——
STOVES AND RANGES.
——THE——
WORLDS' JEWEL
IS THE FINEST STOVE MADE.
Stoves at Prices to Suit all Purchasers.

FROM THE BANNERMAN GREENHOUSES [illegible]
OUR SAMPLE BOX OF PLANTS Mailed safely to any United States post office for $1.00. Contains a plant of choice EVERBLOOMING CARNATION, CHRYSANTHEMUM, GERANIUM, HELIOTROPE, FUCHSIA, MONTHLY ROSE, WINTER BLOOMING BEGONIA, SWEET VIOLET, COLEUS, VERBENA, and bulb of TUBEROSE and GLADIOLUS. Our catalogue full of information for be stamp; gratis with every order. Price list free if this paper is mentioned. Give us a trial.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen
THE ART GARLAND, ART UNIVERSAL, DENMARK, PRINCESS ALADDIN, and ACORN, Parlor Stoves.
THE MAGEES MYSTIC, GRAND UNIVERSAL, HAPPY THOUGHT, HAPPY HOME, aud DUCHESS Ranges.
Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.
A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.



A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.
MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
A. LMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere [illegible] STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY, [illegible]

WANTED—LADY [illegible]

WANTED [illegible]

DEAFNESS [illegible]

[illegible] Proprietors.

[illegible] & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] Express .... 8:47 a. m
[illegible] and Philadelphia Express .... 11:38 a. m
[illegible] Express .... 4:08 p. m
[illegible] and Phil. Night Express .... 7:28 p. m

GOING NORTH.

[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express .... 7:29 a. m.
[illegible] Express .... [illegible] a. m.
[illegible] Express .... [illegible] p. m.
[illegible] and Accommodation .... [illegible] p. m.
[illegible] and Philadelphia Express .... 7:28 p. m.

[illegible] a. m., 7:29 a. m., and 7:28 p. m. trains [illegible] Sundays. There will also be a special [illegible] train for Syracuse leaving Fulton station [illegible] Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

W. K. NIVEN, Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express .... 7:15 a. m
[illegible] and Accommodation .... 8:50 a. m
Norwich Express .... 3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express .... 9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express .... 6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express .... 10:58 a. m.
Freight and accommodation .... 6:08 p. m.
Oswego Day Express .... 9:47 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:24	11:54	5:24
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Max B. Richardson of Oswego, was in town Monday.

Mrs. R. Redman, formerly of Oswego Falls, is visiting here.

Miss Julia Kimball of Oswego Normal school, spent Sunday in town.

Miss Gertrude Stephens of Auburn, is in town visiting her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Burch of Oswego, were in town Sunday visiting friends.

Dr. R. S. Galt, who has been a resident of Fulton for the past year, has gone to Oswego to live.

Miss Jessie Waite of Oswego, has been spending a short time with Miss Ada Thayer.

Mrs. H. Howard of Baldwinsville, spent a few days in town last week visiting friends.

Harold Bacchus of Chicago, is spending a short time with friends in Oswego Falls and Fulton.

Miss J. M. Hart left yesterday for St. Catharines, Ont., where she will spend a few months with her brother.

J. T. Crosby of Baldwinsville, is in attendance at the bedside of his father, J. T. Crosby of Lower Oswego Falls, who is seriously ill.

Mrs. John Bogue and daughter Winnie left this morning for an extended visit to Ireland. They were accompanied by a number of residents of Oswego Falls.

Mrs. Hattie Crain, who has been very ill at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. A. Knibloe, for the past four months, was taken to her home in Holland Patent, Monday.

Miss Hattie P. VanBuren has moved her dressmaking and pattern establishment to Mrs. Jennings's millinery store on Cayuga street, where she will be pleased to receive her customers and give instructions in dress cutting by the Magic Scale system. 51tf

If you have to buy any hard wood now is your time to get it cheap. 3 cords $5.50, 2 cords $3.75, 1 cord $2.00. Leave orders at harness shop, or McCully's planing mill. 52tf

A large stock ladies slippers just received and for sale very cheap at the Salmon Shoe Store, 52t2 Opera House Block.

If you have got to buy any hard wood, now is your time to get it cheap. 3 cords $5.50, 2 cords $3.75, 1 cord $2.00. Leave orders at Harness shop, or McCully's planing mill. 52tf

Cashmere shawls, all the spring shades at O'Brien's.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

Gents French calf and Kangaroo hand sewed shoes all styles and widths at Collins'.

You will find something that will interest you in the lower right hand corner of this page.

Look at the size of Red Cross Cough Syrup bottle at Williams. 30m3

CARRIAGES! CARRIAGES!

Bristol has the largest stock of Wagons and Carriages ever seen in Oswego Co., and will sell at prices satisfactory to the closest buyers.

[illegible] friends. While this method undoubtedly possesses some advantages, dispensing with all tackle, bait, etc., it is safe to say that it will never gain the popularity with the masses that the good old-fashioned way has. The new method was partially illustrated on a recent day on the bank of the river just below the village. Several young men were sauntering along the shore, when a line was discovered in the water with the end fastened to the bank. One of the young men commenced pulling in the line, which offered such resistance that led to the idea that a huge log, or a whale or perhaps the bottom of the river was attached to it. Another one of the party, bound to see what was on the other end of that line or perish in the attempt, spit on his hands, and after a hard struggle, succeeded in almost landing an enormous fish of the red-fin sucker brand, vintage of '86. Just as the young man was reaching down to seize his hard-earned prey, the line or the hook or something broke and the fish darted away. With a give-me-that-red-fin-or-give-me-death look the fisherman with the new idea started in pursuit. After vainly thrashing around for a few moments with no result but swallowing two or three barrels of water, he was rescued by his companions in a rather cold and limp condition. The young man will wait until warmer weather before he illustrates his style of fishing again. At last accounts the noble red-fin was none the worse for the little episode.

Teachers Institute.

The Oswego county teachers' Institute is to be held at Riverside rink, Phœnix, May 24th to 29th. Professors S. H. Albro and C. T. Barnes have been assigned as conductors. There will be daily sessions at 9 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Evening sessions will be occupied by the county teachers' association with the following program:

Monday evening.—Music; devotional exercises; welcome, by Hon. C. W. Avery, president of board of education: response, Com. Metcalf; music; social.

Tuesday evening.—Music; devotional exercises; recitation, Miss A. M. Williams; discussion of reading, Mrs. Gray.

Wednesday evening.—Music; devotional exercises; class exercises—numbers—Misses Nellie D. Henley, Anna M. Williams and Ada M. Avery; recitation, Miss Carrie O. Wandell; music.

The commissioners insist that every teacher must be recorded Monday and remain throughout the week. The usual reduction of railroad fare will be secured.

The officers of the county teachers association are: President, Prof. B. G. Clapp, vice pres. Prof. O. W. Bugbee; sec'y. H. F. Skerritt; treas. W. Rhines.

Excise Meeting.

The Board of Excise met last Monday evening at the police court room and organized by electing Patrick Cullen, president; Porter Hyde, secretary; and James Waugh, treasurer. The prices for licenses were fixed at $50 for hotel; store $50; ale and beer $30 and drug store $30. No license was or will be granted unless accompanied by the required sum. The following licenses were granted:

HOTEL.

H. B. Kendall, John Dresser, D. P. Morfa, George W. Briggs, M. B. Clark, James Clark, Elizabeth Keller, Angeline Woodruff, James Back and James Mead.

STORE.

W. J. Boomer and James McDonough.

ALE AND BEER.

James Elder, Charles H. Miller, Geo. L. Brown, W. H. Case, James Otis, J. C. Patrick, F. M. McNamara, T. Sullivan, John McCarthy, M. Pomphret and M. Conley.

The board then adjourned to meet this evening at the office of Wm. C. Stephens.

For Refrigerators, Lawn Mowers, Screen Door and Window Frames, Wire Cloth and Oil Stoves, go to Snow & Loomis' Hardware Store for Special Bargains.

A large assortment of lace curtains just opened at O'BRIEN'S.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

Many times have we asked you to turn your eyes to the advertisement of the "T, C. & Co." clothing. Do it now.

P-A-R-A-S-O-L-S

:o:

JUST RECEIVED

Direct from the manufacturers, a large and Elegant Line of

Parasols & Sun Umbrellas

which we shall offer at prices that will be sure to please our customers.

SPECIAL DRIVE.

:o:

[illegible] Button Kid Gloves, new colors, good quality, only 50 cts a pair. We have also the celebrated "Foster patent" Lace Glove and the leading makes. Rare bargains in Lisle and Silk Gloves, Lace Mitts for Ladies and Children, in all colors at about half what that they cost last year. In

C-O-R-S-E-T-S

[illegible] makes therefore can suit the most particular.

Yours for bargains [illegible]

One Hundred and Fifty Pairs of Ladies' Kid Goat and Diagonal Cloth Top Button for less than the first cost to Manufacture, at NETTLETON'S.

Where is the street sprinkler?

Memorial services in honor of the late John B. Gough were held in Oswego last Sunday and were largely attended.

The Oswego Falls fair is to be held September 21, 22, and 23, 1886. At a meeting of the Board of Managers held May 1, Messrs. Merrian, Henderson and Gilbert were appointed a committee to make plans and estimates for a new building for the exhibition of flowers, vegetables, &c.

The Kindergarden Co. offered as a prize, to be given at their matinee performance Saturday, a five dollar gold piece, to the scholar that should make the largest number of English words out of the letters contained in the word "Kindergarden." The prize was given to Anna Foster, who made 812 words. The following are handed in to us as especially worthy of mention from the number of words and neatness of their work; Hattie Boomer 415, Bert W. Bennett 550, Lotta E. David 604, Amy Burdick 523, Eva M. Case 608, Sarah M. Rowlee 626. Previously to this the two words "Kindergarden Co.," have been used, from which 2,587 words have been made.

Marital.

Last Wednesday evening Mr. Fred DeRusha and Miss Carrie Wilcox were married at the home of the lady's parents on Utica street, by the Rev. Mr. Olmstead of Oswego Falls. The happy couple were the recipients of many valuable presents of a useful and ornamental nature. They have a wide circle of friends in town who will join with us in wishing for them a long and happy future. They will reside in Geddes.

The New Depots.

The plans and specifications for the new depots for the N. Y., O. & W. railroad have been submitted and Fulton contractors are bidding for the work, which it is expected will commence very soon. The passenger depot will be of brick, one and a half stories high, with a slate roof. It will be 20x55 feet in size and will be located on the corner of Cayuga and Second streets, with a covered and closed platform 20 feet square for baggage. The freight house will occupy the site of the present depot and will be built of wood with slate roof, the roof projecting past the building 10 feet. The dimensions of the freight house will be 20x47 feet. Both buildings will side on Second street. They will be handsome additions to our village.

Teachers' Associations.

A teachers association for the town of New Haven will be held at New Haven, Saturday, May 8. For the town of Scriba, at Scriba, Saturday, May 15, and for the town of Volney at the school house Dist. No. 2 Fulton, Saturday, May 22, to commence at 9 a. m. All teachers in these towns are expected to be in attendance and all friends of the schools are earnestly requested to meet with us. Organization and discussion of methods of teaching will be the business of these meetings. I am very anxious to meet as many of the people as possible at these meetings so that teachers and people may become acquainted; that methods employed in school work may be understood and we may secure that co-operation between teachers and people so much needed for the proper advancement of our schools. D. D. METCALF.
Dated May 3, 1886. Com.

SNOW & LOOMIS
Have just received a new
CORN PLANTER,
And every farmer should have one.

New fringes, new wool laces, all colors, just opened at O'BRIEN'S.

You are cautioned not to buy boots and shoes until you have examined our goods and prices. Salmon Shoe Store.
Opera House Block.

Don't fail to see those Bargains in Boots and Shoes now offered at
A. E. NETTLETON'S

JUVENILE OUTFITS.

What Kent & Miller Have to Offer in This Line. as Well as All Others.

The clothing of the boys and children is in these days an important matter with all parents. The many tasty, and becoming styles that are gotten up for the juvenile gentlemen afford every mother an opportunity to dress her boy in most exquisite style. The leading clothiers offer now as wide a range in style and goods to select from in the boys' and children's department as they do in the men's department. At Kent & Miller's, South Salina street, parents find the very latest conception in styles for the little folks as well as fabrics that offer the best service. They make this an important feature of their business, and study the wants of the young scions with as much earnestness as is given to any other. This spring unusual attractions are offered in boy's outfits. The Norfolk suits are exceedingly pretty and becoming, and touch the proudest heart of the youngster.

In gentlemen's spring overcoats Messrs. Kent & Miller are displaying the finest and most fashionable in the market. Their Grand Army suits, too, with the [illegible] [illegible]

Shorter Hours for Labor.

A great movement is being urged especially in New York, Chicago and other large cities to make eight hours constitute a day's work for the laboring class of people. Alfred the Great said: "Eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep and eight hours for recreation," and although these hours have been adopted in all government works we nevertheless, do not think that it would be judicious for the country at large to adopt that number. Eight hours are too short, ten is an appropriate number; and over ten is more than any employer should require of employes. In numberless instances in manufacturing industries, it has been shown that the ten hour system has worked to the mutual advantage of all concerned, giving to the laborers a sufficient amount of time in which they are freed from the restraints and work which their laboring hours demand.

In this connection perhaps it may not be out of place to speak of the extensive woolen industry in Oswego Falls. Over 1,000 hands are employed in this vast establishment; wages are paid that compare favorably with any similar manufactory in the country; once in two weeks, with the regularity of clock work, the employes receive the wages that are due them. Without these mills, Oswego Falls and Fulton would suffer materially. There is one thing, however, that it would take two Philadelphia lawyers and a clerk of the Supreme Court to solve; that is, why the hour of labor are arranged as they are. If we are rightly informed, the employes go to their work at 6:30 a. m.; out at 12 m.; in again at 12:40 and finish their day's labor at 6:40, making the day's labor eleven hours and thirty minutes. In the first place not enough time is given for dinner and secondly, there are too many hours per diem. As an offset to this, however, on Saturdays their day's work is ended at 1 p. m., no time being granted for dinner until that hour. The week's work under the present arrangement amounts to sixty-four hours which is too much by just four hours.

The Riverside mills at Providence (owned and operated by the same firm,) the woolen mills at Elmira, West Troy, Schenectady, Schaghticoke and many other places in this state are run on the ten hour system to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. Why can it not be done here with equally good success?

Not According to Webster.

The Democratic Board of Trustees of Fulton gives the PATRIOT, the most virulent Republican paper in the county, $100 for printing their proceedings, while the Independent Times gets but $50 for the same work.—Palladium.

The above paragraph escaped us in the Palladium and we should not have known of its existence if our neighbor the Fulton Times had not kindly republished it. It does not sound as if it was editorial and we doubt if it was—it sounds as if it were the compliments of some correspondent. The "most virulent Republican paper." Let us see, "virulent" means best, doesn't it? Outspoken, earnest, fair, just. * * *
—[Fulton Patriot.

Where did the Patriot get that definition of "virulent?" We haven't any better authority at our disposal than Webster, and will therefore quote his definition in full:

Vir-u-lent, a. (Fr. virulent, Sp., Pg. & It., virulento, Lat. virulentus, from virus, q. v.)
1. Extremely poisonous or venomous; very active in doing injury. "A contagious disorder rendered more virulent by uncleanness."
W. Scott.
2. Very bitter in enmity; malignant; as, a virulent invective.

General Quarterly Meeting.

The third general quarterly meeting of the year for the Fulton district of the Free Methodist church will be held in Fulton, commencing on Thursday evening of the present week, Rev. B. Winget, chairman of the District having charge. Other ministers are expected to be present. Preaching services: Thursday evening at 7:30, Friday at 10:30 a. m. 2:30 p. m. Saturday at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 p. m., Sunday, 10:30 a. m., 7:30 p. m. Love Feast 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Who Knows?

MR. EDITOR—I notice in the report given in your paper of the proceedings of the village board, a restriction directing the Assessors to levy a tax on all taxable inhabitants and taxable property in Fulton to meet the ordinary expenses of the village which are itemized below, said resolution, aggregating nine thousand three hundred and sixty-four dollars, and included in the items therein enumerated as incidentals $1,000.

Now what is to be done with the $588.03 the board received from the former Treasurer and why is two hundred dollars more paid to the water works company than was voted by the tax payers of the village to be paid them. Why is this $200.00 given to the water company?

Amount ordered assessed to meet all appropriations		$9,364.00
Amount on hand	588.03
Overpay to water Co.,	200.00
Total	$788.03
		$788.03
		$8,575.97
Add poll tax estimate		$300.00
		$8,875.97

TAX PAYER.

A large assortment of parasols at O'BRIEN'S.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.
A. A. [illegible] & Co.
[illegible] South Salina St.,
[illegible]

Katherine Gray at the opera house Saturday.

Do not fail to read the announcement in the lower right hand corner of this page.

The Oswegos open their base ball grounds to-day by a game with the Oneidas.

Reserved seats for the Katherine Gray Monologue entertainment on sale at Watson's.

The residence of Ed. French on First street is undergoing extensive repairs. Geo. Emeny has the contract.

Rev. W. N. Barker will preach in the Universalist church next Sunday morning at the usual hour.

The dramatic cantata given last evening at the rink in Phœnix is to be repeated this evening.

Margaret Mather will play in "The Lady of Lyons at the opera house, May 18. Further particulars next week.

What is the G. A. R. going to do on Decoration Day? The day should not pass by unobserved and doubtless will not.

Decoration day comes this year on Sunday. It will be properly observed throughout the country on Monday, May 31st.

In our last issue we inadvertently omitted the names of Richard Carr and G. S. Piper from the list of vestrymen recently elected in Zion church.

We would like to secure a copy of THE TIMES of June 10, Dec. 2d, and Dec. 23rd 1885. Any one having these numbers will confer a favor by notifying us.

Fifty thousand Penobscot salmon were placed in the river here last Friday by the United State fish commission. They came from the Long Island hatchery.

James Pearman has purchased the stock and tools of D. A. Waterman and is prepared to do all kinds of gun fixing etc., at his machine shop on First street.

Where are all the base ball clubs this spring? Fulton in days of yore had a club at nearly every block. Enlarged joints and broken fingers were then the rule and not the exception.

The season here is about three weeks earlier than it general is, cherry and plumb trees are in blssom and the trees along our streets have leaved out, giving the village a verdant and beautiful appearance.

A ten-year-old son of John Youngs was run over by Dr. M. F. Hall's carriage in front of the alleyway of the Lewis house, Monday afternoon. He was taken into Giesler's drug store adjoining, and upon examination the doctor reported no serious injuries.

Mme. Katharine Gray, the distinguished Protean Artiste, will appear next Saturday evening at the opera house in a melange of tragic, descriptive, pathetic, humorous and dramatic recitals, under the management of Mr. Arthur G. Williams. The press and public are loud in their praises of Mme. Gray as a dramatic reader, pronouncing her second to none.

The Kindergarden Co. gave three entertainments at the opera house last week before small audiences. The comedy is very funny and most of the actors extremely so. This is particularly true of Stanley Macey and Geo. Bruening, "The Sleepy Boy." The actresses were each good in their respective parts, while the songs and duets were mostly new and well rendered.

Mr. Howard, manager of the opera house, has succeeded in securing Margaret Mather and her excellent company for one performance in this village on May 18. Miss Mather has few equals and no superiors on the stage. Her reception in New York city during the past season was even greater than that accorded to Mary Anderson. Her appearance in Fulton will be the theatrical event of the year.

The entertainment at the Universalist church last Friday evening was not largely attended but nevertheless was very fine. The house should have been filled. Many express their regrets at not being able to attend, while others think that it was not properly advertised and there is a general desire for it to be repeated. If the ladies go to work and Mr. Keenan consents to try again a crowded house will be the result.

The rooms of Company No. 2 in the engine house are at last finished and present a very handsome appearance. The rooms have been entirely remodeled, newly carpeted, painted and papered. The seats have been upholstered and with the commodious wardrobes that have been built, we venture to say that no more handsome or convenient rooms can be found in any engine house in this section of the State. The Board of Trustees visited the house last evening and after being shown over the premises, expressed their approval and complimented the different companies very highly upon the appearance of their rooms.

Several members of the Fulton canoe club have got their boats in the water and seem to be greatly enjoying themselves. A strong rivalry has sprung up between members to see who can get spilled the most number of times and get to the shore alive. As yet no serious casualties have been reported. We notice one of the club has wisely provided himself with a life-preserver. This is a commendable move, as the river is wide and deep, and also swift in some places. We would suggest to the rest of the members to follow his example and always carry at least one of these useful articles. It might also be a good plan to leave an extra suit of clothes on shore, [illegible]

[illegible] Rector [illegible] at Trinity [illegible] men form the Trinity corporation. John Jacob Astor is one of the wardens, while William Jay, Alexander Hamilton, S. V. R. Cruger are among the vestrymen. No wonder they have so large a body of men. There's fifty million of property to look after, and an income approaching a million, to dispose of yearly. Then there's St. Pauls, Trinity and St. Chrysostome chapels that require attention. Scarcely a week passes but that a lease of this corporation is recorded, for they never sell their property. St. George's, Dr. Tyngs' old church, has J. Pierrepont Morgan, of the firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co., and St. Bartholomew has Cornelius Vanderbilt. The old Commodore was not a church member until he married his second wife. She had a favorite pastor in the person of Dr. Deems. Deems was a Methodist who had achieved success in the South. By the earnest entreaties of his wife, the Commodore bought a church down in Mercer street and Deems was installed pastor. The old Commodore is dead but Deems still lives, and as pastor of the Church of the Strangers has the most independent position of any clergyman in the city. He is both trustee and pastor and has absolute control of the church as long as he lives.

⁂

The Vanderbilt family just now has two heads. While Cornelius is the oldest yet by the provisions of his father's will the bulk of the property was divided equally between Cornelius and William K. Think of it! Two men, neither of whom is above forty, have at their command $150,000,000.

Wm. H. knew how to provide for his family in his railroad schemes. During the last few years of his life, Cornelius was in charge of the Finance Department of the Central, Wm. K. of the freight traffic, Fred W. of the passenger management. His daughter's husbands were also provided for. Twombly had some office in the Lake Shore and Shepard was in the attorney's office. When the Spuyten Duyvil disaster left the Wagner Drawing-room Car Co. without a head by the death of Webster Wagner, the Vanderbilt interest being greater in that concern than any other, Wm. H. reorganized the company under the name of the N. Y. C. Sleeping Car Co. This made a place for Webb his son-in-law, and he became President. Webb is a physician and hails from Vermont. His wife was left a mansion on the corner of 54th St. and Fifth avenue. They spend their winters here and go to Burlington, Vt., in the summer.

Cornelius and Wm. K. are widely different. The former is the best railroad man in the country. He has worked in all the offices of the N. Y. C. management, and knows the business so thoroughly that when his father went to Europe some six years ago, he acknowledged the business in better condition than if he had staid at home. He belongs to the Young Men's Christian Association and is its Vice-President, takes an interest in literary matters and at home is a very domestic man. Wm. K. on the other hand, while he has a great deal of ability as a railroad man, loves society and likes to be among the clubs and in the fashionable places of amusement. His purchase of a yacht, thus following the example of Gould, Connor, Jeffray and others is evidence of his taste.

⁂

The last stone of the pedestal for Bartholdi's Statue has been laid, and now the committee are awaiting funds to put the old lady in place. They are at their wits end how to get it. It is fortunate for them that Lent is over, for now amusements will be the order of the day.

Under the fostering care of Mrs. Algernon Sullivan, Mrs. Coudert and other leaders of society an entertainment will be given at the Academy for the benefit of the statue. All the prominent actors and actresses have offered their assistance. A large sum of money is expected.

⁂

Third avenue presents a warlike appearance. Each car has two policemen and each street corner from the City Hall to Harlem, a distance of seven miles, is similarly provided. The question whether men shall dictate to employers is the one under discussion. Not many overt acts have as yet taken place but each side seems determined to hold its own. Public sympathy is divided. The public mass meeting of working men in Union Square on Saturday night recalled the days of the war. Thirty thousand working men were gathered around the stands where English and German speakers addressed them. The absence of the political demagogue was noticeable. Working men, the leaders of the trades association, were the speakers to a great extent. In this labor agitation the Sun, World and Judge are the most prominent. The first two from motives of sympathy for the workingman's condition and the other, well, I have an idea that politics enters largely into the reason for its participation in the agitation. In fact all the prominent dailies have a mission. The Herald wants a Saturday half holiday all the year round. The Tribune desires the destruction of the printer's union. The Commercial, the success of the Republican party. The Evening Post, the success of mugwumpism, while the Times with its eternal grumbling sees no good in this world and booms a great monopoly in a four column article for $1,200.

WANDERER.

Twenty Years Make a Skeleton.

THORPE, Tenn, Dec. 29, 1884.—Warner's safe cure restored me to perfect health, from an emaciated condition caused by chronic diarrhœa. Had it twenty years and was reduced to a mere skeleton. I am well. Weigh 120.—JOHN L. GORMAN.

Ladies gauze underwear, good quality 25c each at O'BRIEN'S

Crackers, four pounds for 25 cents, at the Vienna Bakery on First street. 38tf

[illegible] Crimped Brow Shoes. A perfect fit [illegible] For sale at the Salmon Shoe Store, Opera House Block.

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCULLY'S.

WE STILL CONTINUE

To call the attention of the public to our stock of

BOYS' CLOTHING!

because we have the best of everything in this line, and any novelty which may appear in New York will be found simultaneously on our counters. We have a large line of

BOYS' SCHOOL SUITS,

Made stout and durable and very cheap.

PEEBLES & COOK,

Opposite Opera House.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

I offer for rent the coming year my property situated on Fay street, in Fulton. There are about 10 acres of land, a fine fruit orchard, large barn &c. The house is new and elegantly finished. Will rent the house separately as a residence, or the entire property. Apply at once.
GEO. J. EMENY.

MONEY LOANED on good bond and mortgage
F. D. VANWAGENEN, JR

Ladies' friend carpet sweeper for sale at N. R. Cole's, Oneida street.

Real Estate and Insurance AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

A small place of two acres with a 2 story dwelling and barn with basement both in good condition on river read, five miles from Fulton.

Two good building lots. Situate on the northwest corner of Buffalo and Fifth streets.

A Farm of 25 acres within a mile of Fulton. Will exchange for a house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton N. Y. C. W. STREETER.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

25 Jersey walking jackets $3.95
at O'BRIEN'S

Any Small Boy, With a Stick, can kill a tiger,—if the tiger happens to be found when only a little cub. So consumption, that deadliest and most feared of diseases, in this country, can assuredly be conquered and destroyed if Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" be employed early.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Trunks and satchels. The largest and best assortment in the country at W. McCully's.

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it

Volney April 19th 1886. Whereas my wife Sarah has left my bed and board without cause or provocation whatever. I forbid all persons trusting, or harboring her on my account as I shall pay none of her debts. 50w4.
C. M. PERCIVAL.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

MILTON S. PRICE,

38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets,

THE MOST EXTENSIVE

DRY GOODS, CARPETS
—AND—
FURNITURE,

Establishment in the State,

Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.

COME AND SEE

the Fines and Mast Complete Stock of

Dry Goods and Fancy Goods

ever shown in this section.

COME AND SEE.

THE IMMENSE STOCK OF

CARPETS, RUGS OIL, CLOTHS, Etc.

COME AND SEE

THE FINE DISPLAY OF

FURNITURE
AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES

at prices far below competion,

FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

BARGAINS

NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.

REMEMBER
MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.
HART BROS.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

For the Next 30 Days

D. C. MORE & CO.

—Will offer unusual Inducements—

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

to buyers of Ready Made Clothing, for either Men's Youths' Boys' or Children's wear. We have the largest and

MOST DESIRABLE STOCK IN FULTON,

and it is to reduce our unusual large stock that we propose to make the prices so low that everyone needing Clothing will buy. We do not make this announcement for the sole and only purpose of deceiving customers but will confirm our statements with our goods and prices.

Remember this you will only find these Bargains with

D. C. MORE & CO.

DON'T MISS THEM!

The Reliable Dealers in
Clothing, Hats and Gents Furnishings,
First Street, Opposite Lewis House.

DON'T MISS THEM!

[illegible]

We have made arrangements by which from now until the first of June we can offer one year's subscription to The Fulton Times and the American Agriculturist for $2.00. Every farmer should subscribe for a good agricultural journal. We, therefore, make the above offer, considering the American Agriculturist to be the best magazine for farmers that is published in America. That our present patrons may have the benefit of this offer we will allow them the same by paying one year's advance subscription to The Times, and 75 cents in addition. Send in your order, or call personally at The Times office. Remember that this offer does not hold good after the first of June.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

100 Columns and 100 Engravings in each issue.

45th YEAR. $1.50 A YEAR.

The oldest and best agricultural periodical in the world. With the May number appears the first of a series of engravings of the Houses of our Farmer Presidents. The engravings are presented to all subscribers to the American Agriculturist as they appear.

One year's subscription to the American Agriculturist with its engravings together with one year's subscription to The Times may be had for $2.00.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Worth Knowing.

Do not hoe radishes.

Nichol's Medium Green cucumber is said to be the best for pickles.

A sprinkling of a very mild mixture of carbolic acid in water will drive away the radish flea. So will a sprinkling of road dust or ashes, or anything gritty.

The New York American Merino Sheep Breeders' association held their annual shearing picnic at Canandaigua, this spring. Sheep were sheared upon the ground, and papers were read.

Set an asparagus bed—or, sow the seeds. The latter is the cheaper way if one doesn't mind waiting a year longer. Seeding plants are always stronger and will produce larger sheets than sets from old plants.

Fanny Field says coal oil will cure scaly legs in fowls "every time." Dip the fowls legs into the oil a couple of times, once in two or three days, till the scales begin to loosen; then stop using the oil, and rub the legs gently with melted lard.

Clover growth is helped by lime and plaster. Large quantities of nitrogen are contained in the earth and air, and clover absorbs nitrogen more than any other plant. The plant and air work together in furnishing an exhaustless supply of food for all kinds of food plants.

Whenever rhubarb throws out a great many leaves and the stalks are small and worthless the roots should be dug up and transplanted, dividing them so that only one thrifty bud is left to each piece of root. This should be done early in the spring, as soon as the newly formed buds are ready to push through the soil.

Look into the average country stores at this season and you will find a large part of last year's stock of seeds still unsold. Of this a considerable part has been held over from the preceeding season, or perhaps years before that. These facts are enough to deter farmers who want good gardens from buying seed out of these boxes, which are only partly renewed from year to year.

There is a popular predjudice in favor of eggs having dark-colored shells. It is based on reason in so far as it is a fact that Brahma and Plymoth Rock eggs, which are usually large and of good quality, have dark shells. The taste depends much on the feed of the hen. At this season when grain is the staple diet, the eggs are more highly flavored than later, when hens pick up their living by foraging.

Much clover is destroyed yearly by farmers turning their stock into it too early in the spring, just as it looks a little green. The leaves, which at this time are worth comparatively little for feed, are indespensable to the healthy growth of the plants. Ashes in connection with plaster are highly esteemed as a dresser for clover where it is intended for pasture or turning in, but are liable to cause too rank a growth for hay.

Most farmers will agree that it is profitable to feed coarse grain grown on the farm than to sell it, providing they have the right kind of stock. But it is not considered good practice to buy feed for the same purpose. Really, however, there is no difference except the saving of labor in using home grown grain. The real trouble is that so much farm stock is not worth keeping. Farmers feed their scrub stock, the grain grown at home, regardless of whether it pays or not. When it comes to buying grain, which requires money, then they are more cautious, as here comes in the average farmer's natural fear of running into debt.

One of the surest signs of improved farming is the general tendency to sow many kinds of grass seed instead of only the traditional clover and timothy. The best way to make two blades of grass grown where one grew before is to sow greater variety. By this method the land is more fully occupied, each kind finding the soil and conditions best adapted to its use. For sowing along probably clover and timothy are best adapted to most soils than any of the sorts that have lately come into prominence. When orchard grass is grown alone it is apt to grow in bunches, and [illegible] spaces between these [illegible] with clover or grasses, will [illegible] by weeds.

[illegible] instant in [illegible] soothing and [illegible] Hop [illegible] Brooklyn [illegible]

[illegible] article in the Cincinnati Enquirer [illegible] useful:

Never feed a horse with hay from a rack located above his head, as a draught beats down which is injurious, and the dust is liable to injure the eyes.

A horse should not be overworked, for, like man, he gets tired, and to keep in good condition, he should have rest and good bedding.

Sometimes a horse will not eat his usual food. A mash of oatmeal, milk warm, is about the best food to give a horse under such circumstances. And then a horse should have grass. It is his natural food. A continual diet of hay hardens the coating of his stomach. The food is not digested. Carbonic acid gas is generated, and the horse dies in agony, swelling up, suffering from what is commonly known as colic. Then, again, horses need well ventilated stables, free from draught and damp. The floor should be smooth and nearly level. It should be well drained and light, for sudden change from darkness to light is trying to the eyes, and a damp offensive odor is injurious. Then, again, the bedding and litter should be carefully separated from that which is foul. They should be well shaken up and dried, and the stall should be thoroughly cleansed; and when the stable is empty, let in plenty of fresh air.

A horse's stall should be large enough to allow him to lie down comfortably in any position. A tired horse will be glad to lie down with his legs stretched out if he has room; but if you can't give him a loose box, then a light halter block should be used, and care taken to arrange the halter so that it may travel freely to allow the head to come easily to the litter, for rest and sleep are as necessary as food and water.

If a horse comes to the stable wet, he should be rubbed dry before the blanket is put on. If he is standing about in the cold, it should be put on. The legs should be rubbed, and the hoofs always examined for stones.

The Horse in the Garden.

Before the days of farm machinery farm help was usually abundant. There were often times when the farmer scarcely knew at what to employ his men. In those days the garden often proved a convenience as a means of keeping the men together until they could be used in the field. There was no excuse for horse work in the garden. But times have changed. Farm help is scarce and high-priced and the garden must often be neglected, or abandoned unless the horse can be brought into service.

There is really little more occasion for cultivating the garden by hand than the corn or potato field. By growing the smaller vegetables, as onions, lettuce, carrots, etc., in rows two feet apart, they may be cultivated satisfactorily with the horse with the proper implement. The best tool we have seen for this is a light cultivator frame having small, narrow teeth no broader than common harrow teeth, but which are flattened at the bottom instead of coming to a point and bent forward slightly. Such a cultivator loosens the soil abundantly while it moves the dirt very little. For larger plants, grown in rows wider apart, the ordinary corn cultivator may be used.

It is best to have the garden long and narrow in shape and leave a space unplanted across the ends to turn the horse on. Of course, the cultivator cannot reach all of the weeds, but by its use the hand labor may be reduced to a minimum.—[Our Country Home.

Potatoes.

Professor Johnston, of the Michigan Agricultural college, contributes his share of valuable information on this tuber. He has been experimenting several years in potatoes. He finds that they thrive best in sandy and gravelly loams. Sod ground is good for them. Ashes are a special fertilizer for potatoes. Do not cut to one eye. Put one piece with three or four eyes on it in a hill. Plant in drills three feet apart, the plants twelve to eighteen inches apart in the rows. This will give a larger yield than the ordinary way in hills. In field culture, however, hills three feet apart each way is best.

Do not hill up. In sandy soil deep planting is best. If the plants are a long time coming up run over the field with a light harrow. It will break the crust of the ground and destroy young weeds. Do not put fresh stable manure on potato land. A little well-rotted manure thoroughly harrowed in is good. When the rows of young plants can be seen go through with a shovel plow and cover them with about two inches of earth. Dig as soon as the tubers are thoroughly ripe, and store them in a cool, dry place. Professor Johnston has not found potato diggers satisfactory.

A number of authorities now declare that, take it all in all, the Beauty of Hebron is the best potato that grows.

Commonly Called Laziness.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 14, 1884.—In the summer of 1879, I noticed I was frequently tired. Had diarrhœa. Family physician said I had malaria in stomach. Bowels would move half a dozen times, if I walked a block rapidly. Finally in August, I became too sick to leave my bed. Lay in bed six days. Had night sweats, and very yellow tongue. Six bottles of Warner's safe cure cured me. —WILLIAM WALLACE LOUNSBURY, formerly with Nashau Lock Company.

The Prince of Wales has been re-elected Grand Master of the Free Masons in England.

LOOK AT HIM!

A year ago he was not expected to live. Liver complaint almost killed him. He got great relief from three bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and six bottles cured him.—Editor Weekly Sun.

The richest man in Ohio, David Sinton, who began business as a clerk in a country store at $4 a month, is now worth $12,000,000.

"I have no appetite," complains many a sufferer. Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible] [illegible] the stomach [illegible]

[illegible] Gilmore's Aromatic Wine [illegible] Geisler.

MIDDLE-AGED WOMEN [illegible] For Sale by H. C. Geisler.

MRS. L. E. [illegible] Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. [illegible] I would advise all mothers [illegible] to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Geisler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Geisler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C Geisler.

St. Augustine, Fla., is to have the largest hotel in the South, 600x400 feet, and costing $4,000,000. It will be built in strictly Moorish architecture, of coquina ground and mixed with cement, and will be ready for next winter's business. A garden and fountains will occupy its interior court, and an orange grove is to be planted on one part of the roof.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them, H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c., he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

E. Z. C. Judson, otherwise "Ned Buntline," is very ill at his home in Delaware county. His stories are said to have brought him from $50,000 to $60,000 a year at one time, and during the last twenty-five years he is reported to have averaged $20,000.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Ex-Queen Isabella still cherishes the vain hope that she will one day be restored to the throne of Spain. Don Carlos is equally hopeful. But the present government is pretty well established—for Spain.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Japan, according to the new census, has a population of 38,500,000, or about the same as that of the United States in 1870. In area Japan is about three times the size of Pennsylvania.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Every American Indian costs the United States government $3,000 a year, estimating the Indian population at 250,000, and the appropriation at $7,000,000.

THESE ARE SOLID FACTS.

The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the Liver, Billiousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Weak Kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, or whoever requires an appetizer, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

A well known autograph collector, Gunter, of Chicago, spends from $10,000 to $12,000 a year, increasing his collection, which is the finest in the world.

Beware of Frauds.—Be sure you get the genuine Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It cures Colds, Croup, Asthma, Deafness and Rheumatism.

The length of the Panama canal will be about 46½ miles; its width at the bottom 72 feet, and the depth of navigable water will be 28 to 29 feet.

EDUCATED AND EXPERIENCED.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass., who have a thorough knowledge of pharmacy, and many years practical experience in the business. It is prepared with the greatest skill and care, under the direction of the men who originated it. Hence Hood's Sarsaparilla may be depended upon as a thoroughly pure, honest, and reliable medicine.

The First Lady of the Land.

Eve didn't worry Adam about a new Easter bonnet.—[Chicago Telegram.

If Eve didn't wear an apron we don't see how she could drive the chickens out of the Garden.—[Kentucky State Journal.

It is reported for Adam that Eve never found a long red hair in the setting of his diamond pin.—[Waterloo Observer.

Prof. Eaton of Yale thinks it was a quince that Eve ate, and not an apple. Very likely; we've been suffering from the conse-quinces ever since.—[Cleveland Voice.

Adam was the first man, but if Eve was anything like her daughters living in the 19th century it did not take him long to find out that he occupied second place.—[New Haven News.

That the Eve-and-apple business happened many years since—quite early, in fact—the most convincing proof was that Eve was deceived. In these days a thirteen-year-old girl could play the fool with a dozen devils, get away free from harm, and with an apronful of pippins, too.—[Puck.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites. [illegible]

[illegible]

A Wonderful Strengthener

BILIOUSNESS.

Bilious symptoms invariably arise from indigestion, such as furred tongue, vomiting of bile, giddiness, sick headache, irregular bowels. The liver secretes the bile and acts like a filter or sieve, to cleanse impurities of the blood. By irregularity in its action or suspensions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the blood, causing jaundice, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, bilious diarrhœa, a languid, weary feeling and many other distressing symptoms. Biliousness may be properly termed an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Act upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL!

The best coal in the market is the Lackawanna.

IT IS THE

Purest, Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

E. E. SCHENCK,

Planing Mill and Lumber Yard.

Ceilings, Sidings,
Pickets, Shingles,
Lath, &c.

[illegible] should be kept in every house for immediate use and its efficacy tested.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

New Hampshire boasts the oldest Governor that ever held this office. Moody Curri r, the present chief executive of the State, attained the age of eighty years April 22.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

New Jersey law forbids any person from catching and retaining black bass less than seven inches in length, or trout less than six inches, under a penalty.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

D. R. Locke (Petoleum V. Nasby) has been elected an alderman in the city of Toledo on the Law-and-Order ticket.

GOOD RESULTS IN EVERY CASE.

Dr A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously affected with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by the use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

The New York State Capitol has already cost $17,502,993, and nobody pretends to set the day when it will be finished.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

Washington has two colored citizens worth $100,000 each, and many others worth from $6,000 to $75,000.

I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for the last five years. About three years ago I commenced the use of Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only remedy for catarrh I have used with satisfaction, and it has accomplished a cure in my case.—H. L. Myer, Waverly, N. Y.

One-sixth of the whole number of prisoners in the Maine penitentiary are serving life sentences.

TAKE WARNING

And don't let the germs of that vile disease, Catarrh, take root and flourish in your system. Sulphur Bitters will prevent this and make you strong and healthy.—Editor Weekly Press.

Thirty thousand people attend the theatre in New York city every evening, and pay out annually for dramatic entertainments over $12,000,000.

The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from poisonous drugs and offensive odors. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases where all other remedies have failed. It quickly cures cold in the head and catarrhal headache. Price fifty cents. 51w4

Howells' income is understood to be about $20,000 a year from his novel writing. Twain is believed to be a half millionaire.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper. ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Stove	$5.00	Grate	4.60
Nut	5.00	Pea	4.00
Egg	4.60	Smith	4.50
No 4	5.25	Mixed	5.00

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

[illegible] With [illegible] Whisky [illegible] —[Boston Courier.

A minister not long ago preached from the text, "Be ye therefore steadfast." But the printer made him expound from "Be ye there for breakfast." —[Texas Siftings.

Ichthyological Prof.—"Mr. Smart, which fish is the most intellectual?" Mr. Smart—"I Should say, sir, the sculpin, because it is nearly all head." Professor—"But you seem to forget, that its head is nearly all mouth."—[Boston Transcript.

A German rushed into a drug store on Penn avenue yesterday and exclaimed: "Mein Gott, young man, I eat raw bork, and I dink dere vos dose machinery in it.—[Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Patient—"Oh, Doctor, you don't know how it worries me to think that I might be buried alive."

Doctor—Calm yourself, Mrs. B. You need have no fear of anything like that. Trust to me, and I assure you that you are in no danger."—[Boston Transcript.

A South Boston man says his goat does not fear competition with any bogus butter. —[Boston Post.

The miller goes to glory on floury beds of ease.—[Washington Critic.

A sound investment—Telephone stock. —[National Weekly.

The editor of the Deseret News, Salt Lake, is in jail for supporting four wives. We will guarantee the payment of his fine if he will give it away. Just let the profession know how he supports four on one paper.—[San Francisco Alta.

Toboggan jokes are being paked away for next winter.—[Philadelphia Call.

"Well, what have you got for supper?" asked Mr. Snaggs last night, as he entered the dining-room. "Why, I have some biscuits that I made myself, dear," replied his wife. "Well, bring them on," said Snaggs, in a resigned tone; "I'm hungry enough to eat anything."—[Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Materfamilias (to eighteen-year-old son)—"Now, John, be keerful when ye're on the train you don't lose yer watch, cuz them pickpockets air mighty slick uns. I guess may be ye'd better put it yer inside pocket an' let it run down, sozo nobody kin locate it by its tickin', and do be keerful about gittin under the wheels when ye get on an' off."—[Harper's Bazar.

Æsthetic Young Lady—"Can you conceive of anything more sombrely and poetically solemn than the denoument of 'Romeo and Juliet?' Could the poet have made their fate more weirdly tragic?"

Cynical Bachelor—"Oh, yes; he might have married them."—[The Hatchet.

The New York Times says that most Americans go to Europe on their own hook. Embezzling cashiers usually go on the proceeds of their own "hook." —[Texas Siftings.

A laughing child is the sunshine of a house, but a well-developed case of colic will spread the thickest veil of clouds over the scene that erring mortal ever witnessed.—[St. Paul Herald.

We witnessed a fowl proceeding from the window of our office one day this week. A hen walked by.—[Newman Independent.

"Is there any plural to deer?" asked Professor Snore of his class in grammer, at the University of Texas.

"I think there must be, for there is a plural to beer. You can say 'two beers.' I've often heard it," replied Tom Anjerry.

The professor remarked that there was nothing singular about that.—[Texas Siftings.

Mrs. Cass—"I see that a Connecticut woman has turned out to be a revivalist of the Sam Jones pattern." Mr. Cass—"Yes, I saw that in the paper. She is evidently crazy?" "What makes you think she is crazy?" "Because she is trying to convert lawyers."—[Newman Independent.

What a blessing it is to the gossiping barber that there are no bones in the human tongue. Had there been so, he would have needed to double his prices, in order to pay for the dislocations consequent upon his linguistical labors.—[Fall River Advance.

Macbeth Simmons, an Onion Creek farmer, has started a hog ranch. He hired Si Jackson, a colored man, to assist him.

"I hope we will get along well together, Si."

"I knows we will get along all right, boss. I'se had a heap ob sperience dealin' wid hogs."—[Texas Siftings.

If your blood is impure, you are liable to take any contageous or infectious disease that may happen to be in your neighborhood. Avoid all danger by keeping yourself in health by taking Warner's safe cure.

McClellan and Lee.

From General McClellan's last magazine article in the May Century, we quote as follows: "General Lee and I knew each other well in days before the war. We had served together in Mexico and commanded against each other in the Peninsula. I had the highest respect for his ability as a commander, and knew that he was not a general to be trifled with or carelessly afforded an opportunity of striking a fatal blow. Each of us naturally regarded his own army as the better, but each entertained the highest respect for the endurance, courage, and fighting qualties of the opposing army; and this feeling extended to the officers and men. It was perfectly natural under these circumstances that both of us should exercises a certain amount of caution; I in my endeavors to ascertain Lee's strength, position, and intentions before I struck the final blow; he to abstain from any extended movements of invasion, to hold his army well in hand until he could be satisfied as to the condition of the Army of the Potomac after its second Bull Run campaign, and as to the intentions of its commander."

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of cutting Teeth? [illegible]

BLUE PILLS [illegible]

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? [illegible] Sulphur Bitters [illegible]

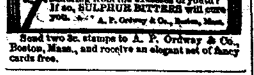
The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.



When you have occasion to buy another SUIT OF CLOTHES or OVERCOAT, for yourself or boys, see that the above label is on the coat, and you will secure the BEST FITTING, BEST WEARING and BEST LOOKING CLOTHING MADE. Every garment bears a ticket, on which appears the "T. C. & Co." monogram (trade mark). Try it.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK, Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST. 37tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS.

Send sketch or model of invention and $5 for examination. Applications for patents prepared and prosecuted. Rejected cases, infringements, interferences and legal opinions a specialty. Send stamp for book on Patents.

HENRY WISE CARNETT,

Solicitor of Patents, Attorney-at-Law, and Counselor in Patent Causes, Washington, D. C. References: Riggs & Co., Bankers, and 2d Nat. Bk. Wash., D. C.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y, Boston, Mass. 40w4

LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment. Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G. CO. P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 961 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ELY'S

CREAM BALM

Cleanses the Head. Allays Inflammation. Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste, Smell, Hearing.

CATARRH
ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S
OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
HAY-FEVER

A Quick Relief. A Positive Cure.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents by mail or at Druggists. Send for circular.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary. GAY & BROTHERS, 16 Barclay St. N. Y.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

March April May

SPRING is a trying time. Indications of disease should be heeded. If you have Indigestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver and kidneys, or Want of Appetite, take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to PURIFY THE BLOOD without delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house, and take it with you on journeys. It is cheaper than sickness, and as pleasant as the hand of a friend.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

By all Druggists. $1; 6 for $5. Rondout, N. Y.

FITS STOPPED FREE [illegible]

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere [illegible] STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY, [illegible] Boston, Mass.

WANTED [illegible]

[illegible]

Oswego—At the Court House in Oswego [illegible] third Tuesday in each month [illegible]

Fulton—At the law office of Hon. [illegible] in Fulton [illegible] and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

Pulaski—At the office of C. H. David, Esq. in Pulaski, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

Mexico—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

Central Square—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 28th and September 28th.

Parish—At A. H. & J. S. [illegible] law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Cheshro, Thomas W.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Cheshro, late of the Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, the Citizens National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886, next. Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.

Fannie B. Hull, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

Ann VanWagenen, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

Supreme Court—Oswego County. Norman H. Haviland, plaintiff, vs. William H. H. Hutchings, Levi F. Hutchings and Flora May Hutchings defendants. In pursuance of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action and entered in the Oswego county clerk's office April 27th, 1886, I the undersigned to whom it was by said judgment referred to make such sale, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the law office of H. E. Nichols, in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., the lands and premises directed by said judgment to be sold and which are therein described as follows: "All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, and State of New York, being a part of lot 75 of the 15th Township of Scriba's Patent and bounded as follows, viz.: Beginning in the centre of the highway at the south-east corner of land owned and occupied by Martin Parker; thence southerly along the centre of said highway eleven rods; thence westerly in a line parallel with said Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods; thence northerly in a line parallel with said highway eleven rods to Parker's south line; thence along Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods to the place of beginning, containing two (2) acres of land.

Dated April 28, 1886. A. N. Beadle, Sheriff of Oswego County, N.Y.

H. E. Nichols,
Pl'ff's Att'y., Fulton, N. Y.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT.

an elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, producing when dissolved in water an Exhilarating, Effervescing Draught, recommended by our best Physicians as a reliable and agreeable remedy. It cures Constipation, cures Dyspepsia, cures Piles, cures Heartburn, cures Sick-Headache, cures Sick Headache, cures Liver Complaint, cures Sick Stomach, and gently urges all the Excretory organs to a proper action. It should be found in every household and be carried by every traveler. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen. Exclusive territory. Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., Stewart Building, N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "Dr. Warner's Coraline" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.

HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES!

Over 2,800 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free.

A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Phila.

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 1

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, MAY 12, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Tennyson's Latest.

Following is the text of Tennyson's ode, sung at the opening of the Colonial exhibition at London, Tuesday, May 4th:

I.

Welcome, welcome! with one voice
In your welfare we rejoice,
Sons and brothers—that have sent
From isle and cape and continent
Produce of your fields and flood,
Mount and mine and primal wood,
Works of subtile brain and hand
And splendors of the morning land—
Gifts from every British zone;
Britons, hold your own!

II.

May we find, as ages run,
The mother featured in the son;
And may yours forever be
That old strength and constancy.
Which has made your fathers great
In our ancient island state;
And, wher'er her flag may fly,
Glorying between sea and sky,
Make the might of Britain known;
Britons, hold your own!

III.

Britain fought her sons of yore.
Britain failed, and nevermore
Careless of our growing kin,
Shall we sin our father's sin?
Men that in a narrower day,
Unprophetic rulers they,
Drove from out the mother's nest
That young eagle of the West,
To forage for herself, alone.
Britons hold your own!

IV.

Shall we not through good and ill,
Cleave to one another still?
Britain's myriad voices call,
Sons be welded each and all,
Into one imperial whole;
One with Britain heart and soul,
One life, one flag, one fleet, one throne.
Britons hold your own!
And God guard all.

The Boodle Exiles.

We have flown on greenback pinions
To the British queen's dominions,
Where we mean to stay at least a little while.
Here we hope to live in clover
Till the legal storm blows over,
And the sun of peace again begins to smile.

Here are Keenan and Moloney,
Also Dempsey, Miller's crony,
With De Lacy, who would never run away
We have left our friends and brothers
For our good and that of others,
And it's likely that we may expect to stay.

We refuse to face the furies
Of your judges and your juries,
And the sultry times they hold for us in store;
For they do not need incitements
To the framing of indictments
Which would surely make us very sick and sore.

Though as brothers of the boodle
We forsake our Yankee Doodle,
Still our hearts for old Manhattan Island burn,
And we hope our wards will meet us,
And with bands and banners greet us,
When the brighter times permit us to return.
—[New York World.

WIVES AND WIDOWS.

IT was a June day in Arizona. At Robert's ranch on the Gila, there was a feeling of perfect peace and security, and the sun climbed high in the heavens. Roberts was planting in a field half a mile from the stout log cabin, while his wife was busy with household cares. There were horses and cattle in an enclosure a quarter of a mile from the house, and a pony, which was permitted to ramble at will, cropped the grass around the cabin.

Such was the situation when the wife heard two or three rifle-shots and the war-whoops of Indians. She sprang to the door to see that her husband was making for the house at his best speed, while three Indians followed him up and fired as they ran.

Geronimo's Apache devils had broken loose and taken the war path.

The ranchman's wife understood at a glance what was occurring. Her heart gave one great throb, a terrible weakness overcame her for an instant, and then she seized the Winchester rifle from its hooks, grabbed the long-barrelled "navy" from its holster, and ran with all speed to meet her husband. He fell before they met, shot in the back; his left arm had been previously broken by a bullet.

"Mollie, the red devils are loose," said he, as she came up and kneeled beside him.

"If there are only three we can beat them off," she replied, as she made ready to open fire.

The Indians had halted within rifle-shot to counsel. Her first shot bored one of them through and through, and the other two retreated to the broken ground half a mile away.

"I'll carry you to the house and then watch for them," she said, as they disappeared. Blood was pouring from his wounds and oozing from his mouth, and it was plain that he had been mortally hit.

"It's no use," he groaned. "I've got to die right here. In half an hour there'll be fifty of 'em, and they're sure to capture you."

"I'll stay with you."

"Not another moment! Run to the house, get all the cartridges, and then mount the pony and ride to Gilpin's. The upper trail's clear."

"Oh, George, I can't leave you."

The revolver was under his hand. His fingers clenched over the butt, and he whispered, "Mollie, kiss me."

She bent over him with a sob in her throat, and his hand worked the revolver around until the muzzle touched his side. There was a smothered report, and she sprang up to see his limbs stiffen in death. She did not scream out—she [illegible] and faint. She imprinted [illegible] the dead face, and as she rose [illegible] were set hard and her eyes [illegible] of a wounded wolf's. She [illegible] taking the rifle and re[illegible] and in five minutes was [illegible] McGilpin's, having [illegible]

[illegible] ioning a new helve for his axe in the shade, and his wife had the noon-day meal ready for the table. Suddenly the old man looked up, and the next instant he was on his feet and shading his eyes with his hand.

"Jehosaphat! Quick, mother—fasten the back door, down with the windows, and pull the shutters to. Robert's wife is comin' up the trail with a dozen Injuns after her. Hell's broke loose again!"

He seized his Winchester and ran down the trail to cover the approach of the woman. Her pony seemed to understand that it was life or death, and was straining every nerve. The Indians had not followed her from the ranch, but had come in on her from the Santa Cruz river trail, and had kept her under fire for the last two miles. As soon as the ranchman appeared, the Indians, eleven in number, drew rein.

"Whar's George?" asked McGilpin, as the pony halted beside him.

"Dead!"

"And the bucks are in war paint. Go inside, woman. It's no time for grief."

Owing to the river on one side and the wire fence on the other, the Indians could not scatter at once. They must approach the ranch under the ranchman's fire, if at all. He waited for them, but they hesitated and held a consultation. During this respite the women made the house secure, filled a barrel with water, and turned a number of horses loose and forced them to cross the river. While they were accomplishing these objects a part of the Indians were cutting the fences and the rest were in consultation. The ranchman stood like a rock, his eyes noting the slightest movement, his breath coming faster, and a feeling in his heart that this was his last day on earth. A pillar of black smoke told him that Robert's ranch to the west was being destroyed, and another to the east betrayed the fate of another neighbor.

When the Indians had cut the fences to give them a fair approach to the house, a warrior started up the trail with a white handkerchief in his hand as a flag of truce. Approaching within revolver shot, he halted and called out:

"Indians no hurt! Indians want dinner!"

The quick eye of the ranchman detected two dismounted redskins dodging from cover to cover to gain the rear of the house. The idea was to parley until they were in position.

"Indians go way after dinner—no hurt anybody—no take horses!" shouted the flagbearer.

With a movement so quick that the other had not time to prepare for it, the ranchman brought his rifle to an aim. There was a loud report and the buck fell from his horse. As he tumbled from his saddle, the pony made a jump or two, but there was another report, and the beast rolled over. The next instant there was a shot from the cabin, and one of the pair of skulkers uttered his death yell. When the smoke rose the ranchman was no longer to be seen. He had retreated to the house. Filled with chagrin and a desire for vengeance the Indians now dismounted and crept nearer, and in a few minutes the cabin was being assailed from every part of the compass.

Within there were two pale-faced women and a grim, determined man. The structure was roughly built of logs and planks, undivided by partitions. There were only four windows, and these were protected by stout shutters, which were pierced with loopholes. The weapons were two Winchester rifles and two revolvers. The ranchman's first move after getting inside was to divide his forces so as to cover the windows. He then pulled out the chinking at the corners of the cabin to make other loopholes, and each of the trio took a post of observation and defence. Scarcely a word had been exchanged since the arrival of Mrs. Roberts. Each had reasoned out for himself or herself: "A gang of Apaches have broken loose from their reservation and are on the warpath. They will burn and slay until a force can be raised to overpower them. Surrender means to be burned at the stake. A desperate resistance may drive them off."

There was Roberts, the husband of a year, lying dead and scalped and horribly mutilated on his freshly-planted field. His stock had been shot down or driven off, and the red flames had licked up his cabin, but there were no tears in the blue eyes of the wife as she peered from one of the loopholes. Tears would have dimmed her vision, and watchful eyes were needed there.

For an hour or more the Indians maintained an unceasing fire, but without inflicting the least damage. They were then joined by a party of seven, coming from the east, and it soon became evident that some decisive step was to be taken.

"I know what they will do," said the ranchman, as the reports of rifles, died away. "They will divide into three or four parties and assail the house from as many sides. If they can't batter the doors down they'll try to set the house on fire. Each of you take a revolver and I'll use the rifles. Be cool—we can drive them back."

The three had been waiting at their stations ten minutes when the rush was made. The sixteen Indians divided into bands of four, and one in each band carried a lighted torch. The ranchman broke one band by killing the buck with the torch and wounding one of the others. From the loopholes the women wounded two more, but presently the two doors were vigorously attacked, while the torchmen ran from point to point with their blazing brands. In bodies of four or five the redskins threw themselves against the doors, but it was a vain effort. Each had two bars across [illegible] him. In that attack the Apaches lost two killed and three badly wounded.

After a rest of half an hour a number of the redskins crept near and began to fire blazing arrows at the roof. A few struck, but no damage resulted. Then the rifle firing recommenced, and it was while peering through a loophole that McGilpin received a ball in the eye and fell back dead before he reached the floor. A woman's shriek—a woman's wail—that was all. For ten seconds the widows were women again. Then came a shout which warned them that they must be heroines while a red devil lingered. There was a second rush at the house. The revolvers cracked as before—the whole house shook as the doors received shock after shock. Yells, whoops and screams, and the reports of firearms loaded the air for three minutes, and then deep silence fell upon the ranch. The Apaches had been repulsed again. Each woman sprung the empty cartridges from her revolver, replaced them and continued her watch. By and by they looked out to see the band at full gallop two or three miles away.

Geronimo was there in person. His bucks were the red devils of the west. Two women had beaten them off. Five of his men had been killed and five others so badly wounded that they were forced to return to the reservation and lie hidden, while he continued the raid, which was brought to a close only a short time ago.

At sunset an officer and escort with dispatches drew rein at the ranch. There was no one to answer the hail. The men dismounted and looked in. In the center of the room lay the ranchman, cold in death. Beside him—each with her face hidden in her hands, each rocking her body to and fro—were two widows, poor, weak women, through whose powder-stained fingers the tears found their way. Wives at morn—heroines at noon—widows at sunset.—[N. Y. Sun.

How the Vassar Girl Did It.

"I came through Poughkeepsie once," remarked a New York drummer. "It must have been some vacation time, for about fifty Vassar girls got on. They came into the car where I was, and one of the prettiest of the lot took part of my seat, while her companions all stood around her within hearing distance. She seemed to know that I was a traveling man, for, said she, referring to the window:

"'Can't I open that for you?'"

"I thanked her, being so surprised that I could not quite comprehend the situation. Her companions and in fact everybody in the car, became interested, and they all directed their attention to us.

"Are you on your way home?" she asked.

"I told her I was on a business trip."

"'Have you traveled much alone?'"

"'Quite a good deal,' I replied, not at all pleased with the unenviable position I was forced to occupy. Without giving me a chance to ask any questions, she continued:

"'Can't I buy you some fruit or oranges?'

"'I don't care about any,' I replied.

"'Wouldn't you like a book or pamphlet to read? I have some in my traveling bag. No? Well, I know you'll let me turn the next seat, so as to give you more room.'

"I left the seat and told her there was absolutely nothing that I wanted. As I made my way out to the smoking car nearly everybody laughed, including the Vassar girls. One of the latter took my place. To this day I never see a woman coming toward my seat that I don't think of that experience. I've heard men say they would like to have it tried on them, but no man likes to be made a fool of, and he certainly appears in that light when a lot of school girls start to make him appear ridiculous.—[St. Paul Globe.

Good Taste.

I once heard a mother, who had been criticized for her personal vanity by a somewhat gossipy neighbor, say that she made it a duty and a pleasure to keep well dressed, for she was likely at any hour to be called upon to entertain friends whose good opinion was of such consequence that she could not afford to run the risk of having them find her in any but neat and presentable attire. The friends were husband and children, and she was fully compensated for her care in this direction by their approval and appreciation. To be "well dressed" was not to her mind an admission of extravagance. Good taste and good planning often stand in the place of dollars and cents, and the lady in question was able to dress well on half the cost of her neighbor's wardrobe.—[Laws of Life.

He Wouldn't Drink.

Sunday-school Teacher—"Now, Bertie, let's hear from you. You have heard what the rest of the class have had to to say about temptation. Now, what would you say if a big man would invite you to take something with him?"

Bertie—"I should say I didn't drink; that I had been taught it was wrong.

Sunday-school Teacher—"That's right, Bertie."

Bertie—"But you can bet your life I'd take the best cigar the man had in the store."—[Tid-Bits.

GRAVEL is a very common and distressing disorder; one that causes more pain to men than any other disease to which they are subject; seven cases out of ten are caused by a deranged condition of the kidneys. For this distressing complaint there is nothing that can equal the potency of Warner's safe cure.

The military music at West Point [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Black and white are combined in every sort of gown.

Gathered vest from collar to waist line are very stylish.

In overskirts all the designs of the past season are repeated and are still stylish.

In thick fabrics panels are still used inlaid between pleats of the dress goods.

Short basques with full effects in front are shown on new dresses of all materials.

Colored laces will combine with the silk foulards for stylish summer costumes.

Modified Norfold jackets of surah or fine Jersey webbing are to be worn with various skirts.

Drapery for the back of dresses has long slender effect, but is very full at the waist line.

Short fronts with a box pleat in the middle, like those on gentlemen's shirts, are used on many dresses.

Woolen dress goods show a myriad of soft summer shades, and, though firm and durable, are light wear.

New parasols have their handles of wood, covered part of their length with the silk used for the canopy.

A feature of new corsage is the bias seam down the back forms, used to make stripes take a diagonal shape.

Garnet dog-collars are the fashion of the moment, and are especially liked with red and black dresses. The smallest beads made in a simple band are seen, or else the large, square, and nearly flat beads are used in rows.

Chemisette plastrons are the new fancy in lingerie; they resemble the tucked shirt bosoms formerly worn by men, and are finished with a high standing collar and white lawn neck-tie narrowly folded like the masculine full-dress cravat, and tied in a small, prim bow.

Black lace scarfs are revived for wearing around the neck, now that furs are left off. They are worn high around the throat, and tie in a large bow on the left side, giving the effect of the fur boas worn during the winter. Spanish laces are again in favor for these scarfs, and the fichus so long out of use can be utilized in this way.

How a Farmer Shaves.

To watch a farmer shave himself is one of the most painful operations ever witnessed outside of downright butchery. For some reason, away beyond the depths of present knowledge, the man who breads the country always has a beard like a new hair brush and he never could learn how to sharpen a razor.

He gets on the back stoop with his shaving utensils, and after rubbing the razor over the strap in an awkward fashion, until whatever trace of edge it may have had has been destroyed, he hangs up his broken glass and takes up a position alongside of the kitchen door, where the old lady will be sure to jostle his arm when she goes out to empty her dish water.

With a brush that has but little handle remaining, he manages somehow to stir up a lot of lather from soap that would raise a blister on the bottom of a boy's foot in dog days, with which he coats his face till nothing but his eyes and the back of his head are visible. With a cob dipped in warm water he goes over the stubble with a vigor that makes the flesh creep, until he feels that all the reasonable precautions for comfort in the subsequent operations have been taken.

Taking up the razor and looking at it suspiciously over the top of his glasses, he runs his thumb along the edge, fails to draw blood as he had hoped, and then with a sigh like leaving town in a hurry, he grabs himself by the nose, shuts his eyes, and gives a scrape that makes his hair stand on end as a bunch of beard seems to come out by the root.

But once at it a terrible desperation seems to nerve him, and with teeth set he goes right on with a determination to get the agony over as soon as possible. Howls of woe break from him now and then, as an expression that poisons life steals over his face and stays there till the last nerve has been pulled out of socket by that terrible razor, and the last bit of stubble has been laid low, when, with a sigh of relief, he strikes up a hymn of thanksgiving, and joyfully throws his shaving paper into the swill barrel near by.—[Chicago Ledger.

Facts About the Sea.

The sea occupies three fifths of the surface of the earth. At the depth of about 3,500 feet waves are not felt. The temperature is the same, varying only a trifle from the ice of the pole to the burning sun of the equator. A mile down the water has a pressure of over a ton to the square inch. If a box six feet deep was filled with sea water and allowed to evaporate under the sun, there would be two inches of salt in the bottom. Taking the average depth of the ocean to be three miles, there would be a layer of pure salt 230 feet thick on the bed of the Atlantic. The water is colder at the bottom than at the surface.

What An Increase.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 14, 1884.—I suffered many years from Chronic Diarrhoea, and was able to get only temporary relief. My disease seemed to baffle medicine. Began to take Warner's safe cure, and increased in weight from 115 pounds to 160, and have not had a sick spell this summer, whereas the summer I was sick all the time.—M. H. WALBRIDGE, Mich., School Molester.

The Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York city, [illegible] $100,000 a year.

[illegible]

Washington's Modesty.

There is a story told of Washington's first appearance as a member of the House of Burgesses. He was something more than a new member; he was the late Commander in chief of the Virginia army, the foremost man, in a military way, in the province; he had just returned from the successful expedition against Fort Duquesne. So the House resolved to welcome him in a manner becoming so gallant a Virginian, and it passed a vote of thanks for the distinguished military services he had rendered the country. The Speaker, Mr. Robinson, rose when Washington came in to take his seat, and made a little speech of praise and welcome, presenting the thanks of the House. Every one applauded and waited for the tall colonel to respond. There he stood, blushing, stammering, confused. He could give his orders to his men easily enough, and he could even say what was necessary to Mrs. Martha Custis; but to address the House of Burgesses in answer to a vote of thanks—that was another matter! Not a plain word could he get out. It was a capital answer, and the Speaker interpreted it to the House.

"Sit down, Mr. Washington," said he. "Your modesty equals your valor, and that surpasses the power of any language I possess."—[From "George Washington," by Horace E. Scudder, in St. Nicholas for May.

Rising from the Grave.

The Rev. Mr. Lindsey, who formerly resided and preached in this county, was able to boast that he was born four months after his mother had been dead and buried. His mother, who resided in Stewartville township, N. C., fell ill, and to all appearances died, and was buried in Stewartville Cemetery. The night following her interment some ghouls, for the purpose of securing some jewelry that was buried with the body, unearthed the remains, when consciousness returned and she was enabled to return to her home. Arriving at her late residence she rapped at the door and was answered by her husband, who demanded to know who was there. To his great astonishment the answer came: "It is your wife." He was not quick in opening the door, but finally did so, and was overjoyed to meet again in life his beloved wife whom he had mourned as dead. Four months afterward the Rev. Mr. Lindsey was born, and she survived several years.—[Spirit of the South.

Why He Quit.

He had been courting a West End girl for a long time, but he has quit now. It happened Sunday night after church. They were sitting as close together as the sofa would permit. She looked with ineffable tenderness into his noble blue eyes.

"George," she murmured, with a tremor in her voice, "didn't you tell me once you would be willing to do any great act of heroism for my sake?"

"Yes, Fannie; and I gladly reiterate that statement now," he replied in confident tones. "No noble Roman of old was fired with a loftier ambition, a braver resolution than I."

"Well, George, I want you to do something real heroic for me."

"Speak, darling; what is it?"

"Ask me to be your wife. We've been fooling long enough."

The sequel is stated in the preface.—[Washington Critic.

Krupp's Gun Works.

Alfred Krupp owns probably the largest business in the world dependent on one individual. The works within the town of Essen (Germany) occupy more than 500 acres, half of which is under cover. According to a census taken in September, 1881, the number of hands employed by Mr. Krupp was 19,605, the the members of their families, 45,776, making 65,381 persons supported by his works. Mr. Krupp owns 547 iron mines in Germany. He owns four sea steamers, and there are connected with his Essen works 42 miles of railway, employing 28 locomotives, 883 cars, 69 horses with 191 wagons, and 40 miles of telegraph wires, 35 stations and 55 Morse apparatuses. The establishment possesses a grand chemical laboratory, a photographic and lithographic atelier, a printing office with three steam and six hand presses, and a bookbinding room. The establishment even runs a hotel in Essen.

Many imitators, but no equal, has Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Loss of Flesh and Strength.

with poor appetite, and perhaps slight cough in morning, or on first lying down at night, should be looked to in time. Persons afflicted with consumption are proverbially unconscious of their real state. Most cases commence with disordered liver, leading to bad digestion and imperfect assimilation of food—hence the emaciation or wasting of the flesh. It is a form of scrofulous disease, and is curable by the use of that greatest of all blood cleansing invigorating compounds, known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

In Turin a new Raphael, it is believed, has been found. It is a profile portrait, and bears the words, "Urbino, 1497."

EDUCATED AND EXPERIENCED.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. who have a thorough knowledge of pharmacy, and many years practical experience in the business. It is prepared with the greatest skill and care, under the direction of the men who originated it. Hence Hood's Sarsaparilla may be depended upon as a thoroughly pure, honest, and reliable medicine.

Samuel Jones has a tour laid out which runs through October and takes him to [illegible] Indiana, [illegible] Ohio and Canada. [illegible]

GOOD NEWS FOR THE AFFLICTED.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism and Catarrh.

Baldwinsville, N. Y.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN:—About one year ago I chilled my blood and was under the Doctor's care for about six months when I had a council of eight physicians and was given up to die. Soon after, a lady friend came to see me and told me about your great remedy. She said she had been cured by it after having the rheumatism seven years, and that her rheumatism was brought on by a cold. At this time I was suffering severe pain all through my body and near my heart. The doctors called it only "frozen blood." Through the persuasion of my friend I procured a bottle. I found some relief. Seeing this I procured more and was entirely cured by its use; and what was my surprise and pleasure at finding that I was not only cured of Rheumatism, but the catarrh which had been troubling me for several years, and had become very offensive had entirely left me.

Wishing your remedy every success, and thanking you very much for my double cure, I remain,

Truly Yours,
MRS. LUCY BRONSON.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—I was confined to my bed with Inflammatory Rheumatism for over a week; was very badly afflicted, suffering with severe pain in my chest, it was going to my heart. On Thursday, the 15th I commenced using Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy at 9 o'clock, p. m., and on Saturday, the 17th was able to walk all over the house, and have since continued to improve, and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are afflicted with the terrible disease.

EDW. B. WILKINS.

Ask your druggist for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

The banker, Henry Clews, calls attention to the influence the remarkably large and annually increasing foreign travel has upon the export of gold. It is estimated that some $70,000,000 will be required to meet the demand of this army of tourists.

ACTIVE, PUSHING AND RELIABLE.

R. E. Phillips can always be relied upon to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and sustain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable, by recommending articles with well established merit and such as are popular. Having the agency of the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, colds and coughs, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and every affection of throat, lungs or chest, and in order to prove our claim, we ask you to call and get a trial bottle free.

In paris the carpenters and masons have formed a society, the object of which is to prevent work in building on Sundays.

Few People Escape

The taint of scrofula in the blood. With many it is hereditary; but it may also be acquired from want of air or lack of exercises, from improper food, or any cause which brings about weakness of the body or impurity of the blood. The disease is characterized by running sores, abscesses, swellings, enlarged joints, sore eyes, etc. No medicine has been so successful in curing scrofula, as Hood's Sarsaparilla. The most terrible running sores gradually disappear under the purifying and strengthing influences of this great medicine. If you are a sufferer from scrofula and desire more evidence as to the wonderful success of Hood's Sarsaparilla, send to C. I Hood & Co., Lowell Mass., for a book cotaining many remarkable cures.

An Iowa scientist calls attention to the fact that this is the year for the seven-year locusts.

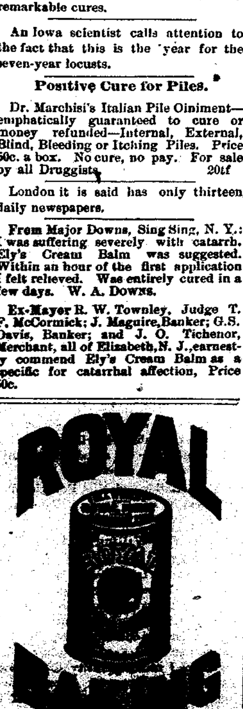
Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

London it is said has only thirteen daily newspapers.

From Major Downs, Sing Sing, N. Y.: I was suffering severely with catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm was suggested. Within an hour of the first application I felt relieved. Was entirely cured in a few days. W. A. DOWNS.

Ex-Mayor R. W. Townley, Judge T. F. McCormick; J. Maguire, Banker; G. S. Davis, Banker; and J. O. Tichenor, Merchant, all of Elizabeth, N. J., earnestly commend Ely's Cream Balm as a specific for catarrhal affection, Price 50c.



NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Feb. 1st, 1886.

NORTHWARD				STATIONS	SOUTHWARD
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney (Depart)	1 45	2 48	1140	[illegible]
....	....	7 30		New Berlin	....	....	7 00
....	9 30	1155		Guilford Centre	....	1 50	1122
2 08	9 40	5 59		Guilford	1 20	1 40	1119
2 24	1005	6 13		Oxford	1 05	1 15	1104
2 45	1030	6 30	31	Norwich	1240	1245	1045	50
....	47	....			....	32
....	a m	....	a m		....	p m	a m	p m
2 60	1 10	6 35	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 20	1040	6 20
1302	3 24	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 08	1028	6 00
1314	3 35	6 58	7 57	Smyrna	1208	6 58	1018	5 40
3 38	3 06	7 05	8 05	Earlville	1200	6 46	1011	5 15
3 39	3 30	7 13	8 13	Randallsville	1150	6 38	1003	4 45
1345	3 56	7 25	8 27	Eaton	1140	6 29	9 55	4 20
*350	4 03	7 30	8 32	Morrisville	1133	6 23	9 48	4 03
1404	4 30	7 43	8 45	Munnsville	1117	6 06	9 33	3 10
1415	4 53	*755	8 57	Community	1103	5 50	*921	2 20
4 21	5 06	8 00	9 08	Oneida Castle	1057	5 45	9 14	2 03
4 29	5 10	8 05	9 13	Oneida	1055	5 40	9 12	2 00
1433	p m	*810	*920	Durhamville	....	*512	*653	1248
*450	....	*827	9 38	North Bay	1027	4 54	8 35	1210
*505	....	8 42	9 53	Cleveland	1013	4 37	8 21	1149
*512	....	*847	1000	B'rnhard's Bay	1007	4 31	*814	1111
5 22	....	8 55	1007	Constantia	1000	4 21	8 07	1100
5 42	....	9 12	1024	Central Square	9 43	4 06	7 49	1025
1549	....	9 18	1031	Caughdenoy	9 35	*400	1741	9 50
5 57	....	9 28	1038	Pennellville	9 28	3 54	7 34	9 40
6 18	....	9 47	1058	Fulton	9 10	3 35	7 15	8 50
6 50	....	1010	1125	Oswego	8 45	3 10	6 50	7 30
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.

Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.

Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.

Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.

Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 30—Freight and Passenger—Leaves Middletown 5:50 a. m., Mechanicstown 6:00, Ireland 6:08, Stony Ford 6:16, Campbell Hall 6:26, Burnside 6:34, Rock Tavern 6.33, Genung's 6:50, Meadow Brook 7:02, Orr's Mills 7:07, Montana 7:10 and arrive at Cornwall 7:30, connecting with Train 6 for New York.

Train 38—Cornwall Local—Leaves Middletown 12:01 p. m., Mechanicstown 12:05, Ireland 12:09, Stony Ford 12:14, Campbell Hall 12:20, Burnside 12:25, Meadow Brook 12:43, Montana 12:48 arrive at Cornwall 12:55 p. m., connecting with West Shore train arriving at New York, 42nd. street 2:50 and Jay street 3:05 p. m., also for Newburgh arriving at 1:29 p. m.

Train 20—Way Freight and Passenger—Leaves Walton 7:30 a. m., arriving at Middletown 5:45 p. m., stopping at all stations.

Train 26—New Berlin Mixed—Leaves New Berlin 7:00 a. m., stopping at all stations on the New Berlin Branch, arriving at Sidney 9:55, Youngs 10:12, Sidney Centre 10:27, Franklin 10:40 and Walton 11:30.

Train 16—Leaves Delhi 5:35 a. m., Hamden 5:53, arriving at Walton 6:30, connecting with Train 13 for Norwich.

Train 18—Express—Leaves Delhi 10:40 a. m., Hamden 11:12, arriving at Walton 11:50, connecting with Train 2 for New York.

Train B—Sunday Only—Leaves Sidney 10:00 a. m., Youngs 10:20, Sidney Centre 10:35, Franklin 10:50, Walton 11:45.

Train 28—Sidney Local—Leaves Norwich 7:00 a. m., Oxford 7:30, Guilford 7:55, Guilford Centre 8:00, New Berlin Junction 8:17, Sidney 8:25 a. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Train 35—Middletown Local—Leaves Cornwall 8:25 a. m., connecting with West Shore, leaving Newburgh 7:20, Montana 8:37, Meadow Brook 8:48, Genung's 9:00, Burnside 9:20, Campbell Hall 9:30, Stony Ford 9:38, Middletown 10 a. m.

Train 37—Passenger and Freight—Leaves Cornwall 2:00 p. m., connecting with West Shore, leaving New York, Jay Street 11:05 a. m., 42nd Street 11:25, Newburgh 12:52, arrives at Montana 2:12, Meadow Brook 2:20, Genung's 2:32, Burnside 2:49, Campbell Hall 2:57, Stony Ford 3:06, Middletown 3:30 p. m.

Train 19—Way Freight—Leaves Middletown 6:55 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 4:30 p. m.

Train 25—New Berlin Way—Leaves Walton 2 37 p. m., arriving at Franklin 3:30, Sidney Centre 3:43, Sidney 5 45, connecting with No. 1 from New York, stopping at all stations on the Branch, arriving at New Berlin 7:30 p. m.

Train A—Saturday Only—Leaves Walton 6:59 p. m., Franklin 7:35, Sidney Centre 7:50, Sidney 8:20 p. m.

Train 15—Mixed—Leaves Walton 8:00 a. m., stopping at all stations on Branch, arriving at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 17—Mail—Leaves Walton 4:45 p.m., making all stops on Branch, arriving at Delhi 5.50 p. m.

Train 27—Norwich Mixed—Leaves Sidney 4:15 p. m., Guilford 4:49, Oxford 5:13, Norwich 5:45 p. m.

Train 49—Way Freight and Passenger—Leaves Norwich 8:10 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Oswego 6:45 p. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 38—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore for Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Saratoga, Whitehall, arriving at Rutland, Vt. 8.50 p. m.

Train 2—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all poins north, Saratoga, Whitehall, Plattsburgh, arriving at Montreal 8 a. m.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and Rome and all stations on the Utica Division of the D. and H. R. R.; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for Syracuse.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago: at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points north; at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. R. for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 8:00 a. m.

Train 31—Connects at Randallsville for all stations on the Utica Division of the D. and H. R. R.; at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Train 47—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points west, arriving at Rochester 10:30, Buffalo 12:15 a. m. and Chicago 8 p. m.

Agents of the N. Y., O. and W. sell tickets and check baggage to all points east, west, north and south via all lines with good connections. Rates always guaranteed as low as any other line.

Trains 9 and 10, run daily; all others daily except Sunday. Trains 5 and 6 will not start on Sundays.

* Stop on signal. ‡ Stop to leave and take on New York passengers only.

New York Depots at foot of Jay St. and West 42nd Sts.

J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pas'g'r. Agt.
No. 15 Broad Street, N. Y.

NEW STORE
NEW GODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
—ALSO AGENT FOR—
Perfection Weather Strip.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By John H. McAlvin, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

[illegible] FAY'S [illegible] 1866. [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at [illegible], No 2 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No 1 First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts, Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious; Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!
The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.
White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

The Backus Water Motor

IS THE MOST Economical Power Known!
—FOR—
DRIVING LIGHT MACHINERY
It takes but little room.
It never gets out of repair.
It can not blow up.
It requires no fuel.
It needs no engineer.
There is no delay; no firing up; no ashes to clean away; no extra insurance to pay; no repairing necessary; no coal bills to pay, and it is always ready for use.
It is invaluable for blowing Church Organs, for running Printing Presses, Sewing Machines, Turning Lathes, Scroll Saws, Grind Stones, Coffee Mills, Sausage Machines, Feed Cutters, Corn Mills, Elevators, etc.
Four-horse power at 40 pounds pressure of water. It is noiseless, neat, compact, steady, and above all
IT IS VERY CHEAP.
Price $15 to $300
Send for circular to the Backus Water Moto Co., Newark, N. J., stating paper you saw advertisement in.
Mr. S. C. North of this village having set a number of the Backus Motors will be pleased to answer any inquiries that parties may wish to make.

—COAL.—
The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$5.00	2.63	1.44
Nut	5.00	2.63	1.44
Mix	5.00	2.63	1.44
Egg	4.60	2.48	1.34
Grate	4.60	2.48	1.34
Pea	4.00	2.12	1.19

Yard and Office [illegible]

[illegible] to the [illegible] in [illegible] calling in which it [illegible] pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

[illegible] R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

[illegible] this issue The Times enters upon [illegible] seventeenth year of its existence under most favorable auspices, encouraged by the support that it has and still is receiving from its patrons and rejoicing in the fact that new names are being added to its subscription list, weekly. Special correspondents in Washington and New York by their letters constantly keep our readers posted with the matters of interest in these two great centres—the one the seat of our government, the other the Metropolis of our country—in a manner that could not be gleaned from general news. A brief summary of the events that have transpired during the week in the country, state and county, together with choice selections of literature and reading matter combine to make The Times one of the best weeklies in the State.

In local matters, we shall relate events as they occur, giving our readers the result of our conclusions in regard to matters of interest to the community, using our best efforts to secure that which may be most advisable for the improvement, enterprise and general weal of our village. From an independent—not neutral—standpoint, we shall watch the transactions of all that interest themselves, officially or otherwise, in affairs that concern the village and with malice to none, shall interpret these transactions as their merits deserve.

The excitement caused by the recent riot in Chicago has almost abated. Eleven persons dead and a large number wounded is one of the many results of this riot. The Knights of Labor together with the press and public unite in condemning the work of the anarchists and their leaders. The following is a sample of the editorials that appear in the Chicago papers:

"Let it be understood by all the world that the Knights of Labor have no affiliation, association, sympathy or respect for the band of cowardly murderers, cut-throats and robbers, known as Anarchist, who sneak thro' the country like midnight assassins, stirring up the passions of ignorant foreigners, unfurling the red flag of anarchy and causing riot and blood-shed. Parsons, Spies, Fielden, Most and their followers, sympathizers, aiders and abetors, should be summarily dealt with. They are entitled to no more consideration than wild beasts. The leaders are cowards and their followers are fools. Knights of Labor, boycott them. If any of the gang of scoundrels should by any mistake get access to our organization, expel them at once, brand them as outlaws and monsters; do not even permit yourselves to hold conversation with them. Treat them as they deserve to be treated, as human monstrosities, and not entitled to the sympathy or consideration of any person in the world. We are sure we express the sentiment of the entire organization when we say that Parsons, Spies, Fielden, Most and the whole gang of outlaws should be blotted from the surface of the earth."

Dr. Calthrop, the weather prophet of Syracuse, makes another public statement that on the 20th inst. Central New York will be visited by a storm followed by a cold wave.

The condition of ex-President Arthur does not seem to have improved any during the past two weeks. He is very weak and his friends and relatives have but little hope of his permanent recovery.

On last Monday Gladstone again appeared before the House of Commons and made his second speech in the advocacy of Ireland's cause although intense interest was manifested in the event, it did not compare with that of April 8, when the bill was introduced.

About 5,000 persons witnessed a prize fight in Chicago last Monday evening, between Jack Burke and Charles Mitchell. Ten fierce rounds were fought Mitchell was getting the better of it, when the police stopped the contest and it was declared a draw.

A commendable step has been taken in Philadelphia by the introduction of a bill into the common council providing for the licensing of news boys and bootblacks and also for their education. All under 18 years of age will be compelled to attend schools which are to be provided by the city, at least three hours a day except on Saturdays and Sundays. This looks like the work of some philanthropist and will do great good to a much neglected class, compelling them to accept chances of mental improvement which would otherwise pass by unobserved.

Thousands of physicians all through the United States prescribe Warner's safe cure, in bottles of their own. You pay them from $1.50 to $3.00 a visit: you can buy Warner's safe cure, sixteen ounce bottles, for $1.25. Do not be imposed upon.

What Miss Cleveland Says.

The following from the Cincinnati Enquirer of Saturday is said to be a letter written by Miss Cleveland to a lady friend in that city:

Dear Miss Wilkinson: I am in receipt of your favor, and am rather surprised at the tone of your letter. I certainly would not interfere with any matrimonial choice of my brother. I am a very warm friend of Miss Van Vechten, and although I am not so intimate with Miss Folsom, I esteem both as true types of American Womanhood. I am pained to read the gossip in the newspapers about the marriage although I am not prepared to say that one will take place. It will greatly please me to be relieved from the duties of hostess at the President's house, which I have felt were imposed upon me, and which have greatly interfered with my literary pleasures and pursuits.

Sincerely yours,

Rose Cleveland.

[illegible]

There are 1,000 convicts in Auburn prison.

The body of Willis A. Perkins, a wealthy farmer, was found in a pond at Morris, Thursday. He had been insane, and it is thought to be a case of suicide.

Thomas Melville, who criminally assaulted Katharine Name, a deaf and dumb imbecile, on April 13, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in New York, Friday.

Robert Anderson of Fort Edward, aged 89, thought to be suffering from brain trouble, cut his throat last Wednesday. His aged mother found him lying dead in bed when she called him in the morning.

The annual Woodford oratorical contest at Cornell University, took place at the armory Friday night. There were six contestants for the prize of $100. Mr. E. D. A. Delima of New York city was awarded the prize by the committee of judges from the faculty.

The Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad has 87 locomotives, 110 passenger cars and 2,283 freight and miscellaneous cars. The Utica & Black River road has 25 locomotives, 26 passenger cars and 976 other cars. The R. W. & O. operates 617 miles, and U. & B. R. 180 miles.

Lloyd Lonergan, a son of the editor of the Hotel Mail, who, while flourishing a revolver, put a bullet through the neck of a servant girl in his father's house, was convicted of atrocious assault, with a recommendation to mercy. The verdict was a surprise to the community.

George Johnson, a lunatic, hanged himself by a cord to the window sash in the room in which he was manacled at Norwich, Friday. His insanity was caused by a blow on the head, given by James Hutchins, who is now at large on $1,000 bail. Johnson was of good family and wealthy, and leaves a family.

Considerable interest is taken in the forthcoming glove match between Jack Ashton of Providence and Conley, the heavy weight fighter of Ithaca, who challenges any man in the world, barring Sullivan. The match is to occur in Ithaca, on Saturday night the 15th inst. Ten three-minute rounds will be fought with soft gloves, Marquis of Queensbery rules.

James Willows, arrested for the murder of Gilbert Dykeman, the flagman, had an examination Friday. He showed in detail his whereabouts for two weeks, and the authorities are confident he is innocent. He said he had been a tramp and beggar for a long time, and averaged $5 a day begging. When asked what he did with his money, he said he collected money day times and got drunk with it nights.

COUNTY NEWS.

Mrs. Charles Morenus of Cleveland, is said to have fallen heir to $40,000.

The Sandy Creek gong, it is claimed, can be heard with favorable winds 15 or 20 miles away.

The Phœnix fair grounds are to have 300 feet more of cattle stabling and twenty box stalls.

Hundreds of veal calves are being shipped weekly from Oswego county to the New York market.

The school money for the Oswego county has been received by County Treasurer McKinstry.

A Sherburne buyer purchased 300 bales of hops in Oswego county recently at about five cents per pound.

Collector A. B. Chase of Volney settled last Thursday with the county treasurer. His warrant called for $35,187.54 and he returned uncollected $887.36.

George A. Wendover, an employe of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad, was killed in the car yard at Oswego, last Wednesday, by a train backing over him.

Collector Charles LaClair of Parish settled with the county treasurer Saturday. His bond amounted to $7,434.82 and he returned uncollected $161.57.

At the Phœnix cheese factory 2,805 cheeses were made last year out of 1,921,889 pounds of milk. The cost of making is now $1.25 per hundred pounds of cheese.

Judge Wright in Oswego, on Monday reversed the sentence of justice M. W Collins, of Mexico, who fined Dr. de Cotenville of Colosse, $300 or 300 days in the county jail for an assault on a woman named Margaret George.

Geo. W. Davis, of Lacona is doing an immense business in buying and shipping stock to New York. He pays out from three to four thousand dollars a week to the farmers of that section.

The Empire Folder company of Phœnix has been incorporated. The company has a paid up capital of $0,000, and expect at once to enter into the manufacture of an improved newspaper folding machine at the foundry and machine shops of the Phœnix Manufacturing company in this village.

The jury in the famous horse case, Davis vs. Snyder, Scriba farmers, came in at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and awarded the plaintiff $55 and costs. The case has been tried twice in justice's court and once in the county court. The defendant threatens to appeal.

Mr. Darwin Davis of New Haven recently found a squirrel's nest in a hay mow with five young squirrels in it. Two of the squirrels were killed and the rest were adopted by a cat who had a couple of kittens, The cat, who had just entered her teens, fosters the squirrels as carefully as she does her own offspring.

Thursday Geo. Campbell of Caughdenoy and another boatman ran their crafts down the Oneida river, and on approaching Oak Orchard there was danger that both boats might drift over the dam. To prevent this Mr. Campbell leaped on shore a distance of twenty-five feet, by the aid of a boat pole. He landed with great force upon a protruding root and sustained a very bad fracture of the knee and ankle. After landing with this result he fell back into the river and it was with the utmost exertion that he was rescued. It was found that the jagged ends of fractured bone had protruded out through the flesh and clothing. He was removed to his home and Dr. Drake called to reduce the fracture. [illegible] it was found that amputation [illegible] necessary and the [illegible]

[illegible] He does not play politics.

Spies, the Chicago anarchist, is a German about 30 years old, and a saddle-maker by trade.

The Greek Ministry has resigned. The King has commissioned Elkaki to form a new ministry.

Chauncey M. Depew is to join the great summer caravan bound for Europe.

The Utica Observer says that Grover Cleveland works on an average seventeen hours a day.

Ex-Senator Gordon of Georgia is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of his state.

Senator Hale, of Maine, is to be honored as the guest of the Norfolk club in Boston on May 15th.

Patti will be married on June 7th.

Queen Elizabeth of Roumania, known in literature as "Carmen Sylva," is reported to be seriously ill.

Agnes Carroll, step-daughter of General Lee, has been betrothed to Count Anthony Haassenstamm of Austria.

Miss Jennie Chamberlain, the Cleveland beauty, has decided to go on the dramatic stage.

A resolution expressing regret at the execution of Riel was defeated in the provincial legislature Friday by a vote of 18 to 41.

Col. David Moulton, a member of Assembly in 1831 and 1832 died in Floyd, Oneida county, Friday, aged 89 years. He was at one time an influential Democrat.

The young widow, Marie Christine, Queen of Spain, is 27 years of age and is a very graceful and distinguished looking woman.

Rev. Dr. Talmage and his congregation have made arrangements for a three day's trip to the Thousand Islands this summer. It will take place at the close of June or the First of July.

Hon. Ellis H. Roberts of the Utica Herald is credited with being, in point of unbroken direction of the same newspaper, the dean of the State press. He has been at the head of the Herald thirty-five years.

General Husted is serving his sixteenth term as a Member of Assembly, and his fourth as Speaker. Thomas G. Alvord was fifteen terms a Member of Assembly and three times Speaker. DeWitt C. Littlejohn was eleven terms a Member of Assembly and six times Speaker. These are the longest terms of service in the records.

Gen. Cameron gave a dinner party Saturday afternoon at his Donegal farm to a number of personal friends. Among those in attendance were Senators Cameron, Hale, Morrill, Logan, Beck, Blackburn, Gray, Hearst and Butler, Representatives Randall and Arnot and Col. Bonaparte of Baltimore.

Assemblyman Tappan of the First Onondaga district is really in dead earnest with his Syracuse capital bill. He says there is a very strong sentiment in favor of it west of Albany. Tappan is a good fellow, but some of his friends do enjoy seeing him sat down upon. The way his measures have been cuffed about in the Assembly the present session would have discouraged a less persistent man.—[Palladium.

Mr. John S. Williams, Third Auditor of the Treasury Department, in submitting his first annual report to the Acting Secretary of the Treasury of the operations of his office to May 1, 1886, reports a saving of $14,446 for compensation to clerks, and he estimates that $28,200 can be saved during the next year in the reduction of the clerical force. There has been a saving to the Government of 2,677 days over the preceding year, when the number of absentees among clerks aggregated 6,168.

Oswego Falls.

A new sign adorns the Observer office.

A house is being built for Mr. Gleason on Third street.

Charles Jones is building a house for himself in this village.

Mr. Venton has moved his blacksmith shop from Broadway to First street.

Dr. Whittaker and Newton Johnson are entering summer cottages at Pleasant Point.

Wednesday morning a party of seven started from this place for a few weeks visit in England. They sail from New York in the steamer Brittania having purchased tickets of Mr. George North. The company are Mrs. Ellis Hartley, Miss Annie Dyson, Mrs. Emma Smith, Mrs. Pickles, Miss Annie Chorley, and Mrs. John Bogue and daughter. Their many friends here wish them a pleasant and safe voyage across the briny deep. —[Oswego Falls Observer.

Palermo.

W. H. Hannan, proprietor of the Palermo Centre house is making some improvements in his hotel by the way of paint and paper. It will be found as nice a country hotel as can be seen in the county.

Mrs. Sarah Johnson is very low and is not expected to live long. Her daughter from Illinois is with her.

Miss Ella Gardner is on the sick list. Dr. Green is attending her.

William Hannan has received a patent on a thill coupling which he is soon to show to the public. It will supply a long felt want and is far ahead of any other that is now in the market.

J. W. Rigley and Miss Frankie Wood of Oswego Falls were in Palermo on Sunday last.

He Was Willing to Ante Up.

Brockton, N. Y., Oct. 23, 1885.—I had a severe trouble with my bladder. Consulted a number of first-class physicians, without benefit. After using half a bottle of Warner's safe cure I was relieved, and I would gladly have paid any physician $100, could he have done what that small quantity did. Now I am thoroughly cured. Would like to proclaim its value from the top of the White Mountains with a voice strong enough for the whole world to hear. E. B. Crockett, [illegible] grocer. Late [illegible] Toronto, Canada.

[illegible]

[illegible] Washington Letter.

Washington, May [illegible], 1886.

While the country is shocked by the news of the bloody strikes in different Western cities, "All is quiet along the Potomac". Washington is indeed a quiet city considering that it is itself the scene of a strike. There are to be seen on the streets knots of men whose bearing and dress stamp them as workmen, and the fact that they are so assembled indicates that they are out of employment. This is the only evidence that they are on a strike. The labor troubles here seem to have developed into a lock-out, and it is already becoming a matter of doubt whether or not the work will be fully resumed this season.

The proceedings of the week in Congress have not been so interesting in character as usual, or perhaps I should say that events in Congressional committee rooms have been more interesting than those in the House and Senate. There was a little sensation in the House Judiciary Committee room while the Anti-Polygamy bill was being considered. Judge Baskin who is representing the Gentiles of Utah in advocacy of the bill, is a remarkably impressive old gentlemen. It was through his efforts that the Mountain Meadow massacre of settlers was traced to its perpetrators twenty years after its occurrence, and his experiences in Utah have been varied and thrilling. He read to the committee the affadavit of an English woman who stated she had been converted to Mormonism by her lover, who came to this country and returned to England as a Mormon missionary, finally bringing her back here with him. After entering the Mormon church and marrying according to the Mormon mode, she discovered that her marriage was a polygamous one. Upon this discovery she made revelations and gave descriptions that were revolting in character. At the conclusion of his remarks, the Judge pointed to a handsome young woman, sitting in the room beside Miss Kate Field, and announced that she was the victim to whom he alluded, and that she was ready to undergo cross-examination and verify the statements.

After ten day's discussion the Senate passed the Post Office Appropriation bill, together with the amendmends appropriating $800,000 for subsidies to American vessels for carrying the mails. Senator Plumb, of Kansas, referring to the opposition of the Southern Senators to the subsidy amendment, took occasion to remark that the South was behind the times. It responded, he said, to the wishes and principles inculcated by Calhoun, enforced by Taucey and represented to-day by Jefferson Davis.

Senator Morgan of Alabama here interposed to comment upon the unfairness of this class of argument. He complained that it was made at so late a stage in the debate that the Southern men could have no opportunity to reply to it. As for himself, every name mentioned by the Senator from Kansas was consecrated in his memory as the name of an honorable and great man. He hoped the state of Kansas might sometime produce such a character as Mr. Calhoun or Mr. Taucey or Mr. Davis. Mr. Plumb answered that the South was to-day taking up the song where it left off in 1861, and be criticised the course of Senators who would ask for millions to improve the Mississippi for commerce but were not willing to vote anything to develope commerce from the mouth of the Mississippi to other lands.

Certain society circles have been much interested in an event which has just taken place in connection with the family of Colonel Jerome Bonaparte, who lives in this city, and who is a great nephew, you may remember of the 1st Napoleon. On Wednesday Col. Bonaparte's step-daughter, Miss Edgar, aged 20, who took the white veil a year ago, took the black veil and the perpetual vows of a nun—poverty, chastity, and obedience. She will be known in her religion, as Sister Mary de Sales. The young girl's action was a surprise to many. Not only was she much admired in fashionable circles, but her surroundings have always been most attractive, and her home on "K" Street is one of the handsomest in the city. She never had any fondness for society, however, and since she left school has been disposed to be a recluse in her elegant abode.

Utica Cheese Market.

Utica, May 10.

The market to-day was a repetition of last week, with the exception that the few guarantees offered were about 1c. lower. Most of the factories that were offered a guarantee of 9c. last week and refused it, were obliged to accept 8¼@8¾c. if their goods were sold at all. The guarantee today was in most cases 7¾c., and in a few 8c., but as a rule the cheese went forward strictly on commission. We have never known two such market days as these. Telegrams came from New York saying that the market would probably be 8¾@8¾c. this week, but no buyer would make an out and out offer. The fact that there is no foreign demand renders buyers more cautious than ever before. They have always lost money in buying fodder cheese, and this year they have concluded to take the cheese on commission and let the factorymen get what they can out of the sales. In this way they claim that they (the buyers) will be in better shape to tackle grass cheese when that comes along. Transactions today comprise 2,550 boxes all consigned, This compares with 3,822 boxes one year ago, only 425 of which were consigned, the rest selling at 9@9¼@9¾c. It is very possible that all the fodder cheese will go on consignment and no stock be bought outright until hay cheese is offered for sale.

Little Falls Cheese Market.

Little Falls, May 10.

The cheese market to-day has been dull and uninteresting, especially for buyers who were attempting to secure goods for the New York market. It is claimed that the prices paid by the home trade are higher than New York parties are authorized to offer. The result is that very little cheese is sold to the New York trade. The amount of business done to-day exceeds by nearly 1,000 boxes, the business of one week ago, but the prices are considerably lower, the bulk going out to-day at 8¾ cents, against 9¼ cents a week ago. The transactions were as follows: Three lots, of 596 boxes, at 6¾ to 8 cents; 13 lots, 494 boxes, at 8¾ cents; seven lots, 304 boxes, at 7¾ cents; six lots, 279 boxes, at 9 cents; 10 lots, 383 boxes, on commission; 209 boxes farm dairy sold at 4¾ to 9¾ cents, bulk at 8¾ cents.

Butter—Twenty-four packages of creamery butter sold at 21 to 23 cents; bulk at 21c; and 57 packages of farm dairy at 18 to 21 cents, bulk at 19 cents.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B. Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 26tf.

Perfecto Fernandez, a rich Cuban of Hawthorne, N. J., was shot in the right breast, Saturday night, about 11 o'clock, by his wife, Belle. The woman then placed a pistol to her right temple and [illegible]

[illegible] Co.

Gentlemen:—I have suffered with Rheumatism in my shoulders and arms for nearly four years. I have tried many remedies, including Rheumatic Syrup, none of which helped me in the least.

I finally tried Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and I experienced almost immediate relief, and continuing its use, I am so well pleased with the results that I most cheerfully recommend it to others.

I am most respectfully yours,
A. WANDELL,
Grocer, 81 Rowe St.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured, After all the Physicians Failed.

Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

Pardee Medicine Co.

Gentlemen:—I cannot let the opportunity pass without testifying to my appreciation of your valuable medicine. As is well known to all this community, I was for years a great sufferer from inflammatory Rheumatism, at times being confined to the house for several weeks, and totally incabable of helping myself.

I have received attendance of several of our best physicians and have tried everything in the shape of Rheumatic medicine that was recommended, or that I could hear of, without benefit.

It was during one of these attacks that I was induced to try Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and before I had finished the second bottle I was so much improved, that I felt no pain whatever. I continued its use and now I am as well as ever.

I take great pleasure in recommending it to all rheumatic sufferers, as I belit to be the very best article of the kind in this, or any other country.

I am gentlemen, your most respectfuly,

GOTTLOB MURR.

Ask your druggist for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

GENERAL NEWS.

Sarah Bernhardt has sailed for South America.

Brigham Young left over $1,000,000 and his children are fast going through it.

Beck, the pretender to the throne of Denmark, has been expelled from that country.

It is officially announced that the Archbishops of Rheims, Sens, Baltimore, and Quebec are to be created Cardinals.

The Minneapolis Journal has compiled statistics showing that Miss Folsom has thus far 479 uncles.

Pasteur has looked through microscopes so much that his eyes are seriously affected, and his face curiously wrinkled about them.

The 23,000 school libraries in the United States contain 45,000,000 books—12,000,000 more than all the public libraries of Europe combined.

General Grant's Appomattox saddle is on exhibition at the Dayton (O.) Soldier's home. Grant used it in every battle from February, 1862, to the close of the war.

Dick Walker, a young negro, was hanged near Richmond, Va., for attempting to outrage a white girl, the daughter of a respectable farmer. The negro was taken from jail by force.

Miss Constance Edgar, the beautiful and accomplished stepdaughter of Jerome Bonaparte, renounced the world and its pleasures at the Convent of the Visitation, Baltimore, where she took the vows of a nun last week.

John Dubois the wealthy lumber merchant of Dubois, Penn., died on Wednesday after a lingering illness. Mr. Dubois's estate is estimated at $7,000,000.

It is said that Wellesley College has received a legacy of $100,000 as the foundation of an endowment for an art school building. It is understood that the donor wishes to remain unknown.

A. W. S. Minear, a druggist of Athens O., and ex-County Auditor, was shot and killed Wednesday night by C. Carr, a young man employed by Minear. Mr. Minear had returned home late unexpectedly, and while trying to get into the house was mistaken by Carr for a burglar.

It is related that in a recent conversation with Edwin Booth, E. F. Thorne, the actor, called his friend's attention to the fact that, though America had been discovered years before Shakespeare's time, the great author has not alluded to the New World anywhere in his plays. Mr. Booth said he never had thought of the omission before.

Friday, in Fulton, Ky., a young woman named Miss Welkerson, walked up behind her step-mother, who was washing at a tub, and struck her on the head with a hoe. She continued to strike the falling woman until she was dead, and then backed her head to pieces. Family disagreement was the cause. The girl escaped.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y

A small place of two acres with a 2 story dwelling and barn with basement both in good condition on river read, five miles from Fulton.

Two good building lots. Situate on the northwest corner of Buffalo and Fifth streets.

A. Farm of 25 acres within a mile of Fulton, Will exchange for a house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton N. Y. C. W. STREETER.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

[illegible]

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

COAL WAY DOWN !

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4 25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a Ladies Cheek to the appropriate color for a Horse Barn.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. ☞Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date. ☞The New Drug Store. H. C. GIESLER.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER PIPING A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for [illegible] Roofing.

SNOW AND LOOMIS,
No 7 First Street,
FULTON, N. Y.
HARDWARE DEALERS,
——Have a New and Complete Line of——
STOVES AND RANGES.
——THE——
WORLDS' JEWEL
IS THE FINEST STOVE MADE.
Stoves at Prices to Suit all Purchasers.

[illegible]
OUR SAMPLE BOX OF PLANTS [illegible]

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
aud DUCHESS
Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

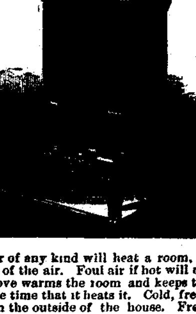
—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.

A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.

AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.



☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F.G. Weeks, President.
E. R. Redhead, Vice-President.
Almon Bristol, Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. Messenger, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

The People of the State of New York By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Alice Hethington, Fulton, N. Y., widow; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charlotte Grace Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, heirs at law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. E. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, S. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stowe, R. S. Galt, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other creditors and all persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 5th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said decedent, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phœnix, in said county, the 5th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

(L. S.)

L. J. Carrier,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

FRAZER AXLE [illegible]

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes.
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

SALESM[illegible]
WANTED
to canvass for the sale of Nursery [illegible] steady employment guaranteed. [illegible]
EXPENSES PAID. Apply at once [illegible]
Chase B[illegible]

FULTON 'BUS

[illegible] Omnibus will leave the Lewis House [illegible] on the Oswego & Syracuse Railroad by [illegible] time table:

	A.M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
[illegible] Syracuse	8:25	11:20	3:25	5:50	7:45
[illegible] Oswego	8:25	10:50 p.m.	3:25	5:50	7:20

Return to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents [illegible] on the Omnibus.
LEONARD & WILSON, Proprietors.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:25 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:40 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:47 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:10 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:20 a. m.
Day Express	12:24 p. m.
Day Express	3:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:10 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:30 p. m.

The 8:25 a. m., and 8:15 a. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

ork Day Express	7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:50 a. m
Norwich Express	3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express	10:56 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	6:08 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:24	11:54	5:24
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 8 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

F. M. Baker of Syracuse was in town last Friday.

Dr. W. A. Hall has returned from his trip to the west.

Miss Ella Poole is spending a short time in Cortland with Mrs. J. E. Cary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brown of Baldwinsville, spent Sunday with F. M. Darrow.

Miss Maud Boomer of this village is studying stenography with W. G. Chaffee in Oswego.

John Reed, who has been visiting in town several days, returned yesterday to Providence, R. I.

D. W. Gardner of Thousand Island Park, was in town over Sunday, the guest of his son, C. H. Gardner.

Mrs. J. W. Van Vorst starts to-morrow for a few week's visit with friends in Schenectady and Greenwich.

Mrs. R. J. Landon, of Schenectady, formerly Miss Minnie Gilmour, and Mrs. Vedder of the same place, are visiting Mrs. James Gilmour.

You are cautioned not to buy boots and shoes until you have examined our goods and prices. Salmon Shoe Store,
Opera House Block.

Crackers, four pounds for 25 cents, at the Vienna Bakery on First street. 36tf

An elegant line of new Parasols and Silk Umbrellas at
F. E. BACON'S.

If you have got to buy any hard wood, now is your time to get it cheap. 3 cords $5.50, 2 cords $3.75, 1 cord $2.00. Leave orders at Harness shop, or McCully's planing mill. 52tf

LOST.—Yesterday on Fourth street, between No. 2 school and Broadway a small alligator purse, valuable as a keepsake. The finder will confer a favor by returning it to this office.

For Refrigerators, Lawn Mowers, Screen Door and Window Frames, Wire Cloth and Oil Stoves, go to Snow & Loomis' Hardware Store for Special Bargains.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

A large stock ladies slippers just received and for sale very cheap at the
Salmon Shoe Store,
52t2 Opera House Block.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

Gents French calf and Kangaroo hand sewed shoes all styles and widths at Collins'.

Look at the size of Red Cross Cough Syrup bottle at Williams. 39m3

CARRIAGES! CARRIAGES!

Bristol has the largest stock of Wagons and Carriages ever seen in Oswego Co., and will sell at prices satisfactory to the closest buyers.

[illegible] said to contain about $8.00, was stolen. Deputy Sheriff Poole had his suspicions that the offender was connected with the army and has since been quietly working up the case. Yesterday Poole telegraphed to Baldwinsville, where he had heard his man had gone and later received word that he had been arrested. Poole went to Baldwinsville and last night returned with his prisoner, who was placed in jail. The bold burglar is Wm. Brown, a young man about 16 years old, from Little Utica, who has been connected with the army for some time. To a TIMES reporter, who visited him in jail last night, he said that on the night the crime was committed he went to the house and effected an entrance by lifting the door a little, thus freeing the latch, and after taking the box and counting the money which amounted to $4.03, he buried the box under some sod, and then went to Watertown. From there he returned to Fulton, then went on the canal to Buffalo, and from there he returned to Syracuse and Baldwinsville where he was arrested. At his examination this morning, he pleaded guilty and was held to await the action of the grand jury. He was taken to Oswego this noon.

The Howe Stove Works.

The Howe Ventilating Stove company, having found its present quarters much too small for its increasing business, is making some extensive improvements in the buildings, and have enlarged the moulding room to about three times its original size. A new cupola will be built, a large force of moulders and other workmen added and when fully completed the capacity of the works will be about trebled. The present capacity is about ten stoves a day and it is expected that soon thirty stoves a day can be turned out.

Burned Out.

"The Housekeeper," Minneapolis, Minn., was burned out for the second time in six years, April 12th, and a part of its large subscription list destroyed. Several of the ladies employed barely escaping with their lives.

Such of our readers as do not receive the May number promptly, should write to the publishers, giving full address, time when subscription was made, and length of time paid for. The May number will then be forwarded and the name restored to the list.

Another Victory at Gettysburg.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Nov. 20, 1885.—Two years ago, I became a confirmed invalid. My friends thought I was far gone with consumption. I grew worse under the treatment of physicians, and at last resolved to try Warner's safe cure. In two weeks, I was like a new creature. In four weeks, was able to assume my household duties. At this writing, perfectly well. I believe Warner's safe cure will cure 99-100 of all suffering people, so I convince all suffering people of its merits.—MRS. E. J. WOLF, Wife of Rev. Theodore Wolf, LL. D., Editor Lutheran Quarterly.

Hannibal.

Mr. Norman Titus has gone west upon a visit.

Mrs. Eli VanAuken, who has been quite ill for some months, is slowly improving.

Mr. C. B. Brower, one of the Reveille and News proprietors, is building himself a handsome residence on Cayuga street.

H. Y. Watson, grandson of Abram Watson (one of Hannibal's early settlers) has traded his farm for a house and lot in Syracuse and goes there to reside.

It is currently reported that a contest is to be made upon the probate of Mrs. Dr. Kent's will. If so, it will create considerable feeling among some of the families residing in that neighborhood.

The village trustees met Thursday and elected the following board of health: C. Fetterley, D. Bothwell, W. A. Brownell, Health officer, Dr. D. F. Acker. Today the town board met and appointed Dr. D. F. Acker health officer of the town.

Messrs. Rogers & Son of Hannibal Centre, who were burned out a few days ago, have purchased the large building formerly a tannery (built by the late Hon. Wm. Titus) and propose to start again in business by converting the building into a grist mill. Messrs. Rogers were not insured and lost the accumulation of a life time when burned, but American-like propose to commence and work up again.

Until Nine O'clock.

The Millinery Department at F. E. Bacon's will be open on WEDNESDAY evening until 9 o'clock for the next four weeks for the benefit of those persons who find it impossible to reach the store Saturday or Monday evenings.

P-A-R-A-S-O-L-S

:o:

JUST RECEIVED

Direct from the manufacturers, a large and Elegant Line of

Parasols & Sun Umbrellas

which we shall offer at prices that will be sure to please our customers.

SPECIAL DRIVE.

—:o:—

4 Button Kid Gloves, new colors, good quality, only 50 cts a pair. We have also the celebrated "Foster patent" Lace Glove and the leading makes. Rare bargains in Lisle and Silk Gloves, Lace Mitts for Ladies and Children, in all colors at about half what that they cost last year. In

C-O-R-S-E-T-S

We carry 18 different makes therefore can suit the most particular.

Yours for bargains

One Hundred and Fifty Pairs of Ladies' Kid Goat and Diagonal Cloth Top Button for less than the first cost to Manufacture, at

NETTLETON'S.

Hi Henry at the opera house Saturday evening.

Read our clubbing rates with the American Agriculturist.

Decoration day and the Fourth of July both come on Sunday this year.

Oswego county Teacher's Institute May 24th to May 29th at Riverside Rink, Phœnix.

H. H. Gridley has moved into the new house recently built by him on Park street.

The pavement on Oneida and Wall streets torn up by the Water Works company, is being repaved.

The fine weather has enabled farmers in this vicinity to make unusual progress on their farms this spring.

R. B. True of Syracuse has bought out the interest of Arthur Gilbert in the Oswego River Mills and has taken possession.

G. J. Emeny, with a large gang of men, is busily engaged in building and other contract work in various parts of the village.

Night-work in the Oswego Falls factory will be discontinued after May 21. This will throw a large number of hands out of employment.

Hi Henry and his premium minstrels are coming in their new sleeping and hotel car which has been built at an expense of nearly $15,000.

The Palladium on Saturday printed a special edition with a full report of the Star-Oswego game. A thousand copies were printed and readily sold.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Gilbert have returned to Fulton. It is said that Mr. Gilbert will soon build a handsome residence on his lot on Fourth street.

Since George Washington has been appointed postmaster at Bay City and Shakespeare at Kalamazoo, Michigan is boasting of her great men in office.

Messrs. Culkin & Ross have secured the contract to do the mason work on the new depots for the N. Y. O. & W. railroad. Work will commence at once.

Father Early is advertised to give a temperance lecture at Dexterville this evening. Father Early is an eloquent speaker on this subject and is doing much good in the cause of temperance.

If you are in want of lumber, laths, shingle, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters, window or door frames, or anything pertaining to building, you will find it to your interest to call at McCully's Planing mill.

The first meeting of the Tennis club was held last Wednesday at the home of Miss Bertha Lee, when the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Bert Hoff; vice-president, Wm. J. Lovejoy; secretary, Miss Bertha Lee; treasurer, Miss May French.

The two rival base ball clubs, the Syracuse Stars and Oswegos played their first game of the season in Oswego Saturday. It was a fine game resulting in favor of the Stars by a score of 2 to 0. The second game was to be played in Oswego Monday but was postponed on account of the weather.

Mrs. Lucy S. Bainbridge, who has made a tour of the world in the interest of christian missions and whose earnest and stirring words in their behalf have been heard with deep interest in many of our large cities, will speak on the subject of missions in the Presbyterian church to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A very cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Newspaper subscribers who are in arrears should bear in mind that a dun is not an impeaching of their integrity, but simply an outcropping of a publisher's necessity. For instance, a thousand men owe from one dollar to four dollars each. It is but a small amount to each individual, but to him the aggregate is large. Instead of becoming indignant, because the publisher asks for his honest dues, the delinquent subscriber should be grateful to him for waiting so patiently, and pay up like a man.—[Palmyra Courier.

Another large variety of those Pure Silk and Lisle Gloves opened this week at BACON'S.

See the new spring styles in Shoes and Slippers at COLLINS'.

Farmers Crimped Plow Shoes. A perfect dirt excluder. Best thing out. For sale at the Salmon Shoe Store,
Opera House Block.

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCULLY.

SNOW & LOOMIS
Have just received a new
CORN PLANTER,
And every farmer should have one.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. GRAFF & CO.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

[illegible] of leather received at the [illegible]

Sandy Creek boasts of a ball nine of no mean repute.

Fulton never looked finer than it does on these beautiful spring mornings.

The weather Judge is "doing himself proud."

The Sandy Creek butter box factory turned out 183,250 wooden plates last week.

The Stars and Oswegos are to play their postponed game at Richardson park in Oswego this afternoon.

The work of tearing down the N. Y., O. & W. freight house, for the erection of the new depots, was begun this morning.

Ed. Laycock, for many years an overseer in the Oswego Falls factory, is now running the carding mill here and is also doing some weaving.

Michael Flannery, formerly of Fulton, now of New York, was married in that city May 3d to Miss Mary Agnes Powers at St. Peters church Barclay street.

"The Kindergarden," which was played here a short time since, was given in Oswego, Monday and Tuesday evenings before large and well pleased audiences.

Manager Howard runs an extra train back to Baldwinsville next Tuesday evening after the entertainment at Stephens Opera House, to accommodate the people from there who wish to come down to see Miss Mathers.

Expert cracksmen entered the office of the Germania Brewing Company in Syracuse early yesterday morning and after drilling a hole through the safe, opened it and absconded with about $800. There is no clue to the robbers.

A Mistake Somewhere.

A meeting of the church and society was held this week to take into consideration the proposed resignation of Rev. James Smith.—[Fulton Correspondent Sunday Standard.

As far as a TIMES reporter has been able to ascertain, the above item must refer to some other locality than Fulton. At first we were inclined to think the correspondent had the Presbyterian church in view when he wrote the article. An inquiry, however, developes the fact that no meeting has been held to take action upon the proposed resignation, for the simple reason that no resignation has been proposed. Lastly there is no such person in Fulton as "Rev. James Smith."

Dairymen's Association.

The annual meeting of the Fulton Dairyman's Association was held last Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Lewis house and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Willard Johnson; vice-President, E. E. Hart; Secretary, A. E. Keller. The first meeting of the association will be held next Monday evening at the Lewis house.

The Mather company were going to Montreal (closing their season the 29 inst., and opening their next season July 26, at San Francisco, Cal.) Having one open date, Mr. Howard secured them for Fulton giving us the preference over Baldwinsville We ought to turn out and fill the house for this is decidedly the best company that ever visited Fulton. If the prices seem high you must remember that in the larger cities the best seat would cost $1.50. Prices reduced here to 50, 75, and $1.00.

We have them ALL and at the right prices. No one has them less than F. E. BACON.

SHEEP TOOTH FODDER CORN.

Choicest for Seed, wholesale and retail, price $1.00, small lots $1.12 per bushel. Also the twelve rowed Dutton Seed Corn in the ear at 50c. per bushel of ears. Very choice at Genesee Mills.
May 12th, '86. 1w4.

AN INFINITE VARIETY.

Some Advantages that Kent & Miller are Offering to Purchasers.

The most infinate variety of goods which are offered to select from at Messrs. Kent & Miller's 18 and 20 South Salina street, affords an opportunity for the most fastidious to obtain just the thing to please. In ready made clothing their display comprehends everything that is desirable for those who want to appear well dressed. In this department they are prepaired to secure to purchasers a large saving in all kinds of garments, and at the same time obtain well-fitting, stylish suits, or overcoats. The boys' and children's department affords the same wide scope in choice of style and pattern, with a like saving in the outlay. These are points worthy the earnest consideration of every parent who has boys' or children's clothing to purchase. The position as extensive manufacturers and dealers enables them to give better value for the money than is ordinarily obtained. In the custom department the advantages extended to buyers are as noticeable as in any other and in respect to prices gentlemen can get first-class suits and overcoats at prices much below what would have to be paid at other houses.

Try Red Cross Cough Syrup, 25cts. at
39m3 M. M. WILLIAMS.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Trunks and satchels. The largest and best assortment in the country at W. McCully's.

Red Cross Cough Syrup is a sure cure, Sold by Williams. 39m3

WANTED.—Horses or cattle to pasture. 100 acres of pasture land. Enquire of Mrs. A. Lovell, No. 20 Utica street, Fulton, N. Y.

Spring Wheat, choice for seed at Genesee Mills.

Forepaugh's circus is billed to appear in Syracuse next Monday.

The Salvation army have a banquet and jubilee meeting in Baldwinsville to-night.

The D. L. & W. railroad company have erected a new safety gate at the tannery crossing.

L. D. Spooner is making some extensive improvements in the interior of his drug store on Oneida street.

Coal in the Oswego market fell last week 25 cents per ton on grate and egg, and 50 cents on stove and nut.

"WHAT, never" (beg pardon). Have you ever read the advertisement of the "T. C. & Co." clothing. Do so now.

Morrill Bros. are building an extension in the rear of their job office which when completed, will give them about 40 feet more room.

The students of Oswego Normal school threaten to strike claiming that they are over-worked. The faculty has declared a holiday for next Friday.

A new time table went into effect last Monday morning on the D. L. & W. railroad, which will be found in another column.

The Amusement club which was to have met last evening will meet next Wednesday evening with Miss Mary Johnson at her home on First street.

Next Sunday is quarterly meeting at the M. E. church. Rev. H. M. Danforth, presiding elder of this district, will occupy the pulpit in the evening.

Pomp Giroux, who has occupied the basement of C. S. Eggleston's store for the past 13 years as a barber shop, has moved to the second story over Waugh's cigar store, where he will be pleased to see all his friends.

Posters and bills announce that Hi Henry and his famous minstrels are to be here on Saturday and give an entertainment at the opera house in the evening. The troupe is well known here and will draw a large house.

The second volume of Grant's Memoirs was issued Monday. We have received word from Mr. P. E. Turtelot, who canvassed this vicinity for the work that they will surely be ready for delivery here by the 20th.

The funeral of officer George Miller, who died from injuries received during the recent riot in Chicago, while in the discharge of his duties as a member of the Chicago police force, took place from his father's house in Oswego last Monday forenoon.

A special train will run back to Baldwinsville after the Margaret Mather performance, next Tuesday evening, that the people between here and Baldwinsville may have an opportunity to see this talented actress and her excellent company.

Two instances of fast and reckless driving on our streets, by parties who appeared to be partially under the influence of liquor, have come under our observation during the past week. If such persons were brought before a justice and a considerable fine imposed upon them it might have a wholesome effect.

The greatest theatrical event Fulton ever had occurs next Tuesday evening, May 18, when Miss Margaret Mathers and her excellent company will present the popular play of "The Lady of Lyons" Miss Mathers opened at the Union Square theatre this season, plaping 14 weeks. She was there at the time Mary Anderson was in New York and drew larger houses and was said to be the most popular of the two.

The entertainment which was given a short time since at the Universalist church is soon to be repeated. Prof. Keenan promises to make the coming entertainment superior to the former one as he has added to his collection a large number of views of ancient abbeys, castles and cathedrals. Ladies, connected with the church, have the matter in hand and are selling tickets for the entertainment.

The employes in Herrick & Emerick's box shop were notified last Friday night that the shop would shut down for an indefinite length of time. The stock on hand has been worked up and last night the shop closed. This action is said to be a direct result of the labor troubles in different parts of the country. About 30 or 40 men and boys are thrown out of employment. It is to be hoped the box shop will resume operations at an early day.

Mme. Katharine Gray, the elocutionist, who was advertised to give an entertainment in the opera house last Saturday evening, was greeted by an audience of nineteen persons. Mrs. Gray is a woman of remarkable vocal powers and those who failed to attend missed a rare treat. At the close of one of her recitals, when the thunderous applause had somewhat subsided, she sarcastically requested the audience "not to be too vociferous with their applause, as it might create a disturbance in the neighborhood."

AN ACHING sensation midway down the back and at the right of the spinal column indicates a deranged condition of the liver which can be rectified by the use of that great specific, Warner's safe cure.

Get your Towels, Toweling and Table Linen of
F. E. BACON.

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, Lead, Lime, Alabastine, &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. WILLIAMS' Drug Store.

Pasturing, hemlock lumber, seed corn, seed potatoes and pigs for sale.
1tf J. C. WELLS.

LOST.—A gold sleeve button. The finder will confer a favor by returning [illegible]

[illegible] success, [illegible] and the high character [illegible] tion of the speakers is a criterion. The Academy is rarely filled except at a political meeting, and then the speakers must have a world wide reputation; but on Friday night the building was crammed, not with Irishmen only but with all classes of citizens. When a mass meeting is presided over by the Governor of the State, it possesses some significance to those in whose behalf it is called, and doubtless this will have its effect on the other side of the ocean. Addresses were made by Governors Hill and Abbett, Senator Sherman, Representatives Grosvenor and Butterworth of Ohio, Judge O'Gorman, and Gen. Stewart L. Woodford. Letters were read from Tilden, Hewitt, Conkling, Gov. Pattison and others.

As a mass meeting it was a success, and as a chance for the people to see Gov. Hill, it was also a success. They say straws show which way the wind blows, and so the talk of men in a crowd generally shows the drift of public opinion. During the evening, I heard the opinion ventured that Hill would be the candidate for the next President. When one remembers how Hill went visiting the county fairs and the State Encampment last year one can see a reason why he was so anxious to be present at this meeting.

⁂

The Broadway scandal has at last been wiped out by the law which annuls the charter of the Broadway surface R. R., and the District Attorney will this week try Jaehne, the indicted alderman. The success which has attended the efforts of those who have fought this thing is gratifying to all alike. The senate committee has finished its labors, its report is finished and the bill of its expenses is prepared. The State is charged $48,000 for its share in righting this iniquity, of which $40,000 goes to ex-Senator Conkling and Clarence A. Seward. When the magnitude of the influence, power and wealth that was behind the ring is considered and which these two gentlemen had to contend against, the sum is not large; nor out of proportion to the fees they would have received otherwise. It is a fact that our public servants are not well paid. The officers under the government, particularly the Federal Government, become the training schools from which our large corporations derive their officers and skillful financial agents. Gen. Hillhouse left the Sub-Treasury for a salary of $25,000 as President of a Trust Co; T. L. James, the Postmaster Generalship for the Lincoln National Bank at a similar salary; John Jay Knox, Comptroller of the Currency; John A. McCall, State Insurance Department; Geo. A. McCrary, Secy. of War, all resigned their offices for large salaries in corporations.

⁂

The Theatres are closing for the summer and their companies are preparing for their provincial tour. Dixey has a testimonial banquet at Delmonico's and then goes to London. Daly leaves in June for his European tour. Helen Dauvray closes a most successful season to look after her business interests in the West, where she owns a ranch, and to take a tour in Europe. The attractions now are Maggie Mitchell, Fanny Davenport, and Lillian Russell. It is often a matter of wonder what slight things constitute the basis of our modern plays and extravaganzas. Take Harrigan's Leather Patch for instance. A man's pantaloons need a patch in an unmentionable place. He is an excentric fellow and makes it of leather; but previous to its being sewed on, makes his will and has that enclosed between the cloth and the leather. His wife considers the article worthless afterward and sells it to the ragman. The various strange things that happen in the recovery of the patched trousers make up the fun of the evening.

The amount of training and patient study that used to be required seems no longer necessary for success behind the footlights. Fanny Davenport, Clara Morris, Margaret Mather, Maggie Mitchell and the late Charlotte Cushman won their high position by patient work and hard study. Now the question seems to turn upon the regularity and beauty of the human form and the proportion of it the owner is willing to exhibit undraped; for instance, there is a young actress (so-called and fortunately she has retired) whose sole attraction consisted in a shapely foot and a wellturned ankle which she exhibited in a nude condition, while in a half-frightened voice, mumbled over her lines in the most listless manner. Then there was Mrs. Langtry. Her performances at Niblo's were wretched and it was only the exquisite lovliness of her face and beauty of her form that saved her from being hissed. It is fortunate that great actresses whose ambition is the elevation of their profession, give renditions of their parts in which self sinks out of sight and the character they present appears.

⁂

The fire in Congressman Hewitt's library is a loss that is serious indeed. Hewitt has served as congressman for a dozen years and has accumulated a library of great value in reports and historical matter. Among the papers destroyed were the notes of his speeches in Congress, hence forever preventing their publication. Hewitt is the son-in-law of Peter Cooper, and in his possession were the school books the philanthropist used. As the confidant of Cooper in the future of the Cooper Union, his connection with that benevolent and worthy institution has been very close, hence in the loss of his library, Cooper Institute suffers aloss for the probability is that the library on Hewitt's death would have gone there.

New York has its days devoted to the celebration of St. David, St. Andrew, St. Patrick, St. George, William of Orange, and the Pilgrims, at which times the Welch, Scotch, Irish, English, Orangemen and New Englander's respectively make merry. A new day has been added, and on that day the sons of Ohio in New York unite to tell the virtues that the Buckeyes attain to. On Friday night Delmonico's was brilliant and men of Ohio feasted and toasted her memory.

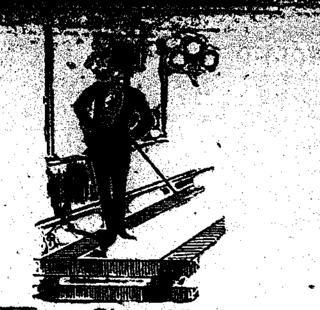
⁂

The strike on Third Ave has its funny side as well as its serious one. New York city is represented in the Senate by Senator Cullen who comes from the east side and everyone knows him over there. Cullen wanted to go up town and took a Third Avenue car. By some means the car became blockaded, and Cullen assumed the direction of affairs to raise the blockade. "One of the finest" not knowing Cullen regarded this as an assumption of his authority, and Cullen has now a swelled head from some contusions caused by contact with the locust. It is needless to say the Senator is after that man's scalp.

⁂

There's truth in the old saying "Let well enough alone," and a recent failure in Wall street is the proof of the proverb. Some years ago Trasker Marvin retired from business with a million or more to his credit. The speculative craze struck him after a few years, and he entered Wall street, became a bull, and was caught a few days ago on a falling markee. The million at his credit is wiped out and he is a poor man. I heard Judge Westbrook say one day in a prominent lawyer's office that anybody who entered the whirl of Wall street speculation rarely became fit for any other business wherein the gains were accumulated only by comparatively slow processes. This in the case of Trasker Marvin seems true to the

WANDERER.



He Smiles.

A man usually smiles when he is well pleased, and what is more pleasing to a man than to be well fitted in a neat, stylish, well modeled suit of clothes, and to learn that the price is about one-half what he would have to pay for anything equally as good at a custom tailor's. He smiles as he pays for them. He smiles as he tells his friends where he was fortunate enough to find such clothes. He is literally deluged in smiles as he exhibits to his wife or perhaps, his to-be wife, and receives her commendation. If he is a family man he smiles as he dresses his youthful offspring in one of our perfect fitting suits.

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

LOST.

A Gordan setter. Color, black and tan hair, curly and shaggy; height, about two feet; answers to the name of "Rex." The finder will confer a great favor by returning to Andrew Gilmour, at Seminary.

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it

Volney April 19th 1886. Whereas my wife Sarah has left my bed and board without cause or provocation whatever. I forbid all persons trusting, or harboring her on my account as I shall pay none of her debts. 50w4.
C. M. PERCIVAL.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

Call at H. Kendall's and try the new Germania lager.

HOW'S YOUR LAME BACK?
STRENGTHEN AND RESTORE IT BY WEARING A Hop Plaster

Why suffer with an aching back when a prompt and positive relief is at hand? The Hop Plasters completely and speedily cure Backache, Sideache, Painful Muscles, Kidney Weakness, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Pleurisy, Chest Pains, Sore Lungs, Coughs, Crick and all Sudden, Sharp or Nervous pains. The soothing, pain-killing and strengthening virtues of Hops, Hemlock, Balsams and Gums combined. Sweet and clean. Sold everywhere, 25 cts., 5 for $1.00. Mailed for price by proprietors, Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.

☞ Look for the hop-vine wreath and signature of HOP PLASTER CO., on every genuine plaster. Beware of imitations and substitutions.

MILTON S. PRICE,
38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets.
THE MOST EXTENSIVE
DRY GOODS, CARPETS
—AND—
FURNITURE,
Establishment in the State,

Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.

COME AND SEE
the Finest and Most Complete Stock of
Dry Goods and Fancy Goods
ever shown in this section.

COME AND SEE.
THE IMMENSE STOCK OF
CARPETS, RUGS OIL CLOTHS, Etc.

COME AND SEE
THE FINE DISPLAY OF
FURNITURE
AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES
at prices far below competion.

FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

BARGAINS
NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.

REMEMBER
MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON.
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.
HART BROS.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

For the Next 30 Days
D. C. MORE & CO.
—Will offer unusual Indnecements—

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

to buyers of Ready Made Clothing, for either Men's Youths' Boys' or Children's wear. We have the largest and

MOST DESIRABLE STOCK IN FULTON,

and it is to reduce our unusual large stock that we propose to make the prices so low that everyone needing Clothing will buy. We do not make this announcement for the sole and only purpose of deceiving customers but will confirm our statements with our goods and prices.

Remember this you will only find these Bargains with

D. C. MORE & CO.

DON'T MISS THEM!

The Reliable Dealers in
Clothing, Hats and Gents Furnishings,
First Street, Opposite Lewis House.

DON'T MISS THEM!

THE FULTON TIMES
Wednesday, May 19, 1886.

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE!

We have made arrangements by which from now until the first of June persons can secure one year's subscription to THE FULTON TIMES and the American Agriculturist for $2.00. Every farmer should subscribe for a good agricultural journal. We, therefore, make the above offer, considering the American Agriculturist to be the best magazine for farmers that is published in America. That our present patrons may have the benefit of this offer, we will allow them the same by paying one year's advance subscription to THE TIMES, and 75 cents in addition. Send in your order, or call personally at THE TIMES office. Remember that this offer does not hold good after the first of June.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

100 Columns and 100 Engravings in each issue.

45th YEAR. $1.50 A YEAR.

The oldest and best agricultural periodical in the world. With the May number appears the first of a series of engravings of the Houses of our Farmer Presidents. The engravings are presented to all subscribers to the American Agriculturist as they appear.

One year's subscription to the American Agriculturist with its engravings together with one year's subscription to THE TIMES may be had for $2.00.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Worth Knowing.

Have pea brush and tomato trellis ready beforehand.

The export business in apples has been unprofitable this year.

There is a large reduction in the area of winter wheat this year.

Clean out from your cellars every rag, tag and sprout and rotten vegetables, and whitewash them.

Hominy meal, the refuse from mills where hominy is made, is an excellent food for cattle.

When ever a permanent fence is needed it should be straight and occupy as little room as possible.

Dry earth and muck in the stable will save manure, prevent disease and keep the milk from being tainted.

Sheep collect many weeds and grasses that are valueless and thrive in pastures upon which cattle could not exist.

Don't be taken with any pretended secrets for making butter come quick. They are swindles from the word go.

The roots of the strawberry often reach out five feet from the main stem, and hence the plants should not be set out too thickly.

Early gardening lengthens the growing season, and permits at times, of two crops on the same land, as turnips may follow peas, and time is thereby gained for putting in late crops.

Do not compel the sheep to forage exclusively for their food. Even when the grass is plentiful a liberal mess of oats when they come up at night will greatly add to their thrift and condition.

Mange, or barn itch on cattle, can be easily cured by one or two applications of molasses; this is less offensive than sulphur and grease, and is fully as efficient. The cheapest grade of molasses will answer the purpose.

There is such a thing as fatty degeneracy by which all the tissues become impaired, and the animal is weakly and worthless. Fowls can be made so fat that they will not lay well, or if they do lay their eggs will not hatch well.

The best farmer I know is a young man who acquired the habit of neatness, promptness, accuracy and haste in his father's drug store. These habits, put in practice on the farm, are the only reason why he succeeds better than his neighbors.—[Supt. Thompson.

I would say to the beginner that to be a successful hog raiser or breeder, he will find hard work, early work, late work, dirty work; and much patience with a deal of kindness is necessary; and if he attends to this he will get well paid in clean money. I do not keep a dog.—[John Gilmore.

Extremely large, fat hogs may attract much attention, but they are not in greatest demand, nor do they bring the highest price as a rule. The trade demands a small, smooth and not over fat hog, and the farmer who produces that kind will find the readiest market at the best prices.

Pork can be made at the least cost when the hogs are fed on a variety of food. Corn as fattening is the best food and cannot be excelled, but as a sole diet it is very expensive compared with a mixed diet of bulky and concentrated food.

Remember that it takes brains as well as muscle to run a farm successfully; farmers should always be ready to learn—few of us know it all. Farmers sometimes find the very best of teachers in a good hired man. Common sense is an indespensable adjunct to successful farming.

A method of preserving eggs which is highly recommended is to use common soap-boxes, using pine ashes as a packing. First place a layer of ashes on the bottom of the box, and next a layer of eggs, the eggs not touching each other. Fill the spaces with ashes, and repeat the layers of ashes and eggs until the box is full. Place the box in a cool place and turn it over three times a week.

A Fable.

An estimable old ground hog, wishing to ascertain the opinions of the neighbors about himself, had a bogus congestive chill, and falling on the ground, pretended to be dead. He was buried on the following day, but scratched his way out of the grave and went in disguise [illegible] funeral sermon [illegible] so complimentary [illegible]

[illegible]

The subject of branding cattle at the West can but interest all Kansas readers. It is a matter of importance, for it is the only method of establishing title to four footed property. Every stock owner has his brand, which is regularly recorded and is well known. It is an immense affair, as large as a frying pan, and is burned into the shoulder of the animal. When the latter changes owners, the seller's brand is rented, i. e. turned up-side-down and burned on the hip, and the purchaser puts his own brand on the shoulder. Consequently, if an animal is so unlucky as to pass through many hands he begins to look like a Herald war-map.

Every frontiersman always notes the brands upon all the stock that he meets. If you should ask one of them if he had seen a red stear with a white patch on his right eye, branded with a dot in a circle and two notches in his left ear, he would tell you he saw him yesterday forenoon with three other cattle of so-and-so's herd, near such a place, and you would probably find him there.

We discovered however, that there are ways that are dark on the prairie, as well as in cities. It seemes to be generally understood that a promising steer or horse that might find its way into the herd of a ranchman, other than the owner, would be apt to be found to have acquired a new brand in some mysterious manner. It was asserted that a hot frying-pan, placed over an old brand, would obliterate it so as to render identification impossible. Croton oil, we were told, was also sometimes used for the same purpose by some ranchmen who did not shrink from stealing another's property.—[Gen. Geo. W. Wingate in American Agriculturist for May.

Cultivating Corn.

My plan is to cultivate shallow and keep the soil as nearly level as possible. I had to try level cultivation considerably before I could give up the idea that it was better than hilling. The old plan of cultivating corn implies using the diamond plow to lay the corn by with. The earth was thrown to the corn each way, and the middles split out, leaving the soil in high ridges. When cultivators first began to be used, they were were laid aside after cultivating two or three times, as it was still considered necessary to finish the cultivating with the plow. I tried both plans, cultivating part of my crop with the cultivator, and keeping the soil reasonably level, and using the diamond plow for the rest.

So far as my own experience is concerned, I am satisfied that, taking one season with another, level cultivation is the best. If we knew to a certainty that the season would be excessively wet, I should of course prefer to use the diamond plow; but generally, level, shallow cultivation is much the best, as well as most economical. One man, with a team and a good walking cultivator, can do as much work cultivating corn, cane or potatoes, as two men with two horses and two corn plows, making the use of the cultivator much more economical than plowing.

My plan of cultivating is to have the soil in as good tilth as possible before planting the crop, and then commence the cultivation as soon as possible after the crop is planted, with the harrow. This breaks the crust and kills out all the young weeds that are sure to start up; generally two harrowings can be given with profit. Then commence with the cultivator, taking off the inside shovels and putting bull tongues in their places—these are really narrower and smaller shovels. By using them and a pair of fenders, the soil can be stirred very closely to the plants. Two good cultivations can be given: that is one each way, and this should leave the corn very clean. Two more workings with the larger shovels is all that is generally needed. Sometimes, if the soil is unusually foul with weeds or grass, one (or even two) more cultivations is necessary to keep clean. I always found that it paid to keep corn as clean as possible, not only to increase the yield, but to leave the soil in better condition for future crops. I find that it pays best to give the earliest cultivation possible. If you can secure a good start to grow, you can readily keep it up by continued cultivation, and early thorough cultivation is very important in securing a great start to grow.—[Missouri Cor. Country Gentleman.

How to Grow Peas.

Having often discarded the pea for the reason that on account of wind they refused to stand up and be picked, I have latterly mastered them by the following plan:

Dig a trench, width and depth of a shovel blade. Fill it with slightly-pressed manure, three inches deep, and cover this with three inches of earth, smooth and compact. Lay in the trench a narrow, straight-edged board with a stick, mark at its edge and about an inch from the wall of the trench a little groove, and another down the middle. Drop peas in each mark about an inch apart, of Champion, or other standard marrowfats, and cover firmly two or three inches deep. Cut a 2x4 strip of sixteen feet length into three pieces, sharpen the ends and char or carbonize the ends in a fire. Drive the stakes on a line 10 to 20 feet apart. Take straight poles or saplings, 2½ or three inches at butt, saw a slot in the poles where they rest on stakes and fasten with a nail. Flatten one side of the brush butts, trim the tops slightly. Then take small nails and tack the butts of the brush to the poles, the ends to come to and some to enter the ground a little. One such row 60 feet long will suffice for a family of six. Leave the best early developed pods for seed next year. At close of season, tie up the brush, hang under the eaves and they will last for years—[Orange County Farmer.

A loss of taste and thirst for acids, yellow complexion, pimply skin, a mysterious aching of the bones, a distressed condition of the head, woebegone expression of the face, irregular action of the heart, periodical headache with prostration, high temperature of the body with chills and fever, and constant sense of weariness; fluttering in the stomach, and sinking sensation and depression, pain in the limbs, depression of spirits, irritability of temper, indicate what is called a malarious condition of the system, a complaint which [illegible]

[illegible]

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." Mrs. C. A. M. Hubbard, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. Lovejoy, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." Mary L. Pease, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Chicago annually ships to various parts of this country and the Old World, 125,000,000 pounds of fresh beef, 40,000,000 pounds of salt beef, 50,000,000 pounds of pork, 300,000,000 pounds of bacon and hams, and 250,000,000 pounds of lard.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them, H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c., he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

Young mathematician—"If one man can build a wall in ten days, ten men could do it in one day, 6,000 could it in an hour, and 360,000 could do it in a second. Why not employ the last number and be done with it?"

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Jenny Lind is sixty-three years old and exceedingly unattractive in appearance, but her soft and melodious voice, when she speaks, makes one forget this. She has one son, an officer in the British army, and two daughters happily married.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

The Prince of Wales in 1860 laid the corner stone for a statute to the queen in Toronto. The loyalty of the Canadians cooled off and the corner stone is now used for a horse block.

Bunker Hill monument is 221 feet high built of solid granite, and every day it oscillates to and fro, as the heat of the sun expands the eastern or the western side.

LOOK AT HIM!

A year ago he was not expected to live. Liver complaint almost killed him. He got great relief from three bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and six bottles cured him.—Editor Weekly Sun.

A bill has been introduced in Congress for the erection of a monument to General Warren, who fell at Bunker Hill.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Posesses the remedial power of these two valuable specifics in their fullest degree. Is prepared in a palatable form, easily tolerated by the stomach, and for delicate, sickly children. Emaciation, Consumption and all impoverished conditions of the blood is unequalled by any other remedy. 52w4

The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad operates 993 miles, has 650 locomotives. 546 passenger cars and 32,000 freight and miscellaneous cars.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

One of the richest women in England is Miss Heathorne, who is also known as "the Maid of Kent." She is 105 years old.

TRY IT; IT IS GOOD.

[illegible]

[illegible] says the same thing. J. S. [illegible], N. Y., writes: "Had [illegible] relieved in a few minutes. Would walk five miles for this medicine and pay $1 a bottle for it." Druggist C. E. Hall, Grayville, Ill., says: "Cured an ulcerated throat for me in twenty-four hours." "Sat up in bed and coughed till the clothing was wet with perspiration. My wife insisted that I use Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The first teaspoonful RELIEVED me." E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, N.Y. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is also a Tip-Top external application for rheumatism, cuts, scalds, burns, bites, bruises, etc. When visiting the druggist, ask him what he knows of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; if he has been long in the drug trade, be sure he will speak highly of it.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

50c.—THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL—$1.00

FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

COAL!

The best coal in the market is the Lackawanna.

IT IS THE

Purest, Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. Address STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY, Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

WANTED.—LADIES to work for us at their own homes. $7 to $10 per week can be quietly made. No photo painting; no canvassing. For full particulars, please address at once, CRESCENT ART COMPANY, 19 Central Street, Boston, Mass. Box 5170.

A BIG OFFER. To introduce them, we will GIVE AWAY 1,000 Self-Operating Washing Machines. If you want one send us your name, P. O. and express office at once. THE NATIONAL CO., 21 Dey St., N. Y

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York.

Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WANTED—LADY [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] fellow brought up before him, charged with that offense he looked wise and thoughtful for a few moments, ran his bony fingers through his bushy hair, and then pompously answered: "I'd fine him a couple of dollars and make him marry the girl."

How to Save Money,

and we might also say—time and pain as well, in our advice to good housekeepers and ladies generally. The great necessity existing always to have a perfectly safe remedy convenient for the relief and prompt cure of the ailments peculiar to women—functional irregularity, constant pains and all the symptons attendant upon uterine disorders—induces us to recommend strongly and unqualifiedly Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription,"—woman's best friend. It will save money.

An iron tower 984 feet high is to be erected on the grounds of the coming Paris International Exhibition. The structure will cost $1,000,000 and will be surmounted by a powerful electric light that will be visible 197 miles distant from Paris.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Statistics show that out of 847 duels in France since 1870, but one has resulted in death and eight in serious injuries.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

The mouth of the Mississippi is again filling up with sand and debris, despite the Eads system of clearage.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

Chang Stu Woon, the Chinese minister, has brought two officials with him to study our railroad systems, with a view of operating railroads in China.

I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for the last five years. About three years ago I commenced the use of Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only remedy for catarrh I have used with satisfaction, and it has accomplished a cure in my case.—H. L. Myer, Waverly, N. Y.

Stonewall Jackson's war horse, old Sorrell, will be stuffed, just as Jumbo was, and kept for the curious of the ages to come.

The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from poisonous drugs and offensive odors. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases where all other remedies have failed. It quickly cures cold in the head and catarrhal headache. Price fifty cents. 51w4

Samuel J. Tilden is reported to have made $1,250,000 out of a Lake Superior mine.

WONDERFUL CURES.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retaail Druggists of Rome, Ga., say; We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by R. E. Phillips.

"There's a good deal in the papers now about sending dressed beef from Texas to England," observed Mrs. Snaggs. "Yes, I noticed it," answered her husband, listlessly. "Well, now I think that's real merciful to the animals this cold weather. But what kind of clothes do they put on them?"—[Pittsburg Chronicle.

Hop Plasters are an instant, sure and effective cure for pains and aches. Prepared from fresh hops, hemlock and balsams, spread on muslin. Refuse imitations and substitutions. Signature of Hop Plaster Co. on back of Plaster.

The widow of Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, of the Virginia Cavalry, is now keeping a prosperous girls' school at Staunton, Va.

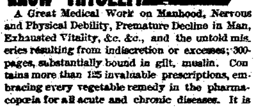
TAKE WARNING

And don't let the germs of that vile disease, Catarrh, take root and flourish in your system. Sulphur Bitters will prevent this and will make you strong and healthy.—[Editor Weekly Press.

Icebergs have been seen of the Labrador coast, two miles long and 300 feet wide.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper. ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Stove	$5.00	Grate	4.60
Nut	5.00	Pea	4.00
Egg	4.60	Smith	4.50
[illegible]	5.25	[illegible]	5.00

[illegible]

[illegible] Make known your business through the press. Yes, advertise, and [illegible] And sweet liberty your golden badget; A dollar spent in printers' ink Returns ten-fold, we surely think; Yes, advertise, and rise to fame, To all the world your wares proclaim, Early to bed and early to rise, Never get "tight" and advertise. —[Rome Sentinel.

A Song of May.

Come, Pepita, Phyllis, Griselda, Jeannette,
Evangeline, Heloise, Fifine, Susette,
Rebecca, Nan, Margaret, Bertha, Babette,
Or whatever your name is;
Come get on your mackintosh, poncho, umbrell,
Clogs, overshoes, pattens, "gums," mufflers as well,
And hey for the green woods! I might as well tell,
A-Maying the game is!

We'll twine our May garlands beneath the green tree,
We'll make the swamp ring with our innocent glee,
We'll wade round our May pole, light-hearted and free,
Where naught but delight is;
Then homeward we'll dance when the twilight is come,
With diptheria, croup and pneumonia dumb;
With peritonitis and phthisis, lumbago and rheumatiz-zum.
—[Robert J. Burdette.

RIB SHAKERS.

Capital punishment—making the bad boys sit with the good girls.—[Lige Brown.

Sunday School Teacher—"Who loves everybody, Johnnie?"

Johnnie—"My pa does, cos he is runnin' for office."—[Texas Siftings.

Society is just like a pie. There is an upper crust and a lower crust, but the real strength and substance lies between them.—[New Haven News.

A silver dollar was recently found in the stomach of an Idaho bass. It is supposed that a fisherman used it to anchor his boat with.—[Burlington Free Press.

A recent prescription for catarrh ends with "take until used up." It isn't clear to us whether the medicine is to be used up or the patient.—[Philadelphia Call.

Scene at Union college: Professor—"Now, Mr. Z. will please translate the phrase 'de mortibus nil nisi bonum.'" Mr. Z.—"Of the dead, nothing remains but bones."—[Amsterdam Democrat.

Monsieur le Baron—"I haf ask your mamma, and she gif her consent—and—now—I—er—"

Miss Bullion—"I am so glad! But won't it be funny to call you papa.—[Life.

Professor—"Are you at theorem B or C, Mr. Beckworthy? Mr. B.—"I guess I am at sea.—[Harvard Lampoon.

"I do love dress," exclaimed a young society belle. "Then I should think you would wear more of it" retorted a cynical bachelor friend of middle age.—[N. Y. Mail.

To compensate for the lack of brains, the monkey was given a tail that proves useful in climbing trees: but no compensation for the lack of brains has yet been discovered in the dude.—[Pittsburg Chronicle.

John W. Mackey, the bonanza millionaire, declares that "money is an accident." Perhaps it is. Still, it is an accident which a man can generally insure himself against by entering journalism.—[N. Y. Independent.

When a grocer advertises "every variety of raisins," does he include derricks, pulleys jack screws, yeast, rope and tackle, bent pins and mustard plasters?—[Evansville Argus.

Customer (in resturant)—"Waiter, this chicken soup has feathers in it". "Yes, sah. If yo' want soup made outen chickens dat am old 'nough to be bald, sah, yo' will have to go to some odder 'stablishment."—[N. Y. Sun.

"Pa," said Johnny, "what is a civil engineer?" "One who says 'certainly' to the small boys who ask him if he will tell them what the governor of the engine is good for."—[Pittsburg Commercial-Gazette.

"Waiter, this chicken is very tough. It's all that I can do to get my teeth through it." "Sorry sir but I haven't time to chew it for you now."—[Tid-Bits.

"Rachel, my tear, I pring yeu a vine engagement ring." "But, Isaac, it's a bearl, und bearls are onlucky, ain't it?" "Don't say a vord, Rachel. I thought of dot, und so I take me an imitation von out of stock."—[Chicago Rambler.

He was a Dutch barber on a coroner's jury, and after sitting quietly for an hour during the inquest, arose, peered into the face of the corpse, and then, turning to the rest of the jury, said: "Mein Gott, dot man ish dead!"—[Exchange.

A Deposit youngster who has just dispensed with dresses and donned pants, remarked to his father the other day, while ineffectually trying to light a match on his new garment, "Papa, why can't I scratch a match on the seat of my pants, I'm built that way now?"—[Walton Reporter.

"I'se got a complaint ter make," said Jim Webster to his employer, an Austin merchant. "What is it?" "De bookkeeper kicked me, sah. I don't want no bookkeeper ter kick me." "Of course he kicked you. You don't expect me to attend to everything, do you? I can't look after all the little details of the business myself." —[Texas Siftings.

In a restaurant after the "Mikado." He—"Well, I suppose it will be fried oysters as usual." She—"Don't say fried oysters; call them 'something lingering in boiling oil.'" He (failing to catch on, aside)—"Great Scott! She's going to order one of them expensive dishes."—[New York Tribune.

At a meeting of business men, held at the Stock Exchange, recently, it was resolved that the man who makes a howling idiot of himself over a three-base hit, or a double play, does not necessarily lose his professional standing.—[Philadelphia Call.

Something Past Description.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 7, 1885.—From 1873 until December, 1884, my condition was past description. My disease, uterine trouble with tumor, the best doctors pronounced hopeless. Under [illegible] use of Warner's safe remedies, I am the picture of health.—CAROLINE [illegible]

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

[illegible]

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

T. C. & Co.
7310
MEN'S
36

Farmers, mechanics and working-men are very apt to be governed more by the price than other more important points in selecting their clothing. It is a mistake usually. A poor suit of clothes is expensive at any price. The best is always the cheapest, though not necessarily the highest priced. The "T. C. & Co." clothing is made for service. It fits perfectly, is custom finished, and costs no more than the "baggy" stuff offered.

The above represents the ticket that will be found on all the "T. C. & Co." Clothing. Buy it for yourself and boys, and you will make no mistake.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK, Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST. 37tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS.

Send sketch or model of invention and $5 for examination. Applications for patents prepared and prosecuted. Rejected cases, infringements, interferences and legal opinions a specialty. Send stamp for book on Patents.

HENRY WISE GARNETT,

Solicitor of Patents, Attorney-at-Law, and Counselor in Patent Causes, Washington, D. C. References: Riggs & Co., Bankers, and 2d Nat. Bk. Wash., D. C.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y, 40w4 Boston, Mass

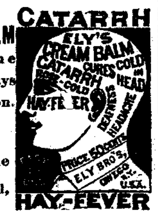
LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment. Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G. CO. P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 983 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Cleanses the Head. Allays Inflammation. Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste, Smell, Hearing.



A Quick Relief. A Positive Cure.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents by mail or at Druggists. Send for circular. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

March April May

SPRING is a trying time. Indications of disease should be heeded. If you have Indigestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver and kidneys, or Want of Appetite, take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to PURIFY THE BLOOD without delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house, and take it with you on journeys. It is cheaper than sickness, and as pleasant as the hand of a friend.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

By all Druggists. $1; 6 for $5. Rondout, N. Y

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands and Eating Ulcers. Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs. For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy. Sold by druggists. DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

FITS STOPPED FREE [illegible]

SURROGATE'S COURT. [illegible] the second and third Thursday in each month, except [illegible]

PULASKI.—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 23d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON.—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO.—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE.—At the Johnson House, Central Square on April 20th and September 28th.

PARISH.—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 20th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated May 12th, 1886.
CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

CHESBRO, THOMAS W. In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Chesbro, late of the village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, the Citizens' National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886, next.
Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.
FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 19, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 15th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.
ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

SUPREME COURT—Oswego County. Norman H. Haviland, plaintiff, vs. William H. H. Hutchings, Levi F. Hutchings and Flora May Hutchings defendants. In pursuance of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action and entered in the Oswego county clerk's office April 27th, 1886, I the undersigned to make such sale with said judgment referred, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the law office of H. E. Nichols, in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., the lands and premises directed by said judgment to be sold and which are therein described as follows: "All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, and State of New York, being a part of lot 75 of the 12th Township of Scriba's Patent and bounded as follows, viz.: Beginning in the centre of the highway at the south-east corner of land owned and occupied by Martin Parker; thence southerly along the centre of said highway eleven rods; thence westerly in a line parallel with said Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods; thence northerly in a line parallel with said highway eleven rods to Parker's south line; thence along Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods to the place of beginning, containing two (2) acres of land.
Dated April 28, 1886.
A. N. BEADLE, Sheriff of Oswego County, N. Y.
H. E. NICHOLS, Plff's Att'y., Fulton, N. Y.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT.

An elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, producing when dissolved in water an Exhilarating, Effervescing Draught, recommended by our best Physicians as a reliable and agreeable remedy. It cures Constipation, cures Dyspepsia, cures Piles, cures Heartburn, cures Sick Headache, cures Liver Complaint, cures Sick Stomach, and gently urges all the Excretory organs to a proper action. It should be found in every household and be carried by every traveler. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen. Exclusive territory. Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., Stewart Building, N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

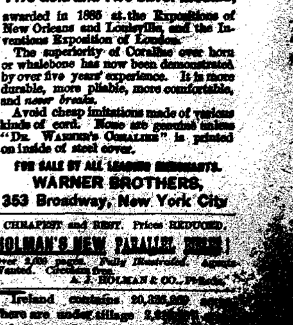
Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the International Exposition of London. The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks. Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "Dr. Warner's Coraline" is printed on inside of steel cover. FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS. WARNER BROTHERS, 353 Broadway, New York City.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Price REDUCED. HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLE! [illegible] A. J. HOLMAN & CO., [illegible]

Ireland contains 20,320,000 [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 2

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Adieu to Winter.

Of things for which we'll likely have no use for many a day
We've made a little list, we've made a little list,
Of adjuvants of winter we'll be glad to put away,
And that hardly will be missed, that hardly will be missed:

There's the furnace with its everlasting hanker to be stoked,
And the sausage that at matin deglutition we have choked.
There's the griddle-greaser's generous matutinal bouquet,
And the leathern wads of batter that they gave us every day
And that surely 'mongst hepatical apartments did encyst—
These never will be missed, they never will be missed.

There's eke the shovel that has caused our spinal parts to kink,
And holiday exactions that have made us clench our fist,
The hummocks on the sidewalks that have brought us to the brink
And that we've never missed—we have them on the list.
We've certified the blizzard, too, that whizzles through the dale
And dessicates the features with insinuating hail.
Likewise the overshoe that gapes at times inopportune
And makes us with the elemental gelatine commune
Till all our upper works have got the influenza twist—
These never will be missed, indeed they'll not be missed.

The diary, the lecture fiend, the legislative meets,
The times when mercury's becomes a low-down pessimist,
The water pipe that all our fine economy defeats
By calling in the plumber-man—all these are on the list,
Besides, the water pitcher that forbade us to ablute,
And the icicles that dangled from our upper lip hirsute,
Together with the livery bills we hardly can exempt,
For the tryster of our sister that the parlor did pre-empt;
And drained our Lackawaxen in his everlasting tryst,
Oh! hardly, hardly, hardly ever will these things be missed. —[Texas Siftings

A Tale of Three Months.

In May, will the river entice the small boy?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh;
Will sport, and not school, bring him solace and joy?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh;
Will he fly his big kite from the top of the hill?
And be when there's fishing, for study too ill?
Will the thought of his marbles insure him a thrill?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh!

In June, will the seaside claim fair Isabel?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh;
Will each wave have a tale of flirtation to tell?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh;
Will the sweet rosebud lips melt the soothing ice cream?
Will her big, lustrous eyes on the dry goods clerk beam?
Will his pocket-book rudely awaken the dream?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh!

In July, will the weather be awfully hot?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh;
Will remorse and despair be the poor plumber's lot?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh;
Will the sheep in the churches decide it is best
To give their dear shepherd a much-needed rest?
Will the dude wear a bang and a polka-dot vest?
It will, oh, it will, oh, it will, oh!
—[H. T. in Tid-Bits.

GEN. GRANT'S BOOK.

THE second volume of General Grant's memoirs begins with his transfer to the the newly created military division of the Mississippi, shortly after the capture of Vicksburg—a change which was not only a personal promotion, since it gave him oversight of nearly all of the western armies, but was a significant indication of the tendency of the government toward the policy of a single plan and a concentrated responsibility, upon which alone it was possible to finish the war.

Grant's first act was to replace Rosecrans by Thomas in command of the army, and then, after a personal conference with Secretary Stanton at Louisville, he hurried to Chattanooga, where Rosecrans had taken position after the disastrous defeat of Chickamauga. The story of the famous operations around Chattanooga, beginning with the arrangements for supplying and strengthing the Union army in a situation which it was perilous to hold and would be fatal to surrender, and culminating in the splendid victory which made the names of Missionary Ridge and Lookout Mountain familiar to the world, was admirably told a few months ago in one of Gen. Grant's papers contributed to the Century, and the text is substantially the same in the book.

It may be as well here to give once for all the substance of Grant's criticisms upon General Thomas. His remarks in the Century have called forth a great many remonstrances, and his book will provoke more. The two commanders differed radically in temperament, and for the execution of his largest plans Grant required officers of a type somewhat like his own. Every general must prefer to work with the tools that fit his hand, and it is easy to see what sort of soldiers Grant's methods demanded. We have only to run over the list of the commanders of whom he always speaks with enthusiasm, because with them he always accomplished the best results; they are the quick, restless and audacious, like Sherman, Sheridan, Logan and Hancock. His complaints of Thomas's excessive deliberation are often repeated; but at the close of the narrative he makes this candid review:

"As my official letters on file in the war department, as well as my remarks in this book, reflect upon Gen. Thomas by [illegible] somewhat upon his tardiness, it is due to myself, as well as to him, that I give my estimate of him as a soldier. The same remark will apply also in the case of Gen. Canby. I had been at West Point with Thomas one year, and had known him later in the old army. He was a man of commanding appearance, slow and deliberate in speech and action; sensible, honest and brave. He possessed valuable soldierly qualities in an eminent degree. He gained the confidence of all who served under him, and almost their love. This [illegible] a very valuable quality. It is a [illegible] which calls out the most efficient [illegible] of the troops serving under the [illegible] it. [illegible] were deliber[illegible] good. He could [illegible] to Atlanta against the defenses and the commander guarding that line in 1864. On the other hand, if it had been given him to hold the line which Johnston tried to hold, neither that general nor Sherman, nor any other officer, could have done it better.

Thomas was a valuable officer, who richly deserved, as he has received, the plaudits of his countrymen for the part he played in the great tragedy of 1861-'65."

Sometimes he criticises himself with singular frankness.

"I have always regretted that the last assault at Cold Harbor was ever made. I might say the same thing of the assault of the 22d of May, 1863, at Vicksburg. At Cold Harbor no advantage whatever was gained to compensate for the heavy loss we sustained. Indeed, the advantages other than relative losses, were on the confederate side. Before that the army of northern Virginia seemed to have acquired a wholesome regard for the courage, endurance and soldierly qualities generally of the army of the Potomac. They no longer wanted to fight them "one conforerate to five Yanks." Indeed, they seemed to have given up any idea of gaining any advantage of their antagonist in the open field. They had come to much prefer breastworks in their front to the army of the Potomac. This charge seemed to revive their hopes, temporarily; but it was of short duration. The effect upon the army of the Potomac was the reverse. When we reached the James river, however, all effects of the battle of Cold Harbor seemed to have disappeared."

He does not enter into an analysis of Gen. Lee's character, but he says this of the confederate leader and his army:

"Gen. Lee, who had led the army of northern Virginia in all these contests, was a very highly-estimated man in the confederate army and states, and filled also a very high place in the estimation of the people and press of the northern states. His praise was sounded throughout the entire North after every action he was engaged in; the number of his forces was always lowered and that of the national forces exaggerated. He was a large, austere man, and I judge difficult of approach to his subordinates. To be extolled by the entire press of the South after every engagement, and by a portion of the press North with equal vehemence, was calculated to give him the entire confidence of his troops and to make him feared by his antagonists. It was not an uncommon thing for my staff officers to hear from eastern officers, "Well, Grant has never met Bobby Lee yet." There were good and true officers who believe now that the army of northern Virginia was superior to the army of the Potomac, man to man. I do not believe so, except as the advantages spoken of above made them so. Before the end I believe the difference was the other way. The army of northern Virginia became despondent and saw the end. It did not please them. The national army saw the same thing and were encouraged by it.

Grant's dissatisfaction with Warren is an old story. For some of the fine qualities of that accomplished and patriotic officer he had a high appreciation, but it was Warren's misfortune that circumstances placed him in a position where gifts other than his were especially demanded. Some time before Sheridan relieved him of his command, by Grant's authority, Gen. Meade had received written orders to take the same extreme measure in case Warren failed to move promptly on a certain occasion, as it was feared that he would.

"Warren's difficulty was two-fold: when he received an order to do anything, it would at once occur to his mind how all the balance of the army should be engaged so as properly to cooperate with him. His ideas were generally good, but he would forget that the person giving him orders had thought of others at the time he had of him. In like manner, when he did get ready to execute an order, after giving most intelligent instructions to division commanders, he would go in with one division, holding the others in reserve until he could superintend their movements in persons also, forgetting that division commanders could execute an order without his presence. His difficulty was constitutional and beyond his control. He was an officer of superior ability, quick perceptions and personal courage to accomplish anything that could be done with a small command."

Sedgwick was killed early in the campaign, and Grant never had much personal intercourse with him; but he seems to have formed a very high opinion of the noble commander of the sixth corps. "Sedgwick," he says, "was never at fault when serious work was to be done. He was brave and conscientious. His ambition was not great, and he seemed to dread responsibility. He was willing to do any amount of battling, but always wanted some one else to direct." Burnside was generally liked and respected, but he was not fitted to command an army, and no one knew this better than himself. Hooker's exploit at Lookout mountain was extremely brilliant. Nevertheless, he was a dangerous man, insubordinate, ambitious, indifferent to the rights of others, and disposed in battle to get detached from the main body and exercise a separate command, gathering to his standard all he could of his juniors. Terry came into the army as a volunteer without a military education, and without political influence he won his way to an important separate command—the Fort Fisher expedition—where his brilliant success gained for him the rank of brigadier general in the regular army. He is cool in action, clear in his perceptions, just and considerate to those under him. Gen. Butler's failures are described pretty frankly, but his services to the government are recognized with equal candor. In the fighting before Petersburg, Grant had under his command Gen. Rutherford B. Hayes. "His conduct on the field was marked by conspicuous gallantry as well as the display of qualities of a higher order than that of mere personal daring." This might well have been expected of one who could write at the time he is said to have done so: 'Any officer fit for duty, who at this crisis would abandon his post to electioneer for a seat in congress ought to be scalped.'" Two of the most distinguished of the army of the Potomac generals are thus drawn:

"Gen. Meade was an officer of great merit, with drawbacks to his usefulness that were beyond his control. He had been an officer of the engineer corps before the war, and consequently had never served with troops until he was [illegible] topography of the country in front of his own position. His first idea was to take advantage of the lay of the ground, sometimes without reference to the direction we wanted to move afterward. He was subordinate to his superiors in rank to the extent that he could execute an order which changed his own plans with the same zeal he would have displayed if the plan had been his own. He was brave and conscientious, and commanded the respect of all who knew him. He was unfortunately of a temper that would get beyond his control at times, and make him speak to officers of high rank in the most offensive manner. No one saw this fault more plainly than he himself, and no one regretted it more. This made it unpleasant at times, even in battle, for those around him to approach him even with information. In spite of this defect he was a most valuable officer and deserves a high place in the annals of his country.

"Sheridan reached City Point on the 26th day of March. His horses, of course, were jaded and many of them had lost their shoes. A few days of rest were necessary to recuperate the animals and also to have them shod and put in condition for moving. Immediately on Gen. Sheridan's arrival at City Point I prepared his instructions for the move which I had decided upon. The movement was to commence on the 29th of the month.

"After reading the instructions I had given him, Sheridan walked out of my tent, and I followed to have some conversation with him by himself—not in the presence of anybody else, even a member of my staff. In preparing his instructions I contemplated just what took place; that is to say, capturing Five Forks, driving the enemy from Petersburg and Richmond and terminating the contest before separating from the enemy. But the nation had already become restless and discouraged at the prolongation of war, and many believed that it would never terminate except by compromise. Knowing that unless my plan proved an entire success it would be interpreted as a disastrous defeat, I provided in these instructions that in a certain event he was to cut loose from the army of the Potomac and his base of supplies, and living upon the country, proceed south by the way of the Danville railroad, or near it, across the Roanoke, get in the rear of Johnson, who was guarding that road, and cooperate with Sherman in destroying Johnson; then with these combined forces to help carry out the instructions which Sherman already had received, to act in cooperation with the armies around Petersburg and Richmond.

"I saw that after Sheridan had read his instructions he seemed somewhat disappointed at the idea, possibly, of having to cut loose again from the army of the Potomac and place himself between the two main armies of the enemy. I said to him: 'General, this portion of your instructions I have put in merely as a blind;' and gave him the reason for doing so heretofore described. I told him that, as a matter of fact, I intended to close the war right here, with this movement, and that he should go no further.' His face at once brightened up, and slapping his hand on his leg he said: 'I am glad to hear it, and we can do it.'"

At the time of the capture of Petersburg Mr. Lincoln was at City Point, but he did not know Grant's plans. "I would have told him," says Grant, "only I could not bear to add another to his heavy load of disappointments in case we failed."

"But when we started out he saw that we were moving for a purpose, and bidding us Godspeed, remain there to hear the result. The next morning after the capture of Petersburg, I telegraphed Mr. Lincoln asking him to ride out there and see me, while I would await his arrival. I had started all the troops out early in the morning, so that after the national army left Petersburg there was not a soul to be seen, not even an animal in the streets. There was absolutely no one there except my staff officers and, possibly, a small escort of cavalry. We had selected a piazza of a deserted house, and occupied it until the president arrived.

About the first thing that Mr. Lincoln said to me, after warm congratulations for the victory, and thanks both to myself and to the army which had accomplished it, was: 'Do you know, general, that I have had a sort of sneaking idea for some days that you intended to do something like this?' Our movements having been successful up to this point, I no longer had any object in concealing from the president all my movements, and the object I had in view.

The new volume is not confined to the campaigns in which Gen. Grant took a personal part. It covers all the operations of the armies under his direction, including therefore, Sherman's march to the sea, Sheridan's detatched expeditions and various minor campaigns. It touches very briefly upon President Johnson and his policy, making no allusion at all to the revolutionary reconstruction scheme which has recently called out so much reminiscence and discussion; and it does not refer to political events, except occasionally and incidentally. Wisely, as it seems to us, Gen. Grant closed his memoirs with the close of the war.—[New York Tribune.

VERTIGO and various forms of dizziness, coming upon a man with a spiral sort of motion, indicate that the blood is full of bile and uric acid; cause, the failure of the liver and kidneys properly to act. For this condition that great specific Warner's safe cure is prescribed by many thousand physicians with the best results.

Advantage of Being Deaf.

A man afflicted with deafness took a prescription to a Topeka druggist, who filled it with care and in the latest style. The deaf man asks the price, when the following talk occurred: Druggist (leaning over the counter and smiling in a won't-you-pay-up sort of a manner)—"The price is seventy-five cents." Deaf customer—"Five cents? Here it is." Druggist (in louder voice)—"Seventy-five cents, please." Deaf customer—"Well, there's your five cents." Druggist (in a very loud voice and very firm manner)—"I said seventy-five cents." Deaf customer (getting angry)—"Well, what more do you want? I just gave you your five cents." Druggist (sotto voce)—"Well, go to thunder with your medicine; I made three cents any way."—[Drug Record.

Harrie McFadden and Addie Taylor, both of Savannah, Ill., while out riding Friday evening [illegible] the buggy wheels in brush on the river bank, and the [illegible]

Fired at 10:30.

They engaged a new porter at the Lahr house last night. He was an active young man, with Hibernian type of countenance and large, horny hands, about the size of hams. Everybody liked him, he was so cheerful, so obliging and so rigorously and scrupulously exact in carrying out every order given him.

On last Tuesday Mr. J. B. Johnson, the vice-president of the Omaha Chilled Plow works, put up at the hotel. Mr. Johnson is a very dignified and polished gentleman, and extremely particular about his room and service. That evening a very extraordinary thing occurred. Some say it was about 9 o'clock; others place it as late as 10:30. At any rate, somewhere near that time Mr. Johnson was amazed to see the door of his room open and a man step in.

"Who the devil are you?" asked Mr. Johnson.

"Oi am the porter," replied the stranger, deliberately removing his coat and rolling up his sleeves.

"Well, what is the meaning of this singular intrusion?" inquired Mr. Johnson.

Thomas did not reply. He spit upon his hands, executed a rapid and fantastic jig and leaped suddenly upon the astonished guest.

"Help! Murder!" bellowed Mr. Johnson, "crazy man killing me!"

"Shut up, ye dhirty spalpeen!" exclaimed Thomas, obtaining a firm grip upon the bust of his trousers and propelling him rapidly out of the room, "it's none of the loikes of ye that's wanted in a dacent house."

"But, my good man!" gasped Mr. Johnson his words coming by excited jerks, "there is some mistake. Let me explain."

"Niver a warde, ye hoodlum!" replied Thomas, as he rushed him toward the stairs, "we're on to ye! The house has had ye spotted!"

The next instant the guests in the corridor were amazed to see two figures, one spluttering and kicking, the other grim and determined, shoot down the staircase, plunge through the lobby and disappear into outer darkness. In a few moments Thomas returned panting and rolling down his sleeves.

"What in the name of heaven were you doing?" asked Mr. Weekly, the proprietor, when he recovered sufficiently from the shock to speak.

"I was firing that dhirty blackguard Johnson," replied Thomas.

"Firing him? Hold me somebody! Who put such an infernal idea into your head?"

"Here she is," replied Thomas, with an injured air, holding the slate before the proprietor's eyes.

"By—the—great—horn—spoon," gasped Mr. Weekly, and swooned away.

This was what he read:

"No. 40; fire at 10:30."—[Lafayette Comet.

Territorial News.

LEWISTON, Idaho Ter., Jan 8, 1885.—A long time I have suffered with pain between my shoulder blades, loss of appetite, sickness of the stomach, pain in right side. No doubt liver complaint. Six bottles of Warner's safe cure made me well and sound.—W. S. DYER.

Another Strike.

But the climax came one morning when the teacher found himself alone in the citadel of learning, and all the scholars out on a strike. They had assembled on the "green" in front of the school house, and uttered derisive cheers as he frantically rang the bell for school to "come in." Then he tried persuasion, afterward threats—said he would send for the "trustees" but none of these means availing, he wisely concluded to await events. Finally, after consultation a deputation of boys advanced somewhat guardedly to the school-house door, where they were confronted by the amazed and irate master, who demanded to know the cause of this mutinous and threatening demonstration.

A big boy, who headed the delegation, spoke up and said:

"We've struck, and that's all there is about it. We have got grievances and we've resolved that this ere school shall tie up until they're righted."

Then he presented the following list of reforms demanded, which he said must be acceded to or the strike would be indefinitely continued:

1. A reduction of the hours of study.
2. An increase in the periods of recess.
3. Noon to begin at 11 o'clock and extend to 1:30 or 2, according to the condition of the weather.
4. School shall let out any afternoon when there is a base ball match or circus within fifteen miles.
5. Any scholar who wants a "reward of merit" to carry home to his parents can have it at wholesale cost price.
6. Ferrules to be made of soft wood.
7. The old-time custom of punishing boys by compelling them to sit with the girls shall be immediately restored.
8. A boy who holds up his right hand and says, "Please, sir, may I go out?" shall be allowed to go, whether it may be necessary or not.
9. The number of boys allowed to go and fetch a pail of water shall be increased from two to four, with proper allowance for time consumed in going and coming.
10. No boy shall be punished for offensive words spoken in debate with another boy.
11. While believing in arbitration on general principles, we insist that two boys who have a grudge to settle shall be allowed to fight it out between themselves. No teacher need apply a whip on account of it.
12. Any boy who tells on another boy shall be boycotted.
13. No boy shall be kept in after school [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Shoulder capes will still be worn.

A new berege has a clear diagonial line.

Matelasse, Spanish, is an improved imitation of the Escurial lace.

A child's dress may be becomingly grotesque, but a lady's never.

Some of the silk fabrics show canvas effects lace stripes and figures.

The fashion of making short mantles of two stuffs is almost universal.

Piques for children's wear come in clustered cord, repped and sprigged effects.

Picturesque short waist, full skirt frocks are in favor for both large and small girls.

Cream and beige are the favorite colors for Egyptian laces, but they come also in colors.

Few women can venture to dress out of the conventional style without looking ridiculous.

Long-waisted dresses seem increasing in favor, the best Paris models being in this style.

Modifications of the toilets of the Louis XV, Louis XVI and Henri II are popular in Paris.

Flowered foulard and plaided and checked summer silks are made up into little girl's frocks.

French modistes are reversing the order of things, and are making dark overdresses with light skirts.

Some of the cashmeres are embroided with plush and chenille, and also with open-work embroidery.

Large girls' dresses are only slightly different from those worn by their older sisters and their mothers.

Stockings for little girls should be black, dark blue, or drab brown, no matter what the color of the frock.

The low price of Egyptian lace makes it possible for any lady to have an all lace dress at a reasonable cost.

Sailors suits for large girls come in white and dark blue flannel, and in the same style of those of last summer.

Norfolk jackets of Jersey cloth in blue, scarlet, black, corn, tan and white will be worn with skirts of all colors.

A new sort of braid cylindrical, having gold thread through it. It is used for trimming dresses and jackets.

Lace zephyrs have plush stripes in groups of three, are made up over self colors corresponding to the ground of stripes.

Very fine sheer French nainsook or Swiss muslin makes a more becoming and appropriate veil for a combination toilet than lace or tulle.

White moire parasols edged with deep falls of pure white Valenciennes lace are used by bridesmaids when the wedding is in a country church.

Why hesitate? Hop Plasters are better than others, do the work quicker and always satisfy. When you buy see signature of Hop Plaster Co. on back of plaster. Beware of all others.

What the Local Paper Does.

David Davis says. "Every year every local paper gives from 500 to 5,000 free lines for the sole benfiet of the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The local editor in proportion to his means does more for his town than any other ten men, and in all fairness, man with man, he ought to be supported, not because you may happen to like him, or admire his writing, but because a local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be brilliant or crowded with more thoughts, but financially it is more of a benefit to a community than the preacher or teacher. Understand us now, we do not mean morally or intellectually but financially, and yet on the moral question you will find that the majority of the local papers are on the right side of the question. To-day the editors of local papers do the most work for the least money of any men on earth. Subscribe for your local paper, not as a charity, but as an investment."

Ex-Senator Conkling in speaking upon the same subject uses the following terse but truthful language: "The smallest country newspaper is worth more to its country subscribers in one month than its price for a year, and does more for its neighborhood for nothing than many a high official does for his munificent salary."

Le Paris (newspaper) states that the powers except France, are about to enforce rigorous measures to compel Greece to comply with their wishes respecting her quarrel with Turkey. France will remain neutral.

No Slugger, But a Sprinter.

One day recently a gentleman stepped into a Cinninnati hotel to make a call. He placed his umbrella in the rack before he went up to the hotel parlor, but being of a facetious turn of mind he pinned a card on the umbrella, which read:

"This umbrella belongs to a man who can hit a 250 pound blow. Will return in ten minutes."

He made his call, and when he returned his umbrella, lo, it was gone. But in its place found a neat card, upon which was written:

"This card was left by a man who walks twenty miles an hour. Will not return."—[Cincinnati Times-Star.

"I do like thee, Dr. Fell,
The reason why, I cannot tell."

It has often been wondered at, the bad odor this oft-quoted doctor was in. 'Twas probably because he, being one of the old-school doctors, made up pills as large as bullets, which nothing but an ostrich could bolt without nausea. Hence the dislike. Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are sugar-coated and no larger than bird-shot, and [illegible] quick to do their work. For all derangements of the liver, bowels and [illegible]

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

The World's Great Bridges.

Metal bridges are the invention of British artists. The first bridge of cast-iron ever erected, is that over the Severn, about two miles below Colebrookdale, in Shropshire. The second cast-iron bridge was designed by Thomas Paine, the famous political writer, and was intended for America, but the speculators failing in their payments, the materials were used for the construction of the beautiful bridge over the river Wear, at Bishops, Wearmouth, in the county of Durham.

Southwark bridge is constructed of iron. Its length is 700 feet, and its cost is £800,000. It was opened in 1819.

The Blackfriars bridge is 1,000 feet long, and cost £300,000.

Waterloo bridge is considered the finest in the world. Canover, the sculptor, said it was alone worth a journey from Rome to London to see it. The cost was £1,000,000.

Charing Cross is the next bridge on the Thames. It is used by a railroad company.

Westminster bridge is 1,200 feet long, and cost £100,000.

Lambeth bridge is 740 feet, and cost £1000,000.

Vauxhall bridge is 840 feet long.

The first wire suspension bridge was erected at Froilburg, Switzerland, and hangs 300 feet in the air over a deep chasm.

Chelsea Chain suspension bridge is 922 feet long, 45 feet wide, and cost £75,000.

Hammersmith suspension bridge is 841 feet long, 32 feet wide, and cost £75,000.

Suspension bridges, although held by some people to be of modern invention, or derived from the rope bridges of South America and the East Indies, were in use in Europe in the time of Scamozzi, early in the seventeenth century. One of the most remarkable suspension bridges in existence, is that constructed by Mr. Telford, over the Menai strait, between the Isle of Anglesea and Caernaroonshire, in Wales. It was finished in 1825. In the United States, there are a number of these bridges: one over the Merrimac, at Newburyport, measures 244 feet. That over the Brandywine, at Wilmington, is 145 feet; and at Brownsville, over the Monongahela, measuring 120 feet. The Wheeling suspension bridge, has a span of 1,010 feet. Roebling's railroad bridge, at Niagara, has a span of 821 feet, with a deflection of 59 feet; its roadway is 259 feet above the line of the stream. The bridge at Cincinnati is 2,220 feet long, with a clear span of 1,057 feet. The Point bridge, at Pittsburg, is 1,345 feet.

The highest bridge in existence, at the present day, is the Garabit Viaduct, on the railway connecting Marseilles with Neussargues, (France), the height from the water level being 400 feet. Its total length is 1,852 feet.

Among the most celebrated bridges, built subsequently to the fall of the Roman Empire, are those of the Moors in Spain, who imitated and rivaled the best construction of the Romans. The Bridge of Cordova over the Guadalquivir is an eminent example of their success.

The bridge over the Rhone, at Avignon, is one of the most ancient bridges of modern Europe. It was commenced in 1176, the same year that London bridge was started, and finished in 1178.

France can boast of many fine bridges built during the last two centuries; but to America belongs the greatest triumph in the art of bridge building, the Brooklyn bridge, spanning the East river from New York to Brooklyn, being 5,989 feet long, with a clear span of 1,595 feet over the East river. It is built of steel, at a cost of several millions of dollars; recent descriptions of it, however, rendering a repetition unnecessary.—[Mrs. F. G. de Fontaine in May Brooklyn Magazine.

Physicians say the plug hat causes baldness.

ROYAL

FULL WEIGHT
ROYAL POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity [illegible]

French Heeled Shoes.

BY

H. C. DODGE.

O O O O O
OO OO OO OO OO
WWWWWWWWWWWWWW

Lo! the poor woman whose untutored mind makes her wear French heeled shoes to charm mankind, and, like the Chinese, spoil her pretty feet that might be, like a baby's just too sweet. What pain, what agony her sole must feel whose center rests upon this slooping heel. Ungracefully she hobbles, with a smile, enduring torture for the sake of style. Small feet in smaller shoes cannot compare with larger feet in beauty—when they are bare, for little feet with corns on every toe and all deformed are horrid things to show; but feet of goodly size, soft, pink and white and filled with dimples are a lovely sight. How grand it is to see a woman stride with firm elastic step and conscious pride
Of health and strength which she need never lose
Unless she wear these silly French heeled shoes.
—[Goodall's Sun.

From Major Downs, Sing Sing, N. Y.: I was suffering severely with catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm was suggested. Within an hour of the first application I felt relieved. Was entirely cured in a few days. W. A. DOWNS.

Ex-Mayor R. W. Townley, Judge T. F. McCormick; J. Maguire, Banker; G. S. Davis, Banker; and J. O. Tichenor, Merchant, all of Elizabeth, N. J., earnestly commend Ely's Cream Balm as a specific for catarrhal affection. Price 50c.

The bill providing for the erection of a state armory at Sartaoga Springs and appropriating $25,000 for that purpose, has passed the legislature

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

NEW STORE
NEW GODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
—ALSO AGENT FOR—
Perfection Weather Strip.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Stove	$4.50	Grate	4.25
Nut	4.50	Pea	3.50
Egg	4.25	Smith	450
No 4	475	Mixed	450

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

SALESMEN
WANTED
to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock!
Steady employment guaranteed. SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID. Apply at once, stating age. (Refer to this paper.)
Chase Brothers,
1m4 ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables, Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious; Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!
The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.
White, Cavanaugh & Grahan.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

FITS STOPPED FREE [illegible]

FAY'S [illegible]

[illegible] NEWSPAPER ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY.
Office: Second Floor, [illegible] Block, First Street—Opposite Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN, Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

MORE than 2,000 bodies have been rereceived at the New York morgue this year.

THE state Senate on Friday passed the bill appropriating $5,000 for the Oswego river.

EX-PRESIDENT ARTHUR'S sickness has reduced his weight from 250 pounds to 180.

DAVID A. WELLS of Norwich, Connecticut, is mentioned for the Presidency of Union college.

HERR MOST, the anarchist, was released from prison last Friday. His bail was raised by the anarchists of New York city.

THE championship in lawn tennis has been won by Sears, the champion of America, from Pettit, the champion of the world.

THE heir to the throne of Spain was born to Queen Christina, Monday. Great pomp and ceremony were observed in honor of the royal birth.

OFFICER THOMAS REDDIN died at the hospital in Chicago Monday making the sixth death among the police wounded in the recent Haymarket riot in that city.

THE Buffalo Evening News appeared Monday in its spring suit. The News is one of the best conducted papers in the state, being fearless and true to its principles it has gained an enviable position. Its circulation is nearly 40,000 a day.

THE captain of an ocean steamer read this cable summary on a bulletin board on his arrival at Antwerp recently.

"NEW YORK, April 12.—General railroad strike throughout the country. Riots in New York and St. Louis. Destruction by dynamite of great Milwaukee breweries. Marriage of President Cleveland to Miss Patterson of Baltimore. Angry debate on silver question in the House, Members come to blows."

Affairs were not quite as bad as that, but were bad enough.

THE first of the New York bribery trials has ended in conviction. The jury in the case of ex-Alderman Jaehne retired last Saturday night and three hours later brought in a verdict of guilty. Jaehne will receive his sentence to-day. There are twenty-one others that are accused, who, at the present time, are probably not sleeping on "beds of roses." After the bribe-takers have received their just deserts, the bribe-givers should get the full measure of justice.

GREAT destruction of life and property has occurred during the past week by a series of destructive tornadoes in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Kansas and other states. Thirty-two lives are reported as lost during one of these storms in Kansas City. The buildings selected for pestruction were those which were filled with human beings, and the consequences were simply appalling. The killed and injured in many other places are very large, while the damage done to crops and property foots up to many millions of dollars.

SMITH DEBBAGE, a young lawyer, committed suicide in Duluth Minn., last Friday morning. Debbage's home was in this county and he was an exceptionally talented young man. He graduated from Hamilton college third in his class and went to New York city where he studied law and last year, at the age of 21, was admitted to the bar. About four months ago he went to Duluth and had already built up a good practice, having gained the respect of all with whom he came in contact. He had been in ill health and it is supposed that he committed suicide while brooding over his condition.

LADIES WHO SUFFER, as only themselves know, are now beginning to know that a conjested condition of the system, if not removed, causes the chronic complaints from which they so much suffer; this congestion occurs most frequently in the kidneys, liver and other abdominal organs, and it can readily be removed by that wonderful preparation, Warner's safe cure.

LITERARY.

NORTH'S PHILADELPHIA MUSICAL JOURNAL for May fully keeps up the bright and interesting character of this excellent periodical. Bright, chatty paragraphs and a variety of more solid matter, all of such a nature as to vastly please musicians and the musically inclined, are given. There is a neat story, called "The Composer's Dilemma," by Clara Bishop, which is very readable. George D. Cox contributes a vigorous poem, "The Master," dealing with a picturesque and pathetic incident in the life of Beethoven. J. Carroll Chandler discourses of piano teaching in the Educational Department, telling some plain truths in a forcible way. The special correspondence from New York, Boston and Chicago covers everything of recent musical interest in those great centres while the musical news of the world is presented in concise and agreeable form. The sheet music selections, which are fully up to the mark consist of portions of Dellinger's new opera, "Don Cæsar;" Mazurka by Olbersleben; Recreations for Parlor Organ (Ave Maria, Pastorale and Hymn); and "Summer Morn," a [illegible] song by Geibel. Subscription [illegible] per annum in advance. Single copies 10 cents. Published by F. A. North & Co. 1308 Chestnut Street, Phila. [illegible]

The bark [illegible] arrived at New York Friday from Norway with a cargo of 1,300 tons of ice. The ice is from 20 to 24 inches thick.

Courtney and Hanner have signed an agreement to row a three mile race over the Pleasure Island course between Troy and Albany, Monday, May 31, for $500.

Alling Bros., of Rochester, have made a general assignment. The firm was rated at $50,000 to 60,000 and was doing a large business.

Herr Most's paper, Die Freiheit, appeal's to Most's "fellow workers to arm themselves and revenge his unrighteous arrest by annihilating that blood-sucking band, the capitalists."

G. S. Johnson, a farmer of Gouverneur, St. Lawrence county, aged fifty-five years, hung himself in the woods back of his residence on Friday with a log chain. Cause unknown.

On a road near Lyons on Thursday a teamster named John O'Keefe was found dead in his wagon. He was fifty-three years old and leaves a wife and five children. The cause of his death is yet unknown.

The Union ferry company of New York city shows a decline in its receipts, which is accounted for in the competition offered by the Brooklyn bridge, from $2,000,000 a year to $800,000 and has discharged sixty hands.

Engines of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad were seized last Wednesday. The execution was issued on a judgment for $5,000 obtained by Charles H. Webster, who was injured at the Carlyon disaster.

Amelia Eckert, of Syracuse, the young woman who stole money and jewels from her employer, Adam Dress, pleaded guilty to grand larceny on Saturday in the police court, and went to the penitentiary to await the action of the grand jury.

Norval Phillips, a young farmer at Fort Plain, died Friday from a bullet wound in his breast, inflicted by himself last Wednesday night with a revolver. He said he shot himself because he wanted to get out of the way. His father was drowned about three years ago.

Mrs. Hoyt of Fayetteville, N. Y., a sister of the President, arrived at the White House last week. She has not visited Washington since last fall, owing to the protracted illness of her husband's mother. Mr. Hoyt is cashier of the Fayetteville bank.

On May 3, Aurelia Ackert, a chambermaid for Adam Dress, a brewer, of Syracuse, decamped with two gold watches, a masonic ring, two dozen silver knives and forks and $95 in cash. She procured a suit of boy's clothes in which she disguised herself and fled to New York city. She was arrested Thursday at the house of her aunt. She gave up the pawn tickets for the property.

A novel debate took place last Friday night in New York city between deaf mutes. The subject debated was: "Which exerts the greater influence on the happiness of mankind, the male or female mind?" The contestants were W. G. Jones and J. F. O'Brien of that city for the male mind and R. M. Zeigler and S. G. Gavitson of Philadelphia for the female mind. The audience was composed for the most part of deaf mutes. The judges awarded the victory to the Philadelphia contestants.

Shortly after midnight Saturday morning at Port Dickinson, four miles north of Binghamton, on the Syracuse and Binghamton divison of the Delaware Lackawanna and Western railroad, two sections of the train drawing Forepaugh's circus met with an accident which resulted in the serious injury of seven men and the destruction of circus property. The first section while going up a grade broke in two, the detached portions running down and colliding with the second section, ditching it.

Pastry Without Butter.

The American pie has been subjected to more unjust abuse from foreign writers than any other of our distinctive products, if we except the recent tirade against the American hog. And yet we cannot say that it has been altogether undeserved, because of the villainous compound thick, hard, and heavy, that is to often made to do duty as "crust," and which by courtesy is called "pastry." Light, tender, flaky, and digestable pie-crust and all kinds of pastry can be made most readily by the use of Royal Baking Powder without any butter, or with half the usual portion, if preferred, or with a small quantity of lard or other shortening as desired. Piecrust thus made is much more wholesome and digestable. Besides being more economical and easier prepared in addition to the saving of all the butter if desired, one-third the flour is also dispensed with, as the crust is rolled that much thiner, the leavening qualities of the Royal Baking Powder swelling it to the requisite thickness. If drippings or lard be used the Royal Baking Powder removes any unpleasant taste, rendering the crust as short, sweet and pleasant as if made from the finest butter. Those who know the appetizing qualities of the genuine home-made American pie will rejoice that by the aid of Royal Baking Powder in the pastry it can be made quite as digestable as it is delicious.

She Had to Have the Jewelry.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Annie Caywood, who has figured quite prominently in the Oswego police court under sevaliases, obtained some jewelry of Mr. Hoyt of Oswego Falls. Saturday Officer Montague of Oswego Falls, served a warrant upon Mrs. Caywood, issued by Police Justice Shannon and sworn out by Mr. Hoyt, charging the woman with obtaining goods under false pretenses. Mr. Hoyt says that she represented to him that she was at work in the factory and that on pay day she would pay for the jewelry, but pay day passed and she did not make her appearance. He afterwards learned who the woman was and that she did not work in the factory, and hence he swore out a warrant for her arrest. She was fined $10, part of which she paid and was given until Saturday to pay the balance.

Blind Drunk

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 30, 1885.—A few years ago I suffered intensely from uric acid poisoning. Would become totally blind [illegible]

[illegible] called.

J. Gilmore has all the work that he can attend to in his cheese factory at Volney.

Leonard Wait of Mississippi is visiting at Brighton, the place of his childhood, after an absence of about ten years.

Hannibal Post G. A. R., has accepted an invitation from Hudson Post, Fair Haven, to visit them and take part in the ceremonies of decoration day at Fair Haven.

The prospects for a large fruit crop in the county looks very encouraging. In New Haven the strawberry vines which are very extensively cultivated in that section are reported as unusually fine and there is every indication of a large crop.

Rev. J. Douglas of Pulaski, has received a very important and highly honorable appointment to deliver a course of lectures at the Oberlin theological seminary next fall, "On the Relations of Religion and Science and the forms of Modern Skepticism."

It has just been discovered that William Legrange, a cripple and pauper of Hastings, has since 1879 been drawing sixty-five dollars a year from Oswego county and seven dollars a month from the city of Syracuse. His pension from the latter source will be stopped at once.

Mrs. Lena Haynes, an old and respected resident of South Scriba, died at the home of her son Alexander, on Saturday, May 8, aged 87 years. The funeral was held Monday, the 10th inst., at the G. A. R. hall. Rev. F. J. Rathbun of Mt. Pleasant officiating.

At North Volney, last week James Hart, a boy aged about ten years was before Justice of the Peace Drake charged with hitting another boy, William VanWormer in the face with a stone. A jury trial was held and a verdict of not guilty rendered.

At 3 o'clock Sunday morning a barn belonging to George Patten at South New Haven, was struck by lightning and set on fire, and a valuable horse, which was in the barn, was instantly killed. The other horses escaped. The fire was extinguished with but slight damage to the barn.

The funeral of Charles Ford, aged ninety years and three months, was held in Parish last Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. A. P. Phinney officiating. The deceased was born in Connecticut and moved into Parish in 1828, when he bought the farm on which he lived till his death, Sunday, May 9th. He had been a leading citizen. His widow survives him at the age of eighty-seven years.

GENERAL NEWS.

The English government has forwarded two million rounds of ball ammunition to Dublin.

H. E. Bird, the English chess player, has challenged Steinitz to play a match game in New York city.

Atlanta, Ga., is up to snuff. She ranks third among the cities of the world as a snuff buyer, London coming first and New York next.

An invitation has been signed by the doctors of England, inviting M. Pasteur to London to describe his experiments on rabies.

It is understood that a match between John L. Sullivan and Charles Mitchell has been definitely arranged to take place within three weeks at a skating rink here. Three ounce gloves are to be used, the winner to take 75 and the loser 25 per cent. of the gate receipts.

When all returns have been received, it will probably appear that over a hundred lives were lost by the terrible cyclone which swept over Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. It seems as though all the elements had united to reap a harvest of death.

The Powerful Spinners' union of Fall River, Mass., has voted to join the Knights of Labor. Several Knights of Labor formerly employed on the Gould system were before the Curtin Committee at St. Louis Thursday and testified to various minor grievances. Father O'Leary of De Soto, Mo., testified that he had talked with a brakeman who said that he was afraid to speak to a Knight of Labor lest he would lose his position.

In Salem, Mass., Edward B. Timmins, the Tarrytown burglar, who turned states evidence on last Wednesday, was arraigned and plead guilty to a charge of assaulting Benjamin A. Ward with a sand bag in Lynn on February 1, and robbing him of a $75 watch and some notes. He was sentenced to fifteen years hard labor in the state prison.

At Wilkinson, Ind., the cyclone of last Wednesday night lasted only five minutes, but totally destroyed nine houses. The killed are Samuel White, farmer, aged 35 years, crushed into a shapeless mass. Glen Smith, four years old, J. W. Smith, wife and child, Eli Cross and family, Mrs. Ada White and daughter, Ira Shaffer and several others were wounded.

In St. Louis on Friday night the heaviest rain and wind storm of the year, and perhape the heaviest rainfall that has occurred there for a number of years, passed over that city and swept on to the eastward. The rain was almost a deluge, and all the streets in the city were running streams, the water varying in depth from two to six inches. All the depressions in the city were flooded, and cellars and basements were filled, doing great damage to their contents.

Thomas Galloway, convicted in the court of sessions of the crime of rape, was on Monday sentenced by Judge Wright of Oswego to nine years and six months at hard labor in Auburn state prison.

All kinds of job printing done on short notice and at reasonable rates at THE TIMES office.

CARRIAGES! CARRIAGES!

Bristol has the largest stock of Wagons and Carriages ever seen in Oswego Co., and will sell at prices satisfactory to the closest buyers.

Volney April 19th 1886.—Whereas my wife Sarah has left my bed and board without [illegible]

[illegible]

G. E. [illegible]

The present [illegible] have been presented that cannot have a chance of being passed of even consideration. Still new bills pour in every week, and others will continue to come until the session expires. Among the latest entries is one for imposing a fine of $100 on our law-makers for absence from roll call without leave. It has been suggested also that the fund thus acruing from Congressional derelictions shall be appropriated to defray the expense of Congressional funerals.

It was Representative Beach of New York who proposed this penalty for absence. It was also he who, some weeks ago, introduced a resolution to have the rules of the House so amended that all eulogies of deceased members should be delivered in the House on Sundays, and that on such occasions the public shall be admitted to the floor of the House as well as to the galleries. This is to provide an audience for the eulogists. One of the features of the present plan is, that as soon as the memorial services begin, the Congressmen nearly all desert their seats and leave the orators to talk to an empty hall.

Speaking of bills reminds me that up to this date 8,740 measures, besides 171 resolutions have been introduced in the House of Representatives alone this session. Of these the house has passed 174 public, and 655 private bills. This seems to be very slow work, but a frequenter of the galleries, who knows that almost every unimportant question gives rise to a protracted debate, does not wonder that legislation lags.

The bills introduced exceed by several hundred the whole number presented during both sessions of the last Congress. And do you know what a bill goes through? I mean the routine through which each one of these these thousands of bills passes? The experience of a House bill is varied. Some of them have come to be old veterans by serving in many Congresses, and are sallowed and shriveled with age.

After a bill is introduced it is read by title at the clerk's desk. It then has numerous hieroglyphics put in blue pencil upon its back to show where it is to be consigned. Then it is numbered and registered in a book and printed. If it has a full run it is printed six times. It is printed when first introduced, and when it is reported from the committee it is printed, when it is passed by the House—if it ever is—it is again printed. Then the Senate prints it. When it is reported by the Senate committee it is again printed, and again when it becomes law. After that it has to be printed in the statute books. Meanwhile it has been stowed away in the document room and on the calendar of the committee, has been discussed and properly abused and cut to pieces, has been objected to and threatened in the House, and solemnly sat upon in the Senate. This is the experience of the simplest and most unimportant bill. The appropriation bills suffer more at the hands of the printer than this. They are first printed as estimates, then as unofficial forms of the bill, then the bill as adopted by the committee is printed. When it passes the House it is printed, and again when it reaches the Senate. It is next printed as it passes the Senate. When it comes out of conference—if it goes to conference—it is printed as an act, and after that it is printed in the statute books.

A bill that has never been in Congress before and is fresh and new, has generally come in the pocket of a member as fresh and new as itself, or has been written by some insinuating person outside, and introduced by request. The average member of Congress, although he delights in introducing as many bills as possible, does not like to write them. He will frequently take a bill that has done service in many different causes, and will chop and slash and interline it, and patch it together as a new bill. Many of the private bills have done service through many Congresses and for many persons, merely the name in it being changed every time it was introduced. It has been suggested as a means of preventing the House being flooded with so many bills, that every bill introduced must be in the handwriting of the man who offers it.

South Granby.

Daniel Worden has moved into Justice Palmer's tenant house.

Mrs. Geo. W. Silkworth is quite ill and is attended by Dr. Sinclair of Lysander.

There will be preaching in the school house at this place next Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. by John Shower of South Hannibal. Sunday school one hour earlier.

Betsy, wife of Hastings Merryfield, died at her home near Jacksonville last Friday morning of cancer. Funeral services were held Sunday at the M. E. church in Lysander, Rev. J. L. King officiating. The remains were interred in Lysander Cemetery.

The most of the farmers are planting their corn this week. A very few having planted last week. The weather is quite cool but grass is doing finely and stock are having an abundance of food.

Smith and Monroe have set over one acre of black caps and red raspberries this spring.

Washington Lamson is in quite feeble health. Dr. Sinclair attends him.

HART BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware

—AND—

PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE

—AND—

DRAIN TILE,

With all necessary Fittings and connections.

FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.

Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.

Fire Brick of [illegible]

[illegible] affliction in my shoulder [illegible] for nearly four years. I have tried many remedies, including Rheumatic Syrup, none of which helped me in the least.

I finally tried Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and I experienced almost immediate relief, and continuing its use, I am so well pleased with the results that I most cheerfully recommend it to others.

I am most respectfully yours,

A. WANDELL,
Grocer, 81 Rowe St.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured, After all the Physicians Failed.

Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN:—I cannot let the opportunity pass without testifying to my appreciation of your valuable medicine. As is well known to all this community, I was for years a great sufferer from inflammatory Rheumatism, at times being confined to the house for several weeks, and totally incabable of helping myself.

I have received attendance of several of our best physicians and have tried everything in the shape of Rheumatic medicine that was recommended, or that I could hear of, without benefit.

It was during one of these attacks that I was induced to try Dr. PARDEE'S RHEUMATIC REMERY, and before I had finished the second bottle I was so much improved, that I felt no pain whatever. I continued its use and now I am as well as ever.

I take great pleasure in recommending it to all rheumatic sufferers, as I beit to be the very best article of the kind in this, or any other country.

I am gentlemen, your most respectfully,

GOTTLOB MURR.

Ask your druggist for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

An Abstract of Expenditures.

By L. T. Richardson Superintendent of Repair upon the Oswego canal, and having charge of 23 miles of said canal extending from Oswego to Three River Point also the Oneida river improvement 20 miles.

FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1886.

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
H Fralick	Ph'nix	Lock t'ding	4-30	2500	3 33
L Merry	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
H Howe	Fulton	"	4-30	2500	3 33
L Torry	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
C Surdam	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
S Darling	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
T Sweeney	Os'ego	"	4-30	3500	4 66
E Connors	"	"	4-30	3500	4 66
A Dingnan	Hin'vil	"	4-30	2500	3 33
L Montague	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
D Inman	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
O Cross	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
W Patterson	Fulton	"	4-30	2500	3 33
H Laphan	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
N Miller	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
Ed Harvey	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
W T Church	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
R H Stow	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
W Althouse	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
S Perry	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
S Storrs	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
Chas Dodge	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
J Knapp	SenHill	"	4-30	3000	4 00
G Doyle	"	"	4-30	3000	4 00
W Sreves	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
W Grautier	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
J Sheridan	Os'ego	"	4-30	2500	3 33
B Cavellier	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
C Bough	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
J Murphy	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
J Daly	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
T O'Hara	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
V'nValkenburg	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
H Halstead	"	"	4-30	2500	3 33
C Buxton	C'ug'y	"	4-30	2500	3 33
A McArthur	Elucid	"	4-30	2500	3 33
					123.88

G. W. BRIGGS' CHECK ROLL

G W Briggs	Sen Hill	Foreman	10 d	160	16 00
Geo Hamilton	"	C Labor	10 d	100	10 00
E Bunker	"	"	10 d	100	10 00
Geo Baker	"	"	11¼ d	100	11 25
J Baker	"	"	10 d	100	10 00
John Knapp	"	"	10 d	100	10 00
John Butler	"	"	11⅞ d	100	11 87
S Grommon	"	"	10 d	100	10 00
Henry Pero	"	"	10 d	100	10 00
Chas Briggs	"	Team	9⅜ d	240	22 50
					121 62

The above labor was removing land slide at lock 13

E. L. RICHARDSON'S CHECK ROLL

E L Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	10 d	1 60	16 00
Geo Barret	"	Com Lab'r	10 d	1 00	10 00
Frank Garrison	"	"	9⅜ d	1 00	9 37
Joseph Hayden	"	"	10 d	1 00	10 00
M O Conners	"	"	10 d	1 00	10 00
N Miller	"	"	10 d	1 00	10 00
J Gilhooly	"	"	6¼ d	1 00	6 25
J Briggs	"	"	8⅛ d	1 00	8 12
Wm Patterson	"	"	5 d	1 00	5 00
J Dewyer	"	"	6¼ d	1 00	6 25
John Dewyer	"	"	6¼ d	1 00	6 25
W VanVorest	"	"	1¼ d	1 00	1 25
N Chetney	"	"	2½ d	1 00	2 50
J Levi	"	"	2½ d	1 00	2 50
J Richardson	"	"	1⅞ d	1 00	1 87
James Back	"	Team	⅞ d	2 40	2 10
H Halstead	"	Com lab'r	3⅜ d	1 00	3 37
R H Stow	"	"	1¼ d	1 00	1 25
			104⅞		112 08

The above labor was performed as follows:

7⅛ days, relaying wall	80 46
29⅜ " repairing spill way	3,162
104⅞	112 08

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL

John Boardman	Fulton	Foreman	35d	2 40	84 00
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	31¼	1 80	56 25
			66¼		140 25

The above labor was performed as follows:

12⅜ days paddles	24 75
37½ days repairing locks	78 75
6¼ days repairing state scow	14 25
2½ days repairing waste wier	5 25
2½ days repairing lock houses	5 25
5 days levers, cant hooks, &c	12 00
66¼	140 25

E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	17-26m	50 00	32 69
Geo Barret	"	C Labor	17-26m	35 00	22 88
F Garrison	"	"	17-26m	35 00	22 88
J Gilhooly	"	"	17-26m	35 00	22 88
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	17-26m	35 00	22 88
M Connors	Fulton	"	17-26m	35 00	22 88
Ed Sayles	"	"	17-26m	35 00	22 88
J Hayden	"	"	17-26m	35 00	22 88
W LaFount'in	"	Team	17-26m	75 00	49 03
F Hayden	"	Cook	17-26m	15 00	9 80
			170 days		251 68

The above labor was performed as follows:

110 days repairing locks	162 87
20 days repairing waste wier	29 61
20 days repairing tow path	29 61
20 days distributing lamps, poles, stoves, &c	29 59
170	251 68

D VanValkenburg, Oswego, watching canal, regulating water. 26-30 20 00 17 33

R R DODGE'S CHECK ROLL

R R Dodge	Fulton	Foreman	26⅞ d	160	43 00
W Patterson	"	C Labor	11¼ d	100	11 25
Tim Conley	"	"	6¼ d	100	6 25
Jas Dewyer	"	"	24 11 16	100	24 69
Jno Dewyer	"	"	21 9-16	100	21 56
C Scouton	"	"	6¼ d	100	6 25
W Scouton	"	"	6¼ d	100	6 25
N Miller	"	"	8¾ d	100	8 75
N Chetney	"	"	6¼ d	100	6 25
J Levi	"	"	6¼ d	100	6 25
J Richardson	"	"	11¼ d	100	11 25
J Briggs	"	"	2½ d	100	2 50
Pat Mack	Os'ego	"	5 5-16	100	5 31
F Cook	"	"	1¼ d	100	1 25
Ned Murphy	"	"	1⅞ d	100	1 87
Wm Murphy	"	"	4 1-16	100	4 06
Chas Frank	"	"	5 5-16	100	5 31
A Doherty	"	"	7 3-16	100	7 19
E Cody	"	"	6 9-16	100	6 56
J Baker	"	"	6 9-16	100	6 56
Goe Baker	"	"	7 13-16	100	7 81
J Hanly	"	"	3¾ d	100	3 75
J Horran	"	"	3¾ d	100	3 75
C Darby	"	Mason	3¾ d	240	9 00
J Cunningham	"	"	3¾ d	240	9 00
T Gillard	Fulton	"	6¼ d	240	15 00
Mat Bough	Os'ego	"	⅝ d	100	63
Geo French	Fulton	Team	4 1-16	240	9 75
L Ward	"	"	14⅜ d	240	34 50
A Grigway	Os'ego	"	1¼ d	240	3 00
J Farrel	"	C Labor	⅝ d	100	63
			226¼		280 18

The above labor was performed as follows:

25 days rep waste weir	42 50
31¼ days rep wall Oswego	50 50
6½ days laying docking	7 60
153¾ days rep tow path	180.18
226¼	280 18

Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract	3 35
B Coyer Oswego watching	22 25
Geo Bomier Oswego watching	8 75
Total	$1,101 99

State of New York, County of Oswego, ss: L. T. Richardson superintendent of canal repairs [illegible]

[illegible]

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, May 17.

The market to-day has been by far the most active of the season. A larger number of factories was represented, and several outside buyers were present this showing that cheese was wanted and was probably a purchase. The sales of to-day bring the make down on an average to May 1 or 2, there being a disposition to let cheese go at the prices offered. The market is so well cleared in the city that 8c. is considered a safe price to pay this week; and the impression seems to be that prices will be steadier through the season than they were last year.

The starting price of the day was 7¼c. but it did not long remain there. Competition was so strong to keep it at any such figure. Eight cents, however, was supposed to be the top price until late in the day, and many of the best factories sold at that. A few only of the lots for which there was the most competition reached ½c. higher than that. Following are the transactions: 7 lots, 352 boxes, at 7¾c.; 28, at 7¾c.; 6 lots, 472 boxes, at 7⅞c.; 5 lots, 259 boxes, at 7¾c.; 46 lots, 2,835 boxes, at 8c.; 5 lots, 425 boxes, at 8½c. Sales 4,360 boxes; commissions 1,550 boxes; 3,950 boxes. Ruling price 8c. Transactions one year ago 5,612 boxes, ruling price 8c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, May 17.

CHEESE.—The market to-day has been without surprises or extraordinary developments. Prices are still on the decline, and the ruling to-night is still lower than that of a week ago, nothwithstanding the fact that some unexpected figures were reported near the close. Sales to-day have been more readily made, and in some quarters there is a firm belief that with the advent of grass cheese the rates will improve. Following is our usual table of transactions:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price.
1	47	6 cents
1	20	6½ cents
2	99	7 cents
2	60	7¾ cents
5	171	7⅞ cents
4	125	7¾ cents
17	1,000	8 cents
13	501	8¼ cents
1	220	8¾ cents
2	75	8⅛ cents
15	700	com.
63	3,168
Farm dairy	336
Total	3,504

FARM DAIRIES.—The sales of farm ceese were at 6 to 8½ cents—336 boxes; bulk at 8 cents.

BUTTER.—Only 53 packages of butter were sold to-day, and those at prices from 18 to 20 cents—thirty packages of creamery bringing the latter figure.

AT FULTON.

Ten factories were represented at the opening sales day of the Fulton cheese market, and in spite of the limited number sales were quite brisk. Some 250 to 300 boxes were offered of which about 250 were sold for 7½ to 8cts.

John Kelly is improving in health and will leave for the country in a few days. The family physician has not called for more than a week.

The British house of commons, last week rejected a motion to abolish capital punishment by a vote of 117 to 62.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., May 12, 1886.

Board met persuant to adjournment.

Present, the president and Trustees More, Chase Bradford, Johnson and Kendrick.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted. Trustree Pardee came in.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the Board directed that orders be drawn for the several amounts:

Geo. F. Sharp, Street Commissioner,		$112.85
S. C. North, Gas for jail,		.90
J. H. Case,	"	.90
"	" street lamps,	132.40
Geo. Johnston, labor and material,		41.03

A petition was presented by A. Rice, Esq., signed by himself and others, asking that the Board take action on the act passed by the Legislature April 24, 1886, establishing a system of sewerage in this village. On motion it was referred to Trustees Kendrick, Pardee, and Chase to report at the next meeting.

Moved and carried that an order be given R. R. Dodge for 1.34 tax eronously assessed on lot 9, block 113.

Bill of John Porter of $4.00 for gravel ordered by late Street Commissioner, was referred to the Committee on Streets.

On motion Trustees Kendrick and the Chief Engineer were appointed a committee to ascertain cost of light hose carts.

On motion Trustees Kendrick, Chase and Bradford were appointed a committee to examine the accounts of the late Street Commissioner.

Committee appointed to examine the charges against Policeman Wilkinson reported that in the offence charged, the Board in their opinion, had no jurisdiction. The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

On motion it was resolved that Firemen in actual service, and those holding certificates for full service be exempted from paying poll tax.

On motion of Trustee Johnson the President was instructed to purchase of the "Gutta Percha & Rubber Manufacturing Co." E.T. Jacobs agent, 500 feet of 3 ply rubber lined fire hose, and 100 feet of ¾-inch rubber hose for engine house at a cost of $400 on three months' time or when taxes sufficient are paid.

Trustee More was appointed a committee to notify Hart Bros. that the cement pipe furnished by them was imperfect and therefore refused, that the Board would load the same on the cars and pay the freight to Syracuse.

On motion the Board adjourned to May 26th at 7½ o'clock p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Real Estate and Insurance AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 3¾ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One centre block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 24 Oneida St. place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Camden, N. Y.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property, to have rents collected or to obtain loans, are invited to call on [illegible]

LUMBER YARD!

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—

Complete Assortment

—OF—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.

—And in fact everything pertaining to a—

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner. Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
aud DUCHESS
Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F.G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs

—AND—

MEDICINES,

a beautiful modern

—SODA FOUNTAIN,—

At a cost of [illegible] on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date. ☞The New Drug Store.

R. C. [illegible]

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button Shoes.

"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe

IN THE COUNTY.

CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4 25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY
[illegible]

[illegible] TIMES

[illegible], Local Editor.

FULTON 'BUS

The Fulton Omnibus will leave the Lewis House [illegible] on the Oswego & Syracuse Railroad by the following time table:

	A. M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
For Syracuse	8:05	11:30	3:25	5:50	7:25
For Oswego	8:05	12:05p.m.	3:25	5:50	7:05

Tickets to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents on sale on the Omnibus.

LEONARD & WILSON, Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express.......................8:28 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express....11:40 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express.......3:47 p. m
Freight and Accommodation.......6:10 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express.....8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express....8:28 a. m.
Day Express..........................12:24 p. m.
Day Express...........................2:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation..........6:10 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.......7:29 p. m.

The 8:28 a. m., and 8:15 a. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] York Day Express.............7:15 a. m
[illegible]ght and Accommodation............8:50 a. m
Norwich Express.............3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express.............9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express.............6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express.............10:58 a. m.
Freight and accommodation.............6:06 p. m.
Oswego Day Express.............9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:24	11:54	5:24
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Miss Cora Jennings is visiting friends in Phœnix.

Charles W. Young has gone to Picton, Ontario, for a short visit.

John Porter of Mexico, spent Sunday in town the guest of J. D. McIntyre.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. S. Becker has been increased by the addition of a daughter.

Harvey Younge of Toronto, formerly of this place, is visiting in town for a few days.

Mr. & Mrs. Livingston Ketchum of Hannibal were in town visiting friends yesterday.

Miss Hattie Bradshaw left this morning for a visit with her sister Mrs. J. B. Overton of New York.

Miss Ella Poole, who has been visiting friends in Cortland for several days, returned home last Thursday.

Miss Grace Smith of Phœnix, who has been engaged in teaching school at Maysville, Pa., was in town last week visiting friends.

If you will buy them of us you can save from 25cts. to $1.00 on every pair of Shoes. Call and see our goods and we will prove it to you.

Salmon Shoe Store,
Opera House Block.

If you are in want of lumber, laths, shingle, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters, window or door frames, or anything pertaining to building, you will find it to your interest to call at McCully's Planing Mill. 1tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

Crackers, four pounds for 25 cents, at the Vienna Bakery on First street. 36tf

If you have got to buy any hard wood, now is your time to get it cheap. 3 cords $5.50, 2 cords $3.75, 1 cord $2.00, Leave orders at Harness shop, or McCully's planing mill. 52tf

Ask for the Ladies' combination shoes at Collins'. tf.

Until Nine O'clock.

The Millinery Department at F. E. Bacon's will be open on WEDNESDAY evening until 9 o'clock for the next four weeks for the benefit of those persons who find it impossible to reach the store Saturday or Monday evenings.

May 12, 1886.

Pasturing, hemlock lumber, seed corn, seed potatoes and pigs for sale.

1tf J. C. WELLS.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

Never buy clothing because it is cheap. The shapeless, baggy, ill-fitting clothing ordinarily sold is expensive at any price. See advertisement of "T. C. & Co." clothing.

Look at the size of Red Cross Cough Syrup bottle at Williams. 39m3

Last Sunday [illegible] [illegible] church was [illegible] filled with people to listen to Rev. Father Early, who was to deliver a sermon upon temperance. Two Father Matthew societies about 100 strong, which Father Early has been instrumental in organizing, were present in a body. The sermon was an unusually strong one, bringing tears to the eyes of many of the audience. Father Early is a devoted friend to the temperance cause, is an earnest and tireless worker and is doing a great and good work.

After mass Father Kearney made an announcement that he had received a letter from Bishop McNierney of Albany, stating that Father Early was to be removed to other fields of labor. Father Early has acted as assistant priest of this parish for several months, and during that time has won the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. The announcement that he was to be removed was received by tearful eyes and downcast faces throughout the entire congregation. In commenting upon the subject after the close of his sermon, Father Early stated that he understood that a letter had been written to the bishop stating that the parish was unable to pay the salaries of the priest and assistant priest. Father Kearney protested that he had not written to the bishop and knew nothing of the contemplated removal until he received the letter.

In the afternoon a meeting was held in Johnson's hall, Oswego Falls, for the purpose of taking steps of asking the bishop to reconsider his action. The meeting was largely attended, some four hundred persons being present. A committee of twelve was appointed to select three delegates to go to Albany and present the case to the bishop, acting in conjunction with one delegate from each of the Father Matthew societies from Fulton and Oswego Falls. Patrick Cullen, Joseph LaLonde and A. S. Culkins were chosen delegates. The committee went to Albany Monday morning and stated their case to the bishop, who said he would consider the question. Last night word was received that the bishop had changed his decision and that Father Early would remain, for the present at least, as assistant priest of this parish.

OBITUARY.

"Hattie Wilcox is dead." On Saturday morning last the community was shocked by the sad news of Hattie Wilcox's death, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. L. Wilcox. The announcement gave a pang to many a heart, for she was beloved by a wide circle of friends. Her life was pure and sweet. Like a beautiful vision it came, then vanished in the upper air, borne away by swift winged angels, back to the regions of light and glory, where sickness, sorrow and death are all unknown. Cultured, refined and crowned with all the womanly graces, her life is a rich treasure enshrined in the hearts of all who knew her.

Why weep? We pluck the fairest flower
That grows within the golden bower
Nor ask its comrades what they say
To stealing their young friend away.

God's will be done, an angel hand
Came softly from a mystic land
It pulled the flower, my tear dimmed eyes
Unconscious turned toward paradise.

Methought I heard an angel sing
"All glory to our Lord and King."
Me thought—oh, glorious, envied fate,
A soul has entered Heaven's gate.

Oh, wherefore weep? Is earth more fair
Are sorrow, sin and toil and care
More God-like than the peace and love
That reigns within the land above.

* * *

Joel W. Crosby, one of the oldest residents in this vicinity, died last Monday afternoon at his home in Lower Oswego Falls, at the age of 76 years. Mr. Crosby's health has been poor for a year or more and for several months he has been confined to the house. The deceased was born in Litchfield, N. Y. in 1810. At the age of five years his parents moved to this section, and up to the time of his death he has resided in this immediate vicinity. For many years he lived just east of the village at the top of the hill which bears his name. He leaves a widow and two sons, J. Crosby of Syracuse and T. J. Crosby of Baldwinsville. Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock from the house, Rev. W. D. Chase officiating. The remains were interred at Mt. Adnah.

We regret to learn that the eldest son of Dr. Tuttle, who was born in this village, James Chesbro Tuttle, engaged in business in Indianapolis, died on Sunday, the 9th inst. He was in the prime of young manhood, and leaves a widow and one child. The father and the surviving wife have the tenderest sympathy of all who knew him. He was stricken down suddenly about the middle of April.

"Ah, well! for us all, some sweet hope lies,
Deeply buried from human eyes;
And in the hereafter angels may Roll the stone from the grave away."

W.

P-A-R-A-S-O-L-S

—:o:—

JUST RECEIVED

Direct from the manufacturers, a large and Elegant Line of

Parasols & Sun Umbrellas

which we shall offer at prices that will be sure to please our customers.

SPECIAL DRIVE.

—:o:—

4 Button Kid Gloves, new colors, good quality, only 50 cts a pair. We have also the celebrated "Foster patent" Lace Gloves and the leading makes. Rare bargains in Lisle and Silk Gloves, Lace Mitts for Ladies and Children, in all colors at about half what they cost last year. In

C-O-R-S-E-T-S

We carry 18 different makes therefore can suit the most particular.

Yours for bargains

[illegible]

THEY MUST BE SOLD.

One Hundred and Fifty Pairs of Ladies' Kid Goat and Diagonal Cloth Top Button for less than the first cost to Manufacture, at

NETTLETON'S.

Tennis and Bicycle Shoes at Collins'.

Geddis is now a part of the city of Syracuse.

Mrs. A. K. Ney is confined to the house by illness. Dr. Leo is attending her.

The Harness Soap manufactured by Christopher Powells is pronounced to be the best.

J. C. Tucker requests the person who borrowed his small claw-hammer to return it.

Oswego Falls voted last week to raise $1,000 for the purchase of hose and hose carriages for the use of their village.

Another car load just received. For the lowest prices on stone or cement pipe or tile call at Hart Bros'. pottery.

S. Becker has sold his well-known cream horse "Dandy" to D. Stevenson of New York. Consideration $250.

Do not fail to see the greatest musical event of the season, Camilla Urso, at Stephens opera house next Monday evening.

Friday evening, May 21st, the C. L. S. C. will meet at the home of the Misses Wright, corner of Fifth and Highland streets.

Miss Margaret Mather will appear at the Academy of Music, Oswego, on next Wednesday evening in "Lady of Lyons."

The "Saved Clown" is assisting the Salvationists at Central Square. It is said that he at one time traveled with Forepaugh's circus.

A grand ball is to be held in Johnston's Hall, Oswego Falls, Friday evening, 28, under the auspices of the Father Matthew T. A. B. society.

At a recent Methodist conference held in Fulton, N. Y., a resolution was passed condemning tobacco chewing, and ministers given to the weed are chewing on it now.—[Texas Siftings.

Greatest musical event of the season. The Camilla Urso Grand Concert Co. at Stephens opera house, next Monday evening. A good reserved seat can be secured at Watson's for 50 cts.

Chas. E. Carpenter who was elected foreman of the newly organized Baker Hose Company at Oswego Falls served nine years as a member of Hose Company No. 1 in this village. He will make an effective officer.

The N. Y. O. & W. have issued a nicely printed and handsomely illustrated pamphlet with the title "Summer Homes." It is designed to inform people of the advantages possessed by the beautiful villages and towns along their road and to build up a summer trade.

The little son of Henry Wilson, the baker, was knocked down by the Lewis house delivery wagon in front of the alley way of the hotel yesterday afternoon. This is the second instance of the kind during the past few weeks. More caution should be used in driving through the alley way.

Hi Henry and his minstrel troop arrived in town last Saturday forenoon in their own car which is elaborately constructed and arranged so as to accommodate all who are connected with the troupe. In the evening a large audience was present at the opera house to witness the performance, and it gave universal satisfaction. Hi Henry is always assured of a good house when he visits Fulton.

At a meeting of the officers of the Oswego Falls agricultural Society, held at the office of Howe & Rice last Monday it was decided to erect a new building on the grounds for the exhibition of fruits, flowers, vegetables, etc. D. H. Gilbert is drawing the plan which will then be submitted to the society. The new building will be 34x80 feet and will be a handsome addition to the fair grounds.

Sunday morning about one o'clock several policemen made a raid upon "Toby" Burden's saloon and arrested him for keeping open on Sunday. An attempt was made to arrest five men who were in the saloon, but only one of them was locked up with Burden. Three of the policemen allowed the men to escape, but Geo. Montague and Stephen Pegdon cooped a man named Barry and Burden. Burden has had the reputation of keeping a disorderly house and keeping it open all times of the day and night.

The Baker Hose Company was organized at Oswego Falls last Thursday. Thirty-one persons joined the company and the following officers were elected: E. M. Baker was elected Pres.; John Crahan Vice Pres.; Chas. Carpenter Foreman; A. Murphy 1st Asst.; W. Parker 2nd Asst. Foreman; F. W. Betts Secy. protem. Chas. Dexter was elected Treas.; A. C. Culkins, Chief; J. W. Stevenson, Secy.

The second meeting of the company is to be held this evening.

MANY PERSONS suffering from liver Cough have imagined themselves victims of Consumption, but have been entirely restored to health by means of Warner's safe cure.

Try Red Cross Cough Syrup, 25cts. at 39m3 M. M. WILLIAMS.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Trunks and satchels. The largest and best assortment in the country at W. McCully's.

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, Lead, Lime, Alabastine, &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. WILLIAMS' Drug Store.

LOST.

A bunch of small flat keys, between Second and First streets. The finder will [illegible]

Margaret Mather.

A large and select audience witnessed "The Lady of Lyons" as presented at the opera house last evening. The play is an old one and one that is frequently "murdered" by amateurs and third class performers, but while it is produced by a first-class company, as it was last evening, it will retain a high position in public favor. Margaret Mather, as an actress, has received the highest commendation from the ablest critics. She has secured the high position which she holds by devoted attention to her profession, careful training and patient study. Although she has not been before the public as long as some of her contempories, as Fanny Davenport, Maggie Mitchell, Mary Anderson, Clara Morris, Sara Bernhardt, Modjeska, Rhea and others she is considered equal to any of them. The people of Fulton are to be congratulated on having had an opportunity to see this talented actress in our own village and one or two entertainments of this high order during the season can be sustained.

"The Balcony Scene."

There was at least one happy and contented couple in the opera house last night if there were no other. Up stairs in as prominent a place as could be found in the house, with their heads so close together that it was difficult to tell which was which, sat a young and guileless couple, he conspicuous by the black cotton gloves he wore and she by her huge fan, utterly oblivious of the fact that they were attracting almost as much attention as the people on the stage. At one time it was a disputed question among the amused audience whether they occupied one or two chairs, and a score of opera glasses were leveled at them, but they, effectually hidden behind the fan, knew it not. It would have been a blessing to them if some one could have opened an umbrella and kindly dropped it over them.

Decoration Day.

Decoration Day will be appropriately observed in this village on Monday, May 31st, under the auspices of Post Schenck G. A. R. The exercises will be held in the opera house at 2 o'clock, p. m., Rev. Dempster Chase delivering the address. A memorial sermon will be preached on Sunday evening, the 30th inst., in the Baptist church by Rev. J. C. Breaker. At a meeting of Post Schenck held last week, the following committies were appointed:

On music—James Hoff.
Flowers—G. V. Emens, Chas. Hewitt, John Distin.
Decoration of Graves—A. Laws, M. Crahan.
Decoration of Hall—C. Murphy, S. Buck, J. R. Loomis.
Finance—N. H. Gilbert, J. F. Cooper, J. R. Loomis.
Carriages—A. Osborn.
Mt. Pleasant cemetery—Z. B. Austin, V. Rowlee, Geo. Kellogg.

James Dyer Sentenced.

James Dyer, who was recently arrested here and taken to New Jersey, charged with an assault with an attempt to commit rape, has been found guilty, was last Wednesday sentenced to six months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $200 and costs, which amounts to about $70 more.

"English, You Know."

Yesterday a letter was received at the post office in this city, from England addressed to "John Kent Horse Wiggers Falls, Horse Wiggers county, State of New York." Now, see what an advantage it is to have an astute mailing clerk in the post office. This official, after a moment of puzzled thought, made the mystery plain. He decided that the intent of the writer of the letter was to have it go to Oswego Falls, Oswego county, N. Y. and he sent it there.—[Palladium, Monday.

It is also an advantage to have an editor, postmaster, as the public may occasionally hear of the hieroglyphical addresses that sometimes appear on letters.

ANTI-BONDERS.

The People Refuse to Bond Their Homes to Buy a Suit of Clothes.

The recent special election in this city indicated how strongly opposed to bonding are the citizens. They oppose it on the ground that they are not sure of getting; and if obtained, the quality of which would be so bad as to render it unfit for use. These are very sensible reasons for refusing to bond, and the same principle holds good in regard to the buying of any other commodity or article, such as clothing, etc. The people object to bonding their homes just to buy a suit of clothes and then not have assurances that they are what they want or what they are recommended to be. They like to buy where they can obtain a good suit at a price that will not compel them to mortgage their house and lot. It has become pretty generally known among clothing buyers, however, that the place to get good clothing at fair prices is at the old reliable house of Kent & Miller, 18 and 20 South Salina street. The stock which they offer to select from is so large and so varied, both in quality, style and prices, that the most exacting is sure to find everything right and satisfactory. This spring particularly are they prepared to supply every person wishing to buy clothes. It will pay to visit their mammoth emporium and look at the offerings.

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCULLY.

Oswego steam laundry goods delivered twice a week. C. W. BLOUNT, 2tf 34 First St. Fulton.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. [illegible] & CO.
[illegible]

Large audiences witnessed Forepaughs circus in Syracuse Monday.

The grass has been cut and rolled on the lawn tennis ground in the park.

Rev. J. C. Breaker exchanged pulpits with Rev. C. A. Stowe of Central Square last Sunday.

The street sprinkler made its appearance on the street Monday. Nothing was more needed.

A Phœnix man recently sold two teams in New York; one for $1,500 and the other for $900.

Good meals at all hours can be had at John Tyler's Temperance House, corner Second and Cayuga streets.

THE TIMES is under obligations to Geo. L. Smith of Wellington, Kansas, for copies of St. Louis and Wellington papers.

The employes of the knitting mill at Baldwinsville will hold a picnic and excursion to Frenchman's Island, Oneida lake, on Saturday, May 22.

The orchestra, at the Mather performance last evening, was composed of musicians from Baldwinsville, who played in a very acceptable manner.

The sun struck a snag, or an iceberg floated into the Oswego canal from the solar regions, or Dr. Calthrop's cold wave reached us on Sunday.

Will the person who borrowed Dr. Woodbury's revolver to shoot cats, return the same, if the feline race in his neighborhood is now extinct.

Foster Bros., knife manufacturers of Lower Oswego Falls, are building an extensive addition to their establishment, which will be used as a tempering room.

J. M. Williams of the Phœnix Register went to Washington with the New York State editor's excursion. He also extended his trip to Natural Bridge, Virginia.

Father Early preached a sermon in French and English at the occasion of the organization of a Sodality of the children of Mary at St Louis church Oswego last Sunday evening.

"The Star of the Evening" Madam Camilla Urso will appear at Stephens opera house on Monday evening, May 24. To all lovers of music this will be a treat that they may seldom have the pleasure of enjoying.

We understand that several prominent young ladies of Fulton are contemplating going upon the minstrel stage. They were practicing in the opera house on a recent evening and evinced an incredible amount of talent and agility.

Mr. Merrill of New York has been looking over the field at Phœnix with a view to introducing a system of water works. It is thought that an abundant supply of water can be obtained from a spring near the village. The matter is being canvassed and will be submitted to the village board at an early date.

Two representatives of the Cortland fire department were in town Monday to complete arrangements for an excursion from that place June 12th. The fair ground was secured and it is expected that a game of ball will be played between clubs from Cortland and Fulton. Racing, dancing and other amusements will be the order of the day.

A meeting was held in Lower Oswego Falls last Saturday evening for the purpose of organizing a hose company for for that section of the town. The company was partially organized as follows: Marvin Thompson, secretary pro tem: A. E. Keller president; Frank Sears first assistant foreman; Ed. Waugh second assistant foreman. Another meeting will be held to-morrow evening to complete the organization.

The following gleaned from the Leader will be of interest to the acquaintances and friends of James H. Tuttle who was pastor of the little brown church on Second street, being its first minister, after it was repaired and remodeled about the winter of 1849 and 1850; many and sacred are the memories that cluster around this kind good man and his loving wife. He was much beloved by his society. He was married while here and his eldest son James was born in this place. Rev. J. T. Tuttle removed to Rochester and afterward to Minnesota. His most amiable wife died in Berlin, Germany, where her second son, George was attending school, some fourteen years since, Mrs. Tuttle's remains were brought to Chicago where they now rest. Dr. Tuttle has remained a widower since.

Men's two buckle Kip Plow Shoes $1.00 per pair at Collins'. tf.

Tickets for sale at Watson's drug store for the world renowned Camilia Urso Concert Co., on Monday evening next. A good reserved seat for this great event, only 50 cts.

FOR CULTIVATORS,
HORSE HOES,
Sulky and Revolving
Horse Rakes
and the U. T. K. Corn Planter, go to
Snow & Loomis', 7 First Street,
who are selling lower than ever this year.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. R. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectic Physician,

will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, May 29, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All [illegible]

[illegible]

(Special to the Times.)

The prime event of the week was the trial of H. W. Jaehne the first of the indicted Aldermen on a charge of betraying his official trust in receiving $20,000 for his vote in favor of the Broadway franchise. The trial has excited a great deal of attention among all classes of citizens, while his aldermanic companions have trembled at their own possible fate. The remarkable fact in connection with the trial is the singular coincidence that the Judge on the bench was one of the prosecuting attorneys in the Tweed trial.

The trial of an official for mis-conduct or bribery, especially that of so important a one as an Alderman, has not burdened the courts since the days of Tweed in 1872. Then there was Noah Davis, District Attorney with S. J. Tilden and William C. Barrett as assistants. The suppression of that ring sent Davis and Barrett to the Supreme Court bench, Samuel J. Tilden to the Governor's chair. At this trial of Jaehne, Barrett sat on the bench, and it will be to the General Term over which Noah Davis presides that the appeal of this case will be taken.

The trial of Tweed and of such political criminals of his stripe has taught the administrators of justice a lesson. In those days, jury fixers were conspicuously present, and upon two occasions was justice miscarried through their efforts. The king of jury fixers an attache of the sheriff's office.

During the week the jury in the Jaehne trial has been constantly under the guard of the court officers, not being permitted to go to their homes or to hold conversation with anybody. From 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. each day, since last Monday, they listened to the evidence, the addresses of the counsel, the charge of the judge. On Saturday night at 11 p. m., they were dismissed to consider the verdict. Two hours were spent in consultation, and on Sunday morning at 1 a. m., a verdict of guilty was rendered, which, if upheld on appeal, will send Jaehne to state prison for five years and possibly a fine in addition. During the trial not only has this alderman's case been in the balance, but the District attorney's office has been under trial. The verdict of the jury is a vindication of justice in the case of the guilty alderman; at the bar of public opinion the public prosecutor has his triumphant acquital of showing any favor to his former political friend and associate.

I want to say something of the personnel of those connected with the case. Judge Barrett is a Supreme Court Justice, having 13 years yet to serve. He is a great stickler for his official dignity and knows the law. In the many motions made by the defense for the dismissal of the indictment on the ground of improperly drawn panels &c. the judge's opinion came quickly and correctly. His manner on the bench is that of a man who wishes to dispense justice equitably, and, indeed, such is the case, for his decisions are rarely reversed. Long hours in court and rapidity in the dispatch of business is characteristic of this Judge.

Jaehne was defended by John Graham, Gen. Pryor and Richard Newcombe. The first two are generally known. Graham defies the court usage and frequently the stern warning of the court came, which brought profuse apologies from Graham. His peculiarity is his honesty of purpose to protect his client, no matter what may occur. Newcombe is related by marriage to ex-Judge Cordoza, the corrupt ring judge, who was impeached and driven from the Supreme Court bench. Newcombe studied law in Cordozia's office, and being naturally bright, it is not strange he is so successful. Perhaps no young lawyer knows more political and social secrets than Newcombe.

One thing more—The defense held the theory that bribery might be a sort of technical crime with no actual fault committed against the letter or spirit of the law. Upon this point Judge Barrett expressly called the jury's attention to its falsity.

The trial is memorable, and the scene in the court room during the last hours was impressive indeed. The guilty alderman worth $200,000, gained by selling his vote to promoters of railroad schemes has his reward. The hope is that the other indicted ones will be similarly dealt with.

⁂

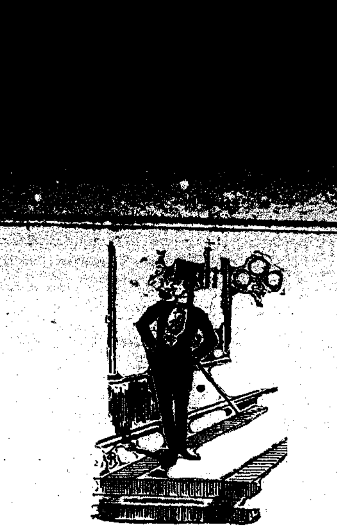
The hotel keepers have had their convention. They have been feasted and toasted, have visited the objects of interest, discussed the technicalities of their business, and it is presumed went home pleased with their New York experience. New York has, perhaps, more than 500 hotels. On Broadway between 14th and 42d streets are about 40 hotels besides the noted restaurant of Delmonico. Hotel property is paying property. The Fifth Avenue pays a rental of $200,000. The building belongs to Amos R. Eno, and is valued at $2,000,000. One of the stores on the first floor is occupied by the Second National Bank of which Eno's son John was president, and which he robbed of a million. To pay this Eno put a mortgage of a million on the hotel property. The Fifth Avenue hotel has always been the resort for Republican politicians. Many prominent men have been entertained at this hotel. All the presidents from Lincoln to Cleveland, prominent Senators and public men of the nation the Fifth Avenue has entertained. Hotels here have specialties. The Brevort has a reputation for its coffee. The Brunswick caters to the caprices of the English and French tourists. The Hoffman is the Democratic headquarters, and its special attraction is its barroom, fitted up at a cost of more than $300,000 containing pictures and statuary of great value. The Windsor on the Fifth Avenue is the resort of the Wall street financiers. Any evening one can hear there the discussions of the business of the street, and many a scheme is here cooked up for the formation of a pool to fleece the lambs. Within a very short distance of this hotel, live the leaders of the street. Gould lives on the next corner above, Sage, Vanderbilt, Depew, Connor, Cammanck, all live within easy distance and these men, when any special disaster is impending, can prevent it by coming to the rescue. When Vanderbilt died so suddenly, that evening all Wall street was at the Windsor. A panic in prices was prevented by these men agreeing to come to the rescue of the market in case any great decline in stocks took place.

The New York Hotel caters to the southern trade. Before the war Hiram Cranston ran this hotel. Many of the guests were southern men, and when during the war many from the south came there, he made them welcome. The kindness was not forgotten by the southern people and to-day it is largely occupied with southern guests. Cranston of those days was fond of stories and with Sam Ward, the noted epicure and lobbyist and a few boon companions, they told stories over some dish of Ward's concoction. The present proprietor is the elder Cranston's nephew. He owns a farm in Rensselaer county and that provides him with the fresh food for his hotel.

⁂

I am reminded in the sudden death of Woershoffer at the age of 47, that the magnates of Wall street are not blessed with long life. It is a little peculiar that in financial circles, brilliant manipulation of the market and high pressure stock dealing is short lived. In fifteen years, Wall street has had no less than five kings of meteoric brilliancy; Keene, Fisk, Vanderbilt, Marvin, Seeney. All except Vanderbilt have lost all or nearly all. Vanderbilt left $10,000,000 for the street and it is whispered that it was through Jay Gould's influence. Woerishoffer has been of late years a very strong man in the market. He came here in 1867, from Paris where he held a clerkship,—dabbled successfully in stocks and his holdings during the last few months have been 150,000 shares daily. He controlled about twenty seats in the exchange. His death leaves his widow the possessor of from seven to ten million dollars.

WANDERER.



He Smiles.

A man usually smiles when he is well pleased, and what is more pleasing to a man than to be well fitted in a neat, stylish, well modeled suit of clothes, and to learn that the price is about one-half what he would have to pay for anything equally as good at a custom tailor's. He smiles as he pays for them. He smiles as he tells his friends where he was fortunate enough to find such clothes. He is literally deluged in smiles as he exhibits to his wife or perhaps, his to-be wife, and receives her commendation. If he is a family man he smiles as he dresses his youthful offspring in one of our perfect fitting suits.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

Caused by a Fall.

RAYMOND, Miss., Aug. 13, 1886.—Four years ago from a fall from my carriage, my kidneys and bladder became badly diseased. Physicians said my recovery was impossible. Took seven or eight bottles of Warner's safe cure, and it has saved my life.—ANNA CARLOP.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. J. W. Crosby desires to extend her heartfelt thanks to her neighbors and friends who so kindly and generously assisted her during the illness of her late husband, also to the choir who assisted at the funeral.

Misses and Children's fine quality spring heel shoes at Collins'. tf.

Ladies' friend carpet sweeper for sale at N. R. Cole's, Oneida street.

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

SHEEP TOOTH FODDER CORN.

Choicest for Seed, wholesale and retail, price $1.00, small lots $1.12 per bushel. Also the twelve rowed Dutton Seed Corn in the ear at 50c. per bushel of ears. Very choice at Genesee Mills.

May 12th, '86. 1w4.

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Red Cross Cough Syrup is a sure cure, Sold by Williams. 39m3

MILTON S. PRICE,

38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets.

THE MOST EXTENSIVE

DRY GOODS, CARPETS

—AND—

FURNITURE,

Establishment in the State,

Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.

COME AND SEE

the Finest and Most Complete Stock of

Dry Goods & Fancy Goods

ever shown in this section.

COME AND SEE.

THE IMMENSE STOCK OF

CARPETS, RUGS OIL CLOTHS, Etc.

COME AND SEE

THE FINE DISPLAY OF

FURNITURE

AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES

at prices far below competion.

FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

BARGAINS

NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.

REMEMBER

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON.

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

HART BROS.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify. Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c.& $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
GermanCornRemover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

For the Next 30 Days

D. C. MORE & CO.

—Will offer unusual Inducements—

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

to buyers of Ready Made Clothing, for either Men's Youths' Boys' or Children's wear. We have the largest and

MOST DESIRABLE STOCK IN FULTON,

and it is to reduce our unusual large stock that we propose to make the prices so low that everyone needing Clothing will buy. We do not make this announcement for the sole and only purpose of deceiving customers but will confirm our statements with our goods and prices.

Remember this you will only find these Bargains with

D. C. MORE & CO.

DON'T MISS [illegible]

The Reliable Dealers in [illegible] Hats, Gents Furnishings [illegible]

DON'T MISS [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.
Wednesday, May 19, 1886.

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE!

We have made arrangements by which from now until the first of June persons can secure one year's subscription to THE FULTON TIMES and the American Agriculturist for $2.00. Every farmer should subscribe for a good agricultural journal. We, therefore, make the above offer, considering the American Agriculturist to be the best magazine for farmers that is published in America. That our present patrons may have the benefit of this offer, we will allow them the same by paying one year's advance subscription to THE TIMES, and 75 cents in addition. Send in your order, or call personally at THE TIMES office. Remember that this offer does not hold good after the first of June.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

100 Columns and 100 Engravings in each issue.

45th YEAR. $1.50 A YEAR.

The oldest and best agricultural periodical in the world. With the May number appears the first of a series of engravings of the Houses of our Farmer Presidents. The engravings are presented to all subscribers to the American Agriculturist as they appear.

One year's subscription to the American Agriculturist with its engravings together with one year's subscription to THE TIMES may be had for $2.00.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Worth Knowing.

Try new varieties of seed corn, but don't give up your own until you have proof that there is something better.

Never let a calf go hungry because it will not drink cold milk. If you have not time or patience to warm the milk sell the calf to some one who will do it.

At least one of the family fruit trees should be a pear tree. It will bear fruit every year, will outlive the oldest inhabitants, and yield the family a supply of luscious fruit.

Tar paper makes a good lining for a hen house. In tar paper there is a good, healthy odor, which cleans the air of the interior; and is something that lice do not like to crawl on or smell; it is not expensive.

At the Canadian Experimental Station it has been determined that feeding timothy without much clover had a tendency to dry the flow of milk in winter.

A litter of pigs farrowed in spring or summer grows rapidly if at pasture, because the green food keeps the pig's digestion good, and enables it to get full benefit from any food that may be eaten.

The natural life of the sheep is shorter than any other domestic animal. Five or six years is the limit of practical usefulness, though valuable breeding ewes may be kept one or two years longer.

Care should be used in feeding grain to thin sheep, that more injury does not accrue than good. Their digestive organs are weakened by lack of sufficient nourishment previously, and an excessive amount of rich food will over-tax their capabilities and entirely break down their systems.

There is a belief common among gardeners that peas planted four inches deep will do better than if set two inches deep. It is probable, however, that the the cases where the deep planted peas did better depended for success on some other incident that was overlooked. We do not think the benefit of deep-planting pots is beyond dispute.

Much time on every farm is spent in doing small jobs, and if proper conveniences for these are not furnished, the time wasted is so much clear loss. A good farmer will try to have stock, grain roots, with water all under one roof. This enables him to do the work with the least possible labor, and gives more time for necessary improvements.

The following general rules will apply in the selection of calves to be raised for dairy cows: The head should not be overlarge, the neck thin rather than thick, and the skin possessing a soft feel that can be judged by an expert. Look to the escutcheon and milk veins. These are as good indications of character as the pedigree.

Prof. Blount does not advise sowing timothy and red clover together, since they do not ripen together, but advises the mammoth variety as ripening nearer with the red clover. It must be remembered, however, that the mammoth clover is not relished by stock, except hogs, on account of the size of the stalks. It has come to be scarcely cultivated east of the Mississippi.

The importance of our agricultural interests can in no way be more clearly set forth than by the official figures of our export trade. For several years past agricultural productions have averaged about 76 per cent. of the total domestic exports, and last year amounted to a total of $546,244,733. Of this sum $127,000,000 came from animals and their products, and $160,000,000 from breadstuffs. The sum received for our agricultural exports represents but 10 per cent. of the total farm productions of the country, the other 90 per cent. going to feed our own people.

Mixed clover and timothy, cut early, make the best hay, and is to be chosen first of all. Little is gained by running it through a feed-cutter. Corn fodder, cut just as the corn is glazing and housed as soon as cured, is very fair feed. The corn must be taken off or rats and mice will work great mischief to it. Well-fed milch cows will eat little more than the leaves. They can be starved into eating stalks, and all at the expense of two-thirds of a full yield of milk. If cut very short with a feed-cutter, wetted and well seasoned with meals, finely chopped roots, and slightly salted, they will eat it all. In this way it is very useful in the absence of good hay. The meals and roots supply the principal milk-producing elements, and the cut fodder, the bulky material, necessary to a [illegible]. Experience has [illegible]

[illegible] the Pasture.

The pasture is usually one broad stretch of land, all of which is constantly accessible to the stock confined. Not one pasture in a hundred perhaps, is divided so as to give the animals only a portion at a time. No one who has ever tried it or observed the effects of such an arrangement, can doubt the benefits of change of pasture. It is a benefit to the pasture itself, and a still greater benefit to the stock. Its effects may not be quite so noticeable on young stock turned out to pick a living; but upon milch cows that have to do more than simply hold their flesh, it is altogether different. A change of pasture works wonders with them. In fact, the flow of milk cannot be kept up without an occasional change of pasture, unless, indeed, there be so extensive a range that only a small portion of it can be touched. Take a pasture of say two acres to the cow, which is about the average. It will be kept continually fouled over, trodden and picked from end to end every day.

Constantly close-picked pasture land is the first to suffer from drouth. It has but scant growth to protect its roots from the hot sun and drying winds. It has no rest from the time the stock is turned on in the spring until taken off in autumn. It cannot produce well under this treatment and is injured as pasture land.

How much better to keep a portion of it at rest; or rather, give it all a rest in turn. By dividing it, each portion could have a chance to rest and freshen up alternately. The stock could be kept in one part for two or three weeks and then turned into the other. A piece of grass land that is not trodden or fouled over for two weeks in the growing season, picks up wonderfully. The rains wash it off clean, and the grass gets a nice start so that when the animals are turned in again it is like the first spring picking.

It does not cost much to divide the pasture that is already fenced about. A very few dollar's outlay in labor, money or both, will do it. The actual money gain in a single season will usually more than equal the expenditure. It is a wonder that our pastures stand so well under the treatment that they get.—[W. D. Boynton, in Our Country Home.

A swine-breeder says that in weaning pigs there is something more to be considered than simply taking them away from their mother. They should be weaned gradually, so as not to get any stunt or set-back. To take pigs away before they have been taught to eat gives them a check for about two weeks. Feeding them in a separate place to which they have access will accustom him to eating.

IT IS THE undivided opinion of the medical world that rheumatism is caused by the acid condition of the blood, the taking of cold, exposure to inclement weather being merely the occasion of its development in some part of the body. Its especial liking is for the joints and the sciatic nerve. When inflammatory, it attacks the entire muscular system, and is very dangerous; painful at all times, dangerous to many, the person who is afflicted with it should give himself prompt treatment with Warner's safe cure and Warner's safe rheumatic cure, two remedies which have no equal in the world for clearing the system of the acid elements which are the only causes of the rheumatic condition.

Philosophy of the Forehead.

A very retreating forehead which is low and shallow usually accompanies want of intellect. If slightly retreating, or what appears to be retreating from the fullest of the forms over the eyes, it signifies imagination, susceptibility, wit and humor.

Slow persons with dull intellect have very projecting foreheads.

Perpendicular foreheads, rather high and well rounded at the temples, rarely fail to go with solid understanding, powers of concentration and love of study.

A low, arched forehead, which is full at the temples, is indicative of sweetness and sensitiveness, and when combined with great fullness over the eyes gives an impressionable, idealistic nature.

High, narrow, wholly unwrinkled foreheads, over which the skin is tightly drawn, show weakness of will power and a lack of imagination and susceptibility.

Foreheads not entirely projecting, but having knotty protuberances give vigor of mind and harsh, oppressive activity and perseverance.

Persons possessing poetic, ardent and sensitive natures not unfrequently have a blue vein forming the letter "Y" in an open, smooth and low forehead.

Perpendicular wrinkles between the eye-brows, when of equal lengths, signify anger, but if the wrinkles are of unequal lengths they show deep thought and concentration.—[Phila. News.

Gentle Spring.

Among the preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other diseases. The best spring medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

Richest Subject of the Czar.

Russia has some very rich men. Herr Steiglitz, a great Russian land-owner, is worth $20,000,000, and he is the richest individual in the czar's domains, through the Swedish oil kings, the Nodel brothers, own property valued at $400,000,000. They distance the Standard Oil company, their only rival in the petroleum trade.—[Chicago Journal.

A Fussy, Important Little Atom.

There are 1,400,000,000 people living on the planet which we inhabit. And yet there is now and then a man who wonders what the rest of us will do when he dies. There are people in "society" who honestly think that all the world closes its eyes when our set lies down to sleep. There are men who fear to act according to their own convictions, because perhaps ten persons in a crowd of 1,400,000,000 will laugh at them. Why, if a man could only realize every moment, what a bustling, busy, fussy, important little atom he is in all this great ant hill of [illegible] fussy little atoms, every day he would [illegible]

[illegible] in [illegible] the blood, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

St. Peter's cathedral, just finished at Moscow, has five cupolas, and 900 pounds of gold were used in overlaying them. The doors of the temple cost $310,000, and the marble floors $1,500,000.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them, H. C. Giesler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c., he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow

Recently a steamer, the British Queen, sailed from these shores for Liverpool with the first shipment of chemically preserved beef ever sent to England.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The tower of London has been reopened to visitors, after having been closed for more than a year on account of the dynamite explosion.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Two and a half million pounds sterling has been the average value for the past three years of the Kimberly diamond mines in South Africa.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Posesses the remedial power of these two valuable specifics in their fullest degree. Is prepared in a palatable form, easily tolerated by the stomach, and for delicate, sickly children. Emaciation, Consumption and all impoverished conditions of the blood is unequalled by any other remedy. 52w4

The island of Jersey, which is not more than thirteen miles in length and six in breath, possesses nearly 500 miles of road.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," and take no other kind.

The biggest man in Congress is Hon. George Taliaferro Barnes of Georgia. He weighs more than 300 pounds.

TRY IT; IT IS GOOD.

TEXAS SIFTINGS (illustrated), the great Humorous Weekly. The Witty Wonder of the Age. Sold by Newsdealers everywhere; 5 cents a copy Subscriptions price $2.50 a year. Sweet & Knox publishers, Austin, Texas.

Miss Catharine Wolfe gave $45,000 as an Easter gift to Grace church, New York.

BANKERS,

Doctors, Lawyers, Carpenters, Druggists, Engineers, Mechanics, in fact we have recommendations from people in in all stations in life, testifying to the wonderful cures that Sulphur Bitters have effected. Send for testimonials. See another column.

The last slave was sold in Virginia in the spring of 1866 for a hundred head of cabbage plants.

George Campbell, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "Burdock Blood Bitters is the best preparation for the blood and Stomach [illegible]." [illegible]

[illegible]

Among the many symptoms of Dyspepsia or Indigestion the most prominent are: Variable appetite; faint, gnawing feeling at pit of the stomach, with unsatisfied craving for food; heartburn, feeling of weight and wind in the stomach, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, low spirits, general prostration, headache, and constipation. There is no form of disease more prevalent than Dyspepsia, and none so peculiar to the high-living and rapid-eating American people. Alcohol and tobacco produce Dyspepsia; also, bad air, rapid eating, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will cure the worst case, by regulating the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. Sold everywhere.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

JAMES COLE,
The old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH,
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. Address STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY, Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

WANTED.—LADIES to work for us at their own homes. $7 to $10 per week can be quietly made. No photo painting; no canvassing. For full particulars, please address at once. CRESCENT ART COMPANY, 19 Central Street, Boston, Mass. Box 5170.

A BIG OFFER. To introduce them, we will GIVE AWAY 1,000 Self-Operating Washing Machines. If you want one send us your name, P. O. and express office at once. The NATIONAL Co., 21 Dey St., N. Y.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
16 Barclay St. N. Y.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL,
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.
[illegible]

[illegible] charges are [illegible] put against him on account of his [illegible] the code, it is alleged, used the United States flag for a door-mat. An impression is gaining ground in this country that the stars and stripes were devised for other uses than hall rugs and reversed adornments of a socialistic procession.—[Chicago News.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

A special to the Sun from London says, the inevitable defeat of the home rule bill has been acknowledged by the ministers. Mr. Gladstone has been driven to surrender his position, maintaining his exclusion of the Irish members from Westchester by the tremendous opposition by Liberals and Radicals, whose total number is about ninety.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

A Philadelphia printing company has received a contract to print 440,000,000 medical pamphlets and circulars, which amounts to the snug sum of $800,000.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

Thirty million sheep are said to have died in New South Wales within the past three years for want of water.

I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for the last five years. About three years ago I commenced the use of Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only remedy for catarrh I have used with satisfaction, and it has accomplished a cure in my case.—H. L. Myer, Waverly, N. Y.

The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from poisonous drugs and offensive odors. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases where all other remedies have failed. It quickly cures cold in the head and catarrhal headache. Price fifty cents. 51w4

The Lake Ontario Yacht Racing association has decided upon the following dates for regattas:

Belleville, July 30; Kingston, Ont., August 2; Oswego, August 5; Toronto, August 10.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is not extolled as a "cure-all" but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent specific in those chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. Particulars in Dr. Pierce's large treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women, 160 pages, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Rudolph Albrecht's university at Vienna is the largest in Europe. It has 285 professors and 5,221 students.

ALMOST KILLED.

I was almost killed by the doctors, who treated me for bleeding piles. It cost me over $100 without relief. I took Sulphur Bitters for two months, and now I am well.—Gus Hall, Troy, N. Y.

Italy has three locomotive factories and three railway repair shops.

"That tired feeling" from which you suffer so much, particularly in the morning, is entirely thrown off by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Over 22,000,000 lobsters were captured and canned on Prince Edward's Island last year.

EXCITEMENT IN TEXAS.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery he was well and had gained thirty-six pounds.

Trial bottles of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at R. E. Phillips.

The pay roll of Barnum's circus is $7,000 per day.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half a dollar a bottle at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS.
[illegible]

[illegible]
As to a sultry clime he made allusion.

No, alas! he was not praying,
For whatever he was saying
He said, in truth, without mature reflection;
Yes, perhaps he was to blame,
But you'd have done the same,
If a hammer and your thumb had made connection.

RIB SHAKERS.

Clergymen, as a rule, make the worst husbands in the world. Editors rank next. The reasons are that, while editors are away day and night, clergymen are at home night and day.—[Kansas City Times.

Justice.—"Madam, what have you against this man?"

Complainant.—"Well, sir, he tore my dress half off."

"How did he do it, madam?"

"Stepped on my trail, sir, and——"

"Madam, that is impossible. This man is a city detective. He never got on anybody's trail in his life. The prisoner is dismissed."—[Chicago News.

Friend of the Family—"Your daughter draws very well, madam; very well, indeed; but I don't understand why she is putting a dog on the roof of the house."

Disgusted Mother—"Sir, it is not a dog; it is a bird!"—[Texas Siftings.

Neighborly: Smith—That dog of yours keeps me awake nights, bowling. Jones—Why, I have no dog. It must be my daughter singing. Smith—Is that so? Excuse me. I am sorry. I don't suppose she can be shot, eh?—[The Judge.

Husband (impatiently to his wife) I told you I only wanted half a cup of tea and, as usual, you've filled it to the top. Don't you know what half full is? Mother-in-law (grimly)—She ought to by this time.—[Exchange.

La Politesse du Cœur: Mamma (after dinner)—Alice, dear, let us hear your new song. Alice—I'm afraid of disturbing Dr. Schmidt, mamma. Herr Schmidt, waking up,—Ach, do not mind me! I will take myself away from ze room!—[Punch.

"Hello, Johnson," said a printer to a former compositor, "I haven't seen you for a long time." "No," replied Johnson, "an old uncle has left me forty thousand dollars, and now I am like the flowers that bloom in the spring." "How is that?" "I have nothing to do with the case."—[Boston Globe.

They had been talking about the Thomas concert, when he asked: "What do you think of Meyerbeer?" She, who is a Boston girl: "Meyerbeer! Oh, yes. Of course I don't pretend to be a judge in such matters, but I prefer the Malt Extract myself."—[Columbia Spectator.

A Scotch dominie, after relating to his scholars the story of Ananias and Sapphira, asked them "why God did not strike everybody dead who told a lie." After a long silence one little fellow got to his feet and exclaimed: "Because, sir, there wadna be onybody left."—[Boston Post.

"Where are you going, my pretty fair maid?"
"To strike for eight hours, kind sir," she sayed.
"And what is your business, my pretty fair maid?"
"I work at lawn tennis, kind sir," she sayed.
—[Burdette.

The maiden takes a little straw,
A ribbon and a feather,
Some flowers and an eagle's claw,
And sews them altogether.

Each thing in turn she pulls and hauls;
Then jams them all down flat—
Yet the resultant wreck she calls
A lovely summer hat.
—[Burlington Clipper.

The physician likes his cough-fee.—[Whitehall Times.

"We argue from different premises," as the woman said when she dumped her ashes over the fence.—[Pacific Jester.

There is one advantage in having a very talkative wife. It learns a man to listen more patiently to his barber.—[Fall River Advance.

"Dad," said the bad boy, as his parent was about to take him across his knee to administer deserved punishment, "le's arbitrate."—[Texas Siftings.

"Ergo," remarked the professor to his class, after a long pleamble. "Ergo"—then he stopped to take breath. "Well, let ergo," sung out one of the students, and the conclusion was ruined.—[Washington Critic.

"We never see a tear in the eye," says a celebrated writer, "but we are reminded of a warm heart. Or onions."—[St. Paul Herald-Journal.

The funniest thing isn't a frog. The man who said it was never had seen a fat woman try to run.—[Somerville Journal.

It costs $28 a week to feed a circus tiger. At that rate what would the monthly board of a cata-mount to?—[Philadelphia Item.

He.—If a fire was to break out during the performance it would be dreadful. There would be a panic.

She.—Worse than a panic. It would be Japanic.

"Yeddo'nt say so."—[Texas Siftings.

The Smith College girls have organized a society for the protection of birds. larks of the young gentlemen will receive their first attention.

It always casts a gloom over the sky of love to have the young lady's small brother poke his head in the door and yell: "Sue, your other feller's come."—[New Haven News.

Clean Your Face.

BALTIMORE, Md., 1885.—Six months I had a liver disorder. Caused great indisposition, and yellow blotches on my face. Doctor's remedies did me no good. After using Warner's safe cure, I have not one symptom of liver trouble, or a blotch on my face.—H. D. THAYER, 563 Lexington street.

The Eight Hour Law for Her.—"Papa," said the daughter of a large employer of labor, "are you in favor of the eight hour system?"

"Well, daughter," he answered "under certain circumstances I am."

"Oh, I'm so glad," she rapturously exclaimed.

"Why, my dear, why are you so interested?"

"Because, papa, George has been only stopping four hours every evening, and he told me if you favored the eight hour system he need not go home nearly so early. You dear old papa, I'm so glad you are in favor of it," and she threw her soft white arms round his neck and choked off all explanation.

[illegible]

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy or high-colored? IT IS

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life. It has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

CLOTHING

"T. C. & CO." clothing FITS [illegible] has a CUSTOM FINISH [illegible] is MADE TO WEAR. It is [illegible] for being the BEST and CHEAPEST, and is made in ALL SHAPES, ALL SIZES, [illegible] and for ALL A[illegible]

[illegible]

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK,
Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.

37tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD ☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted.
STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y, Boston, Mass
40w1

LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment. Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G. CO.
P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EUREKA FOLDING CANOPY TOP.

Different sizes. Can be attached to nearly all wagons, buggies, phætons and carts. Easily removed. Folds like an umbrella. If you can not get it of your wagon maker or dealer, send for illustrated circular and price list. Agents Wanted everywhere. Mention paper
D. G. BEERS & CO.,
Patentees & Manuf'rs, Newtown, Ct.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

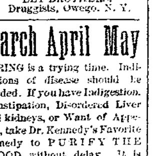
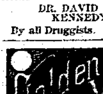
Cleanses the Head. Allays Inflammation. Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste, Smell, Hearing.



A Quick Relief. A Positive Cure.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents by mail or at Druggists. Send for circular.
ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

March April May



SPRING is a trying time. Indications of disease should be heeded. If you have Indigestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver and kidneys, or Want of Appetite, take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to PURIFY THE BLOOD without delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house, and take it with you on journeys. It is cheaper than sickness, and as pleasant as the hand of a friend

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY
By all Druggists. $1; 6 for $5. Rondout, N. Y

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.
[illegible]

[illegible] SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 28th and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September 29th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

CHESBRO, THOMAS W. In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Chesbro, late of the Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, the Citizens National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886, next

Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.

FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

SUPREME COURT—Oswego County. Norman H. Haviland, plaintiff, vs. William H. H. Hutchings, Levi F. Hutchings and Flora May Hutchings defendants. In pursuance of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action and entered in the Oswego county clerk's office April 27th, 1886, I the undersigned to whom it was by said judgment referred to make such sale, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the law office of H. E. Nichols, in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., the lands and premises directed by said judgment to be sold and which are therein described as follows: "All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, and State of New York, being a part of lot 75 of the 15th Township of Scriba's Patent and bounded as follows, viz.: Beginning in the centre of the highway at the south-east corner of land owned and occupied by Martin Parker; thence southerly along the centre of said highway eleven rods; thence westerly in a line parallel with said Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods; thence northerly in a line parallel with said highway eleven rods to Parker's south line; thence along Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods to the place of beginning, containing two (2) acres of land.

Dated April 28, 1886.

A. N. BEADLE,
Sheriff of Oswego County, N. Y.

H. E. NICHOLS,
Pl'ff's Att'y, Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Alice Hethington, Fulton, N. Y., widow; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charlotte Grace Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, heirs at law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. E. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, S. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stowe, R. S. Galt, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other creditors and all persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said decedent, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phœnix, in said county, the 8th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

(L. S.)

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT.

an elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, producing when dissolved in water an Exhilerating, Effervescing Draught, recommended by our best Physicians as a reliable and agreeable remedy. It cures Constipation, cures Dyspepsia, cures Piles, cures Heartburn, cures Sick-Headache, cures Sick Headache, cures Liver Complaint, cures Sick Stomach, and gently urges all the Excretory organs to a proper action. It should be found in every household and be carried by every traveler. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen Exclusive territory Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., Stewart Building, N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

WARNER BRO'S.

CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "Dr. Warner's Coraline" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROS.,
353 Broadway, [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 3

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, MAY 26, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Life.

LINES FROM THIRTY-EIGHT POETS.

Why all this toil for triumphs of an hour?—Young.
Life's a short summer—man is but a flower;—Johnson.
By turns we catch the fatal breath and die.—Pope,
The cradle and the tomb, alas! so nigh.—Prior.
To be is better far than not to be,—Sewell.
Though all man's life may seem a tragedy;—Spenser.
But light cares speak when mighty griefs are dumb—Daniel.
The bottom is but shallow whence they come.—Raleigh.
Your fate is but the common fate of all:—Longfellow.
Unmingled joys can here no man befall;—Southwell.
Nature to each allots his proper sphere.—Congreve.
Fortune makes folly her peculiar care;—Churchill.
Custom does often reason overrule,—Rochester.
And throws a cruel sunshine on a fool.—Armstrong.
Live well—how long or short permit to Heaven.—Milton.
They who forgive most, shall be most forgiven.—Bailey.
Sin may be clasped so close we cannot see its face,—French.
Vile intercourse where virtue has no place.—Somerville.
Then keep each passion down, however dear,—Thomson.
Thou pendulum betwixt a smile and tear;—Byron.
Her sensual snares let faithless pleasures lay.—Smollett.
With craft and skill to ruin and betray.—Crabbe.
Soar not too high to fall, but stoop to rise;—Massinger.
We masters grow of all that we despise.—Crowley.
Oh, then, renounce that impious self-esteem;—Beattie.
Riches have wings, and grandeur is a dream.—Cowper.
Think not ambition wise because 'tis brave.—Davenant.
The baths of glory lead but to the grave.—Gray.
What is ambition? 'Tis a glorious cheat,—Willis.
Only destructive to the brave and great.—Addison.
What's all the gaudy glitter of a crown?—Dryden.
The way to bliss lies not on beds of down.—Quarles.
How long we live, not years but actions tell;—Watkins.
The man lives twice who lives the first well.—Herrick.
Make, then, while yet ye may, your God your friend,—Mason.
Whom Christians worship, yet not comprehend.—Hill.
The trust that's given, guard, and to yourself be just;—Dana.
For live we how we may, yet die we must.—Shakespeare.

—[Brooklyn Magazine.

The Last Salute.

Yes, the ranks are growing smaller
With the coming of each May,
And the beards and locks once raven
Now are mingled thick with gray;
Soon the hands that strew the flowers
Will be folded still and cold,
And our story of devotion
Will forever have been told.

Years and years have passed by, comrades,
Though it seems but yesterday
Since the Blue-garbed Northern legions
Marched to meet the Southern Gray—
But a day since Massachusetts
Bade her soldier boys good-bye—
But a day since Alabama
Heard her brave sons' farewell cry.

Those are days we all remember,
In our hearts we hold them yet;
And the kiss we got at parting,
Who can ever that forget?
And it may have been a mother,
A fond father or a wife,
Or a maid whose love was dearer
To the soldier's heart than life.

Then the silent midnight marches,
And the fierce-fought battle's roar,
And the sailor's lonely watches,
Gone, please God, forevermore;
Though these ne'er can be forgotten
While the dew our graves shall wet,
Yet the color of our jackets
Let each gallant heart forget.

For the ranks are growing smaller,
And though decked in blue or gray,
Soon both armies will be sleeping
In their shelter-tents of clay.
But the loud reverbration
Of the last salute shall be
Oft re-echoed through the ages
As the tocsin of the free!

For we both but did our duty,
In the Great Jehovah's plan,
And the world has learned a lesson
That all men may read who can;
And when gathered for the muster
On the last and dreadful day,
May that God extend his mercy
Sweet alike to Blue and Gray.

THE PICKPOCKET.

MISS Lina Talbot got into a Madison avenue car one morning. Oddly enough, though born and bred in New York, a ride in a street-car was rather a novelty to her. She was the youngest of a large family; rich, petted, pretty, 19, adored by all her family.

She had made her debut in society a year previous, and, thanks to the position of her family, joined to her personal advantages, had shone as a bright, particular star. Yet she often gave the golden youth of Murry Hill cause to complain that, in spite of her honeyed compliments, her beautiful eyes had a dreamy, far-off expression, as puzzling as it was exasperating to their vanity.

For she had a romance, and during these later months it had grown more and more enticing, perhaps in a measure owing to the vigilance with which she guarded it from everybody save her mother. Even Mrs. Talbot, however, was scarcely aware how deep a hold this romance had taken of her darling's fancy.

When Lina was 13 her favorite cousin, Jack Faucett, then a youth of one-and-twenty, had gone out to Brazil, to attend to his father's interest in a business-house, in which that gentleman was a silent partner, and had remained there ever since. He had been very fond of Lina from her babyhood, and, as she grew up rapidly into a tall slip of a girl, whose mental faculties matured with equal precocity, she became Jack's best friend and confidant. Hence, after his departure, what so natural as that she should write frequent and charming letters to him? Time went on, until a photograph, that produced marvellously [illegible] into which she had [illegible] at 17, caused the young gentle[illegible] a [illegible] passion. His [illegible] and their [illegible] an equal rate [illegible] it had [illegible] bly decided to be idle, since the real mischief was evidently already done.

And now Jack was coming home. Coming by the next steamer, which might be expected any day. So it was no wonder that Lina had grown so much more dreamy and abstracted. The night before our story opens she had dreamed of Jack, and her thoughts had been full of him all the morning. So when she stepped into the car and seated herself she was too busy with her own reflections to notice how many admiring or critical glances, according to the sex of the bestowers, were cast upon her.

All at once a lurch of the car sent a young gentleman in front of her, almost to her lap, and she came suddenly out of her abstraction to bow in return for his appologies, and vaguely noticed that he was particularly well-bred and stylish. But she soon forgot all about him, till she was reminded of his existance by his picking up her handkerchief, which she had inadvertently dropped. Then she saw that he was staring fixedly at her. Naturally, she grew annoyed. Then he seated himself beside her, and was forced to sit very close, too, for the car was crowded. But he remained apparently oblivious when the rising of two persons on the opposite side left a space, of which he would have done well to have availed himself. Instead he opened a paper and began to read; yet Lina knew that he was looking at her out of the corner of his eye all the time. She grew indignant; she felt inclined to change her seat, but she disliked to attract attention in that way.

Suddenly, while he still read diligently, his left hand fell to his side, next to her. He raised it immediately, and ostentatiously turned his shoulder toward her, as she made an impatient movement. At the same instant he touched the pocket of her jacket, in which she remembered carelessly to have put her portemonnaie. It was gone.

"He is a thief," she said to herself. There could be no doubt about it. But what should she do? Her first impulse was to call out. Then the dread of a scene flashed across her; he would be arrested; she would be obliged to appear against him; her name would get in the newspapers.

"No, no," she said to herself; "It is better to bear the loss; luckily there, was only $20 in the pocket-book. O, I cannot submit to such an annoyance."

But Miss Talbot possessed a fair share of firmness and determination. She had the end seat; she could speak to the man unobserved. She bent her head toward him, therefore, very slightly, and said, in a tone audible only to his ear:

"You've stolen my portemonnaie, sir. Unless you leave the car this instant, I will order the conductor to have you arrested by the first policeman he sees."

The wretch started, and she thought he was about to jump up and escape. But no; he leaned back in his seat and looked at her—imprudently, as she thought. His assurance rendered her so indignant that she was almost ready to give him into custody, when the conductor shouted:

"Fourteenth street: step lively."

And, as Fourteenth street was the destination to which she was bound, she had to get out.

As she arose, Lina instinctively glanced back at the thief. He had half risen, as if to go out, too But when he saw she was leaving he sank into his seat again.

"How do you do Miss Talbot?" called an acquaintance, stepping to one side of the platform as he got off the other. Then the car dashed on, leaving her to reflect, when too late, that she had done wrong. "She owed it to justice, no matter what the personal annoyance," she said, "to expose the thief."

Meantime, the pickpocket sat perfectly still, mechanically holding his paper, but evidently blind to its contents. But when he heard her name uttered by an acquaintance he repeated it several times to himself.

"Miss Talbot! Miss Talbot!" he said, curiously.

At first he had been angry. For, say what you will, no honest man was ever taken for a thief without feeling angry for an instant. Then he began to be amused. He held up his paper, and behind its screen reflected at leisure.

At Astor Place he rose to leave the car. As he reached the door his neighbor called, aloud:

"You've dropped your pocket-book, sir."

The young man looked back, turned pale, and hesitated for an instant. Then he took it murmered some words of confused thanks, and stepped from the platform.

"After all," he said, she had reason to suspect me. Yet, if we had got up when she spoke, we would have discovered her portemonnaie just under the edge of my coat. It had hidden itself when dislodged from her pocket. How strange!"

Meanwhile, Miss Talbot finished her shopping. Then she walked up Broadway to Twenty-fifth street, and stopped, according to agreement to take lunch with a friend. Of course, you think she told the story of her loss, before even pausing to greet her hostess. Most young women would have done so. But Lina was not like ordinary girls. After lunch she went with her friend to Sarony's where that lady had an appointment to sit for her photograph, and, as there was not only herself but Lina to satisfy, naturally a good deal of time was consumed in the operation.

It was late in the afternoon before Mrs. [illegible] dropped Lina at her own door, that young lady having a [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible] portly mulatto waiter—admitting his young mistress, with his usual profusion of condescending bows, and, if she had not been preoccupied, she might have observed that his eyes were saucer-wide with some astounding intelligence, which he was quivering with eagerness to impart. But before he could close the door and open his puffy lips out of the reception-room flew a tiny lady, with her brown orbs as wide open as Philo's and her whole frame quivering, not only with excitement but with indignation.

"I thought it was your ring, Lina, she cried. "Come in here, quick."

She was as rapid in her movements as a little India-rubber ball. She nearly upset Philo in her swoop, seized Lina, dragged her into the reception-roon, and had the door shut in a thrice, leaving Philo outside, mute and indignant.

Lina, breathless from the haste with which she had been impelled forward, still said coolly, for she knew her elder sister's exciteability:

"What is the matter?"

Matter?" grasped Mrs. Warner, sinking into a chair and uplifting both hands- "You may well ask. And you couldn't guess if you tried incessantly for a whole week. No, not if you were a book holding the answers to all the riddles that were ever invented."

"Then you'd better tell me at once," said Lina, beginning to laugh, as she sat down and united her bonnet-strings deliberately.

"For mercy's sake, don't!" cried her sister, unless you want to drive me out of my senses. "It's hard enough to bear without your making a joke of it."

"If it is sympathy you require, dear," rejoined Lina, "it would be better to explain the reason,"

"Sympathy?" broke in Mrs. Warner with an angry sob. "I declare, Lina, sometimes I am almost ready to beleive you have no natural feeling whatever—not a grain,"

"You are evidently more vexed than grieved," said Lina; so I need not dread that any calamity has befallen the children or mamma—"—

"I do believe mamma is crazy. If she isn't, she'll drive me so," again interrupted Mrs. Warner, with a second sob, louder and angrier than the preceding.

If you presume to think such things, I cannot allow you to say them to me, Anna," returned Miss Talbot, still more coldly than before.

"O, yes, pounce upon me, as if it were my fault. But wait till you hear. There's mamma, not content with knocking a man down in the street, has brought him into the house; and he's upstairs this moment; and the doctor is there; and all this, instead of sending for an ambulance, and getting him to a hospital, as any body else would have done. What do you think of that? O, a nice tale it will make. What will people say? We shall be the laughing-stock of all Murray Hill. There are things society won't submit to even from a woman in mamma's position.

The door opened at this moment, and Philo interrupted the tirade.

"If you please, Miss Lina," he said "your mamma desires de pleasure ob a little conversation in her boodier. And, Mrs. Warner, de doctor is jus' gwine out, if you wish to speak to him."

Away dashed Mrs. Warner, and in the hall caught the departing Esculapius, on whom Lina bestowed a hasty salutation, as she hurried up the stairs.

"What has happened, mamma?" she asked as she entered the luxurious little nest in which her mother sat. "Anna is quite frantic—says you knocked a man down, and with strange inconsistency brought him home, and that all Murray Hill will be aghast at the proceeding."

Mrs. Talbot, whom Lina so closely resembled that one could see just how the girl would look, and how handsome she would still be if she lived to be 50, laughed a little, but said:

"I feel almost as crazy as Anna, to tell you the truth, dear. I had been out driving. A horse ran away. A young gentleman was cressing the street. My carriage-pole knocked him down. His head struck the curbstone; he fell senseless—"

"Of course you had him brought in," interrupted Lina, eagerly.

"Of course. He might be dying, for all I knew."

"What does the doctor say?"

"The blow caused concussion of the brain. Fortunately, it is not severe. But he cannot be moved at present. He is still insensible. In a few hours, Dr. Osborne thinks, he will probably rouse up enough so that he can tell us who he is."

"Poor mamma!"

"Yes, dear, it has shaken me a good deal. It was, so terrible to seem, even innocent, the cause of such an accident. But the doctor is certain it will not prove very serious. Quite a young man. Somehow he reminds me of some person, but I can't think who it is."

"Where is he?"

"In the Chinese chamber. Hark! isn't that Anna's voice?"

"Yes. She captured the doctor in the hall. She is crying I think," replied Lina.

"I suppose I must go down and relieve her apprehensions," said Mrs. Talbot. "But just step in and ask Topham the address of the nurse she was speaking of. We can't have Topham sitting up all night."

Mrs. Talbot departed accordingly, while Lina went to do her errand. She opened the door softly. But Topham, the old family nurse, [illegible] quick as if she had been [illegible] looked up at [illegible] gone no time. But I told that stupid Rhoda to bring me more towels, and she hasn't done it and I must go and see about them; and so I'll tell your mamma about the address at the same time."

Lina stood in the doorway till the old woman had disappeared, looking about the room. The curtains darkened it and the bed was turned so that she could not see the occupant. Finally she stole forward, impelled by an impulse which she could not resist, even while she dreaded it. She drew close to the couch; gazed down at the pale countenance and closed eyes; gave one long look; then started back; then looked again; while a mingling of feelings, in which pity, loathing and anger all found a place, surging through her mind.

For the man who lay there was the thief who had robbed her in the street-car that morning.

At first she thought to run away. Then her eye caught sight of a coat hanging over the back of a chair. The coat was his, of course. She took up the garment, put her hand in the breast-pocket, and drew out a portmonnaie. It was her own.

Some undefined sentiment of pity for the degraded wretch, rapid as it was unreasoning, caused her to take the pocket-book and hide it in the nearest drawer. She could not bear the thing in her own possession. But she remembered that if, as might easily happen, his garments were searched for proofs of his identity, the book would at once be recognized as her property. She could not endure the thought of having to explain what manner of creature he was, while he lay there, to all outward appearances, so near the confines of another world,

Some subtle impulse compelled her, in spite of herself, to turn before she left the room, and look again at the white immovable face. It was not only handsome but refined. The forehead, low and broad, beneath the thick clusters of auburn curls, revealed intellect of no common order. More perplexing still that vague likeness to some known countenance, which her mother had also noticed, rose before her.

A slight noise startled her. She looked out to see what had caused it. The coat had fallen on the floor. She stooped, picked it up, and hung it—wrong side out—over the back of a chair. As she did this she noticed a little square of silk, stitched on the lining just below the collar, on which some words were marked in gilt letters. She took up the coat again, and read the lines. The name was that of the owner of the coat, and there was also the name of the Brazilian tailor who made it, and first was that of her own cousin, Jack Faucett.

She stood struck dumb. What did it all mean? Suddenly she heard Topham's step on the stairs, and hastening into the hall, replied as quietly as she could to the old woman's apologies for detaining her so long, and flew on to the seclusion of her own chamber to think it all out. A mystery was somewhere.

For a few moments she was so dazed that she could not think at all. But finally a light struck her bewildered brain. It must be Jack. It was impossible that any one else should have his coat. It was no wonder she had not recognized him, for the only photograph she had of him was so poor that it might have stood for almost anybody's likeness as well as his. But he had undoubtedly recognized her in the cars. So far, so well. Then came the perplexing reflection, why had he not made himself known? Why run the risk of hearing her proclaim him a thief? She remembered that Jack, in old days, was always offending her youthful dignity by indulging in practical jokes. He had elected to inaugerate their meeting by playing what he no doubt considered a capital jest, but it offended her good taste beyond description; even her pity for his accident, as she thought over it all now, could not make her entirely forgive him.

One thing was certain. She must find her mother, and tell her who the unknown sufferer was. She looked into the boudoir. Mrs. Talbot was not there, though Lina was certain she heard Anna go out as she left the Chinese chamber.

"Mamma," she said, as she opened the door of the reception-room, "I know who is upstairs. Now, please don't be distressed——"

But alas! before Mrs. Talbot could speak, her daughter Anna, who had not gone as she supposed, broke in:

"Who is it? who is it?" she cried excitedly. "A dynamiter? I told you so, mamma."

"I know you did, my dear," interrupted Mrs. Talbot; "and you told me he was twenty other things equally probable. Now, perhaps you will allow Lina to tell us who he really is, and how she found out?"

"Haven't I asked her to? Haven't I begged and prayed!" cried Mrs. Warner. "Heavens and earth—Lina to know and make this mystery—it's just like her—I'd not have believed it, if all the world had——"

Mrs. Talbot interrupted the torrent of words by laying her hand on her elder daughter's mouth, and holding it there firmly, while she said:

"Who is it, Lina?"

"Cousin Jack, mamma, Jack Faucett. His name is printed on the lining of his coat."

"I'm not surprised; I expected it," cried Anna. "Over and over again I've said that Uncle John would repent sending him off into that godless land—ask George if I haven't; George knows. And now he [illegible] I'll go and tell Aunt Marcia. I'll [illegible] [illegible] the consolation of seeing his mother in his last hours."

"Let me go!" she moaned, "let me go! Every moment is precious; he may be dead before she can reach here."

In the midst of her hysterical cries the door opened, and Philo, in a stentorian voice, announced:

"Mr. Jack Faucett!"

As Philo spoke, a tall, bearded, bronzed man rushed into the room.

"Here I am. Would you have known me?" he said. "Not a bit, of course. I sent the photograph before I grew my beard, and did so on purpose. My! aunt, you haven't changed a particle. As for Lina——"

Before he could get further, before her mother and sister had caught their breath, Mrs. Warner was shrieking:

"Philo! Philo! here's a burglar; here's an assassin. O, you bold wretch; and our cousin Jack this instant upstairs with his back broken, and perhaps not a whole bone in his body; and Aunt Marcia waiting for me to fetch her before he dies."

"You've not changed either, in the least, Cousin Anna," interrupted the intruder, bursting into a fit of laughter. Then a moment after, he added: "But what does this mean, about my being up stairs with my back broken? I was never better in my life. I've had no accident. I'm no burglar——"

Mrs. Talbot here told of the accident, while Lina rapidly explained having discovered Jack's name on the coat. "And—and," she said, confused, "we thought it was you."

It was now Jack's turn to explain.

"It must be Cecil Trevor," he exclaimed, excitedly. "We landed this morning. He wore one of my coats out. Where is he? He is the dearest friend I have in the world. I wrote you about him, Lina. People used to take us for brothers, before I grew my beard."

The pickpocket was really Cecil Trevor; and for two weeks he lay so ill in Mrs. Talbot's house, that he could give no explanation of his having found the portmonnaie, and being on his way to restore it to Miss Lina, whose address he had discovered written therein, when he met with his accident.

By the timehe was able to leave that hospitable roof, he and Lina had grown friends, and it did not require many further weeks to convince the young lady that she had been sorely mistaken in believing Cousin Jack to be her ideal. However—fortunately for her peace of mind and for that of the handsome pickpocket—Jack, before this, had fallen wildly in love with a youthful Bostonian, and possessing a fair share of masculine modesty, was only afraid that his fickleness must break Lina's heart. What a relief it was, therefore to hear the truth.

When the double engagement was announced to the family, Mrs. Warner waxed more incoherent than ordinary, crying:

"I predicted it; George knows—ask George. I said this was Providence. Mamma could not have been induced nearly to kill that young man without some special reason, and it seems a miracle that he should have written Jack's name on his coat-collar. And then for Laura Houston to come home from Europe this very spring, as if it was foreordained that she should marry Jack, in spite of Uncle John's sending him out to Brazil to be eaten by anacondas, when he always vowed it should be Lina. George knows. Ask George."—[Peterson's Magazine.

THE PROPER THING.

Bonnets of rough straw are worn to excess.

Dressy black toilettes are in great favor at present.

White chemisettes are in great favor this spring.

Jet is as prominent as ever in millinery and dress trimings.

Soft pleated mull or crape are worn in silk or fine woolen dresses.

Very heavy white embroidery is seen on the costliest cotton dresses.

The most fashionable combination of color in millinery is heliotrope and moss green.

Stripes have at last obtained favor, and are a leading feature in the fabrics of various toilettes.

A caprice of the moment in millinery is that of veiling with tulle various parts of the bonnet or round hat.

The newest white wool toilettes for the seaside and mountains are of camel's hair, striped with blue, red and olive.

Lawn tennis and yachting dresses of white flannel are made decorative with feather-stitching in bright colors.

Woolens of dark blue, Havanah brown and black, hair land with white, are made up into tailor suits with a soft white wool waistcoat.

India silks, China crapes, and pongees are shown in great variety, including almost every imaginable floral patern in moderate-sized and small figures.

Half-inch stripes of red, white and blue, with a black hair line between are seen on light challie de laines intended for seaside frocks for young girls and little people.

Lace mitts, invoiced lace, but the same net mitts, are again in vogue. They come in all lengths, black and white, and are the correct wear for dinner parties and summer evening festivals.

No really fashionable woman wears silk for a street suit unless it is [illegible] finished [illegible] and [illegible] of the bottom of the skirt with deep bands of [illegible]

[illegible]

Hints to Young Men Who Want to Marry.

Select the girl.

Agree with the girl's father in politics, and with her mother in religion.

If you have a rival, keep an eye on him; if he is a widower, keep two eyes on him.

Don't swear to the girl that you have no bad habits. It will be enough for you to say that you never heard yourself snore in your sleep.

Don't put much sweet stuff on paper. If you do, you will hear it read in after years, when your wife has some especial purpose in inflicting upon you the severest punishment known to a married man.

Go home at a reasonable hour in the evening. Don't wait till the girl has to throw her own soul into a yawn that she can't cover with both hands. A little thing like that may cause a coolness at the very beginning of the game.

If you sit down on some molasses candy that little Willie has left on the chair, while wearing your new summer trousers for the first time, smile sweetly and remark sweetly that you don't mind sitting on molasses candy, at all, and that "boys will be boys." Reserve your true feelings for future reference.

If, on the occasion of your first call, the girl upon whom you have placed your young affections looks like a quiet cold wave, take your leave early and stay away. Woman in her hours of freeze is uncertain, coy and hard to please.

In cold weather finish saying good-night in the house. Don't stretch it all the way to the front gate, if there is a front gate, and thus lay the foundation for future asthma, bronchitis, neuralgia and chronic catarrh to help you worry the girl to death after she has married you.

Don't lie about your financial condition. It is very annoying to a bride who has pictured for herself a life of luxury in her ancestral halls to learn too late that you expect her to ask a bald-headed parent, who has been uniformly kind to her, to take you in out of the cold.

Don't be too soft. Don't say: "These little hands shall never do a stroke of work when they are mine," and "You shall have nothing to do in our home but to sit all day long and chirp to the canaries," as if any sensible woman could be happy fooling away valuable time in that sort of style; and a girl has a fine retentive memory for the soft things and silly promises of courtship, and occasionally, in after years, when she is washing the dinner dishes or patching the west end of your trousers, she will remind you of them, in a cold sarcastic tone of voice.—[Scott Way, in Puck.

Bibles in Many Languages.

The annual report of the American Bible society showed that the receipts for the year were $523,901.59, over $64,000 less than what was received the previous year. The expenditures were $23,911.84 less than the receipts. Portions of the Old Testament, the report says, will be printed at Honolulu this year. Mrs. Robertson's version of the New Testament, in Muskokee is well advanced. Rijutei's translation of the gospel of Luke in Corean is ready for publication. Portions of the Old Testament have been prepared in the Shanghai colloquial, as well as a version of the proverbs in Siamese. The revision of the modern Syriac Old Testament is also far advanced. The colporteur work of the society is encouraging, 60,000 homes have been supplied with Bibles during the year. The salaries and expenses of colporteurs, including freight on books, amounted to $48,353.53. During the year the society printed 1,437,440 Bibles and New Testaments.

Fortune Favored Him.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov, 5, 1885.—Five years age I had a terrible attack of vertigo, with about three weeks illness. Physicians did me little, if any good. Extremely nervous. Tired. Pain in stomach. Could not urinate at all at one time. Had bleeding piles. Took eighteen bottles of Warner's safe cure, with Warner's safe pills. Have not had a pain or ache since. Never have used any other medicine. I cannot say enough for it.—F. G. BAILEY, 30 S. Ninth street.

Captain Cottier, of the lost Oregon, is to be given the command of one of the Boston Cunarders.

"For economy and comfort, every spring, we use Hood's Sarsaparilla," writes an intelligent Buffalo. N. Y., lady. 100 Doses One Dollar.

The Boston & Albany railroad has a circulating library of 2,000 volumes free to its employes.

Wilkins' Star Proverbs.

*The devil's horn—whiskey.

*Nobody's enemy is nobody's friend.

*Sloth and idleness are the devil's recruiting officers.

*The man who knows the value of a dollar is the man who earns it.

*A religion that can adapt itself to any character, is what the people are looking for.

*Many men can muster all the intricate words of living and dead languages who cannot pronounce the monosylable NO!

*Mankind fell through Eve and the apples, but were saved from total annihilation by Noah and the pairs.

*Man is like an oil painting. The background of his character must be well drawn, the perspective truthfully lined and the foreground harmoniously colored, or the work will not adorn the walls of the temple of success.—[Whitehall Times.

For sour stomach use Warners's safe cure.

For chills and fever use Warner's safe cure.

For fat covered eyeballs use Warner's safe cure.

For frontal headache use Warner's safe cure.

For irregular bowels use Warner's safe cure.

For depression of spirits use Warner's safe cure.

The annual average of suicides for every million people is 17 in Spain, 30 in Russia, 37 in Italy, 52 in Hungary, 70 in England and Norway, 93 in Sweden, 122 in Austria, 127 in Bavaria, 150 in France, 164 in Wurtemburg, 167 in Mecklenberg, 174 in Prussia, 190 in Denmark, 305 in Thuringia, and 377 in Saxony. Suicides are becoming more frequent every year in highly civilized countries, but especially among the poor German races.

From Major Downs, Sing Sing, N. Y.: I was suffering severely with catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm was suggested. Within an hour of the first application I felt relieved. Was entirely cured in a few days. W. A. DOWNS.

Ex-Mayor R. W. Townley, Judge T. F. McCormick; J. Maguire, Banker; G.S. Davis, Banker; and J. O. Tichenor, Merchant, all of Elizabeth, N. J., earnestly commend Ely's Cream Balm as a specific for catarrhal affection, Price 50c.

A Georgia hunter, 65 years old, says that since he began hunting he has killed 901 deer and 187 alligators.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

"The Blood is the Life."

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch or eruption, to the worst scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs,) by its wonderful blood purifying, invigoroting, and nutritive properties. For weak Lungs, Spitting of blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Billiousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia and Indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy. Sold by druggists.

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
—ALSO AGENT FOR—
Perfection Weather Strip.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:
Stove $4.50 Grate 4.25
Nut 4.50 Pea 3.50
[illegible] 4.25 Smith 4[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables, Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts;
Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious; Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!
The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile aud can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.
White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you. if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

FITS STOPPED FREE
[illegible]

[illegible] AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY
Office: Second Floor, Sanderson Block, First Street—Opposite Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

ON Thursday the Legislature adjourned sine die. The various papers in their editorials on the work of the Legislature of 1886, differ in their comments as much as day differs from night. Some pronouncing the Legislature throughout as venal and lobby-ridden, full of petty jobs and small corruptions, unscrupulous and unlimited in its rascality, while on every subject its action lacked statesmanship, and was the work of small partisans, petty jobers and legislative tinkers. On the other hand it is pronounced a saint, its work during the session that has just closed, lauded to the skies, the individual records of the various Legislators are announced as filled with courage, ability, integrity and honesty of purpose, while the sincerity and high motives of the members are only questioned by those who always doubt the honesty of men in public life. As a whole, we think that the Legislature has done good work, but has left undone some things that it ought to have done, prominent among these a solution of the prison-labor question.

Hon. Henry C. Howe, in the lower house has taken an active and prominent part and owing to the activity of our Assemblyman our vicinity has frequently been a subject of Legislation.

The following have become laws:—Relating to sewerage in Fulton; relating to the Phœnix Union free school in the town of Schrœppel; relating to the bonded indebtedness in villages; legalizing the acts of the Fulton and Oswego Falls street railroad company; authorizing the Court of Claims to hear, audit and determine the claim of William Gates and to make award therefor; amending section 1031 of the civil code; providing for the plan of assessment when county lines divide property.

The Governor has the bill amending the act allowing gas companies to use electricity; providing that attorneys shall receive compensation except in cases where cause is not assignable; appropriating $5,000 for removing obstructions and otherwise improving the channel of Oswego river below the lower State dam at Fulton and Battle Island and so protecting and improving the slack-water navigation of said river between said points by constructing a berme bank between said river and the Oswego canal, and so changing or removing the State dam at Battle Island or otherwise, as in the judgment of the Superintendent of Public Works will best protect the navigation of the Oswego canal and prevent future ice gorges in said river; appropriating $5,000 for widening, deepening and straightening the channel of Ox creek between the Oswego river and the westerly bounds of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company's lands, and improving the navigation thereof and the sanitary condition of the lands adjacent thereto; relating to the county superintendents of the poor; fixing the salaries of officers in Oswego county as follows: County judge, $2,000; surrogate, $2,000; district attorney, $1,500; assistant district attorney, $500; clerk of surrogate, $500; relative to the claim of Hudson C. Tanner. The bill relating to taxes in Oswego county was killed.

THE condition of ex-President Arthur is about the same, with slight indications of improvement.

ON Monday occurred the death of the venerable historian Dr. Leopold Von Ranke, at the advanced age of ninety-one years. His great learning and literary attainments have made him the object of respect the world round.

ANOTHER illustration of poor economy is brought to our notice by the disastrous fire at Hannibal yesterday. We understand that a few years ago when the village was partly destroyed, efforts were made to secure some defence against fire, but a steamer or even a hand engine was considered too expensive a luxury by a majority of the citizens.

THE New York Sun and Syracuse Standard are having a little tilt concerning the merits of the New York Sunday newspapers, which are sent by fast trains from New York on Sunday mornings "potwalloper" and "gasterpod" are specimens of the terms of endearment used. One thing is certain. As long electricity travels faster than any train that can be put on the road, it is extremely probable that the Standard can supply the public in Syracuse and vicinity with later news than can be furnished by metropolitan journals.

THE Buffalo Commercial Advertiser yesterday said editorially: "Letters received in this city from Buffalo women now in Paris, and who have personally seen the young woman whose name has been mentioned as that of the intended wife of President Cleveland, report that the mortified girl positively declares that she is not going to marry Mr. Cleveland. This is authentic; and it ought to appeal to the decency and gallantry of newspaper managers and editors, and put an end at once to the frivolous and malicious 'Presidential matrimonial gossip,' with which the American people have been surfeited and disgusted. The President has a right to demand the same immunity from vulgar inquisitiveness and discussion concerning his private affairs that is accorded to every private citizen. [illegible] it be claimed that a man in [illegible]

Prof. Brooks of Phelps, N. Y., discovered still another comet on Saturday evening. This discovery secures to Mr. Brooks the first, second and third Warner prizes of the year.

John Robinson, the English amateur swimmer, swam for a wager of $500 across the Hudson from Nyack to Tarrytown, Sunday, a distance of 3½ miles, in one hour and forty-five minutes.

Alderman Jaehne, the convicted bribe-taker, was removed Friday morning at an early hour from the Tombs prison and taken to Sing Sing to serve out his sentence of nine years and ten months.

George, the English runner, attempted in New York city on last Thursday to beat his best mile, 4:18 2-5. He had made a mile in 4:38, doing the last quarter in 1:08 and last half in 2:12¾, on a muddy track and against a heavy wind.

The Haverstraw brick industry is the greatest in the country, embracing forty-five yards with a capacity of making 340,000,000 brick. Two thousand men are employed. The works use 42,000 cords of wood, twelve tons of coal dust and 4,000 tons of coal. The industry was begun fifty years ago.

Roselle Wood, living at Morris, ended a two day's spree and a long life of dissipation by hanging himself in a barn, Friday. The deed was done after breakfast with a halter, which he took from his horse's head. He was dead when found. His age was about 60 years.

Ex-City Attorney Thompson of Schenectady, has published a statement in which he charges H. L. Deforest, mayor of that city, with having failed during the past year to make quarterly reports of license moneys collected by him, as required by law, and having misappropriated about about $300 of such moneys. The mayor denies the statement and the matter is undergoing investigation.

Personal and Political.

Roscoe Conkling will again spend his summer at Richfield Springs.

Julian Hawthorne has been engaged by the World as its literary editor.

The friends of the late Mr. Woerishoffer attribute his death to the excessive use of cigarettes.

Prof. Timothy Dwight is being mentioned as likely to succeed President Porter of Yale.

Mrs. Sartoris is said not yet to have recovered her spirits since the death of her noble father.

Freddy Gebhardt has commissioned Mrs. Joping, the London artist, to paint a portrait of Lily Langtry.

President Noah Porter of Yale College resigned last Thursday. Prof. Timothy Dwight was chosen to succeed him.

General Neal Dow is devoting his leisure, of which he has a good deal, to the easy task of writing a history of prohibition.

Dr. Mary Walker has threatened to write her memoirs. She is now negotiating with a syndicate with a view to their publication.

Ex-President Hayes's first magazine article appears in the Brooklyn Magazine for May. The subject is "National Aid to Popular Education."

The Czar of Russia has offered Dr. Schweninger, Prince Bismark's physician, $6,000 to reduce his sixteen stone to a healthy weight.

William K. Vanderbilt will pay $5,000 for the use of a London residence for ten weeks this spring and summer for himself and wife.

The Aldermen to come are Fullgraff, Kirk, O'Neil, Sheils, Cleary, Farley, McCabe, McQuade, Duffy, Pierson, Finck, Miller, Sayles and Reilly.

Dr. Dio Lewis, author and reformer, died last Friday morning at Yonkers, after an illness of two or three days. The cause of death was erysipelas.

Mrs. Gladstone dresses plainly but well. She has a kind, motherly face, and to her good care is the Premier indebted for much of his robust health.

Prince George of Wales and suite have been in Lisbon attending the wedding of the Crown Prince of Portugal to to Princess Amelia which occurred yesterday.

Samuel Hand, ex-judge of the court of appeals, died in Albany last Friday morning from congestion of the brain, following the development of a cancer on the tongue.

General Grant's widow, who has lived in close retirement since her husband's death, will go to West Point, early in June, to stay most of the summer, and will be accompanied by Colonel and Mrs. Fred Grant and their children.

Mr. Jaehne's daily occupation is now this: He stands in front of a table on which rests a tin vessel containing starch water, and from a basketful of shirts which have been washed and wrung out, he picks out one and dips its bosom and wristbands in the starch. Then he lays this shirt aside and repeats the operation until there are no shirts left.

Louis Riel's wife is dying at St. Vital, near Winnipeg. Since the execution of her husband she has been in a state of the deepest despondency. Three days ago she became quite demented, and during the absence of the family she took her 2-year old boy in her arms and started for St. Boniface to visit the grave of her husband. She was found half way to the village, lying on the road, exhausted, with the child in her arms.

Unable to Dress or Undress for 10 Years.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., April 25th, 1884.—For ten years I suffered from lame back. Could not dress or undress myself. Different physicians failed to do me any good. Had constant desire to urinate, when I could not pass a particle of water. Suffered tortures. Took three bottles of Warner's safe cure, which effectually and permanently cured me. Never knew it to fail.—FAYETTE HASKELL.

SECRETARY MANNING continues to improve slowly. He attended divine services Sunday for the first time since his illness.

ON Saturday the infant King of Spain was christened amid most [illegible]

The United States Senate [illegible] much credit just now for its [illegible] with the people's money. It has passed a remarkable pension bill which is alleged [illegible] intelligent and many of them too honest, to have voted for, had they not known that it never could become a law. The new measure grants a service pension, pure and simple, to every person who fought on the Union side during the late war, and who is not entitled to a pension by reason of disability incurred in the service, but is now disenabled and dependent upon his own exertions for support. It gives all such persons a pension of from $4 to $24 a month, and it also provides pensions for the dependent parents of men who died in the service or from disabilities contracted therein.

The attack made upon Speaker Carlisle in his own city of Covington because of a recent appointment, which he was influencial in having made, is not considered here as likely to result in any harm to him, personally, or politically. The Speaker is very popular in Congress with both parties, and the usual comment is in effect, that his constituents cannot afford to retire him for the satisfaction of a grudge relating to spoils.

Many of the admiring friends of Lieutenant Greely, the Artic explorer, are urging his appointment by the President to be major and assistant adjutant-general in the place made vacant last week by the death of Colonel Benjamin. Many newspapers, notably in the West, have joined heartily in the proposition. Their wishes are confronted, however, with a statute which provides that appointments to this position must be made from among the "Captains of the Line" of the Army. As there is no prospect of Lieutenant Greely becoming a captain at an early date, the proposed appointment is an impossibility.

After scores of years of patient waiting the French spoliation claimants obtained a hearing before a Federal court, began their argument, and this week a decision was made in their favor. The celebrated claims arose from seizures by French privateers of American merchant vessels between 1793 and 1801. They were pressed by the United States upon France while France urged other demands upon us. Finally, by the treaty of 1800 the two sets of claims were set off, one against the other, and dropped from international controversy. Then the owners of the spoliation claims began to urge them upon the United States on the ground that by surrendering the rights of individuals for a national benefit the Government became bound to pay the citizens injured. Two acts were passed by Congress providing for payment, but one was vetoed by President Polk, the other by President Pierce. Finally Congress, by an act approved by President Arthur sent the matter to the Court of Claims for examination.

Now some of the old merchants and ship-owners of President Jefferson's day would cry out from their graves if they could see into what a condition their descendants have let their precious papers fall. Deeds of assignment, policies of insurance, letters of administration, and other documents which would be valuable as evidence in the spoliation cases, have been allowed to go the paper mill or to kindle fires. Few of the heirs of the sufferers from French spoliation have had faith enough in the ultimate recognition of their claims to take care of the faded old manuscripts which would now furnish a complete chain of evidence in their favor.

When Secretary Bayard and his daughters appear out from home walking or driving, they are clad in the deepest mourning. The parasols of the young ladies, even, are of crape. The Secretary wears a tall silk hat, with a band of mourning, extending to within half an inch of the top. He walks with a light step, however, and looks well. I also noticed when the Bayard family were riding along Pennsylvania Avenue in their carriage, that their coachman and footman were in mourning livery. They wore black suits bottoned close up to their necks, black gloves and neckties, while their tall hats had black bands around them and black rosettes at the top.

The National Game.

The uniforms of the National league clubs are: Philadelphia, white and scarlet; Boston gray and red; New York, white and maroon; St Louis, white and maroon; Washington, gray and crimson; Kansas City, white and chocolate; Chicago, blue and white.

The best base running teams are doing most of the winning as usual.

O'Rourke of the New York's leads at the bat thus far this season, while Connor, who led last season has greatly fallen off.

Detroit's big four, Brouthers, Rowe, Richardson and White are doing great work with the bat.

Philadelphia claims to have the two best base runners in the league, Fogarty, and Andrews.

The paid base players throughout the country, the Washington Star states, number over 1,000, and draw annually salaries aggregating about $900-000.

The base ball running of the Philadelphias is a strong feature of their team work. They equal the Chicagos, the eastern press states, in this respect.

The Detroits thus far, lead the National league, the St. Louis the American, and the Stars the International.

Brouthers, Anson, Connor and Stoe are the "big four" first basemen.

There's an item going the rounds to the effect that John Ward is the best base runner in the National League. He's a good one, but what's the matter with Mitchell, Kelly, "Buck" Ewing and Gore? Then there's Fogarty and Andrew on the Philadelphia team. They will be heard from as the season progresses—[Ex.

The Stars play at Utica Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Binghamtons play at Oswego Thursday Friday and Saturday.

The combined weight of the thirteen Detroit [illegible]

The [illegible] and instructive [illegible] younger class of readers. [illegible] article is full of [illegible] facts about Japanese children. The Appleton [illegible] by Mary Hartwell Catherwood is an exciting and well told tale. Mrs. Brush writes an historical sketch, of the burning of the old Dutch town of Schenectady in this state. The serials that are now running are "The crew of the Cassabianca," by C. R. Talbot, "Pamela's Fortune," by Lucy C. Lillie, and "Peggy and her Family," by Margaret Sidney. These with many other stories and poems nearly all of which are beautifully illustrated combine to make up the present number of the Wide Awake. $3.00 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR JUNE, 1886.

J. T. Trowbridge's new serial, "The Kelp-Gatherers," is the leading feature of the June St. Nicholas. It is a story of boy-life on the Maine coast, with a strong flavor of adventure and a keen sense of boy-nature.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" is continued in a much longer installment than last month's, and we are told how that young nobleman learned to ride, and many other interesting items about him.

"How shall we spend the Summer?" is a question more often asked than satisfactorily answered at this season; but the two articles, entitled, "The Boys Paradise" and "A Boys' Camp," will throw a great deal of light on this perplexing subject, especially for those city boys who like to "rough it," but whose parents prefer them to do so "with all the comforts of a home"; while those who prefer to pass their vacation in Europe can join Frank R. Stockton's "Personally Conducted" party and visit all the beauties and wonders of "Queen Paris."

"Mother's Idea" holds an idea for girls as well; and "The Satchel" contains a grotesquely amusing mixture of fairy tale and science by Tudor Jenks, and five illustrations by J. E. Kelly.

All normally constituted American boys are fond of base-ball and dogs, and are certain to be interested in reading about a remarkable canine that played as "The Left-field of the Lincoln Nine."

The story of George Washington is continued through the exciting events of 1776-7; Henry Eckford has more "Wonders of the Alphabet" to relate and there are sketches and poems by E. P. Roe, who contributes two dog stories, Helen Gray Cone, C. F. Holder, Mary A. Lathbury, Laura E. Richards, Edith M. Thomas, and others.

MONTHLY MAGAZINE FOR JUNE.

Harper for June opens with an interesting descriptive paper upon the United States Navy. It is a most exhaustive article and must command the attention of those government officials whose business it is to see that the present condition of our navy is weak, antiquated and unsafe, and therefore needs thoroughly reorganizing. A sum of money is annually wasted on the old wooden hulls, constantly needing repair when new steel hulls lasting a life time should be introduced, with an armament of the latest approved type. The manufacture of sugar is treated in an entertaining manner by R. R. Bowker. Illustrations of the primitive sugar-mill as well as the great refineries with all the complicated parts are given. The several stories are continued. A number of short articles are given. Editor's Easy Chair, Study, and Drawer contain the usual interesting reading matter.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY

For June opens with Chapter III of "The Golden Justice" by W. H. Bishop. The former chapters had already determined the reader to wait impatiently for the next. Like most of the novels published in the Atlantic, this one for interest will prove no exception. A glimpse at 1786, or 100 years ago, gives a most striking contrast to the present time. The scene is necessarily laid in the Eastern States and the time soon after the close of the eight year's war. The article makes instructive reading. Among the contributors are Preston, Cone, Wyman, Parsons and Stanwood. The three eminent novelists, James, Crawford and Howells are critically compared and one is at loss to determine which he most admires. The contributors club treats pleasantly of the hap hazard of our friendships. Altogether the number is fully up to the high standard the Atlantic has obtained.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, May 21.

Although there was a good deal of activity on the market to-day, prices were considerably lower and the and the tone was weaker. Cheese that sold at 8c. [illegible], found it hard work to get 7⅝c. to day, although toward the end of the market it became evident that that price would be the ruling. The home trade is still the greatest element of strength, there being more competition in that branch of trade than in the shipping branch. Some who sent their cheese on commission last week claim they did better than if they sold here at 8c. Grass has been put back by the cold nights, and cows are not improving as they ought. It is claimed that the factories of this region are not going to make as much cheese this year as they did last, and they are certainly not doing it now. Following are the day's transactions: Three lots, 210 boxes, at 7⅜c.; 8 lots, 537 boxes, at 7½c.; 38 lots, 2,056 boxes, at 7⅝c.; 23 lots, 1,895 boxes, at 7¾c.; 4 lots, 290 boxes, at 7⅞c.; 4 lots, 462 boxes at 8c. Sales 6,050 boxes; commissions, 1,140 boxes; total 7,190. Ruling price 7⅝c. Transactions one year ago, 8,326 boxes; two years ago, 8,535 boxes, the ruling prices being 7¼c. and 10⅝c. respectively.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, May 24.

CHEESE.—There appear no encouraging features, as yet, in the cheese trade. About 1,500 more boxes sold to-day than last week, and prices remain just about the same. The amount is about 1,500 short of the quantity sold on the corresponding day last year, and 2,000 short of the same day the year before. The home trade showed considerable activity to-day, but generally buyers were not anxious to purchase. There will be quite an amount of grass cheese after next week, and some believe as soon as such stock comprises the entire offerings, prices will be a little firmer, if not actually higher. But dairymen generally talk discouragingly, and fear the season will prove to be no improvement over last year. Following are the transactions made to-day:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price.
9	332	7 cents
3	148	7¼ cents
11	569	7½ cents
8	285	7¾ cents
32	1,707	8 cents
9	598	8¼ cents
15	885	com.
87	4,514
Farm dairy	488
Total	5,002

FARM DAIRIES.—Sales of 488 boxes farm cheese were made at a range of 8 to 8½c. But one lot brought the latter figure, the bulk selling at 8c.

BUTTER.—Thirty-five packages of creamery butter sold at 16 to 17c. Only three or four at 17c., nearly all going at 16c. Fifteen packages farm dairy sold at 14 to 15c.

AT FULTON.

Sales at the Fulton cheese market Monday night were rather brisk, the presence of four new buyers having a [illegible]

[illegible] Rheumatism in my shoulders and [illegible] for nearly four years. I have tried many remedies, including Rheumatic Syrup, none of which helped me in the least.

I finally tried Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and I experienced almost immediate relief, and continuing its use, I am so well pleased with the results that I most cheerfully recommend it to others.

I am most respectfully yours,
A. WANDELL,
Grocer, 81 Rowe St.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured, After all the Physicians Failed.

Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN:—I cannot let the opportunity pass without testifying to my appreciation of your valuable medicine. As is well known to all this community, I was for years a great sufferer from inflammatory Rheumatism, at times being confined to the house for several weeks, and totally incabable of helping myself.

I have received attendance of several of our best physicians and have tried everything in the shape of Rheumatic medicine that was recommended, or that I could hear of, without benefit.

It was during one of these attacks that I was induced to try Dr. PARDEE'S RHEUMATIC REMEEY, and before I had finished the second bottle I was so much improved, that I felt no pain whatever. I continued its use and now I am as well as ever.

I take great pleasure in recommending it to all rheumatic sufferers, as I be it to be the very best article of the kind in this, or any other country.

I am gentlemen, your most respectfully,
GOTTLOB MURR.

Ask your druggist for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Utica Now estimates her population at 41,000.

The census of 1880 showed that there were 1,854,571 persons of Irish birth and 4,500,000 of Irish parentage in the United States. It is calculated that the increase since has brought the number up to 5,328,962.

IF YOU HAVE pain and palpitation of the heart it indicates a congestive condition of the system, especially of the kidneys and liver, which can be removed only by Warner's safe cure.

GENERAL NEWS.

John L. Sullivan is going to make a trip to Austaalia and other British provinces under the management of Frank Lane, late member of John T. Raymond's company. It is proposed to take a company of boxers and athletes with Sullivan, including William Muldoon, the champion Græco-Roman wrestler.

John Darby, a young burglar who has robbed several cottages at Highlands, Navesink, Elberon and Long Branch, N. J., and who pleaded guilty to nine indictments, was last Thursday sentenced to ninety years' hard labor in the state prison.

Several mines of gold, silver, iron, and loadstone, with some copper, have been discoverd near Trinidad, Cuba.

Friday morning Samuel Johnson, his wife, daughter, Willis Hall and two negroes left their home in Knoxville, Tennessee, for Lenoir, on a boat load of grain and produce. There was a swift current. The boat struck a rock within 20 feet of the bank and all but Johnson were drowned.

OMAHA, Neb., May 21.—The announcement of the death of Colonel John B. Folsom of Folsomville, N. Y., created considerable surprise here, where several of his relatives live. Colonel Folsom owned an undivided half interest in the estate of his late brother, Benjamin R. Folsom, valued at $500,000, consisting of Omaha real estate. The estate now goes to the heirs, and as Miss Frankie Folsom, the intended bride of Cleveland, was the favorite grand child of Colonel Folsom, she will very likely receive the bulk of one-half of the Folsom estate in Omaha. The heirs of the one-half left by B. R. Folsom are his children, N. R. Folsom and Mrs. Hellen Ferris of Omaha, and young Ben Folsom, a lawyer of Buffalo, who is now traveling with Miss Frankie and her mother in Europe.

D. J. REILLY & Co.
PRINTERS ROLLERS
324 and 326 Pearl St., New York.
☞ SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

THE SPORTING LIFE,
The Leading Sporting Paper in the Country.
—DEVOTED TO—
Base Ball, Cricket, The Turf, Foot Ball,
The Kennel, Rod and Gun, Billiards,
The Trigger, Polo, Athletic,
Aquatic, Roller Skating, The
Wheel and the Stage.
SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:
One year, $2.25; six months, $1.25; three months, 65cts.
SEND FOR SAMPLE COPY.
SPORTING LIFE PUBLISHING COMPANY,
No. 202 South Ninth Street,
Box 948. Phila., Pa.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.
Fine Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
[illegible] A SPECIALTY.
[illegible]

[illegible] with [illegible] and rifled of its contents, the building was fired. There being no fire apparatus in the village the people were utterly helpless. Assistance was asked of Oswego, but before it arrived everything in the way of the flames was destroyed. The following places of business were burned to the ground together with more or less of their contents:

George Leonard, grocery; Nelson Cooper, tailor shop; Charles Leetes, grocery; J. Lockeray, shoe shop; J. W. Burt, clothing store. The town hall, a large frame structure, containing several stores, was totally destroyed. The losses and insurance are as follows;

Geo. Leonard, general store, loss $2,500, insurance, $1,000. Nelson Cooper, merchant tailor, loss $1,400, insurance $450 on building, none on stock. Chas. Leete, grocer, loss, $1,000, insured for $300. J. Lockeray, shoe maker, loss $400, small insurance. J. W. Burt, clothing, loss $1,000, insured. Town hall, loss, $3,000, insurance $2,500. John Cox, coal and feed store, loss, $200, no insurance. D. L. Petterly, grocer, total loss. D. Sullivan, barber, total loss. The G. A. R. headquarters were located in the town hall.

Assessors' Notice.

The undersigned Assessors of the Village of Fulton, having completed their role for the present year, have left a copy thereof with B. J. Kimball, at Morrill Bros. printing office, where the same may be seen and examined by any person interested therein, until the 5th day of June, on which day the said Assessors will meet at the Police Court Room, at 10 o'clock, a. m., to review assessment on the application of any person deeming themselves aggrieved thereby.

Fulton, May 21st, 1886.

HUGH MCKIERNAN,
B. J. KIMBALL,
MYRON HAVENS.

Backache, sore kidneys, muscles, or side, chest pains or tender lungs and crick are instantly removed by applying a Hop Plaster. When you buy see signature of Hop Plaster Co. on back of Plaster. Beware of all others.

To Our Readers.

We desire to call your attention to the advertisement of The Sporting Life in our columns to-day. The Sporting Life is a weekly journal devoted to all sports that are noble and manly. It contains no objectionable reading matter or advertisements and is the leading sporting journal of the country. We advise our readers to send for a free sample copy to THE SPORTING LIFE Publishing Company, 202 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. 3w4

THE ROOT OF THE EVIL.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to stride directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured of scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood purifying qualities. Sold all druggists.

Shortly after four o'clock Thursday afternoon while Mrs. Alice Pendleton, wife of ex-Governor Pendleton of Ohio and present Minister to Berlin, and her daughter Frances were being driven through Central Park, the horse became unmanageable and Mrs. Pendleton and her daughter became greatly alarmed and jumped from the carriage. Mrs. Pendleton fell heavily on her head and died before assistance arrived. Miss Pendleton sustained serious injuries and was taken to her residence in an unconscious condition. The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict exonerating the driver of the carriage from all blame and declaring that the accident was unavoidable. The funeral of Mrs. Pendleton was held yesterday.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.
The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:
A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.
A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.
A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.
A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.
Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.
One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.
House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.
☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.
C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

OVER WORKED Women
For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.
A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SALESMEN
[illegible]

LUMBER YARD!
—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—
Complete Assortment
—OF—
Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.
—And in fact everything pertaining to a—
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

CALL ON
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen
THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.
THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
and DUCHESS
Ranges.
Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.
☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.
MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

Just Received at the
NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE
A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's
READY MIXED PAINTS.
They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.
I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
—SODA FOUNTAIN,—
At a cost of [illegible] on your spectacles [illegible]

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	[illegible]
Egg	4.25	2.25	[illegible]
Grate	4.25	2.25	[illegible]
Mixed	4.50	2.38	[illegible]

Buy while it is [illegible]
Purest, [illegible]

FULTON 'BUS

[illegible]

Leonard & Wilson, Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	[illegible] a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:40 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	5:07 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:10 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	9:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	5:26 a. m.
Day Express	12:34 p. m.
Day Express	3:45 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:10 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:20 p. m.

The 5:26 a. m., and 9:15 a. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:50 a. m
Norwich Express	3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express	10:58 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	6:06 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:47 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	6:24	11:54	5:24
For Oswego,	9:04	2:40 p. m.	6:49

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Dr. R. S. Galt of Oswego, is in town to-day.

Ed. Seymour of Oswego, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Mrs. H. E. Nichols and Mrs. Francis E. Bacon are visiting at Sodus, Wayne county.

Miss Ida Patten of South Scriba has been visiting Miss Adele Reynolds on Oneida street.

Marlon Brando of Providence, R. I., formerly of this village, was in town Monday.

Mrs. Leroy Stearns and son and a son of William Nelson left last night for Nebraska.

Mrs. A. K. Ney has sufficiently recovered from her late illness, as to take her place in the news room.

G. D. Ball jr., of Norwich, N. Y., an old Fulton boy, spent Sunday and Monday with friends in his former home.

Mrs. J. A. Valley of Norwood, St. Lawrence county, is a guest of Mrs. Newell Stowell of Lower Oswego Falls.

Miss Alice Young has left for Toronto, Ont., under engagement as bookkeeper for Sheridan Bros., formerly of Fulton.

Mr. S. H. Gardner and mother of Kingston, Ont., are visiting at R. N. Hoff's. Mr. Gardner will be remembered as the "mind reader" who was here last summer.

Trunks and satchels. The largest and best assortment in the country at W. McCully's.

If you will buy them of us you can save from 25cts. to $1.00 on every pair of Shoes. Call and see our goods and we will prove it to you.

Salmon Shoe Store,
Opera House Block.

If you are in want of lumber, laths, shingle, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters, window or door frames, or anything pertaining to building, you will find it to your interest to call at McCully's Planing Mill. 1tf

Oswego Steam Laundry.

Lace curtains, pillow shams, and fancy work done at reasonable prices. The goods are washed by steam. No chloride of lime is used and the finest of fabrics can be washed without injury. Goods called for and delivered on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

C. W. Blount, Agt,
34 First Street.

Ask for the Ladies' combination shoes at Collins'. tf.

Pasturing, hemlock lumber, seed corn, seed potatoes and pigs for sale.

1tf J. C. Wells.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

Misses and Children's fine quality spring heel shoes at Collins'. tf.

Ladies' friend carpet sweeper for sale at N. R. Cole's, Oneida street.

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

All kinds of job printing done on short notice and at reasonable rates at The Times office.

[illegible] The letter was a well written, plain statement of facts, [illegible] that the true relation between pastor and people had not existed since his coming; that he had never received the support of a part of the church members and that they had absented themselves from attendance or taking part in church work. Owing to these facts, he was not satisfied with the progress made, hence the resignation. The letter was written in a thoroughly christian spirit and without prejudice. Last night the members of the church met at their session rooms to take action upon the matter. Arvin Rice and A. Bristol were elected delegates to ask the presbytery to permit the resignation in accordance with the pastor's wishes. Rev. Smith has been with us about one year and during that time has shown himself to be a true, hard-working, conscientious minister of the gospel. A state of facts existed before his arrival which rendered and still renders it impossible for the gentleman to exhibit his true worth. We believe a great injustice has been done Mr. Smith by the people of the church in relation to their church work. We believe that since Mr. Smith's arrival his hands have virtually been tied, but without murmur he has during his stay with us, labored for the good of his people. His course has been admirable, and he will leave Fulton knowing that he has done his full duty, and with nothing to regret. He has made a host of friends here during his brief stay and all who know him will wish him God speed in his future work.

James Dwyer Convicted.

James Dwyer of this village, who was indicted by the grand jury recently for highway robbery, has been convicted of the crime. Murt Murphy, who was indicted in company with Dwyer it will be remembered, was convicted, and is already serving a sentence of ten years in Auburn. Dwyer's sentence, which was to have been passed yesterday has been deferred until to-morrow morning at 10:30. An appeal will probably be taken.

OBITUARY.

George N. Falley of South Evanston, Ill., was killed at a crossing of the C. & N. W. raiload in Chicago on Saturday, May 15. Mr. Fallay was born in Fulton and resided here the greater portion of his life. He was the son of George F. Falley Esq., one of Fulton's earliest and most prominent citizens. He leaves a widow and four children. Mr. Falley's hearing was impaired, which was probably the cause of the accident.. An inquest was held and the remains were taken to South Evanston.

William H. Sisson of Rhinebeck, N.Y., died at his home in that place last Sunday of consumption, aged 39 years. He was born in this village July 10, 1847 and a large portion of his life has been spent here. His health has been very poor for the past two years and for about nine months he has been confined to the house. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity. The remains were brought to Fulton yesterday, S. B. Whitaker accompanying them from Syracuse. The deceased leaves a widow and three sisters to mourn his loss. Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of Hugh McKiernan on Fourth street. The remains were buried in Mt. Adnah.

Prof. Keenan's Entertainment.

A grand entertainment is to be given at the Universalist church next Friday evening by Prof. Frank Keenan assisted by local talent, when the following program will be carried out:

PROGRAM.

Pianist - - Miss Bertha Elder.

1st. Quartette, "When Evening's Twilight,"
Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Lathrop, Messrs Gilbert and Hillick.

2nd. Splendid Illustrative Views—St Peters at Rome and Castle of St. Angelo, illuminated—followed by twenty most interesting views of the Celebrated Tower of London, including the Donjon and Surrounding Towers and Prisons—closing with Mounted Effigy of Queen Elizabeth.

PART SECOND.

3d, Solo—Bedouin Love Song - - Pinsuti
Mr. N. H. Gilbert.

4th. Duett—"Do You Remember Campana?"
Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Lathrop.

5th. A series of Artistic Views—Star of Bethlehem—No Cross No Crown—The Serenade—Simply to the Cross I Cling and a fine variety of Comical Views—Chromotrope—Washington.

6th. Quartette—"Joys of Spring," "Good Night"
Mrs. J. T. Pratt, Mrs. E. V. Lathrop,
Mr. N. H. Gilbert, Mr. W. P. Hillick.

SHEEP TOOTH FODDER CORN.

Choicest for Seed, wholesale and retail, price $1.00, small lots $1.12 per bushel. Also the twelve rowed Dutton Seed Corn in the ear at 50c. per bushel of ears. Very choice at Genesee Mills.

May 12th, '86. 1w4.

P-A-R-A-S-O-L-S

—:o:—

JUST RECEIVED

Direct from the manufacturers, a large and Elegant Line of

Parasols & Sun Umbrellas

which we shall offer at prices that will be sure to please our customers.

SPECIAL DRIVE.

—:o:—

4 Button Kid Gloves, new colors, good quality, only 50 cts a pair. We have also the celebrated "Foster patent" Lace Glove and the leading makes. Rare bargains in Lisle and Silk Gloves, Lace Mitts for Ladies and Children, in all colors at about half what [illegible] they cost last year. In

C-O-R-S-E-T-S

[illegible] different makes therefore can suit the most particular.

A. E. Nettleton will offer on Saturday, May [illegible] unparalleled bargains in Boots, Shoes and Slippers. With every pair a handsome Japanese Lamp Mat will be given.

"Fedora" next Saturday evening.

G. A. R. men look into Rosenbloom's show windows.

Teachers' Institute is being held in Phœnix this week.

Cyrus S. Fralick was on Monday appointed postmaster at Hinmansville.

An academic department is to be established in the Union School at Parish.

Two new fountains are to be erected in Mt. Adnah cemetery. It is expected the work will be completed by Decoration Day.

James Wilcox has put in a Backus water motor in his meat market on Cayuga street.

Among the patents granted during the past week was one on "making textile fabrics" granted to E. Maertens, of Oswego Falls.

The night work in the factory at Oswego Falls ceased last week and over 200 hands were thereby thrown out of employment.

Sergeant Gifford, of Fulton, has been in town a few days, doing good service in the Salvation Army meetings.—[Central Square News.

The good work of Father Early and the different temperance organizations is making intemperance decidedly unpopular in this locality.

The Times is under obligation to Hon. Henry C. Howe for the third annual report of the Bureau of Statistics of labor and other documents.

The Sandy Creek News announces that Memorial day will be observed in that village on Monday, July 31st. A little late in the season, is it not?

The Central association of Congregational churches which was in session at Orwell last week, embraces about twenty-five churches in the counties of Oswego, Cayuga, Onondaga, Cortland and a part of Oneida.

Mrs. Alanson Loomis, an old resident of this village has been declared insane by a committee on lunacy, consisting of Drs. Loomis and Hall, and has been taken to the asylum at Utica. Mrs. Loomis has long resided here and is greatly respected, and all will be pained to hear of her misfortune.

Yesterday morning fire was discovered in Venton's blacksmith shop at Oswego Falls just south of the Howe block and across the road from the factory. Prompt application of the factory pump and hose and the timely use of buckets averted what might otherwise have been a disastrous fire.

The concert given by Camilla Urso at the opera house last Monday evening was poorly attended, there being less than seventy-five persons present. But what was lacking in numbers seemed to be made up in enthusiasm and the illustrious violinist was loudly encored. The other artists also received a liberal amount of applause.

The sixth annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Oswego Baptist Association will be held with the Baptist church of Hannibal, Tuesday evening, June 1st, at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Nathaniel Smith, a theological student of Madison University from Stockholm, Sweden, will address the Union.

Mrs. M. P. Schenck, Sec'y.

Messrs. Boomer & Loomis, the new lumber firm, have completed the building of their sheds, office, etc., and are now ready for business. The high fence around the yard has been utilized by business firms for advertising purposes. A fine stock of dressed lumber of all kinds, lath, mouldings, etc., has been put in, and anyone wanting anything in their line will do well to call on Boomer & Loomis at their new yard corner Broadway and First streets.

Last Friday evening a party of young people from Oswego Falls and Fulton, consisting of about twenty-five couples, met at the residence of Miss Mary Burke on First street, and went to Hinmanville to Pierce's hotel where refreshments, dancing and music reigned supreme. The committee of arrangements were Misses Mary Kennedy, Nellie McGue, Mary Burke and Kittie Mahar, assisted by Messrs. McCann and O'Melia. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed.

All persons having flowers to bestow for Memorial Day purposes, are hereby requested either to send them to the G. A. R. hall, at nine o'clock, A. M. Monday or to notify the committee, who will see that they are called for.

G. V Emens, }
C. Hewett, } Com
J H Distin }

If your blood is tainted with foul disease, you must restore the kidney's to health if you ever expect to purify it, as they are the great blood purifiers—by use of Warner's safe cure.

Found.—A gold bracelet has been recently found upon the street, which the owner may have by calling at this office, proving property and paying charges.

Before you put a roof on that building, been it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 3tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, [illegible]

A High-Toned Painter.

Clarence Gifford of Hannibal, a painter, stepped into J. Bailey's tailor shop several weeks ago and left his coat to be mended. He had been wrestling in Becker's livery stable and during the fracas his coat became somewhat damaged. The tailor gave him a new $18 coat to wear while the old one was undergoing repairs, and told him it would be done in fifteen minutes. The quarter hour gradually lengthened out to six weeks, when, hearing that Gifford was working in the boat yard, the tailor swore out a warrant and the officer, in whose hands it was placed, found his man painting a canal boat. He liked the new coat so well, it fitted him so nicely that he could not bear to take it off even to sleep or work and had it on when arrested. To his artistic eye the huge daubs of paint on the article had not impaired its beauty or its usefulness in the least. He was arraigned before Police Justice VanWagenen, who, after a dissertation on the importance of confining oneself to legitimate means for satisfying personal pride, fined him 60 days in the O. P. Sentence was afterward suspended on condition that he paid for the coat and costs of the suit.

"Fedora" at the Opera House.

One of the chief events of the dramatic season in Fulton, will occur at the opera house, on Saturday evening when Sardou's greatest play "Fedora" will be presented. This is the play made famous by Fanny Davenport who gave over 700 presentations in this country. Sara Bernhardt played it for 350 nights in Paris, and at the Haymarket, London, the play ran for over two years. It will be presented here by the original New York cast, including Mr. Rob, B. Mantell, who created such a sensation by his magnificent acting in the role of "Loris" Miss Adele Belgarde, a charming actress, will assume the difficult role of "Princess Fedora." No one should miss the opportunity of seeing this great play. Those desiring choice seats should have them reserved early, for a large and fashionable audience is looked for.

Marital.

The residence of J. S. Palmer on Sixth street was the scene of a large and pleasant gathering yesterday afternoon. Between fifty and sixty friends and relatives of the contracting parties were there to witness the marriage of Miss Ula Palmer and Mr. Phillip Long of Syracuse. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. F. Markham. The happy couple left immediately for New York, where they will spend a short time. They were the recipients of a large number of valuable and useful gifts, fitting testimonials of the esteem in which they were held. With their many other friends The Times extends congratulations.

Edgar McCarthy and Miss Millie Reed, both of this village, were married last Sunday at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. A. M. Roe.

Ira E. Morrison and Nellie E. Gray, both of this village were married at the Methodist parsonage last Sunday by the Rev. W. Dempster Chase.

Important Express Change.

The United States Express company on May 15 transferred its business from the Erie railroad to the D. L. & W. The latter railroad company have placed upon their route fast express and freight trains for the far west and have entered into a contract for a long term of years to transact all the business for this express company. The change will be important to shippers in the facilities offered. E. F. Blanchard, formerly of this village, is the agent of this company in Oswego, with his office in the Wicks block, West Bridge street.

An Editor's Friend.

New Castle, Pa., March 27th, 1885.—I had a painful affection of the liver, and let it along, until it got a firm hold of me. Took seven or eight bottles of Warner's safe cure, and am perfectly well, without pain.—F. J. MELANEY, Editor Clarion.

Fit and style cost nothing. They are only the result of experience and taste. See advertisement of "T. C. & Co." clothing.

Until Nine O'clock.

The Millinery Department at F. E. Bacon's will be open on WEDNESDAY evening until 9 o'clock for the next four weeks for the benefit of those persons who find it impossible to reach the store Saturday or Monday evenings.

May 12, 1886.

FASIONABLE CLOTHING.

Kent & Miller Have It in Great Variety and Correct Styles.

The spring has now so far advanced that the necessity for buying a new suit of clothes is experienced by almost every man. Every gentleman at this season of the year is thoroughly imbued with the spirit of Lord Chesterfield, that great connoisseur of dress, and it is more clearly demonstrated every day that the clothiers who cater to and meet the desire for good clothes are the ones that get the patronage. A gentleman in these days can appear so well dressed at a moderate expense that there is no real necessity for going otherwise than well and fashionably clothed. At a large concern like Kent & Miller's, 18 and 20 South Salina street where the variety is so great and the styles so correct and becoming, any gentleman can fit himself out in the most satisfactory manner. This is true, not only of their ready-made department, but also in the merchant tailoring and boys' and children's departments. They are prepared to dress any male boy or child in [illegible] style at a [illegible] price.

Margaret Mather plays in Oswego this evening.

Why wouldn't a fountain in the park be a nice thing?

The 500 feet of new hose recently purchased for the fire department has arrived.

A bag of shorts found by Officer Roderick, on Second street. The owner can have the same by calling at this office.

The New York, Ontario & Western has leased the Utica, Clinton & Binghamton railroad for a term of thirty-five years.

The girder in the front of W. J. Boomer's store is being removed, having become rotten, and will be replaced with an iron one.

This evening a free entertainment is to be given in Johnson's hall, Oswego Falls. Father Early is to speak on temperance and other attractions are offered.

The case of the people against "Toby" Burden of Oswego Falls, who is charged with selling liquor on Sunday, has been postponed until to-morrow.

The schools are closed this week to allow the teachers to attend the Institute at Phœnix. They will open on Tuesday, Monday being a legal holiday.

One of the young ladies who resides in the "stone house" fell into the deep lock last Sunday. She was rescued but little injured by her compulsory bath.

The Pathfinder canoe club are to have a regatta on the river, below the village, on Decoration day. It is expected that canoeists from Oswego and Syracuse will participate.

To-day the Detroits play in Syracuse with the Stars. The Detroits lead the National league and the "big four" who have become so prominent in base ball circles will play.

The many friends of L. S. Worden of this village, who has been in the asylum at Utica, for some time, will be pained to learn that he has been pronounced incurable and has been removed to the Binghamton asylum.

E. M. Baker, one of the prominent merchants and president of the village of Oswego Falls, has retired from active business on account of poor health and sold the interest in his store to his former partner, Jay Harrington.

Walter Turck, son of E. P. Turck, a young man about 18 years of age, was almost instantly killed yesterday forenoon by a falling tree, while at work in the woods on his father's farm, about three miles north of Cleveland in this county.

M. Conley of this village, who keeps a gilded palace (?) of sin on Second street, was indicted by the grand jury recently for keeping a gambling house. He was arrested last Friday on a bench warrant and taken to Oswego and upon his arraignment Saturday, pleaded not guilty His bail was fixed at $300. Later on he changed his plea to guilty and was fined $50.

There are between four and five hundred acres of strawberry vines growing in Oswego county. Most of the berries are raised in the towns of Scribs, New Haven, Oswego, Mexico and Richland. Some are grown in Hannibal, Granby, and Volney. It is expected that about 45,000 crates will be harvested this year. Special cars from Oswego, via. the Central and Lehigh Valley railroads, will run daily to New York and Philadelphia during the picking season.

The Thirty-first annual Convention of the New York State Sunday School Association will be held at the Central Presbyterian Church, in the city of Buffalo, commencing Tuesday, June 8, 1886, at 2:30 p. m., and closing Thursday evening. The people of Buffalo offer entertainment to certified delegates upon their arrival at the church. Each Sunday school is entitled to a delegate. Reduced rates have been made on all railroads. The N. Y. Central, the West Shore, the Lackawanna and the R. W. & O., will sell round trip tickets at one and a half cents per mile on the certificate of the State Secretary, Edward Danforth, Elmira. Persons in this locality desiring further information can obtain it by applying to J. P. Streeter, County Secretary.

Great Sale of Tea and Coffee. Valuable presents given away with each purchase, at Blount's Commission Store 34 First St. Fulton. I. A. Bradford Ag't.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCully.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. Graff & Co.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

Men's two buckle Kip Plow Shoes $1.00 per pair at Collins'. tf.

FOR CULTIVATORS,
HORSE HOES,
Sulky and Revolving
Horse Rakes
[illegible]

[illegible] in the 2,000,000 suit of the defunct Bankers and Merchants Telegraph company. This company shortly after its organization and preparation for business assumed a dangerous position as regards the business of the Western Union. The latter concern resolved on crushing it, and according to the opening speech by Col. Ingersoll, wantonly stole and destroyed the wires of the American Rapid Co., a company under lease to the B. & M. It is for this act that this suit is brought through the receiver of the B. & M. Co., Gen Farnsworth. In suits where great interests are involved, it is especially necessary that the presentation of the case should be clear, concise and clean-cut. This is characteristic of Ingersoll. The remarkable fact of his address was the terrible arraigning of the policy of the Western Union Co., as directed by Jay Gould, in its efforts to crush out all competitors for telegraph business.

⁂

The death of Mrs. Pendleton by being thrown from a carriage in Central Park recalls the death of Peter Coggar, the Albany politician. Peter Coggar was one of the most zealous of the Albany Regency and was to the Albany Democracy what Thurlow Weed was to the Whig and the Republican organization. While attending the Democratic convention in this city in 1868, he was riding in the park in company with Mr. Charles Devoolin then a prominent city politician. He was thrown from the carriage and instantly killed. Mrs. Pendleton was the daughter of Francis S. Key, the author of The Star Spangled Banner, and the sister of Phillip Barton Key, the victim of Gen. Daniel E. Sickles' bullet. It is rather strange that in the city where resided the man at whose hand her brother met his death, she should have in so terrible and sudden manner meet hers. But I will not intrude on the domain of your Washington correspondent.

⁂

There is "a tempest in a tea-pot" now raging in the Emigation Commission. This Commission has excited a great deal of attention during the last two years. It has absolute control over all the emigrants who land on these shores. If the emigrant has no visible means of support, or is a pauper, the Commission can return the emigrant to his native land. The Commissioners receive no salary, and are all of them sedate, solid men past the medium of life. They never do anything in a hurry. Now, there is one Commissioner who is an exception to this rule. Major Ulrich is this exception. He is a native of Ulm, Germany, came here when quite young and when the war broke out, entered the service and was a major at 23. He has a certain kind of friskiness and energy that is not relished by his fellow members. Occasionally he perpetrates a joke in the form of a resolution. Recently he asked that a committee be appointed to investigate a means of preventing the increase of population other than by emigration. Being a foreigner he naturally opposes any restrictions upon emigration, so that when it was proposed to return some 15 or 16 year old emigrant children on the ground that they could not earn their own living, he opposed it and referred to his own case and his war record. A fellow Commissioner, Mr. George Starr made disparaging remarks upon Mr. Ulrich's war record. The lie was given and now Messrs. Ulrich and Starr "do not speak as they pass by." Mr. Ulrich will be remembered as a recent Republican candidate on the State ticket. Mr. George Starr has been a Commissioner 9 or 10 years. He has always lived in the 9th ward. Before the war he was a Jefferson market butcher, a member of the old volunteer Fire Department, and an Alderman. These all made him popular among the boys of the old American ward.

During the war, he was a cattle inspector for the government, receiving $5 per head for each animal inspected. Many of these were cattle he contracted to the Government. It is needless to to say that the war left him rich, and under judicious handling his wealth has increased considerably. His favorite amusement is to sit on the dock and fish. They say that often the small boy with a barrel hoop for a pole, a string and penny hook has distanced him so much that he has had to buy the boy's string of fish to keep up appearances.

The Emigration Commission is too lively a place for fossils.

⁂

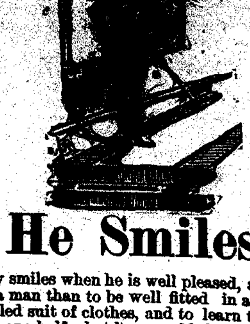
A friend of mine who keeps a livery stable patronized by the upper ten and who frequently has a commission to purchase horses for his patrons, gave me a pointer on something new in the horse and carriage line. He invited me to his establishment and took me up stairs. There I saw a half dozen of the sleekest, smoothest, smallest and biggest eared donkeys I ever saw. Well, you can imagine my surprise. He told me that they were for some prominent society leaders uptown. It is certainly the newest thing in society. I am waiting now for him to give me an exhibition of a zebra, or a lama or a baby elephant for the same purpose.

⁂

The annual exodus to Europe has begun. Many houses have their doors and windows battened up, up, the police alarm set and their bric-a-brac, pictures, etc., in a Safe Deposit Co's vaults. Very few of those who maintain an elegant city establishment, no matter how reliable their servants leave their plate, pictures, or articles of value in their houses. The vaults of the fireproof storage ware houses are decidedly more reliable. This business has reached immense proportions; and when 10 years ago there were only 5 or 6 companies in the city, now there are 20 or more. They realize about 8 to 10 per cent on the investment and have decidedly less risks than an ordinary bank.

⁂

To bring ice to New York from Europe is like taking coal to New Castle. I am reminded by the recent importation of [illegible]



He Smiles.

A man usually smiles when he is well pleased, and what is more pleasing to a man than to be well fitted in a neat, stylish, well modeled suit of clothes, and to learn that the price is about one-half what he would have to pay for anything equally as good at a custom tailor's. He smiles as he pays for them. He smiles as he tells his friends where he was fortunate enough to find such clothes. He is literally deluged in smiles as he exhibits to his wife or perhaps, his to-be wife, and receives her commendation. If he is a family man he smiles as he dresses his youthful offspring in one of our perfect fitting suits.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

customers. This he did and these few grew to be many until the bench was discarded. That is the foundation of the present Knickerbocker Ice company with its one and a half million capital and its hundreds of wagons and a score of ice houses. Of late years the competition with other companies has been sharp, but I think to-day it can hold its own and does in fact control the market.

⁂

I observe that the literary world is receiving additions from unexpected quarters. The writing of "Sal" by Dr. William A Hammond, U. S. A., and of "Allan Dare" by Admiral D. D. Porter, U. S. N, created some excitement, since it was presumed that these men who had achieved great success in their professions would be contented with their honors; their books were cleverly written and showed that beside the study of a cadaver by the first or a naval manoeuver by the second each had observed human nature pretty closely. Then W. W. Astor while Minister to Rome, studied up the character of Cæsar and Lucretia Borgia and gave us a defence of the latter in Valentino, and now Henry Clews, the Wall street manipulator, is about to publish his "Reminisences." Clews has been rich and poor, has seen as many mishaps as most men, still he has always landed on his feet. His book will be interesting, since his knowledge of Wall street for the last generation or two has been intimate indeed.

Wanderer.

Lost.—A pebble stone watch charm. A liberal reward will be paid for its return to the Clark House.

Stephens Opera House,

Saturday Evening, May 29,

Sardou's Greatest Play,

F-E-D-O-R-A!

The strongest play produced in 20 years.
[New York Herald.

Presented with the original company including

Mr. Robt. B. Mantell,

and

Miss Adele Belgarde.

No advance in prices.

Admission 75, 50 and 25 Cents.

Seats on sale at Watson's drug store.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectric Physician,

will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, May 22, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All Female Diseases made a specialty.

Consultation Free. 2tf

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

MILTON S. PRICE,

38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets.

THE MOST EXTENSIVE

DRY GOODS, CARPETS

—AND—

FURNITURE,

Establishment in the State,

Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.

COME AND SEE

the Fines and Mast Complete Stock of

Dry Goods & Fancy Goods

ever shown in this section.

COME AND SEE.

THE IMMENSE STOCK OF

CARPETS, RUGS OIL, CLOTHS, Etc.

COME AND SEE

THE FINE DISPLAY OF

FURNITURE

AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES

at prices far below competion.

FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

BARGAINS

NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.

REMEMBER

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

Hart Bros.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, [illegible]
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, [illegible]
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, [illegible]
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, [illegible]
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, [illegible]

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.	For the Next 30 Days D. C. MORE & CO. —Will offer unusual Inducements—	Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

to buyers of Ready Made Clothing, for either Men's Youths' Boys' or Children's wear. We have the largest and

MOST DESIRABLE STOCK IN FULTON,

and it is to reduce our unusual large stock that we propose to make the prices so low that everyone needing Clothing will buy. We do not make this announcement for the sole and only purpose of deceiving customers but will confirm our statements with our goods and prices.

Remember this you will only find these Bargains with

D. C. MORE & CO.

[illegible] The Reliable Dealers in [illegible]

[illegible] have made arrangements by which from now until the first of June we can secure one year's subscription to The Fulton Times and the American Agriculturist for $2.00. Every farmer should subscribe for a good agricultural journal. We, therefore, make the above offer, considering the American Agriculturist to be the best magazine for farmers that is published in America. That our present patrons may have the benefit of this offer, we will allow them the same by paying one year's advance subscription to The Times, and 75 cents in addition. Send in your order, or call personally at The Times office. Remember that this offer does not hold good after the first of June.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

100 Columns and 100 Engravings in each issue.

45th YEAR. $1.50 A YEAR.

The oldest and best agricultural periodical in the world. With the May number appears the first of a series of engravings of the Houses of our Farmer Presidents. The engravings are presented to all subscribers to the American Agriculturist as they appear.

One year's subscription to the American Agriculturist with its engravings together with one year's subscription to The Times may be had for $2.00.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Worth Knowing.

The Dakota Red is now said to be the coming potato. Try it, a few plants at a time, till you are sure.

Dark eggs are richer than light, it is said, and command a higher price.

The Tewksbury Winter Blush is a small, late keeping winter apple that has very valuable qualities.

Leave plenty of potato to your potato eye if you want strong plants.

The Savoy drumhead cabbage is one of the best late varieties ever cultivated.

The desideratum of this country is the merino sheep bred to a mutton standard.

It is a good plan to have two sets of roosting-poles for the hens, and change them each week, setting them outside when not in use.

Remember that it is the appearance of goods that sells them. Nice, large, fat, plump, white turkeys, ducks, chicks or geese always bring outside prices.

Small chickens should never be kept or fed with old ones; they are apt to be injured. Have two or three yards, and separate them according to size and strength.

The free use of clover seed and keeping of farm stock enables farmers to maintain land in good condition for ordinary cropping without purchasing commercial manures.

When a tree is to be transplanted never leave more branches than are wanted for mains, four or five at most; never grow a mass of unnecessary limbs to be crowding, which must be cut afterwards, much to the injury of the tree; remove them from the head at first.

In keeping a horse fat, there is as much in the driver as in the feed. A cross and nervous driver will fill the horse with fear and dread, and will rapidly run his horse down. Always be firm and make it mind, but never get excited. A cool-headed driver makes a long-headed horse.

A correspondent of the Ohio Farmer thinks neglected butter is doing more harm to the dairy business than all other things combined. "It is made of pure cows' milk, but neglected in such a manner as to render it unfit to use in any way except for soap-grease!"

The Best Way.

The old method of sowing seed broadcast upon the land sown with fall grain, either upon the last snow or the bare ground, and leaving it to take its chance of succeeding or failing as the character of the soil or weather might permit, is one of the very poorest of the methods in vogue. An improvement upon this plan is to run a slopping tooth harrow over the grain early in the spring, and sow the seed upon the loosened soil, and then roll the surface to cover the seed. This is beneficial to the grain, and a better security for a good catch of grass. A still better way is to wait until the grain is removed from the land, and then plow and fit it in the best manner for the seed sown alone, and without any so called forser crop. A liberal dressing of fertilizer then insures a successful catch, unless the weather is disastrously hot and dry, and then the young grass would perish under any circumstances. Some farmers (the writer included) have found it beneficial to sow a pound of turnip-seed per acre with the grass or clover or both in August. The turnips may be pulled or not. If pulled the loosened soil may be given a little fresh seed, but usually the grass is thick enough, and the disturbance of the sod only helps the young grass. The smaller turnips are left to die through the winter and afford protection by their leaves to the grass through the winter, and by their decay to supply most useful nutriment in the spring, when the grass will be greatly benefited by it.—[N. Y. Times.

The Largest Cotton Planter.

Since the death of Col. Edward Richardson of Mississippi, Mr. C. M. Neil of Pine Bluff, Ark., is, perhaps the largest cotton planter in the South. He was born in Alabama and is only thirty-eight years of age. In 1860 he went to Arkansas and went to work on a farm. He is now [illegible] of the Pine Bluff National [illegible] Bluff and has 12,000 acres [illegible] cultivation. He owns three [illegible]

[illegible] determine which foods are best adapted to replenish the waste and at the same time increase the weight and aid in the development of the animal. It is unnecessary to here consider the exact chemical composition of the different parts of the body and different foods, as some of the conclusions arrived at will suffice.

In the first place, an animal should have an abundant and constant supply of pure, fresh water. Water from wells in barn-yards, or manure pits, or carried through leaden pipes, should no more be given to hogs than to human beings. When it is desired to give hogs access to streams of running water, only those, the source and course of which are known to be free from impurities, should be used.

A certain amount of salt, sulphur, lime, potash and other minerals is indispensable to the proper development of young and growing pigs. The former two may be readily given them in their food, and they should each day receive a small quantity; it makes their food more palatable, and it is eaten with more relish. The others, in limited quantities, are also necessary, and are found sufficiently abundant in the ashes of coal, wood and of corn-cobs. Once or twice a week, burn what scraps of wood and such cobs as you may have, and feed the ashes to the hogs, mixed with any coal ashes you may have from the house. For muscle forming, grasses, clover, peas and oats are good, and should form the larger part of the diet of young pigs. Clover, or clover and blue grass pastures are particularly desirable for growing pigs. If pigs at two months old, are turned into such pastures, and remain there until six months old, they should have attained their growth and development, and be in a condition to receive a corn diet. When taken from pastures and fed upon more concentrated foods, the change should be gradual, not sudden.

Figures show conclusively that an acre of clover will produce more pork than an acre of corn, estimating the yield of the latter at fifty bushels. It is estimated that an acre produces ten thousand pounds of clover, and that fifteen pounds of clover produces one pound of pork: in other words, about six hundred and seventy-five pounds of pork may be produced from one acre of clover. If a bushel of corn will make twelve pounds of pork, and this is above the average, there will be but six hundred pounds as the product of one acre.

When will Farmers Combine?

WHAT FARMERS ARE.

1. They are the most numerous of the productive classes.

2. They cast votes enough every four years to elect the president, and a majority of congress and the state legislatures.

3. They own and represent but one-fourth of the nation's wealth.

4. They furnish three-fourths of the nation's tax burdens.

5. They produce nine-tenths of the wealth which annually flows into the coffers of the rich corporations and millionaires.

6. They are poor and hard up, from being excessively taxed to support national, state and local governments and depreciated prices of the products, as a result of exorbitant transportation charges, and commissions to board of trade middle men.

7. They are blind partizan idolators who furnish the juggernaut and the team which rolls over their bodies every four years.

WHAT THEY MIGHT BE.

1. They might, if united, be the controling power in the land.

2. They might repeal every unjust law that afflicts them, and enact such statues as would secure to them justice, equity and protection.

3. They might pass laws to obtain from the government all the currency they need on land security, at the same rate and cost that national banks now obtain bank currency on bank security at one per cent for twenty years.

4. They might establish a transportation system that would be operated at the cost the postal system now is.

5. They might abolish the debt and usury system, which if filling the land with a few rich and many poor, by providing means for labor to do a cash business as capital now does.

6. They can swap places with those who are robbing and oppressing them, and make their farms as good as government bonds, by making them the basis of the currency of the country.—[Chicago Sentinel.

Lotta a Millionaire.

Lotta owns in her own name and without incumbrance the Park Theatre in Boston and the International Hotel property in front of that place of amusement. For this she paid $350,000 in cool cash in addition to $25,000 that she paid Henry E. Abbey for the movable property it contained, such as scenery, furniture, carpets, opera chairs and gas-fixtures.

The theatre is said to be the best stocked in this country. There are, says the Philadelphia News, over twelve complete sets of stage furniture, one costing $800, another $500, another $250, and so on.

In addition to the scenery in the theatre over forty complete sets were found stored in an outside warehouse. All these "properties" were estimated to be worth not less than $50,000, so that prudential Miss Lotta and her ma with the wary financial eye were not driving a bad bargain. In addition to this, Lotta has $100,000 invested in different manufactories and dwelling houses in New York and Harlem. She has one house and lot covering nearly a square, and originally costing $80,000. She has a house and property on Staten Island, and in Akron, Chicago, Kansas City and San Francisco. Add to this $400,000 worth of jewelry, and you'll see that she [illegible]

[illegible] Hubbard, North Chili, N. Y. [illegible]

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was [illegible] for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. Lovejoy, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." Mary L. Pearle, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass

100 Doses One Dollar.

It turns out that Miss Gracie Morse, who married her father's coachman, is the great-grand-daughter of old Commodore Vanderbilt, not his great grand-niece as first announced.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The oldest Episcopal church in the United States is that in Williamsburg, Penn. It contains the font in which Pocahontus was baptized.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

The Massachusetts legislature has passed a bill raising the tax of telephone companies from $80,000 to $250,000.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The money value of the fowls of France yearly is: eggs, $44,500,000; fowls, $30,000,000.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Steerage passengers, largely Scandanavians, to the number of 1,674 were landed at Castle Garden in a single day last week.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Posesses the remedial power of these two valuable specifics in their fullest degree. Is prepared in a palatable form, easily tolerated by the stomach, and for delicate, sickly children. Emaciation, Consumption and all impoverished conditions of the blood is unequalled by any other remedy. 52w4

In Lowell, Mass., there are 400 liquor saloons and only twenty-four bakeries.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," and take no other kind.

Roscoe Conkling's fee in the Broadway case was $30,000.

TRY IT; IT IS GOOD.

TEXAS SIFTINGS (illustrated), the great Humorous Weekly. The Witty Wonder of the Age. Sold by Newsdealers everywhere; 5 cents a copy. Subscriptions price $2. 50 a year. Sweet & Knox publishers, Austin, Texas.

Charles Egbert Craddock gets $250 for a single story and $3,000 for a serial.

ALMOST KILLED.

I was almost killed by the doctors, who treated me for bleeding piles. It cost me over $100 without relief. I took Sulphur Bitters for two months, and now I am well.—Gus Hall, Troy, N. Y.

Beach, the Australian sculler, has accepted a challenge received from Hanlan for a race on the Thames.

Pile tumors, ruptures and fistulas, radically cured by improved methods. Book 10 cents in stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The consumption of [illegible] in London amounts to nearly [illegible] a year.

[illegible] as the [illegible] which is now having an enormous sale throughout the United States and Canada.

SCRANTON, PA.
During the past two years I have used bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for sprains, bruises, cuts, burns and Rheumatics. It always cures. —M. L. Blair, Ald. Fifth Ward, Nov. 9, 1883.

GRAYVILLE, ILLS.
In cases of Croup, Thomas' Eclectric Oil never fails to cure. It cured me of a very bad Ulcerated Sore Throat— C. R. Hall, Grayville, Ill.

LOWELL, MASS.
I was badly afflicted with Bronchitis and an affection of the throat. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me.—Oliver J. Belle Isle, 23 East Merrimack Street.

DAVENPORT, IOWA.
As a remedy for Catarrh Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil stands at the top. It cured me, and I believe will cure any case. Edw. S. Rowley, 322 West 12th Street.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office; and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

WE WANT SALESMEN everywhere local and traveling, to sell our goods. Wil pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted. Address STANDARD SILVER WARE COMPANY, Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

WANTED.—LADIES to work for us at their own homes. $7 to $10 per week can be quietly made. No photo painting; no canvassing. For full particulars, please address at once, CRESCENT ART COMPANY, 19 Central Street, Boston, Mass, Box 5170.

A BIG OFFER. To introduce them, we will GIVE AWAY 1,000 Self-Operating Washing Machines. If you want one send us your name, P. O. and express office at once. THE NATIONAL CO., 21 Dey St., N.Y

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
14 Barclay St. N. Y.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

SCOTT'S [illegible]

The total manufacture of chewing gum in the United States is over 6,000,000 boxes a year, and as each box contains 150 pieces of gum the total sum paid by consumers, 1 cent for a piece of gum, amounts to nearly $10,000,000 which would be about 20 cents per capita on a basis of 50,000,000 population.—[Brooklyn Eagle.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The number of passengers on surface and elevated roads in New York City is estimated at 310,000,000 a year, two-thirds of whom ride on the surface cars.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

Lord Tennyson, Robert Browning and Sir Theodore Martin are arranging for a grand banquet to be given by authors and artists in honor of Oliver Wendell Holmes.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guarantanced. 27eow

A Chicago editor, absent on a trip to Washington, writes that he has been all through the national capital and considerable of his own.

I have been troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for the last five years. About three years ago I commenced the use of Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only remedy for catarrh I have used with satisfaction, and it has accomplished a cure in my case.—H. L. Myer, Waverly, N. Y.

The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from poisonous drugs and offensive odors. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases where all other remedies have failed. It quickly cures cold in the head and catarrhal headache. Price fifty cents. 51w4

It is said that the membership of the United States Senate represents $162,000,000 of wealth.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Elecric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing" Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half a dollar a bottle at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

It is interesting to know that there are in existence to-day only 34,000 newspapers.

BANKERS,

Doctors, Lawyers, Carpenters, Druggists, Engineers, Mechanics, in fact we have recommendations from people in in all stations in life, testifying to the wonderful cures that Sulphur Bitters have effected. Send for testimonials. See another column.

Three thousand teachers of elocution ply their vacation in the United States.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Oiniment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

Mary Anderson is disappointed because she did not realize more than $100,000 out of her American tour.

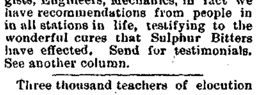
EXCITEMENT IN TEXAS.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery he was well and had gained thirty-six pounds.

Trial bottles of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at R. E. Phillips.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

[illegible] young man declares that he [illegible] an Anne-Kissed. The neighbors [illegible] the bomb.—[Lowell Citizen.

He—If you had the sense of a donkey, you would listen to me. She—I fear I should, my dear.—[Harper's Bazar.

We've just counted up that we have saved several hundred dollars by smoking a pipe instead of cigars, but where is it?—[Newport (Ky.) State Journal.

It is whispered in Washington circles that President Cleveland contemplates matrimony. We think that if there was any truth in the report the papers would say something about it.—[Norristown Herald.

Samuel Flower has been confirmed by the Senate as assistant treasurer at New Orleans. Samuel is one of the Fowers that—zip! Who threw that brick.—[Pittsburg Chronicle.

"Give us, O give us a man who sings at his work," says Carlyle. Oh yes; give him to us; deliver him into our hands. He occupies the next office, and we can't get at him.—[Boston Post.

"Have a hair cut and shampoo, sir?"
"No."
"Bay rum or tonic?"
"No."
"Isn't there anything I can give you?"
"Yes."
"What is it, sir?"
"A rest."—[Philadelphia Call.

Talented Senior—Pardon me, Miss Budd, is it true that you are engaged to my classmate, Charley Howard?

Miss B.—That's rather a pointed question.

T. S.—Excuse my asking, but I am historian for our class, and am getting all the grinds on the fellows I can.—[Life.

Senior asks professor a very profound question. Prof.—"Mr. W., a fool can ask a question that ten wise men could not answer." Senior—"Then I suppose that's why so many of us flunk."—[College Exchange.

Debtor—"You can't collect that from me, sir.

Collector—"No?"

Debtor—"No. You can't get blood out of a turnip."

Collector (in disgust)—Apparently not; neither can I get money out of a beet.—[New York Graphic.

Wife—How long would a fish be that would weigh twenty pounds?

Husband—That depends. Why do you want to know?

Wife—Why, Mrs. Jones says her husband caught a fish the other day that would weigh twenty pounds, and I was wondering how long it was.

Husband (carelessly)—The fish was about four inches long.—[Detroit Free Press.

Condensed Wisdom in B.

Be just, but trust not every one.

Be timely wise, rather than wise in time.

Beware of bosom sins.

Betray no trust; divulge no secret.

Bounty is more commended than imitated.

Bear your misfortunes with fortitude.

Be always at leisure to do good.

Business is the salt of life.

Brevity is the soul of wit.

Better to live well than long.

Be not too hasty to outbid another.

Building is a pastime that men pay dear for.

Beware of the geese when the fox preaches.

Better a small fish than an empty dish.

Business neglected, is business lost.

Be active, for idleness is the rust of the mind.

By doing nothing we learn to do ill.

Better to slip with the foot than the tongue.

Be ever vigilant, but never suspicious

Better to do well late than never.

Birds of a feather flock together.

Bacchus has drowned more than Neptune.

Beggars have no right to be choosers.

"Bear and forebear," is good philosophy.

Better to be alone than in bad company.

Better to be un-taught than ill-taught.

Bad books are the public fountain of vice.

Books alone can never teach the use of books.

Bear and blame not what you cannot change.

Beware of him who regards not his reputation.

Believe after trial, and judge before friendship.

Be good betimes, lest repentance come too late.

Be ashamed of your pride, not proud of your shame.

Be slow to promise, and quick to perform.

Playing Euhcre With a Woman.

A cynical old bachelor says the following are the remarks made by the average woman during a game of euchre:

"Whose play is it?"
"Who took that trick?"
"What's trumps?"
"What was led?"
"Whose ace is that?"
"Did I take that?"
"What's trumps?"
"Is it my play?"
"That's the left bower isn't it?"
"Is that mine?"
"Haven't you got a club?"
"What's trumps?"
"Did they euchre us?"
"What did you make?"
"Whose deal is it?"

And so on through the entire evening.

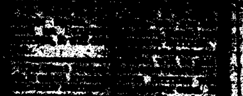
An Editor's Son Saved.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 11, 1885.—Several months ago my little boy was badly afflicted with kidney disease. Less than two bottles of Warner's safe cure restored him to health.—OPIE P. READ, Ed. Ark. Traveler.

[illegible] Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it. [illegible]

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.



Farmers, mechanics and working-men are very apt to be governed more by the price than other more important points in selecting their clothing. It is a mistake usually. A poor suit of clothes is expensive at any price. The best is always the cheapest, though not necessarily the highest priced. The "T. C. & Co." clothing is made for service. It fits perfectly, is custom finished, and costs no more than the "baggy" stuff offered.

The above represents the ticket that will be found on all the "T. C. & Co." Clothing. Buy it for yourself and boys, and you will make no mistake.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK, Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST. 37tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD ☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

WE want SALESMEN everywhere, local and traveling, to sell our goods. Will pay good salary and all expenses. Write for terms at once, and state salary wanted.
STANDARD SILVER WARE COMP'Y,
40w4 Boston, Mass.

LADIES WANTED—To work for us at their own homes. $7 to $10 per week can easily be made; no canvassing; fascinating and steady employment.
Particulars and sample of the work sent for stamp. Address HOME M'F'G. CO.
P. O. Box 1916, Boston, Mass

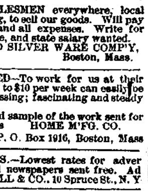
TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 961 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EUREKA FOLDING CANOPY TOP.

Different sizes. Can be attached to nearly all wagons, buggies, phaetons and carts. Easily removed. Folds like an umbrella. If you can not get it of your wagon maker or dealer, send for illustrated circular and price list. Agents Wanted everywhere. Mention paper
D. G. BEERS & CO.,
Patentees & Manf'rs, Newtown, Ct.

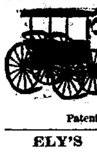
ELY'S CREAM BALM



Cleanses the Head. Allays Inflammation. Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste, Smell, Hearing.

A Quick Relief. A Positive Cure.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents by mail or at Druggists. Send for circular.
ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.



March April May

SPRING is a trying time. Indications of disease should be heeded. If you have Indigestion, Constipation, Disordered Liver and kidneys, or Want of Appetite, take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to PURIFY THE BLOOD without delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house, and take it with you on journeys. It is cheaper than sickness, and as pleasant as the hand of a friend

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

By all Druggists. $1; 6 for $5. Rondout, N. Y

[illegible]

[illegible] Farmers—At A. H. & J. R. [illegible] April 20th, July [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible] Surrogate of Oswego County, [illegible] hereby given to all persons [illegible] Lafayette Alfred, late of the [illegible] said county, deceased, to [illegible] with the vouchers thereof [illegible] residence in the village of [illegible] Oswego, New York, on or before [illegible] Nov., 1886, or they will lose [illegible] ute in such case made and [illegible]
Dated May 12th, 1886.
CAROLINE L. ALFRED, [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

CHESHIRE, THOMAS W. In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Cheshro, late of the Village of Fulton, in said County, New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at the place of transacting business, Citizens National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886.
Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.
FARMER B. HULL, Executor.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the undersigned at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 16, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 15th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.
ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE. SUPREME COURT—Oswego County. Norman H. Haviland, plaintiff, vs. William E. H. Hutchings, Levi F. Hutchings and Flora May Hutchings defendants. In pursuance of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action and entered in the Oswego county clerk's office April 27th, 1886, the undersigned to whom it was by said judgment referred to make such sale, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the law office of H. E. Nichols, in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 12th day of June, 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., the lands and premises directed by said judgment to be sold and which are therein described as follows: "All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, and State of New York, being a part of lot 75 of the 15th Township of Scriba's Patent and bounded as follows, viz.: Beginning in the centre of the highway at the south-east corner of land owned and occupied by Martin Parker; thence southerly along the centre of said highway eleven rods; thence westerly in a line parallel with said Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods; thence northerly in a line parallel with said highway eleven rods to Parker's south line; thence along Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods to the place of beginning, containing two (2) acres of land."
Dated April 28, 1886.
A. N. BEADLE, Sheriff of Oswego County, N. Y.
H. E. NICHOLS, Plff's Att'y., Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK. By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alice Hethington, Fulton, N. Y., widow; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charlotte Grace Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, heirs at law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. E. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, J. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stowe, B. S. Gait, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting: You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said decedent, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.
In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis
(L. S.) David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phœnix, the 26th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.
C. J. CARRIER, Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. An elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, producing when dissolved in water an Effervescing Draught. Recommended by leading Physicians as a reliable substitute for [illegible] cures Constipation, cures Piles, cures Heartburn, cures Indigestion, cures Sick Headache, cures Sick Stomach, and gently urges all the Excretory organs to a proper action. It should be found in every household, and be carried by every traveler. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen. Exclusive territory Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., Stewart Building, N. Y.

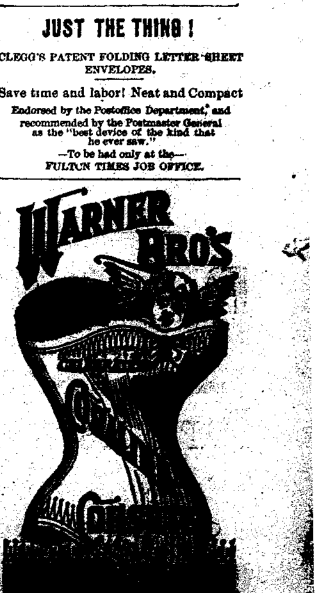
JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.



THE FULTON TIMES.

TEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 4

25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

The Last Prayer.

[Homer Martin, the author of the following poem, was a soldier in the late war who died at the age of 21. The poem has never before been printed and has been handed to us by a friend of THE TIMES as a suitable publication at this season of the year:]

The dream of peace was broken,—and our land
From far Pacific's to Atlantic's strand
Heard in affright, the shrill, loud, blast of war,
And saw dismayed disunion's baneful star,
Slow rising o'er the Southern sky at night
With'ring and blasting with its fatal light,
All that our glorious country held as dear!
All, all that freemen cherish and revere!

Then to Columbia's sons and daughters came,
A time of sorrow, darkness, doubt and shame
When treason, proud and haughty threw afar
Her foul false banner on the tainted air,
While those who dared in such a day be true
Were faint in spirit and in numbers few—
The patriot spirit from her throne was hurled
And treason triumph'd o'er the western world.
But as for every night a day is given
And every tempest leaves a cloudless heaven,
So this dark night of evil had an end,
And ushered in a morn sublime and grand,
Upon the nation's sleep the thunders broke
And Sumter's guns the land to life awoke,
Their fleecy smoke was treason's burial shroud
Their roar was freedom's birth song, long and loud.
Then changed the scene—a nation drew the sword
"Union or Death," its glorious rallying word,
Had magic power—for party ceased
To rule, and patriot zeal increased,
Within each freeman's breast to glow and burn,
Columbia's sons again to warriors turn,
And haste with freedom's flag advanced full high
To save the Union or for her to die.
Oh, glorious day! Rejoice ye honored dead
Who in the Revolution fought and bled—
That though your bodies moulder in the dust
Your sons are worthy of the sacred trust,
And that stern spirit of the glorious dead
That fired at Charleston and at Trenton led,
That braved the wintry blast at Valley Forge
And broke at last the power of Royal George.

Still lives throughout the land from shore to shore
Free and unconquered as in the days of yore,
Still lives to love the flag your hands unfurled
When armed oppression from his throne was hurled
Still lives to guard that banner of the free
Where 'ere its stars and stripes unfurled shall be,
Still lives to triumph o'er treason's power
And save the Union in its darkest hour.

As springs the weakened lion from his lair
Breaking like tow the hunter's hempen snare,
So in her strength the mighty nation rose,
Tore off the bonds entwined by treacherous foes
Called on her sons to rise the land to save
And give to traitor foes a traitor's grave,
Then rose the land for freedom, stands the plow
In the unbroken field deserted now.
The plowman left it at his country's call
To wield the sword or aim the deadly ball,
Still is the workshop and the engines sleep
Strong ties are severed, the high the low—all
Haste forth, the foe to conquer or to fall

And such a band; the young, the brave, the true
With manhood's first proud beauty on their brow,
The sturdy, sinewy tillers of the soil
The cities' sons unused to manual toil,
Shoulder to shoulder firmly stood combined
In common cause of country and mankind—
Wealth and rank in patriotism lost
By this our hero band, their country's boast
When first the cry "to arms" burst on the ear
And freemen grasp'd again the sword and spear,
Alfred a son of noble fortune came
Aspiring not for military fame,
But only that some service might be given
A country cherished next to naught but Heaven,
Willing to face the foeman's fatal steel
If it would but promote his country's weal,
More willing that his form return to dust
Than prove a traitor to the trust,
His country's love had given a virtuous mind
In science learned, in wisdom's ways refined,
He brought a sacrafice, a gift by far
Nobler by far than brightest sun or fairest star,

The day of conflict came. The radiant sun
Rising at morn his shining course to run,
Behold instead of silent rocks and glades
Two mighty hosts with flashing, glittering blades,
In angry haste to take each others life
And mar the Sabbath with unholy strife,
The strife began and soon the sulphurous cloud
Of battle smoke did all the heavens enshroud,
Shutting from angels sight the deeds of men
Least they should weep at such sad scenes of pain.
There blow met blow and steel crossed flashing steel,
And loud artillery thundered, peal on peal,
Friend slaughtered friend beneath the accursed veil,
And brother rained on brother leaden hail,
You know the story, how those brave ones fought
Until their courage had the field near bought,
But press'd at last by numbers thrice their own
They left the field their courage nigh had won,
Broke up their ranks and in confusion fled
Leaving the fatal field strewn with their dead,
Too proud to yield doubly too proud to fly
He who to conquer came, remained to die,
Crossed with a foeman twice the fatal steel
And bleeding fell there upon the field,
And with his dying foe now full in view,
Alfred, alas! his long lost brother knew.
"What have I done" he cried "Oh, God of love
That I a brother's murderer should prove,"
"'Tis not our fault,—but yours proud men and vain,
Who did our country's sacred laws profane,
Ye souless traitors curses to mankind
Ungrateful monsters may you vengeance find,
May all your lives be blasted, 'ere you die,
May tear for tear and anguish sigh for sigh
Be wrung from your proud natures till the score
Of all the woe you've caused be blotted o'er,
Till you have prayed ten thousand times for death
And cursed your folly with your latest breath,
And Oh, my country long thou'lt rue the day
When freedom hid her face and fled away,
When thine own champions quit in haste the field'
Forgetting that a freeman ne'er should yield,
When treason triumphs in unequal fight
And armed rebellion overcomes the right,
And now amid those scenes of wild despair
He offered up to Heaven his dying prayer,
Oh Thou who didst in ancient days with arm of might Compel at his meridian height the sun
Awhile delay his ceaseless course to run
Till Israel's hosts were victors of the day,
"Oh, now again thy matchless power display
And save, oh save, with thy omnipitant hand
This once revered but now dishonored land.
Dispel these clouds and bid this darkness cease
Avenge my country Lord and give her peace."
He prayed no more his life's last strength had fled
The brave chieftain slumbered with the dead,
But thanks to God that prayer was heard
And Heaven's King will answer every word—
The day is dawning and the time draws nigh,
When to the Southern breeze again shall fly
That glorious star-gemmed banner, while the tomb
And lasting shame shall be the traitor's doom,
Then the bright wing of peace shall be unfurled
And right shall triumph on the western world.

Another Life Saved.

[illegible] few years ago, a prominent [illegible] was told by his physicians [illegible] die. They said his [illegible] that there was [illegible]

THE TERROR OF A NIGHT.

It was in Paris, in the year 18—, Madame Perrot sat in her beautiful boudoir, waiting patiently for her maid, whose task it was to undo the wonderful superstructure of hair which had excited so much admiration at the dinner from which the lady had just returned.

Every hair of all those golden braids and puffs grew from Madame Perrot's own head. It was too great a task to unbind and comb it for the night with her own hands. Where was Felice? Why did she not come? Madame Perrot rang the bell again.

"Send Felice to me at once," she said, as the servant opened the door.

"I have been searching for Felice ever since I received madame's direction," said the woman. "I do not think that she can be in the house. Indeed, if madame will permit me, I think I can guess. Felice has been in the habit of going out evenings. Felice has a lover,"

"Indeed," said Madame Perrot. "Well pretty girls generally have beaus. Only she should not forget her duties."

"If madame will permit me, the servant says that this beau of Felice's is a gentleman—not a man of her own position, and that—but no matter, it's none of my business. Only young girls were more prudent in my days."

"I will speak to Felice, said madame. "It was right of you to mention this."

Then she sank back into her chair and waited a little longer. She was not a nervous person and yet a gloom and dread, for which she had no words, began to settle down upon her. She shuddered—she grew cold—she dared not look behind her—she fancied strange voices borne to her on the breeze that lifted the curtains over the open windows.

In the salon, Monsieur Perrot and some old friends drank wine and played ecarte.

She would have gone to them had she dared, but she dreaded the long corridor too much. She absolutely did not dare to open the door.

Some one who knew the value of the jewels she had worn that day might have followed her home. The idea of black-visaged ruffians was so terribly vivid that Madame Perrot actually gave a little scream, and seizing the small silver hand bell which stood upon the table near her, rang it violently.

It was in this way that she was wont to summon Felice from her own little room hard by. The other servants only answered the bell which communicated with the kitchen; but Madame Perrot had now become too nervous to cross the room to touch it.

She rang the silver bell and looked over her shoulder toward the door, hoping that some one had heard; the door opened, and Felice entered slowly.

Her face was very pale, her large dark eyes were darker than ever. She made her little courtesy, and stood before Madame Perrot with her hands folded together.

"You have been a long while in coming," said Madame Perrot. "I have waited for you two hours. This must never happen again."

"No, madame; never again."

"See that it does not. My dressing gown, Felice."

The girl already held it in her hands. Usually she was brisk and active in her movements. To-day she was strangely slow and solemn.

"If it was my shroud you could not be graver over it," cried Madame Perrot. "There, comb my hair and go. You are too frightfully solemn to endure any longer."

"It is madame's will that I should comb her hair," she said.

"Have you gone crazy, Felice? Have you not done it every night for a year?"

"If it is madame's will I must do it," said Felice, in the same strange way, and she stepped behind the lady's chair.

Slowly the great masses of golden floss fell about the lady's shoulders. Softly the maid gathered them under her hands and began to pass the comb through them. As she did so Madame Perrot experienced such a shock as one receives from an electric battery.

"What a strange feeling," she cried.

Again the comb entered her hair. Again she experienced the singular sensation.

"What are you doing to me, Felice?" she cried, starting to her feet. What are you doing to me? You——"

But there was no one there; the door had not opened or shut. Felice had been standing behind her the instant before. Now she was gone. The dread of she knew not what was heavier than before. She could neither scream nor run.

All that she could do was to drag herself to the bed and draw the coverlets over her head. Whether she fainted or lost consciousness she never knew,

It was late when she awoke. The hands of the alabaster clock upon the mantelpiece pointed to the hour of ten. But instead of the usual domestic sounds of the hour, she was conscious of a strange bustle and confusion, and she thought she heard the name of Felice repeated in tones of horror more than once. Why did they not come to her and tell her?

In a moment the door opened, and Monsieur Perrot, wrapped in his quilted dressing gown, came in. His face was very grave.

"You are awake, my love?" he asked.

"Yes, I am awake. What has happened?"

"Your maid Felice is dead. She has taken poison. Her mother is a washerwoman in the Rue St Cyr. She went [illegible] yesterday afternoon and this [illegible] The [illegible]

[illegible] shall never dress that beautiful hair again. I knew it when I arranged it an hour ago. When you return home Felice will be dead. She is too miserable to live. Ah! madame, when you touch that little bell I have obeyed so long, it seems that my spirit must hear it and come to you again. Among the strange thoughts in my distracted mind, this one is very strong. Yes, it is possible I may return to you, though never in the flesh. Adieu, beloved mistress; pray that the soul of the miserable Felice may repose in peace.'"

"Henri!" cried Madame Perrot, with a scream. Oh, Henri, this is terrible! Felice undressed my hair herself at midnight—Felice, who was then dead. Come to me; let me touch you! Save me from this great terror that is gathering about me!"

Monsieur Perrot flew to his wife's side. The light from the open window fell across the pillow and over the beautiful head that lay upon it. He stared at it for a moment.

"Mon Dieu! my child!" he cried, amazed and horrified. "What has happened your hair has turned white!"

It was true; in all these flowing locks not one thread of gold lingered. They were as white as snow.

And this is how Madame Perrot's hair turned white at the age of 20.—[Boston Traveler.

Save the Children.

Detrimental food for which, by reason of their superior strength, may not seriously affect the health of adults, as is well known frequently acts upon the more delicate organs of a child to produce disorders of the most serious character. The amount of laudanum or or other poison that would be harmless to an adult will cause the death of an infant. This great difference between the vitality of adults and children is too generally overlooked in the preparation of food. Because no harm immediately perceptible comes to the adult by the use of an article of food, no thought is given to the effect it may have upon the more delicate organs of inferior age.

Children diet largely upon cake and bread, and these articles, if light, sweet and composed of materials that are free from injurious substances, are easily digested, nutritious and wholesome. There is a danger to our children, however, lurking in their bread and cake which is too often lost sight of. These articles are now leavened largely by baking powders, and when pure and wholesome baking powders are used they make not only the most palatable food, but one much more wholesome and nutritive than if leavened with yeast or cream of tartar and soda. The trouble arises from the fact as shown by recent scientific tests by the Government chemists and by official boards of health, that all these baking powders with the single exception of the Royal, contain either lime, alum, phosphates, or acids of an injurious character. Therefore when bread or cake is made with the use of these baking powders these ingredients (which are present through the efforts of the manufacturers to produce a cheaper article) pass into the food and are taken into the delicate organs of childhood where they are the source of very much of the disease with which our children are afflicted.

Persons who have not strong constitutions, growing girls, young children and nursing mothers are particularly liable to the evil effects produced by the introduction of the adulterants named as found in the cheap baking powders. Heartburn and the prevalent forms of indigestion are often solely traceable to the action of alum on the delicate coats of the stomach. Prof. Willard Parker, U. S. Surgeon-General Hammond, Prof. Alonze Clark, most eminent physicians of New York, with scores of others, have written and spoken most earnestly of the evils arising from partaking of such food. There should be as much care in the choice of baking powder as in obtaining pure milk or in having a prescription compounded from pure drugs and not from poisons.

The matter is one of the greatest importance, particularly to the rising generation, and while our conservative law makers are making up their minds as to the proper legislation to stop the sale of the poisonous compounds, mothers will do well to study it carefully. The housekeeper will experience no inconvenience in discarding the use of the adulterated baking powder, if she has been using it as the Royal Baking Powder upon the purity and wholesomeness of which all the Government chemists agree, is equally accessible; but she will need to exercise a close watch upon her packages from the grocer in order to prevent the inferior brands from creeping into her kitchen unawares.

In what we have felt it our duty to say in reference to the subject of baking powder there is no intention to disparage the work or the products of those many manufacturers in other lines of food products, who, with conscientiousness and liberality, are serving the public with pure and wholesome articles of diet.

We ought not to be too anxious to encourage untried innovation, in cases of doubtful improvement. For a quarter of a century Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has been before the public and passed through the severest test and is pronounced the most reliable remedy for that disagreeable malady. Thousands of testimonials of its virtues. 50 cents per bottle. By druggists.

It's a little bit singular that a man who has served eighteen years in the Senate—six years as President pro tempore of that body, being Vice-President and acting President for one day, on the [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Jerseys are at the zenith of their popularity.

The size of the most fashionable parasols is very large.

Braiding is still a favorite decoration on spring dresses.

Bows of ribbon are still favored as trimming for airy gowns.

Sunshades of every sort are decorated with a butterfly bow on the handle.

The fashion of wearing bodice differing from the skirts is greatly favored.

White cotton embroidery in over designs is seen upon colored Scotch ginghams.

All the decorative pieces of glass, china or silver on the fashionable dinner table are tall and high at present.

While there are many fancy styles in the new exhibits of hosiery, solid colors and dark shades seem to be the favorites.

Lace-covered parasols in black, ecru and pure white are very delicate and pleasing, and are of course very expensive.

The new material for men's spring and summer clothing show a preference for light colors and the use of plaids and stripes.

Very small rosary bead buttons are used to trim and edge jackets that are fastened with big, flat, or medium sized ball buttons.

Children's colored straw hats are trimmed with upright loops of gauze ribbon or with bunches of field flowers or buttercups and daisies.

Cream white grounds are the fancy of the moment for gentlemen's neckties. They are tied in the slender, closely-tied knot called the sailor's knot

One of the most popular ways of using the large buttons is to set them on the edge of a reverse or panel that extends from the waist down to the skirt.

Domestic surahs have become almost as standard as domestic cottons, and are made up plainly or with a little lace, passementrie or embroirdery.

Some Significant Statistics.

Illinois got last year $4,500,000 from liquor and lager beer saloons. The state had last year 9,504 retail liquor dealers and 915 retail dealers in malt liquors. The state of New York had last year 29,637 retail liquor dealers and 2,493 retail dealers in malt liquors. Say that 20,000 retail liquor dealers would pay the same tax in this state, $500 each would give us $10,000,000; and $2,500 retail malt liquor dealers at $250 each would give us $500,000. This would pay all our state expenses, state, school and all, and the saloons would make large money besides. This is better than taxing all brokers of flour, pork, beef, eggs, poultry, coffee, sugar, rice, tea, bonds, stocks, dry goods, petroleum, etc. On each barrel of whiskey sold at 10 cents a glass there is at least $150 profit, and on each barrel of beer sold at 5 cents a glass there is at least $18 profit. This is not a tax that is very high for such profits! Let the money be paid into the state treasury, and away with all state taxes. Cattaraugus county would save $47,733.80; Columbia would save $92,495.69; Livingston, $67,437.96, St. Lawrence, $60,957.67, etc. I do not think the farmers would complain of this exemption from a heavy burden.—[James A. Briggs.

Ladies Home Journal.

The June number of the Ladies Home Journal contains the opening chapters of a new domestic story, written for its columns by Harriet Prescott Spofford. Among other articles this number contains, "The Tea Table, and How to Make it Attractive," by Christine Terhune Herrick. Mrs. Louisa Knapp, as editor of the Philadelphia Ladies' Home Journal, has met with most remarkable success in building up that paper to a circulation of over two hundred thousand paid subscribers in less than two years, by her rare tact and genius in catering to the home instincts of her sex, in the rich feast of good things set before her readers every month. The Journal is a perfect gem, handsomely printed and illustrated, and employs only the best writers, such as Harriet Prescott Spofford, Marion Harland, Rose Terry Cooke, Mrs. Christine Terhune Herrick, (Marion Harland's daughter), Mrs. J. H. Lambert, of Philadelphia, Mary Abbott Rand, Helen Winslow, John's Wife, Clarissa Potter, Helen Ayre, Charity Snow, and others.—[The New York Journalist.

A great newspaper reader was out hunting recently, and a storm coming up he crept into a hollow log for shelter After the storm had abated he endeavored to crawl out but he found that the log had swollen so that it was impossible for him to make his exit. He endeavored to compress himself as much as possible, but with indifferent success, He thought about all the mean things he had ever done until finally his mind reverted to the fact that, instead of buying his paper like a man, he was in the habit of borrowing from his neighbors. At this he felt so small that he slipped out of a knot hole.—[Exchange.

A Fearful Threat.

An itinerant vender called at the mansion of Col. Yerger:

"Can't I sell you some Rough on Rats? They will not die in the house, kills 'em every pop."

"Go away! There are no rats in my house," replied the Colonel. "I've got something that's a heap rougher on rats than anything you've got."

"What's that?"

[illegible]

A LIBERAL OFFER.

Five Thousand Dollars to any Charitable Institution,

If It Cannot be Done as It is Stated.

Rochester, N. Y. Union and Advertiser.

Friends of Ex-President Arthur are very much disquieted.

Of course he is not going to die! He is in the hands of a very particular physician.

His doctor does not call it Bright's Disease! No, it is stomach disorder that he is suffering from now, and from time to time many other symptoms are developed. These symptoms the public should know are really secondary to Bright's Disease.

His physicians say that everything that medical skill can do for him is being done.

This is not so!

This case is a prominent one because the general is an ex-president; and yet there are thousands of farmers quietly dying, in their farm houses, of secondary symptoms of Bright's Disease, called by every other conceivable name; thousands of workmen, likewise dying, leaving helpless families; hundreds of thousands in all walks of life who have sickened, and are likewise dying, helpless victims of powerless physicians.

Eight years ago a very well known gentleman was about to enter upon large commercial transactions. His medical adviser quietly dropped into his office one day and told his confidential clerk that he would be dead in three months, and that he ought to settle up his business affairs at once!

That man is alive and well to-day, yet he was given up as incurable with the same disease that is killing General Arthur!

Our reporter met this gentleman yesterday and in conversation about the General's case, he said:

"I will give $5,000 to any charitable "institution in the state of New York, "to be designated by the editor of the "New York World, the editor of the "Buffalo News and W. E. Kisselburgh "of the Troy Times, if Warner's safe "cure (taken according to my directions) "which cured me eight years ago, can-"not cure General Chester A. Arthur of "Bright's disease from which he is suf-"fering."

"Now I want you to understand," he "said, "that we do not profess to make "new kidneys, but we do know from "personal experience of many thous-"ands of similar cases, that we can stop "the consumption of the kidneys. Many "a man has gone through life with one "kidney without inconvenience. Thous-"ands of people have lived a majority "of their life with one lung. They did "not have a new lung made. We do "not make new kidneys, but if the kid-"ney is not consumed too much we can "stop disease and prolong life if taken "in time."

This offer comes from H. H. Warner, proprietor of Warner's safe cure, of this city.

Mr. Warner also said, "My dear sir, "there are governors, senators, presi-"dential candidates, members of con-"gress, prominent men and women all "over the country whom I personally "know have been cured of disease, such "as General Arthur suffers from, by "our Warner's safe cure, but owing to "the circles in which they move they "do not care to give public testimonial "to the fact."

Mr. Warner is interested in General Arthur's case because he is personally acquainted with him and he says that it is a shame that any man should be allowed to die under the operation of old-fashioned powerful cathartics, which have no curative effects, rather than that a modern, conceded specific for kidney disease whose worth is acknowledged world-wide, should save him.

"If you doubt the efficacy of Warner's safe cure," say the proprietors, "ask your friends and neighbors about it. This is asking but little. They can tell you all you want to know."

"We have kept a standing offer before the public for four years," says Mr. Warner, "that we will give $5,000 to any person who can successfully dispute the genuineness, so far as we know, of the testimonials we publish, and none have done it."

Were General Arthur a poor man, unable to be left "in the hands of his physician," he would use that great remedy, as many thousands of others have done, and get well. How absurd then for people to say that everything that can be done is being done for the ex-president, when the one successful remedy in the world that has cured, or that can cure a case like his, has not been used by them.

A Newspaper Without an Editor.

A newspaper in Madrid, called the Correspondencia, is peculiar in its way. It has the largest circulation of any paper in the capital, reaching 200,000 to 300,000 a day. It has no editor, but a dozen wide-awake reporters who scour the town for every kind of information. They come to the office and drop the manuscripts into a bag, and there they stay until the foreman wants copy Everything is then thrown into the forms without regard to order or anything else and the paper is read from end to end in spite of this fact.

Queen Victoria's chicken-house is a palatial, semi-gothic building.

Men who most pride themselves on their knowledge of the world generally know only its crooked alleys and dirty lanes.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M.D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

The Centaur Company, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

Rupture

Dr. J. A. Sherman has returned from his trip to the city of Mexico and the West, and removed his office from 251 to 294 Broadway, New York. In Dr. Sherman's treatment there is no operation of any kind, no detention from labor, no danger of strangulated rupture, besides freedom from the injury trusses inflict. His Book, containing information and endorsements from Physicians, Clergy men, Merchants, Farmers and others who have been treated and cured, is mailed for 10 cents. Persons in circumstances to prevent them from availing themselves of Dr. Sherman's personal services should send for his home circular of advice and instruction. Remember, office 294 Broadway, New York, three doors above Reade street.

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs

—AND—

MEDICINES,

a beautiful modern

--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date. The New Drug Store.

H. C. GIESLER.

HART BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware

—AND—

PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE

—AND—

DRAIN TILE,

With all necessary Fittings and connections.

FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.

Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.

Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.

STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.

Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button!!Shoes

"Hand Made."

Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe

IN THE COUNTY.

CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

SALMON SHOE STORE,

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the undertaking [illegible] and in a [illegible]

Furniture Repairing

[illegible]

Remember the Place.

—ALSO AGENT FOR—

[illegible]

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Feb. 1st, 1886.

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 15	3 55	8 50	6 00	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	1100	7 50	1120
5 45	4 15	9 20	6 20	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	1045	7 35	1110
7 38	6 00	1110	9 30	Cornwall	7 40	9 00	5 47	8 18
8 20	6 35	1142	1028	Campbell Hall	7 11	8 30	5 18	7 10
8 45	7 00	1210	1240	Middletown	6 55	8 15	4 55	6 30
†902	7 21	1229	1 10	Winterton	†633	7 53	†431	5 50
†908	7 27	1236	1 25	Bloom'ngb'rgh	†628	7 47	4 25	5 40
†912	7 32	1241	1 30	Wurtsboro	†624	7 43	*421	5 30
9 18	7 40	1250	1 40	Summitville	6 17	7 35	4 13	5 20
....	8 00	1 20	....	Ellenville	....	7 15	3 40	....
*938	p m	1 11	2 10	Mountain Dale	*600	a m	3 54	4 55
*943	....	1 20	2 22	Centerville	*558	....	3 47	4 40
*953	....	1 32	2 35	Fallsburgh	*545	....	3 38	4 25
1000	....	1 40	2 50	Hurley	*537	....	3 30	4 10
1012		1 54	3 18	Liberty Falls	*525	....	3 18	3 47
1016	Pass & Frt.	2 00	3 37	Liberty	5 20	....	3 13	3 37
1030		2 15	4 00	Parksville	*508		2 59	3 18
1042		2 45	4 25	L'v'gst'n Man'r	4 55	Mixed	2 45	2 50
1055		3 00	4 43	Rockland	4 40		2 32	2 17
1107		3 12	4 57	Cook's Falls	*428		2 20	2 02
1130		3 33	5 25	East Branch	4 05		1 58	1 35
....	13	*343	5 35	Fish's Eddy	....	14	*149	1 22
1150	a m	3 55	5 50	Hancock	3 43	p m	1 38	1 03
1240	6 40	4 40	6 45	Walton	2 55	4 20	1255	1155
9 00	5 35	5 50	p m	Delhi	....	5 50	1040	a m
1 20	7 40	5 15	Oswego Exp.	Franklin	2 15	3 30	1205	Pass. & Frt.
†128	7 52	5 22		Sidney Centre	†205	3 15	1157
1 45	8 55	5 40		Sidney [Depart	1 45	2 45	1140
....	....	7 30		New Berlin	....	....	7 00
....	9 30	†555		Guilford Centr	....	1 50	1122
2 08	9 40	5 59		Guilford	1 20	1 40	1119
2 24	1005	6 13		Oxford	1 03	1 15	1104
2 45	1030	6 30	31	Norwich	1240	1245	1045	50
....	47	....	....		....	32	....	....
....	a m	....	a m		....	p m	a m	p m
2 50	2 15	6 33	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 20	1040	6 20
†302	2 32	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 09	1029	6 00
†314	2 55	6 58	7 57	Smyrna	1208	6 58	1018	5 40
3 29	3 08	7 05	8 05	Earlville	1200	6 46	1011	5 15
3 32	3 30	7 13	8 15	Randallsville	1150	6 38	1003	4 45
†345	3 50	7 25	8 27	Eaton	1140	6 29	9 55	4 20
*350	4 03	7 30	8 32	Morrisville	1132	6 22	9 48	4 03
†404	4 30	7 48	8 46	Munnsville	1117	6 06	9 33	3 10
†415	4 55	*755	8 57	Community	1103	5 50	*921	2 20
4 21	5 06	8 00	9 03	Oneida Castle	1057	5 45	9 14	2 03
4 29	5 16	8 05	9 16	Oneida	1055	5 40	9 12	2 00
†433	p m	*816	*920	Durhamville	....	*512	*853	1248
*450	....	*827	9 38	North Bay	1027	4 54	8 35	1210
*505	....	8 42	9 53	Cleveland	1012	4 37	8 21	1140
*512	....	*847	1000	B'rnhard's Bay	1007	4 31	*814	1111
5 22	....	8 55	1007	Constantia	1000	4 24	8 07	1100
5 42	....	9 12	1024	Central Square	9 48	4 08	7 49	1024
†549	....	9 18	1031	Caughdenoy	9 35	*400	†741	9 50
5 57	....	9 28	1038	Pennellville	9 28	3 54	7 34	9 40
6 18	....	9 47	1058	Fulton	9 10	3 35	7 15	8 50
6 50	....	1010	1125	Oswego	8 45	3 10	6 50	7 30
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.

Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.

Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.

Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.

Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 36—Freight and Passenger—Leaves Middletown 5:50 a. m., Mechanicstown 6:00, Ireland 6:08, Stony Ford 6:16, Campbell Hall 6:25, Burnside 6:34, Rock Tavern 6.38, Genung's 6:50, Meadow Brook 7:02, Orr's Mills 7:07, Montana 7:10 and arrive at Cornwall 7:20, connecting with Train 6 for New York.

Train 38—Cornwall Local—Leaves Middletown 12:01 p. m., Mechanicstown 12:05, Ireland 12:09, Stony Ford 12:14, Campbell Hall 12:20, Burnside 12:26, Meadow Brook 12:43, Montana 12:48 arrive at Cornwall 12:55 p. m., connecting with West Shore train arriving at New York, 42nd. street 2:50 and Jay street 3:05 p. m., also for Newburgh arriving at 1:29 p. m.

Train 20—Way Freight and Passenger—Leaves Walton 7:30 a. m., arriving at Middletown 5:45 p. m., stopping at all stations.

Train 26—New Berlin Mixed—Leaves New Berlin 7:00 a. m., stopping at all stations on the New Berlin Branch, arriving at Sidney 9:55, Youngs 10:12, Sidney Centre 10:27, Franklin 10:40 and Walton 11:30.

Train 16—Leaves Delhi 5:35 a. m., Hamden 5:53, arriving at Walton 6:30, connecting with Train 12 for Norwich.

Train 18—Express—Leaves Delhi 10:40 a. m., Hamden 11:12, arriving at Walton 11:50, connecting with Train 2 for New York.

Train B—Sunday Only—Leaves Sidney 10:00 a. m., Youngs 10:20, Sidney Centre 10:35, Franklin 10:50, Walton 11:45.

Train 28—Sidney Local—Leaves Norwich 7:00 a. m., Oxford 7:30, Guilford 7:55, Guilford Centre 8:00, New Berlin Junction 8:17, Sidney 8:25 a. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Train 35—Middletown Local—Leaves Cornwall 8:25 a. m., connecting with West Shore, leaving Newburgh 7:20, Montana 8:37, Meadow Brook 8:48, Genung's 9:00, Burnside 9:20, Campbell Hall 9:30, Stony Ford 9:38, Middletown 10 a. m.

Train 37—Passenger and Freight—Leaves Cornwall 2:00 p. m., connecting with West Shore, leaving New York, Jay Street 11:05 a. m., 42nd Street 11:25, Newburgh 12:52, arrives at Montana 2:12, Meadow Brook 2:20, Genung's 2:32, Burnside 2:49, Campbell Hall 2:57, Stony Ford 3:06, Middletown 3:30 p. m.

Train 19—Way Freight—Leaves Middletown 4:55 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 4:30 p. m.

Train 25—New Berlin Way—Leaves Walton 2:25 p. m., arriving at Franklin 3:30, Sidney Centre 4:45, Sidney 5.45, connecting with No. 1 from New York; stopping at all stations on the Branch, arriving at New Berlin 7:30 p. m.

Train A—Saturday Only—Leaves Walton 6:50 p. m., Franklin 7:25, Sidney Centre 7:50, Sidney 8:20 p. m.

Train 15—Mixed—Leaves Walton 8:00 a. m., stopping at all stations on Branch, arriving at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 17—Mail—Leaves Walton 4:45 p.m., making all stops on Branch, arriving at Delhi 5.50 p. m.

Train 27—Norwich Mixed—Leaves Sidney 4:15 p. m., Guilford 4:49, Oxford 5:13, Norwich 5:45 p. m.

Train 49—Way Freight and Passenger—Leaves Norwich 8:10 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Oswego 6:45 p. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 38—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore for Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Saratoga, Whitehall, arriving at Rutland, Vt. 8:50 p. m.

Train 2—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Saratoga, Whitehall, Plattsburgh, arriving at Montreal 8 a. m.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and Rome and all stations on the Utica Division of the D. and H. R. R.; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for Syracuse.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points north; at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. R. for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 8:40 a. m.

Train 31—Connects at Randallsville for all stations on the Utica Division of the D. and H. R. R.; at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Train 47—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points west, arriving at Rochester 10:25, Buffalo 12:30 a. m. and Chicago 9 p. m.

Agents of the N. Y. O. and W. sell tickets and check baggage to all points east, west, north and south via all lines with good connections. Rates always guaranteed as low as any other line.

Trains [illegible] daily, all others daily except Sunday. Trains 5 and 6 will not start on Sundays. [illegible] on signal, [illegible] to leave and take on New York [illegible]

New York [illegible] of Jay St. and West [illegible]

J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pass'r. Agt., No. 2 [illegible] Street, N. Y.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.

OSWEGO, N. Y

JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.

Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts, Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious; Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER

VITRIFIED

Sewer Pipe!

The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size. We keep it in stock at our coal yard, Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself. All orders promptly filled.

White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,

THE PLUMBER,

has moved his office and shop

Under Collins' Shoe Store

and is now prepared to do all kinds of

PLUMBING,

GAS and STEAM FITTING.

Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.

Hydrant Hose, Water Goods

of all kinds. Also a full line of

GAS FIXTURES.

10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS

—IN—

Drugs, Patent Medicines,

—AND—

DYE STUFFS

—AT—

R. E. PHILLIPS'

Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Stove	$4.50	Grate	[illegible]
Nut	4.50	Pea	[illegible]
Egg	4.25	Smith	[illegible]
No 4	4.75	Mixed	[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] must be accompanied by a [illegible] name as a private guarantee of good faith.
[illegible] advertising made known on application [illegible] or by letter.
[illegible] printing of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] at reasonable prices.
Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second-class matter.
Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,
F. D. VANWAGENEN, Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

WE are in receipt of the American Newspaper Directory for 1886 from the enterprising and reliable newspaper Advertising Bureau of Geo. P. Rowell & Co No. 10 Spruce street, New York. The Directory contains accurate lists of all newspapers and periodicials published in the United States, Territories, Dominion of Canada and New Foundland, together with a description of the towns and cities in which they are published and fills 1,818 pages. With it comes a Directory of 1776, which contains the list of papers, thirty-six in number, published at that date. The contrast in the size of the two issues is something remarkable.

John Kelly Dead.

John Kelly died at his residence in New York yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, aged 63 years. Mr. Kelly has been ill for the past seven months. Only Mrs. Kelly and her two children were present when the patient passed away.

Palermo.

J. W. Rigley of Oswego Falls was in town last week, making cheese at the Palermo Centre factory.

A game of ball was played on Saturday last at Clifford by the Colosse club and the Clifford's, which resulted in a score of 18 to 37 in favor of the Cliffords.

Timothy Dolbear has in his possession a receipt for land tax on his father's farm for 1818. On 150 acres of land the tax was $1.85, and on the same land now the tax is $85.00.

At Clifford on Saturday a running match between Erwin Cusack of Clifford, and Homer LaClair of Colosse, was won by Cusack.

Miss Frankie Wood of Oswego Falls, is in town this week making a visit among her friends.

W. H. Hannan will about the fifteenth of this month have his thill couplings ready to show to the public.

F. C. Church has just erected a monument in the cemetery at Palermo Centre which is an handsome ornament and has some very fine work on it. It was made by R. T. Allen of Phoenix.

Gilberts Mills.

Miss Jennie Belnap now plays the organ in the M. E. church.

There was quite a gathering at the M. E. church last Saturday to welcome their new pastor and wife to make them feel more at home in their new field of labor.

Mrs. A. T. Mason has so far recovered from her recent illness as to be able to ride out.

Friends from out of town spent the Sabbath with Mr. Hamlin, the merchant.

There will be no preaching at the Baptist church next Sabbath. Quarterly meeting will be held at North Scriba. There will be Sunday school at 12 o'clock.

Memorial services were held at the Baptist church Monday. Speaking by B. Snyder, Captain Cook of Gilberts Mills, and Rev. Hanscom of Phoenix. They proceded to the cemetery and decorated the graves of the four heroes who lie here.

Last Thursday Mr. X. A. Willard got a telegram announcing the death of his wive's father. They took the cars Friday morning to attend the funeral, when news came that her mother was also at the point of death.

Work has commenced on Dr. Snyder's barn, Messrs. Palmer Chafee, O. Bass, and M. A. Blodgett are doing the work.

To Our Readers.

We desire to call your attention to the advertisement of The Sporting Life in our columns to-day. The Sporting Life is a weekly journal devoted to all sports that are noble and manly. It contains no objectionable reading matter or advertisements and is the leading sporting journal of the country. We advise our readers to send for a free sample copy to THE SPORTING LIFE Publishing Company, 202 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. 3w4

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

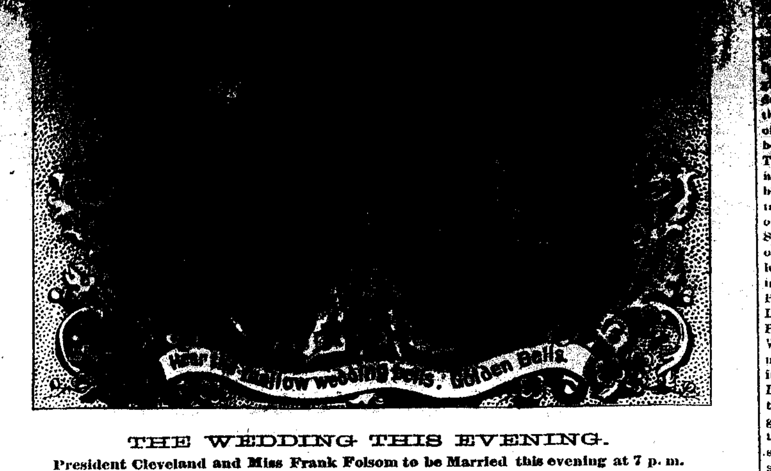
A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¼ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get [illegible]

A 5-acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

[illegible]



Hear the mellow wedding bells. Golden Bells.

THE WEDDING THIS EVENING.

President Cleveland and Miss Frank Folsom to be Married this evening at 7 p. m.

President Cleveland will be married at the White House this evening to Miss Frank Folsom. The recent death of a relative of Miss Folsom has changed the original plans for the wedding, and the invitations have been limited to a few of the near relatives and the members of the Cabinet and their wives.

The Rev. Dr. Sunderland, of the First Presbyterian church of Washington, will officiate.

The ceremony will be performed in the Blue Room at 7 o'clock p. m. The house has been decorated with flowers, as is usual on State occasions, and an orchestra will be stationed in the vestibule, but no unusual preparations have been made for the event.

There will be no wedding journey at present. Later in the season Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland will take a vacation trip, the particulars of which have not been arranged. They will remain quietly at the White House for the present. The original intention was that the wedding should take place at a date between the 19th and 26th of June, and that the ceremony should be a grand affair. The death of Col. Folsom made a change necessary. The friends of the contracting parties advised that if there was to be a large wedding, a postponement of several weeks would be proper, and this was not thought to be best. It was then decided that if Miss Folsom, who was on her way across the Atlantic, approve, it would be better to name an earlier day and have a quiet wedding.

Miss Folsom, accompanied by her mother and cousin arrived from Europe early last Friday morning. They were met by Col. Lamont, the President's private secretary, who accompanied them to the Gilsey house, New York, where they remained until 9 o'clock last evening when they left for Washington. The President accompanied by Postmaster-General and Mrs. Vilas, Secretary and Mrs. Endicott, Secretary Lamar and Mrs. Lamont left Washington Sunday afternoon in a special car to attend Decoration Day exercises in New York, and returned on Monday night. The President, the bride-elect and the country are to be congratulated upon this evening's event. The President should have a wife to assist him in doing the honors of the White House, and Miss Folsom in the graces of mind and person, is unquestionably fitted to adorn the high sphere to which she will be called. The country will welcome her royally and gladly, and wish for both a happy reign in the Executive Mansion and a long and happy life after they have retired to quieter scenes.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., May 26, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, a full board.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

The Clerk presented a list of persons liable to highway tax under the provisions of section 54 of the village charter, and the Trustees assessed each of such persons two days labor on the highways and directed the collection thereof by the Street Commissioner to whom the list was given.

On motion it was ordered that the Clerk advertise for sealed proposals for lighting the street lamps.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills for payment, and on motion the same were audited, and the Clerk directed to draw orders on the proper funds for the several amounts:

George F. Sharp, Street Commissioner,	$100.00
Willard Johnson, lumber	145.67
J. Kavanaugh, lamplighting	38.67
John Porter, gravel furnished in March ordered by late Street Commissioner	4.00

The committee on sidewalks reported that they had examined the walks throughout the village and recommended the adoption of the following ordinances, which were on motion of Mr. Pardee unanimously adopted, to-wit:

Be it ordained that the several owners of the following described premises be, and they are hereby required to make new sidewalks in front of and adjacent to the premises hereinafter specifically described; said parcels being owned or occupied by the several persons hereinafter named, to-wit:

West side of Sixth Street.
M. P. Schenck, lots 5 and 6 blk 48
J. Milton Spafford, lot 6, blk 50.
South side of Seneca Street.
Eunice L. Root, lot 2, blk 21.
North side of Cayuga Street.
Henrietta Sharp, lots 4 and 5, blk 29
E. Gregory, lot 6, blk 29.
John Sawyer, lot 3, blk 29.
C. W. Streeter, lot 3, blk 29.
Eliza J. Porter, lot 1, blk 29.
Mrs. E. B. Schenck, lot 3, blk 27.
North side of Utica Street.
S. A. Reeves, lot 4, blk 32.
South side of Utica Street.
Baptist Church Society, lot 7, blk 30.
North side of Buffalo Street.
F. E. Goodjon, lot 3, blk 41.
South side of Buffalo Street
Mrs. M. B. Haynes, lot 7, blk 46.
West side of Third Street
D. C. Draper, lot 10, blk 103.
West side of Fourth Street,
J. A. Foster, lot 10, blk 105.
South side of Academy Street.
E. G. C. Rice, lots 1 and 2, blk 103.
East side of First Street.
Mrs. Lury Fish, lot 15, blk 43.
Mrs. Annie M. Harvie lot 4, blk 110.
West side of Second Street.
William Sheldon, lot 8, blk 110.
Geo. M. Case, lot 6, blk 102.
L. T. Miller, lots 4 and 5, blk 22.

And be it further ordained, that the several sidewalks hereinbefore specified be made of sound two-inch hemlock plank, laid lengthwise—or one and one-half inch pine plank laid crosswise on three by four stringers well secured with earth to make a firm foundation and securly nailed.

That the same be laid five feet in width and that the outer lines be evenly laid and in line with other walks already laid adjacent thereto, and that the same be made and laid within 30 days from the service of this notice; and further resolved that the Clerk cause the aforesaid ordinance to be at once served upon all persons affected thereby, and cause proof of such service to be made and filed.

Also the following which was unanimously adopted:

Be it ordained, that the several owners of the following described premises be and are hereby required to repair the walks in front of their premises herein after specifically described and upon the same grade that they are now laid. Said premises being severally owned or occupied by the several persons hereinafter named, to-wit:

North side of Erie Street.
H. O. Vickery, lots 1 and 2, blk 48.
M. P. Schenck, & Co., lot 3, blk 48.
West side of Sixth Street
J. M. Spafford, lot 6, blk 50.
H. D. Patrick, lot 12, blk 50.
Geo. S. Hanna, lot 12, blk 49.
Otto Sholtz, lot 6, blk 49.
South side of Oneida Street.
James Doyle, lots 1 and 2, blk 51.
John O'Grady, lot 6, blk 51.
Myron Smith, lot 4, blk 28.
North side of Oneida Street.
E. B. Collins lot 7, blk 24.
North side of Cayuga Street.
N. E. Burdick, lot 6, blk 27.
Dilts & Butler, lot 5 blk 27.
Mrs. D. C. King, lot 4, blk. 27.
D. Pardee, lot 2 blk 27.
South side of Cayuga Street.
Mrs. H. C. Beals, lot 2, blk 32.
South side of Utica Street.
Mrs. Robert Poole lot 1, blk 36.
Jas. H. Langdon, lot 1, blk 53.
Mrs. W. T. Church, lots 4, 5 and 6, blk 36.
A. J. Thayer, lot 1, blk 37.
North side of Utica Street.
Mrs. G. D. Jennings, lot 1, blk 37.
Andrew Bogart, lot 5, blk 33.
W. D. Patterson, lot 2, blk 34.
Libbie Howard, lot 4, blk 34.
Cicero Hancock, lot 5, blk 34.
East side of Second Street
Mrs. Elizabeth Potts, lot 1, blk 40.
E. G. C. Rice, lot 1, blk 103,
John Boardman, lot 9, blk 44.
West side of Second Street.
[illegible]
Abraham Howe, lots 4, 5, 6 and 7, blk 106.
South side of Broadway.
Amos Wolever, lots 1 and 2, blk 124.
C. H. Davids, lots 7 and 8, blk 124.
Mt. Adnah Cemetery Association.
William Hardy, Jr., lot 1, blk 123.
North side of Broadway.
Mrs. Annie M. Harvie, lot 4, blk 110.
East side of Third Street.
Mrs. R. T. Jones, part of lots 1, 2 and 3, blk 15.
West side of Third Street.
Mrs. O. P. Dada, lot 6, blk 40.
F. M. Wilson, lot 6, blk 40.
B. R. Howe, lot 7, blk 111.
East side of Fourth Street
Mrs. S. Laycock, lot 1, blk 42.
North side of Rochester Street.
H. M. Warren, lot 3, blk 37.
Mrs. Mary Smith, lots 4 and 5, blk 38.
George Johnston, lot 6, block 37.
South side of Rochester Street.
Marcus F. Crahan, lots 4 and 5, block 54
Mrs. H. C. Beals, lot 5, block 42.
Mrs. Nancy Race, lot 1, blk 42.
Mrs. Ziba Kendall, lot 6, blk 41.
Biphop McNierney, lots 1 and 2, blk 41.
M. H. Brando, lot 3, blk 42.
S. N. Dada, lot 5, block 40.
May Gordon, lot 4, blk 40.
Universalist Church Society, lot 1, blk 39.

And be it further ordained, that such several sidewalks be repaired of the same material as was used in the original construction thereof, and that they be so repaired and but in good sound, serviceable condition within 10 days after the service of this notice, and further

Resolved, That the Clerk cause the aforesaid ordinances to be at once served upon all persons affected thereby, and cause proof of such service to be made and filed.

The committee appointed April 28th to ascertain the cost of drinking fountains presented lists of prices and designs for the same, and on motion of Mr. Pardee, Mr. Johnson and Kendrick were appointed a committee to investigate the matter with power to act.

On motion Trustee Pardee was appointed a committee to examine the hose carriages for sale in Oswego and report at our next meeting.

Trustees More and Kendrick were appointed a committee to arrange with W. H. Pruyne for use of his barn for hose cart with power to act.

Trustee Pardee from the committee to whom the petition presented at the last meeting was referred, reported that he had written to the State Board of Health, asking them to recommend a competent person to advise in regard to the matter, and that they had so recommended Mr. James T. Gardner, who, being in the room was called upon and spoke at some length of the plan and manner of the work to be done. After remarks on the subject by some citizens, Mr. Pardee moved that Mr. Gardner be employed to take levels, make a survey maps plans, etc., for adoption if approved, at a sum approximating $300, which motion was carried.

The committee appointed to examine the accounts of James N. Clarke, (late Street Commissioner) were given to the next meeting to report.

On motion the Board adjourned to June 9th at 7½ o'clock p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, May 31.

There was little holding back on the part of salesmen to-day, although a few who have already shipped pretty close to the hoop sold only four or five days. Transactions were as follows: Thirteen lots. 997 boxes, at 6¼c.; 5,537 boxes, at 6⅜c.; 19 lots, 1,725 boxes, at 6½c.; 9 lots, 1,190 boxes, at 6⅝c.; 4 lots, 700 boxes, at 7c. Sales 10,169 boxes; commissions 750 boxes; total 10,919 boxes. Ruling price 6⅜c. Transactions one year ago 11,324 boxes; two years ago 10,134 boxes. Sales today were all of grass cheese.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, May 31.

Factorymen were again much disappointed at a further decline of 1c. per pound, and this, too, when quality of stock is improving. Demand at these figures was good, and all cheese offered were sold, factorymen showing no disposition to hold back stock. The opinion was freely expressed here to-day that prices would go still lower. Dairymen, however, have not yet as good reason to be discouraged as they had last year at this time, when the highest price paid here was 6c. The fodder cheese has now about all gone forward. A fair proportion of the sales to-day was grass made stock. Transactions are:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price.
3	150	6 cents
8	588	6¼ cents
47	2,516	6⅜ cents
22	1,311	6½ cents
13	759	7 cents
12	540	com.
105	5,864
Farm dairy	710
Total	6,574

BUTTER.—There were 25 packages of creamery butter sold at 16c., and 15 packages of farm dairy at 15@17c.

AT FULTON.

Fourteen factories were represented at this market Monday night with 890 boxes which brought 6⅛c. to 6⅝c., Utica ruling.

Assessors' Notice.

The undersigned Assessors of the Village of Fulton, having completed their roll for [illegible]

LITERARY.

D. Lothrop & Co. have just issued three books for girls which will prove not only fascinating to them, but extremely attractive to older members of the household, notably the mothers and all specially interested in the welfare of girls. Though alike in the main purpose of proving helpful and useful to girls, there is decided originality in each of these little volumes, and their construction and general treatment are altogether different.

A NEW DEPARTURE FOR GIRLS. By Margaret Sidney. Tells the story of two young sisters left dependent upon their own exertions for support, and the brave, sensible way in which, ignoring false pride, they set about the unexpected task of supporting themselves. Instead of resorting to any of the conventional methods, such as taking music pupils, doing fancy work, or teaching school, for which they are conscious of possessing no aptitude, they resolve to utilize the training they have received in careful patching and mending, by undertaking such homely work as the repairing of old clothes. They make a beginning with a worn carpet, and succeed so well that from that time forth Fortune smiles upon them.

The characters are brightly drawn, and Miss Leverett Saltus, the eccentric old-Boston lady, in whose eminently respectable mansion the girls find a room and set up business, stands out as if photographed from life. The story is an encouraging one, and will offer suggestions to that large class of young workers who with only ordinary ability and training find themselves obliged to face the difficult problem of self-support. It will show them what energy and perseverence will do, and will inspire them with fresh courage and ambition. Price 75 cents.

HOW THEY LEARNED HOUSEWORK. By Christina Goodwin. Tells in the pleasantest, most natural manner, the way in which four merry schoolgirls were inducted into the mysteries of cooking, washing, ironing, making beds, sweeping, putting up preserves, cutting out and making up under-clothing, under the careful supervision of the mother of one of the girls; the whole thing being made as delightful as a play to them, with the accessories of a regular uniform, assumed names, and all the delightful fiction so pleasing to the schoolgirl fancy. The girls will not only want to read the book, but having read it, will be wild to go and do likewise, and we can readily believe that many a well-ordered household will find its quiet invaded by a lively band of amateur house-keepers, eager to serve an apprenticeship in the business of learning housework. We hope they may all have as experienced and wise a teacher as Mrs. Ellis. Price 75 cents.

HOLD UP YOUR HEADS, GIRLS! By Annie H. Ryder. Is aptly called "Helps for girls, in school and out." It is a series of bright, wholesome, earnest talks, by a teacher who loves girls, as is plain to be seen by her simple dedication, "my girls everywhere." These talks, which are not in the least pedantic, embrace such subjects as "How to talk," "How to make the Most of Work," "What to Study," "Moods," "Womanliness," "What Can I do?" "Girls and their Friends," etc., etc., and are so bright and pleasant as well as sensible, that the average girl who doesn't like anything prosy or too much like preaching, will find a charm in the pretty brown basket-cloth volume from beginning to end. The suggestions are so practical and given with so much spirit and magnetic force, as to instinctively recall the title, and to cause a pleasant sense of life and action, which are always delightful to young readers. It is a long time since we have seen ordinary subject treated with so much freshness and interest. Price $1.00.

OUR LITTLE ONES and the nursery for June comes to us with ten short stories and six poems, all of which are handsomely illustrated. It is an excellent monthly for the little ones. Price $1.50 per year. Russell Publishing Company, Boston Mass.

[illegible]

[illegible] of spring flowers, while in glowing words their deeds of valor, self-denial and true patriotism recounted, has there been so generous an out-pouring of money, so grand a parade, or so beautiful floral decorations as to day. There is a reason for all this, and it lies in the fact that in this city on the bank of the Hudson lies all that is mortal of the Rebellion's greatest leader and one of the nation's grandest heroes, U. S. Grant. Among the illustrious dead of the nation only a few of its great leaders lie buried in this city. At Trinity, Alexander Hamilton, John A. Dix, Phillip Kearney and Captain James Lawrence have their graves. At St. Paul's, Richard Montgomery, while at Woodlawn rests the remains of the matchless naval leader Faragut. So it appears fitting that at this first Decoration day since the death of Grant, the celebration should be befitting to the greatness of the dead. Indeed, I think that as each year rolls around and as silently, yet none the less surely because silently, the Grand Army of the Republic on this side becomes less and the muster rolls on the other become longer, the commemoration of the day takes a more solemn turn, and the lessons of the day and the reasons of its celebration are more thoroughly brought out. The Metropolitan churches are giving attention to the subject, and the Sunday preceding Decoration day is devoted in a very large number of the churches to special G. A. R. services.

The fact is patent to all that these veterans will grow less in numbers each year. They march now through the streets comparatively many in numbers, but ten years or so and their number will be largely reduced.

But the celebration of this Decoration day has two parts or, perhaps, three. The military parade represented 70,000 men most of whom were either G. A.R., State Militia or U. S. Army and Navy. With battle flags, some of which barely held together, some others having their staffs so badly shot as to need bracing to hold them together, with here a lump and there a scratch, now an armless sleeve and then a seamed face, they marched down Fifth Avenue with apparently as much vigor and with eyes as bright as when twenty-five years ago they (many of them) tramped down the the same street on their way to the defense of the nation's capital.

We hear in these days a great deal about the "irony of fate." Yet when a G. A. R. Post composed entirely of negroes finds itself following a post representing the Irish-American, we have an instance of the irony of fate since it is chargable to the Irish of this city (and they admit it) the inciting of the draft riot during the progress of the war, at which time the negroes were hanged to the camp post with as little ceremony as they lynch a horse thief in the West. Yet twenty years have worked wonders. These differences have been forgotten and under the influence of the G. A. R., all who fought for the salvation of the Union have united in one common brotherhood.

At the tomb of U. S. Grant in Riverside Park were the memorial services. The floral decorations were exquisite. Every state, many cities and a large number of G. A. R. posts throughout the country paid tribute to their commander. The tomb was completely hidden in the masses of flowers. The principal address was delivered by Gen. John A. Logan. It will be remembered that Logan instituted Memorial Day. and has always been greatly interested in G.A.R. affairs. Formerly a brilliant general lately the soldier's friend in congress, it is not strange that he should have been enthusiastically greeted.

The services of the evening were at the academy of music, at which place Postmaster General Vilas delivered the address.

During the year death has been busy in this vicinity. Grant, McClellan and Hancock have passed away. A trio in whose lives the events of a lifetime were crowded in four short years. They sleep in honored graves and their deeds are precious incense rising from the altars of their country.

Sherman, Sheridan, many Senators and Congressmen visited the city especially to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of the dead and the President took part in the services both in this city and in Brooklyn.

⁂

Great satisfaction is expressed on all sides and among all classes with the conviction of Herr Most for incendiary language. The promptness of this man's conviction reflects credit upon the District Attorney. Most is an anarchist of the most violent sort, a believer in the subversion of all constituted authority. Over on the east side the socialist finds his element. In the vicinity of Tompkins Square are saloons whose owners are mostly socialists. It is among this class that the Freiheit finds its greatest sale. At his trial he partially conducted his own defense and made the summing up speech. His ground was that America being a free land everything must be free even if it were destructively so. The jury did not think so and the ex-member of the German Congress will learn some other other business than how to make dynamite.

⁂

A great city like New York presents some strange contrasts, yet the fact that there are two memorial monuments to two men each of whom was diametrically opposite in their early training from the other is standing. Where Broadway crosses Sixth avenue two little parks have been formed one above, the other below the crossing. In the upper one the Chamber of Commerce erected a bronze statue to William E. Dodge, while in the one below, a drinking fountain to the memory of Jerry McAuley has been erected. It is a strange contrast. McAuley began life under the most degrading circumstances. The gamut of crime he knew by heart. A thief, gambler and convict were his titles, yet he died in the faith and has left a record of ten years or more of effective mission service among the lowest of the low [illegible]

[illegible] the public press should respect the feelings of our high officials in matters so this is sensibly felt by.

WANDERER.

EVERYONE SPEAKS WELL OF IT

Rochester, N. Y., March 18, '86.

For many years I have been troubled with severe pains in the back of my head and neck, the pain being so severe at times that I was nearly insane, and my friends feared that I would be. Lumps as large as a hickory-nut, would swell up on my forehead and neck. I tried many different kinds of medicines and physicians, but none seemed to reach my case, until I commenced the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and before I had used it four days, the pain left my neck and shoulders and went to my hips and limbs. I continued taking the remedy, and the disease seemed to work downward, but there was but little pain. I am still using the remedy, and I feel confident it will entirely cure me; for I am so much better and stronger than I have been for years. I cheerfully recommend it to all.

Very respectfully yours,
MRS. PHŒBE WHEATON.
110 Mt. Hope Avenue.

Sworn Statement from a Well-known Individual.

Lockport, N. Y.

A short time ago I was afflicted with rheumatism so badly that I could not move. One leg was so badly swollen that it burst the skin. The Sheriff of our County advised me to try Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and bought me a bottle. After taking the remedy one day I felt relieved and in less than two weeks I was able to go to work and have not felt rheumatism since. Three bottles cured me, and I recommend it to all who are suffering from rheumatism.

CHAS. ROBILLARD.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of June, 1883.

M. J. TORELL, Notary Public.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

The Century Dictionary.

For the past five years the Century Co. has been engaged in preparing a dictionary of the English language, of which William D. Whitney, of Yale College, is editor-in-chief,—the purpose being to make a more comprehensive work than has yet appeared in popular form, to include, in addition to a very full collection of indivividual words in all departments of the language, all technical phrases, not self-explaining, in law, the mechanical arts, the sciences, etc. Indeed, it is designed to make this dictionary so complete in its definitions of all branches of science and art that even the specialists will need nothing further. The number of "new" words in many of these departments is said to be surprisingly great. The dictionary will have also a remarkably complete system of cross-references, and will embody in itself a dictionary of synonyms which will add greatly to its value.

A prominent feature of the new work will be its encyclopedic character. Its definitions will be fuller and more complete than is customary in works of this kind; it will go further into the various uses and meaning of words, and in many cases will give full explanations and descriptions of matters historical, scientific, legal, mechanical, etc. Quite an army of persons has been at work for several years reading standard American and English books in search of quotations, of which an immense number will be used. American writers, such as Emerson, Lowell, Hawthorne, Irving, Whittier, Longfellow, Holmes, and our distinguished scientists, are receiving special attention.

The publishers are taking great pains with the illustrations, of which there will be about 5,000. They are employing the same class of artists and engravers that contribute to their magazines, and they mean to make the result something hitherto unknown in the world of dictionaries. Each picture as it is drawn, and again after it is engraved, is submitted to the specialist to whose department it belongs, that its specific accuracy may be guaranteed. Of these specialists there are about thirty, working at their homes in New York, Baltimore, Washington, New Haven, Cambridge, and elsewhere, each being individually responsible for all the definitions in his department, and all under the general supervision of Professor Whitney, who will himself have special charge of the definitions in the department of philology, in which he is famous and of the spelling and pronunciation. It is understood that he will not adopt a phonetic method of spelling, though on theoretical grounds he is known to favor it. Professor Whitney is not only recognized as the most eminent American philologist, but the London Saturday Review has recently pronounced him the foremost English-speaking scholar in his department. In addition to the specialists, a force of about fifty assistants has been busy collating material and preparing copy for the printer, the final work on which is done with typewriting machines at The Century Co's. office.

The inception of this scheme was a desire to improve and Americanize the "Imperial Dictionary" of Great Britain, brought out in this country by The Century Co. five years ago. As the work of altering it advanced, it became apparent that a better plan was to begin de novo, and so the far greater work of making a new dictionary of the English language was begun. Two or three years must still elapse before it will appear, and in the meantime opportunity is offered by the publishers to those interested in helping on so useful a work to contribute material and suggestions to it. Much valuable matter has been received in this way from many scholars and practical men all over the world.

It is estimated that upwards of a million of dollars will be spent upon The Century Dictionary before it is ready for publication. The work of typesetting and printing will be done by the De Vinne Press, in the new building into which they have recently moved.

[illegible]

L[illegible]ER YARD.

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—

Complete Assortment

—OF—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.

—And in fact everything pertaining to a—

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.

Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
and DUCHESS Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

OVERWORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. [illegible]

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

[illegible]

FULTON BUS

[illegible]

Lockwood & Wilson, Proprietors.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express....................8:28 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express....11:40 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express..........3:47 p. m
Freight and Accommodation..............6:10 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express.......8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express....8:28 a. m.
Day Express..........................12:24 p. m.
Day Express...........................3:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation.............6:10 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....7:30 p. m.

The 8:28 a. m., and 8:15 a. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express..................7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation.............8:45 a. m
Norwich Express.......................3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express...................9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express.................6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express.......................10:53 a. m.
Freight and accommodation.............5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express....................9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:10	11:20	8:30	5:20
For Oswego,	9:20	12:30	2:34	6:30

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Allen Gilmour of Albany, passed Sunday with friends in town.

Mrs. T. D. Hammond of Syracuse, has been visiting friends in town several days.

Elmer Morrill left last Friday for an extended visit to New York and Washington.

Myron Phelps of Syracuse, formerly of this village, has been in town for a day or two.

Mrs. G. C. Sawyer of Syracuse is the guest at the residence of H. N. Sabin on Buffalo street.

Major Joseph C. Kenyon, eldest son of Sands N. Kenyon, is in town for a visit among relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas Foster have retuned home after a ten day's visit among friends in Herkimer and Onondaga counties.

Dr. I. C. Curtis is in attendance at the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Masons, which is in session at the Masonic Temple, New York, this week, as representative of Hiram Lodge of this place.

If you will buy them of us you can save from 25cts. to $1.00 on every pair of Shoes. Call and see our goods and we will prove it to you.

Salmon Shoe Store.
Opera House Block.

If you are in want of lumber, laths, shingle, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters, window or door frames, or anything pertaining to building, you will find it to your interest to call at McCully's Planing Mill. 1tf

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCully.

Oswego Steam Laundry.

Lace curtains, pillow shams, and fancy work done at reasonable prices. The goods are washed by steam. No chloride of lime is used and the finest of fabrics can be washed without injury. Goods called for and delivered on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

C. W. Blount, Agt,
34 First Street.

Ask for the Ladies' combination shoes at Collins'. tf.

Pasturing, hemlock lumber, seed corn, seed potatoes and pigs for sale.

1tf J. C. Wells.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

Misses and Children's fine quality spring heel shoes at Collins'. tf.

Ladies' friend carpet sweeper for sale at N. R. Cole's, Oneida street.

Fit and style cost nothing. They are only the result of experience and taste. See advertisement of "T. C. & Co." clothing.

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

All kinds of job printing done on short notice and at reasonable rates at The Times office.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf [illegible] Oneida street [illegible] 2:30 p. m., all having assembled in the park, Umpire Jim Pratt called time and the slaughter began.

First street went to the bat, but as the batsmen were very nervous, only five runs were made. Oneida street then came in with blood in their eyes, but were returned with three runs to their credit. In the second inning it began to look as if it were only a question of time whether the First street nine would be put out, or the sun go down first. Umpire Pratt became exhausted in dodging wildly pitched balls and was compelled to retire. Beads of perspiration stood out on pitcher Markham's brow as large as marbles and it was thought by many that he would have to be carried from the field, but he pluckily played out the inning and thereafter his form was no longer seen on the campus. The side was finally retired with fourteen runs. Oneida street then went in determined to make a hundred or two. Webb grasped the willow with a determination to knock over the band house, but there was a hole in his bat and it cleaved the air thrice. It was just as well for him however, as Stephenson muffed the ball. He recovered himself quickly and threw the ball to Fairgrieve with such force that it looked as though he would be unable to keep his engagement in Schaghticoke for the following Thursday. It was too warm to hold, so he muffed it. At this stage of the game the First street battery began to intimidate the umpire and kept it up during the rest of the game. Boomer stepped to the plate with the intention of driving the ball over the seminary. He hit it hard, but as it went in the direction of "His Honor," he was of course retired. The excitement continued to increase as the game proceeded. In the fourth inning Allen was hit on the "funny bone" by a swiftly pitched ball and compelled to retire from the field of action. In the same inning, Captain John Morton was struck in the leg by a swift ball and would have been seriously injured had he not taken due precautions before the game; having a presentment of some such calamity, he had provided himself with a pair of drawers made out of government mail bags and with these as a protection a serious injury was averted. In the sixth inning Capt. W. Morton and Hillick both attempted to catch the same fly, but the sun reflected from W. Hoff's trousers dazzled them and they fell into each other's arms while the ball was lost in the grass and the batsman made a home run. Bert Hoff would'nt smile for a dollar during the whole game. Tom Lewis succeeded by daring base running in making a home run on three strikes nearly every time he went to the bat. Of the Oneida St. men, Morrell took things calmly and quietly; Collins, whenever a ball came near him would swing his arms as if he were about to fly and then catch the ball in his feet; Miller would stand at the bat with a graveyard expression on his face and wait until six balls were called. Gardner rolled his sleeves above his shoulder blades and looked as though he was prepared to chop wood. Webb put on the catchers gloves in the latter part of the game and looked as though he was about to enter a pugilistic contest—Marquis of Gooseberry rules. Boomer became limp early in the game by being compelled to jump ten or twelve feet in the air for wildly thrown balls.

By mutual consent the game was declared closed at the end of the seventh inning the score being as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	total
Oneida St.,	3	2	0	6	1	0	4	15
First St.,	5	11	4	2	2	0	18	45

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, Lead, Lime, Alabastine, &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. Williams, Drug Store.

SHEEP TOOTH FODDER CORN.

Choicest for Seed, wholesale and retail, price $1.00, small lots $1.12 per bushel. Also the twelve rowed Dutton Seed Corn in the ear at 50c. per bushel of ears. Very choice at Genesee Mills.

May 12th. '86. 1w4.

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

Great Sale of Tea and Coffee. Valuable presents given away with each purchase, at Blount's Commission Store 34 First St. Fulton. I. A. Bradford Ag't.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

What The People are TALKING ABOUT.

The Great Bargains they are offering at the

BOSTON BAZAAR.

Read This

HOSIERY Our Greatest Specialty. Prices Low. Sales Quick.
CORSETS Eighteen different Styles. Can suit the most particular.
GLOVES Lisle, Silk, and Kid. All Colors. All Prices.
RIBBONS The Largest Line and The Lowest Prices.
LACES The Best Assortment in the city.
PARASOLS Another new lot just received. Don't buy until you have seen them.
HANDKERCHIEFS 25 doz. all Linen, hem stitched for 10 cts. each.

[illegible] few of the many things to be found at Fulton's [illegible] and find out what [illegible]

A. E. Nettleton will offer bargains in Ladies' Misses' and Children's Kid Slippers.

Above goods are bargains got while in New York and are very Cheap.

Rev. Dr. Tully of Oswego, preached in the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

The Fulton band boys are contemplating an excursion to Long Branch on Sunday, June 13th.

George W. Campbell and Miss Etta Guernsey, both of this village, were married last Wednesday by the Rev. Charles Hudson Smith.

Nearly one hundred children received their first communion at the Catholic church last Sunday morning. The service and ceremonies were very impressive.

Stowell's great 25 cent and bargain store that has lately been doing a very extensive business in Oswego, will open in the opera house block, Saturday of this week.

At a meeting of Post Schenck last evening, resolutions were adopted thanking the speakers for their able addresses of last Monday, also the children and those contributing flowers.

Fred B. Carrington of Detroit, youngest son of our old townsman, E. J. Carrington, is soon to be married, to Miss Alice B. Nervins, of Riverhead, N. Y. A number of Fultonians are invited.

The Waterloo woolen mills are hereafter to be run on the ten hour system. Work is to begin at 6:30 a. m., close at 6 p. m., and Saturdays work will stop at 12.45 noon. There will be no reduction of wages.—[Phelps Citizen.

A new time table went into effect on the N. Y., O. & W. and the R., W. & O. railroads last Monday morning. Twenty-two trains now pass through town each day inside of sixteen hours.

James Dwyer, who was sentenced last Wednesday to ten years in Auburn prison for the crime of highway robbery, arrived there at 11 a. m. Thursday and at 1 p. m. was at work lasting shoes. "Murt" Murphy, who was implicated in the same crime with Dwyer and is serving a like sentence, is at work in the same department.

The Olean Daily Times of a recent date gives a list of officers chosen for the year by St. Joseph's commandery, No. 54, Knights Templar. The many friends of L. F. Moore, M. of D. S., a former Fulton boy, will be pleased to learn that he has been honored by being elected first officer, that of Eminent Commander.

To-morrow evening the members of the Father Matthew Temperance Society of Fulton will hold their first public meeting in the opera house. A lecture on temperance will be delivered by Father Early. The rest of the entertainment to consist of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc. The societies will attend. All are cordially invited. The presence of friends and wellwishers will please and encourage the new society.

The Methodist church was filled to overflowing last Sunday evening to listen to the memorial sermon by Rev. J. C. Breaker of the Baptist church. Post Schenck, G. A. R. attended the services in a body. The sermon was a very able and eloquent address and was listened to with the closest attention. In concluding his sermon he expressed an earnest hope that the letters which the grand army wore upon their hats might be engraved upon their hearts and that their significance would be, "God's Army of Righteousness."

C. W. Blount has perfected arrangements by which he can furnish strawberry growers with new crates at 70 cents each.

Frailty, Thy Name is Woman.

—Hamlet.

That she is frail, often in body,
"'Tis, true 'tis a pity,
And pity 'tis true."

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is the best restorative tonic for phpsical fraility in woman, or female weaknesses or derangements. By druggists. Price reduced to one dollar.

Miss Willard has established a temperance hospital in Chicago.

Before you put a roof on that building, been it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 3tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

If you have got to buy any hard wood, now is your time to get it cheap. 3 cords $5.50, 2 cords $3.75, 1 cord $2.00. Leave orders at Harness shop, or McCully's planing mill. 53tf

Lost.—A pebble stone watch charm. A liberal reward will be pa'd for its return to the Clark House.

Men's two buckle Kip Plow Shoes $1.00 per pair at Collins'. tf.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

Hart Bros.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroys worms, [illegible]

Ordination Services.

Rev. Horace B. Goodyear of the Episcopal church in this village, was yesterday ordained to the order of the Priesthood, by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Huntington of Syracuse. The Rev. Messrs. Clark and Pattison of Syracuse, Winne of Canastota, Paul of Pulaski, Launt of Auburn, Beauchamp of Baldwinsville, Parker and Vibbard of Oswego and Nesbitt of Perryville were present and assisted in the solemnities. Mr. Beauchamp presented the candidate to the Bishop. The church was handsomely trimmed with flowers and presented a fine appearance. Morning prayer was said at 9 o'clock, after which Rev. Dr. Clark of St. James' church, Syracuse, preached an able sermon on the Priesthood, taking as his text the words of Christ to His disciples: "'Peace be unto you; as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.' And when He had said this, He breathed on them and said unto th, 'Receive ye the Holy Ghost; whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.'"—St. John xx—21, 22, 23. A large number received Communion, the Bishop being celebrant and the service concluded with his blessing. After the services a lunch was served by the ladies of the society at the residence of Mrs. H. Bradway.

The Canoe Race(?)

The Canoe Club were to have a race on the river Monday afternoon. At least it had been announced that they would have a race. Observers of the alleged regetta say that one or two boats did sail around the river a little, while the balance, in their frantic exertions to keep out of each other's way, met with all sorts of mishaps. One young man ran aground and had to get out and shovel away the obstruction. Another one, who was calmly waiting, like Micawber, "for something to turn up," found that something did turn up. It was the boat. He was rescued in a cold, limp condition. Those that didn't tip over succeeded in breaking something. We would advise the club to either learn to swim well or if they must race, build rafts and use them instead of their canoes. A raft cannot rear up and throw its occupant into the air and leave him to the cold embrace of the waves. The advantages of a good raft can be seen at a glance. Perhaps it would be a good plan to have a commodious ambulance attend the regattas hereafter. It is terribly discouraging to see the club start out on the river in high spirits, their uniforms neat and jaunty, their colors gaily flying and in a few hours see the same procession file slowly home in all sorts of sorry conditions, wet, cold and drizzling. Can't something be done?

Teachers' Association.

On Saturday, May 22d, in answer to a call of Commissioner Metcalf, the teachers of the town of Volney met in the chapel of district No. 2 for the purpose of organizing a town association. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Carrie Tubbs; Vice-President, Miss Gertrude Hill; Executive committee, Eunice Sisson, Mary Geer. The meeting was quite largely attended, and the time spent in the discussion of methods taught in our public schools. The time and place of the next meeting of the Association will be duly announced.

Etta D. Sharpe, Secretary.

Phillip Eckel Killed.

Chief engineer Phillip Eckel, of the Syracuse fire department, received injuries at about 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning while on his way to a fire, which caused his death in a few hours. Chief Eckel as was his custom when going to a fire in the night, was riding on the hook and ladder truck, from which he was thrown as the vehicle passed over the New York Central tracks. He was pushed along in front of a rear wheel and several teeth wereknockedout. After his death it was found four ribs had been broken and forced into his right lung, producing hemorrage. Chief Eckel was about fifty-eight years old and nearly forty-two years of his life had been spent as a fireman.

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Beals, on Monday evening, June 8th.

They are Talented, Too.

Fulton has three railroads, but it is said nevertheless that several of the ladies down there are preparidg for the stage.—[Phœnix Chronicle.

COMMON SENSE CLOTHING BUYERS,

They Knew Where to Buy and Where to Get Best For the Least Money.

In this age of common sense and enlightenment, it is hardly necessary to tell the people what they should buy or what they should wear. A few facts, however, coupled with a few suggestions, will not be out of place. In the first place, there are no purchases made that receive more careful consideration than the selection of wearing apparel. The people in these days are pretty well posted in this particular and buy intelligently. They know that the best of clothing is now sold cheap. They know, too, that it does not pay to buy shoddy clothing when the best can be bought at slight advance in price over this class of goods. Every intelligent buyer knows that it pays to get good goods from a reliable house. This is the only safe and sensible way. It is reasonable to believe that a large house like Kent & Miller, 18 and 20 South Salina street, can give clothing buyers as good bargains as can be found in any clothing house in the State. Their stock is [illegible]

The Fulton Band talk of giving concerts in the park during the summer.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Mead has been brightened by the advent of a daughter.

Rev. Charles Hudson Smith, of this village, preached in the First Presbyterian church in Oswego, last Sunday.

A good sized and enthusiastic audience attended the entertainment given by Prof Keenan at the Universalist church last Friday evening.

A large number of New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Jersey City newspaper men will pass through Fulton Friday noon on their way to Oswego, over the N. Y. O. & W. railroad.

Notices were posted Saturday in a large portion of the Oswego Falls factories, that on and after June 1 until further notice, said rooms go on to half time, working Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays and be out the balance of the week. This is much to be regretted, and it is to be hoped will not last long.

J. R. Fairgrieve, editor of The Times, left this morning for Schaghticoke, N. Y., and at noon to-morrow will be united in marriage to Miss Grace A. Nutt of that place. The ceremony will take place in that village in Trinity church. The Times force congratulates their chief in advance.

Mrs. M. C. Van Buren, who for many years past has kept a fleet of row boats upon the river just below the village, has this season erected a lunch house on her grounds near the landing, where pleasure parties can be furnished with refreshments, ice cream, cake, coffee, etc. Mrs. VanBuren's efforts will be highly appreciated by the lovers of boating. Fishing tackle of all kinds for sale.

W. R. Hamilton, an old and much respected citizen of this village has sold his business and property here to D. J. Freese, a jeweler of Melvin, Ill., and will remove there soon after June 1st. Mr. Freese will succeed Mr. Hamilton in his business at the present location. Mr. Hamilton has lived in Fulton many years and during that time has held the respect and esteem of all who knew him. He is an earnest and conscientious worker in the temperance cause and has been chairman of the prohibition committee of Oswego county for several years. The many friends and acquaintances of Mr. Hamilton will join with us in sincerely wishing for him continued prosperity in his new home.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Eliza A., wife of H. D. Partrick of this village, died last Thursday at her home on Oneida street of dropsy of the heart, aged 54 years, 7 months and 22 days. She has been ill for a long time but through it all has borne her sufferings uncomplainingly. She was an examplary wife, a loving mother and an honored and respected neighbor. Funeral services were held Sunday from the house, Rev. H. B. Goodyear officiating. The remains were interred in Mt. Adnah.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. Graff & Co.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

FOR CULTIVATORS,
HORSE HOES,
Sulky and Revolving
Horse Rakes
and the U. T. K. Corn Planter,
go to
Snow & Loomis', 7 First Street,
who are selling lower than ever this year.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number of testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises, H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

THE SURE CURE FOR KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, CONSTIPATION, PILES, AND BLOOD DISEASES.

[illegible]

[illegible] seemed to have come to town to see the parade, hear the oration and visit our beautiful cemetery, Mt. Adnah. During the forenoon the majority of the business places and a number of residences along the line of march were handsomely trimmed with the national colors and otherwise decorated.

About 1:45 p. m., Post Schenck, G. A. R. formed in front of their rooms in the Kenyon block, and marched to the opera house, where appropriate exercises were to be held. A constant stream of people had been pouring into the opera house ever since one o'clock, and when the Post, numbering about 125 men, filed into the seats which had been reserved for them, the house was literally packed from pit to dome, even the aisles and other standing room being utilized. Shortly after two o'clock the exercises opened with singing by the Post Quartette, consisting of Messrs. Gilbert, Hoff, Highriter, Cooper and Hewitt. Adjutant Chase then read orders from G. A. R. headquarters. Commander Gilbert made a short address of welcome to the members of the Post, after which came some interesting responsive readings by the officers. After an eloquent prayer by Rev. Charles Hudson Smith of the Presbyterian church, a large company of little girls dressed in white marched upon the stage and under the direction of Prof. Cooper, sang an appropriate song entitled, "Scatter Sweet Flowers O'er the Dead."

Commander Gilbert then introduced the speaker, Rev. W. Dempster Chase, who hastily doffed his overcoat and, stepping to the front, began his address in his impressive and eloquent way. We regret exceedingly our inability from lack of space, to reproduce the address, which was a masterly effort, spiced with just humor enough to make it acceptable, and that it met with the approval and was fully appreciated by the large audience, was evinced by the frequent interruptions by applause. The address lasted about forty minutes, and was followed by a short, extemporaneous one by Rev. Father Early of the Catholic church, which was well received. The eulogies paid by the speakers to the dead heroes were very impressive and touching and called forth numerous expressions of approval. Seated upon the stage were the following clergymen: Rev's J. C. Breaker of the Baptist church, W. D. Chase of the Methodist, Charles Hudson Smith of the Presbyterian, Father Early of the Catholic and Father J. J. Auger, of St. Louis' church, Oswego, J. Fullford of the Free Methodist and Charles Olmstead of the Congregational church of Oswego Falls. With these were seated the officers of Post Schenck. After the National ode, "America" was rendered by the company of girls and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Fullford, the procession formed in front of the opera house, and headed by the clergy and disabled veterans in carriages, the Fulton band and the S. of V. drum corps, marched down Cayuga to First streets up Oneida to Third, and then to the cemetery, where with appropriate ceremonies, singing and firing salutes, the tributes of respect to the illustrious dead were paid by loving hands.

NOTES.

The music furnished by the Fulton band was finely rendered and highly spoken of.

The water works in the cemetery was a very acceptable feature.

"Peanut" Joe did an unprecedently large business.

Some of the decorations by leading stores were remarkably fine.

The number of visitors in the cemetery was said to be larger than ever before.

Nearly all business was suspended in the afternoon, the manufactories all shut down, thus swelling the crowd.

Until Nine O'clock.

The Millinery Department at F. E. Bacon's will be open on WEDNESDAY evening until 9 o'clock for the next four weeks for the benefit of those persons who find it impossible to reach the store Saturday or Monday evenings.

May 12, 1886.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and eaving it strong, vigorous and healthy, he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

THE PRETTIEST LADY in Olean was asked what made her complexion so clear and beutiful She said it was by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine Sold by H. C. Giesler.

ONE OF THE MOST NOTED European physicians said: Neuralgia was the prayer of a diseased nerve for healthy blood. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for the blood. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. L. LOOMIS, of Elba, N. Y., writes us that she was sick for six months, was induced to try Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and four bottles cured her. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. H. B. EMELL, of Pavillion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffers from Female weakness and Debility, will find Gilmore's Aromatic a positive cure. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC is a great success, therefore we challenge the world to produce its equal as a restorative for women. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK REQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavillion, N. Y., says: [illegible] Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. L. M. DENNY, of Linden, N. Y., says: [illegible] Gilmore's Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian [illegible] and Con-[illegible]

He Smiles.

A man usually smiles when he is well pleased, and what is more pleasing to a man than to be well fitted in a neat, stylish, well modeled suit of clothes, and to learn that the price is about one-half what he would have to pay for anything equally as good at a custom tailor's. He smiles as he pays for them. He smiles as he tells his friends where he was fortunate enough to find such clothes. He is literally deluged in smiles as he exhibits to his wife or perhaps, his to-be wife, and receives her commendation. If he is a family man he smiles as he dresses his youthful offspring in one of our perfect fitting suits.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

LOOK! LOOK!

Keep your eye on the Middle Store of the Opera House Block as it will be opened

SATURDAY,

of this week, June 5th, with the greatest display of

B-A-R-G-A-I-N-S

ever seen in one store.

Everybody Invited to Call.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectic Physician,

will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, June 26, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All Female Diseases made a specialty.

Consultation Free. 2tf

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
GermanCornRemover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. Lucy K. Hubbard, Executrix.

MILTON S. PRICE,

38 & 40 South Salina and 29, 31 & 33 Clinton Streets.

THE MOST EXTENSIVE
DRY GOODS, CARPETS
—AND—
FURNITURE,
Establishment in the State,

Space forbids entering into a detail of the attractive things to be seen.

COME AND SEE
the Finest and Most Complete Stock of Dry Goods & Fancy Goods
ever shown in this section.

COME AND SEE.
THE IMMENSE STOCK OF
CARPETS, RUGS OIL, CLOTHS, Etc.

COME AND SEE
THE FINE DISPLAY OF
FURNITURE
AND CURTAIN DRAPERIES
at prices far below competion.

FURNITURE FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

BARGAINS
NEVER BEFORE HEARD OF ARE BEING OFFERED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THIS IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.

REMEMBER
MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

For the Next 30 Days

D. C. MORE & CO.

—Will offer unusual Inducements—

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

to buyers of Ready Made Clothing, for either Men's Youths' Boys' or Children's wear. We have the largest and

MOST DESIRABLE STOCK IN FULTON

and it is to reduce our unusual large stock that we propose to make the prices so low that everyone needing Clothing will buy. We do not make this announcement for the sole and only purpose of deceiving customers but will confirm our statements with our goods and prices.

Remember this you will only find these Bargains with

D. C. MORE & CO.

DON'T [illegible] The Reliable Dealers [illegible] DON'T [illegible] to fatten very old cows or [illegible] will not pay. You can't [illegible]

[illegible] oatmeal porridge and cream for [illegible]. The oatmeal makes bone, [illegible] muscle.

[illegible] pigs will thrive handsomely if a [illegible] of rye has been planted to furnish [illegible] green food during the fall and winter.

Major Alvord states that clover put into the silo alone produces a putrid liquor at the bottom of the silo.

Blackberries are not always ripe when they are black. Leave them on till they part readily from their stalks.

It is not safe to turn cattle into pasture upon wet clover, as it produces indigestion, which sometimes proves fatal.

Select for seed smooth, large, well formed potatoes with shallow eyes, instead of the refuse of the potato heap, as is too often the case.

Nichol's Medium Green cucumbers are said to be the best for pickles.

Except in Kansas and Michigan the prospect for winter wheat is good.

In setting out trees let them lean toward the south. This prevents sun scalding at first. The tree will gradually pull itself back upright.

The hogs should have undisputed sway in the orchard during the fruit season, and they will eat up all the fallen and wormy apples, and hunt out many of the grubs, etc., which are injurious to to the trees. In this way they destroy many of the enemies of sound fruit and sound trees, and in other ways greatly benefit the orchard.

In buying meal do not put it into barrels and let it heat and spoil, as newly ground meal is very apt to do. If it is not spread run a broom-handle into it every few inches and let it touch the bottom of the barrel. This will leave chimneys or vents through which the heat will escape and leave the feed unhurt.

Ground bone and potash applied to grapevines not only increase the quantity but improve the quality of the fruit.

A Missouri farmer who has been testing seed-corn from the butt, the tip and the middle of ears for three years, finds that the corn from the tip of the ears will ripen first, that from the middle next and that from the butt last.

In plowing under green crop it should be done while the crop is yet green and full of sap, generally before it has attained full growth.

If the fruit ladens the tree too heavily thin it out, and the tree will not break down nor be much exhausted, and the fruit will be much larger and finer.

Permanent pasture lands are the main anchor of agriculture, and the farmers of this country will find this out after a while, as they have already in England and will commence seeding their land with permanent grasses.

Weed and hoe the onions, peas and all of the garden vegetable, harrow the potatoes again, replant the corn, and commence plowing it the very day it is large enough. Keep the ground which the crops occupy free from weeds, loose and mellow.

What Dairymen Don't Know.

Professor James Long, who has given special attention to dairying for many years, gives vent to a considerable number of complaints, in reference to our dairy management, which are, unfortunately, too well founded. It is always desirable that we should realize our faults in order that we may endeavor to excel. According to the professor we err in the following particulars: We take three acres on which to keep a cow. We feed to waste for want of accurate knowledge of the best methods of making and preparing foods. We can not absolutely trust our men to carry out, in its entirety, a careful system of feeding and management—"they frequently smoke in the cow house and invariably dip their fingers in the milk." We do not fully understand the management of milk, the science of making butter and cheese, and other edibles prepared for milk. Many of our dairies average not more than 500 gallons of milk a year although we have cattle in the country able to yield 1,000 gallons. We are seldom able to obtain more than 150 pounds of of butter in a year, although we have cows in the country able to yield 300 pounds. We consider 500 pounds of cheese good average, although we have cows which will produce 1,000 pounds. In all these points we wave to improve, and we have yet to discover, amongst other things, why two animals, fed on the same rations and kept under similar circumstances, differ in their yields of milk.—[Kentish Observer.

June.

This is the busiest of months for the farmer. Corn planting which is "planting" par excellence, over a large part of the country is not over before corn tillage presses, for the weeds grow very fast, and the grass grows, too, so that haying ought to begin. Millet and fodder corn must be sowed and in many sections Swedish turnips or rutabagas need to be in as early as the 25th, though in others, good crops may be depended upon when sowed a month later. Those who have orchard grass and clover in [illegible] will be glad that they may begin the hay harvest by cutting these long before timothy and red-top meadows are ready for the mowing machine. This saves a great deal of worry, and when the timothy is ripe it may be cut [illegible] if proper calculations have been [illegible]. As to the age when timothy should be cut, it is well to bear in mind [illegible] own use it can hardly be [illegible] after the heads are well [illegible] for city feeding it is [illegible] as it can be without the [illegible] from the heads. It is [illegible] ground feed.

[illegible] sunk clover, for they will eat enough [illegible] an hour sometimes to give them [illegible] or hoove, a malady often quickly fatal. Keep the pigs in the orchard if possible. They grow well on the clover, pick up the blasted fruit for the grubs it contains and stir the soil around the trees. Ewes with lambs need regular care, that they are not too much weakened by the draft upon them, and it is well to increase their grain as the lambs gain size. Ticks leave the old sheep for the lambs, so that it is well to dip the latter this month before the lambs are weaned. Market chickens may be pushed to advantage by frequent feeding, besides having a free run, if possible, while they are growing and before they are put up to fatten. After ducks have passed the delicate stage and have their feathers, they may be given feeds of food to give them rapid growth and size. The earlier they become marketable the greater will be the profit.—[American Agriculturist for June.

How to Treat Cows.

Kind and gentle treatment is absolutely necessary to a full flow of milk. Blows, rough handling and loud shouting always check it. Have a set time for milking, and deviate from it at little as possible. The best time is while they are eating, or are full, and quietly chewing the cud. We prefer the former in winter. Gently wipe off the udder and teats with a soft, dry cloth, and see that they are quite clean. If by any accident they get very dry, wash with tepid water and dry yerfectly before milking. Never wash if it can be avoided. Milk rapidly and with a regular motion, and strip clean. Don't hesitate to milk three times a day if the cow gives evidence of distress, or much harm is certain to be the result.

Stonewall Jackson and Gen. Gregg

The death of Gen. Stonewall Jackson's famous war horse was appropriately celebrated at the Soldier's home, across the Potomac, by the half-masted flag. A true hero had bestrode him. and never was horse more dutiful to his rider. After the battle of Fredericksburg Gen. Jackson was sleeping in his tent. About dawn of the next day the general's faithful colored man, Jim, who was the exact hue of the steed he groomed, roused his master and said: "Marse Thomas, Gen. Maxey Gregg sends word he's going to die before morning and want's you to come and see him. He's sorry for that impulsive note he wrote you and asks your pardon. I'se got your horse ready." Jackson jumped up and promptly said: "Jim, I will go at once. God bless Gen. Gregg and save him.

As Jackson was about to mount he saw that the horse was not his old sorrel and complained about it. Jim promptly answered: "He was not fitten for you general. You rode him all day yesterday and he's not fitten. But just as soon as the first bung [bomb] bursts, I'll have him for you sure."—Washington Cor. Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

Things Grovor Don't Like.

It is believed that Cleveland would not weep much if the numerous Folsom uncles were to pass into a state of innocuous desuetude.—[Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

Miss Folsom is to be presented at court. We are creditably informed that Miss Folsom has had some previous experience with courting.—[Detroit Free Press.

The movement for an addition to the White House is probably due to the President's intention to take a certain young lady under his wing, and the old wing won't answer.—[Norwich Bulletin.

Letters from Buffalo say that Miss Frankie Folsom has the reputation among people who have never seen her of being a very handsome woman.—[Philadelphia News.

The reason the big daily newspapers don't print more gossip about Miss Folsom and her cousins and her aunts, and eke her uncles and her grandfather, is owing to the labor troubles, the report of which necessitate condensing and excluding much other important news.—[Norristown Herald.

The President has begun sending out his wedding invitations. If you don't get one, drop him a postal. The poor mn has so many things on his mind.—Burlington Free Press.

Confession of the Late Dr. Dio Lewis.

Thousands of people all over this country will hear with keen regret of the death of Dr. Dio Lewis. For many years he has been the inspiration of good health to thousands and has ministered comfort to those who would very sadly have missed his cheering words. Dr. Lewis was one of the most genial and inspiring of men. He did not believe very much in taking medicine, making hygiene a great hobby and insisting that if a person would live right there would be little necessity of medicine; and yet in 1883, his candor above all things else being noticeable, he said, "If I found myself afflicted with a serious kidney disorder I would use Warner's safe cure." Adding, "The truth is the medical profession stands dazed and helpless in the presence of more than one kidney malady, while the testimonials of hundreds of intelligent and very reputable gentlemen, hardly leave room to doubt that the proprietors of that remedy have fallen upon one of those happy discoveries which occasionally bring help to suffering humanity. I am not so narrow that I cannot gratefully recognize the precious value of relief in the form of medicine." Dr. Lewis met with an accident which injured him so that erysipelas set in and carried him off. His testimonial, coming as it did from a free, frank and open heart, is a very important confirmation of what so many thousands have said of the remedy he so highly commended.

The Cost of It.

The man who places a ten dollar advertisement in his local paper and flatters himself that he is a liberal advertiser, will be surprised to learn that a yearly advertisement, one column in length, in the Chicago Tribune costs the [illegible]

[illegible]

A [illegible]

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Dana of the New York Sun goes to work at 11 o'clock, dictates his editorial to a stenographer, quits at 4 o'clock and gets $20,000 a year. The country editor goes to work at 7 o'clock, has his editorials dictated to him by his subscribers, quits at 6 o'clock and gets in debt. That is the difference.—[Punxsutawney Spirit.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from Catarrh and Liver Complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing Sulphur Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

Charles Dickens, jr., is preparing to give a series of readings from his father's works. If his venture succeeds in England, he will make a tour of the United States.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them, H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

It is officially made known that the gross receipts derived from Mary Anderson's performances this season will exceed $310,000.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

There are said to be 600 American girls studying music in Milan alone, and hundreds of others in other Italian schools.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Abraham Lincoln was the first president to wear whiskers. All of his predicessors had smooth faces.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Posesses the remedial power of these two valuable specifics in their fullest degree. Is prepared in a palatable form, easily tolerated by the stomach, and for delicate, sickly children. Emaciation, Consumption and all impoverished conditions of the blood is unequalled by any other remedy. 52w4

Moody says 1,000,000 Southern negroes can read' write and talk intelligently of citizenship.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

In London one person is born for every five minutes and deaths occur at the rate of one for every six minutes.

TRY IT; IT IS GOOD.

TEXAS SIFTINGS (Illustrated), the great Humorous Weekly. The Witty Wonder of the Age. Sold by Newsdealers everywhere; 5 cents a copy. Subscription price $2.50 a year. Sweet & Knox publishers, Austin, Texas.

[illegible]

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best.

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

---

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvelous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

C. [illegible]

[illegible] All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 43y1

Senators Sherman, Logan, Allison, and Hoar—all talked of as Presidential possibilities—will go to Maine, having accepted invitations to speak in the coming campaign in that State. They will be helpful auxiliaries of Mr. Blaine.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

A movement is on foot in Washington to raise a subscription for the purpose of purchasing a home in that city for General Hancock's widow. Mr. Corcoran, the banker, has contributed $2,000.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

It is reported that the betrothal of the Princess Louise, eldest daughter of the Psince of Wales, to Prince Oscar, son of the King of Sweden, will be soon officially declared.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

There are 347 female blacksmiths in England, all of whom actually swing heavy hammers and do men's work.

A BURGLAR CAPTURED.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of Rheumatism.—Exchange.

A bill providing for a state normal school for the colored race had passed the Kentucky legislature.

MOST EXCELLENT.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes; "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store. Large size, $1.00.

The liquor license fees for Ogdensburg for the past past year amounted to $8,193.75.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

The printing office of the Toronto Mail was damaged by fire last Saturday night to the extent of $80,000. There was an insurance of $65,000. This is the third time the building has been partially destroyed by fire.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Portsmouth members of the crew of the famous war-ship Kearsage at the time of her battle with the Alabama, are planning to celebrate the 22d anniversary of the fight at Boston, June 17.

The wonderful popularity of the Hop Plaster is the best proof of thier merits. Beware of tricksters who seek to sell you a substitute. Signature of Hop Plaster Co. on back of the genuine.

The acting secretary of the treasury has issued a call for $4,000,000 of three per cent. bonds.

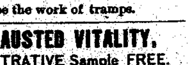
BILIOUSNESS

Is very prevalent at this season, the symptoms being bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of appetite. If this condition is allowed to continue, serious consequences may result. By promptly taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, a fever may be avoided or premature death prevented. It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by alll druggists.

The Grant monument fund has reached $121,029.85.

J. K. Walton, one of the wealthiest men in Union county, Ill., was found dead in his barn at Anna, Sunday, shot through the head. The crime is supposed to be the work of tramps.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; [illegible]

[illegible] his dead.—[Toledo American.

No man is so opposed to a "tie-up" as a party about to be hanged.—[Texas Siftings.

Some folks have their work laid out beforehand. A physician's work is often laid out after he has finished it—[Yonkers Statesman.

He, at the boricultural show—This is a tobacco plant, my dear. She. Indeed? how very interesting! But I don't see any cigars on it.—[Harper's Bazar.

"The doctor said he'd put me on my feet again in two weeks." "Well, didn't he do it?" "He did, indeed. I had to sell my horse and buggy to foot his bill."—[Texas Siftings.

Smith—Ha, Jones! Suppose we go fishing? Jones—Can't do it, my boy. Smith—Why not? Jones—I swore off liquor the first of the year.—[Boston Courier.

Gibbs—So the man was killed up at the hotel, was he? Squibbs—Yes, shot right in the rotunda. Gibbs—Great Scott! No wonder it killed him. That's a terrible place to hit a man.—[Chicago Rambler.

Things one would rather have left unsaid.—She (to her partner)—Do you like the lancers? He—Yas. It's so jolly to be able to dance with another fellow's partner, you know!—[Punch.

The man who knows just how a newspaper ought to be run finds it runs just that way every time his name appears some where in it.—[Merchant Traveler.

It is said that the dressmakers of Buffalo complain bitterly because Miss Folsom has had her wedding dress made in Paris. They wanted her to be married in a Buffalo robe.—[Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Chicago newspaper heads its paragraph column: "Multum in Parvo." It is the first time we ever remember of hearing this phrase applied to wind.—[Graphic.

Little Tommy—Can I eat another piece of pie? Mamma, who is something of a puriet—I suppose you can. Tommy—Well, may I? Mamma—No, dear, you may not. Tommy—Darn grammer anyway.—[Rambler.

A Philadelphia editor has lost a $5,000 cow, but his misfortune is not apparent in the editorial columns of his paper. They are as bright and cheerful as ever. Now if a country editor were to lose a $5,000 cow, he—But that is impossible.—[Norristown Herald.

A new use has been discovered for the bustle. Covered with netting and worn over the head it will prevent the early mosquito from drawing blood from the late riser's nose.—[Philadelphia, Herald.

A correspondent who signs herself "Nervous Girl" writes to ask us if we can tell her of any remedy to cure a tickling sensation about the face. Certainly. Ask him to cut his mustache off.—[Lynn Union.

Thorndike Rice, editor of the North American Review, won $20,000 at one setting in a gambling place in Monaco. Thus do we covince Europe of the superiority of American journalism.—[Houston Post.

"Smith," said a Court street lawyer to his young clerk, "why weren't you at the office earlier this morning?" "Beg pardon, sir, but I am a reformer. I believe that the office should seek the man, not the man the office.—[Boston Courier.

A Philadelphia gentleman, after being shown about the city yesterday by a citizen of the Hub, said to his chaperone; "Boston isn't laid out so well as Philadelphia." "No," replied the latter, "but it will be when it is dead."—[Boston Post.

"You told me, Arthur that your doctor advised you to drink whiskey. Has it done you any good? "Well, I should say so. I got a barrel of it two weeks ago, and I could hardly lift it; and now I can carry it about the room"—[Good Cheer.

"The man who stole my umbrella from the alcove in the church is known, and will be arrested if he does not return it at once," is the way a prominent citizen advertised in the morning paper. Next morning he was scarcely able to get out of the house for the piles of umbrellas left there during the night.—[Texas Siftings.

"Is this fish fresh? asked Mrs. Brown of the dealer. Yes, marm," was the reply; "leastwise it ouhter be. It hasn't been near salt water for a week, to my knowledge, and Bill Sinker had it a day or two afore I got it." Mrs. Brown did not have fish for dinner that day.—[Boston Transcript.

No less than a year's subscription awaits the man at this office who will invent a style of saw that won't make eight times as much noise while being used to carve up a little wood for breakfast Sunday morning as it does any other morning.—[Estelline (Dak.) Bell.

Adolphus—"I say, Weginald, I saw you talking to that dwesdful cad De Smithe, yesterday. Don't do it again, chappie; the fellah is a low chap, ye know." Reginald—"Bless me, I thought the fellah, was a decent soht, ye know." Adolphus—"Oh, deah no! Why, I saw him down the street the other day carwying a bundle." Reginald—"The vulgar bwute!—[Rambler.

To House Cleaners.

Never beat a carpet when it is down.

Never let a stove wear its old winter soot after May 1.

Never try to pick up stray carpet tacks with your bare feet.—[Whitehall Times.

Never try to wash an open window with a hose.

Never sand-paper the spots off the furniture.

Never look upward through a joint of stove-pipe to see if it is dirty. You won't see more than the first installment, and will have to guess at the rest.

Never leave insect powder where the baby will eat it. It is best applied externally.

Never leave bedding piled in the yard over night. Some one might buy it on credit.

Never wrap the [illegible]

[illegible] BLUE PILLS [illegible] Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? [illegible] Sulphur Bitters! [illegible] Don't wait until you [illegible]

IT IS [illegible]

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

When you have occasion to buy another SUIT OF CLOTHES or OVERCOAT, for yourself or boys, see that the above label is on the coat, and you will secure the BEST FITTING, BEST WEARING and BEST LOOKING CLOTHING MADE. Every garment bears a ticket, on which appears the "T, C. & Co." monogram (trade mark). Try it.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK, Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.

37tf

THE SPORTING LIFE,

The Leading Sporting Paper in the Country.

—DEVOTED TO—

Base Ball, Cricket, The Turf, Foot Ball,
The Kennel, Rod and Gun, Billiards,
The Trigger, Polo, Athletic,
Aquatic, Roller Skating, The
Wheel and the Stage.

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

One year, $2.25; six months, $1.25; three months, 65cts.

SEND FOR SAMPLE COPY.

SPORTING LIFE PUBLISHING COMPANY,

No. 202 South Ninth Street,
Box 948. Phila., Pa.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD ☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EUREKA FOLDING CANOPY TOP.

Different sizes. Can be attached to nearly all wagons, buggies, phætons and carts. Easily removed. Folds like an umbrella. If you can not get it of your wagon maker or dealer, send for illustrated circular and price list. Agents Wanted everywhere. Mention paper

D G. BEERS & CO.,
Patentees & Manf'rs, Newtown, Ct.

[illegible] PRINTERS' ROLLERS

324 and 326 Pearl St., New York.
☞ SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic.
25c. a vial, by druggists.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.

HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES!

Over 2,000 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free.
A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Philada.

SALESMEN WANTED

to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock! Steady employment guaranteed. SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID. Apply at once, stating age. (Refer to this paper.)

Chase Brothers,
1m2 ROCHESTER, N. Y.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary. GAY & BROTHERS, [illegible] N. Y.

[illegible] At the Court House in Oswego [illegible] third Thursday in each month [illegible]

[illegible]—At the law office of Hon. [illegible] the third Friday of March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

Fulton—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

Mexico—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

Central Square—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 28th and September 28th.

Parish—At A. N. & J. B. Ladington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

CHESBRO. THOMAS W. In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Chesbro, late of the Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, the Citizens' National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886, next

Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.

FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

SUPREME COURT—Oswego County. Norman H. Haviland, plaintiff, vs. William H. H. Hutchings, Levi F. Hutchings and Flora May Hutchings defendants. In pursuance of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action and entered in the Oswego county clerk's office April 27th, 1886, I the undersigned to whom it was by said judgment referred to make such sale, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the law office of H. E. Nichols, in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m.. the lands and premises directed by said judgment to be sold and which are therein described as follows: "All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, and State of New York, being a part of lot 75 of the 15th Township of Scriba's Patent and bounded as follows, viz.: Beginning in the centre of the highway at the south-east corner of land owned and occupied by Martin Parker; thence southerly along the centre of said highway eleven rods; thence westerly in a line parallel with said Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods; thence northerly in a line parallel with said highway eleven rods to Parker's south line; thence along Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods to the place of beginning, containing two (2) acres of land.

Dated April 28, 1886.

A. N. BEADLE,
Sheriff of Oswego County, N.Y.

H. E. NICHOLS,
Pl'ff's Att'y., Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Alice Hethington, Fulton, N. Y., widow; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charlotte Grace Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, heirs at law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. E. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, S. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stowe, R. S. Galt, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other creditors and all persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of O. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said decedent, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

(L. S.) In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phœnix, in said county, the 8th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT.

an elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, producing when dissolved in water an Exhilerating, Effervescing Draught, recommended by our best Physicians as a reliable and agreeable remedy. It cures Constipation, cures Dyspepsia, cures Piles, cures Heartburn, cures Sick-Headache, cures Sick Headache, cures Liver Complaint, cures Sick Stomach, and gently urges all the Excretory organs to a proper action. It should be found in every household and be carried by every traveler. Sold by Druggists Everywhere

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen Exclusive territory Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., Stewart Building, N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compac

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and [illegible] awarded in 1885 at the [illegible] New Orleans and Louisville [illegible] Expositions [illegible] of London. The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone [illegible] by over five years experience. [illegible] durable, more pliable, more comfortable and [illegible] "Dr. Warner's Coraline" [illegible]

THE FULT[illegible] [illegible]ES.

[illegible]ETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 5

$1.50 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

THE LOSS OF THE SULTANA.

A War Ballad.

BY WILL CARLETON.

Down at Vicksburg, grim and smoking, on a cloudy April day,
Her gaudy colors flying fast—the old Sultana lay,
Waiting for the welcome signal that should order her away.

On her decks, all bright and smiling, stood a band of haggard men,
Who had smarted, prayed, and fasted in gaunt hunger's dreariest den;
Who had tasted War's hard fortunes, in a hostile prison pen.

Pale and wasted were their features, pinched with want and prison fare;
Trampled by the hoofs of hatred—wrinkled by the hand of care,
Seamed and marred with ruthless clawings from the hand of Despair.

But when last the Mississippi drank the echoes of their cry,
From the West, a roll of thunder sent an ominous reply;
And the wind swept down the river with a sad foreboding sigh.

But they heeded not the omen; and the merry laugh went round;
In the brightness of the future, all the fearful past was drowned;
And among the nineteen hundred, ran the glad cry "Homeward bound!"

II.

There was one among that number, whom the past to me endears;
True as steel and firm as marble, was that lad of sixteen years;
With a heart of truest courage, and a soul devoid of fears.

With a mind all clear and active, and with powers that mind to wield.
With a faith that could not falter, and a will that would not yield.
That beardless youth, Frank Hampton, went into the bloody field.

And Frank Hampton with his comrades, the breath of prison drew,
And the pains of want and famine, with the rest of them he knew;
But he clenched his teeth and muttered, "I am going to see it through."

And he wrote unto his mother, when he lay in sickness low;
"If they ask you, 'Is he sorry that he made his mind to go?
Does he wish he might recall it? Mother tell them proudly, "No."

III.

And Frank Hampton stood in silence 'mid that steamer's fated crew.
And he uttered words of gladness, which alas! were but too true!
As between his teeth he muttered, "I have almost seen it through!

And he thought him of a mother, with a kind and gentle face,
Who would seat him at the fireside, in the old familiar place;
Who would love him with affection that no absence could erase.

And he thought him of a father, who for once would be unmanned,
As he greeted him in language he could hardly understand,
But repaid the lack of speaking in the pressure of his hand.

Of a little manly brother, who would climb up on his knee;
Who would throw his arms about him in his wild and boyish glee,
And would think of all soldiers, there was none so brave as he!

And he thought him of a maiden; who at twilight's hour he'd seek;
Who would meet him at the threshold, with a blush upon her cheek,
And from out her eyes would tell him all the love she would not speak.

And he stood, and all these blessings in his gladdened mind he weighed,
And full many a scene of gladness in the glowing future laid,
And he murmured, "I am happy; all my sufferings are repaid."

IV.

O my God! that dull explosion! not a warning or a prayer,
Ere it throws the nineteen hundred in the black and smoking air,
With a river for a death-bed, and a moment to prepare!

With that hissing, murdering boiler, shatters many a hope that's dear;
While a thousand prayers for succor, that can meet no answering ear.

And that youth, whose cup of gladness danced so lately to the brim,
May the God of love and mercy hold a helping hand to him
As he falls into the water, with a bruised and shattered limb!

But he rises to the surface, with a look of pain and dread,
With a face as white as marble, like the faces of the dead,
And the crimson blood fast flowing from a death-wound on his head.

Now a flash of manly courage fires his boyish heart anew,
And he grasps a floating timber, with the arm that yet is true.
And between his teeth he mutters "I am going to see it through."

For a mortal hour he battled with the restless, flowing tide;
But the darkness gathered round him, and the stream was deep and wide,
And his faint lips gasping "Mother," he relaxed his hold and died.

And with but the murmuring waters to repeat his funeral lay,
'Neath the turbid Mississippi lies the martyred boy to-day.
His noble frame all mangled, and fast going to decay.

But if ever God reached downward, for a soul without alloy,
And if ever God had mercy on a dying soldier boy,
Rests to-day that youthful hero in a home of peace and joy.

The Local Paper.

Every year every local paper gives from 500 to 5,000 free lines for the sole benefit of the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The local editor in proportion to his means does more than any other [illegible] men, and in all fairness, man with [illegible] he ought to be supported, not because you may happen to like him or [illegible] writing, but because a local [illegible] the best investment a community [illegible]. It may not be brilliant [illegible] with [illegible] thoughts, but [illegible] of a benefit to a [illegible] [illegible]

A SECOND TRIAL.

IT was Commencement at G—— College. The people were pouring into the church as I entered it, rather tardy. Finding the choice seats in the center of the audience-room already taken, I pressed forward, looking to the right and to the left for a vacancy. On the very front row of seats I found one.

Here a little girl moved along to make room for me, looking into my face with large gray eyes, whose brightness was softened by very long lashes. Her face was open and fresh as a newly-blown rose before sunrise. Again and again I found my eyes turning to the rose-like face, and each time the gray eyes moved, half smiling to meet mine. Evidently the child was ready to "make up" with me. And when, with a bright smile, she returned my dropped handkerchief, and I said "Thank you," we seemed fairly introduced. Other persons, now coming into the seat, crowded me quite close up against the little girl, so that we soon felt very well acquainted.

"There's going to be a great crowd," she said to me.

"Yes," I replied; "people always like to see how school-boys are made into men."

Her face beamed with pleasure and pride as she said:

"My brother's going to graduate; he's going to speak; I've brought these flowers to throw to him."

They were not greenhouse favorites; just old-fashioned domestic flowers, such as we associate with the dear grandmothers; "but," I thought, "they will seem sweet and beautiful to him for his little sister's sake."

"That is my brother," she went on, pointing with her nosegay.

"The one with the light hair?" I asked.

"Oh, no," she said, smiling and shaking head in innocent reproof; "not that homely one, with red hair; that handsome one with brown wavy hair. His eyes look brown, too; but they are not—they are dark-blue. There! he's got his hand up to his head now. You see him, don't you?"

In an eager way she looked from me to him, and from him to me, as if some important fate depended upon my identifying her brother.

"I see him," I said. "He's a very good-looking brother."

"Yes, he is beautiful," she said, with artless delight; "and he's so good, and he studies so hard. He has taken care of me ever since mamma died. Here is his name on the program. He is not the valedictorian, but he has an honor for all that."

I saw in the little creature's familiarity with these technical college terms that she had closely identified herself with her brother's studies, hopes and successes.

"He thought, at first," she continued, "that he would write on the 'Romance of Monastic Life.'"

What a strange sound these long words had, whispered from her childish lips. Her interest in her brother's work had stamped them on the child's memory! and to her they were ordinary things.

"But then," she went on, "he decided that he would rather write on 'Historical Parallels,' and he's got a real good oration, and he says it beautifully. He has said it to me a great many times. I 'most know it by heart. Oh! it begins so pretty and so grand. This is the way it begins," she added, encouraged by the interest she must have seen in my face: "'Amid the permutations and combinations of the actors and the forces which make up the great kaleidoscope of history, we often find that a turn of Destiny's hand ——'"

"Why, bless the baby!" I thought, looking down into her bright, proud face. I can't describe how very odd and elfish it did seem to have those sonorous words rolling out of the smiling infantile mouth.

The band, striking up, put an end to the quotation and the confidences.

As the exercises progressed, and approached nearer and nearer the effort on which all her interest was concentrated, my little friend became excited and restless. Her eyes grew larger brighter, two deep-red spots glowed on her cheeks. She touched up the flowers, manifestly making the offering ready for the shrine.

"Now, it's his turn," she said, turning to me a face in which pride and anxiety seemed about equally mingled. But when the overture was played through and his name was called, the child seemed, in her eagerness, to forget me and all the earth beside him. She rose to her feet and leaned forward for a better view of her beloved, as he mounted to the speaker's stand. I knew by her deep breathing that her heart was throbbing in her throat. I knew, too, by the way her brother came up the steps and to the front, that he was trembling. The hands hung limp; his face was pallid, and the lips blue as with cold. I felt anxious. The child, too, seemed to discern that things were not well with him. Something like fear showed in her face.

He made an automatic bow. Then a bewildered struggling look came into his face, then a helpless look, and then he stood staring vacantly like a somnambulist, at the waiting audience. The moments of pitiful suspense went by, and still he stood as if struck dumb. I saw how it was; he had been seized with stage-fright.

Alas! little sister! She turned large, [illegible] eyes upon me. "He's forgotten it," she said. Then a swift change [illegible] face, a strong determined [illegible] on the [illegible] of [illegible] child [illegible] ed. The breathless silence; the sweet, childish voice; the long, unchildlike words, produced a weird effect.

But the help had come too late, the unhappy brother was already staggering in humiliation from the stage. The band quickly struck up, and waves of lively music were rolled out to cover the defeat.

I gave the little sister a glance in which I meant to show the intense sympathy I felt; but she did not see me. Her eyes, swimming with tears, were on her brother's face. I put my arm around her. She was too absorbed to heed the caress, and before I could appreciate her purpose, she was on her way to the shame-stricken young man sitting with a face like a statue's.

When he saw her by his side, the set face relaxed, and a quick mist came into his eyes. The young men got closer together, to make room for her. She sat down beside him, laid her flowers on his knee, and slipped her hand in his.

I could not keep my eyes from her sweet, pitying face. I saw her whisper to him, he bending a little to catch her words. Later, I found out that she was asking him if he knew his "piece" now, and that he answered "yes."

When the young man next on the list had spoken, and while the band was playing, the child, to the brother's great surprise, made her way up the stage steps, and pressed through the throng of professors and trustees and distinguished visitors, up to the college president.

"If you please, sir," she said with a little courtesy, "will you and the trustees let my brother try again? He knows his piece now."

For a moment the president stared at her through his gold bowed spectacles, and then, appreciating the child's petition, he smiled on her, and went down and spoke to the young man who had failed.

So it happened that when the band had again ceased playing, it was briefly announced that Mr. —— —— would now deliver his oration, "Historical Parallels."

"'Amid the permutations and combinations of the actors and the forces which make up the great kaleidoscope of history——'" This the little sister whispered to him as he rose to answer the summons.

A ripple of heightened and expectant interest passed over the audience, and then all sat stone-still, as though fearing to breathe lest the speaker might again take fright. No danger! The hero in the youth was aroused. He went at his "piece" with a set purpose to conquer, to redeem himself, and to bring back the smile into the child's tear-stained face. I watched the face during the speaking. The wide eyes, the parted lips, the whole rapt being said that the breathless audience was forgotten, that her spirit was moving with his.

And when the address was ended with the ardent abandon of one who catches enthusiasm in the realization that he is fighting down a wrong judgment and conquering a sympathy, the effect was really thrilling. That dignified audience broke into rapturous applause; boquets intended for the valedictorian rained like a tempest. And the child who had helped to save the day,—that one little beaming face, in its pride and gladness, is something to be forever remembered.—St. Nicholas.

EVERYONE SPEAKS WELL OF IT

Rochester, N. Y., March 18, '86.

For many years I have been troubled with severe pains in the back of my head and neck, the pain being so severe at times that I was nearly insane, and my friends feared that I would be. Lumps as large as a hickory-nut, would swell up on my forehead and neck. I tried many different kinds of medicines and physicians, but none seemed to reach my case, until I commenced the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and before I had used it four days, the pain left my neck and shoulders and went to my hips and limbs. I continued taking the remedy, and the disease seemed to work downward, but there was but little pain. I am still using the remedy, and I feel confident it will entirely cure me; for I am so much better and stronger than I have been for years. I cheerfully recommend it to all.

Very respectfully yours,
MRS. PHŒBE WHEATON.
110 Mt. Hope Avenue.

Sworn Statement from a Well-known Individual.

Lockport, N. Y.

A short time ago I was afflicted with rheumatism so badly that I could not move. One leg was so badly swollen that it burst the skin. The Sheriff of our County advised me to try Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and bought me a bottle. After taking the remedy one day I felt relieved and in less than two weeks I was able to go to work and have not felt rheumatism since. Three bottles cured me, and I recommend it to all who are suffering from rheumatism.

CHAS. ROBILLARD.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of June, 1883.

M. J. TORELL, Notary Public.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

The public debt statement issued Tuesday shows a decrease for the month of $9,000,000.

To Our Readers.

We desire to call your attention to the advertisement of The Sporting Life in our columns to-day. The Sporting Life is a weekly journal devoted to all sports that are bright and healthy. It [illegible]

Iniquity of the Small Boy,

The average boy begins to be a nuisance within twenty-five to thirty minutes after he is born, and rapidly goes on from bad to worse until his whiskers are well developed and he has boys of his own, avers the San Francisco Wasp. Talk about woman being the original cause of sin! Why, there is more "pure cussedness" wrapped up in a twelve-year-old boy than you could crowd into the busy brains of all the women in the world, old or young. The small boy takes to devilment by instinct, same as young goslings take to water.

We once knew of a boy who fell out of his cradle, and then, no one being near to answer his yells, he crawled across the floor to the fireplace, raked some cinders out on the hearth and rolled over into them, nearly burning himself to death just to spite his mother, who left him alone for a few moments while she ran to a neighbor's to swap a little gossip. Did anyone ever see a sixteen-months'-old boy that would miss an opportunity to pull a lamp over on himself if he just had half a chance? Of course not. There were never any such boys born. We should just like to know the name and pedigree of the boy who, if he got hold of a powder-flask, wouldn't put it in the fire; or if he succeeded in securing a hatchet, would not chop off his sister's fingers; or got near a tub of water, and wouldn't dive into it head first; or slipping out on the second-story porch and and neglected any possible opportunity to fall off. If he did, he would not be a boy. An examination of him would show that he was some unconscious freak of nature for which no name has yet been found.

But, as intimated at the beginning of this veracious narrative, the boy does not cease to be a terror after he has reached the dignity of trousers. Truth compels the admission that the longer his trousers the holier a terror he becomes. As long as he is in dresses his mother, the nurse and two or three hired girls may, by untiring vigilance, prevent him from killing himself or some one else. But when he gets into jackets and the streets it takes a whole community to watch him. And then behold how deftly he "rakes in the pot" in spite of them all. In the glowing language of Oriental metaphor, "It's a cold day when he gets left." He will descend to the bottom of the deepest well and be fished out only to climb to the top of the highest steeple. He had rather hook green apples and double himself up with the colic than to eat ripe oranges and bananas and keep well—unless he should see an opening for stealing the latter, something he will take advantage of every time with more than lightning-like celerity. As he advances in age he advances in barbarous diabolism. From tying a tin-pan to the tail of the dog he ties suggestive placards to the coat-tail of his sister's beaux. There is no use in trying to bribe him into decency. He is not for sale. You cannot whip him into it any more than you can take a club and hammer the mischief out of a western cyclone. There was never but one thing in all animated nature that has been known to subdue a boy. About the time down begins to form on his upper lip and his voice loses the execrably shrill treble we are all so familiar with, introduce him to some good girl. The chances are he will fall all over-head-and-ears in love with her. If he does he is safe. If he does not you might as well leave him to his fate—the gallows or the penitentiary.

THE PROPER THING.

Black lace is extensively used on black toilets.

Tobacco and coffee brown are fashionable colors.

Plaited skirts and full bodies are worn by little girls.

Watered ribbons and watered silks are in high favor.

Bordered foulards in palm designs are new this season.

Amber and maize color are used to trim black lace gowns.

Zephyrs with dainty broken checks and small plaids are designed for children's wear.

Large or small, long or short, whatever you decide upon for a wrap, it must be close fitting.

All foot-pleatings are now very scant of side pleats with each pleat very slightly turned under.

A fashion in great favor for street suits is that of a basque of plain dark color with plaid or striped skirts.

Plain surah silks are much used in combination with summer cashmeres for both young and elderly women.

Sprigged mulls have come again and many a pretty girl will be prettier by a careful use of this becoming material.

Ginghams in blue, tan, brown, ecru and cream, richly embroidered, form entire dresses, with vest, collar and cuffs of velvet.

Kilt skirts are made in wide scant pleats to prevent them from being heavy and to save material; they are frequently bordered with rows of inch-wide ribbon sewed on before the pleats are laid.

Plain satin or silk dresses of last season may be rejuvenated for this season by covering the hem with narrow flounces and draping the skirt with any of the transparent materials so fashionable.

The first statue erected in Boston was that of Franklin, which was dedicated September 17, 1856.

The fourteen miles of street railway in Glasgow, [illegible]

AN OPIUM EATER'S STORY.

Crawling over Red Hot Bars of Iron in his Fearful Frenzy—A Scientific Investigation and Its Results.

[Cincinnati Times-Star.]

"Opium or death!"

This brief sentence was fairly hissed into the ear of a druggist on Vine street by a person who a few years ago well off is to-day a hopeless wreck.

One can scarcely realize the sufferings of an opium victim. De Quincy has vividly portrayed it. But who can describe the joy of the rescued victim?

H. C. Wilson, of Loveland, O., formerly with March, Harwood & Co., manufacturing chemists of St. Louis, and of the well-known firm of H. C. Wilson & Co. chemists, formerly of this city, gave our reporter yesterday a bit of thrilling personal experience in this line.

"I have crawled over red hot bars of iron and coals of fire," he said, "in my agony during an opium frenzy. The very thought of my sufferings freezes my blood and chills my bones. I was then eating over 30 grains of opium daily."

"How did you contract the habit?"

"Excessive business cares broke me down and my doctor prescribed opium! That is the way nine-tenths of cases commence. When I determined to stop, however, I found I could not do it.

"You may be surprised to know," he said, "that two-fifths of the slaves of morphine and opium are physicians. Many of these I met. We studied our cases carefully. We found out what the organs were in which the appetite was developed and sustained; that no victim was free from a demoralized condition of those organs; that hope of cure depended entirely upon the degree of vigor which could be imparted to them. I have seen patients, while undergoing treatment, compelled to resort to opium again to deaden the horrible pain in those organs. I marvel how I ever escaped."

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Wilson that you have conquered the habit?"

"Indeed I have."

"Do you object to telling me how?"

"No, sir. Studying the matter with several opium-eating physicians, we became satisfied that the appetite for opium was located in the kidneys and liver. Our next object was to find a specific for restoring those organs to health. The physicians, against their code, addressed their attention to a certain remedy and became thoroughly convinced on its scientific merits alone that it was the only one that could be relied upon in every case of disordered kidneys and liver. I thereupon began using it and, supplementing it with my own special treatment, finally got fully over the habit. I may say that the most important part of the treatment is to get these organs first into good working condition for in them over ninety per cent of all other human ailments originate."

"For the last seven years this position has been taken by the proprietors of that remedy and finally it is becoming an acknowledged scientific truth among the medical profession; many of them, however, do not openly acknowledge it, and yet, knowing they have no other scientific specific, their code not allowing them to use it, they buy it upon the quiet and prescribe it in their own bottles."

"As I said before, the opium and morphine habits can never be cured until the appetite for them is routed out of the kidneys and liver. I have tried everything,—experimented with everything and as the result of my studies and investigation, I can say I know nothing can accomplish this result but Warner's safe cure."

"Have others tried your treatment?"

"Yes sir, many; and all who have followed it fully have recovered. Several of them who did not first treat their kidneys and liver for six or eight weeks, as I advised them, completely failed. This form of treatment is always insisted upon for all patients, whether treated by mail or at the Loveland Opium Institute, and supplemented by our special private treatment, it always cures."

Mr. Wilson stands very high wherever known. His experience is only another proof of the wonderful and conceded power of Warner's safe cure over all diseases of the kidneys, liver and blood, and the diseases caused by the derangements of those organs. We may say that this is very flattering to the proprietors of Warner's safe cure that it has received the highest medical endorsement and, after persistent study, it is admitted by scientists that that there is nothing in materia medica for the restoration of those great organs that equals it in power. We take pleasure in publishing the above statements coming from so reliable a source as Mr. Wilson and confirming by personal experience what we have time and again published in our columns. We also extend to the proprietors our hearty congratulations on the results wrought.

Gen. Ben Butler says that he has no time just now to defend the Chicago anarchists.

A Democratic postmaster in Ohio who has been in office only three months is now under arrest for embezeling $700 of office funds.

[illegible]ORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

The Centaur Company, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

Rupture

Dr. J. A. Sherman has returned from his trip to the city of Mexico and the West, and removed his office from 251 to 294 Broadway, New York. In Dr. Sherman's treatment there is no operation of any kind, no detention from labor, no danger of strangulated rupture, besides freedom from the injury trusses inflict. His Book, containing information and endorsements from Physicians, Clergymen, Merchants, Farmers and others who have been treated and cured, is mailed for 10 cents. Persons in circumstances to prevent them from availing themselves of Dr. Sherman's personal services should send for his home circular of advice and instruction. Remember, office 294 Broadway, New York, three doors above Reade street.

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs

—AND—

MEDICINES,

a beautiful modern

--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves.
Remember the spot, day and date.
The New Drug Store.

H. C. GIESLER.

HART BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware

—AND—

PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE

—AND—

DRAIN TILE,

With all necessary Fittings and connections.

FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.

Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.

Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.

STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.

Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button Shoes

"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe

IN THE COUNTY.

CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Repairing [illegible]

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Feb. 1st, 1886.

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 15	3 55	8 50	6 00	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	1100	7 50	1120
5 45	4 15	9 20	6 20	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	1045	7 35	1110
7 38	6 00	1110	9 30	Cornwall	7 40	9 00	5 47	8 18
8 20	6 35	1142	1028	Campbell Hall	7 11	8 30	5 13	7 10
8 45	7 00	1210	1240	Middletown	6 55	8 15	4 55	6 30
†902	7 21	1229	1 10	Winterton	†633	7 53	†431	5 50
†906	7 27	1236	1 25	Bloom'ngb'rgh	†628	7 47	4 25	5 40
†912	7 32	1241	1 30	Wurtsboro	†624	7 43	*421	5 30
9 18	7 40	1250	1 40	Summitville	6 17	7 35	4 13	5 20
....	8 00	1 20	....	Ellenville	....	7 15	3 40	....
*936	p m	1 11	2 10	Mountain Dale	*600	a m	3 54	4 55
*943	....	1 20	2 22	Centerville	*553	....	3 47	4 40
*953	....	1 32	2 35	Fallsburgh	*545	....	3 38	4 25
1000	....	1 40	2 50	Hurley	*537	....	3 30	4 10
1012	Pass & Frt.	1 54	3 18	Liberty Falls	*525	....	3 18	3 47
1016		2 00	3 37	Liberty	5 20		3 13	3 37
1030		2 15	4 00	Parksville	*508		2 59	3 13
1042		2 45	4 25	L'v'gst'n Man'r	4 55	Mixed.	2 45	2 50
1055		3 00	4 43	Rockland	4 40		2 32	2 17
1107		3 12	4 57	Cook's Falls	*428		2 20	2 02
1130		3 33	5 25	East Branch	4 05		1 58	1 35
....	13	*318	5 35	Fish's Eddy	....	14	*149	1 22
1150	a m	3 55	5 50	Hancock	3 43	p m	1 38	1 03
1240	6 40	4 40	6 45	Walton	2 55	4 20	1255	1155
9 00	5 25	5 50	p m	Delhi	....	5 50	1040	a m
1 20	7 40	5 15	Oswego Exp.	Franklin	2 15	3 30	1205	Pass & Frt.
†128	7 52	5 22		Sidney Centre	1205	3 15	1157
1 45	8 55	5 40		Sidney (Depart	1 45	2 45	1140
....	....	7 30		New Berlin	....	....	7 00
....	9 30	†555		Guilford Centr	....	1 50	1122
2 06	9 40	5 59		Guilford	1 20	1 40	1119
2 24	1005	6 13		Oxford	1 03	1 15	1104
2 45	1030	6 30	31	Norwich	1210	1245	1045	50
....	47	....	....		....	32	....	....
....	a m	....	a m		....	p m	a m	p m
2 50	3 15	6 33	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 20	1040	6 20
†302	3 32	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 08	1029	6 00
†314	2 55	6 58	7 57	Smyrna	1208	6 58	1018	5 40
3 23	3 08	7 05	8 05	Earlville	1200	6 46	1011	5 15
3 32	3 30	7 13	8 15	Randallsville	1150	6 38	1003	1 45
†345	3 50	7 25	8 27	Eaton	1140	6 29	9 55	1 20
*350	4 03	7 30	8 32	Morrisville	1133	6 22	9 48	1 03
†404	4 30	7 43	8 45	Munnsville	1117	6 06	9 33	1 10
†415	4 55	*755	8 57	Community	1103	5 50	*621	2 20
4 21	5 06	8 00	9 08	Oneida Castle	1057	5 45	9 14	2 03
4 29	5 16	8 05	9 15	Oneida	1055	5 40	9 12	2 00
†433	p m	*810	*920	Durhamville	....	*512	*853	1248
*450	....	*827	9 38	North Bay	1027	4 51	8 35	1210
*505	....	8 42	9 53	Cleveland	1013	4 37	8 21	1140
*512	....	*847	1000	B'rnhard's Bay	1007	4 31	*814	1111
5 22	....	8 55	1007	Constantia	1000	4 24	8 07	1100
5 42	....	9 12	1024	Central Square	9 43	4 08	7 49	1024
†549	....	9 16	1031	Caughdenoy	9 35	*400	†741	9 50
5 57	....	9 28	1038	Pennellville	9 28	3 54	7 34	9 40
6 18	....	9 47	1058	Fulton	9 10	3 35	7 15	8 50
6 50	....	1010	1125	Oswego	8 45	3 10	6 50	7 30
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.

Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.

Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.

Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.

Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 30—Freight and Passenger—Leaves Middletown 5:50 a. m., Mechanicstown 6:00, Ireland 6:08, Stony Ford 6:16, Campbell Hall 6:25, Burnside 6:24, Rock Tavern 6.38, Genung's 6:50, Meadow Brook 7:02, Orr's Mills 7:07, Montana 7:10 and arrive at Cornwall 7:20, connecting with Train 6 for New York.

Train 38—Cornwall Local—Leaves Middletown 12:01 p. m., Mechanicstown 12:05, Ireland 12:09, Stony Ford 12:14, Campbell Hall 12:20, Burnside 12:25, Meadow Brook 12:43, Montana 12:48 arrive at Cornwall 12:55 p. m., connecting with West Shore train arriving at New York, 42nd. street 2:50 and Jay street 3:05 p. m., also for Newburgh arriving at 1:20 p. m.

Train 20—Way Freight and Passenger—Leaves Walton 7:30 a. m., arriving at Middletown 6:45 p. m., stopping at all stations.

Train 26—New Berlin Mixed—Leaves New Berlin 7:00 a. m., stopping at all stations on the New Berlin Branch, arriving at Sidney 9:55, Youngs 10:12, Sidney Centre 10:27, Franklin 10:40 and Walton 11:30.

Train 16—Leaves Delhi 5:35 a. m., Hamden 5:59, arriving at Walton 6:30, connecting with Train 13 for Norwich.

Train 18—Express—Leaves Delhi 10:40 a. m., Hamden 11:12, arriving at Walton 11:50, connecting with Train 2 for New York.

Train B—Sunday Only—Leaves Sidney 10:00 a. m., Youngs 10:20, Sidney Centre 10:35, Franklin 10:50, Walton 11:45.

Train 28—Sidney Local—Leaves Norwich 7:00 a. m., Oxford 7:30, Guilford 7:55, Guilford Centre 8:00, New Berlin Junction 8:17, Sidney 8:25 a. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Train 35—Middletown Local—Leaves Cornwall 8:25 a. m., connecting with West Shore, leaving Newburgh 7:20, Montana 8:37, Meadow Brook 8:48, Genung's 9:00, Burnside 9:20, Campbell Hall 9:30, Stony Ford 9:38, Middletown 10 a. m.

Train 37—Passenger and Freight—Leaves Cornwall 2:00 p. m., connecting with West Shore, leaving New York, Jay Street 11:05 a. m., 42nd Street 11:25, Newburgh 12:52, arrives at Montana 2:12, Meadow Brook 2:20, Genung's 2:32, Burnside 2:49, Campbell Hall 2:57, Stony Ford 3:06, Middletown 3:30 p. m.

Train 19—Way Freight—Leaves Middletown 6:55 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 4:30 p. m.

Train 25—New Berlin Way—Leaves Walton 2:25 p. m., arriving at Franklin 3:30, Sidney Centre 3:43, Sidney 3.45, connecting with No. 1 from New York, stopping at all stations on the Branch, arriving at New Berlin 7:30 p. m.

Train A—Saturday Only—Leaves Walton 6:50 p. m., Franklin 7:35, Sidney Centre 7:50, Sidney 8:30 p. m.

Train 15—Mixed—Leaves Walton 8:00 a. m., stopping at all stations on Branch, arriving at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 17—Mail—Leaves Walton 4:15 p. m., making all stops on Branch, arriving at Delhi 5:50 p. m.

Train 27—Norwich Mixed—Leaves Sidney 4:15 p. m., Guilford 4:49, Oxford 5:13, Norwich 5:45 p. m.

Train 49—Way Freight and Passenger—Leaves Norwich 8:10 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Oswego 6:45 p. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 38—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore for Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Saratoga, Whitehall, arriving at Rutland, Vt. 8:50 p. m.

Train 2—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Saratoga, Whitehall, Plattsburgh, arriving at Montreal 8 a. m.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and Rome and all stations on the Utica Division of the D. and H. R. R.; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for Syracuse.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points north; at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. R. for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago [illegible]

Train 31—Connects at Randallsville for all stations on the Utica Division of the D. and H. R. R.; at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Train 47—[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts, Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious, Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!

The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.

White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING.

Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods,

Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE,

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:
Stove $4.50 Grate 4.2[illegible]
Nut 4.60 [illegible]

[illegible] made known on application.

[illegible] of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible]

Entered at the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times.

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

Strikes and Boycotts seem to be fast coming to an end.

F. H. Winston United States Minister to Persia has resigned.

The commencement week of Union College begins on Sunday, June 20th.

Eight persons were smothered and burned to death in a tenement house in Chicago last Monday morning.

Col. Richard M. Hoe, senior member of R. Hoe & Co., the famous printing press makers, died in Florence, Italy, yesterday.

The Oswego Times-Express claims the honor of being the first paper in the world to announce the engagement of the President and Miss Folsom.

Lee won in the single scull race at Toronto yesterday, beating Hanlan by half a boat length. Conley was third and Hosmer fourth. It is beginning to look as though Hanlan has had his day.

President Cleveland and his bride, who have been passing a few days of their honeymoon at Deer Park among the mountains of Maryland, returned to Washington yesterday. The President seemed especially benefitted by his brief sojourn in the mountains.

Another patient of M. Pastour under treatment for hydrophobia died on Monday. This man's death and all the circumstances attending his care are held to upset the theory about the period required for hydrophobia to incubate.

The detachment of United States troops, which have been guarding the tomb of the late President Garfield will leave for Detroit next week. The commander says that if left without a guard the tomb will be chipped away in a month by relic hunters.

The Oneida Union came to us last week changed from a weekly to a semi-weekly and with a new dress. We extend our congratulations to the Union on this double indication of its prosperity, and wish for it the success that it deserves in this new enterprise.

The Home Rule bill introduced by Premier Gladstone was defeated in the House of Commons on Monday by a majority of 30, the vote standing 411 to 441. Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell made eloquent speeches in favor of the bill while Mr. Goschen spoke in opposition to it. The House of Commons was filled to overflowing to listen to the final debate on this great question. Just what course Mr. Gladstone will now adopt is not known, the House convenes to-morrow when new developments will probably appear.

On May 20, Hon. Daniel Manning Secretary of the Treasury, handed in his resignation to President Cleveland giving both public and private reasons why he thought it judicious to do so. The President reluctant to part with his trusted friend in a letter dated June 1st, suggests a postponement of the resignation and a vacation for the Secretary until October 1st. Secretary Manning has the sympathy of the whole country in his affliction, and it is hoped that before the alloted time has elapsed he will be able to return to his duties with his health fully recovered.

Commencing on Sunday, July 18, the city of Albany is to have its Bi-centennial celebration. All the railroads and steamboat lines entering Albany will offer greatly reduced rates. Military and civic organizations from all the large cities in New York and neighboring states will attend. President Cleveland, members of his cabinet, Senators and Representatives in Congress will also visit the city. Every effort will be made to make the celebration of the Two Hundredth anniversary of the city's history one of the most creditable and memorable events ever happening in the capital city and the great Empire State.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Martha Gould, wife of S.F. Gould, died at her residence on Park street at 4:40 on Saturday afternoon. She had been in ill health for nearly three years and for the last three months was confined to her bed. The best of medical aid was procured but to no avail. Nothing could be done but to make her as comfortable as possible until death might relieve her of her suffering. The deceased was born in Cato, this State, in 1838. In 1847 she was married to S. F. Gould, who survives. Besides her husband she leaves a son, Frank Gould, and two daughters, Mrs. James Overoracker of this city, and Mrs. Geo. Porter of Waterford, N. Y. Many friends unite their feelings of sympathy with the bereaved family and deeply mourn the loss of one who by her devoted Christian character and her gentle and [illegible] disposition won the hearts of all [illegible] knew her.—[Rome Daily Sentinel, [illegible]

[illegible]

Extensive preparations are being made for the celebration of the Onondaga County Centennial. The time fixed is the first week in September beginning August 31st.

The funeral of the late chief engineer, Phillip Eckel of Syracuse took place last Thursday afternoon when the community paid their tribute to the chief that had served them so long and faithfully.

The McQueen locomotive works at Schenectaday, established by the late Senator Stanford, will hereafter be occupied by the Edison Electric Light company of New York. The plant will probably be established this week, commencing with the employment of 400 men, eventually to be increased to 1,000. There is great rejoicing in Schenectady.

Two murders in one day occurred near Owego last Thursday, one three miles north of Owego in which Andrew Dunham shot Mrs. Austin White and then himself; Mrs. White will probably recover. The other in the town of Nichols in which James Shoemaker stabbed Dell Vandermark in the bowels with a knife, killing him almost instantly.

COUNTY NEWS.

An Episcopal church is to be erected in Richland soon.

The county court is being held in Pulaski this week.

A six year old son of Sylvester Potter of Orwell was thrown from a wagon on Wednesday last. His head struck on a stone, fracturing the scull. Physicians pronounce the case hopless.

The bones of a human being have been found under a stump in the town of Redfield. The inhabitants of that place think they are the remains of a boy who disappeared several years since.

The rates for shipping strawberries from Oswego, Scriba, New Haven, Mexico, Pulaski and Richland to New York is 60 cents per crate.

Some two hundred attended the strawberry festival at the M. E. Church in Minetto last Friday evening, among those present was Presiding Elder Danforth.

The rumor that the R. W. & O. railroad shops would be removed to Richland or Watertown has been dispelled. The company has given positive assurance that they will remain in Oswego.

The Palladium of Saturday says that the first Oswego county berries were brought in on that day by Mrs. Darling of Oswego Town and Valentine Dessum.

The Hannibal News says that Chief Warsop of the Oswego Fire department, has sent in a bill of $30 to the President of that village for services at the late fire there.

South Granby.

We had a hard shower here Monday and a little hail mixed with it. The ground is in a very good condition for the farmers to set tobacco and a good many are improving the opportunity. There has been considerable tobacco set in this place and Charles Smith has set one acre of cabbage.

Geo. Rumsey has covered his house with a new tin roof.

Our butter and cheese factory is making 12 cheese and 40 pounds of butter per day, And Mr. Hoose, who had our cheese last week, reports them the best ever turned out of this factory.

Hurbert Whitcomb and wife of Lysander, called on friends here Sunday.

Working the road is now the order of the day in this vicinity.

Rev. John Forbes of Bowen's Corners, gave the people of this village a very able discovrse at the school house Sunday evening.

Scriba.

Strawberries are ripening now and soon will come our harvest.

The M. E. Ladies Aid society will meet at the residence of Mrs. Hial Stone on Friday afternoon of this week.

The new house of James Church is progressing rapidly.

Rev. I. J. Nourse writes from McPhursen county, Kansas, that he likes the climate and the country is just "grand." His health requires a change of location and if the malaria, which has troubled him so long does not follow him to Kansas his friends will rejoice for him.

Mrs. J. E. Ensign has been spending a week at Dr. Taylor's. She is on her return from Clifton Springs, where she has been for her health.

A disappointed congregation who had met to hear their old pastor, Rev. Ensign, listened with interest to a discourse from Rev. Mr. Stone, of this place, last Sunday.

We are glad to meet our old friend, Miss Frankie Wetherby, of Taberg, who is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Wm. Dean.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number of testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises, H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alsina Hubbard, widow, and Friend L. Hubbard, heir at law, both of Granby, N. Y., and Henry O. Howe and Arvin Rice as executors, etc. of Harriet Lampman, deceased, and Lewis H. Hutchins as administrator, etc. of Polly Marvin, deceased, creditors, and to all other creditors of, and all persons interested in the real estate of William Hubbard late of the Town of Granby in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the county of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 5th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the distribution of the surplus moneys arising on the sale of mortgaged premises under a mortgage given by said William Hubbard, deceased, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] heard over without failing a greater [illegible] power girl.

The Rochester Democrat says, "the President's marriage is regarded by the far-sighted as the first real move in the campaign of 1888."

Henry Ward Beecher receives from his church four months' vacation and will spend the time until October 1st in Europe, where he will make a lecture tour.

Herr Most and his two companions were transferred to the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island Wednesday. Most was put to work in the blacksmith's shop.

It is said that Sam Jones and Sam Small have both fallen from grace, and are again smoking and chewing the weed they forever forswore while in Chicago with all of the old-time vigor and relish.

Dr. Frederick N. Palmer of Boston, who recently committed suicide by jumping from a Portland steamer with his little grandson in his arms, invented the first American postage stamp, while he was postmaster at Brattleboro, Vt., under Polk's administration.

The funeral of John Kelly took place from St. Patrick's cathedral in New York last Saturday morning. The cathedral was crowded with friends of the renowned politician. Requiem mass was held over the remains and the funeral sermon was preached by Mgr. Preston.

The infant King of Spain enjoys the almost unique distinction of having been born a monarch. There is no other like instance in the history of Spain, nor of England. In France there has been one such incident, in the case of John I., in 1316.

Jurian Winne, several times a candidate for state treasurer on the Greenback ticket, died at his home in Bethlehem, Albany county, last Friday night, aged seventy years. He had always lived at Bethlehem, and was a well-known agriculturist.

A correspondent to the Rome Sentinel says that Thomas G. Alvord is not the oldest assemblyman in this state now living. He mentions Amasa J. Parker of Albany as member from Delaware county in 1834. Among other ex-members of assembly whose terms of office antedate that of Mr. Alvord are Richard P. Morris, who represented Chautauqua county in 1836; William Porter, Onondaga, 1837; James S. T. Stranahan, Oneida, 1838; Edward B. Judson, Oswego, 1839 and 1841; Carlos P. Scoville, Lewis, 1842; Charles P. Daly, New York; 1843. All these gentlemen are living, with the possible exception of Messrs. Porter, and Stranahan."

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Utica, June 7.

The market started off rather slow to-day, but with some expectation of better prices. Gradually the bids crept up until it became certain that at least 7 cents would be ruling. Few however expected to see it go above that, but the final result proved that it was ⅛c. better, and the factory men were happy. The immediate occasion of the advance was the bareness of the New York market, which made buyers anxious to get stock. But there is a more solid basis for it in the condition of things in the country. Pastures and meadows are thin everywhere, and milk is gradually shrinking. Here and there a factory is keeping up its make because its cows are still coming in, but in the majority of cases the shrinkage is very perceptible.

Transactions of the day were as follows: 3 lots, 300 boxes, at 6¾c.; 7 lots, 733 boxes, at 6⅞c.; 19 lots, 1,576 boxes at 7c.; 65 lots, 6,593 boxes, at 7⅛c.; 14 lots, 1,474 boxes, at 7¼c.; 6 lots, 881 boxes, at 7⅜c. Sales 11,553 boxes, commissions 1,172; total, 12,725 boxes. Ruling price 7⅛c.; transactions one year ago 10,383 boxes, ruling 6⅝c. Two years ago 13,535, ruling 9¼c. Cheese is now sold down close to the hoop, and we are getting about as much as we shall have at any time this year. The flush was past a week ago.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, June 7.

Cheese—It was at once evident upon the opening of trade to-day that a better and more confident feeling existed, although it was not generally expected that a higher range of prices would be paid than last week. As business developed, however, it became apparent that better rates would rule, and at the close it is seen that they average about ⅜c. above last week's figures. This perhaps, is mainly due to the fact that the offerings to-day were almost entirely grass made stock. Prices were firm and finestock was in quick demand. Dairymen are getting about one cent per pound more for their cheese than they were a year ago, but they find but little encouragement in this. The trade to-day is as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price.
20	1,266	6¾ cents
61	4,098	7 cents
9	679	7¼ cents
1	103	7⅜ cents
7	510	com.
98	6,596
Farm dairy	836
Total	7,432

Farm Dairies.—There was a sharp, active trade upon the morning market, and the cheese sold well. Prices ranged at 6¼@8c., only one or two lots at the latter price. The ruling price was 7¼c.

Butter.—Fifty-three packages of butter sold at 15@16½c. Nearly all went at 16c. Thirty packages were creamery, the balance farm dairy.

AT FULTON.

The slight advance in price had a tendency toward making sales at this market Monday night quite brisk. Among the buyers were W. J. Peach of Union Square, R. Baker and J. Hoose of Mexico and S. Osborn of Fulton. Fourteen factories were represented with about 1,000 boxes of cheese, nearly all of which were sold at 7c. to 7½c., Utica ruling.

Stranger Than Fiction.

are the records of some of the cures of consumption effected by that most wonderful remedy—Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Thousands of grateful men and women, who have been snatched almost from the very jaws of death, can testify that consumption in its early stages, is no longer incurable. The Discovery has no equal as a pectoral and alterative, and the most obstinate affections of the throat and lungs yield to its power. All druggists.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 4dy1

[illegible]

[illegible] the White House were busily completing the preparations, the Marine band was rehearsing, knots of people were clustering around the Executive Mansion; and every one was pleasantly excited. But the contracting parties seemed less concerned than those about them. The President spent most of the day in his office, opening his mail and attending to routine business. Whenever any reference was made to the coming event by the few friends who were allowed to see him during the day, he would chuckle good naturedly, but there was nothing in his demeanor to indicate that he was the man whose approaching marriage was interesting sixty millions of people. After inspecting the floral decorations the bride passed the day in her room with her mother and the President's sisters and showed no more nervousness than the occasion would seem to justify.

The wedding was very quiet. A crowd had collected in the White House grounds, but the people respected the President's wishes that the marriage should be private, and no noisy demonstrations were indulged in, and nothing but the merry chimes of bells and firing of cannon showed that the event was anything more than a mere private wedding. The President wore a smoothly fitting dress suit of black broadcloth, with white lawn tie. The bride's dress was of ivory satin. During the ceremony Mr. Cleveland looked self possessed and supremely contented. After the guests had offered their greetings to the bride, who was, unlike Niobe, all smiles, and congratulated the President, they moved into the dining room where an elaborate collation was served. The President and Mrs. Cleveland soon withdrew, however, and reappeared in traveling costume. Amid a shower of rice and old shoes they drove away to take the train for Deer Park, a little summer resort in Maryland, where they will spend about a week.

During the day messages of congratulation were received from Queen Victoria, President Grevy of France, Emperor William of Germany, King Leopold of Belgium, President Diaz of Mixico, Emperor Don Pedro of Brazil, and a number of other crowned heads of Europe and Presidents of Central and South American Republics.

The members of the Diplomatic Corps of this city, although they had received no formal notice of the wedding, yet felt that from their official relations with the President they should take some notice of his marriage. Accordingly a meeting was held Wednesday in the house of Mr. Nogneiras, the Portuguese Minister, and it was decided that Mr. Preston, the Minister from Hayti, should call upon Secretary Bayard and through him present to the President the congratulations and good wishes of the whole body of diplomists. There was no feeling of surprise manifested among the Diplomatic Corps at not having received invitations to the ceremony because the recent deaths in the family of the bride was considered sufficient reason that the wedding should be strictly private. Then the President has so rigorously excluded from the preparations for the event any official act, that the foreign representatives were not at all astonished at the omission.

The floral decorations of the parlors and dining room of the White House were very beautiful and artistic, and it was a very graceful act of Mr. Cleveland to order that the flowers used should be distributed among the hospitals of the District.

The bridal presents were many and rich, but they were not extravagant in number or value. The gift of the President to his bride was a beautiful diamond necklace, in which she seemed to take special delight. The presents from the cabinet officers and their wives were mostly articles of jewelry, though there were several handsome gifts of silverware.

During the day an old farmer and his wife drove up to the White House in a dilapitated one-horse vehicle, that looked as if it had been in use before the war. The farmer stopped at the entrance, and carried up to the door a big market basket filled with great, blushing strawberries; each one of which looked as large as a teacup. "This is a present to Mrs. Cleveland" said the farmer, adding as he drove away, "I'll call around for the basket in a day or two."

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

FORECLOSURE SALE.
SUPREME COURT—Oswego County.
The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 28th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 12th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Case's division of lot [illegible] acres and running thence south [illegible] east along the west line of said Case's [illegible] thirty-seven (37) chains [illegible] to a stake, thence north 89 [illegible] south line of said Lot [illegible] to a stake [illegible]

[illegible]

You need some new clothes, don't you?

You want your money's worth, don't you?

You want to buy Dry Goods as low as you can get them, don't you?

You had better come here, hadn't you.

You should see our stock, it will pay you.

You can select Clothing or Dry Goods that will please you. Will give you bargains, we assure you.

You will find our goods will suit you..

You will find our parasols will please you.

You should read, consider and act as we advise you.

O-R

—THEN GO TO—

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM'S,

—THE—

Ladies' and Gents' Outfitters.

and compare prices. Cannot be beat and Satisfaction always guaranteed.

DRY GOODS.

An Abstract of Expenditures.

By L. T. Richardson Superintendent of Repairs upon the Oswego canal, and having charge of 23 miles of said canal extending from Oswego to Three River Point also the Oneida river improvement 20 miles.

FOR THE MONTH OF MAY 1886.

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
H Fralick	Ph'nix	Lock t'dng	1 m	2500	25 00
L Merry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Howe	Fulton	"	1 m	2500	25 00
L Torry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Surdam	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Darling	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T Sweeney	Os'ego	"	1 m	3500	35 00
E Connors	"	"	1 m	3500	35 00
A Dingman	Hin'vil	"	1 m	2500	25 00
L Montague	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
D Inman	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
O Cross	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Patterson	Fulton	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Lappin	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
N Miller	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Ed Harvey	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W T Church	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
R H Stow	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Althouse	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Perry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Storrs	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Chas Dodge	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Knapp	SenHil	"	1 m	3000	30 00
G Doyle	"	"	1 m	3000	30 00
W Sreves	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Grautier	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Sheridan	Os'ego	"	1 m	2500	25 00
B Cavellier	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Bough	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Murphy	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Daly	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T O'Hara	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
V'nValkenburg	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Halstead	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Buxton	C'ug'y	"	1 m	2500	25 00
A McArthur	Elucid	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Peter Conley	Fulton	"	1 m	1000	10 00
					940.00

STATE SHOP-CHECK ROLL

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	32¼d	240	78 00
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	32¼d	180	58 50
R H Stow	"	C Labor	½d	100	50
W Patterson	"	"	½d	100	50
H Lappin	"	"	½d	100	50
R R Dodge	"	Team	5¼d	240	12 60
					150 60

The above labor was performed as follows:

60¾ days repairing locks	128 85
9⅜ days repairing bridges	20 25
1½ days repairing break	1 50
71¾	150 60

STATE SCOW CHECK ROLL

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	1 m	50 00	50 00
Geo Barrett	"	C Labor	1 m	35 00	35 00
F Garrison	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J Gilhooly	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
M Connors	Fulton	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
Ed Sayles	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J Hayden	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
W LaFount'in	"	Team	1 m	75 00	75 00
F Hayden	"	Cook	1 m	15 00	15 00
			260 days		385 00

The above labor was performed as follows:

130 days repairing locks	192 50
100 days laying docking	148 07
30 days repairing tow path	44 43
260	385 00

R R DODGE'S CHECK ROLL

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
R R Dodge	Fulton	Foreman	1¼d	160	2 00
Geo Baker	Sen Hill	C Labor	1¼d	100	1 25
Mat Bough	Oswego	"	1¼d	100	1 25
A Doherty	"	"	1¼d	100	1 25
J Farrell	"	"	1¼d	100	1 25
Pat Mack	"	"	1¼d	100	1 25
Chas Frank	"	"	1¼d	100	1 25
John Dwyer	Fulton	"	1¼d	100	1 25
E Cody	Oswego	"	1¼d	100	1 25
Lew Wart	"	Team	1¼d	240	3 00
					15 00

The above labor was repairing tow path at Oswego.

Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract	7 50
Total	$1,498 10

State of New York, Oswego County. } ss:

L. T. Richardson, Superintendent of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal [illegible]

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

[illegible]

[illegible] YARD.

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—

Complete Assortment

—OF—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.

—And in fact everything pertaining to a—

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.

Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

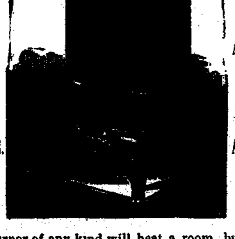
—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.

A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.

AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.



☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F.G. Weeks, President.
E R. Redhead, Vice-President.
Almon Bristol, Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. Messenger, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,

Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

FITS STOPPED FREE [illegible]

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Hubbard & Wilson, Proprietors.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express.......6:26 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express....11:40 a. m
[illegible] and Elmira Express.......3:47 p. m
Freight and Accommodation.......6:10 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express.....8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express....9:20 a. m.
Day Express.......12:24 p. m.
Day Express.......3:46 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation.......6:10 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....7:20 p. m.

The 6:26 a. m., and 6:15 a. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express..........7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation..........8:45 a. m
Norwich Express..........3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express..........9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express..........6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express..........10:53 a. m.
Freight and accommodation..........5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express..........9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:10	11:30	3:30	5:20
For Oswego,	9:20	12:30	2:34	6:30

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Frank Holden is home for a short visit.

A. D. Pettis of Syracuse is spending a few days in Fulton and vicinity.

E. F. Blanchard with several Oswego friends, was in town Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Baker of Oswego, have been in town for a day or two, visiting friends.

John Sheridan of Toronto a former Fultonian, has been spending a short time in town.

Dr. Denicke of Syracuse, formerly located in this place, has been in town visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Haelstrom of Alton, Wayne county, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett.

J. T. Moore of Buffalo, a former resident of this village, has been spending a few days among old friends.

Dr. Walter Crombie of Schaghticoke, N.Y. and W.C. Crombie of Cortland spent Sunday with their parents in Fulton.

Willis Ney and daughter, Mrs. H. B. Rose, left yesterday for Utica and vicinity where they will make an extended visit.

William Breaker, a brother of Rev. J. C. Breaker, who has been spending the past year here, returned to England last Saturday.

R. E. Phillips left Monday for Rochester to attend the annual meeting of the New York State Pharmaceutical association, which is in session there this week.

If you are in want of lumber, laths shingle, mouldings, brackets, newell posts, balusters, window or door frames, or anything pertaining to building, you will find it to your interest to call at McCully's Planing Mill. 1tf

The finest line of baby cabs in Oswego Co. W. McCULLY.

Buy the Underhill Opera Slipper of Goodjon. The best made.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

HART BROS.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

Men's two buckle Kip Plow Shoes $1.00 per pair at Collins'. tf.

Ladies' friend carpet sweeper for sale at N. R. Cole's, Oneida street.

5,000 Rolls Wall Paper just received at M. M. William's Drug Store! Don't fail to see the nobby patterns before you buy elsewhere.

All kinds of job printing done on short notice and at reasonable rates at THE TIMES office.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange for rags. Trade with him. 21tf [illegible] sermon or address by L. L. Palmer, of Sandy Creek.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, 8:30.—Prayer meeting led by N. M. Caton. Nine a. m., business session. 1. Elect secretary and assistants and treasurer; 2. Roll call; 3. Appointing standing committees; 4. Approve apportionments; 5. Fix place of next meeting; 6. Miscellaneous business: 7. Echoes from children's day. A three minute report from each pastor present, or other representative of the charge; 8. How to preach to children and secure their attendance at church. Discussion led by W. D. Chase, followed by G. E. Huntley and H. M. Danforth, presiding elder; 9. Essay by S. E. Brown.—How to secure the best results from the quarterly visitation of our presiding elder. Discussed by J. H. Buck and I. J. Nourse; 10. Adjournment.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, 1:30.—Song service, led by G. W. Wood; 2:00, Literary exercises; 1. Essay by C. H. Guile.—The duty of pulpit and church to the labor question, Discussed by J. R. Smith and A.M. Child; 2. Essay by J. R. Cobb.—The desirability of the re-union of the Methodist Episcopal Churches North and South, Discussed by H. M. Church and Charles Manson; 3. Essay by J. C. Darling.—Dangers threatening the holy Sabbath. Discussed by H. C. Abbott and S. M. Fisk; 4. Essay by J. Benson.—A review of the conference minutes of 1886; 5. Essay by M. R. Webster.—How to Rally the Churches of Oswego District to the "Million for Missions." Discussed by C. H. Harris and S. T. Dibble; 6. Outline of a sermon by B. Day Brown; 7. W. H. Bury.—Saving Faith. Discused by C. E. Miller and J. F. Rathburn.

The Charges of Oswego District stand in the following order of relative strength as shown by the apportionment. We give the list with the amount asked of each for missions: Oswego, First, $330; Fulton, $285; Oswego, Trinity, $248; Mexico, $242; Camden, 221; Sandy Creek, $221; Pulaski, $141; Hannibal, $132; New Haven, $121; Scriba and Lansing, $105; Florence and and Redfield, $112; Vermilion, $110 South Richland, $100; Williamstown, $97; Vienna, $92; Gilbert's Mills, $87; Oswego Centre, $84; Central Square, $82; Orwell, $79; Volney, $76; Cleveland, $76; Hannibal, $69 Constantia, $65; Amboy, $60; Granby, $60; Parish, $56; Durhamville, $53; West Sandy Creek, $50; North Bay, $48; Minetto, $20; New London, $18. H. M. DANFORTH, Presiding Elder, Chairman.

M. R. WEBSTER, Secretary.

Keep your eyes open for bargains in Boots and Shoes at GOODJON'S.

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

Mixed Paints of every Shade, Oils, Varnishes, Lead, Lime, Alabastine, &c., cheaper than ever at M. M. WILLIAMS, Drug Store.

For the next 10 days Special Bargains in Calf Boots at GOODJON'S.

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it

SHEEP TOOTH FODDER CORN.

Choicest for Seed, wholesale and retail, price $1.00, small lots $1.12 per bushel. Also the twelve rowed Dutton Seed Corn in the ear at 50c. per bushel of ears. Very choice at Genesee Mills.

May 12th, '86. 1w4.

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

Great Sale of Tea and Coffee. Valuable presents given away with each purchase, at Blount's Commission Store 34 First St. Fulton. I. A. BRADFORD Ag't.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

FOR CULTIVATORS,
HORSE HOES,
Sulky and Revolving
Horse Rakes
and the U. T. K. Corn Planter,
go to
Snow & Loomis', 7 First Street,
who are selling lower than ever this year.

What The People are TALKING ABOUT.

The Great Bargains they are offering at the

BOSTON BAZAAR.

Read This

HOSIERY Our Greatest Specialty. Prices Low. Sales Quick.
CORSETS Eighteen different Styles. Can suit the most particular.
GLOVES Lisle, Silk, and Kid. All Colors. All Prices.
RIBBONS The Largest Line and The Lowest Prices.
LACES The Best Assortment in the city.
PARASOLS Another new lot just received. Don't buy until you have seen them.
HANDKERCHIEFS 25 doz. all Linen, hem stitched for 10 cts. each.

[illegible] many things to be found at Fulton's [illegible] and find out what [illegible]

A. E. Nettleton will offer bargains in Ladies' Misses' and Children's Kid Slippers.

Above goods are bergains got while in New York and are very Cheap.

The Fourth of July comes on Sunday this year.

The Oswegos were defeated seven times last week.

The Fulton band will give an open-air concert in the park to-morrow evening, weather permitting.

Rev. W. H. Palmer of East Oswego Baptist church and Rev. J. C. Breaker exchanged pulpits last Sunday.

A large number of press representatives were entertained in Oswego last Friday by the managers of the N. Y. O. & W. railroad.

At a special meeting of the Fire department last night, it was decided to join the Cortland department in a parade next Saturday.

The Trustees of the Dempster Grove Camp ground meet at the Methodist Episcopal church in New Haven, on Wednesday June 16 at 10 o'clock a. m.

The breach of promis case brought by Mrs. Isabella France of Palermo against Lafayette Hackett of Cicero, has been settled by Hackett paying a considerable sum of money.

John Harrison formerly of the Phœnix Chronicle is in town for a short time. Mr. Harrison has severed his connection with that paper and hereafter it will be edited by Charles Harrison.

John Barlow of South Hannibal has for many years brought in the first crate of strawberries grown in this section. Last Monday Mr. Barlow brought in a crate of the finest berries of the season.

The prospects are that a new life saving station will be located on the west side of Salmon Creek in Texas. Mr. N. Boyer of Washington and Supt. D. D. Dobbins were there last week looking over the grounds.

E. K. Jefferds of Academy street, brought into our office Monday, about a dozen new potatoes. They were of the "Early Sunrise" variety and were planted on the 8th of April. They were of excellent quality and good size. Who can beat this?

The temperance organizations in Fulton and Oswego Falls are making arrangements to celebrate July 4th. It is said that Elsie VonBlumen, the lady bicyclist will race against several fast trotters. There will be foot and horse racing, etc. A meeting will be held Saturday evening to perfect arrangements.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society met in Pulaski last Thursday about sixty delegates attended and were hospitably entertained by the Pulaski people. Mrs. E. R. Redhead of this village took an active part in the exercises and at the afternoon session read a prepared essay. Fulton was decided upon as the place for the next meeting.

On last Wednesday morning a destructive fire occurred in the mill yard of the Keller Bros. at Clifford. The mill yard covering about two acres, was literally heaped with dry debris, the accumulation of years, all of which was food for the flames. By hard work the stave mill, planing and heading mill were saved. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Next Saturday the Water Witch Engine Co., of the Cortland Fire department, have an excursion to the fair ground. An invitation has been extended to the Fulton Fire department to join them in a parade. The visitors will bring the Mechanics band with them to furnish music. There will be a game of base ball between nines from Cortland and Fulton. The Fulton nine have secured a battery from out of town and it is expected that a very interesting game will be played.

The graduating exercises of the Phœnix academy are to take place at the M. E. church, Phœnix, on Friday evening, June 18. The members of the graduating class are Lillian May Collison, Harriette Bernbard Clapp, Bertha Eugenie Dygert, John Danforth Fox, Anna May Fish, Louis Mervin Henley, Alfred Morton, Jr., Henrietta Meech, Edward Berton McCarthy, Irving Winfield Spencer, Thomas Keller Smith, Jennie Estella Skinner, Grace Maria Sweeting, Caroline Olga Wandell. Music course—Harriette Bernard Clapp, Anna May Fish. L. M. Henley is president of the class and Lillian M. Collison, Secretary.

Last Monday evening, the Gardner Family presented their new and musical absurdity "Ruffles" to a large audience at Howard opera house, and gave excellent satisfaction. It is wonderful to note the amount of musical talent possessed by this family and their neatly arranged programme caused many complimentary remarks. "Ruffles" is one of the funniest of all funny musical absurdities, and is composed of choice musical selections from all the popular operas. Should the Gardners ever return to this village, we predict for them a crowded house.—[Baldwinsvile Era, Saturday, June 5.

FOR SALE.—A fine new milch cow, Jersey grade. Enquire at this office. 5t

The "T. G. & Co." clothing is made for service as well as style. See the advertisement.

"Wigwam" sole leather moccasins at Goodjon's $1 pair.

Before you put a roof on that building, be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior goods, [illegible] so-called roofing [illegible]

The Tribune Fresh Air Fund.

H. A. Parsons, representing the Tribune fresh air fund was in this village last Monday. He visited the pastors of the different churches and arrangements will be made by them and committees appointed who will ascertain how many children can be cared for. It is expected that about July 1st some will be sent here to enjoy, as they did two years ago, the benefit of the country air and the green fields which it is so rarely their lot to see in New York city. It is to be hoped that all who can without great inconvenience to themselves will assist in this laudable enterprise and take, for a few weeks, into their homes these little ones who receive so much benefit from this source.

Cleveland Hose Company.

At a meeting held at Warner's Grocery at the Upper Landing last Friday night, the Cleveland hose company, consisting of young men from that locality, was organized. The following officers were elected: President, John More; secretary, A. W. Stoneburg; treasurer, A. L. Warner; property clerk, G. Wallace; foreman, Henry Wise; assistant, Chas. Abbey. Following are the members: Kinney Barnes, Walter Sylvester, P. Coleman, E. Taylor, C. Ferris, James Fitzsimmons, W. Connors, T. Burke. A building will either be built or hired and one of the new hose carts purchased by the village will be located there. A meeting of the new company will be held this evening.

Special Strawberry Train.

The United States Express company will run a special strawberry train from Fulton over the D. L. & W. railroad to New York and Philadelphia, during the coming berry season, commencing Monday, June 21st, or before should the business require it. The train will leave the D. L. & W. depot at 1:30 p. m., arriving at Hoboken, N. J., at 1:00 a. m., and Philadelphia at 1:30 p. m.

F. E. RICE, Agent.

Band Boys' Excursion.

On Sunday, June 20th, the Fulton band will give an excursion to Long Branch by the steamer Van Doren. The boat will leave Wilson's dock at 8:30 a. m. The grounds at Long Branch are conveniently located, pleasantly laid out and a day there can be thoroughly enjoyed. The two excursions given by the band last summer were largely attended and highly spoken of.

The Street Railway.

A TIMES reporter was shown a letter this morning from the contractor, in which he expresses himself as being very hopeful that at an early day, in all probabilility during this month, of completing arrangements, and vigorously pushing forward the work.

Men's Canvas Shoes of all kinds very low at Goodjon's.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. GRAFF & Co.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

—GIVEN AWAY,—
for 25cts.,
the Biggest Bargains
in TINWARE
you ever saw
at the Boston Bazaar.

Wanted.

Ladies and Gentlemen to learn Telegraphy. Day or evening. For terms and particulars address

H. L. LEVERE'S
Short Hand school,
Oswego, N. Y

An extra stock of Ladies Fine Shoes at wholesale prices just in at Goodjon's.

SUMMER OUTFITS.

They Have Them in Great Variety at Kent & Miller's, South Salina Street.

The season for heavy wearing apparel having now passed, the thoughtful clothing buyer begins to make plans for his summer garments, and at the same time to make some estimate on the probable cost of his outfit. This, of course, can hardly be done with any degree of accuracy unless he knows just what he wants and where to buy the best for the least money. These are two essential points which will pay to give some attention to. In light fabrics the range of choice is wide, and in pattern and style in ready-made clothing the variety is almost infinite. Especially is this true of a large house. No person wanting anything in the clothing line need go away from Kent & Miller's 18 and 20 South Salina street, without being suited and pleased in prices as well as in goods. They understand the wants of the people and as they manufacture their own clothing they can meet these wants in a [illegible] manner. They have in stock all the newest novelties that are found in any tailoring establishment, and the display of [illegible] is particularly fine [illegible]

Ask for the [illegible] Ladies' [illegible] at Goodjon's. tf.

"Ruffles" at the opera house Friday evening.

The Stars defeated the Torontos at Syracuse yesterday. Score 6 to 3.

A sewer has been laid on the north side of Broadway in Oswego Falls.

Chief Engineer F. C. Mosher of the Fire department is in Oswego to-day.

General Moore baptized sixteen members of the Salvation army in Auburn, Sunday.

It is announced that the Fourth of July will be celebrated in old fashion style at Mexico.

The Oswegos beat the Buffalos in a ten inning contest, at Oswego yesterday by a score of 6 to 4.

Mrs. Chas. Wilkinson and Mrs. Lovina Lot left Monday evening for an extended visit with friends in Bradford, Pa.

Ten houses are in proces of construction south of the public park. This portion of the village is growing very rapidly.

Henry D. Morris of Baldwinsville, was arrested, and held for trial Saturday, on the charge of obtaining $300 from John A. Waddell in 1882.

The annual convention of the diocese of the Episcopal church for central New York began last evening at Trinity church, Watertown.

The corporation of Fulton has about 900 voters and 30 places where liquors or beer is sold. An average of about one for every 30 voters.

Owen Rafferty of this village, who was recently shot and seriously wounded in Syracuse, has been declared insane and taken to the asylum at Utica.

Ten brothers and sisters all fine musicions make up the Gardner family which are to give an entertainment in the opera house next Friday evening.

Thursday, June 17th, a picnic will be held on the fair ground under the auspices of Post Schenck, G. A. R., Games, racing and other amusements will be the order of the day.

The fountains for the cemetery have been placed in position and Sunday were running for the first time. They are very handsome and add greatly to the beauty of our cemetery.

The Chicago Rambler says: Rip Van-Winkle was foolish to go out and sleep on a damp mountain for twenty years. He might just as well have clerked in a store that did not advertise.

An ice cream festival and social will be given to-morrow evening in Church's hall, under the auspices of the Father Matthew T. A. B. society of this village. Bogue's orchestra will furnish music. Admission to hall 10 cents. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Among the patents granted to citizens of New York during the month of May is a Thill Coupling to William H. Hannan, the popular hotel proprietor of Palermo. We have seen the coupling and are convinced that from its simplicity and durability it will supply a long felt want.

On Thursday, Toronto plays ball at Oswego; Hamilton at Utica; Buffalo at Syracuse; Rochester at Binghamton. Friday, Toronto at Oswego; Hamilton at Utica. Saturday, Hamilton at Toronto; Buffalo at Syracuse; Rochester at Binghamton.

The governor's hearing on the enlarged bill (appropriating $200,000, to enlarge eight locks of the Erie and Oswego canals) took place before the governor Monday afternoon. There was a large attendance of canal men in favor of the bill including Thomas Gale and John Lighton of Syracuse, and D. C. Littlejohn of Oswego.

Now that the President and his wife have settled down, like old-married folks to every-day life in the White House, we may not hope to be regaled with daily bulletins reciting the hour when the family took breakfast, what Mrs. Cleveland wore when she swept the presidential bed chamber, who was the first to find fault because the coffee was cold, what style of gown Mrs. Cleveland wore when she set out to make removals from the laundry without the advice and consent of the Senate—and all that. The movements of the little presidential family have been given with infinite detail during the honeymoon. Newspaper readers have remarked that it is positively scandalous thus to particularize, but they have read it, each printed line of it, and they have enjoyed it every mother's son and daughter of them.—[Syracuse Standard.

The opera house was filled last Thursday evening to listen to an address on temperance by Rev. Father Early. W.G. Gage was elected chairman of the meeting. A number of citizens and clergymen were seated upon the stage. The exercises opened with instrumental music by the orchestra, followed by a declamation by Frank McEvoy and a vocal solo by Miss Maggie Darby, both of which were well received and enthusiastically applauded. Father Early was then introduced by the chairman and made one of his characteristic, able and eloquent addresses, graphically depicting the many evils of intemperance and scenes in a drunkard's home. The speaker bitterly lashed the liquor dealer, the beer seller and the tippler. The address was lengthy, but was listened to by a large audience with the closest attention and was frequently interrupted by applause. At the close of Father Early's address several of the clergymen made short remarks. The opera house was tastefully decorated with flags and appropriate pictures and presented a [illegible]

[illegible] person has been elected to the grand sachem's office. In party politics on the side of the Democracy, Kelly has been active for forty years, and for thirteen years has been the controlling spirit in all the various deals, bargains and splits that have been charged to Tammany Hall. If there was one thing more noted in Kelly than anything else and for which he became chiefly remarkable, it was the way in which he attached men to himself and made them the agents of his will. I know personally of an instance where a Tammany district leader, having, perhaps, two hundred voters under his absolute command was offered during an exciting election a very lucrative position, not of a political nature and fitted to his ability. He refused to to make the deal, saying that even if he had not a coat to his back, he would not desert John Kelly. Kelly was honest and if in the many political contests in which he engaged he gave his word for the support of a candidate the evidence of the vote showed how thoroughly he kept his promise and how absolutely his power extended over Tammany.

⁂

Kelly was born on the East side, received his education in the Catholic schools, learned the trade of a grate setter and on reaching his majority became interested in politics. Isaac Fowler was in those days one of the great political magnates, and under his protection he learned the art or being a politician. Kelly held the offices of Congressman, Sheriff for two terms and Controller of the city. During his term as Sheriff he reaped a profitable harvest of fees and retired from the office worth a round half a million. His last act of distation was refusing a nomination to the Tammany Aldermen who voted for the Broadway franchise. The sagacity of this act was shown by the fact that those renominated by other factions were generally defeated. To control, for more than a decade, the political fortunes of 65,000 voters, without receiving a smirch on his character is an honor rarely achieved.

⁂

The recent visit of the President and his Cabinet to this city on Decoration Day struck me as being an occasion on which they paraded themselves as patterns of Jeffersonian simplicity. The President himself wore a not particularly well fitting suit of clothes and his hat looked as if the owner had been on a "time" with the boys. Then there was Secretary Lamar who is so thoroughly simple, Jeffersonian, I mean, that he won't ride in a carriage. He had an experience with a New York policeman. He arrived later than the rest of the Presidential party, and after elbowing his way through the crowd, attempted to get on the reviewing stand where his party was. He was prevented by a blue coat. Mr. Lamar drew himself up to his tallest height, shook his long hair and informed the officer that he was Mr. Lamar. The officer observed that he might be Mr. Smith for all he cared. Then Mr. Lamar said he was Secretary of the Interior, and the officer with some misgivings finally let him pass. Mr. Lamar observed that he thought he was known everywhere. Well, it is chargeable to his simplicity. After all on economic grounds it's a good thing.

⁂

The Theatres are doing a fair buisness. The public this weather is not critical. Most any thing that is funny will draw a fairly paying house, and as a matter of fact the plays now on the boards won't stand a very deep criticism. There is a wonderful deal of trash worked off, and a good many new actors and actresses are making their first attempts before a New York audience. There is on the stage a 3d representative of the generation of the famous Booth family. Junius Brutus Booth delighted our grand-fathers; his son, Edwin our fathers and us; while his nephew J. B., will no doubt delight our children. Here are three generations who have all more than the ordinary proportion of historic ability than usually falls to the lot of a family.

⁂

Speaking of these matters remids me that Dixey's success in London after having a wonderfully profitable run of 600 nights here is not parttically flattering, while Daly with his company, is winning high encomiums and, what to him, perhaps, is better golden ducats, in the same city. I was told and the authority was a good one, that the "Mikado" had paid the box office nearly $300,000 during its run this winter. It is not strange, therefore, that Gilbert and Sullivan's productions should be so sought after. "Pinafore," "Pirates of Penzance," "Iolanthe," "Patience," all had long runs, and there was a time when "Patience" was being played by no less than ten companies. Theatrical business is like mining—where one succeeds, many fail.

⁂

Whenever a Mayoralty election is a prospective thing the cry of municipal reform is heard in the land; and a few gentlemen, assisted by a few more broken-down politicians, meet together. Then they organize a mass-meeting and this meeting appoints a committee of 100. I have never known it to fail that all this is done in the interests of some politician, and the thing has happened so often that the people seem to look with distrust on these movements. Well, they are at it again and the mass-meeting was held last week and now the Committee of 100 is supposed to be at work. So far as office in this city is concerned there is only one that is worth anything. The Mayor has the appointment of every executive officer in the city. The departments of Education, Police, Finance, Docks, Charity, and Health are under his appointing power. The scandalous use the Aldermen have made of their power has caused it to be so restricted that they can now vote only to permit the erection of signs and such things. Now this reform movement [illegible]

THE LONG VACATION

Is near at hand, when boys, released from the confines of a school rooms will turn their attention to the more congenial talk of wearing out their clothes. The rough and tumbleness of the average boy's career, incident to the relaxation vacation days, is a source of regret to many prudent mothers, but they forget that they were—we were about to say boys themselves once—but we males know how it is ourselves. Don't blame the boys, buy good clothes, and pray that rugged nature and crooked fence nails spare them.

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

LOOK! LOOK!

Don't fail to Visit Stowell's Great 25 Cent and

BARGAIN STORE!

—IN THE—

Middle Store of the Opera House Block.

This is the only large store of the kind in the country and will remain but a few days only. Do not miss it. The following are a few of the Bargains Offered.

1 Fine Fancy Painted Chamber Pail -	25cts.	worth	75cts.
1 Large Galvanized Pail - -	25 "	"	65 "
1 21 quart Tin Pail, heavy tin, -	25 "	"	75 "
1 12 quart Extra Heavy Dairy Pail -	25 "	"	60 "
1 Large Frying Pan - - - -	25 "	"	65 "
1 " Dripping Pan - -	25 "	"	60 "
5 Tin Basins, (different sizes)	25 "	"	65 "
1 Fine Copper Bottomed Tea or Coffee Pot	25 "	"	65 "
1 14 quart pressed Dish Pan -	25 "	"	60 "
1 Dover Egg Beater - -	25 "	"	55 "
1 4 quart Dinner Pail - - -	25 "	"	60 "
1 Heavy Pressed Tin Kettle - - -	25 "	"	70 "
1 Fine Tea Kettle - -	25 "	"	65 "
1 Large Wood Bowl - - - -	25 "	"	60 "
1 Fine Tea Tray - - - - -	25 "	"	60 "
1 Crumb Tray and Brush - -	25 "	"	60 "
6 Fine Goblets - - - -	25 "	"	60 "
1 Large Colored Glass Pitcher -	25 "	"	60 "
3 Pair Good Hose - - -	25 "	"	18cts. pair

And thousands of equally as good bargains, consisting of a complete line of

Tinware, Glassware, Woodware, Fancy Goods,
TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY,
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.

R. A. STOWELL & CO.,
Proprietors.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectric Physician,

will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, June 26, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All Female Diseases made a specialty.

Consultation Free. 2tf

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

MILTON S. PRICE'S

Great Special Offering.

I SHALL OPEN THIS DAY

Best Bargains this Season

Seventy five pieces ARLINGTON FANCY DRESS GOODS, only 20c. and 25c. per yard. Recently sold at 40c. and 50c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces GILBERT'S CELEBRATED SUITINGS, in Mixtures, Silk Wool Fancy Checks and Diagonal Fancies, only 50c. a yard; worth $1.

Ten pieces Extra Quality CASHMERE ROYAL BLACK SILKS, only $1.00 per yard; elsewhere $1.50.

Twenty Pieces BLACK SATIN RHADAMES, only 75c., 89c., $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50 per yard. All Real Bargains.

Five Cases INDIA CRINKLES, only 6c., worth 12½c.

Ten Cases STANDARD PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

Five Cases SEERSUCKER GINGHAMS, only 6¼c. per yard, worth 10c.

Ten Cases BEST SPRING STYLES PRINTS, only 5c. per yard.

One hundred and Fifty Pieces NAINSOOK CHECKS, only 4c. and 6¼c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces Spring Tide SATIN PLAIDS AND CHECKS, only 12½c. per yard.

SPECIAL PRICES ON

Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.

NEW ASSORTMENTS

Rich Chantilly and Spanish Guipure Laces Flounces, &c.

Purchasers will find it to their interest to examine these rare bargains at

MILTON S. PRICE'S.

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

For the Next 30 Days

D. C. MORE & CO.

—Will offer unusual Inducements—

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

to buyers of Ready Made Clothing, for either Men's Youths' Boys' or Children's wear. We have the largest and

MOST DESIRABLE STOCK IN FU TON

and it is to reduce our unusual large stock that we propose to make the prices so low that everyone needing Clothing will buy. We do not make this announcement for the sole and only purpose of deceiving customers but will confirm our statements with our goods and prices.

Remember this you will only find these Bargains with

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable Dealers in Clothing, Hats, Caps, Furnishings
[illegible] Opposite Lewis House.

[illegible] will be avoided. Grafts [illegible] inserted this spring, and are [illegible] to grow, should be treated as [illegible] young trees and brought [illegible] shape by judicious pruning. [illegible] one graft takes the lead of [illegible] others, stop it by pinching. In [illegible] treat a graft as if it were a young tree planted in the soil, instead of being planted in another tree....If shoots appear upon grape-vines where they are not wanted, remove them. If an old vine has been severely pruned, numerous buds will start upon the old wood. These are generally not wanted and should be broken off as soon as they appear....This will be a lively month with insects. The curculio attacks the plums soon after the fruit is set. Jarring the trees and catching the fallen insects upon sheets spread upon the ground is the only effective remedy....Plant-lice often appear in great numbers at the ends of the branches of cherry, pear and other fruit trees. If these can be bent down and dipped into strong soap-suds, the insects may be killed. If out of reach syringe them with kerosene emulsion. This is so generally useful as an insecticide on plants that we repeat it here: Stir kerosene with half as much milk until no oil is visible; then dilute with twelve times its bulk of water. This will kill almost all insects without injury to the plants....Watch for the current-worm, and as soon as the leaves appear ragged apply white hellebore—a tablespoonful to the pail of water—by means of a syringe. Repeat in about a week....Those who would raise fine specimens of fruit should begin to thin soon after the fruit is set....If strawberries are not already mulched, apply straw or other material to keep the fruit from being soiled. Grapevines are grown in so many different ways that only general directions can be given. A vine planted last fall, or this spring, should bear but a single shoot; if a year older, two shoots may be borne; upon an old vine each shoot usually bears three clusters. If the stem beyond the last cluster is pinched off at two or three leaves the fruit will be larger and finer and the stem stronger.—American Agriculturist for June.

Bee Notes for June.

Colonies should be strong in order to make the most of the harvest of the month. Any colony that has not a prolific queen should be supplied with one. Divide colonies that are preparing to swarm. Shade is very important at midday in summer. A very convenient method is by means of screens, or shutters, made of very light material nailed to strips which will rest upon the top of the hive and leave an open space between that and the screen. The screen should be large enough to shade the hive in the hottest part of the day. To prevent their being blown off, place a stone upon each, sufficiently heavy to hold it in place.

Where robbing is suspected close the entrance so that the occupants of the hive can guard it. Two triangular pieces of inch boards, placed at the entrance to the hive allow the entrance to be contracted or widened by moving them nearer or father apart.

This is the month of the harvest from white clover, through it may extend into next month. The Alsike clover is growing in favor with beekeepers as a rival to white clover, and, as it is valuable for hay, farmers should be encouraged to sow it. The fruit trees and shrubs yield a large amount of honey, especially the rasberry and blackberry, both cultivated and wild forms, and the nectar afforded by these is highly esteemed. Where teasels are cultivated they yield an abundant supply to the bees, and the wild tesel, very common along the roadsides in some localities, is useful in this respect. A watch should always be kept for the destructive bee moth, or rather its larva. Wherever, in working among the bees, a web is seen, follow it up and remove the "worm" and kill it. This is the season when stock may be increased by division or artificial swarming. Every beekeeper should have one of the standard works on apiculture, in which he will find artificial swarming fully described. It would require too much space in the paper to give the method here.—[American Agriculturist.

Marrying Too Young.

Nine-tenths of the unhappy marriages are the result of green human calves being allowed to run at large in society pastures without any yokes on them. They marry and have children long before they do mustaches. They are fathers of twins before they are proprietors of two pairs of pants, and the little girls they marry are old women before they are twenty years of age. Occasionally one of these gosling marriages turns out right, but it is a clear case of luck. If there was a law against young galoots sparking and marrying before they have cut all their teeth, we suppose the little cusses would evade it in some way. But there ought to be a sentiment against it. It is time enough for these bantams to think of finding a pullet when they have raised money enough to buy a bundle of laths to build a hen-house. But they see a girl who looks cunning, and they are afraid they are not going to be girls enough to go round, and then they begin to spark real spry, and before they are aware of the sanctity of the marriage relation they are hitched for life, and before they own a cook stove or a bedstead they have to get up in the night and go for a doctor, so frightened that they run themselves out of breath, [illegible] abuse the doctor because he does [illegible] too. And when the doctor gets [illegible] is not enough linen in the [illegible] the "baby."

[illegible]

[illegible] of a fair gal. "What was the circumstance?" "Wal, seven or eight of us were tramping together through the oil regions of Pennsylvania, and one day one of the gang stole a can out of a shed in the woods. It contained nitro-glycerine, but none of us knew the article then. He carried it for about an hour, when we all bunked down in the shade for a noonday nap. Some of us were half asleep, and we were all packed together under one tree, when the man picked up a stone and began hammering at the can. I was looking at him out of one eye, and I was wondering whether the can held oil or lard, when all at once the vaults of heaven fell to earth with a crash. Half an hour later, when I came to, I was lying in the bushes two hundred feet from the tree, and my foot, ankle and leg were a mass of pulp." There was a hole in the ground into which you could have dumped a cottage, and the big tree was a heap of kindling wood. out of the eight of us, five could not be found, and I suffered the least injury of any of the wounded. All that was gathered together to represent five men were some bits of clothing and leather—not over two quarts. That was a corker on me. Whenever I see a stray can lying around I lift my hat, take a circle to the right or left, and pensively observe, 'Not any to-day, thank you—I've been there!' "—[Detroit Free Press.

Pearls of Thought.

A good laugh is sunshine in a house.

You get the truth habitually from equals only.

Knowledge and timber should not be much used till they are seasoned.

The appellation of gentleman should never be affixed to a man's circumstances, but to his behavior in them.

It is foolish to become discouraged. The best of us all have much to fear, and the worst of us all have much to hope for.

Men who most pride themselves on their knowledge of the world generally know only its crooked alleys and dirty lanes.

Talk about those subjects you have had long in your mind, and listen to what others say about subjects you have studied but recently.

When our pride, our avarice, our interests, our desire to domineer, are worked upon, are not forever pestoring heaven to decide in their favor?

Submission is the only reasoning between a creature and its maker, and contentment in his will is the best remedy we can apply to our misfortunes.

Evasions are the common shelter of the hard-hearted, the false, and the impatient, when called upon to assist; the really great alone plan instantaneous help, even when their looks or words presage difficulties.

Busy.

Young husband (to photographer)—"Will you set a time for taking baby's picture, as soon as possible, please?"

Photographer—"H m. How old is the baby?"

Y. H.—"Six months."

P.—"First baby?"

Y. H.—Yes; and he's a daisy."

P.—H'm. I suppose he is. Mother'll be along, of course?"

Y. H.—"Yes."

P.—"Father, too?"

Y. H.—"Oh, yes."

P.—H'm. Nurse?"

Y. H.—"Yes."

P.—"Grandmother?"

Y. H.—"Two of 'em."

P.—"H'm. Let me see. This is the first of April. How would the 12th or 13th of next December suit you?"

Y. H.—"December! I can't wait that long."

P.—"I'm sorry; but my time is all taken up to the middle of December. Good morning."

Y. H.—"Morn'n'l".—[Puck.

New at the Business.

A justice of the peace in Missaukee county, Michigan, delivered the following charge to the jury in the trial of his first case: "Gentlemen of the jury, charging a jury is new business to me, as this is my first case. You have heard all the evidence as well as myself, and you have also heard what the counsel for the plaintiff has told you. If you believe it your verdict will be for the plaintiff; but if, on the other hand, you believe what the counsel for the defendant has told you your verdict will be for the defendant. But if you are like me and don't believe what either of them have said, then I'll be d——d if I know what you will do. Constable, take charge of the jury."

She Meant Business.

A Chicago woman entered the office of a loan agency the other day, and said:—

"I want to raise $1,500 on $3,000 worth of furniture. What is your lowest rate of interest?"

"On such loans we generally ask ten per cent."

"Very well. Send your examiner up to the house. It is a speculation with me."

"Going into business, ma'am?"

"Yes, sir. I'm going to take my three daughters to the seashore, and either marry 'em off or drown 'em.—[Wall Street News.

Three Effects.—The thousands of remarkable cures which have been accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla are due simply to three effects which this great medicine has upon those who take it:

First: It purifies the blood.

Second: It strengthens the system.

Third: It gives healthy action to the digestive organs.

With these three effects no disease can long retain its hold. It is forced to leave the system, giving place to health and strength, through the potent influence of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. Try it.

[illegible]

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

THE PRETTIEST LADY in Olean was asked what made her complexion so clear and beautiful She said it was by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine Sold by H. C. Giesler.

ONE OF THE MOST NOTED European physicians said: Neuralgia was the prayer of a diseased nerve for healthy blood. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for the blood. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. L. LOOMIS, of Elba, N. Y., writes us that she was sick for six months, was induced to try Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and four bottles cured her. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. H. B. EMELL, of Pavillion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffers from Female weakness and Debility, will find Gilmore's Aromatic a positive cure. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC is a great success, therefore we challenge the world to produce its equal as a restorative for woman. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK REQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavillion, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with Malaria, Bowel Difficulty and sleepless nights, which I found was wearing me out. After taking Aromatic Wine two days I realized great relief, sleeping well and otherwise feeling like a new man. I cheerfully recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by H. C. GIESLER.

REV. I. M. DERBY, of Linden, N. Y., says: "The Gilmore Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife." For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Miss Constance Edgar, the step-daughter of Col. Jerome Bonaparte, who recently entered a convent at Baltimore, s also great-grand-daughter of Daniel Webster.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from Catarrh and Liver Complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing Sulphur Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

Reports received in nine counties in Dakota, show an increase in acerage of wheat and corn from 20 to 45 per cent. Fax is not so much in favor as last year.

For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, consumption, night-sweats and all lingering coughs, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. Superior to cod liver oil. By druggists.

Expensive houses are difficult to dispose of in New York city this year.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

Mary Anderson is said to be negotiating for a stock ranch in Nebraska.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Ex-President Arthur's weight has decreased from 250 pounds to 130.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

The country is spending a cool $1,000,000 this year on base ball.

THREE REASONS

Why every one needs, and should take, Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:—

1st: Because the system is now in its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength.

2d: Because the blood is sluggish and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies.

3d: Because, from the above facts, Hood's Sarsaparilla will do a great amount of good now than at any other time. Take it now.

The net earnings of the Pacific mail steamship company for the year ending April 30 were $1,800,000.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of Consumption, Chronic Coughs and Emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specifics is largely increased. It is also very palatable. 5wd

It is said that the Congressional Record cost over $125,000 last year, while the the sales from it amounted to only $1,604.27.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child [illegible]

[illegible]

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

---

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York.

Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

[illegible]

[illegible] "Going down hill?"

"No."

"Wind changed and helping us along?"

"I guess not."

"Engineer drunk?"

"No more than is customary. I'll tell you, though, we've sighted a man walking about a mile ahead on the track, and I am going to catch him and make him get on and pay his fare if I have to run the wheels all off and have the cars dragging on the rails. The rules forbid any man trying to beat the company this way."—[Esteline (D. T.) Bell.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and eaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

The artisan well at Middletown, started in June of last year for the Anglo-Swiss Condensery Company, is now completed. It is the deepest well in the state of New York, and is 2,010 feet deep.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guarantanced. 27eow

Late accounts say that vast torrents of lava were issuing from eleven craters of Mount Etna. One stream in some places 200 meters broad is flowing toward the town of Nicolosi.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

While sinking an artisan well on the premises of ex-Governor Evans, in the heart of Denver, Col., last week, oil was struck at the depth of eleven hundred feet.

A BURGLAR CAPTURED.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of Rhematism.—Exchange.

De Lesseps owns up that his financial hole in Panama may require more than the second $120,000,000 to fill it.

MOST EXCELLENT.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes; "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store. Large size, $1.00.

The Japanese believe in bathing. Public baths are so numerous at Tokio that there is one for every 300 inhabitants.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

"100 Doses One Dollar" is truly only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.

Natives in the river Tarra district, East Africa, have murdered Missionary Houghton and his wife near Lamoo.

New England has $40,000,000 invested in fisheries.

"What we learn with pleasure we never forget."—Alfred Mercier. The following is a case in point. "I paid out hundreds of dollars without receiving any benefit," says Mrs. Emily Rhoads, of McBrides, Mich. "I had female complaints, especially 'dragging-down,' for over six years. Dr. R. V. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription' did me more good than any other medicine I ever took. I advise every sick lady to take it." And so do [illegible]. It never disappoints its patrons. Druggists sell it.

At the present there are 1,111 convicts at Auburn.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Oinіment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

In all cities of Iowa having more than 5,000 inhabitants, voters will hereafter be obliged to register.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

[illegible]

[illegible] that depends. Ordinarily it means that his saloon is doing a big business."—[New York News.

An Iowa lawyer is named Figures. His parents having frequently read that "Figures can't lie," insisted that their son should become a member of the legal profession, which offers no provocation in that direction.—[Norristown Herald.

The editor of the Los Angeles Porcupine has been fined $700 for contempt of court. So much for "the quills upon the fretful porcupine."—[Albany Argus.

A large bed of alum has been found in Arizona. This discovery will doubtless lead to another baking-powder war.—[Newman Independent.

Proprietor—"Do you think your association would object to my having pie at lunch?" Office Boy—"I will have a consultation with our walking delegate and let you know."—[Puck.

They were at the wedding breakfast, when the groom said to the little girl: "You have a new brother now, you know." "Yeth," responded the little one. "Ma seth it wath Lottie's lasth chance, so she'd better take it." The rest of the little one's talk was drowned in a clatter of knives and forks.—[N. Y. Herald.

The evil men do lives after them. Read some of the stories by Hugh Conway in the papers with patent bowels.—[Germantown Independent.

The fact that in China and Japan girls are named after some beautiful natural object, doesn't justify a woman in calling her husband "Old Socks.—[Germantown Independent.

Flower item—The early crocusses are much sought after by city people for decorations. The early crow cusses are much sought after by country people with a gun.—[Palmer Journal.

The labor question is a game of ball. Men go out on strikes and wait for judgment.—Electric Light. In some cases it would be better to make a home run.—[Gorham Mountaineer.

The only men in St. Paul who can't run a newspaper better than any one actually in the business are those residing in the cemetery."—[St. Paul Herald Journal.

"Are you going to strike?" asked the boss boiler-maker, as he met his men coming out of the yard with their coats on. "No," replied the leader, "we are going to stop striking until wages are raised."—[Texas Siftings.

"A petrified woman has been found in New Hampshire." At least, the papers say so, though we guess it is a sort of misprint. Probably it was the husband who was petrified when she handed him the bill for her Easter bonnet.—[Fall River advance.

A man jumped off a railway train and sprang into a hack. "What hotel do you wish to go to?" asked the driver. "I am an Irishman and have just arrived in this country, an—" "Ah, I see, you want me to take you to the poll."—[Arkansaw Traveler.

"One swallow does not make a spring," remarked Dobbins, sententiously. No. sir, but too many of them will make a man sprung," was the reply.—[Toledo American.

The Arkansaw River was named by Noah. He landed near that stream after the flood, and went out of the Ark and saw the river flowing past him. Hence the name.—[Goodall's Sun.

How Mary Anderson Should Kiss.

Mary should learn to kiss, and kiss according to Hoyle. Kiss so that after the deal she would leave a royal flush on the cheek of the kissee. If Mary would pay a little more attention to kissing she could cultivate an article that would cause the foot-lights to pale with envy, and make the stage carpenter pound his ear on his tool-chest with admiration. She is built right to kiss with stunning effect. Her lips are full and red; her neck is swan-like; she could approach a man from the rear, lean over his shoulder, look down through his eyes into his boots, glue her lips to his, draw in her breath, compress her lips for an instant, and then suddenly part them—biff! bang! and witnesses would shut their eyes and yell for somebody to turn the hose on them.—[Deadwood Nugget.

Stage Love-Making Not Natural.

When you hear a young lady remark, as the stage lover goes down upon his knees, seizes the actress' hands and imprints an impassioned kiss upon her eight-button kids, "How naturally he does that!" you may set it down for a fact that that young lady isn't so familiar with such scenes as she would have people believe. We have it on the best authority that lovers think too much of their pantaloons to genuflect upon a dusty carpet, and that they are not given to bestowing kisses upon kid gloves to an alarming extent.—[Boston Transcript.

The Course of Time.

It was a breach of promise case.

It was shown in evidence that he had left a bit of paper in a book he loaned her to read, on which he had written, "I will marry you."

"What have you to say?" asked the Judge.

"I admit that I wrote it," said the defendant, "but will the Judge please consider the title of the book?"

The Judge read, "Pollock's Course of Time."

"Exactly, Judge," said the defendant, "I meant to say, 'I will marry you in the course of time.' I intend to do it, too, but, Judge, I ain't quite ready."

The Judge adjourned the case to give him more time.—[Texas Siftings.

Hop Plasters allay pain, soothe, strengthen and vitalize the parts and quickly too. Look for signature of Hop Plaster Co., on the back of genuine Hop Plasters. Refuse all imitations.

The erection of a memorial monument at Stony Point, costing $25,000, is talked of.

The cholera is increasing in Venice.

[illegible]

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

CLOTHING

The "T. C. & CO." clothing FITS Nicely, has a CUSTOM FINISH and is MADE TO WEAR. It is FAMOUS for being the BEST and CHEAPEST, and is made in ALL GRADES, ALL SIZES, ALL SHAPES and for ALL AGES.

These Goods may be known by the above trade mark on the tickets. Don't buy any more clothing until you have seen some of the T, C. & Co. brand.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK, Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.

37tf

THE SPORTING LIFE,

The Leading Sporting Paper in the Country.

—DEVOTED TO—

Base Ball, Cricket, The Turf, Foot Ball, The Kennel, Rod and Gun, Billiards, The Trigger, Polo, Athletic, Aquatic, Roller Skating, The Wheel and the Stage.

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

One year, $2.25; six months, $1.25; three months, 65cts.

SEND FOR SAMPLE COPY.

SPORTING LIFE PUBLISHING COMPANY,

No. 202 South Ninth Street,

Box 948, Phila., Pa.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD ☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 961 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EUREKA FOLDING CANOPY TOP.

Different sizes. Can be attached to nearly all wagons, buggies, phaetons and carts. Easily removed. Folds like an umbrella. If you can not get it of your wagon maker or dealer, send for illustrated circular and price list. Agents Wanted everywhere. Mention paper

D. G. BEERS & CO.,

Patentees & Manf'rs, Newtown, Ct.

[illegible] PRINTING ROLLERS

324 and 326 Pearl St., New York.

☞ SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.

HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES!

Over 2,000 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free. A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Phila.

SALESMEN WANTED

to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock! Steady employment guaranteed. SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID. Apply at once stating age. (Refer to this paper.)

Chase Brothers,

1m9 ROCHESTER, N. Y.

[illegible]

[illegible]

Fulton—At the office of [illegible] July and October.

[illegible] the third Friday in April and July, [illegible] the fourth Friday in October.

Central Square—At the [illegible] Hotel, Central Square, on April 20th and September 28th.

Parish—At A. K. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 20th, July 20th and Sept. 20th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 15th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Chesbro, Thomas W. In pursuance of an order of Hon. Francis David, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas W. Chesbro, late of the Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, the Citizens' National Bank, Village of Fulton, Oswego County, New York, on or before the 15th day of June, 1886, next.

Dated, Fulton, Oswego County, New York, the 27th day of November, 1885.

FANNIE B. HULL, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 18th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

SUPREME COURT—Oswego County. Norman H. Haviland, plaintiff, vs. William H. H. Hutchings, Levi F. Hutchings and Flora May Hutchings defendants. In pursuance of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action and entered in the Oswego county clerk's office April 27th, 1886, I the undersigned to whom it was by said judgment referred to make such sale, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the law office of H. E. Nichols, in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m.. the lands and premises directed by said judgment to be sold and which are therein described as follows: "All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, and State of New York, being a part of lot 75 of the 15th Township of Scriba's Patent and bounded as follows, viz.: Beginning in the centre of the highway at the south-east corner of land owned and occupied by Martin Parker; thence southerly along the centre of said highway eleven rods; thence westerly in a line parallel with said Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods; thence northerly in a line parallel with said highway eleven rods to Parker's south line; thence along Parker's south line 29 1-11 rods to the place of beginning, containing two (2) acres of land.

Dated April 28, 1886.

A. N. BEADLE, Sheriff of Oswego County, N. Y.

H. E. NICHOLS,
Pl'ff's Att'y., Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Alice Hethington, Fulton, N. Y., widow; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charlotte Grace Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, heirs at law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. E. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, S. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stowe, R. S. Galt, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other creditors and all persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said decedent, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failue to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis (L. S.) David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phœnix, in said county, the 8th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT.

an elegant, efficacious pleasant aperient in the form of a powder, producing when dissolved in water an Exhilerating, Effervescing Draught, recommended by our best Physicians as a reliable and agreeable remedy. It cures Constipation, cures Dyspepsia, cures Piles, cures Heartburn, cures Sick-Headache, cures Sick Headache, cures Liver Complaint, cures Sick Stomach, and gently urges all the Excretory organs to a proper action. It should be found in every household and be carried by every traveler. Sold by Druggists Everywhere

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen Exclusive territory Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., Stewart Building, N. Y.

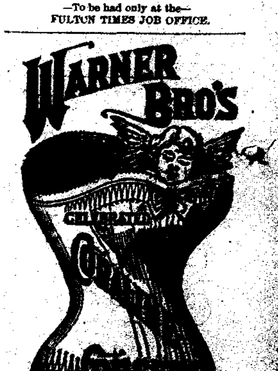
JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compac

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.



[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

[illegible] PER YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Feature, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 6

[illegible] a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible]
Would win me a lasting renown.

Let no one disturb me. Leave me alone!
Give me a chance. It is all I ask.
Let me try my hand—no master's I own—
At this impossible task.

Impossible! Yes, forgive Angelo,
To paint the picture I wished you to see.
Impossible quite for art to show
This picture that lives with me.

And yet, 'tis only a half grown girl;
Half or whole, I do not know;
A face hung o'er with a hair all a-curl,
And eyes as black as a crow.

Black, did I say? Then I made a mistake,
For I've seen them as gray as the breast of a dove.
Green with scorn, and red with hate—
And azure and gold with love:

The brow of some calm, reflective Greek,
And a nose not Roman nor acquiline.
An oval face and olive cheek,
Flushed thro' with blood, like wine.

A chin like some famous old Van Dyke,
Tapering soft to a point, just so;
And a mouth—now what is this young mouth like?
Don't guess what! You don't know.
[Rose Elizabeth Cleveland.

Lord Lovell's Mistake.

Lord Lovell he stood at his own front door,
Seeking the hole for the key;
His hat was wrecked and his trousers bore
A rent across either knee;
When down came the beauteous Lady Jane
In fair white draperee.

"Oh, where have you been, Lord Lovell?" she said,
"Oh, where have you been?" said she;
"I have not closed an eye in bed,
And the clock has just struck three.
Who has been standing you on your head
In the ash barrel, perdee?"

"I am not drunk, Lady Shane," he said;
"And so late it cannot be;
The clock struck one as I enter-ed;
I heard it two times or three;
It must be the salmon on which I fed
Has been too many for me."—

"Go tell your tale, Lord Lovell," she said,
"To the maritime cavalree,
To your grandmamma of the hoary head,
To any one but me.
The door is not used to be open-ed
With a cigarette for a key."

A Graduating Lyric.

Soon the blushing, blooming girls
With their frizzes, bangs and curls,
In their graduating dresses made of tulle, tulle, tulle.
And Johnnies, Jims and Jessies,
Will come out and lisp your essays
And forever bid farewell to work of school, school, school.
They'll drop their verbs and history,
Their science and its mystery,
And, "finished," out to battle with the world they'll go, go, go.
For their ignorance diminished
They call "education finished,"
And, they tumble when they think of all they know, know, know.
—[Ex.

A STARTLING EPISODE.

LATE one evening a group of young men had the smoking-room of the Blenhiem club to themselves. They sat in a circle round the blazing fire, chatting, laughing, chaffing one another, and bandying jests. At length, during a momentary pause, one of the party, who was lounging in an easy chair with his legs dangling over one of the arms, and his hat tilted over his eyes, idly took up a newspaper which was at hand, and read out from the agony column the following advertisement:

"JACK.—Meet me at the Marble Arch to-morrow, Tuesday, at 9 o'clock, p. m. It is the last favor I shall ever ask. Come if you love me.—MAGGIE."

There was a sneer on the face of the reader, and the announcement caused laughter among his audience. One of the young men turned to another, and said, jokingly:

"Jack, you base deceiver! It's your little milliner friend. You've behaved shockingly, and it's your duty to go."

"Bosh!" returned Jack Canister, sipping tranquilly at his tumbler. She has consoled herself long ago. Besides, Maggie isn't her name."

"I should like to know whether this advertisement is genuine or not," said one of the youngest of the party, possessing himself of the newspaper. "It would be rather fun to investigate it. I'll go if any one else will."

"What's the good?" growled Jack Canister, contemptuously.

The youngster who had suggested the expedition was a newly elected member of the club, who, even in his novitiate, had contrived to establish a reputation for flirtation, of which he was immensely proud. He was universally liked on account of his amiable disposition and his boyish frankness, and though he fondly imagined that he had attained the dignity of a man of the world, he was really regarded as an honest, foolish young fellow, who would soon sober down into a dignified member of society.

When the next evening arrived, and young Thurston, who was still determined to carry out his investigation, found that none of his friends were disposed to fulfil their promise of accompanying him, he started off to the trysting-place alone in a hansom, and arrived there exactly at the appointed hour.

It had been a thoroughly wet day, and the rain had ceased so recently that the pavements were still shining, therefore there were few people about. Thurston lit a cigarette, mentally deciding not to waste more than five minutes and then began to look leisurely [illegible]

[illegible] he became conscious of [illegible] woman standing close [illegible] watching him [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible]

[illegible] she inquired, abruptly.

[illegible]

"Maggie?" he murmured interrogatively, instinctively guessing that he was addressing some other person.

"Maggie can not come," said the young woman shortly. "I am her sister Helen. Follow me."

Thurston, completely taken aback by this peremptory request, and hardly realizing what had happened, followed his companion without a word. He was naturally disconcerted by this turn of events. He had never designed to personate "Jack;" his response to the girl's question had come almost involuntarily to his lips. But having once done so, he resolved to wait and see what would happen, impelled by an adventurous spirit and the desire of having a good story to relate at the club.

The girl silently led the way along the Edgware road. She walked quickly, with her head bent; but the brilliantly lighted shops revealed that she was deadly pale. After walking several minutes without a word, Thurston began to feel embarrassed, and he attempted to utter some phrase of boyish gallantry. At the first word, however, the girl stopped him.

"Don't speak to me," she said, in a voice trembling with suppressed emotion.

Young Thurston was so disconcerted that he had serious thoughts of disappearing down a side street. One thing only was quite clear to him, and that was that the adventure he had embarked upon was very different from anything he had vaguely anticipated. The girl's appearance and manner precluded all suspicion of lightness of character. Her demeanor, indeed, impressed him with a feeling of solemnity. He could not for the life of him bring himself to explain that he was not the person he had pretended. Youthful awkwardness and a sense of shame kept him silent.

At length his guide turned aside into a mean narrow street, and stopped before one of the poorest houses. Thurston, unfamiliar with the habitations of the poor, forgot his embarrasment in uncomfortable wonder and distrust.

At the top of the highest flight—the highest story, in fact—the girl laid her hand upon the handle of a doorway, and then paused. She lifted the candle which she carried, and gazed scrutinizingly at Thurston.

"Summon up your courage," she said, sternly, yet with a mocking note in her voice. "Do not be afraid."

The girl conducted him into a small, miserably furnished room, with a sloping roof. One end of it was partitioned off with a curtain. Thurston, staring about him curiously, had barely time to notice these details before his companion, advancing to the curtain, drew it aside.

"Look here!" she said.

Thurston started, and then, with an involuntary exclamation, took a step backward; for there, upon a narrow bed, lay what he first imagined to be a waxen figure. It was the dead body of a young girl. A child almost, with delicate features and masses of golden hair, which streamed upon the pillow and over her shoulders. The poor creature's remains had evidently been arranged with a view to picturesque effect. The thin, waxen hands were folded upon her breast, which bore a cross of flowers. The tableau—a trifle morbid and theatrical, perhaps—was nevertheless strikingly beautiful and touching.

Poor young Thurston was appalled and horrified. He was but a lad and had never yet seen a dead person. The sublime serenity of death-sleep was never more impressively manifest than in the motionless face of this dead girl. He gazed with a sort of terrified fascination, and the spectacle, combined with the painful shock of surprise, made him turn white and faint.

"That is why Maggie could not come," she said at length slowly. "She is dead, as you see. It was by her wish that I brought you here. She would not tell me your name and address, but made me advertise as she directed."

Thurston opened his lips to speak, but could not find words to confess his thoughtless frivolity at such a moment.

"She told me to tell you," continued the girl, "that she loved you and forgave you. Your letters are here, next her heart; she wished them to be buried with her."

The girl lovingly laid her hand upon her dead sister's breast as she spoke; then in an altered tone, and with a startling change of attitude and manner, she drew a letter from her pocket.

"Except this," she added sternly, "this I was to give back to you. It is your last letter. She did not believe you meant what you said in it."

"That is all," said the girl, evidently controlling herself by a great effort. "Unless you would like to—to kiss——."

"No, no," interrupted Thurston, in a whisper.

"I don't think the worse of you for that," said the girl, dropping the curtain with an air of relief; "of all lips, yours are the most unworthy to touch her angel face. But she bade me ask you."

She turned aside as she spoke, and Thurston edged towards the door.

"I promised I would not reproach you," said the girl, not attempting to hinder him. "But it was a cruel, heartless crime. We were alone, she and I—my baby sister. Times were bad and I had to leave her for a while—a little while. I thought she was safe, but you came by—you, a fine, rich gentleman. You plucked my poor flower and then flung it aside. God forgive you!"

Thurston, who was at heart an honest young fellow, was easily moved to genuine emotion. Innocent as he was of [illegible] he was nevertheless [illegible] enough to [illegible]

[illegible]

Thurston bowed his head and left the room. He reached the street in a painfully agitated and bewildered state of mind, and walked blindly back towards clubland. But he did not return to his club to tell the story. He turned aside into Hyde park, and walked aimlessly and absently across the open space, baring his head to the fresh night breezes. It is needless to speculate what depths of the young man's soul had been stirred by this tragic episode. It takes very little sometimes—a falling leaf, a chance word—to suggest serious and wholesome reflections.

Thurston's cogitations, what ever their nature, kept him abroad till far into the night, and when he returned to his chambers he suddenly remembered the letter the poor girl had handed to him. He drew the letter from the envelope, and a single glance at the handwriting sufficed to reveal to him what he wished to know. The handwriting was unmistakably that of Mangrave Vernon, and the man of all others whose career and reputation he had most envied.

This discovery jarred unpleasantly upon young Thurston's feelings. Most people would have been less surprised than he at such a revelation. Mr. Mangrave Vernon was a man of fashion, a man of pleasure—a social butterfly, in fact, agreeable, witty, polished and eagerly sought after by women and youngsters. But there was a seamy side to his character, which shrewd persons suspected, and knowing ones had long ago found out. He had treated Thurston with consideration, for the fellow was rich and well connected; and therefore the lad, admiring his dazzling qualities, had secretly worshiped him and made him his idol.

Even in his present rather severe mood Thurston was disposed to make every excuse for his friend's conduct. There had been a misunderstanding, no doubt; he could, probably give a different complexion to the affair. At all events, Thurston resolved to give him the opportunity, if only in the hope of being able to retain his regard for him. Accordingly, the young man sealed up the envelope, and the next day he took Mangrave Vernon aside at the club and handed it to him.

"What's this!" exclaimed Mr. Vernon, putting up his eye glass. "A letter?"

"You had better look at it," said Thurston said, gravely.

"By Jove! My last letter to little Maggie, written months go," exclaimed the other, reddening slightly.

"How did you get hold of it?"

"Tell me, Vernon; is the poor girl's story true?" said Thurston.

"I never contradict a lady—especially if she be pretty; and little Maggie was devilish pretty," said Vernon, lightly, but looking rather uncomfortable nevertheless. "I don't know what her story is. She is not going to be troublesome, I hope,—Especially just now, If, as I gather, you are interested in the young lady——"

"She is dead," interrupted young Thurston sharply.

"Dead, is she? Well, that's lu——I mean poor girl, Sad, of course, very sad," said Mr. Vernon, endeavoring to look concerned, but manifestly relieved. "That being so, I don't mind confessing that any little unpleasantness with a lady just as I am seriously courting a hundred-thousand pound heiress.

"Is that all you have to say?" ejaculated young Thurston, beginning to breathe quickly.

"Yes, except to advise you, my dear boy, as a friend, not to allow yourself be mixed up in affairs of this sort," said Mr. Vernon, in his most genial tones.

"Vernon, I believe you are a villian!" cried the young man, losing his self-control and looking decidedly dangerous.

"For heaven's sake don't make a fool of yourself!" exclaimed Mr. Vernon, hastily rising from his lounging attitude. "What the——".

For some unspoken reason, Mr. Vernon did not finish his sentence. The two were alone in one of the small card-rooms, and there was no one to interfere in case of a disturbance. This reflection probably occurred to the elder man, and young Thurston's attitude was certainly aggresive. Mr. Vernon rather prided himself upon his discretion, and he manifested it on this occasion by slinking out of the room without seeking to prolong the interview.

Young Thurston, quite unnecessarily, as it turned out, sent a note to Mr. Vernon, stating where he was to be found the next day, and adding that on the day after he proposed to leave England, possilbly for a long period. Meanwhile, on the morrow, he was the spectator of of a sad little funeral in a dreary London cemetery. There was only one mourner—a poor young girl, who appeared too much overwhelmed with grief to notice him. Young Thurston lingered, in a rather shamefaced, embarassed way, among the tombstones at a little distance, until the mourner, at the conclusion of the short service, looked up at him. Then he came forward, and cast a wreath of white flowers into the grave.

"I believe my angel was right, and that you really loved her," murmured the poor mourner as she passed him. "Thank God for that at least! Perhaps now, in time, I shall learn to forgive you, as she wished."—[London Truth.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B. Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 30tf

Mrs. Mary Brennan, of Chicago, celebrated her 117th birthday on April 8th, and on the same day her oldest boy was 81.

[illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Pink is a fashionable color.

The beautiful topaz stone is again in favor.

Tulle veils are preferred by very young brides.

Round ball buttons are more in favor than flat ones.

The "milkmaid" dress is employed for tennis costumes.

The going away gown of the bride is of pin-head checks or hair stripes.

Terra-cotta grounds with designs of contrasting color are in high favor this season.

Little girls will wear Turkey red frocks, edged with white embroidery guimpes of plaited nainsook.

A novelty in the way of a parasol has tips that curve outward and upward when the parasol is spread.

Epaulettes will be worn on day and evening dresses, and are formed by placing the trimming on the top of the sleeves.

Satin, soft repped silk and lace are the materials used for wedding gowns; the trains are made exceedingly long and full.

Embroidered hand-made linen is an Irish novelty. It is made in white or cream color, and the designs are worked in polished flax thread.

Summer dresses have one long flounce of all-over embroidery over a narrow embroidered one and half round bodices with yoke and sleeves of the "all-over."

Narrow striped challie de laines are made up to have the width of the stuff form the kilt, so that the stripes run horizontally, not vertically; but this style is not arbitrary.

A novelty appears in mitts in the old-time netted embroidered styles. They are fine and delicate, and importers say that already the first invoices are nearly exhausted.

Draperies of lace are now arranged without cutting the fabric. This will be good news to those possessing lace shawls that were two precious to cut up, but at the same time they were unavalaible for wear.

Bread Without Yeast.

It is a well known fact that bread made with yeast, if eaten before it becomes stale, ferments again in the stomach, producing indigestion and numerous other complaints. Bread raised with Royal Baking Powder instead of yeast, is entirely without this effect; but on the contrary, is one of the most effectual preventives of indigestion or dyspepsia. By the use of the Royal Baking Powder the saccharine properties of the flour, which are destroyed by fermentation with yeast, are preserved and the bread is made more nutritious, Ten per cent more bread is baked—because of this saving—from the same quantity of flour.

The Royal Baking Powder will also make sweet, white bread from an inferior quality of flour; a property possessed by no other leavening agent, Thus, much flour that is dark in color, or from other cause is considered below the finer grades, and therefore much cheaper, can be utilized and turned into a perfectly sweet and wholesome bread. Nor can bitter bread ever result from the use of two much, or more than the repuired quantity, of Royal Baking Powder; as, whether used in small or large quantities, its proportions are in such exact equivalents that they always neutralize each other. Bread made in this way does not require mixing over night, but may be prepared ready for the oven in a few minutes; an advantage that will be readily appreciated by by every housekeeper.

Joe Howard makes $27,000 a year from his newspaper correspondence: George Alfred Townsend, "Gath" $20,000.

MORE KIND WORDS.

Lockport, N. Y.

To the Trade: We the undersigned druggists of the city of Lockport, N. Y. take pleasure in stating that for six years past we have sold, and are now selling DR. PARDEE'S RHEUMATIC REMEDY. It sells readily upon its merits, is spoken of in the highest terms by those who have used it, gives good satisfaction, and is in every respect a first-class and reliable compound. We unite in recommending it to the trade as in every way worthy of confidence.

SHELDON & SWEET, J. W. ZIMMERMAN,
JOHN T. SMITH, GEORGE W. WEAVER,
W. D. BALLIETT, T. H. VAN HORN,
A. R. FERGUSON, J. W. HUNTLEY,
HARTWELL & STANDISH, R. W. CASS.

Rochester, N.Y.

GENTLEMEN:—My cousin was nearly dead with the rheumatism, with which he had suffered a long time. He suffered severe pain constantly and could not move, was doctoring with one of the best physicians in the city, but who failed to help him. I, knowing of your medicine, presuaded him to try it; he did so but did not discharge his doctor, neither did he take the medicine. I went there every day and he was no better; I thought it very strange. Finally they told me they dared not give it, though I finally presuaded them to try it and not let him lie there and die. The third day after, I called to see him, and he was the first one to open the door for me; though he seemed more like a ghost than a living man. In four days more he was out, and apparently as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of your [illegible] and I [illegible] to all [illegible]

[illegible]

WHAT SCIENCE SAYS.

The "Fearful and Wonderful" Mechanism of the Human System Graphically Portrayed.

[In the editorial columns of the New York Analyst, H. Lassing, M. D., editor, writes the following beautiful description of the laboratories of the human system. We think we have never read a finer or more trustworthy one.]

"Man is the greatest of all chemical laboratories. Magnify the smallest cell of the body and what a factory is spread before the eyes, countless chambers in which are globes of air, masses of solid matter, globules of dying liquid; a flash comes and the whole is consumed and needful heat is carried into every part of the system. Electrical forces also generate and are conveyed to the brain, the muscles and the various nerve centers.

In another set of million chambers we see various gases and vapors, By chemical action these are changed and purified in the lungs and the skin. The blood we often say is a great living river. In its current are masses which the air in the lungs did not affect; blocks of chalk; slabs of tartar; pieces of bone-ash; strings of albumen; drops of molasses and lines of alcohol. How are these waste masses disposed of? Begin where you will in this great stream you must come to the purifying places of the system. Here is all activity and an invisible force reaches out into the stream, seizes and carries this mass of waste into vast trenches, then into a smaller reservoir, which regularly discharges its contents.

This separation of lime, uric acid and other waste material from the blood without robbing it of a particle of the life fluid, passes human comprehension. In health this blood-purifying process is carried on without our knowledge. The organs in which it is done are faithful servants whose work is silent as long as health remains.

"People strangely wait until pain strikes a nerve before they will realize that they have any trouble. They do not know that pain concerns chiefly the exterior, not the interior of the body. A certain set of nerves connect these blood-purifying organs with the brain. They may not gnaw and bite as does the tooth-ache or a scratch, but they regularly, silently report. When these organs are failing these nerves indicate it by drawing the blood from the face and cheek, leaving the lip and eye blanched, by sending uric acid poison into the smallest veins, the skin then becoming gray, yellow or brown. They also prevent the purification of the blood in the lungs and cause pulmonary difficulties, weariness and pain. Who enjoys perfect health, especially in this land where we burn the candle in one mass? The athlete breaks down in the race; the editor falls at his desk; the merchant succumbs in his counting-room. These events should not have been unexpected for nature long ago hung out her "lanterns of alarm." When the "accident" finally comes, its fatal effect is seen in a hundred forms; either as congestion, chronic weakness, as wrong action, as variable appetite, as head troubles, as palpitation and irregularities of the heart, as premature decay, as dryness and harshness of the skin, causing the hair to drop out or turn gray, as apoplexy, as paralysis, as general debility, blood-poisoning, etc.

"Put no faith then in the wiseacre who says there is no danger as long as there is no pain. Put no faith in the physician, whoever he may be, who says it is a mere cold or a slight indisposition. He knows little, if any, more than you do about it. He can neither see nor examine these organs and depends entirely upon experimental tests, that you can make as well as he.

"If the output is discolored or muddy, if it contains albumen, lymph, crystals, sweet or morbid matter, is red with escaped blood, or roily with gravel, mucus and froth, something is wrong and disease and death are not far away.

"These organs which we have described thus at length, because they are really the most important ones in the human system, the ones in which a large majority of human ailments originate and are sustained, are the kidneys. They have not been much discussed in public because it is conceded that the profession has little known power over them. What is wanted for such organs is a simple medicine, which can do no harm to the most delicate, but must be of the greatest benefit to the afflicted. Such a remedy, tried and proved by many thousands all over the world is Warner's safe cure. With those in whom disease is deep seated it is the only specific. For those in whom the seeds are sown and the beginning of illness started it is an unfailing reliance. It may be recommended to the well to prevent sickness and the sick to prevent death. With its aid the great filtering engines of the system keep on in their silent work without interruption; without it they get out of gear and then disease and death open the door and cross the threshold."

Such writing ought not only to please but to carry conviction that what Editor Lassing, M. D.,—so high an authority—says is true, and that his counsel is worthy the attention and heed of all prudent, right-minded people.

The State of New York has 7,000 miles of railroad and 150,000 freight cars.

To Our Readers.

We desire to call your attention to the advertisement of The Sporting Life in our columns to-day. The Sporting Life is a weekly journal devoted to all sports that are noble and manly. It contains no objectionable reading matter or advertisements and is the leading sporting journal of the country. We advise our readers to send for a free sample copy to THE SPORTING LIFE Publishing Company, 202 South Ninth street Philadelphia, Pa. 3w4

It is said that John Kelly, the New York Tammany chief, died worth $1,500,000.

"It Knocks the Spots," and everything in the nature of eruptions, blotches, pimples, ulcers, scrofulous humors, and incipient consumption which is nothing more or less than scrofula of the lungs, completely out of the system. It stimulates and invigorates the liver, tones up the stomach, regulates the bowels, purifies the blood, and builds up all of the weak places of the body. It is a purely vegetable compound; and will do more than is claimed for it. We refer to Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery.

Non-residents own 4,007,401 acres of land in Michigan.

The reduction of the public debt for June will be $12,000,000.

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves.
Remember the spot, day and date.
The New Drug Store.
H. C. GIESLER.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
[illegible]
Furniture Repairing
[illegible]

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Feb. 1st, 1886.

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
4	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Leave Arrive	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Jay St., N. Y.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible] St., N. Y.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cornwall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Campbell Hall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Middletown	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Winterton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Bloom'gb'gh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Wurtsboro	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Summitville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....	Ellenville	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....
[illegible]	Pass & Fr't	[illegible]	[illegible]	Mountain Dale	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	Centerville	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	Hurley	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	L'v'gst'n Man'r	[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	Rockland	[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]
....	12	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	....	14	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	a m	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]	p m	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	p m	Delhi	....	[illegible]	1040	a m
1 20	7 40	5 15	Oswego Exp.	Franklin	2 15	3 30	1205	Pass & Fr't
1136	7 55	5 28		Sidney Centre	1205	2 15	1157
1 45	8 05	5 40		Sidney (Depart	1 45	2 45	1140
....	....	7 30		New Berlin	....	....	7 00
....	9 30	5 55		Guilford Centr	....	1 50	1128
2 00	9 40	5 59		Guilford	1 20	1 40	1119
2 24	1005	6 12		Oxford	1 03	1 15	1104
2 45	1030	6 30	31	Norwich	1240	1245	1045	50
....	47 a m	....	a m		....	32 p m	a m	p m
2 30	2 15	6 33	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 30	1040	6 20
1202	2 23	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 08	1026	6 00
1214	2 55	6 58	7 57	Smyrna	1208	6 58	1018	5 40
2 28	3 06	7 08	8 06	Earlville	1200	6 46	1011	5 15
2 32	3 30	7 13	8 15	Randallsville	1150	6 38	1003	4 45
1245	3 50	7 25	8 27	Eaton	1140	6 29	9 55	4 20
*350	4 03	7 30	8 32	Morrisville	1133	6 22	9 46	4 03
3 46	4 30	7 43	8 45	Munnsville	1117	6 06	9 33	3 10
3 41	4 55	*755	8 57	Community	1109	5 50	*921	2 20
4 21	5 06	8 00	9 08	Oneida Castle	1057	5 45	9 14	2 03
4 29	5 10	8 05	9 15	Oneida	1055	5 40	9 12	2 00
1433	p m	*810	*920	Durhamville	....	*513	*853	1248
*450	....	*827	9 38	North Bay	1027	4 54	8 35	1210
*505	....	8 42	9 53	Cleveland	1018	4 37	8 21	1140
*512	....	*847	1000	B'rnhard's Bay	1007	4 31	*814	1111
5 22	....	8 55	1007	Constantia	1000	4 24	8 07	1100
5 42	....	9 12	1024	Central Square	9 43	4 08	7 49	1024
1549	....	9 18	1031	Caughdenoy	9 35	*400	7 41	9 50
5 37	....	9 28	1038	Pennellville	9 28	3 54	7 34	9 40
6 18	....	9 47	1058	Fulton	9 10	3 35	7 15	8 50
6 50	....	1010	1125	Oswego	8 45	3 10	6 50	7 30
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.
Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.
Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.
Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.
Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.
ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,
awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.
The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.
Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.
FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

FITS STOPPED FREE
[illegible]

DYSPEPSIA—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By John H. McAlvin, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.
HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLE!
[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 48 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Brister's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. S. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

ROCHESTER
VITRIFIED
Sewer Pipe!
The Undersigned have the agency for this Tile and can furnish any size from Three inches to Twenty-five, with Elbow Tear and Connection of any size.
We keep it in stock at our coal yard,
Opposite the gas works, where you can call and examine for yourself.
All orders promptly filled.
White, Cavanaugh & Crahan.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM FITTING.
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:
Stove $4.50 Grate [illegible]
Nut [illegible] Egg [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Rates of advertising made known on application.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

TO-MOORROW Mr. Morrison proposes to put to vote his tariff bill. Everything goes to show that there is not the ghost of a chance for the passage of the bill.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND announces through the Associated Press that he will receive persons who desire to pay their respects on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

MRS. CLEVELAND gave her first reception as the wife of the President at the White House last eaening. The reception was the largest ever given at the Executive Mansion, there being no less than 2,000 guests present.

THE New York World with its characteristic energy comes forward and charges that the Bureau of Weights and Measures in that city, allows the stealing of $30,000 a year, and that the commissioners of acccounts and Mayor Grace are responsible for not stopping it.

NELS HANSEN another Chicago policeman, wounded in the Haymarket riot died Monday, a final attempt to save his life was made by transferring blood from the veins of the patient's brother-in-law, but the patient's vitality had reached too low a point, and he died soon after the operation.

GALVESTON, Texas, which is situated on an island in the Gulf of Mexico was visited by an exceedingly heavy storm last Monday night. The water srurrounded the city on all sides with alarming rapidity and the wind reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour. Serious damage was done before the wind shifted and the water lowered.

LUDWIG, the demented king of Bavaria, who was recently deposed from the Bavarvian throne, committed suicide last Monday afternoon by throwing himself into a lake at Schlossburg. His physician, Dr. Gudden, in his endeavors to rescue his patient, was also drowned. The brother of Ludwig, Otto, who has assumed the title of king is also demented. Prince Luitpold, his uncle, will remain regent and will administer the affairs of government.

A SENSATIONAL shooting affray occurred in a horse car in Kansas City last Monday evening in which a prominent attorney, W. A. Carlile, attempted to take the life of an editor, Dr. Munford. Five shots were fired, two of which struck Munford, one a lady passenger and another a gentleman, none of whom were dangerously injured. The trouble originated in the publication of charges against Carlisle's professional and moral character. Carlile is under arrest.

NORTH'S PHILADELPHIA Musical Journal for June is not only an unusually bright and readable paper, full of general musical news, but it presents matter of vital interests to both musician and amateur. With this number is begun the department of "Musical Philadeldelphia." It is the intention to make this department very full; and inasmuch as this is the only strictly musical journal in that city, it takes special interest in all local matters. In the next number they propose to give an amusing and interesting article on outdoor music, called "Musical Summer Rambles around Philadelphia." The sheet music, of which there are sixeetn pages in each in each number, this month consists of Geibel's charming new piano piece "Joys of the Dance," "The Concert Company or a Manager in Despair," an an amusing vocal sketch, and four pages from Meyer's "Recreations for Piano or Organ." Subscription, one dollar per annum, in advance; single copies, ten cents. Published by F. A. North & Co., 1308 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

COUNTY NEWS.

The village of Pulaski has voted to have water works.

The closing exercises of the Mexico Academy are to be held to-morrow evening.

J. S. Robbins & Co's. dry goods store and Mason's grocery of Lacona were ran sacked by burglars last Sunday night.

James Duffy and his sister, who had fallen heir to an estate in Illinois valued at $350,000, is said to be a well known character in Pulaski.

Miss Matilda Cooper, who has been connected with the Oswego state normal school since its establishment, will resign at the end of the term.

John B. Baker, who shot himself at San Francisco May 26, was a native of Phœnix, and a son of Selah Baker of that place.

A new industry has sprung up in Sandy Creek, Oswego county, that of shipping turtles for soup. Last week a large box full were shipped to [illegible], N. Y.

[illegible] will spend $150 in celebrating the Fourth of July. A grand [illegible] by Camden and [illegible] to be a part of the [illegible]

[illegible] the winter and return North in the spring. The "rainy" season generally begins about the middle of May and continues for about three months. There will be one or two bright, sharp thunder showers each day just as regular as the day comes, this makes it necessary for a man to carry an umbrella all the time. Vegetable gardens are started in December and January, and if there is an abundance of rain and no frost, gardeners do well. Irish potatoes netted the shippers $10 to $18 per barrel this spring. Old potatoes have to be shipped from the North and bring from $2 to $2.50 per bushel. Those raised here will not keep through the winter.

The ice business has become one of the permanent features of the State. Every place of a few hundred inhabitants has a factory; it is frozen in cakes weighing one hundred pounds each. These are packed in saw dust in "gummy" sacks and are ready for shipment. They charge 60 cents per hundred at the factory.

There being but few cows in the State, condensed milk is used for all purposes; ice cream being made from it, equal to any made from un-condensed milk. It is a commou remark to hear the lady of the house say to one of the domestics, "make a couple of pitchers of milk for coffee."

Many people employ negro men for cooks, not caring to have wenches around, I do not know why they object to them, but they do, all the same. The negro problem is one that it is difficult to solve. Take them at as a race they have no more regard for morality than the beasts of the field. There are, of course, exceptions to this rule. A friend of mine, living at this place, told me of an old negro preacher in Georgia who married four wenches, all members of his flock, and when some of the better portion took him to task about it, he said he would resign his position as pastor, if his people wished. They took a vote and he was unanimously elected to stay, his three rejected wives voting to keep him. When a negro commits a crime against a white man he is punished, but if they have a dozen wives or more no notice is taken of it.

The white people of the South have absolute control of all branches of the government, from State down to road master, and it is right that they should have it. Soon after the war, the South was governed by a lot of "Carpet Baggers" and "Niggers," the majority of whom did not own an atom of real estate except what they had under their finger nails; heavy debts were saddled upon the States, which the rightful owners of the soil had to wrestle with. If the Northern people could see these things as I can see them, after living here for 15 months they would not blame the South for being "solid" The Southern Democrats are equal to the Northern Republicans in all that goes to make straight-forward, upright citizens, while the native Republicans Southrare either black or a class of white people with whom no man who has respect for himself would associate. You go into a church on a Sunday, you will see an audience of earnest, zealous christians; friendly, social, and all that could be desired, every one of them are Democrats, you reman in the community a few weeks and enjoy their hospitality and you will go away wondering how you could ever entertain any but the most friendly feelings toward them.

Decoration day was observed in a number of cases throughout the State, the "Blue" and the "Gray" taking part jointly in the ceremonies. S. E. C.

STATE NEWS.

Superintendent James Shanahan on Wednesday issued orders increasing the pay of all locktenders on the Erie canal $5 per month.

Aunt Cyntha, the wealthiest land owner of the Onondaga tribe, died at the reservation, aged 87 years. She was buried with pagan ceremonies.

The body of Edward O'Gorman, a middle aged man, was found dead in the canal at Schenectady Saturday with his throat cut from ear to ear. He disappeared Tuesday. The case is mysterious.

John Schuyler, who has been tried and convicted in Otsego county for the murder of his child, having dashed her brains out on a chopping block, was sentenced to be hanged at Cooperstown, Friday. The execution was fixed by Judge Martin for July 27.

Mary A. Morris, who bought a Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine on the installment plan and was deprived of it when it was nearly paid for, sued the company for $5,000 damages for assault. On last Wednesday a jury in the Brooklyn city court gave her a verdict for $200.

In consequence of the recent "tie-up" the directors of the Brooklyn street railway company promulgated a notice to their employes renouncing any obligations to the men as an organization incurred in a former settlement of difficulties. The company hereafter will not recognize the Knights of Labor, and any future tie-up is to be a notice of the absolute discharge of those participating in it.

It is now learned that three men were concerned in the murder of flagman Dykeman, near Rhinebeck, Dutchess county. They have headquarters in the Bowery, New York city. One of them struck Dykeman on the head with the butt end of a revolver, and robbed him of $18 in money and a silver watch. Another of the three pawned the watch in Brooklyn. It is thought that the arrest of all three will soon be consummated. Thomas Sherlock, one of the three has been arrested.

Ex-Judge A. B. Tappan presided at the Tammany Kelly memorial meeting [illegible]

[illegible] remain to be sent. Mrs. Cleveland will have a week's occupation looking over the presents, which embrace everything imaginable, from costly jewelry and silverware to baskets of fruit, and bunches of flowers. These latter, it is to be feared, will not be so fully appreciated by the recipient as they would have been a week ago.

It is rumored that Miss Rose Cleveland will pass the summer in a continental trip through Europe. She will also remain at the White House to assist the new mistress in her social duties, and will at once resume her literary work at Holland Patent. She will spend some time on a visit to Folsomdale. Arrangements are also being made for her marriage with Congressman Ben Le Fevre, of Ohio, and she will spend the summer on the shore of Lake Superior. Her further movements will be noted with interest.

Though late in the season, the Presidential nuptials have awakened an interest and life in social circles here. The bride is winning golden opinions from all, and seems to have no nervous apprehension over the ordeal of her life at the Executive Mansion.

The President has received a number of callers since his return, but Mrs. Cleveland has not been at home to visitors. On next Tuesday evening, however, a state reception will be given at the White House, which the cabinet, the diplomatic corps, the chief justice and associate justices of the Supreme Court, Congress, the officers of the army and navy, the heads of certain bureaus and the ladies of their famlies will be invited. Mr. Cleveland also intends to give the public an opportunity to meet and greet his wife. A formal reception, to which the public is invited without cards, is announced for the following Friday night.

The report that Ex-Senator Davis is an aspirant for the portfolio which Mr. Manning has resigned, was denied by Senator Kenna, of West Virginia, the other day. Said he: "Mr. Davis is a good man for the position, but I do not think he would accept it even if it were offered to him, which is not likely to happen. The President is sincere in thinking that after a few months' recreation and rest Mr. Manning will be sufficiently restored to health to resume his duties, and until it is fully demonstrated that he is not, Mr. Cleveland will not trouble himself to search for a successor. The report originated, of course, in the fact of the recent social relations existing between the President and Senator Davis at Deer Park. But when the latter urged Mr. Cleveland to spend his moneymoon there, he promised him that he would not be troubled with political aspirants there and he kept his word."

Oleomargarine has held the floor of the Senate during the week. The contest has been between the committee on Agriculture and the committee on Finance as to the question of jurisdiction. Messrs. Van Wyck, Miller of New York, and Blair earnestly contended that the bill should go to the committee on Agriculture. Messrs. Aldrich, McPherson, Beck, Vest, and Butler insisted that it should go to the committee on Finance as a revenue bill. Senator Beck says the bill will raise $10,000,000 of revenue. The bill was finally referred to the Agricultural committee by a majority of one.

The employes of the bureau of engraving and and printing are worrying over the report that Chief Graves is pseparing a list of some 250 names of persons to be discharged on the first of July. The cause assigned for this wholesale dismissal is because there is no work. Since last March the employes of the numbering division, and separating rooms, and other divisions of the bureau have been working on half time, because of the failure on the part of Congress to pass the bill authorizing the printing of one and two dollar silver certificates. Mr. Graves was sorry for the employes, and inaugurated the furlough instead of a discharge in the hope that Congress would do something. But nothing has been done, and the end of the fiscal year will find the bureau without work and without funds unless the President urges the passage of the silver bill.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., June 9, 1886.

Present, a full board, except Trustee Kendrick. Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

A. Rice, Esq., representing the "Thompson Houston Electric Co." came before the Board and asked the privilege of erecting poles and wires in in the streets of the village for the purpose of making an exhibition of electric light.

On motion the privilege was granted to extend 30 days.

Trustee Kendrick came in.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the same were audited at the amounts claimed:

George F. Sharp, Street Commissioner,		$166.59
Paul Roderick, freight on hose,		2.92
Frank Dilts, girders for bridge,	$192.37	332.37
" " drinking fountains,	140.00
" " washer per J. N. Clarke		.80
Gage, Sheridan & Co., cement pipe, ordered by Street Commissioner Clarke,		16.25

The Clerk reported that five proposals for lamp lighting had been received, which upon being opened were found to be as follows:

Thos. McDonald,	oil,	$4.90;	gas,	3.85
Geo. McCann,	"	4.74;	"	3.74
Peter Connelly,	"	5.00;	"	4.00
Sylvanus Perry,	"	4.66;	"	3.66
John Cavanaugh,	"	6.00;	"	4.50

On motion of Mr. Pardee the Chief Engineer was authorized to correspond with parties in Oswego having in charge the sale of hose carts, and if the two carts approved by the committee can be bought for $30 to purchase them.

On motion of Trustee Pardee, the President and Trustee [illegible] were appointed a committee to call on J. N. Clarke, late Street Commissioner, and demand all moneys due the village from him.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday, June 23rd at 7½ o'clock p. m.

M. C. [illegible], Clerk.

Out of a coinage of $[illegible] silver dollars only [illegible] are in circulation.

[illegible] the Atlantic Yacht Club [illegible] in New York Bay. [illegible]

[illegible] an intimate friend of Bayard Taylor and himself a poet of rare gifts, contributes an original poem to the June volume of Through the Year with the Poets, entitled, "The Tulip-tree in Blossom."

Margaret Sidney contributes to the July Wide awake a richly illustrated Ballad of "The Shot heard round the World," entitled "The Minute Man," in connection with which a photogravure of French's statue of the Minute Man at Concord is given free to all subscribers and purchasers of that number.

D. Lothrop & Co. have in preparation for early publication an illustrated volume by Mrs. Mary Bradford Crowninshield, the wife of Commander Crowninshield, entitled "Among the Lighthouses," detailing the experience of an Inspector with two lively boys among the lighthouses on the Maine coast.

The July Wide Awake is enriched with a group of delightful Independence Day articles. Mrs. Demeritt contributes, under the title of "The First Blow for American Liberty," an attack upon Fort William and Mary, with a view to the capture of ammunition, resulting in the supply of powder soon after used at Bunker Hill; E. S. Brooks, in his story "When George the Third was King," shows that originally we had no less than four "Independence Days" instead of one; and Margaret Sidney's ballad of "The Minute Man" paints a picture of still another of the "beginnings" of American Liberty.

Two members of the Harvard class of the present year are represented in the June number of Through the Year with the Poets by original contributions: Mr. Charles Miner Thompson and Mr. Alanson Bigelow Houghton. The latter, who is deeply interested in the social and reformatory problems of the day, expects to sail for Europe in July in order to devote himself more closely to the examination of his chosen subjects, and the fofmer will probably remain in Baston and engage in literary and journalistic work.

GENERAL NEWS.

Five thousand tickets to the parliamentary fund festival, to be held in Boston, July 19, have been sold.

Harvard is still the largest college in the country; Oberlin comes second, and Columbia has fallen to third place; Michigan is fourth, and Yale fifth.

There are 671 artists' models in Paris, of whom about one-half are Italian, 120 French, 80 German, 60 Swiss, 50 Spanish, 50 Belgian, 45 English, 30 American, and 1 Irish. Of the 671, 130 have passed their majority; all the rest are young girls between sixteen and twenty.

The steamer Alcides arrived in this country from Glasgow Friday, having on board thirteen sailors belonging to the French bark Michael Emile, which was run down and sunk at sea by the bark Canova. Seven of the crew are missing, and it is supposed they were drowned.

The volcanic eruption at Tarawera, New Zealand, destroyed entire villages in the district by swiftly burying them in ashes. The surface of the earth for many miles around the active volcano was disturbed by the earthquake which accompanied the eruption. Twenty-six dead bodies have been recovered from the ruins.

Mrs. Margaret Arnold, who was born in Augusta county, Va., July 4, 1777, is yet living in a remarkable state of preservation near New Holland, Ohio. She was married eighty-five years ago, and now lives with her youngest son, who is 72 years old and as sprightly as a young man. Mrs. Arnold has two sisters living in Iowa, one of whom is 112 and the other 106 years old, an average for the three of 109 years, and a total of 327 years.

Personal and Political.

John Kelly's will bequathes all his estate to his wife, Anna Teresa Kelly.

The President has nominated William McNieley to be postmaster at Canandaigua, N. Y.

Col. R. G. Ingersoll has been elected president of the Toledo, Cincinnati and St. Louis railway, which will hereafter be known as the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City railway.

Miss Cleveland has been paid $12,000 by her publishers.

Rubinstein, the distinguished pianist will shortly make a tour of America.

Secretary Whitney attended the graduating exercises at the naval academy at Annapolis on Friday and delivered the diplomas to the cadets.

Mrs. W. H. Vanderbilt has just bought $100,000 worth of diamonds in Paris.

Mr. Henry Irving, it is announced, will make another tour of this country during the season 1887-8.

Gen. C. S. Hamilton was stricken with apoplexy at Milwaukee, Thursday, and is in a critical condition. He was a West Point classmate of the late General Grant.

Miss Margaret Mather, the actress, has played 963 times in public during the past four years. She has never during that time missed a single engagement, been late at a performance or caused a stage wait. She is justly proud of her record.

William M. Evarts of New York, Congressman Bingham of Pennsylvania, and General Butler will be the speakers at Concord, N. H., this week when the Webster statue is unveiled.

Hon. Neil Gilmour resigns the receivership of public moneys at Bismarck, Dakota. He has become interested in a New York publishing house.

[illegible] a ride in [illegible]

You need some new clothes, don't you?

You want your money's worth, don't you?

You want to buy Dry Goods as low as you can get them, don't you?

You had better come here, hadn't you.

You should see our stock, it will pay you.

You can select Clothing or Dry Goods that will please you. Will give you bargains, we assure you.

You will find our goods will suit you.

You will find our parasols will please you.

You should read, consider and act as we advise you.

O-R

—THEN GO TO—

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM'S,

—THE—

Ladies' and Gents' Outfitters.

and compare prices. Cannot be beat and Satisfaction always guaranteed.

DRY GOODS.

Rupture

Dr. J. A. Sherman has returned from his trip to the city of Mexico and the West, and removed his office from 251 to 294 Broadway, New York. In Dr. Sherman's treatment there is no operation of any kind, no detention from labor, no danger of strangulated rupture, besides freedom from the injury trusses inflict. His Book, containing information and endorsements from Physicians, Clergymen, Merchants, Farmers and others who have been treated and cured, is mailed for 10 cents. Persons in circumstances to prevent them from availing themselves of Dr. Sherman's personal services should send for his home circular of advice and instruction. Remember, office 294 Broadway, New York, three doors above Reade street.

Base Ball.

Keefe of the New York's is pitching all around Welch this season.

Manager Ormsby will assume the management of the Oswegos to-day.

Dorgan has made but two errors in the 92 games he has played this season.

The Detroits received $4,200 for their play Decoration Day in New York—the largest sum ever received by a league club in one day. That goes far to pay for the outlay in securing the big four.

The Star batteries will be paired as follows: Crothers and Buckley, Shappert and McCloskey, Devine and Taylor. When the latter battery officiates, there will be a lefthanded pitcher and five lefthanded batsmen. Olin and Taylor are both left handed.

Taylor, of the Cornells, has signed with the Stars. He will occupy a position behind the bat. He comes upon the recommendation of Olin.

Radbourne appears to be the best of the Boston pitchers.

The schedule of international League games for the remainder of the week is: Thursday, Oswego at Hamilton, Utica at Buffalo, Syracuse at Rochester, Binghamton at Toronto. Saturday, Oswego at Hamilton, Utica at Buffalo, Syracuse at Hochester, Binghamton at Toronto.

Three of the heaviest batters in the National League are first basemen, two are pitchers, one a catcher, one a third baseman, another a short stop and the others out fielders.

Palermo.

The Clifford and East Palermo ball clubs played a game on Saturday last the Cliffords won the game by a score of 24 to 10.

W. H. Hannan has made arrangements with parties in Syracuse to have his patent thill coupling manufactured.

Albert Gardner of Buffalo is in town visiting.

Our Game Constable, Town Clerk and Highway Commissioner have been to Redfield on a fishing excursion.

Our village blacksmith has taken a life partner and has gone to keeping house.

George Phelps of Palermo and wife [illegible]

[illegible]

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, June 14.

It was an active market to-day at ⅛c. reduction from last week. Buyers claimed that they had overdone the booming business, and were obliged to retrace their steps. There was no holding back however, salesmen shipping whatever they had that was ready to go forward. We are now about in the flush of the shipment, and probably for the rest of the month the sales will be large. But it must be remembered that the Rome board is practically transferred to Utica this year, and that our quotations include the offerings of most of the factories that formerly sold at Rome. Milk is just about holding its own, but the prospects for hay grow poorer.

Transactions of the day were as follows: 70 boxes at 6¾c.; 12 lots, 1,018 boxes at 6⅝c.; 61 lots 5,475 boxes, at 6⅞c.; 23 lots, 2,819 boxes, at 7c.; 26 lots, 2,746 boxes at 6⅞c.; 200 boxes at p. t. Sales 12,428 boxes; commissions, 1,745 boxes; total, 14,173 boxes. Ruling price 6⅞c. Transactions one year ago 12,826, ruling 7⅝c. Two years ago 14,669, ruling 8⅛c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, June 14.

Cheese—The market to-day has presented no new features, for it is quite the thing to witness a decline in prices, so that the falling off of about ¼ cent caused no surprise. Salesmen came to market expecting to dispose of their goods at a lower rate, and hence the effort was to keep up as near the line as possible. Buyers were ready to take all that was offered at their prices, but the sharpest competition could not force prices above the limit they had set. The following table gives the transactions of the day:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price.
31	1,595	6¾ cents
43	3,026	6⅞ cents
30	2,360	7 cents
2	185	7¼ cents
7	521	com.
113	7,768
Farm dairy	1,039
Total	8,807

Farm dairy—The sales of farm dairy cheese amounted to 1,039 boxes. Prices ranging from 6 to 7¼c. Bulk at 7 cents.

Butter—Thirty-three packages of dairy butter sold at 14 to 16 cents and 30 of creamery at 15 cents.

AT FULTON.

Fifteen factories were represented at this market Monday night with about 1,000 boxes of cheese, which were nearly all sold at 6⅛c. to 6⅞c., Utica ruling.

David H. Converse, whose trial for the murder of his wife, was to have begun Monday, cut his throat Sunday with a razor in his cell at Lyons. There is little hope of his recovery.

Archbishop Gibbons is only 52 years old.

"AS GOOD AS NEW,"

are the words used by a lady, who was at one time given up by the most [illegible]

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—

Complete Assortment

—OF—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, &c.

—And in fact everything pertaining to a—

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.

Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND, THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL, GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK, HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN, HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN, and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves. Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F.G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¼ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block containing 12 fine buildings, lots and rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 64 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,

Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

[illegible]

COAL.

—GO TO—

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,

—For the Celebrated—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	2.50	1.88	1.06

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER [illegible] ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Thomas & Wilson, Proprietors.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express............8:[illegible] a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express...12:[illegible] a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express.......3:[illegible] p. m
Freight and Accommodation..........6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express.....8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express....8:18 a. m.
Day Express...........12:18 p. m.
Day Express...........3:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation..........6:16 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....7:18 p. m.

The 8:15 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express...........7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation..........8:45 a. m
Norwich Express...........3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express...........9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express...........6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express...........10:58 a. m.
Freight and accommodation...........5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express...........9:47 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:10	11:20	3:20	5:20
For Oswego,	9:30	12:30	3:34	5:30

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Libbie Owen is visiting friends in Buffalo.

F. A. Emerick and A. G. Gilbert are in New York city.

Charles Harrison of the Phœnix Chronicle was in town over Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Dalley of Baldwinsville, is visiting her mother Mrs. Geo. Jewett.

Father Early leaves to-morrow for Albany, where he will remain a week or two.

Rev. G. H. Van Vleit of Grafton, Dak., is in town, the guest of Mr. F. P. Connell.

Thomas Keogh of Springfield, O., formerly of this village, is in town for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dowd and daughter of New Haven, spent Sunday with M. A. Stewart.

Editor Bibbins of the Jordon Times, accompanied by his wife, spent Sunday with friends in Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead go to Skaneateles to-morrow to attend the Paddock-Weeks wedding.

Miss Zuliee Hubbard, who has been spending some time in Indianapolis, Ind., has returned to her home in Fulton.

Miss Sate McKay left Monday for Kingston, Canada, with her cousin S. H. Gardner, for a short visit.

S. H. Gardner, who has been visiting friends in town a short time, returned to his home in Kingston, Ont., Sunday.

Fred Carrington and wife, who have been spending a few days with relatives here, left yesterday for their home in Detroit.

Prof. Amos Farnham of Hannibal attended the session of the New York Pharmaceutical Society in Rochester last week.

Mrs. C. E. Fayntor of West Eaton, Madison county, has been spending a few days in town the guest of F. J. Switzer, of Oswego Falls.

Messrs. Dr. Whitaker, N. Johnson, E. M. Baker and Dr. Wells of Oswego Falls with families, left for Dempster beach yesterday morning for a week's sojourn in their pleasant cottage.

WANTED—A good reliable boy, apply at once to Morrill Bros.

Buy the Underhill Opera Slipper of Goodjon. The best made.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

Ask for the Ladies' combination shoes at Collins'. tf.

American Eagle finecut. The finest Chewing Tobacco in the world. Call at W. J. Boomer's and try it

Men's two buckle Kip Plow Shoes $1.00 per pair at Collins'. tf.

All kinds of job printing done on short notice and at reasonable rates at THE TIMES office.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

[illegible] A large arch of evergreens was formed over the pulpit, on which was the word "Welcome" in gilt letters. The large church was well filled both morning and evening, and it was indeed a children's happy day. Three hundred scholars belong to this school and there were 260 present. A collection was taken up for the Syracuse University.

At the Baptist church, the pastor, J. C. Breaker gave a sermon for the children. In the evening there were appropriate exercises by the children under the leadership of the superintendent, C. W. Streeter. There are one hundred and fifty children in this school. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens, ferns and flowers. There was singing and recitations by the children also singing by the church choir. It was a very interesting occasion.

The Congregational church of Oswego Falls and Sunday school observed children's day. Rev. Chas. Olmstead, the pastor, is also superintendent. 226 children compose the school. The church was beautified by flowers and evergreens. Ten birds singing at once made much music, but an interesting program of singing and recitations was carried out. The church was filled, some five hundred being present.

Journalistic Enterprise.

Fultonians enjoyed the unprecedented privilege last Sunday morning of reading the New York Sunday morning papers on the same day they were issued. Heretofore towns north of Syracuse have had to wait until Monday morning before they got their Sunday papers. Last Sunday arrangements were made with the R. W. & O. railroad to run a fast special from Syracuse to Oswego, leaving the former city immediately after the arrival of the special newspaper train running from New York to Buffalo. About 9:45 the people who were fortunate enough to be in the vicinity of Second street heard a mighty rumble, and saw a black streak consisting mostly of smoke, and when this had cleared away and a huge pile of papers was found on the track, it began to dawn on the open mouthed observers that the special had passed and that it was a real train instead of a streak of lightning. Some idea of the speed attained may be formed from the fact that the run from Syracuse to Oswego, 37 miles, was made in 42 minutes. The demand for the papers kept newsdealer Ney pretty busy for some time. Jim Pratt secured the first copy and a TIMES reporter the second. Mr. Ney told the reporter that heretofore he has sold 3 or 4 copies of the New York Sunday World. Last Sunday he disposed of 125 copies.

I. O. G. T. County.

The sixty-second Quarterly Session of the Oswego County Lodge I. O. G. T. was held at Phœnix, June 8th and 9th. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: C. C. T., H. A. Youmans, Caughdenoy; C. V. T., Mrs. R. B. McCully, Fulton; Secretary, Mrs. N. R. Cole, Fulton; C. F. S., Mrs. L. D. Henly, Phœnix; C. T. Miss C. L. Forsyth, Vermillion; Chap., N. W. Parsons, East Palermo; C. M., C. A. Shoemaker, Parish; C. G., Miss K. C. Harris, Oswego; Sent., H. B. Potter, Sandy Creek; C. A. S., F. J. Mack, Vermillion; C. D. M., Josephine Grant, Hastings; R. H. S., Miss F. C. Rennie, Oswego; L. H. S., Mrs. H. A. Youmans, Caughdenoy; P. C. C. T., W. J. Pasko, Oswego; C. S. J. T., J. F. Landgraff. N. R. Cole, Alternate. Twenty of the twenty-five Lodges in the county and four of the seven Juvenile Templers were represented by delegates. The public meeting on Tuesday evening was addressed by Rev. W. R. Helms, of Rodman, N. Y. The silver pitcher was awarded to Sand Bank Lodge and the Bead Regalia to Scriba. The next session will be held with the Oswego Falls Lodge, September 7 and 8.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Carrie Scott, daughter of the late Russell Pullman, formerly of this village, died at her home in Cohoes, N. Y., June 7th, aged 40 years. She leaves three children. Interment was made at Lansingburg, N. Y.

Fourth of July Temperance Celebration.

An adjourned meeting of the several temperance societies will be held at the rooms of the G. A. R. this evening at 8 p. m., to perfect arrangments for the above celebration. Committees and all interested are invited to be present.

By order of Committee.

What The People are TALKING ABOUT.

The Great Bargains they are offering at the

BOSTON BAZAAR.

Read This

HOSIERY Our Greatest Specialty. Prices Low. Sales Quick.

CORSETS Eighteen different Styles. Can suit the most particular.

GLOVES Lisle, Silk, and Kid. All Colors. All Prices.

RIBBONS The Largest Line and The Lowest Prices.

LACES The Best Assortment in the city.

PARASOLS Another new lot just received. Don't buy until you have seen them.

HANDKERCHIEFS 25 doz. all Linen, hem stitched for 10 cts. each.

[illegible]

A. E. Nettleton will offer bargains in Ladies' Misses' and Children's Kid Slippers.

Above goods are bargains got while in New York and are very Cheap.

The spire of the Presbyterian church has been repainted.

The repairs in factory No. 1, Oswego Falls are nearly completed.

Regents' examinations were held in the public schools, on Monday, Tuesday and to-day.

A reception was given to Presiding Elder Danforth of the M. E. church in Oswego, last Thursday evening.

We have been requested to state that no admisson will be charged on July 4th during the temperance celebration on the fair ground.

The next meeting of the New York Pharmaceutical Society is to be held in June, 1887, at Thousand Island Park. R. E. Phillips of this village, is local Secretary.

Schenck & Foster have placed telephones in their office at Eggleston's and at their yard which will insure for their customer's orders prompt attention.

Leonard & Wilson now receive $400 for carrying the mail between Fulton and the D. L. & W. railroad. This is double what they have received heretofore.

Nelson Frost of Dexterville brought to our office on Saturday last a sample of his new potatoes. They are of good size, of the snowflake variety and very early.

An accident to the N. Y. O. & W. train which leaves Oswego at 8:45 p. m., occurred in that city last evening, caused by an open switch delaying the train several hours. No casualty is reported.

We have received an interesting letter during the past week from S. C. Chandler, which we publish in another column. Mr. Chandler has left Florida and is now traveling through the South.

A Festival will be given by the ladies of the M. E. church next Friday evening at which Sandwiches and Coffee, Ice Cream and Strawberries will be furnished, from 6 o'clock to 10 p.m. Every body invited.

It is reported that Jesse A. Dann, the Hannibal farmer, whose wife recently eloped, died last Saturday night. He had been deranged for several days and it is thought the trouble caused his death.

The open air concert given by the Fulton band last Thursday evening attracted a large crowd and was highly spoken of. We earnestly hope that the band will continue these concerts during the season.

The special Sunday morning train over the Phœnix road carrying the New York Sunday papers is hereafter to be run as a passenger train stopping at Three River Point, Phœnix and Fulton. The fare will be two cents per mile.

At the Oswego county council of Grangers, which was held at Mexico this week, much ill feeling was expressed by the farmers regarding the treatment which their interest have received at the hands of the Legislature. The feeling was not confined to any particular party, and it was urged that a combination should be effected to obtain desired legislation.

The next meeting of the Lawrence C. L. S. C. will be held on Monday evening June 21st at the home of Mrs. M. A. Stewart on Cayuga street. The subjects for the evening will be: Parlimentary Practice; The Age we Live in; International law; and a synopsis of the the book "In His Name." As this will be the last meeting for this year, a full attendance is desired.

The excursion of the Water Witch Engine Company of Cortland to the fair grounds occurred last Saturday. The visitors reached here about ten o'clock, and headed by the Mechanic's band marched to the engine house, where the Fulton Fire Department with the Fulton band joined them in a parade through the village. In the afternoon a game of ball was played between the Normal nine of Cortland and a nine from Fulton. The visiting club was defeated by a score of 16 to 4.

Screen Door Frames.

Fifty cents will buy the material for a screen door frame, Consisting of 8 corner brackets, 3 cross pieces 2, 3 & 4 inches wide, and 2 upright pieces all ready to put together. At McCULLY'S Plaining mill.

Cabbage plants, the best variety. For sale at L. K. Wilbur's, Fay street. 6w2

A PERFECT-FITTING garment is a luxury. Fit, style and durability characterize the "T. C. & Co." Clothing. Read advertisement.

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

FOR SALE.—A fine new milch cow, Jersey grade. Enquire at this office. 5t

The "T. C. & Co." clothing is made for service as well as style. See the advertisement.

Before you put a roof on that building [illegible]

An Enjoyable Soiree.

Last Friday evening was one of unalloyed pleasure and enjoyment to the many that attended the evening party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Emerick, on Fourth street. The evening was all that could be desired, while the Chinese lanterns and other artistically arranged decorations about the grounds and buildings added greatly to the beauty and serenity of the evening. Shortly before nine o'clock the guests began to assemble in the parlors and soon after in groups and couples wended their way to the new barn, which was tastefully decked with flags, evergreens, ferns, &c., and soon those so inclined were engaged in "tripping the light fantastic toe," and enjoying the "mazy waltz" to the delightful music rendered by Schilling and Feboro of Oswego, while those not addicted to this kind of enjoyment sought cool and cozy seats under the overhanging evergreen boughs or enjoyed the exhilerating zephyrs by walking about the grounds. Time flew by and the "wee sma' hours" were reached before a majority bade their host and hostess good night and returned to their homes with many pleasant remembrances of the delightful evening that had been enjoyed.

Electric Lights.

Arvin Rice appeared before the Board of Trustees last Wednesday evening on behalf of the Thompson-Houston Electric Light Co,, of Boston, and asked the privelege of erecting poles and wires in the streets for the purpose of lighting the village by electricity as experiment. This company has put in Electric Lights in Syracuse, and their system is acknowledged to be the best. The request was granted, and the village is to be at no expense by the experiment. Whether the lights will be a peramanent institution or not, remains to be seen, but it is hoped that they will prove to be so satisfactory that the people will not feel disposed to let them go.

Marital.

Last Thursday afternoon Miss Hattie, daughter of C. S. Hammond and Mr. A. T. Tooley of this village, were married at the home of the bride on Seneca street, by Rev. W. Dempster Chase. Only a few guests, relatives and friends of the contracting parties, were present. After a short trip they returned to their future home in this place. THE TIMES extends congratulations.

Mr. H. Lester Paddock and Miss Mary L. Weeks, daughter of F. G. Weeks Esq., will be married at the residence of the bride's parents, in Skaneateles to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

New Billiard Parlor.

J. F. Ransom, who for several years kept billiard rooms on First street over Nettleton's shoe store, and for the past two years has been living in Watertown has returned to Fulton and opened rooms over Boomer's store on Oneida street. The rooms are elegantly fitted up, furnished with new tables, balls, cues, etc. The tables are furnished with patent chalk holders and lighted by new, improved lamps. Mr. Ransom carries a fine line of cigars and light drinks.

Men's Canvas Shoes of all kinds very low at Goodjon's.

HAVE WHAT THEY ADVERTISE.

The Fine Indigo Suits and Other Garments at Kent & Miller's.

For summer wear the indigo blue suits are as pretty as anything in light fabrics. They wear well and look stylish. The $6.00 suits in indigo blue and the $8.00 all wool indigo blue suits at Kent & Miller's, 18 and 20 South Salina street, are fine enough to please the most exacting. They are making a special run in these goods, for they are the best ever seen in the city for the money. In other textures and styles they offer a comprehensive variety to please the clothing buyers. Through the whole range of their extensive stock the buyer will find all the best grades of goods marked equally as low in price as the indigo blue suits. The boys department is just now replete with fine garments for summer wear. Any parent having children to clothe should not neglect to look over the mammoth stock which they are displaying. The merchant tailoring department is complete and affords an opportunity for any gentleman who desires the best to have a suit made to order in the best manner and style.

"Wigwam" sole leather moccasins at Goodjon's $1 pair.

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. GRAFF & CO.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

—GIVEN AWAY,—
for 25cts.,
the Biggest Bargains
in TINWARE
you ever saw
at the
Boston Bazaar.

Strawberries were selling to-day for 5 cents per quart.

The public schools close for the long summer vacation June 25th.

A hose company is being organized by residents in the vicinity of the park.

To day's rain caused a smile of satisfaction to overspread the face of many a farmer.

Business men call at the M. E. church Friday evening and get a good supper and please the ladies.

The Syracuse City Driving Park Association hold their summer meeting this year on June 22d, 23d and 24th.

The building of the new depot on Second street is progressing rapidly. The bricklaying commenced Monday.

Schenck & Foster are receiving daily large quantities of the celebrated Scranton coal with which they are supplying their customers.

Strawberries are very plentiful and of excellent quality. The early Spring brought the home berries into the market nearly two weeks earlier than usual.

Prof. Keenan assisted by fine musical talent will give a grand art and musical entertainment at the Congregational church, Phœnix, on next Tuesday evening.

The graduating class of the medical college of Syracuse held their exercises in Wieting opera house last Thursday afternoon. There were eleven graduates. A banquet was held at the Globe hotel after the exercises.

Last Wednesday afternoon Perry Calkins, while at work on a shed attached to his house on 2d street, fell from the scaffold breaking his arm. Dr. Lake set the broken limb, and Mr. Calkins is now doing as well as could be expected.

Arrangements are being made in the factory at Oswego Falls, to dismiss all children under 13 years of age on July 1, and thereafter, none will be employed of that age. Such a step would meet the approval of the better portion of the community.

The ice cream festival and social given last Thursday evening in Church's hall, under the auspices of the Father Matthew T. A. B. society was very largely attended, and netted the society nearly $100. A short address was made by Father Early on Temperance.

Thomas D. Lewis has purchased the coal business of White Cavanaugh & Crahan, and will keep a full stock of the celebrated Lehigh Valley coal. Uptown office at J. C. Tucker's crockery store. Coal delivered promptly to any part of the village or Oswego Falls.

A barn belongitng to V. VanBuren, about four miles down the river, was burned last Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock, together with a team of mules and several hogs. The building is supposed to have caught from a spark from a passing locomotive. The loss is about $600. No insurance.

About 150 sporting men witnessed a fight between Foss Peters of Syracuse, formerly of Fulton, and C. S. Boyle of Ithaca, last Monday evening near Syracuse. The mill was to be a ten round contest with soft gloves, points to count. Four hard rounds were fought when Sheriff O'Neil stopped the contest. The fight was decided in favor of Peters.

The fish are beginning to bite in "old time form" on the Minetto level. Messrs. Titsworth and Toliferro, two New York gentlemen, who are spending a vacation with "Joe" Robarge at the Riverside hotel, caught twenty-four bass on Saturday. They are delighted with the place and the sport and will write for New York friends to join them—[Palladium.

Mrs. C. M. Dunning of Granby, who came to this village to attend the Salvation meeting one afternoon last fall, fell over a crate of berries on the sidewalk in front of C. P. Tucker & Son's grocery and caused her some injury. She sued the firm for $1,000 damages, and recovered $50 in the County Court at Pulaski Thursday. The testimony was very conflicting, and the jury brought in damages as stated above. It is reported that an action for perjury may be instituted.

The new drinking fountain near the Boston Bazaar has been placed in position and this morning was started running. Dr. Woodbury mounted a drygoods, box after taking a large drink of the fluid and in a neat little extemporaneous speech thanked the village authorities and the water works company for this benificent institution and said that "it filled a want that we have felt for ages." In conclusion he invited the citizens to all step up and surprise their stomachs. After the applause had subsided, he procured a cup and chain and attached them to the fountain.

For professional nurse, call at this office or at Dr. Woodbury's. 6w2

Roger Slater who lives about a mile east of Fulton on the Emory road, has purchased in Syracuse a fine bull calf which is a full blood Jersey.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

HARE BROS.

An extra stock of Ladies Fine Shoes at wholesale prices just in at Goodjon's.

[illegible]

[illegible] against the [illegible] of Jaehne to the Common Council. The [illegible] that Jaehne will be made the scapegoat for the sins of his associates in crime. Great credit has been given to the District Attorney for his energy heretofore but now that the June session of the Oyer and Terminer Court has progressed a week and no move has been made toward the prosecution of the indicted Aldermen considerable discussion is being had whether the indictments will not be pigeonholed. The Lord Mayor of Duffyville as Ex-Alderman Duffy is facetiously called by his friends has been arrested again for bribery on another railroad case, that of the defunct Twenty-fourth Street line. The testimony in this case was furnished by Ex-Alderman Waite and this brought a great deal of trembling among his followers. If this term of the court should witness the trial of another Alderman there will be a great rush on the part of the others to tell all they know. It is amusing to see the looks of injured innocence on the faces of some of these men and hear their protestations of the lamblike purity of their motives. Their perfect disinterestedness is something startling. It is a question whether a philanthropist could assume a more appropriate mien than these men, but then, you know, "It is a wolf in sheep's clothing." The political organizations have either gently hinted that the resignations of the boodlemen would be acceptable or else the boodlemen have had sufficient self-respect whatever more it should be know by to resign. Up in the 21st District they had a severe party contest over just this subject. One of the prominent Republican leaders of that district was one of the boodlemen and the better element succeeded in drowning him.

⁂

Since I have referred to the courts I may now say more. The mill of Justice is grinding and the hopper is heaping-over with the grist. Before Judge Barrett are eleven murder cases awaiting adjudication besides the twenty Aldermen. In the Surrogate's Court the case of the eccentric Prof. Darling is being tried. If among THE TIMES readers there are any graduates of the University Medical College they will remember Prof. William Darling, so far as anyone knew he was a bachelor and was not given to talking about his private affairs. He had few confidants but was generally reckoned a jolly good fellow. As a preacher and lecturer he had no superior and I think many an alumnus will remember him for the unfailing supply of anecdote he possessed. Well, he died and was no sooner under the sod than the contest for his money was commenced in the Surrogate's court. It is now claimed he had a wife and a daughter, and it is this party who is contesting for the property which another claims he left her because she was his landlady and having taken care of him during his final illness was thus rewarded. These days people do not scruple to trump up anything to subserve their purpose and it is now charged that Prof. Darling was once an inmate of Sing Sing and lead generally a dessolute life. The scenes at each hearing are disgusting and almost makes one hope that there might be no heir to inherit one's estate. Somebody wisely remarked to me the other day when we were speaking of this case, that twice in a person's life his private affairs are public property, first when he was a candidate for office and second, when his will was offered for probate (I suppose all have one.)

⁂

The fact that the Governor signed the Arcade bill has made a stir in the camp of the Elevated railroad. This bill provides for an underground railroad on Broadway and other thoroughfares. There is abundant capital back of the prospect and the law only allows a 5 cent fare besides providing for the use of its tunnel by the telegraph companies and water department. So vigorously was the thing pushed and there are so many moneyed men behind it, men of acknowledged financial ability and push, that the "L" road managers have gotten frightened and reduced the fare on the "L" roads to 5 cents during all hours. Well, the stock of the "L" roads 130 now, and the dividend has been for 3 or more years 6 per cent. They can't help pay. The report shows nearly three-fourths of a hundred million passengers yearly.

⁂

In the world of society there is a lull. This period is one of expectancy, The season at Saratoga and Long Branch is not yet opened. Those who can and wish a European season have long ago departed for London. It is a pretty sure sign that the inhabitants of a Murray Hill Mansion have flown when the green curtain is hung at the window. but of this more next week.

WANDERER.

We Tell No Lies.

We buy our goods cheaper than any other dealer in Fulton, and will sell cheaper than any other dealer in Fulton. Come and see if we don't.

Salmon Shoe Store, Opra Block.

For Sale.

A valuable piece of manufactoring real estate with good business. The Loomis planing mill property. Also two houses and lots on 2d street.

R. B. McCULLY.

Keep your eyes open for bargains in Boots and Shoes at GOODJON'S.

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

[illegible]

THE LONG VACATION

Is near at hand, when boys, released from the confines of a school rooms will turn their attention to the more congenial talk of wearing out their clothes. The rough and tumbleness of the average boy's career, incident to the relaxation vacation days, is a source of regret to many prudent mothers, but they forget that they were—we were about to say boys themselves once—but we males know how it is ourselves. Don't blame the boys, buy good clothes, and pray that rugged nature and crooked fence nails spare them.

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

LOOK! LOOK!

Don't fail to Visit Stowell's Great 25 Cent and

BARGAIN STORE!

—IN THE—

Middle Store of the Opera House Block.

This is the only large store of the kind in the country and will remain but a few days only. Do not miss it. The following are a few of the Bargains Offered.

1	Fine Fancy Painted Chamber Pail	25cts.	worth	75cts.
1	Large Galvanized Pail	25 "	"	65 "
1	21 quart Tin Pail, heavy tin,	25 "	"	75 "
1	12 quart Extra Heavy Dairy Pail	25 "	"	60 "
1	Large Frying Pan	25 "	"	65 "
1	" Dripping Pan	25 "	"	60 "
5	Tin Basins, (different sizes)	25 "	"	65 "
1	Fine Copper Bottomed Tea or Coffee Pot	25 "	"	65 "
1	14 quart pressed Dish Pan	25 "	"	60 "
1	Dover Egg Beater	25 "	"	55 "
1	4 quart Dinner Pail	25 "	"	60 "
1	Heavy Pressed Tin Kettle	25 "	"	70 "
1	Fine Tea Kettle	25 "	"	65 "
1	Large Wood Bowl	25 "	"	60 "
1	Fine Tea Tray	25 "	"	60 "
1	Crumb Tray and Brush	25 "	"	60 "
6	Fine Goblets	25 "	"	60 "
1	Large Colored Glass Pitcher	25 "	"	60 "
3	Pair Good Hose	25 "	"	18cts. pair

And thousands of equally as good bargains, consisting of a complete line of

Tinware, Glassware, Woodware, Fancy Goods, TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.

R. A. STOWELL & CO.,
Proprietors.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectric Physician,

will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, June 26, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All Female Diseases made a specialty.

Consultation Free. 2tf

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Eighty crates of strawberries were shipped from New Haven on Monday. The first shipment from that village last year was thirty-three crates on June 23.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

The American Eagle fine-cut makes a delicious and lasting chew. W. J. Boomer sells it. Call and try it.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c

MILTON S. PRICE'S

Great Special Offering.

I SHALL OPEN THIS DAY

Best Bargains this Season

Seventy five pieces ARLINGTON FANCY DRESS GOODS, only 20c. and 25c. per yard. Recently sold at 40c. and 50c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces GILBERT'S CELEBRATED SUITINGS, in Mixtures, Silk Wool Fancy Checks and Diagonal Fancies, only 50c. a yard; worth $1.

Ten pieces Extra Quality CASHMERE ROYAL BLACK SILKS, only $1.00 per yard; elsewhere $1.50.

Twenty Pieces BLACK SATIN RHADAMES, only 75c., 89c., $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50 per yard. All Real Bargains.

Five Cases INDIA CRINKLES, only 6c., worth 12½c.

Ten Cases STANDARD PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

Five Cases SEERSUCKER GINGHAMS, only 6¼c. per yard, worth 10c.

Ten Cases BEST SPRING STYLES PRINTS, only 5c. per yard.

One hundred and Fifty Pieces NAINSOOK CHECKS, only 4c. and 6¼c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces Spring Tide SATIN PLAIDS AND CHECKS, only 12½c. per yard.

SPECIAL PRICES ON

Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.

NEW ASSORTMENTS

Rich Chantilly and Spanish Guipure Laces Flounces, &c.

Purchasers will find it to their interest to examine these rare bargains at

MILTON S. PRICE'S.

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

For the Next 30 Days

D. C. MORE & CO.

—Will offer unusual Inducements—

Bargains —FOR— 30 Days.

to buyers of Ready Made Clothing, for either Men's Youths' Boys' or Children's wear. We have the largest and

MOST DESIRABLE STOCK IN FULTON!

and it is to reduce our unusual large stock that we propose to make the prices so low that everyone needing Clothing will buy. We do not make this announcement for the sole and only purpose of deceiving customers but will confirm our statements with our goods and prices.

Remember this you will only find these Bargains with

D. C. MORE & CO.

[illegible] The Reliable Dealers in [illegible]

Worth Knowing.

The milk must be clean to get good butter.

Use one ounce of salt to the pound of butter.

Churn often if you would have sweet butter.

Sell as fast as made to get the most for the butter.

Wash out the buttermilk if you want good butter.

Skimming at the right time prevents rancid butter.

Stirring the cream frequently will make more butter.

Churn at 62 degrees to get the cream quickest into butter.

There is less danger of sowing too much grass seed than too little.

Clean saw-dust, with a little sulphur sprinkled in it, is as good as any material for the nests of setting hens.

In sowing timothy with wheat or other grains, the best results are obtained by having the soil dragged and rolled first.

Lard and sulphur or any other mixture of grease and sulphur, says Fanny Fields in the Prairie Farmer, should never be put on young chickens or turkeys.

Dig garden soil only when the ground is warm and dry. Do not be in a hurry or you may get behind. When a clot of earth will crush to powder when you tread on it, it is time to dig—not before.

In planting trees it should be remembered that a tree is not a post, requiring only a small, deep hole. To insure success with trees a broad hole is required, and this should be filled up with rich, friable earth.

In planting corn, peas and beans it is well to put in an extra row to be grown for seed only, if it can be done in such a way that the various kinds will not mix and hybridize.

Ventilation is absolutely necessary and essential to health. Unless a poultry house is well and properly ventilated fowls cannot be kept healthy for any length of time.

The trees can be protected from field mice by banking a tree up for a foot or so with soil and borers and rabits can be kept away by wrapping the trunks for a foot above this with tarred paper.

If you want eggs from your Brahmas don't feed them too strongly. They take on fat readily and when fat they do not lay. Plymouth Rocks and Wyandottes need liberal feeding when they are laying.

Ashes spread over the strawberries at the rate of 100 bushels per acre will increase the quantity, improve the quality and intensify the color. They may be sown broadcast at any time but the earlier the better.

The Norfolk county (Virginia.) truckmen never knew such a cabbage season. One man set out the largest area in the country. He put 1,500,000 on his four farms, and expects to market over 1,250,000 heads.

The great secret of raising large shoots of asparagus is to give the plants plenty of room. Set the roots in rows four feet apart and three feet apart in the rows; keep the land free from weeds, and manure every year on the surface. No man who has a plot of ground should be without an asparagus bed.

A correspondent of the Ohio Farmer recommends half a pint of common table salt for bloat in cattle. Put a round stick into the cow's mouth, throw the salt as for down the throat as you can, and she will swallow it. This farmer says he has cured several cases of clover-bloat in a short time in this manner.

In Canada, where fine crops of peas are grown, the seed is treated with plaster in the following way: Half a bushel of plaster is put in a washtub with a bushel of peas. Just enough water to cover the peas and plaster is added, and the mixture stirred with a stick. The peas, thus coated with plaster, are sowed before the plaster has a chance to dry. The land ought to be in good condition.

Something About Corn.

A great many tests, purposely and carefully made, go to show that the corn crop succeeds better with low planting and level cultivation than by the common practice of plowing the middles and hilling up the rows. This plant is a tropical one, and requires heat and moisture. It has an enormous root growth, which spreads through the soil near the surface where the warmth can reach it. The feeding roots are broken by the plow and the growth of the plants are checked. This fact has been fully proved by Dr. Sturtevant, the Director of the New York State experiment station, who made the great mistake of advocating what he called root pruning or cutting the roots by deep plowing in the rows when the ears are beginning to form. The mistake was generously avowed, but the damage done by it is hard to prevent, because error always travels faster than truth. The present is, however, a good time to give a caution against the deep working of corn after the roots have made their way into the middle of the rows.

Early and Large Crops.

Farmers report that crops are doing exceedingly well. Rye is far advanced and is headed out. It is believed rye will be ready to be harvested this year by the Fourth of July. The crop will be large. Oats are growing rapidly. What little wheat is sown in this section looks well. Nearly all the spring planting has been finished. Grass is growing very fast. Some fields are light, but generally the yield will be good. Many acres have been planted to potatoes. A large number of barrels of last year's crop remain unsold, and they are nearly worthless now. Reports from fruit-growing sections indicate that the yield will be [illegible]. The season is about two weeks in advance of former years.

Mrs. [illegible] Cleveland will receive [illegible] $50,000 as her share of her grand[illegible]

[illegible] of blood, [illegible]

"One of [illegible] incidents in the girlhood of Miss Frances Folsom, Pres. Cleveland's bride," said a Buffalo gentleman recently, "occurred in 1879 when she was one of two contestants in an interesting charity contest for personal beauty and popularity at an authors' carnival held in the Pearl street rink in Buffalo for the benefit of the Homeopathic hospital of that city. Miss Folsom's opponent was Miss Blanche A. Littlefield, now Mrs. William H. Gragg, and a leading society belle of the queen city of the lakes. Both were very beautiful. Miss Littlefield is a perfect blonde, while Miss Folsom is a magnificent brunette. At the time of the contest each was about seventeen years of age. Miss Folsom was daintily dressed in a highland costume, which displayed her perfect figure in the most charming manner, but she had in Miss Littlefield a foeman worthy of her steel, and for several evenings of the week's carnival the warfare, while friendly, was exceedingly spirited. the friends of both ladies fairly tiring out themselves in obtaining votes for their candidates. It cost 10 cents to vote, which was entirely too cheap, considering the rare beauty of both contestants, and the long suffering cause of charity. For three or four days the battle raged fiercely, first one side being in the lead and then the other, as good fortune or clever tactics influenced the rapidly growing totals. The friends of the two belles were finally compelled to admit that little more could be done, for nearly every man and woman in the city whose opinion was worth having had clipped in a dime for the blonde or the brunette. To make matters more interesting the totals were so alarmingly close that the slightest change one way or the other would decide the contest.

On the closing evening of the carnival, when Buffalo's beauty and fashion were all present and the excitement was at its height, the sturdy form of Grover Cleveland appeared upon the scene. He may have known the facts all along and arrived 'just in the nick of time' purposely. Be that as it may, he at once threw his influence in Miss Folsom's favor, and directly her total vote advanced to a point of safety, and she was publicly declared the most charming victor in the whole city. The prize was a costly lace pin set with diamonds, and it is safe to say that it is not one of the least prized ornaments."—[New York World.

In June.

Those who have orchard-grass and clover in some fields will be glad that they may begin the hay harvest by cutting these long before timothy and red top meadows are ready for the mowing machine. This saves a great deal of worry, and when the timothy is ripe it may be cut at once if proper calculations have been made. As to the age when timothy should be cut, as well as to bear in mind that for one's own use it can hardly be cut too green after the heads are well out, but for sale for city feeding it is preferred as old as it can be without the seed shelling off from the heads. It is used not so much for nutriment as for bulky food with oats or ground feed.

Watch for the current worm, and as soon as the leaves appear ragged apply white helebore—a table spoonful to the pail of water—by means of a syringe. Repeat in about a week.

Market chickens may be pushed to advantage by frequent feeding, besides having a free run, if possible while they are growing and before they are put up to fatten. After ducks have passed the delicate stage, and have their feathers, they may be given frequent feeds of food to give them rapid growth and size. The earlier they are sold after they become marketable the greater will be the profit.

The curculio attacks the plums soon after the fruit is set. Jarring the trees and catching the fallen insects upon sheets spread upon the ground is the only effective remedy. If one bud on a graft takes the start of all others stop it by pinching. If shoots appear upon grapevines where they are not wanted remove them.—[American Agriculturist.

How They Farm in Germany.

The following figures in relation to machinery used on German farms, taken from a recently published volume of imperial statistics are interesting at the present time: Of 5,276,344 farms, only 391,746 used machinery at all. Of these 836 used steam plows, 63,842 sowing machines, 19,630 mowing machines, and 274,057 used steam or other threshing machines. Thus, not much over 7 per cent. used machinery at all, and of these, by far the larger proportion only the threshing machine. Three-fourths of the whole agricultural industry used no machinery, 4,000,000 peasants dispensing with it altogether. The farms between 25 and 125 acres, numbering roughly 600,000, employed in round figures 213,000 threshing machines.

England's Landed Estate.

The landed property of England covers 72,000,000 acres. It is worth £10,000,000, and yields an annual rent independent of mines $330,000,000. One-fourth of this territory, exclusive of that held by the owners of less than an acre, is in the hands of 1,200 proprietors and a second fourth is owned by 6,200 others; so half of the entire country is held by 7,400 individuals. The population is 35,000,000. The peers, not 600 in number, own more than one-fifth of the kingdom; they possess 14,000 acres of land worth $2,000,000,000 with an annual rental ot $66,000,000.

Wholly unlike others in composition. The Hop Plasters contain fresh hops, gums, extracts and balsams spread on white muslin. Hop Plaster Co. signature on back of plaster. Observe it.

Benevolent Men.

Truly benevolent men must often incur the charge of close-fistedness in order that they may have the means to relieve the wants of really worthy people. Old Ben Franklin, who was the very soul of generosity, is to this day very often called close-fisted because he practiced a wise discrimination in [illegible]

[illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla will do [illegible] this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

THE PRETTIEST LADY in Olean was asked what made her complexion so clear and beautiful She said it was by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine Sold by H. C. Giesler.

ONE OF THE MOST NOTED European physicians said: Neuralgia was the prayer of a diseased nerve for healthy blood. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for the blood. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. L. LOOMIS, of Elba, N. Y., writes us that she was sick for six months, was induced to try Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and four bottles cured her. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. H. B. EMELL, of Pavillion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffers from Female weakness and Debility, will find Gilmore's Aromatic a positive cure. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC is a great success, therefore we challenge the world to produce its equal as a restorative for woman. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK REQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavillion, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with Malaria, Bowel Difficulty and sleepless nights, which I found was wearing me out. After taking Aromatic Wine two days I realized great relief, sleeping well and otherwise feeling like a new man. I cheerfully recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by H. C. GIESLER.

REV. I. M. DERBY, of Linden, N. Y., says: "The Gilmore Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife." For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Of the total number of dwellings in New York city, 10,314 contain one family, or six persons; 16,962 houses or flats contain one family on a floor, or twenty-five persons, while 18,966 tenements accommodate fifty persons, each on an average—that is, about 750,000.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

Gov. Fitzhugh Lee has accepted an invitation to be present at the reunion of Federal and Confederate cavalry officers at Gettysburg on July 7. The battle ground is to be mapped on that occasion.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

The United States have nearly three times as many doctors as England, and nearly four times as many as France in proportion to the population.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

Sam Jones is reported to be making money fast. He owns several farms in Georgia, has the finest house in town, and drives a swell turnout.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

It is said that there are 1,000,000 children in England who do not attend school by reason of the poverty of their parents.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

No fewer than 100,000 shade trees now make Washington glorious in fresh green and fragrant blossoms.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of Consumption, Chronic Coughs and Emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specifics is largely increased. It is also very palatable. 5w4

Nearly $2,000,000,000 would be due if all insured Americans were to die at once.

[illegible]

[illegible] the Back, Side, Hip, Leg, Kidneys [illegible]

[illegible] Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.

[illegible] this plaster is spread on white muslin, ready for instant use. HOP PLASTERS CO. signature on every plaster.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York.

Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

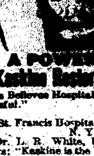
COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

[illegible] FOR SALE BY [illegible]



[illegible]

A POWERFUL TONIC.

Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y., "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleesner, has cured over 220 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Biliousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

Of the 2,936 members of the New York police force, the World says, 1,745 are natives of the United States, 974 of Ireland, 30 of England, 14 of Scotland, and 136 of Germany. Other countries contribute as follows: Austria 4, Italy 5, Canada 13, France 6, Nova Scotia 2, Sweden 2, Switzerland, Finland, Bavaria, Denmark and the West Indies 1 each.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and eaving it strong, vigorous and healthy, he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

While a gang of workmen were tearing down an an old barn at Suspension Bridge last week they found in a pail under the floor $100 in gold. The latest date on the coins was 1861. The workmen divided the find.

A BURGLAR CAPTURED.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of Rhematism.—Exchange.

There are over 100 matrimonial agencies in Paris alone. The first establishment of the kind was set up shortly after the Revolution of 1793.

MOST EXCELLENT.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes; "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store. Large size, $1.00.

The authorized strength of the London police force is 12,880, with twenty-five superintendents and 1,077 sergeants. Forty-six miles of streets and squares were handed over to police protection during the year.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from Catarrh and Liver Complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing Sulphur Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

In Japan the practice of cremation was common from the earliest times, and prevails yet to-day.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number of testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises, H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

Uncle Sam welcomes to his domain 3,200 babies a day, not counting those who come by sea.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Abraham Lincoln was the first President of the United States to wear whiskers.

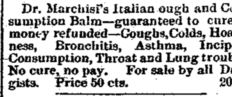
Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

The colored people of Georgia pay taxes on about ten million dollars' worth of property.

Cure for Croup.—Use Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil according to directions. It is the best remedy for all sudden attacks of colds, pain and inflammation, and for injuries.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c., &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages [illegible]

[illegible]
And looked [illegible] and wild,
And said: "I'm spoiling for a fight—
Just hold this can of dynamite."
No sooner said than all had flown—
Their guests left him quite alone.
He chuckled soft: "There's no pelf,
But now I'll dynamite myself."
—[Tid-Bits.

The sound of the lawn mower is heard in the land.
The man that behind it's got plenty of sand.
It's clicking and rattling sound far through the air.
It tackles a boulder—Great Scott, hear him swear.
—[St. Paul Herald.

Sold again—Second-hand articles.—[Burlington Free Press.

Mr. O'Toole.—"I want to insure me place at onct! Hurry, up, now for it's burnin' down moighty quick."—[The Judge.

"Those who use our goods are very much attached to them," is what a porous plaster company advertises.—[Philadelphia Herald.

The man with a No. 15 neck and a 14 collar has a hard struggle to make both ends meet.—[Detroit Free Press.

The best medisin I kno ov for the rumatism, is to thank the Lord that it ain't gout.—[Josh Billings.

Employer.—"Don't you see what's on the door?"

Pat—"A bit of paper, sur."

Employer.—"It says please shut the door."

Pat.—"Fait, I didn't hear it, sur."—[The Judge.

Home rule—wipe your feet before you come in.—[New Haven News.

We do not know why people should be surprised at ladies corsets being tight—They are always on a bust.—[Hartford Times.

A small boy, a son of a gifted clergyman, in this state was heard, one night, addressing the following petition to his maker: "Oh, God, please bless mamma and please bless papa; but the less you have to with Aunt Marie, the better. Amen."—[Ex.

Doctor—"Yes, madam, I think you are overworked," Patient—"But do look at my tongue, doctor, and tell me why it looks so badly." Doctor—"Oh, that is also the result of overwork.—[New Haven News.

"There are two things which I positively will not eat for supper," said Gubbins. "And what are they," asked his friend. "Breakfast and dinner," was the reply.—[Dansville Breeze.

"Grandpa," said Teddy, as the old gentleman woke up from a loud-sounding after-dinner nap, "If you'd give your nose a spoonful of paregoric don't you think you could put it to sleep too?"—[Burdette.

An exchange says that a folded newspaper placed under the coat in the small of the back is an excellent substitute for an overcoat. Now is the time to subscribe.—[Evansville Argus.

Johnny's List of Best Books.

Sir John Lubbock's list of "one hundred best books" has created wide comment and has induced several other persons to prepare a little list. Old Simeon Sipples asked his fourteen-year-old son Johnny to write down what he considered the best one hundred books, and the youth immediately began as follows, according to the Truth Teller of Drake's Magazine:

1. "Yellow-haired Nance: The Pet of the Slums."
2. "Double-jointed Jake: The Circus Boy."
3. "Blue-devil Dick: The Indian Exterminator."
4. Squint-eyed Bob: The Roller Rink Detective."
5. "The Mysterious Demon; or the ghost of Shantyto——"

At this point Johnny's father, who was looking over his son's shoulder, brought his rattan cane down so vehemently on a spot where it would do the most good that the titles of the youth's remaining ninety-five books were obliterated from the corridors of his memory and the list will never be finished.

The Proper Weight of Man.

Prof. Huxley asserts that the proper weight of man is 154 pounds, made up as follows: Muscle and their appurtences, 68 pounds; skeleton, 24 pounds; throacic viscera, 3½ pounds; abdominal viscera, 11 pound; blood which would drain from the body, 7 pounds;. The heart of such a man would beat 75 times a minute, he would breath 15 times a minute. In 24 hours he would vitilate 1,750 cubic feet of pure air to the extent of one per cent. A man, therefore, of weight mentioned, would have eight hundred feet of well ventilated space. He would throw off by the skin 18 ounces of water, 300 grains of solid matter, 400 grains of carbonic acid every twenty-four hours; and his total loss during that period would be six pounds of water and a little more than two pounds of other matter.

EDUCATED AND EXPERIENCED.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared by C. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass., who have a thorough knoweledge of pharmacy, and many years practical experience in the business. It is prepared with the greatest skill and care, under the direction of the men who originated it. Hence Hood's Sarsaparilla may be depended upon as a thoroughly pure, honest; and reliable medicine.

Russell Sage's fortune is now estimated at $40,000,000, yet he lives in a small village boarding house, paying $12 per week.

Stranger Than Fiction.

are the records of some of the cures of consumption effected by that most wonderful remedy—Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Thousands of grateful men and women, who have been snatched almost from the very jaws of death, can testify that consumption in its early stages, is no longer incurable. The Discovery has no equal as a pectoral and alterative, and the most obstinate affections of the throat and lungs yield to its power. All druggists.

Every man is the architect of his own character, but good architects are scarce.

Positive Cure for Piles.

[illegible]

German Remedy [illegible]

[illegible]

General Debility needs a gentle tonic, use Sulphur Bitters, and you will not be troubled.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Sulphur Bitters will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

CLOTHING

The "T. C. & CO." clothing FITS Nicely, has a CUSTOM FINISH and is MADE TO WEAR. It is FAMOUS for being the BEST and CHEAPEST, and is made in ALL GRADES, ALL SIZES, ALL SHAPES and for ALL AGES.

These Goods may be known by the above trade mark on the tickets. Don't buy any more clothing until you have seen some of the T, C. & Co. brand.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK, Fulton.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST. 37tf

THE SPORTING LIFE,

The Leading Sporting Paper in the Country.

—DEVOTED TO—

Base Ball, Cricket, The Turf, Foot Ball, The Kennel, Rod and Gun, Billiards, The Trigger, Polo, Athletic, Aquatic, Roller Skating, The Wheel and the Stage.

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

One year, $2.25; six months, $1.25; three months, 65cts.

SEND FOR SAMPLE COPY.

SPORTING LIFE PUBLISHING COMPANY,

No. 202 South Ninth Street,
Box 948. Phila., Pa.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION,

PERFECT HEALTH

Is impossible if the Digestion is impaired, the Liver inactive, or the Bowels Constipated.

Tarrant's Effervescent

Seltzer Aperient

will cure Constipation, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia. It regulates the bowels and enables those of feeble digestion to enjoy their food. It reduces Fever, Cools the Blood, is invaluable in Piles and Inflammatory Diseases, and is a justly esteemed Aperient for Children. Economical, Reliable, Elegant. It should be found in every household. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

Manufactured only by TARRANT & CO., New York.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EUREKA FOLDING CANOPY TOP.

Different sizes. Can be attached to nearly all wagons, buggies, phaetons and carts. Easily removed. Folds like an umbrella. If you can not get it of your wagon maker or dealer, send for illustrated circular and price list. Agents Wanted everywhere. Mention paper

D. G. BEERS & CO., [illegible] Newtown, Ct.

[illegible] York.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

SALESMEN [illegible]

[illegible] Oswego—At the Grand Jury [illegible] third Tuesday [illegible]

Pulaski—At A. E. & J. S. Lathrop's law office, April 20th, July 20th and [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Frank David, Surrogate of Oswego County, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 13th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 13th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Frank David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 3rd day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 13, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Frank David, Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY E. HUBBARD, Executrix.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alzina Hubbard, widow, and Frank L. Hubbard, heir at law, both of Fulton, N. Y.; and Henry C. Howe and Arvin Rice as executors, etc. of Harriet Lampman, deceased, and Lewis G. Hutchins as administrator, etc. of Polly Marvin, deceased, creditors, and to all other creditors of, and all persons interested in the real estate of William Hubbard late of the Town of Granby in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the county of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the distribution of the surplus moneys arising on the sale of mortgaged premises under a mortgage given by said William Hubbard, deceased, among the persons entitled thereto. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 31st day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L. S.

L. J. CARRIER, Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alice Hethington, [illegible]; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charles Grove Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, son-in-law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. E. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, S. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stevens, R. S. Galt, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other creditors and all persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said deceased, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 5th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

(L. S.)

L. J. CARRIER, Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

FORECLOSURE SALE.—SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY. The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment of foreclosure and sale made and entered in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county, on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee in said action duly appointed by said judgment and decree for that purpose, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 24th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises described in said judgment and decree directed to be sold, and described therein as follows, to wit: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York and being part of seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the southeast corner of O. Cone's division of 52 34-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 34-100 acres [illegible] ninety-four (94) links to a stake; thence [illegible] degrees west parallel to the [illegible] 75 fourteen (14) chains fifty [illegible] thence north 2 degrees west [illegible] trees seventeen (17) chains [illegible] a stake in south line of [illegible] acres laid off from said [illegible] degrees east along said [illegible] chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land, excepting however from the above described premises a parcel of ten (10) acres from the east end heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage on the west side of said mortgaged premises [illegible] said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 291, leaving 28 2-10 acres, be the same more or less.

Dated June 7, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN, Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN, Attys for Plff, Fulton, N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—

FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary. GAY & BROTHERS, 14 Barclay St. N. Y.

$100 PER WEEK Write for particulars [illegible] FIRE EXTINGUISHER [illegible] Building, N. Y.

C O A L.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 7

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

The Drummer's Little Girl.

My papa is a traveling man,
Some people calls him "drummer,"
He goes away in August, and—
Gets home again next summer.

I don't know papa very well,
I wish I knew him better,
But every week I take my pen
And write a big long letter.

And mamma says some day he'll come
(I thought I should have fainted),
And she will keep him in the house
Until we get acquainted.

Now ain't that funny, don't you think?
It gives me lots of bother
To think a great big girl like me
Don't really know her father.

I won't know, hardly, how to act;
Of course he'll have to "Miss" me,
But goodness gracious, it won't do
To let a strange man kiss me!

And when he first comes in the house
I won't know how to greet him;
I guess I'll call him "Mister Papa,"
And say I'm pleased to meet him.

Oh pshaw, it's plaguy mean to have
One's papa for a drummer.
I wish he'd come in autumn and Stay winter, spring and summer.

—[Merchant Traveler.

Don't You Think So?

It's all very well to be jolly
When everything's going just right;
When, in summer skies showing no hint of
A shadow, the sun's shining bright;
When around you your merry friends cluster
With many a laugh-bringing jest,
And whenever you turn you discover
The world in its gala robes dressed.
But, ah! 'tis sublime to be jolly
When mirth-loving spirits have fled;
When your path is in gloominess shrouded,
And the tempest bursts over your head;
When fainter hearts beg you to cheer them,
Though your own heart be lonely and drear,
And you scarce can stop doubting if ever
The darkness will quite disappear.

The bird that sings sweetly when golden
The earth is, and gentle the wind,
When the bees hum their joy, o'er the honey
That hid in the flowers, they find,
When, vying in beauty and fragrance,
Red roses and white lilies grow,
And butterflies, splendid in raiment,
Through their airy realms flit to and fro,
Is a dear little songster; but dearer
Is the bird that joy-giving strain
Undaunted trills loudly and gaily
In spite of the chill and the rain;
For that to be jolly 'tis easy
In sunshine there isn't a doubt;
But, ah! 'tis sublime to be jolly
When there is naught to be jolly about.

—[Harper's Weekly.

THE FARM HAND.

"I DON'T like his looks, mamma."

"But your father says he is a capital worker, and we ought not to object to him because he's not an Adonis, ought we, dear? He's not to blame because he is so unpleasant to look at. Don't notice him if his face isn't agreeable to you, Mattie."

The girl was very fair of face herself, and slender and dainty as a flower. She was Farmer Lee's only child, and had been raised very tenderly by her parents, who, although not exactly wealthy, could well afford to give their lovely child a good education and many luxuries. Six months before she had graduated from Madame M——'s finishing schools for young ladies, and since had turned the heads of two-thirds of the honest young farmers in her county.

She had been speaking to her mother, and speaking to her over her graceful shoulder, as Mrs. Lee bustled about busy with some preparations, while Mattie stood at the window. As her mother finished speaking what we have recorded, a shuffling figure slowly crossed the open space without, going toward the stable. It was not a prepossessing figure, and the face above it was simply repulsive. Perhaps its ugliness was greaty due to a great livid scar, which crossed it from temple to chin, going down the cheek, over the lip, terminating below the chin. It always made Mattie shudder to see that horrible scar, and she shivered now, even though the eyes that looked up and met hers for a moment, as the new farm hand passed outside the window, were steady eyes, with light in them that might have glorified another face and lashes drooping over them, long and silken as the lashes of a girl; eyes of deep, dark, mysterious blue, from which that hideous scar took all beauty, in the eyes of the girl, who turned impatiently to her mother.

"You will be back before night, mamma?"

"Yes, Mattie; you may look for us any time after sunset."

"Give my love to auntie, and tell her I will ride over to spend a day with her soon. Are you quite ready, mamma?"

"Yes, my love, when I put on my hat. Jim has gone to get the horse and buggy."

"I saw him go. Let me tie your bonnet strings. There," tying them deftly, "now I am sure I hear wheels. I will see you off. Don't remain out after dark, dear."

Her mother laughed as they went out together where Mr. Lee was already waiting for his wife at the door, and the farm servant, Jim, was leading around the staid chestnut horse, harnessed to a light buggy. Mattie kissed her mother, then her father, and watched them drive off. Somehow she felt strangely lonely and depressed. She did not notice the farm hand until he spoke to her.

"You look as if all wasn't right, Miss Mattie. Is there anything I can do for you before I go back to the field?"

She started a little, and unconsciously shrank from him.

"No, nothing," she answered. "Nothing is wrong, but I am a little lonely."

Then she went in, and the blue, long-lashed eyes of the man followed her until she had disappeared; then he [illegible]

[illegible] ally toward the window at which Mattie stood.

"They'll not come home to night," she said at length; "nobody would let them out in such a storm as this, Miss Mattie."

"They must have started before it broke," Mattie answered, shrinking vaguely from the thought of being alone in that great house on a stormy night, with these two; then a sharp, fierce peal of thunder crashed from the sky above, so sudden as to make her give a cry of startled terror; and, as the lightning followed it, bright, blinding, fantastical, she found a strong hand on her arm, drawing her back from the window.

"You are in danger, there!" The voice was strange to her, rich, clear, commanding and with a ring of education in it. She looked up suddenly, and met those blue peculiar eyes, her own dilating as she did so, for in them she read something—something strange, pitiful, and weird, it seemed to her.

A moment later he had turned away, the figure that had been straight as a sapling drooped once more, the hand that had lain on her arm now falling listlessly at the side of Jim, the farm hand; but Mattie's heart was throbbing wildly, fearfully, as might the heart of a newly-caged linnet.

The storm continued, fierce as one of those that sweep the southern flowers, but not so brief, for when Mattie went with the "help" to bar the doors and fasted the windows securely it was still raging, and they knew that Mr. Lee and his wife would remain with the latter's sister for the night.

"If ye're afraid, Miss Mattie, I'll sit up with you," the servant said when bedtime had come, but she said it with a yawn, and Mattie thanked her and declined.

"I am not afraid," she said; and then again meeting those strange blue eyes which fell as she met them, a tremor went over her. Was it of fear?

She went to her room and tried to read, but the thunders, the blinding glares of light, the wild rush of the winds, drew her thoughts constantly from her book. At last feeling lonely and depressed, and unaccountably alarmed, she left her seat and began walking up and down the room, sobbing like the petted child she was. It was eleven when she at length prepared for bed, extinnuished the light, and after a brief prayer, in which she commended her spirit and all that she loved to God's care, she lay down, and while the thunders sumbled off in the distance and the winds lost their fierce, hungry howl, she went off to sleep.

Her dreams were not pleasant and from one she started up, cold and shivering and listening for a sound. Was all a dream? Hark! a light footfall under her window, a stealthy tread unwilling to be heard! All at once strong and fearless, although growing very pale, she noiselessly left her couch and, going to the window, opened it without a sound. The storm had cleared away, the night was calm and starlit now; a faint wind just stirred the wet leaves of the maple tree without, and she saw, or fancied she saw, two stealthy moving figures, trying to open the door; a moment and a muttered blasphemy reached her; then she drew in her head, and stood with beating, bounding heart in her room. What would or should she do? Jim! She flu[illegible] loose wrapper over her nightdre[illegible]rly flew up to the little attic ch[illegible] occupied by the farm hand. With trembling fingers she rapped on the door. No answer, no sound from within.

"Jim!" she called, softly. No reply. She rapped again, Still silence. Then a sudden fear smote her, and she turned faint under it. Was Jim there, or was he below making it easy for the burglars—his friends—to enter? On an impulse she tried the knob, having found it by groping. It turned readily and the door swung open. By the light which came in from the little window directly over it she saw that the bed was unoccupied, and she flew back down the stairs into her father's chamber.

Mr. Lee always kept a sum of money in the hou[illegible], and always kept a revolver within his [illegible]ch, should he be awakened by burglars at night. She knew where, and she found it speedily. As her fingers closed on it they ceased to tremble; her girlish face grew set and stern; and she went out once more to the hallway, and glided down the stairs. Ere she had reached the bottom, a voice in the kitchen, which was back of the staircase, caught her ear; a low, hushed voice, but coming to her through the stillness—the voice that had told her in the evening that she was in danger.

She glided like a spirit down the stairs, along the wide, old-fashioned hall, and paused in the shadows, just without the kitchen door; and there she saw what made her white teeth meet in a determination not to cry out or faint; for there were three men in the kitchen; coarse, horrible fellows two of them were, the third—Jim.

Jim, yet not the Jim she had known; not the Jim who had hewn the wood and drawn the water for them for a month; but Jim, standing straight and tall before the others, a frown on his forehead, his disfigured lips set in firm lines of iron determination, his blue eyes emmitting flashes before which the others seemed to quail; and, as she listened she found that he was commanding them, as one who had the right to do so, to go quietly away and leave no trace behind them.

"Oh, come comrade," one said swaggeringly, "we won't spoil this chance, even for you! We know what we are about, and there's something worth while [illegible]

You will do nothing here; you understand me?"

"Guess I don't, comrade, as I'm in for work here and now," was the insolent answer, and it was punished instantly, for Jim's right hand sprang out from his side quick as a flash and felled the sleeper to the floor with a noise quite enough to waken the seven sleepers. The ruffian, who had been silent all along, rather shrank to a corner, and Jim followed him.

"Is there anything more to be settled?" he asked grimly. And the girl outside uttered a sharp, shrill cry, for she saw the fallen burglar rise on his elbow, revolver in hand, and aim at the back of the farm hand, who had been willing to protect her, but her cry availed nothing, for the report rang out with it, and Jim staggered toward the wall, both hands flung out as he fell; and Mattie unmindful of personal safety, unmindful of all save the fact that murder had been done before her eyes, darted in from the hall and knelt, still with the revolver in her hand, over the prostrate man; by this time the one he had struck down had regained his feet.

"Stand where you are both of you!" the girl cried fearlessly. "Whichever moves a step will die!"

And at that moment Farmer Lee strode in through the way which had been opened by the ruffians, followed by two men evidently officers. In the the excitment their approach had not been noticed. Now the girl allowed the weapon to fall from her fingers, and held out her arms to her father.

"Oh, save me, papa! save me!" she cried, and her father went and lifted her in his arms, while the strangers covered the burglars with their weapons.

"We are fortunate," one of them said: "we traced one here and we find three. Hold out your hands my friend."

There was no demur from the two surprised ruffians as they were deftly hand-cuffed. Then the officers turned to the wounded Jim; they found him dying the blood flowing from a wound near the heart.

"You're done for my fine fellow," one of them said, rather carelessly; "you have escaped a long sentence, my friend."

Mattie, who was weeping in her father's arms, heard the words and came forward.

"Will he—will he die?" she asked suddenly.

"He is dying now."

She knelt down, and her tears fell on the scarred face.

"Oh, I am so sorry! Can I do anything for you? You are dying because you would protect us! I'll pray for you she said brokenly. The glazing eyes took for a moment a glorious light.

"I love you; forgive me," he whispered, and a moment later he was dead.

"The worst and most desperate of the gang; the head of it in fact," one of the officers said; "there are more crimes against him than I could count."

"But his death was noble," Mattie whispered softly.

Later her father told her how it chanced that he arrived so opportunely; how the detectives had come to him in all that storm to warn him that they suspected his farm hand of being one whom they had long sought, and asked him to accompany them back to his farm, that he might not escape; how they had lost no time, and had arrived in a moment when they were sadly needed; when only a frail girl faced two murderous men far from assistance.

"But he tried to save me," the girl sobbed, with a kindness in her heart that would never leave it, for the farm hand Jim.—[Mary C. Frestow in Philadelphia Call.

THE PROPER THING.

Gauze or lisle fans are shown in all all colors.

Fine zephyr ginghams are in special request.

Ribbons remain an important feature in dress garniture.

White and cream-colored India muslins will be much worn.

Among girls there is a growing partiality for yoke bodices.

Quantities of lace are festooned all over summer toilets of nearly every description.

Tailor-made dresses are the fashion at present for traveling, and are oftenest in small checks.

Round hats with high crowns and low turbans of rough straw are in favor for traveling hats.

Ecru parasols rival those of bright red and are seen in stripes, or with figures of velvet or plush.

Shoulder capes made of beads strung in open meshes and finished with fringe are worn by young ladies.

The lustrous mohairs or alpacas introduced last summer are again in favor in dark blue shades in clear gray or drab.

The richest mourning dresses are made of dull lustreless silk, with wide crape bands stitched on before the skirts are kilted.

The most stylish mantles are pointed pelerines of grenadine or lace made in V shape from neck to waist in back and front, and finished by a short basque below the waist line.

The coolest and most appropriate hand covering to wear on suits with elegant black lace dresses are long black lace mitts, which reach considerably above the elbows.

[illegible]

Peck's Bad Boy.

"Mad dog! Mad dog!" shouted the boy as he rushed into the grocery store with both hands on the basement of his pants, as though a dog was after him, jumped under the counter and crawled behind the barrel of lump white sugar. "Hide yourself quick or you are a dead man." The groceryman was cutting a slice of a cheese for a servant girl with a shawl over her head. His first idea was to run down cellar, but the girl slid down there, so the groceryman simply jumped into a crockery crate and laid down and perspired. He wished every dog in the world was dead. Presently he heard a crunching behind the counter, as of lump sugar being chewed by a boy, and he raised up out of it and walked on tiptoe behind the counter, and took the bad boy the ear and led him out by the stove, and emptied about a hat full of sugar out of his pockets. Then he looked at the boy. The boy began to froth at the mouth, and snap with his teeth, and he said:

"Oh, vaccinate, me quick. I am bit."

The groceryman gave the boy a kick in the pantaloons, and said:

"There, you are vaccinated. That is the first application of Pastuer's treatment. If you feel spells coming on again, I will give you more sole leather virus in your system. What do you mean, coming in here yelling mad dog, and scaring my customer down cellar, and the groceryman wrapped up the cheese and called the girl out of the cellar and sent her home.

"O, I only wanted to see if you were a coward. But you aint, O, no! You only went into that crockery crate head first for fun. Say, do you believe in vaccination?" and the boy brushed some straw off the groceryman's coat.

"Yes, I do," said the groceryman. "The science of vaccination is the greatest discovery of this or any other age," and he turned the boy around to give him another kick.

"Well, so do I," said the boy, as he put the stove between himself and the groceryman. "The time is coming when vaccination is going to be used for everything. I believe the time will come when criminals will be prevented from committing crime by vaccination. For instance, suppose you were a theif and everybody knew it. I don't say you are," said the boy as the groceryman picked up a piece of a barrel head, "Though your symptoms are favorable. But suppose you were a theif. Take an honest man, one everybody knew to be honest, and vaccinate him, and when it began to work, take some of the virus and vaccinate you. As soon as it began to work on you, your power of lifting things that did not belong to you would be gone. You would become an honest man in spite of yourself, by vaccination. I don't say it could be made to work on you, but it might. If my scheme works, and universal vaccination is established, there will be no more crime. Then they will vaccinate bank cashiers against defalcations, and with the virus from an honest minister, say, the cashier can't steal to save him."

"Yes, but suppose the minister happens to be one of those kind that runs away with other people's wives? Wouldn't the cashier be liable to elope, if the virus worked on him?" remarked the groceryman, with a wise look.

"O, well, may be," said the boy, "but we will have to be careful where we get our virus."—[Peck's Sun.

Reduced to a Skeleton by Disease, and Restored to Health With Dr. Pardee's Remedy

Wilson, Niagara Co., N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—In April, 1883, I was prostrated by a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism and was confined to my bed four months. I was attended by the best medical skill, but rapidly grew worse until I was reduced to a mere skeleton.

The disease had gone to my lungs and to the region of my heart and I was finally given up by the physicians, who said I could but live a few hours at most, and that all they could do was to make me as easy as possible by killing the pain by frequent injections of morphine. I was finally advised by a friend to take Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy. Upon being asked to give it to me, the physician said "I have no faith in patent medicines, but give it to him; it will not hurt him."

I was then so near dead that my limbs were cold below the knees, and a numb sensation began to creep over my body, and I suffered with great pain in my chest and about my heart. After I had taken the first few doses I experienced more pain than before, for it seemed to drive the pain from the vital parts toward the extremities. I continued to take it according to directions. Four days after the physician who gave me up called to see me, and said I was much better. In about four weeks I could sit up; I then gained very fast and became as well as ever.

CHAS. O. BARNUM.

Brother of D. C. Barnum, Attorney, 196 Power's Block, Rochester, to whom persons can refer.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Canton, China, with a population of 1,500,000, does not publish a newspaper of any kind.

"I have no appetite," complain many sufferers. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives an appetite and enables the stomach to perform its duty.

[illegible]

BASEBALL AS A BUSINESS.

What it Costs to Maintain a First-Class Club.

Twelve or fourteen years ago it was predicted that baseball would ere now be one of the things of the past. In those days clubs were organised on the narrowest monetary margins, mostly by speculative and irresponsible men, who, in many cases, when it came to paying their debts failed to do so, and at once declared that there was nothing in baseball, and that it would soon die out. But instead it has struggled along, year after year until it is now the leading American sport, and is backed by some of the wealthiest men in the country. To-day there are thoroughly organized and fully equipped eight associations, as follows: The National League, with eight clubs; the American Association, with eight clubs; the Eastern League, with eight clubs; the Southern League, with eight clubs; the New England League, with six clubs; the International State League, with eight clubs; the Northwestern League, with six clubs. These eight organizations employ over 800 men, whose salaries for the season will aggregate $1,000,000 or more. Therefore it has rendered the employment of hard cash capital a necessity. The expenses of running a first-class team are enormous. The salary list alone of any first-class club, foots up from $25,000 to $40,000 a year, and individual salaries in some instances, have reached nearly $5,000 a season. But there is no class of public amusement or sport which when properly conducted, gives better returns than base ball.

The traveling expenses of a club, form quite an item of the expenditures, and generally foot up to $10,000 or more during the year. This includes all railroad fares and accommodations at first-class hotels. Each club has about 12,000 miles to cover during the regular championship season, not to mention how many more while playing exhibition games. Then there is the additional of keeping the grounds in proper playing condition, besides paying gatemen, ticket takers, and special men employed about the grounds.

A year or two ago a good first or third basemen could not be engaged for less than $1,200 and from that up to $2,200. A first-class second basemen could obtain from $2,000 to $3,000. A short stop with any reputation wanted from $2,500 to $3,500 for a year. Outfielders commanded from $1,500 to $2,500 for a season. The pitcher, who is the very important man in the nine, especially if he has known abilities as a twirler, would make a modest demand of from $2,000 to $3,500 for his season's alternate with him. There are some men who are really worth more than the $2,000 limit, and they should be paid in accordance with their merits but there must be a line drawn somewhere, and the men who make unreasonable demands, simply because they happen to do well during a season, should be kept down to a limit. For $2,000 for two hour's work, for six days in the week, for seven months in the year is good compensation.

A Happy Small Farmer.

Peter Rote is a farmer in a small way. He lives at the edge of the city and owns but three acres of ground. He has that well improved, keeps a cow, raises a $25 calf and $100 worth of hogs every year, has a rye pasture, 100 fruit trees, a nice little home, and money loaned out—all in four years. He loaned a farmer money last year to pay taxes on 160 acres which the borrower had "under cultivation." Peter is a worker. He makes and saves; cuts his garments according to his cloth; allows nothing to waste: feeds his stock and shelters it from storm, and is getting rich. An ambition to own a great big farm has made many a poor man in this country.

There is more glory in owning a three acre lot unincumbered than a whole section of land knee-deep under mortgage. Peter Rote's head is eminently level. Wish we had more Peter Rotes.—[Clay Center Dispatch.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

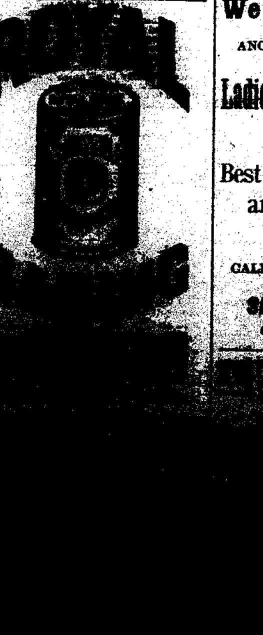
HART BROS.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

A bushel of corn which the distiller buys from the farmer for thirty cents is sold to the drinker for $40.50.



Being a Boy.

One of the best things in the world is to be a boy: it requires no experience, though it needs some practice to be a good one. The disadvantage of the position is that it does not last long enough. It is soon over. Just as you get used to being a boy, you have to do something else, with a good deal more work to do, and not half so much fun. And yet every boy is anxious to be a man, and is very uneasy with the restrictions that are put upon him as a boy. There are so many bright spots in the life of a farm boy that I sometimes think I should like to live the life over again. I should almost be willing to be a girl if it were not for the chores. There is a great comfort to a boy in the amount of work he can get rid of doing. It is sometimes astonishing how slow he can go on an errand.—Perhaps he couldn't explain himself why, when he is sent to a neighbors after yeast, he stops to stone the frogs. He is not exactly cruel, but he wants to see if he can't hit 'em. It is a curious fact about boys that two will be a great deal slower in doing anything than one. Boys have a great power of helping each other do nothing. But say what you will about the general usefulness of boys, a farm without a boy would very soon come to grief. He is always in demand. In the first place, he is to do all the errands, go to the store, the post-office, and to carry all sorts of messages. He would like to have as many legs as a wheel has spokes, and rotate in about the same way. This he sometimes tries to do, and people who have seen him "turning a cart-wheel" along the side of the road have supposed he was amusing himself and idling his time. He was only trying to invent a new mode of locomotion, so that he could economize his legs to do his errands with greater dispatch. Leap-frog is one of his methods of getting over the ground quickly. He has a natural genius for combining pleasure with his business.—[Charles Dudley Warner.

Cost of the White House.

Most people believe that the $50,000 a year which the President gets as his salary is the sum total. This is a mistake. The estimate of the amount which Congress is to appropriate this year lies before us, open at the page relating to the President. We see that $36,064 is asked for him, in addition to his salary of $50,000, to pay the salaries of his subordinates and clerks. His Private Secretary is paid $3,250, his Assistant Private Secretary $2,250, his stenographer $1,800, five messengers each $1,200, a steward $1,800, two door-keepers who each get $1,200, four other clerks at good salaries, one telegraph operator, two ushers getting $1,200, and $1,400, a night usher getting $1,200, a watchman who gets $900, and a man to take care of fires who receives $864 a year. In addition to this there is set down $8,000 for incidental expenses, such as stationery, carpets, and the care of the President's stables. And further on, under another heading, there is a demand for nearly $40,000 more. Of this $12,500 is for repairs and furnishing the White House, $2,500 for fuel, $3,000 is for the green house, and $15,000 is for gas, matches and the stables. The White House, all told, costs the country, in connection with the President, considerably over $125,000 a year.

C. S. EGGLESTON.
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

[illegible]

Just Received at the
NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE
A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's
READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date.
☞ The New Drug Store. ☜
H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladie's Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Stove	$4.50	Grate	4.25
Nut	4.50	Pea	3.50
Egg	4.25	Smith	450
No 4	475	Mixed	450

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

FITS STOPPED FREE
[illegible]

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

JUST THE THING!
[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. S. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious, Sample Rooms.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of
PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING.
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
All printed in the best style at Lowest Prices,
[illegible]

ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post-Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

> I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
>
> [THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

MRS. GARFIELD'S income is $20,000 a year.

BISHOP MCNEIRNEY has arrived in Rome.

QUEEN VICTORIA will review the troops at Aldershot on July 2d.

THE Thousand Island Park hotel is now open for the season.

THERE hasn't been a cradle in the White House for forty years.

THE New York World has started a Parliamentary election fund.

IN the freshman class at Yale college there are thirty colored students.

THE trial of the Anarchists commenced last Monday morning in Chicago.

THE only wedding present the President declined was from the Sultan of Turkey.

LIEUT. GREELY of Arctic fame, has been promoted by the President to a captain.

THE creditors of the Remington's met at Ilion Thursday and resolved to continue the business.

THE New York Times has sent out an expedition to visit the hitherto unexplored regions of Alaska.

GOVERNOR HILL has signed the bill to increase the lockage capacity of the Erie and Oswego canals.

GOVERNOR HILL was the honored guest of the Bay State Club at Boston Friday, and was royally entertained.

MRS. GROVER CLEVELALD shook hands with four thousand of her countrymen and countrywomen last Friday evening.

THE President and Mrs. Cleveland took their first dinner out last Thursday at the home of Secretary and Mrs. Endicott.

THERE are now 1,208 convicts in Auburn prison. Over 100 were recently transferred from Sing Sing to that institution.

DESTRUCTIVE cyclones have been doing deadly work to human beings, stock, crops and houses in Texas during the past week.

MRS. CLEVELAND set a commendable example to Washington elite by wearing the same dress at two consecutive receptions.

ON Monday afternoon the New England Institute Fair Building in Boston was burned and eight persons perished. The total loss was $300,000.

THE President vetoed fifteen private pension bills and returned them to Congress Monday with a lecture on the indifference of Congress to the public weal.

THE Voice, the leading Prohibition paper in the State, announces that a vigorous campaign will be made in every congressional and assembly district in the State.

THE late Dr. J. Dorman Steele of Elmira, the author of numerous school text books, has bequeathed $40,000 and mortgaged lands to the amount of $50,000 to Syracuse University.

A STATUE of Daniel Webster, presented to the state of New Hampshire by Mr. Cheney of Boston, was unveiled with imposing ceremonies at Concord last Thursday. Senator Evarts delivered an oration.

WIND, rain, hail and lightning did great damage in Texas and Minnesota last Saturday. Hailstones are reported to have fallen varying in size from a hen's egg, to chunks of ice weighing seven pounds.

THE 17th of June is always more extensively celebrated than the Fourth of July in the vicinity of Boston and Charlestown, it being the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. Last Thursday it was observed in the usual manner.

HARVESTING is in progress in portions of Ohio and Indiana. In large sections of Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas and Tennessee the grain has already been gathered. The crop outlook is almost everywhere uniformly good.

THERE have been introduced in Congress this session about 12,000 bills over 9,000 of them in the House of Representatives. Of these less than 4,000 have been or will be passed by the end of the session. The Senator who has introduced the most bills is Sawyer of Wisconsin, who offered 448, Blair of New Hampshire follows with 447. Jones of Florida, the love-sick Senator of whom the papers have said so much, leads the tail end as he has introduced no bills at all. Kenna of West Virginia stands a couple of pegs above him with two bills to his credit.

South Scriba.

Sunday was children's day at the church at Mt. Pleasant. The church was trimmed very beautifully, and the children did splendidly.

Strawberry growers in this vicinity are discouraged. They pay two cents a quart for picking, and then sell them at three cents to five cents.

Our school closed Thursday after a successful term of twelve weeks, with [illegible] teacher.

[illegible] health has so much improved [illegible] he is able to ride some.

[illegible]

The Syracuse [illegible] meeting is being held this week. It closes to-morrow.

New York State has 714 Masonic lodges, with 78,000 members in good standing.

The trial of Converse for murder in Lyons goes over till October, on account of the low condition from his wounds in attempting suicide.

The Gould Manufacturing company is about to build at its works in Seneca Falls one of the largest and most complete foundries in the State.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, accompanied by his wife and Maj. J. B. Pond, his agent, sailed on the Cunard steamer Etruria Saturday morning for Liverpool.

The Puritan on Saturday won the $1,000 cup of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht club. The Boston boat was followed by the Priscilla and that in turn by the Atlantic.

Joanna Kinneally died in New York recently at the age of 104 years. She came to New York in 1818. Three years ago her brother died in Ireland, aged 107 years.

N. B. Thompson, who shot his wife and then shot himself at the Sturtevant house, a short time ago, died in New city on Friday night. His father was with him most of the afternoon and evening.

The mayor, common council and other officials of Syracuse, visited Oneida lake last Thursday with the view of examining that body of water as a possible source of supply for Syracuse.

John H. Starin, gave his eighth annual excursion to the union veteran soldiers and sailors. They went to a park on the Hudson opposite Yonkers. The party consisted of about 12,000 of the soldiers and sailors with their wives and families.

Probably the oldest person now living in the state and possibly in the United States, is John Surnear of Black River. Garry Surnear of this village, a grandson, informs us that he is between 117 and 118 years of age. He is still in good health for one of his great age.—[Fort Plain Cor. Utica Herald.

The recent fair of the Cayuga County Agricultural Society was the most successful ever given by the society in its forty-six years of existence. The profits were over $500, which will make the net income for the year about $1,000. This sum will be devoted to improving the grounds and partly paying the indebtedness which has long hung over the society.

Harry Shemberg of Syracuse who was supposed to have committed suicide and for whose body a search has been made, has surprised the people by suddenly returning alive. He seemed weak and exhausted, but refused to give any explanation of his disappearance. Almost before his friends had recovered from their surprise he was lost to sight once more, and where he has gone is again a mystery.—[Cor. Utica Herald.

The special newspaper train passed through Fonda at the rate of a mile a minute last Sunday morning. Every package thrown off bursted and papers were strewn along the track from the depot to the water house, and for a time the air was filled with reading matter. Anybody who wished a Sunday paper could pick it up almost any where along the Central tracks within a mile of this place. As a means of distributing free reading matter this lightning train is decidedly a success.—[Fonda Democrat.

The New York Observer gives statistics showing the relative growth of the different Protestant churches in New York city between 1865 and 1885 as follows:

Denominations.	Churches and Missions. 1865.	1885.
Baptist	30	48
Congregational	5	9
Reformed (Dutch)	23	27
Lutheran	9	27
Methodist Episcopal	36	61
Presbyterian	44	70
Protestant Episcopal	79	84

COUNTY NEWS.

Tolner's new factory at Pulaski is now under full headway.

Weekly shipments of cheese are made from Parish. About fifteen per day are made.

The necessary arrangements are being made for the academic department in the Parish public school.

Ice cream and strawberry festivals were held in nearly every village and hamlet in the county last week.

The first sale of cheese from the Palermo Centre factory netted its patrons 80cts. per hundred pounds.

The efforts of the graduates at the Phoenix academy last Friday are very highly spoken of in our exchanges.

The commencement exercises of the Oswego State Normal and training school will occur at Normal hall, Tuesday, July 6th.

The Minetto shade cloth company last Friday organized a fire company consisting of twenty members for the protection of its property in Minetto.

B. C. Beaman of Hastings, has 3,000 chicks this season. Next year he expects to have 10,000 chicks and 3,000 ducks. He considers the business profitable.

A short time ago six headstones were placed at soldiers' graves in the Central Square cemetery, two in the cemetery at Caughdenoy and three in the Coit District cemetery.

Six hundred and thirty-two crates of strawberries were shipped Saturday from New Haven, 376 to Philadelphia and 256 to New York. The sixth day last year was 85 crates.

The graduating exercises of Mexico Academy were held last Wednesday evening. There were ten graduates. The Academy seems to be in a very flourishing condition.

The Syracuse papers announce that Internal Revenue Collector Beach has appointed Mr. Breed, of the village of Phoenix, deputy at Oswego in place of Mr. S. B. Burchard, who has held the office for several years.

The extension of the water works at Phoenix is now [illegible] J. A. [illegible]

[illegible] Emperor William, who is in his 90th year, and King Christian of Denmark, who has entered his 69th.

There seems to be excellent prospects for a new railroad for Phoenix and Baldwinsville. A company has staked out a route from Baldwinsville through the town of VanBuren to Amboy, a small station on the West Shore six miles from Syracuse.

Among the old conductors on the Buffalo and Toledo division of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad who have just received "blue envelopes" is Burt Hess, who was the conductor of the train which went through the bridge at Ashtabula some years ago.

Archibald Forbes, the famous English war correspondent who married in Washington last Saturday Miss Louise Meigs daughter of General Meigs, had the medals bestowed upon him by European princes for distinguished valor strung together with a gold chain for a necklace for his bride.

Rose Leslie, the fat woman who has traveled for the last six seasons with John B. Doris's circus, died on Thursday at St. John's hospital in Lowell, Mass., aged 25 years. She was a native of Hamilton, Ont., and was the wife of John McLaughlin, also connected with the circus. She weighed 615 pounds and was five feet three inches in height.

Benjamin Folsom, who has become famous as Mrs. Cleveland's cousin, spends most of his time at clubs and speaks in a languid drawling tone. He wears a scarf pin as large as a silver dollar, which bears upon its face a gaudy likeness of a rampant rooster with red and green feathers. He is well to do, doesn't need to work and apparently is glad of it.

Of the 408 Senators, members and Territorial delegates who compose Congress 72 are Methodists, 68 Baptists, 41 Episcopalians, 37 Presbyterians, 36 Catholics, 15 Unitarians, 8 Lutherans, 10 Christians, (Campbellites) and 2 Quakers, making a total of 283 who are actively connected with some church organization. This leaves 125 men who either never belonged to any church or have drifted out of such associations.

The company also has in contemplation the extension of the line to Phoenix to connect with the Syracuse, Phoenix & Oswego railroad, the only obstacle to to this seems to be the expense of a bridge over the Oswego river and canal at Phoenix. The following are the officers: President, John T. Skinner; Vice President, Wallace Tappan; Secretary, W. W. Downer; Treasurer, Phillip K. Green.

The postmaster-general has awarded the contract for stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers for four years, beginning October 1st, to the Morgan Envelope Company of Springfield, Mass., and the Plympton Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Conn., these companies uniting in a bid, which was the lowest under the recent advertisement. They are the present contractors. Making a due allowance for the natural increase in the issues of envelopes and wrappers, the expenditure during the four years of the contract term it is estimated will be about $3,250,000, as against a cost of $4,200,000 for like quantities at the present contract prices.

They Don't Draw the Line Right.

Until the Knights of Labor select leaders who can draw the line between right and wrong, truth and falsehood, as pertaining to the work of the order, they will make little or no progress. Theirs is a moral fight on the basis of truth and common honesty, between man and man, when they depart from this, they lose the public confidence, which is the ammunition that will bring them success. In a recent circular issued from Cleveland the following statement is made: "That while human labor produces all the wealth, those who have performed no honest labor have amassed the most of the wealth, and those who have performed the labor have least to enjoy."

Until recently, Mr. Powderly had not learned the difference between capital legitimately obtained, and that obtained by watering stocks, and bringing about corners in the necessities of life. The man who can make great wealth out of legitimate trade should be honored by all laboring men, while his advice should be sought, and his example studied. To bring about reform, the Knights should aim to prevent the passage of laws, and annul those already passed, that will make possible a "legal thief," against whom we have now no protection.

On the question of labor, as in the above extract they are equally mixed. All who know anything, know there are two kinds of labor, that performed by the muscles, and that performed by the brain, and few will deny that the latter is the most severe on the human system, and yet it is muscular labor that is seeking shorter hours, while brain labor has nothing to say, but toils on twelve, fifteen, and eighteen or more hours each and every day, knowing no Sundays or holidays. Muscular labor can give itself up to pleasure or to sleep wholly, while brain labor, even while watching the clown in a circus, is thinking of the work of to-morrow. It is brain labor that makes possible profits for muscular labor, and yet we are told, or lead to infer, that brain labor is not "honest labor." The fact is, we must take the authors of that circular as they mean, and not as they say,—but such blunders should not be made. In labor there are two extremes, and the combination of the two in one individual, is the happy medium. And, on careful examination, it will be found that it is the latter that accumulates the most money, for the reason that he has the best balanced mind; he is the nearest a perfect man, and when we find the millionaire of this kind, let us honor him, as Philadelphia will forever honor the name of Stephen Girard, the "mariner merchant," who [illegible]

[illegible] last of August. So far the heat of summer has failed to put a quietus to either gayety or business at Washington.

The Horticultural Convention now in session here, consists of three hundred delegates. Its members have found the Capital decked in her vernal best, and they pronounce that best very good. This city has become the convention rendezvous of the United States, and most of the national assemblies will be held here in the future, that were formerly held in Boston.

The Princely tourist, who has been here during the week, seeing the sights and receiving the attentions from Diplomats and other people of distinction, is a grand-son of Don Pedro. He is said to have more strains of royal blood in his veins than any other living man. He has the blood of the royal houses of Germany, France, England, Spain, Italy, Denmark and Brazil.

The late premier of Australia, Hon. James Service, has also been studying Washington during the week; and some visiting engineers from France who are making a tour of this country, have been doing the same. The latter gentlemen were particularly struck by the simplicity of this reception at the White House, and greatly pleased by the cordial manner in which the President met them.

"I never expected to see the Chief Executive of a great country like this in such an informal way," said one of the party. "He chatted with those of us who speak English for about ten minutes in a perfectly free manner, about the railroad interests of France and the United States."

Doubtless you have been surfeited of of late with Presidential and White House social gossip, but still I must tell you something about how the President's bride bore her first public reception, and how much admiration she won. The test of her qualities was a trying one, and she emerged from it in a way to prove that she is quite equal to her position and worthy of comparison in dignity, stateliness and refinement of bearing with any of her predecessors. In personal attractions, she surpasses all of them. She stood by the President's side, receiving the highest dignitaries of the land with an ease and grace that pleased everybody, and surprised those who saw her, only a few months since, when she was fresh from school. Members of the Diplomatic Corps, Senators, Judges of the Supreme Court, Representatives in Congress, officers of the army and navy, all rendered the same verdict upon her, "a lovely woman," "a beautiful woman."

She is well proportioned and a trifle tailer than the President. She wore her bridal dress of ivory satin, en train, low bodice, and corsage bouquet of white roses. Her husband's bridal gift, a diamond necklace, encircled her neck, long white silk mits were tied above her elbows, and an amber comb surmounted her dark hair. But by unanimous consent her chief ornament was her fresh, beautiful face. She seemed pleased with everything, and the pleasure was the sincere enjoyment of youth and and freshness and simplicity. It was all new to her, and the cares of her position had as yet laid no burden upon her. She saw no fawning sycophancy in smiles; no sinister purpose in flattery; no hypocrisy in open admiration, and she got the full meed of enjoyment out of all her surroundings.

It was thought that the royal scion who attended the reception would detract from Mrs. Cleveland's triumph, but there was no division of honors. The blond haired South American Prince was left to his foreign guardians, the Brazilian Legation, while the throng paid homage to the Presidend's wife. There was no attempt at precedence as at most official and card receptions, and the people came in to be presented just as they felt disposed. Some amusing incidents occurred, as, for instance, when a policeman, in citizen's attire, who did not know Col. Lamont, requested him to stand aside and let the people pass from the Blue room into the Green Parlor. "That's right," replied the private secretary, "there are no privileged characters here."

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, June 21.

A year ago to-day cheese sold at the same price for ruling [illegible] as to-day but the transactions were 2,300 boxes less. The reason for this was that prices fell ⅛c., and there was considerable holding back, while the drop to-day was only ¼c., and everybody sold. This should be kept in mind in making comparison with a year ago, for our make is certainly not so large as it was at that time, or as the above figures might indicate. Buyers feel that they have paid all that the cheese is worth to-day, and possibly a little more in some cases. There were rumors that ⅛c. higher than anything in our table had been paid, but no such quotations were given in. Stock continues to be sold down pretty close to the hoop, and makers are in a position to hold their cheese whenever it may seem advisable to do so. Transactions were, as follows: Four lots, 500 boxes, at 6¼c.; 70 lots, 7,504 boxes, at 6½c.; 21 lots' 1,980 boxes, at 6⅝c.; 30 lots, 3,016 boxes, at 6⅜c.; 100 boxes at p. t. Sales 13,000 boxes; commissions 850; total 13,750 boxes. Ruling price 6½c. Transactions last year 11,522 boxes, ruling 6½c.; two years ago 16,457 boxes, ruling 9c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, June 21.

CHEESE.—Notwithstanding the fact that many of the best diary sections are suffering from severe drouth, and there are fears expressed on every side, not only of a short yield of milk, but also of not more than half or two-thirds an average hay crop, yet prices are off again, and the word discouragement fairly expresses the situation. There was a decline of one-fourth cent last week, and another about the same this week. As to prospects and prophecies, there is little to be said, except that perhaps the prevailing opinion that there is no anticipation of any great immediate improvement, neither is it thought that prices are likely to go much lower. Sales were freely made, and little disposition has been manifested to hold stocks.

The transactions were:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
2	111	6 cents
2	115	6¼ cents
87	4,135	[illegible] cents
2	100	[illegible] cents
21	[illegible]	[illegible] cents
2	148	7 cents
1	[illegible]	7¼ cents
11	[illegible]	com.
143	[illegible]
Farm dairy	[illegible]
Total	[illegible]

AT FULTON.

[illegible]

PROVERBIAL PROVERBS!

Nothing is secret, leastwise nothing pertaining to the low prices of dry goods and Clothing at H. & A. Rosenbloom's.

A good laugh is sunshine in the house. When your friend gets the laugh on you remember that the best place to settle on the best terms is at H. & A. Rosenbloom's Dry Goods and Clothing Stores.

It is better to have genius than wealth, for genius will sometimes bring wealth, but wealth can never bestow genius. Wealth can buy the products of genius at H. & A. Rosembloom's Dry Goods and Clothing Stores.

In the battle of life we are all going to try for the honors of championship, but don't try to win honors at the expense of honor. Goods sold at H. & A. Rosenbloom's are sold upon honor.

Young men, the ladies have their eyes upon you, especially when you have one of

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM'S,

Elegant Fitting Suits.

Rupture

Dr. J. A. Sherman has returned from his trip to the city of Mexico and the West, and removed his office from 251 to 294 Broadway, New York. In Dr. Sherman's treatment there is no operation of any kind, no detention from labor, no danger of strangulated rupture, besides freedom from the injury trusses inflict. His Book, containing information and endorsements from Physicians, Clergy men, Merchants, Farmers and others who have been treated and cured, is mailed for 10 cents. Persons in circumstances to prevent them from availing themselves of Dr. Sherman's personal services should send for his home circular of advice and instruction. Remember, office 294 Broadway, New York, three doors above Reade street.

Oswego Falls.

Crahan & Carpenter have a large sign painted on the side of their store.

Mill No. 1 again started up last Monday and is working full time this week.

Schenck & Foster have established a coal office in Dr. Whitaker's drug store with Mr. Fairman as agent.

The village schools closed last Friday.

The shipments of strawberries from the D. L. & W. depot have been very heavy this season.

Messrs. Clute and Wybron have formed a partnership and carry on a general blacksmith and wood-work business at the lower falls.

Keep your eyes open for bargains in Boots and Shoes at GOODJON'S.

M. L. Blair, Alderman 5th Ward, Scranton, Pa., stated Nov. 9, '83: He has used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for sprains, burns, cuts, bruises and rheumatism. Cured every time.

The reduction, therefore, under the new contract will be nearly $1,000,000. The public will receive the direct benefits of the reduction, as the envelopes are sold as near as may be at the cost of manufacture.

South Granby.

Farmers are about through setting tobacco and the acreage is somewhat less than last season. R. Cody has sold his '85 crop for 10 cents per pound to I. Frankee of Baldwinsville.

C. E. Smith and wife of Little Utica called on friends here Sunday.

Potato bugs are too plenty for comfort and farmers are using Paris green quite freely.

The ice cream and strawberry festival held at the school house last Friday evening proved quite a success financially. About $14 were realized which goes toward paying for the organ.

Edwin Ware is very ill with quinzy, or sore throat.

The South Granby factory is making 13 cheese and 50 pounds of butter. The cheese is sold to J. Hoose of Mexico every Monday night at the Utica ruling.

Dennis Donovan, a farmer living near Scriba, was last week declared insane and taken to the Mexico asylum.

Hack fares in Syracuse have been regulated so that the traveling public are insured against extortionate prices for their services. There is no occasion for such regulations in Fulton as the [illegible]

Important Literary Item.

The niece of Thomas Carlyle, Mrs. Alexander Carlyle, dissatisfied with Mr. Froude's work as her uncle's literary executor, entrusted all the Carlyle papers to Professor Charles Eliot North of Harvard College. To dispel false opinions of Carlyle's nature and temper which he thinks were misrepresented by the course which Froude followed, the American editor has published two volumes of Carlyle's Correspondence and now completes his work by a collection of his personal remenscences of Carlyle and his arraignment of Froude. The temper of the article is calm and judicious but it cirtainly sets forth Carlyle in a new light which will be new to many, and places Mr. Froude in an unenviable position. So grave are the charges that they must be refuted by facts not now known to the general public or Mr. Froude must suffer greatly in his reputation for candor and literary honesty as a friend and editor.

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON.

See July number New Princeton Review.

"Hello!" we heard one man say to another, the other day. "I didn't know you at first, why! you look ten years younger than you did when I saw you last." "I feel ten years younger" was the reply. "You know I used to be under the weather all the time and gave up expecting to be any better. The doctor said I had consumption. I was terribly weak, had night-sweats, cough, no appetite, and lost flesh. I saw Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery' advertised, and thought it would do no harm if it did no good. It has cured me. I am a new man because I am a well one."

BUY IT AND TRY IT.

Try it for earache,
Try it for headache,
Try it for toothache,
Try it for backache.

For an ache or a pain Thomas' Eclectric Oil is excellent.—Chas. F. Medler, box 274, Schenectady, N. Y.

Thomas' Eclectric Oil is the best thing going, pa says. Cured him of rheumatism and me of earache—two drops—Master Horace Breniser, Clinton, Iowa.

Try it for a limp,
Try it for a lameness,
Try it for a pain,
Try it for a strain.

From shoulder to ankle joint, and for three months I had rheumatism which yielded to nothing but Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Thomas' Eclectric Oil did what no physician seemed able to accomplish. It cured me.—John N. Gregg, Supt. of Railway Construction, Niagara Falls.

Try it for a [illegible],
Try it for a [illegible],
Try it for a [illegible],
Try it for a [illegible].

LUMBER YARD

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—

Complete Assortment

—OF—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.

—And in fact everything pertaining to a—

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.

Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND, ART UNIVERSAL, DENMARK, PRINCESS ALADDIN, and ACORN, Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC, GRAND UNIVERSAL, HAPPY THOUGHT, HAPPY HOME, and DUCHESS Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.

A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.

AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilaing Sove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

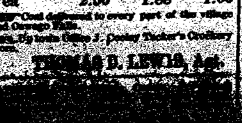
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

MOTH-WAX

KILLS THE MOTH

and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents.
W. H. H. CHILDS,
73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

AUBURN STEEL AXLE WAGON.



Made of the best material and fully warranted. 12,000 running in New York State. Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory. Send for circular.

E. D. CLAPP WAGON CO., Ld'd Auburn, N. Y.

COAL.

—GO TO—

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,

—For the Celebrated—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	2.50	1.88	1.06

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

Up town Office J. [illegible] Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.

HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES!

Over 2,000 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free.
A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Philada.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING
NOT WHEN

PLASTIC PAINT

Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits.
MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO.
109 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., and 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¼ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 10 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 58 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected, or obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned, Fulton, N. Y.

THE FULTON TIMES

[illegible] Local Editor

FULTON 'BUS

The Fulton Omnibus will leave the Lewis House for trains on the Oswego & Syracuse Railroad by the following time table:

	A.M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
For Syracuse	8:00	11:25	3:25	5:25	7:25
For Oswego	8:30	11:55 P.M.	2:35	5:55	6:30

Tickets to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents for sale on the Omnibus.

LEONARD & WILSON, Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express.......... 8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express.......... 11:47 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express.......... 3:47 p. m
Freight and Accommodation.......... 6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express.......... 8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express.......... 8:18 a. m.
Day Express.......... 12:18 p. m.
Day Express.......... 2:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation.......... 6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.......... 7:18 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express.......... 7:16 a. m
Freight and Accommodation.......... 8:45 a. m
Norwich Express.......... 3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express.......... 9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express.......... 6:18 a. m.
Oswego Express.......... 10:53 a. m.
Freight and accommodation.......... 5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express.......... 9:47 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:10	11:20	3:20	5:20
For Oswego,	9:20	12:30	2:34	6:39

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

N. M. Rowe of Oswego, was in town yesterday.

Miss Kate Toppins of New York, is visiting her parents.

W. R. Hamilton left last Saturday for his future home in Melvin, Ill.

J. D. Stay of Leland University, New Orleans, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Cora Burghduef has returned from a two week's visit to Baldwinsville.

Mrs. James Morrow has gone to Thousand Island Park to spend the season.

Miss Rebecca Stewart left this morning for a short visit with friends in Syracuse.

Frank Waterman, who is attending Princeton college, is expected home to-morrow.

Miss Fannie Reynolds returned last night from a visit to friends in Pompey, Onondaga county.

Mrs. Allen of Mexico, formerly Miss Lillian Corbin of this place, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. R. Nichols.

Mrs. J. E. Cary of Cortland, is spending a short time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rector.

Mrs. J. C. Gillispie and Mrs. E. C. Whitaker and daughter are visiting Mrs. W. N. Ferris, at Big Rapids, Mich.

Rev. A U. Hutchings of Titusville, Pa., a former pastor of the Universalist church in this village, was in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mellin and Mrs. Gammell of Fortress Monroe, Va., Mrs. Gen. Morgan and daughter Mrs. Clarence Stone of Syracuse, and Mr. and Mrs. Ward E. Dowd of New Haven, N. Y., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Stewart last Friday.

We Tell No Lies.

We buy our goods cheaper than any other dealer in Fulton, and will sell cheaper than any other dealer in Fulton. Come and see if we don't.

Salmon Shoe Store, Opra Block.

Cabbage plants, the best variety. For sale at L. K. Wilbur's, Fay street. 6w2

Buy the Underhill Opera Slipper of Goodjon. The best made.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

Gents' Bal. Button and Congress Shoes in the latest tip of the style, only $1.50 at COLLINS'. 7tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. John Martin and family desire to return their heartfelt thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted them during the illness and death of Mrs. Marcella Martin. Also to those who contributed flowers.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

New York Letter.

(Special to THE TIMES.)

This week has been the one for our yachtsmen. Everybody is alive to the necessity of maintaining the credit of the American yacht in general, and the retention of America's cup in particular. For a few years back—five or six preceding last year—there was a sort of lethargy in yacht circles, and beyond the mere club races of the various yacht clubs in the vicinity of this city and their annual cruise to Newport, there was nothing done toward an improvement in yacht architecture. Last year the challenge by the English yacht Genesta, caused a fearful shaking among our yachtsmen, and but for the building of the Puritan, the American cup would now be reposing in England. The history of the contest for the famous trophy is a pleasant page and ought to be repeated here, but I must content myself by referring to it slightly. The cup was first won by the yacht America, and has been successively competed for by the Livonia, the Countess of Dufferin and another. Each time we have been fortunate in having a vessel capable of sustaining the credit of the American yacht. During the last week, the contest has been chiefly between the Puritan and Mayflower of Boston and the Priscella and Atlantic of New York; hence it has incidentally happend that there has been a good natured rivalry between the two cities for the honor of competing in the coming race with the Galatea, the new English yacht that is to attempt the capture of the cup. It is difficult to describe in any way these yachts. They are each ninety feet long, and are provided with immense quantities of lead on their keel so that they may carry vast areas of canvas. These races become great events to the city suburban residents, and to the ladies are opportunities for displaying of fine toilets.

⁂

Wall street has afforded another lesson. Some years ago Col. Washington Verneilye died leaving more than three millions. This was divided between his two children, Romeyn and a daughter. Col. Verneilye was one of five brothers—all of whom became successful in life, and of these, one is now the respected pastor of the Collegiate church. The Col. founded the firm of Verneilye & Co. and of this firm Donald Mackay, the well-known financier, is a member. In the death of Col. Verneilye, the surviving members paid to Romeyn $700,000, the share that his father left with the firm. In addition he had gilt edge securities to the amount of several hundred thousand and a beautiful residence on the bank of the Hudson at Eiglewood, a suburb of Jersey City. All this money has been absorbed in Wall street speculation, and recently his failure was announced causing scarcely a stir in financial circles. Unscrupulous brokers regarding him as a worthy subject for their designs, urged him into all sorts of questionable transactions and when they let him go he had nothing. Brokerage fees to the amount of $10,000 have been paid to more than one firm. I have come to the conclusion that so-called Wall street financiering is nothing more than legalized robbery.

⁂

The Bijou and Wallacks are furnishing a good deal of fun to the crowds that gather nightly in front of these two theatres, but I fear it is not profitable to the management; for within they are nearly empty. Both these theatres are playing a translation of Audrau's opera, Serment D'Amour. Bijou calls the translation "The Bridal Trap," and Wallack terms his translation "The Crowing Hen." Both these translations are genuine, of course. It so happens that in front of Wallacks is a blank wall, and the Bijou being directly opposite, has thrown a streoptican advertisement on this wall ridiculing the "Crowing Hen." Wallack's people retaliated by hanging a banner in front of the Bijou and advertising in a singular manner by ridiculing "The Bridal Trap." All this is very funny for the outsiders. Indeed there are many who stay outside to see the fun who would otherwise go inside.

⁂

The recent tragedy in the Stutevant House recalls other hotel murders. The facts of the murder are briefly these. Winfield Thompson, the son of a Kansas City clergyman, came to this city presumably to study medicine. He was allowed money for this purpose, became acquainted with a German girl; gave her the impression he was rich; married her in the early part of June; spent his money; became ashamed to acknowledge his poverty and shot her and himself in the above hotel. Hotels in this city have not been visited with many murders. The murder of James Fisk by Stokes took place in the Grand Union on Broadway. But for his money and the strenuous efforts of his counsel, Lyman Tremain of Albany, Stokes would have dangled from a gallows. He is now the proprietor of the Hoffman house, and in realty, the plaintiff in the Bankers & Merchants Telegraph Co's. suit against the Western Union. William H. Vanderbilt's brother Cornelius, committed suicide in the Glenham on 5th avenue. Cornelius had a great deal of literary ability; and of all things the old Commodore hated it was the absence of business tact. His treatment of Cornelius was the height of cruelty and this neglect, this failure to understand his son, led indirectly to the suicide.

⁂

I noticed in the last issue of THE TIMES a statement to the effect that a monument was to be erected on Stony Point. I was considerably amused when I read it. Stony Point is about 40 miles from New York on the west side of the river. It is a rocky promontory jutting out in the river. At present it is crowned by a government lighthouse. More than thirty years ago on the seventy-fifth anniversary of the battle, the corner stone of a monument was laid. There were addresses and all that sort of thing. About three years ago when making a tour of the Revolutionary battle fields in the Hudson valley below Newburgh, I visited this historical spot. On making inquiry for the monument, an old resident told me that the foundation had once been laid, but that a farmer in the vicinity needed some stone for the basement of his house, and seeing these stones had quarried them out. Well, the depression that once contained the foundation was there, but alas! that unpatriotic farmer had removed its contents. I am told that the Congressmen of the district over the river is moving for a statute to "Mad Anthony Wayne" to be erected on this spot. I am fearful that some farmer will see a use for it and appropriate it as the other did the foundation.

⁂

Commencement week of our city colleges is at hand and I will have something to say about them next week.

WANDERER.

A TON OF TINWARE!

JUST RECEIVED AT

THE BOSTON BAZAAR,

BARGAIN STORE!

Reduced Prices
Special Drives,
25 cent Bargains.

PARASOLS
FANS
CORSETS
HOSIERY
GLOVES
RIBBONS
LACES
NOTIONS &c.
At Rock Bottom Prices.

FOR SUMMER WEAR.

Men's Boy's and Youths' Canvas Shoes, in large variety and very Cheap.

Also a Full Line of Low Shoes, at

NETTLETON'S.

We are indebted to E. V. Babcock, for copies of Detroit papers.

The Morrill Bros. have purchased a new Acme paper cutter for their printing rooms.

Rev. J. C. Breaker and Rev. Charles Hudson Smith exchanged pulpits last Sunday evening.

Why don't the Fulton band give another open air concert? Is it because they have had their excursion?

The small boy is beginning to lay awake nights thinking what a racket he will soon make with fire-crackers, torpedoes, etc.

Examinations for free scholarships to Cornell University will be held at the High School building Syracuse next Saturday morning.

This is commencement week at Syracuse University. Chancellor Sims preached the Baccalaureate sermon last Sunday evening.

S. C. North has gone to Central Park, near Watertown, to build a system of water works. He expects to be gone about six weeks.

The engine drawing a coal train on the N. Y. O. & W. railroad became disabled Monday afternoon and detained the 5:20 p. m. train nearly two hours.

Eight carloads of excursionists under the auspices of the German Catholic Young Men's association of Syracuse, picniced on the fair grounds last Monday.

The examination of applicants for State certificates ordered by the Superintendent of public instruction. will be held June 20th at Albany, Rochester and Watertown.

Mrs. Ney of Fulton has exhibited some of the finest "Luster Painting" that has ever been seen in our village. The prospects are that she will have a very large class, as every lady is pleased with her work.—[Baldwinsville Era.

Last Wednesday evening the Howe Ventilating Stove Works were broken into and robbed of a quantity of tools, etc. The same evening several residences in Oswego Falls were entered and some clothing stolen. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

A most enjoyable surprise party was given on Wednesday last at the residence of Mrs. A. M. Seeley, on Sixth street, for Mrs. Libbie Wells, some twenty of her friends being present. She left yesterday for Sandusky, Ohio, where she will spend a month or two with relatives.

W. D. Robinson of Buffalo is in town for a short time, visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Robinson will be remembered by many of our citizens as an old Fultonian, having been in business here about twenty years ago. He is at present engaged in a furniture house in Buffalo.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Dr. Archibald of this village some time ago discovered the presence of quinine in coal tar, and immediately set about a plan for its extraction in practical quantities, which he has recently accomplished. Specimens of the drug which he extracted have been submitted to the most eminent chemists in the country, and he is gratified to receive their assurance that it is of strength and purity equal to that produced from Peruvian Bark. [illegible]

Gored by a Bull.

Last Sunday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock, Fred Vant, a well-known and popular farmer of Mt. Pleasant, was seriously gored by a three-year-old Ayrshire bull. Mr. Vant went out into the lot and after catching the animal led him to the barn and while stooping over to tie him was attacked by the bull Mr. Vant's jaw was broken and a deep cut made under his chin, a gash several inches in length was torn in his right hip, while his back and breast was pounded and bruised in a shocking manner. The cries of the injured man for help brought several men to the scene, who attacked the bull with pitch forks, mercilessly prodding him, putting one of his eyes out, and eventually conquering him. The injured man's wounds were dressed by Dr. Lake of this village, who reports him as doing fully as well as could be expected, considering his advanced age, 63 years. The doctor said last night that unless inflammation set in in the bruised lungs, he was quite hopeful.

Three Ribs Broken.

Last Thursday Merritt Burgess of West Monroe, went to the house of a neighbor, Webster Sly, and while sitting upon the steps made remarks derogatory to one of the women present. Upon this Sly expostulated with Burgess, emphasising his remarks with a kick in the side which broke three of Burgess' ribs, also kicking him in the stomach. The injured man was taken home and Sly was arrested and will be examined to-day. District Attorney Mead was notified and will conduct the prosecution.

G. A. R. Field Day.

The rain on Thursday necessitated a postponement of the G. A. R. picnic until Saturday when it was held at the Fair Grounds and the original program was carried out, which included horse trotting, wheel-barrow racing, base ball, dancing, etc. Over 600 persons attended the picnic and seemed to thoroughly enjoy the occasion. About $50 was netted which goes into treasury of the organization. The Post is in a very flourishing condition, having 116 members in good standing.

Prize Contest at School No. 2.

On next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, a prize contest, consisting of Declamations, Recitations and Essays will be held in the high school department of School No. 2. Three prizes of $5 each have been offered by the Board. There will be two contestonts for the Declamation, three for the Essay and five for the Recitation prizes. Parents, friends and patrons of the school are cordially invited to attend.

For professional nurse, call at this office or at Dr. Woodbury's. 6w2

GENTLEMEN'S APPAREL.

Kent & Miller Have Every Style, and at Prices to suit the Buyer.

It is to everybody's advantage to buy clothes where they can get them the cheapest, quality and make considered. Every shrewd clothing buyer knows that it does not pay to get shoddy goods, when the best can be bought at a good house for a trifling amount in advance. Those who practice true economy realize this important point when buying clothing put their money where it will bring the best returns. The great advantages offered by Kent & Miller, 18 and 20 South Salina street should not for one minute be lost sight of by the public. Their summer stock is unusually varied and fine, affording an opportunity for pleasing all tastes and requirements. People coming from the country know that they can go to this house and be assured of fair treatment and fair dealing in the purchase of clothing. In the meantime, if any gentleman is too fastidious to be pleased with a ready-made suit, they have a large custom department where his tastes can be gratified. In all the departments the range of styles and novelties is greater than ever before, and there is a suit for everybody at his own price.

An extra stock of Ladies Fine Shoes at wholesale prices just in at Goodjon's.

FOR SALE.—A fine new milch cow, Jersey grade. Enquire at this office. 5ts

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

You will always find reliable Shoes at the Lowest Prices at COLLINS'. 7tf

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. GRAFF & CO.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

For the next 10 days Special Bargains in Calf Boots at GOODJON'S.

Pasturing, hemlock lumber, seed corn, seed potatoes and pigs for sale.
1tf J. C. [illegible]

The public schools close next Friday.

New potatoes are worth 40 cents a peck in the Fulton market.

Mrs. E. G. Dodge, M. D., is to be at the Johnson House next Saturday.

Scholars are looking forward eagerly to the close of school and the long vacation.

Next Saturday evening a strawberry and ice cream festival will be given at Volney Center.

Saturday night a horse owned by Levi Fuller of South Hannibal, was gored to death by a bull.

Miss Flossie Sheridan, who was thrown from her horse last week has entirely recovered from the accident.

W. S. Royce, formerly in the Citizens Bank, now has an interest in the Morrill Bros. job printing business.

To-morrow evening an ice cream and strawberry festival will be held at Bowens Corners for the benefit of Rev. Mr. Forbes.

Camp meeting at Dempster grove, New Haven, is to open this year on Monday August 23 and close Saturday August 28.

A large piece of plastering fell from the ceiling of C. R. Nichols' jewelry store last Thursday morning, breaking the show case.

Baldwinsville is also agitating the electric light question. The place has been canvassed and a large list of subscribers secured.

About thirty-five of the little friends of Miss Jennie Robinson helped her celebrate her eighth birthday yesterday afternoon at her home on Cayuga street.

The graduating exercises of the Baldwinsville Academy were held in Howard Opera house last Friday afternoon. There were eleven graduates.

A representative of the Thomson-Houston Electric Company of Boston, is in town superintending the work of putting up the wires, lamps, etc.

A number of Fultonians will visit Syracuse to-night and to-morrow night to attend the American Opera company. Special trains will be returned both evenings.

F. A. Gage has begun the erection of three Queen Anne cottages on his recently purchased lot, extending from May street to First street. S. V. Wise of Syracuse has the contract.

H. E. Nichols and Arthur Gilbert have formed a partnership and purchased the D. M. Perine mill and will make a specialty of grinding buckwheat. Possession will be given July 1st.

Eight car loads of excursionists under the auspices of the Church of the Evangelists of Oswego, passed through here yesterday morning for Sylvan Beach. A number of Fulton people joined the excursion at this point.

An ice cream festival is to be given on July 5th in Church's hall by the "Johnson running team." The proceeds are to be used toward procuring new uniforms for the company. The boys should be liberally patronized, and, we have no doubt, will be.

The superintendent of public instruction has issued a circular requesting that school commissioners in preparing for next year's teachers institute arrange to hold them in separate school-commissioner's districts. The results will undoubtedly be more effective where only 150 or 200 teachers attend than it is now in some districts where from 300 to 400 are in attendance.

Dr. W. A, Hall leaves July 1st for Syracuse where he has purchased the office, and will assume the practice of the late Dr. Pease. Dr. Hall has been located in Fulton for the past eight years, and during that time has built up a large and lucrative practice, and made many friends who will, while regretting his departure, join with us in wishing him continued prosperity in his new and wider field of labor.

At the meeting of the Fulton trotting association at the Lewis house one evening last week with thirty members present, it was resolved to make the organization permanent and join the national association. It was also determined to increase the purses to twenty-seven hundred dollars. The following officers were elected. President, O. J. Jennings; vice president, George Kellogg; secretary, John H. Case; treasurer, H. C. Gardner, and six trustees. The races will commence July 12th, and continue three days. There will be two races each day for a uniform purse of $250.

The Thomson-Houston Electric lighting system, which is to be tested in our village, is extensively used in Europe, and has been in operation in various cities of the United States for the past three or four years. This system was awarded the first prize at the Exposition held at Cincinnati in 1883, at San Francisco in 1884, and also at the great London Inventions Exhibition last summer. The Thomson-Houston light is generally conceded to be superior to any in the market by unbiased parties and is the light now used with such excellent satisfaction in the city of Syracuse. Some of the other cities, in this state that are now using it, are Utica, Auburn, Brooklyn and Elmira.

Remember Collins sells the best Ladies $2.00 Shoe. 7tf

Before you put a roof on that building, be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is [illegible]

[illegible] the closing exercises in the [illegible] district of which Miss Sharpe has so long been the teacher. From early morning all was life and bustle on the school-ground, showing the day was to be observed differently from the usual school work. At an early hour friends and patrons began to assemble until the time of opening the exercises. When at the ringing of the bell, the children gave their opening address, with prayer and song, and marched to their seats. The room was tastefully decorated with cedar, ferns and lovely flowers, and the desk was entirely loaded with beautiful boquets brought by loving hands to their teacher. The word "Welcome" showed how glad each one was to see their school room so entirely filled. For an hour and a half the scholars occupied the attention of all present with their Recitations, Declamations, Dialogues and Singing, while the sweet music given by the violin and base viol was listened to with delight by all. After which the prizes were awarded. The first prize being for those scholars who had been present at every lesson during the term, without being tardy. These being the following named: Mabel Dines, Mamie Dines, Charlie Seeley, Mattie Baggs, Clara Dines, Carrie Andrews, Prudie Andrews, Hally Dines. The exercises were concluded with a picnic on the school grounds, where swings and hammocks were hung, games played etc. Then came refreshments of which there was a bountiful supply of cake, strawberries, candies and raisins. They remained until seven o'clock, when all departed with the thought of a happy day spent, and how much it had been enjoyed by old and young alike, with the best wishes for the school and teacher, and a hope of many such a gathering in the years to come.

Luxurious Traveling.

On Monday June 14th, the New York, Ontario and Western railway began running Pulman Drawing Room cars on their trains No. 1, 2, 3 and 4. This is in addition to the sleeping cars on their night line. These Drawing Room cars are among the handsomest ever turned out by the Pullman company. The "Hebe" which took the first premium at the exposition, is finished in rosewood, the others in mahogany. They have adjustable reclining chairs which permit of any position, and it is safe to say that no more elegant or luxurious cars were ever put in the public service. The new hard coal engines recently purchased by this company for service on their passenger trains, are now being put on to the great satisfaction of their patrons. The N. Y. O. & W. this summer will be excelled by no other line out of New York in the facilities offered for luxurious and enjoyable summer travel.

The Electric Lights.

It is expected that Fulton will be lighted for the first time by electricity Friday evening. The dynamo arrived Saturday morning and has been placed in Herrick & Emerick's box shop. It is one of the most approved machines and is rated as a twenty light dynamo, each light being two thousand candle power. Four or five lights are to be erected, one each at the crossing of Cayuga and Oneida streets with Second, one at the corner of Cayuga and First and one at the foot of Oneida street near the canal bridges. The fifth one will be placed at the corner of Cayuga and Third streets, by the Presbyterian church. The poles are being erected and the workmen are busy in completing the arrangements.

The Street Railroad a Sure Thing.

Representatives of the New York parties who are interested in the building of the new street railroad, and the contractor, Mr. Walker, are in town today and this morning met the stockholders in Mead & Stranahan's office. All conjecture and theory in regard to the building of the road is now put at rest and the work of construction will begin at once. The contractor told a TIMES reporter this noon that the cars would positively be running on the road by the 1st of August.

OBITUARY.

Eliza M. Kelsey, wife of Martin A. Kelsey died at her home at Granby Centre Oswego county, N. Y., May 26 1886. She was born at Elizabeth, N. J., Nov 24 1814; and had for some time previous to her marriage to Mr. Kelsey; three years since, made her home in Glens Falls, N. Y., where her only child, Mrs. M. R. Peck resides. The disease from which she suffered was a serious stomach trouble causing severe pain and intense agony, yet with it all her patience was remarkable, and her thought for the comfort of others always first. Her nature was a thoroughly unselfish one, and she was happiest when giving some pleasure to others. That her influence was felt, and her goodness appreciated was shown by the uniting devotion of family and friends during her last weary days. She looked forward with joy and brightest hope to the life "beyond the river."

"Her face so beautiful in death,
Bore witness to the truthful faith
That through long years of pain and care:
Through weariness so hard to bear,
Brought to the darkest night
Some pure, sweet, gleam of blessed light;
And now her feet just over there,
Have crossed beyond the River; where
Her faith had taught her, she would meet
Her long—lost ones in union sweet.

Word has been received here of the death of Hon. James Darius Hancock, which occurred at Dresden, N. Y., Friday, June 11th. Mr. Hancock was a well known and popular man in this section, having been a resident of Granby over 40 years. Diseased leaves a wife, an adopted daughter and three brothers—one of them is his elder and the other two younger than himself. These brothers are as follows: Geo. F. Hancock, Minnesota, Chauncy B. Hancock, New York, and Theodore E. Hancock, Syracuse. The remains were interred at Schenectady.

Mrs. Marcella Martin, wife of John Martin, died at her home on Cayuga street last Saturday morning, at the age of 63 years and 10 months. Mrs. Martin was well known in Fulton and was honored and respected by all who knew her. The funeral services were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from the Catholic church. Interment was made at Mt. Adnah.

How Boys Dress To-Day

Who patronize our establishment and you will agree with us that this is indeed a progressive age, and that the art of dress is in no sense a sufferer by comparison with the other sciences. To dress children correctly is truly an art, and with our experience in this branch of our business we recognize no competition.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

BIG BARGAINS!

—We will for a few days offer our entire stock of—

Tinware, Glassware, Woodware, Fancy Goods, TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.

at greatly reduced prices. Remember we will sell at these prices for a few days only as they are less than cost to manufacture. The following are a few prices:

1 Large hand saw (warranted)	25cts.	worth	75cts.
1 10 quart pail	15 "	"	50 "
1 2 " "	7 "	"	12 "
1 Lamp burner	5 "	"	15 "
1 Large dinner pail	19 "	"	45 "
1 Paper good pins	2 "	"	8 "
1 paper first-class needles	2 "	"	8 "
5 Tin basins, (different sizes)	19 "	"	50 "
1 Dust pan	7 "	"	15 "
1 Fine bird cage	48 "	"	75 "
1 Hand lamp	18 "	"	25 "
1 Large doll	19 "	"	35 "
1 Large comb	5 "	"	10 "
1 " dripping pan	16 "	"	25 "

Good writing paper 6 sheets for 1c. worth 1 cent per sheet.
6 Good envelopes for 1 cent worth 1 cent each.
Tumblers 2½cts. worth 5cts.
1 pair good Hose 8cts. worth 15cts.

and all other goods in proportion. This is a chance offered but once in a life time. We positively sell as we advertise.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,

Opera House Block, Fulton, N. Y.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectric Physician,

will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, June 26, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All Female Diseases made a specialty. Consultation Free. 2tf

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify. Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

MILTON S. PRICE'S

Great Special Offering.

I SHALL OPEN THIS DAY

Best Bargains this Season

Seventy five pieces ARLINGTON FANCY DRESS GOODS, only 20c. and 25c. per yard. Recently sold at 40c. and 50c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces GILBERT'S CELEBRATED SUITINGS, in Mixtures, Silk Wool Fancy Checks and Diagonal Fancies, only 50c. a yard; worth $1.

Ten pieces Extra Quality CASHMERE ROYAL BLACK SILKS, only $1.00 per yard; elsewhere $1.50.

Twenty Pieces BLACK SATIN RHADAMES, only 75c., 89c., $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50 per yard. All Real Bargains.

Five Cases INDIA CRINKLES, only 6c., worth 12½c.

Ten Cases STANDARD PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

Five Cases SEERSUCKER GINGHAMS, only 6¼c. per yard, worth 10c.

Ten Cases BEST SPRING STYLES PRINTS, only 5c. per yard.

One hundred and Fifty Pieces NAINSOOK CHECKS, only 4c. and 6¼c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces Spring Tide SATIN PLAIDS AND CHECKS, only 12½c. per yard.

SPECIAL PRICES ON

Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.

NEW ASSORTMENTS

Rich Chantilly and Spanish Guipure Laces Flounces, &c.

Purchasers will find it to their interest to examine these rare bargains at

MILTON S. PRICE'S.

An Elegant Line of Men's Fancy Plaid, Checked and Striped Pants.

We now have the Finest Stock of Men's and Boy's Suits in Town and the prices are Right.

A Large Stock of Men's Hosiery and Underwear just Received.

We sell the best 50c. Fine Shirt in America.

D. C. MORE & CO.,
The Reliable one priced Dealer,
Opposite Lewis House,
Fulton, N. Y.

Worth Knowing.

Keep the weeds down.

June is the weed month.

Don't cut the lawn grass too short.

Mow the roadsides and keep down the nasty weeds.

Plant celery from the middle of June to the middle of July.

Sow cucumbers for pickles in June. Make the plants rather close together in the rows.

The United States crop report shows wheat to be in an excellent condition at the end of May.

Has anybody ever tried spraying with Paris green or London purple for the plum curculio.

Encourage toads in your hotbed and garden and they will destroy more than their weight in insect pests.

Dust melon vines with Paris green or Loneon purple to keep of the bug. Dust with one part of the powder to twenty-five parts flour.

Pork packers are begining to use honey instead of molasses to cure hams with, Mr. Charles Muth says. It goes farther and is more reliable.

The family want choice sweet corn all summer. Of course you planted some of Stowell's evergreen the first of May. Now plant some more every month, June, July and the first of August.

Never salt butter more than at the rate of three ounces to ten pounds—not quite a third of an ounce to the pound. Much so-called butter comes to the city markets that tastes more like pickled pork.

Many farmers continue to keep shoes on their horses during the plowing and corn cultivating season. It will be a relief to the horse and benefit his feet to be relieved of shoes for the plowing season.

Successful winter dairying is carried on by the use of roots for cow feed. Plant them in time. There are carrots, mangolds, sugar beets, etc., anything but turnips. These make the milk taste. Juicy foods keep up the flow of milk.

A would-be-farmer set out a year ago three acres of strawberries, and never got a berry. The reason was he set out only pistillate or male plants. He did not know that some varieties of strawberries are imperfect, and must have rows of other variety planted along with them.

Horse Talk.

A man says the way to start an obstinate horse is to take him out of the shafts and lead him around until he is giddy.

Rye bread is a common feed for horses in Belgium and Germany.

Ground feed is better than whole grain for horses because it is more readily digested. Thus the horse gets more good out of ground feed and the cost may be a trifle less.

The Journal of Agriculture says that when a horse is known to have the glanders he should be killed. It is as dangerous a disease as hydrophobia in a dog.

The late Mr. Vanderbilt, who was the richest man in the world was an ardent lover of fast horses. He once owned Maud S.

By nailing a strip of sheepskin about eight inches in width the entire length of the crib, selecting a skin covered with long wool, and sprinkling it freely with cayenne pepper, renewing it occasionally, the worst cribber can be persuaded to desist from this habit.—[Farmers' Magazine.

It is singular that while thoroughbred blood is held to be detrimental to trotters, yet every trotter of note is sure to have more or less of it in him, and in most cases it is more than less. Facts are stubborn things, and it is no use kicking against them.—[Michigan Farmer.

Horses will go eight and probably ten hours without food if properly fed at evening and morning. They should have water more frequently, but never when hot.

The Care of Barnyards.

A barnyard can and should be kept neat. The manure should be stacked in the center, and the droppings in the other parts of the yard should be thrown on this stack at least once a day. The manure stack should be kept lowest in the central part, and if the drainage of the roof be occasionally turned on this, all the better. This mass can be loaded more easily into wagons, and will be found of greater bulk and strength than if allowed to scatter over the yard, exposed to sun and rains. Just at this time when the ground is settling so that manure can be moved to the fields, fortunate is the provident farmer who has turned his manure pile twice, and now has it fine and reduced in bulk. It is in condition to be at once appropriated as plant food, and can be taken to the field with half the labor required had it not been worked over. It can be spread evenly on the wheat or meadow lands, while the crude manure is thrown off in chunks or forkfuls, to smother plants and be a nuisance on the meadow or wheat field. There is a class of farmers who have a mania for making manure. Making manure for the sake of the manure is a little like paying a dollar or two per cord for it and hauling it several miles to the farm.—[Ben. Perley Poore.

Late Planted Potatoes.

With many good farmers it is the custom to manure late in the autumn, spreading it from the cart. In spring, as soon as the snow has disappeared (about the 10th of April) the field is gone over with a birch brush harrow. Some time in May, when the sprouts are still small, the potatoes are brought from the cellar and spread out on a scaffold in a barn or outbuilding, where they are exposed to the air, but not to full light. Here the sprouts will harden, grow short and firm, and may be planted without breaking as late as July. In Northern New England from the 20th to the 25th of June is early enough for planting winter potatoes. Sometimes a crop of hay may even be taken off, if the land has been well top-dressed in the autumn [illegible]

[illegible] nearly three acres of ground; its [illegible] is 4,067,600 feet; it cost about 100,000,000 francs.

The largest suspension bridge is the one between New York city and Brooklyn; the length of the main span is 1,595 feet 6 inches; the entire length of the bridge is 5,980 feet.

The loftiest active volcano is Popocatapel—"Smoking mountain"—thirty-five miles southwest of Pueblo, Mexico; it is 17,748 feet above the sea level, and has a crater three miles in circumference and 1,000 feet deep.

The longest span of wire in the world is used for telegraph in India over the River Kistnah, between Bezorah and Sectynagrum. It is more than 6,000 feet in length and is 1,200 feet high.

The largest ship in the world is the Great Eastern. She is 680 feet long, 83 feet broad and 60 feet deep, being 29,627 tons burden, 18,915 gross and 13,344 net register. She was built at Millwall-on-the-Thames and was launched January 31, 1857.

The largest body of fresh water on the globe is Lake Superior, 400 miles long, 160 wide at its greatest breadth, and having an area of 32,000 square miles. Its mean depth is 900 feet, and its greatest depth is said to be about 200 fathoms. Its surface is about 635 feet above the level of the sea.

The biggest cavern is the Mammoth Cave, in Edmonson county, Ky. It is near the Green river, about six miles from Cave City and twenty-eight from Bowling Green. The cave consists of a succession of irregular chambers, some of which are large, situated on different levels. Some of these are traversed by navigable branches of the subterranean Echo river. Blind fish are found in its waters.

American Mills and Looms

The cotton manufacture in 1885 shows the total number of mills in the United States as 826, containing 261,228 looms and 12,280,842 spindles, manufacturing 786,000,000 yards of print cloths per annum. Of these, New England has 481 mills, containing 205,011 looms and 9,481,272 spindles, manufacturing 656,000,000 yards of print cloth.

Fall River has 1,742,884 spindles and 40,908 looms. It has 55 mills, with an incorporated capital of $18,139,000, but a probable investment of $35,000,000.

New England has made a large increase in spindles and looms within the past five years.

Fall River has thus nearly one-seventh of the spindles in the country, and about one-fifth of those in New England.—[Scientific American.

Wise Words About Women.

Without hearts there is no home—[Byron.

How much the wife is dearer than the bride.—[Lyttleton.

We can have many wives, but only one mother.—[Abd-el-Kader.

Be ever gentle with the children God has given you.—[Elihu Burritt.

It destroys one's nerves to be amiable every day to the same human being.—[Baconsfield.

A wise man in his household should find a wife gentle and courteous or no wife at all.—[Euripides.

Women must have their wills while they live, because they make none when they die.—[Douglas Jerrold.

Nothing flatters a man so much as the happiness of his wife; he is always proud of himself as the source of it.—[Johnson.

A curtain lecture is worth all the sermons in the world for teaching the virtue of patience and long suffering.—[Washington Irving.

Don't be afraid of wild girls and boys; they often grow up to be the very best men and women. Wildness is not viciousness.—[Herbert Spencer.

In family government let this always be remembered—that no reproof or denunciation is so potent as the silent influence of a good example.—[Hosea Ballou.

The Fourteen Mistakes of Life.

Smebody has condensed the mistakes of life, and arrived at the conclusion that there are fourteen of them. Most people would say, if they told the truth that there was no limit to the mistakes of life; that they were like the drops in the ocean or the sands of the shore in number. out it is well to be accurate: Here then, are fourteen great mistakes "It is a great mistake to set up our own standard of right or wrong, and judge people accordingly; to measure the enjoyment of others by our own; to expect uniformity of opinion in this world; to look for judgment and experience in youth; to endeavor to mould all dispositions alike; to yield to immaterial trifles; to look for perfection in our own actions; to worry ourselves and others with what can not be remedied; not to alleviate all that needs alleviation as far as lies in our power; not to make allowances for the infirmities of others; to consider everything impossible that we cannot perform; to believe only what our finite minds can grasp; to expect to be able to understand everything."—[Exchange.

If you need a plaster you certainly want the one that cures quickest. The Hop Plaster is prompt, and certain, cures all aches and pains and strengthens the parts. Beware of Imitations! Hop Plaster Co., signature on back of plaster.

General W. T. Sherman will leave St. Louis, July 1, for Oregon and California, to attend the Grand Army meeting, and on his return will take up his permanent residence in New York.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The largest strawberry ever picked, is is said, was plucked at Marlborough, Ulster county. It measured nine inches in circumference.

[illegible]

[illegible]

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

THE PRETTIEST LADY in Olean was asked what made her complexion so clear and beautiful She said it was by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine Sold by H. C. Giesler.

ONE OF THE MOST NOTED European physicians said: Neuralgia was the prayer of a diseased nerve for healthy blood. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for the blood. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. L. LOOMIS, of Elba, N. Y., writes us that she was sick for six months, was induced to try Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and four bottles cured her. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. H. B. EMELL, of Pavillion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffers from Female weakness and Debility, will find Gilmore's Aromatic a positive cure. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC is a great success, therefore we challenge the world to produce its equal as a restorative for woman. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK REQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavillion, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with Malaria, Bowel Difficulty and sleepless nights, which I found was wearing me out. After taking Aromatic Wine two days I realized great relief, sleeping well and otherwise feeling like a new man. I cheerfully recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. I. M. DERBY, of Linden, N. Y., says: "The Gilmore Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife." For sale by H. C. Giesler.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

The Indian Agriculturalist estimates there 280,000,000 cocoanut trees in the world, which produce 10,000,000,000 nuts every year.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns; and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Mrs. Cleveland possesses sixteen trunk loads of wearing apparel, which is said to distance Mary Anderson by three.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Only 100,000,000 people use coffee. 500,000,000 use tea and all known races use tobacco.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of Consumption, Chronic Coughs and Emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specifics is largely increased. It is also very palatable. 5w4

Four weekly newspapers are published in the Chinese language in San Francisco.

"No Physic, Sir, in Mine.

A good story comes from a boys' boarding-school in "Jersey." The diet was monotonous and constipating, and the learned Principal decided to introduce some old-style physic in the apple-sauce, and await the happy results. One bright lad, the smartest in school, discovered the secret mine in his sauce, and pushing back his plate, shouted to the pedagogue, "No physic, sir, in mine, My dad told me to use nuthin' but Dr. Pierce's 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets,' and they are a doing their duty like a charm!" They are anti-bilious, and purely vegetable.

K. F. Knowles, a loom manufacturer of Worcester, Mass., has bought a $800,000 hotel in Florida.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. [illegible]

[illegible]

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5tf

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvelous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

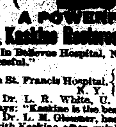
Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

[illegible]



CURES QUICKLY.
PLEASANT, PURE.

A POWERFUL TONIC.
Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. { "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleasner, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

The deepest boring yet made is said to be at Schladebach, near the line between Leipsic and Corbetha, for the purpose of ascertaining the presence of coal, and was bored with diamond drills. Its depth is 1,390 meters, or 4,560 feet, its breadth at the bottom two inches, and at the top eleven inches. The temperature at the bottom indicates 118 degrees Fahr.

Tired, Languid, Dull

Exactly expresses the condition of thousands of people at this season. The depressive effects of warm weather, and the weak condition of the body, can only be corrected by the use of a reliable tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why suffer longer when a remedy is so close at hand? Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will give you untold wealth in health, strength, and energy.

A first-class American locomotive, with eight wheels and automatic brakes, costs $7,000; a first-class modern sleeper, $10,000; a parlor car, $5,800; a passenger coach, $5,500; a second class car, $4,200, a postal car, $3,000; a baggage car, $2,000; a box car for freight, $400; a coal car, $325; a flat car, $300; a caboose; $90).

MOST EXCELLENT.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes; "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store. Large size, $1.00.

There are at present 740 old soldiers in France who have served under the first Napoleon and each of them receives a life annuity of 250 francs. At the present death rate four years will find the last veteran gone.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from Catarrh and Liver Complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing Sulphur Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

General Schofield notified the New York park commissioners, Wednesday that the United States troops guarding the tomb of General Grant at Riverside park would be removed June 30th.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number o testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises, H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

On a clear night about 3,000 stars are visible to the naked eye. A like number in the opposite hemisphere makes a total of about 6,000 that can be seen without a glass.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

What is said to be the largest schooner in the world will soon be launched at Bath, Me. She will have a coal carrying capacity of 2,600 tons.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

In certain parts of Minnesota one can travel a hundred miles and find none but Swedes.

An Illustrious Precedent.

Cleveland is 49 years old, Mrs. Cleveland is 22. There is twenty-seven years differences in their ages; still there is not much more difference than there was in the ages of President Madison and his wife, and Mrs. Madison made one of the best mistresses the White House ever had. She was just as old as Mrs. Cleveland is now when she married Madison.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c. [illegible]

[illegible]

—[Exchange.

There was a young lady named Wise,
[illegible]
[illegible]
Could bake, dance and sing,
But couldn't make custard pies.
—[The London Period.

He was unknown to fame till when
He got a situation,
Along with eight distinguished men,
To play at short-stop's station.
He leaped to fame's etherial round,
When he his foes did stagger,
And did it at a single bound,
By making one three-bagger.
—[Life.

Soled again—An old pair of shoes—[New Haven News.

Given to lying—the man who sleeps till 10 o'clock in the morning.—[Gold Leaf.

The man who never does any harm might crawl into a cave and stay there ten years without being missed.—[Chicago Ledger.

Dr. Mary Walker is reported as having the appearance of one just coming from a misfit clothing store.—[New Orleans Picayune.

"And she jilted you. did she?" inquired Rufus of Adolphus.

"Me deah boy," replied Adolphus, hastily, "never use that dweadful wohd again. Call it a boycott, me deah boy—call it a boycott."—[Judge.

Teacher—Jessie, can you tell me what it is that a cat has that no other animal has?

Jessie—Fur.

Teacher—Wrong. Carrie, what is it?

Carrie—I don't know, ma'am.

Little Ethel (holding up her hand)—Please, ma'am, I know.

Teacher—Well, Ethel, what is it?

Ethel—Kittens.—[Life.

We'll give eleven dollars for the sight of the boy ten years old who can get out of bed in the morning and find his hat and shoes without half an hour's hunt.—[Exchange.

We think it neither fair nor proper to make ballet girls the subject of newspaper witticisms. Respect and consideration should always be shown for elderly people whatever their station.—[Lowell Citizen.

Old gentleman (to tramp, to whom he had just given a nickel)—"Now, my friend, what will you do with that money?" Tramp (gazing awe-struck at the money)—"I think I'll put half of it in the bank, and the rest I'll spend for a peach-blow vase."—[New York Sun.

"There is something in this little fellow I like, said an appreciate uptown visitor of a young hopeful he was trotting on his knee. "Say, now," said the smart boy, "how did you know I had swallowed a nickel?"—[New Orleans Picayune.

Someone says "a good laugh is sunshine in a house." That's very pretty, but is it always so? Did it ever seem very sunshiny in your house when you have commenced to laugh at your wife, who has hit her finger with the tack hammer?—[Yonkers Statesman.

Fond Wife—"George, dear, here is a paragraph in the paper which says there is an old hen living in Vermont that was born in 1826; could you possibly believe such a story?" Wicked Husband—"That isn't so very old; I think you said your mother was born in 1820.—[Boston Post.

Young man keep your clothes well brushed. A traveling man had to "set 'em up" six times at the Brunswick hotel, the other day, upon a long hair being found lying carelessly across each of his shoulders.—[Decatur, (Ill.) Review

Old Chappie—"Ah, here comes DePeters, and weally, Chawles, you must excuse me, yer know. He's a nice fellow and all that, but he wears such a beastly old-fashioned collar and always carries his gloves with the fingers in front instead of behind, that weally, yer know, I am ashamed to walk with him.—[Life.

"Hello! There's Jack Bouncer from Buffalo, I'll call him over and introduce you."

"Far Gawd's! no, deah boy, no.

"Why, what's the matter? He's a good fellow, I assure you."

"I can not help that, deah boy. I cannot affawd to meet anyone that doesn't come from Bawston aw Philadelphia. My position won't pawmit it, weally.—[Town Topics.

The difference between a self-made man and a self-made woman is ten old papers, four plaits, ninety-eight hairpins and a pretty little box labelled face powder.—[N. Y. Telegram.

"Hello, Bagley, when did you get back?"

"I haven't been out of town, sir."

"Excuse me, I thought you had. I have passed your house every night for the past three weeks and never saw a light in the parlor, and so.——"

"That's easily explained. My daughter has been received nightly visits from her intended."—[Philadelphia Call.

Wanted to Change Places.

During the terrific thunderstorm that came over the city last week a little eight years-old boy living in the northern part of the town was awakened, and called his mother, who was sitting in the drawing room down stairs. She sat with him awhile, and told him he need have no fear, because God took care of little boys, and would not let the lightning hurt them.

"But God is away up in heaven," said the child.

"Yes," replied the mother, "but he is here too. He is staying right in the room with you. He can protect you, but I can not. As long as God is here, you need not be afraid."

The child was quieted, and the mother left him and went back to the drawing room. Pretty soon there came another deafening clap of thunder, when the boy, crawling out of bed, came to the head of the stairs and called again.

"What do you want, George?" asked his mother.

"You come up here and stay with God awhile, and let me go down stairs," was the reply.—[Washington Capital.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C. Gisler, has made a thorough study of blood diseases, and after a careful [illegible]

[illegible] premiums of over $[illegible] in [illegible] premiums, in addition to the special prizes of gold, silver and bronze medals and certificates. The premiums are for live stock of every nature, farm produce, implements, fruits and flowers.

A BURGLAR CAPTURED.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of Rheumatism.—Exchange.

My son, if sinners entice thee to sign a paper, kick them heavenward before thou consent.—[Bennett.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

The fire insurance companies doing business in London have at risk in that city more than $3,700,000,000.

How Women Would Vote.

Were women allowed to vote, every one in the land who has used Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" would vote it to be an unfailing remedy for the diseases peculiar to her sex. By druggists.

An electrical signal travels at the rate of 16,000 miles per second.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

IT IS Dangerous

Don't Wait. Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. Send A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

When you have occasion to buy another SUIT OF CLOTHES or OVERCOAT, for yourself or boys, see that the above label is on the coat, and you will secure the BEST FITTING, BEST WEARING and BEST LOOKING CLOTHING MADE. Every garment bears a ticket, on which appears the "T. C. & Co." monogram (trade mark). Try it.

Sold by PEEBLES & COOK,
Fulton.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic.
25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

PERFECT HEALTH Is impossible if the Digestion is impaired, the Liver inactive, or the Bowels Constipated.

Tarrant's Effervescent

Seltzer Aperient

will cure Constipation, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia. It regulates the bowels and enables those of feeble digestion to enjoy their food. It reduces Fever, Cools the Blood, is invaluable in Piles and Inflammatory Diseases, and is a justly esteemed Aperient for Children. Economical, Reliable, Elegant. It should be found in every household. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Manufactured only by TARRANT & CO., New York.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 961 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

[illegible]
324 and 326 Pearl St., New York.
☞ SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

SALESMEN

[illegible]

[illegible]

August.

Oswego—At the Court House in Oswego, first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

Pulaski—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith, in Pulaski, January [illegible] and on the [illegible] in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

Fulton—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

Mexico—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner, in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and [illegible] and the fourth Friday in October.

Central Square—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 26th and September 28th.

Parish—At A. H. & J. S. Lathrop's law office, April 28th, July 20th and Sept. 28th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 15th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 18th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 18th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK; By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alzina Hubbard, widow, and Friend L. Hubbard, heir at law, both of Granby, N. Y., and Henry C. Howe and Arvin Rice as executors, etc. of Harriet Lampman, deceased, and Lewis H. Hutchins as administrator, etc. of Polly Marvin, deceased, creditors, and to all other creditors of, and all persons interested in the real estate of William Hubbard late of the Town of Granby in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the county of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the distribution of the surplus money arising on the sale of mortgaged premises under a mortgage given by said William Hubbard, deceased, among the persons entitled thereto.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 31st day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L. S.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alice Hethington, Fulton, N. Y., widow; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charlotte Grace Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, heirs at law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. E. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, S. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stowe, R. S. Galt, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other creditors and all persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said decedent, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 8th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

(L. S.)

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

FORECLOSURE SALE.
SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 24th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 34-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 34-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 80 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along said south line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 294, leaving 28 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated June 7, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Attys for Plff,
Fulton, N. Y.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUM[illegible]

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK SPRUCE

SHINGLES, L[illegible]

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

ET EENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image" VOLUME 19—NUMBER 8

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

After All.

The apples are ripe in the orchard,
The work of the reaper is done,
And the golden woodlands redden
In the blood of the dying sun.

At the cottage door the grandsire
Sits pale in the easy chair,
While the gentle wind of the twilight
Plays with his silver hair.

A woman is kneeling beside him;
A fair young head is pressed,
In the first wild passion of sorrow,
Against his aged breast.

And far from over the distance
The faltering echoes come
Of the flying past of trumpet
And the rattling roll of drum.

And the grandsire speaks in a whisper:
"The end no man can see;
But we give him to his country,
And we give our prayers to thee."

The violets star the meadows,
The rosebuds fringe the door,
And over the grassy orchard
The pink white blossoms pour.

But the grandsire's chair is empty,
The cottage is dark and still;
There's a nameless grave in the battlefield,
And a new one under the hill.

And a pallid, tearless woman,
By the cold hearth sits alone;
And the old clock in the corner
Ticks on with a steady drone.
—[William Winter.

Suppose.

H. O. DODGE.

Suppose a man should gaily wear
A tiny hat on top of head,
And moustaches and bang his hair
And paint his cheeks a rosy red.

And show bare arms and shoulders white,
And on his waist a corset bind,
And pad and dress in garments tight
And strap a bustle on behind.

And hobble in thin French heeled shoes
And ear-rings wear and bracelets slim,
And rather sweets than beefsteak choose—
What would the women think of him?

They'd rightly think he hadn't brains,
And laugh at all his aches and pains.

Suppose a woman now should wear
A hat protecting head and eyes,
And plainly, smoothly brush her hair,
And all unnatural things despise,

And don warm, easy fitting clothes
For comfort—not to show her shape,
And thus her sacred charms expose
To eyes of any leering ape.

And wear broad, thick-soled shoes of sense,
And walks instead of rides prefer,
And learn to cook and save expense—
What would the men all think of her?

They wouldn't think—they'd know that she
Was better than they e'er could be.
—[Goodall's Sun.

THE OLD SETTLER.

"IT'S just nine years ago yisterday sence I had that rippin' ol' circus with the big b'ar, over on the edge o' 'Bijer Davis's clearin'," said the Old Settler, taking off his spectacles and looking around on the boys without a quaver or a blush, as if they didn't know, every one of them, that he hadn't seen a bear for these last twenty years.

"Thar!" exclaimed the 'Squire, with one of his wicked winks at the boys, and a look of mock gratefulness at the Old Settler. "Major," said he, "yuv lifted a load off'n me that'll pull my heft down more'n nineteen pound! An' wunt 'Bijer Davis be tickled nor nothin' w'en I tell him o' this? 'Bijer riz it from a cub, boys, and I never in all my life see sech a innercent an' 'fectionlt critter ez that b'ar growed to be. An' playful? Why, jis' like a kitten; an' it'd foller anybody, so ez 'Bijer had to keep it tied up. It got ontied one day in the spring of '77—w'y so it were major! Yer right. Jist nine years ago yisterday. It got outied an' edged away some'rs afore anybody 'skivered that it war missin', an, they never see nor heerd nuthin' of it arterwuds. Ye see it war my fault that the b'ar got ontied, I bein, out to 'Bijer's that day a foolin' with it, an' the thought th't it mowt be a trapesin' 'bout the country p'formin' with an organ-grinder, is w'at's bin a weighin' me down ever sence. But now th't I know't the poor innercent critter 'scaped sech an endin' ez th't I kin rest easy o' nights wunst more. But say, Major," said the 'Squire in a mildly deprecatory tone. "Ye orter said sumpin' 'bout it, 'fore this. Keepin' mum all the w'ile th't I ben suffer' 'bout it haint no way to treat a neighbor. An' the ring in the bar's nose Major, w'at'd ye do wi' that?"

The boys almost held their breath. Here was an occasion that justified the Old Settler in thumping the floor into splinters with his cane and in raising the tavern roof with the amplitude and force of his well-known vocabulary. But he remained as unruffled and undisturbed as the pail of drinking water on the tavern bench. He looked at the 'Squire as if he pitied him, and calmly said:

"Squire," said he, "if 'twa'nt fur yer ter'ble onfort'nit dispysition, ye mowt make a livin' carin' fur sheep. Ez 'tis, yer a leetle too quar'lsome. But yer can't pick no quar'l with me, 'Squire. It's easier, b'gosh, to rile a blattin' ewe th'n it is to break up the straight squeejee o' my dispysition. Dominie Skinner usety say th't a soft answer turneth away rats, an' while I don't go quite so fur es to swallow all o' that, I kin give it to ye ez a p'int that it may do ye a heap o' good to know, that one level head is wuth more'n twenty-eight thumps in the neck, an' don't ye furgit it, 'Squire."

The boys were astounded and disappointed.

"If yuv ever skinned along the north edge o' 'Bijer Davis's clearin', boys," continued the Old Settler, "ye mowt ha' noticed a big rock th't lays in the swamp holler at the foot o' Slidin' Ridge. Th'ain't nuthin' other rocks nigh [illegible] an if any of ye has seen it layin' [illegible] mowt likely wondered how [illegible] it got thar. Th' hain't no [illegible] to be thar but [illegible] on the edge o' 'Bijer Davis's clearin', an' ez I hadn't had a trapse in the woods sence my last set-to with the azmy, I tol' M'riar I'd pop over to 'Bijer's an' gether in the yarbs. So I shoved my graftin' knife in my pocket an' went. I found the birch a peelin' ez free ez a boy goin' in swimmin'; an' the way 'Bijer's woods smelt o' yarbs would ha' skeert the colic 'way f'm a week-old baby. I went down on my knees at the foot o' Slidin' Ridge, jis' more th'n yankin' out sassyfrax root, w'en kerswot! come a whack long side o' my head, an' I flew an' slid an' tumbled over sumfin' like a quarter'y an acre o' lan' 'fore I got my bearin's.

"'Lightnin'!' I says, ez I grabbed an' clutched fur sumpin' to anchor to. 'An' out'n a clear sky at that,' I says.

"W'en I found myself ag'n, an' got up to look back an' see if the lightnin' had left anything a standin', w'at should loom up afore me but a big b'ar, right on the spot whar I'd been a diggin', an' thar he sot, dinin' on my birch bark an' sassyfrax, ez impydent ez a lightnin-rod peddler. He had act'ly come up ahind me ez I were yankin' the roots, an' had swatted me off'n my own diggin's! Wul, now, b'gosh, I wa'nt a gointer lay down an' put up with no gol-durn nonsense from a b'ar 'thout disputin' the question, an' so I jist hustled back with my graftin' knife in my hand, an' in less'n nine seconds me an' that b'ar was buckled inter one o' the pootiest rough-an'-tumbles ez was ever coaxed up. We tore an' scooped up the groun' 'round thar ez if a couple o' steam plows had got in thar an' war runnin' a race agin time. The way me an' the b'ar an' the mud war mixed up together in the rumpus, nobody could ha' told w'ich war w'ich, an' I'll bet a hatful o' dollars th't if somebody had a gathered up a shovelful o' that mud an' looked at it under a mikerscope, he'd a 'skivored 'bout two parts me or two parts b'ar to one part mud, for the way the hair an' meat an' toggery flew were a caution to sassige machines. Wull, arter me an' the b'ar had played circus at the foot o' that ridge fur ten or fifteen minutes, I begun to see, b'gosh, that the b'ar war gittin' the big end o' the fight, an' th't the prospects fur me a follerin' the birch bark an' the sassyfrax inter the b'ar's gullet was very promisin'. I war jist beginnin' to pictur M'riar ez a tol'able, slick-lookin' widder, spite o' her age, w'en I heerd a big, cracklin' sound up to'ards the top o' the hill, w'ich pushes clus onter five hunderd foot high jist at that p'int. The b'ar heerd it, too. We both quit a chawin' an' gougin' an' poundin', an' went to lookin' an' listenin'. It didn't take me longer'n I'm here to the counter to 'skiver w'at the 'sturbance war, and the b'ar got an inklin' of it at the same time. Somehow or other a big rock at the top o' the ridge had come loose, an' it had started on a leetle trip down to the holler. An' its line o' march, b'gosh, war plumb to'ards me an, the b'ar. Wull, me an the b'ar didn't lose no time in agreein' to a flag o' truce, ye can bet. The b'ar started on the dead jump to'ard one p'int o' the compass, an' I sot my sails in the opposite direction. The rock war a tearin' down the steep hill like a cannon-ball, an' trees was a snappin' an' a flyin' every w'ich way afore it. Suddenly an idee hit me. Quicker'n lightnin' I turned to foller it out. It showed me a way to git the best o' that b'ar yit. The b'ar had got a couple o' rods away. I skinned my eye up at the rock a comin' down like a roarin hurricane, an' made my calculations. Then I give two jumps and had that b'ar by the hind legs. He war so s'prised that he didn't seem to see w'at I war up 'till 'twere too late. I drug him back to the foot o' the hill, right in the path o' the flyin' rock. I got thar jist in time, an' clutchin' the b'ar by both hind paws, I throw'd myself back ez fur ez I could an' held the b'ar thar zif he'd been in a vise. I heerd a noise like an arthquake, and felt a wind that must ha' ben travelin 'bout two thousan' miles a minute, an' then I didn't hear nor see nuthin' more. W'en I come to, things was ez quiet an' peaceful ez a mornin' in May. I war layin' off sunthin' like a hunderd foot f'm whar I'd been holdin' the b'ar down. I was clutchin' in each hand the hind foot or a b'ar. That's all o' the varmint th' war to be seen. The rock war layin' down in the holler right on the edge o' the swamp half buried in the muck. It's thar yit, boys, an if ye go an' dig it up ye'll find under it all that's left o' the b'ar.

The 'Squire was about to say something, when the Old Settler got up and started for the door. He stopped with his hand on the latch. His face was red and his cane was in the air.

"That b'ar mowt ha' had a ring it its nose, dod durn ye!" he said. "It mowt ha' had a ring in its nose, an' it mowt a had bells on its toes! Any way, it had the meanest an' ugliest dispysition, b'gosh, of any b'ar th't ever I see or heern tell on. Fur all that, I war 'nuff fur it, and downed it. But, 'Squire, if that b'ar had a had a dispysition like your'n, I wouldn't ha' been here to tell ye this to-night, and that rock 'd ben my grave-stun 'stid o' the b'ar's, b'gosh-'almighty! an' M'riar'd ben a widder."

The Old Settler whizzed his cane through the air, whacked the floor with old-time vigor, and slammed the door behind him as naturally as ever. When the landlord shut up the tavern the 'Squire was laughing yet.—Ed Mott in New York Sun.

Sufficient Grounds for Assault.

Wife (looking over the paper)—I see that an organ-grinder has been assaulted in Montreal.

Husband—Who assaulted him?

Wife—No name is given. The paper simply says an American gentleman.

Husband—Why did he assault him?

Wife—He was playing "Home, Sweet Home." [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Large leghorn flats are revived.

Plain black surah is again in great favor.

Tulle bonnets are the choice for summer dress bonnets.

The kilt is as fashionable as ever in walking costumes.

Velvet facings leave an edge of straw showing above them.

Ostrich tips are used in profusion with gauze ribbons and fancy pins.

Round hats are more generally worn by young ladies than for several seasons.

A gathered panel on one or both sides of the skirt is newer than pleated panels.

Watered silk promises to rival velvet for combination with foulards and India silks.

A large gray parasol is a very stylish affair this season. A huge bow ornaments the top.

It is now quite the fashion to make up semi-transperent muslins over light foundations of batiste or sateen.

All the dark blue shades that have been so long out of favor are revived and are again the fashion.

A fashionable feature of handsome dresses is a pointed puff at the top of each sleeve extending nearly to the elbow.

Orange colored velvet ribbon, is a fashionable trimming for pale creamtinted nun's veiling dresses, for young ladies' wear.

The Mikado foulard silks are in new Japanese designs, with large round figures in ecru and brown shades on red or blue grounds.

The new lace boas are both useful and ornamental, and black and cream lace are alike useful in their manufacture. The lace is arranged in such a way that it forms a rouleau corresponding in size and shape to the fur boa.

Too Bad.

"John!"

"Yes, dear."

"Do you remember coming home last night and asking me to throw you an assorted lot of key-holes out of the window, so that you might find one large and steady enough to get your latch-key in?"

"Yes, dear."

"And do you remember the night before how you asked me to come down and hold the stone steps still enough for you to step on?"

"Yes, dear."

"And the night before that how you tried to jump into the bed as it passed your corner of the room?"

"Yes, dear."

"And still another night when you carefully explained to me that no man was intoxicated as long as he could lie down without holding on, and then attempted to go to bed on a perpendicular wall?"

"Yes, dear."

"John, do you realize that you have come home sober but two nights in the past two weeks?"

"Have I, dear?"

"That's all; and you ought to be ashamed of yourself, too. The idea of a man of your age——. But, John, why, you're crying. There, there, dear, I didn't mean to too severe. After all, you did come home sober two nights."

"Yes, that's what makes me feel so bad."

And then the meeting was adjourned.—[Rambler.

One of Washington's Subjects.

One of the characters of Washington is a young fellow who pads his clothing so as to make him seem to be nearly twice as large as he is. His clothes are always neat, but as he wears them he looks more like a stuffed man than a real one. He wears a pair of boots with heels fully four inches high. His coat sleeves are so long that they cover the tips of his fingers, and even beyond that he has a pair of enormous cuffs. This young man is the son of wealthy parents, and is generally regarded as being a trifle daft. One of his peculiarities is a love for his own figure. He thinks he is the handsomest man alive. He rents an office in an uptown building, to which no one save only a favored few is admitted. This room he has arranged so that the walls and ceiling are entirely covered with mirrors. Strange stories are told of the young man's actions in this apartment. It is said he will remain there for hours admiring himself as reflected in the glass, all the while cutting up the most extraordinary antics. On the street he never looks to the right nor to the left. He never speaks to anyone unless first addressed. Several times he has been guyed by young fellows who thought that they would have a lark at his expense. In each and every instance they have been soundly thrashed, for he is one of the most expert and scientific sparrers in the city.—[Phila. Call.

Too Many Doctors.

The United States has a larger proportion of physicians to its population than any other country in the world, averaging one to less than 600. To keep up this proportion, taking into consideration the natural increase of population, an annual increment of but little more than 3,000 annually would suffice for some years to come. It is evident that a large part of the yearly graduates must either drop out by the wayside, or struggle for a very moderate subsistence. The remedy for this is to make the requirements for admission to medical colleges more severe. Would-be doctors should at least know how to spell. This is not required of them at present. [illegible]

Improving Fables.

[Detroit Free Press.]

THE MUSKETEER AND THE BOY.

A Musketeer who was flyin' around in the Evenin' saw a small boy in a house studyin' his Jography lesson, and he murmured to Himself :—

I will go in and give that Boy a Pointer on Cape Horn."

He flew in at the winder with a soul full of Benevolence, but he was hardly Inside before the Boy's Mother fetched him a Lick with a Towel, which laid him a corpse at her feet. In this Dyin' Breath the Musketeer exclaimed:—

"Alas! the Cause of Education has Undone me!"

Moral:—Any Boy what studies Jography is certain to come to some bad end.

THE DOG AND THE BONE.

A Dog who thot he was awful smart was walkin' along one day when he seed a bone on the grass.

"While I never eat Bones myself," he said as he looked Around, "I'll bury this for some Poor Dog Who can't get Beefsteak."

He made a Spring for the Bone, but the Bone slid away from him, and somebody laffed and laffed in the terriblest manner. A Boy in the back yard had a String tied to the Bone.

"That's just the way of it," said the Dog as he dropped his tail and made a Sneak. "Any Feller who tries to do a Good Action in this World is shure to get left."

Moral:—I tell you it's just Awful how they Won't let a Boy go Fishin'.

THE BOY AND THE HORNET.

A Boy he Stuffed his ole Clothes with straw and put the dummy in a fence corner of the Medder. Bime-by an old hornet came along on his way home from stealin' wool, and as soon as he set Eyes on the Boy he said :—

"Looks like a Thunder Shower off there, and it won't do for this boy to get Wet. He seems like a Boy anxious to get up in the World, and I guess I'll lift him."

He lit down on the straw-stuffed body and Jabbed in his Ole Stinger for Keeps, add he was expectin' to hear Screams of Agony, when the Boy who had put up the job said:

You needn't be in any Hurry on my Account!"

"Durn my Buttons!" said the Hornet, as he made off, "but that's the last time I'll try and help a Boy up!"

Moral:—And a Feller could have any Amount of Fun with a Cannon if it wasn't for his mother, who thinks he'll be busted.

Quick at Repartee.

"George is very quick to at wepartee," said Charles Augustas to a friend, "he's ducedly orwiginal, don't you know?"

"Aw!" remarked his friend, "is he? I nevah caught on, you know."

"Yes, he's ducedly quick at wepartee; says some duced sharp things. He made one of his bwilliant wemarks at the sacwed concert. He walked down the aisle to the fwont of the parquet, you know, and George neglected to take off his hat don't you know. The usher came to him, and, in a beastly way, told him to take off his hat, don't ye know. George turned on him and made a wemark that paralyzed him you know.

"Aw, what did he say?"

"Why, he wose up in his seat, and, looking in a terribly fierce way, he said: "Aw, you go to the duce." It was ducedly sharp, you see."

"Aw."—[St. Paul Globe.

Unknown Wealth.

The Rothschild family is rich beyond knowledge. The family wealth, united amounts into the thousands of millions of dollars, and it holds the financial credit of nations in its hands. In the last twelve years its members have loaned $450,000,000 to certain European governments, and when, in 1866, the Prussian Government demanded an indemnity of $25,000,000,000 from the city of Frankfort-on-the-main—where the Rothschilds do a great deal of business—the house notified Bismarck that if the levy was forced every bank in Frankfort would be broken. Bismarck did not collect.—[Chicago Herald.

Reduced to a Skeleton by Disease, and Restored to Health With Dr. Pardee's Remedy

Wilson, Niagara Co., N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—In April, 1883, I was prostrated by a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism and was confined to my bed four months. I was attended by the best medical skill, but rapidly grew worse until I was reduced to a mere skeleton.

The disease had gone to my lungs and to the region of my heart and I was finally given up by the physicians, who said I could but live a few hours at most, and that all they could do was to make me as easy as possible by killing the pain by frequent injections of morphine. I was finally advised by a friend to take Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy. Upon being asked to give it to me, the physician said "I have no faith in patent medicines, but give it to him; it will not hurt him."

I was then so near dead that my limbs were cold below the knees, and a numb sensation began to creep over my body, and I suffered with great pain in my chest and about my heart. After I had taken the first few doses I experienced more pain than before, for it seemed to drive the pain from the vital parts toward the extremities. I continued to take it according to directions. Four days after the physician who gave me up called to see me, and said I was much better. In about four weeks I could sit up; I then gained very fast and became as well as ever.

CHAS. O. BARNUM.

Brother of D. O. Barnum, Attorney, 238 Powers' Block, Rochester, in which [illegible]

College Expenses.

Colleges expenses have grown to be so high, according to some reports, as to frighten poor and enterprising young men. The statistics of the graduating class at Yale are said to show an average expense expenditure of $960 a year but when the extremes are given at $150 and $3,500, it can be readily seen that the impression conveyed is altogether false. The young man who spends $3,500 a year is not laying out his money for college expenses, but for personal luxuries or something worse. The treasurer's bill ranges from $160 to $220 according to the room occupied, and all beyond is within the control of the student. He can get board for $4 a week, or he may pay two or three times as much. Fuel, lights, washing, and the use of text books can be kept down to $65 a year, or the incidentals may run beyond that limit. Society charges need not be over $25 a year. The necessary expenses of student at Yale paying all his bills, are about $400, without any detuctions on account of charity or ministerial allowance. The addition of $100 will let him enjoy all the excursions and sports useful for him. Any excess above $500 a year, is for luxuries, and when excess is great it is harmful.

The student who lives decently, and shows no mean qualities, will be respected by his fellows, irrespective of his expenditures. Those who spend the most, are often the least popular and the least esteemed. The twenty-three members of Yale's class of 1886 who earned their own support during their course, were none the worst treated by their classmates on that account.—[Utica Herald.

Curious Coincidence.

The other day while a Michigan Central train was waiting at St. Thomas a young man of 25 was observed to be closely regarding a solid looking old gent of 50 who had come through from Chicago. Finally the young man stepped up and inquired:

"Isn't this Mr. B—of Chicago?"

"Yes, sir."

"I am Mr. —, formerly of the same place, but now of Toronto. Do you remember me?"

"Really, but I do not."

"I was a clerk in your pork house. I aspired to the band of your daughter. You drove me hence because I had no ducats."

"Oh, yes, it seems as if I do recall omething of the sort."

"Well, sir, I want you to understand that you made a mistake. I am now worth $18,000 and could give your daughter every luxury."

"Eighteen thousand dollars, eh? That's quite a sum."

"Yes, sir, and I'm the man you drove hence."

"Eighteen thousand dollars," mused the old gent, "what a curious coincidence! That's exactly the sum my daughter's husband gave her the other day to buy summer pug dogs with. I must jot this coincidence down."

Somebody held the young man up until the weakness left his knees a little and then he went hence some more.—[Detroit Free Press.

The warm weather often has a depressing and debilitating effect. Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes all languor and lassitude.

Wise Words.

The purest treasure mortal times afford is spotless reputation.

If anyone says ill of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.

Life is a quarry, out of which we are to mould and chisel and complete a character.

Faith is letting down our nets into untransparent deeps, not knowing what we shall take.

Some people's hearts are shrunk in them like dried nuts. You can hear them rattle as they walk.

For want of self-examination many are like travelers skilled in other countries but ignorant of their own.

Pain itself is not without its alleviations. It may be violent and frequent, but it is seldom both violent and long continued, and its pauses and intermissions become positive pleasures. It has the power of shedding a satisfaction over intervals of ease, which, I believe, few enjoyments exceed.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Mlle. de Braza, sister of the explorer, enjoys travel. She will accompany her brother to the west of Africa and aid him in his duties as Governor of Congo.

Pools are selling in Washington on the date of adjournment of congress.

Baking Powders.

INTERESTING TESTS MADE BY THE GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS.

Dr. Edward G. Love, the Analytical Chemist for the Government, has made some interesting experiments as to the comparative value of baking powders. Dr. Love's tests, made to determine what brands are the most economical to use, and as their capicity lies in their leavening power, tests were directed solely to ascertain the available gas of each powder. Love's report gives the following:

Name of the Baking Powders	Strength Cubic inches Gas per each ounce of Powder.
"Royal" (absolutely pure)	127.4
"Patapsco" (alum powder)	125.2*
"Rumford's" (phosphate) fresh	122.5*
"Rumford's" (phosphate) old	32.7*
"Hanford's None Such," fresh	121.6
"Hanford's None Such," old	84.35
"Redhead's"	117.0
"Charm" (alum powder)	116.9*
"Amazon" (alum powder)	111.9*
"Cleveland's" (contains lime)	110.8
"Sea Foam"	107.9
"Czar"	106.8
"Dr. Price's" (contains lime)	102.6
"Snow flake" (Groff's St. Paul)	101.88
"Lewis" Condensed	98.2
"Congress" yeast	97.5
"C. E. Andrews & Co's" (contains alum)	78.17*
"Hecker's"	92.5
"Gillets"	84.2
"Bulk"	80.5

* In his report the Government Chemist says:

"I regard all alum powders as very unwholesome. Phosphates and Tartaric acid powders liberate their gas too freely in process of baking, or under varying climatic changes suffer deterioration."

Dr. H. A. Mott, the former Government Chemist, after a careful examination of the various Baking Powders of commerce, reported to the Government in favor of the Royal brand.

Professor McMurtrie, late chief chemist for the United States Government at Washington, says: "The chemical tests to which I have submitted the Royal Baking Powder, prove it perfectly healthful, and free from every deleterious substance."

Too Sarcastic.

First Dude—"Ole fellah, what do you think of Miss Common sense?"

Second Dude—"Well, ma deh boy, me opinion of her is not vewy fwattwing."

First Dude—"Thath bad. Wat's the weason you don't wike her?"

Second Dude—"Too duced sahcastic, don't ye know. W'y, the other day we were out widing, she and I, and we passed by one of these donkeys, a miswable animal, you unnerstan, and I asked her the difference between that beast and myself. I thwought she would say she didn't know, and I would tell her that the donkey dwew loads and I dwew pictures. Ye know I am a sowt of an ahtist, and that would be a fwine joke bah Jove."

First Dude—"And what did she say?"

Second Dude—"She said the onwi difwence she could see was in the length of the ears."—[Exchange.

100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

Is inseparably connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and is true of no other medicine. It is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy, while thousands testify to its superior blood-purifying and strengthening qualities. A bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 100 doses and will last a month, while others will average to last not over a week. Hence, for economy, buy Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

John Bright's oratory is still the delight of London assemblages.

"Yes; I shall break the engagement," she said, folding her arms and looking defient; "it is really too much trouble to converse with him; he's as deaf as a post, and talks like he had a mouthful of mush. Besides, the way he hawks and spits is disgusting." "Don't break the engagement for that; tell him to take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will cure him completely." "Well, I'll tell him. I do hate to break it off, for in all other respects he is quite too charming." Of course, it cured his catarrh.

The yearly exports of umbrellas from Englad are valued at £581,000.

STOP AND THINK

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—[Boston Daily Globe.

HART BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware

—AND—

PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE

—AND—

DRAIN TILE,

With all necessary Fittings and connections.

FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.

Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.

[illegible]

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade, by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs

—AND—

MEDICINES,

a beautiful modern

--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date.

☞ The New Drug Store.

H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE.

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing

done on short notice.

Remember the Place.

☞ Ladie's Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Stove	$4.50	Grate	4.25
Nut	4.50	Pea	3.50
Egg	4.25	Smith	450
No 4	475	Mixed	450

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS,

353 Broadway, New York City

FITS STOPPED FREE [illegible]

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. [illegible] Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPE.

Save time and labor! [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

C. R. NICHOLS, Jeweler and Silversmith, No First street, Fulton, N. Y. The leading Jeweler in Fulton.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.

OSWEGO, N. Y.

JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.

Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious, Sample Rooms.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,

THE PLUMBER,

has moved his office and shop

Under Collins' Shoe Store

and is now prepared to do all kinds of

PLUMBING,

GAS and STEAM FITTING.

Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.

Hydrant Hose,

Water Goods

of all kinds. Also a full line of

GAS FIXTURES.

10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS

—IN—

Drugs, Patent Medicines,

—AND—

DYE STUFFS

—AT—

R. E. PHILLIPS'

Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY
Office: Second Floor, [illegible] Block, First Street—Opposite Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,
F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

SECRETARY MANNING, who is now in Hot Springs, is reported as improving in health.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR JONES, made an address to the graduating class at Ives seminary, Antwerp, Wednesday.

JOHN NEWELL, a well-known sporting man of Pittsburg, offers to back Teemer in a rowing match against all comers for from $1,000, to $2,500.

REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE preached from the back varanda of the Thousand Island House, Alexandria Bay, last Sunday to over 2,000 people.

IT is announced that Sunset Cox has resigned his position as Minister to Turkey and on his return to this country will enter the field as candidate for Congress from the eighth New York district.

THE new steamship La Bourgoyne made the passage from Havrie to New York last week in seven days, five hours and eight minutes. This is the fastest time on record between these two ports.

EIGHT Howard students entered a saloon in Boston recently and attempted to run it. A melee ensued in which G. G. Whitelaw, a student from St. Louis was struck with a bottle and probably fatally injured.

REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER met Mr. Gladstone, the English premier, in Liverpool, last Monday and their mutual greeting was full of interest to all who witnessed it. Mr. Beecher sat upon the platform and listened to the premier's masterly address, lasting more than an hour and a half, which was delivered to nearly seven thousand people who had assembled in Hecler's Circus.

JUDGE DAVID DAVIS died at his home in Bloomington, Ill., last Saturday morning. Judge Davis had a long and honorable career and departed from this life leaving a record highly creditable for public and private achievements. He was a native of Maryland, having been born in that state seventy-one years ago. He was an intimate friend of President Lincoln, and was made executor of his estate. He was a Judge of the United States Supreme court from 1863 until 1877, when he resigned to accept a seat in the United States Senate. On the death of President Garfield he became president pro tem of the upper house. His senatorial term expired March 4, 1883. He was married to a second wife in 1884 and since that time has lived in quiet retirement at his home in Bloomington.

Electric Lights.

On last Saturday evening Oneida and Cayuga streets between First and Second were packed with Fultonians who had turned out to witness the first test of electricity used in lighting our streets. Four of the lights were used, placed at the corners of First and Cayuga, Second and Cayuga, First and Oneida and Second and Oneida. The one at the corner of Third and Cayuga not being put up as was at first intended. All other lights in this locality appeared as mere satellites compared with their brilliant neighbors, and every one acknowledged the vast superiority of the one over the other for street lighting purposes. Fulton ought to have the Electric light and will ultimately as no wide awake town of this size will be without it a few years hence. The only question that stands in the way of making this a permanent thing at once is the expense. We think that if the area that is now lighted can be covered at an expense not to exceed $600 a year more than is now paid the system should be introduced. Upon examination we have found the cost per light per night in a few cities to be as follows: Brooklyn 50c., Jersey City 50c., Rochester 45c., Syracuse 50c., Albany 50c., Oswego 34½c. If introduced here the expense will be brought to a minimum as water power will be used, one dynamo sufficient to throw the electricity over the circuit required, one person able to take care of the lights and dynamo, and keeping them burning all night not a necessity. In our next issue we hope to be able to place before our readers a better estimate of the cost and also any proposition that the Thompson-Houston company may in the meantime make. The expense of lighting the village during the year 1884 was between 1,300 and 1,400 dollars; for 1885 it was somewhat less as there were several weeks that gas was not used owing to the flood. Never during the history of the corporation have the streets been sufficiently lighted, the lamplighter has been accustomed to go around with a match in one hand and an almanac in the other. If electricity is used there will be lights every night.

The Facts of the Case.

Having heard that the Clifford ball club, which came here recently to play a game at the G. A. R. picnic on the fair grounds have stated that they were shamefully used and claimed that the Fulton club was at fault. We desire to state in reply that the managers of the picnic agreed that if we would secure a nine they would pay all expenses. After the game they [illegible] no funds and the Clifford club were compelled to pay their own expenses. We suppose [illegible] would do as [illegible]

THE FULTON BASE BALL CLUB.

TO PRUDENT DRY GOODS AND CLOTHING BUYERS N. B.

Prudent people—People who value money for what it will bring—People who of necessity are obliged to make a little money go a long way, can save money by an examination of our stock and the SPECIAL PRICES in all departments before making purchases of any description of

DRY GOODS OR CLOTHING

This reads rather stereotyped—cut and dried, but it's true all the same in these days of over-heated advertising, when the papers are filled with accounts of bankrupt stock, tons of goods, millions of dollars worth of goods etc., it must be difficult for the public to form any opinion as to the truth of each assertion. Our advice to all is to investigate personally and believe their own eyes and senses. With this advice uppermost in our minds we ask you to come here To-Morrow and see the bargains in our

DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

All Lines of Dress Goods, Summer Shawls, Wraps, Parasols, Corsets, Gloves, Hosiery Laces and Window Draperies of all description.

OIL CLOTHS, &C. &C.

IN OUR CLOTHING DEPARTMENT

We have some rattling good bargains. Come and judge for yourselves who does and who does not give the best goods for the least money. We mean business.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

STATE NEWS.

In Syracuse, the Baker dash works failed Thursday. The liabilities are $45,000.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. payable July 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knowles of Waterloo have lived together sixty-three years. He is ninety-one years old and and his wife eighty-six.

The corner-stone of the new gymnasium and alumni hall of Hobart college was laid at Geneva on Wednesday by the Hon. Levi P. Morton, chairman of the board of trustees.

Clarence Kenyon, aged 14 years, an employe in a planing mill at Clayton, was caught between some machinery and lumber Saturday afternoon and fatally hurt. He died Sunday evening.

John T. Biglin and Richard Hayes, neither of whom is yet twenty-one years old, have been sentenced to Sing Sing for seven and a half years each. They were convicted of killing William Mitchell by shooting him in a street quarrel in New York city in May last.

Farmers all through Cattaraugus county are fearful that the hay yield will be very light this year, owing to the want of rain. In many parts of the county the grass is commencing to wither and cows are not giving their usual quantity of milk, owing to poor feed.

A representative of the Schuyler Electric Light Co., of Hartford, Conn., has been in town looking over the ground with a view to establishing a plant here.

Never behind on any seasonable goods at F. E. BACON'S.

COUNTY NEWS.

Mexico wants to spend $1,000 in repairing her academy.

The Phœnix Agricultural society hold their next fair on Sept. 15, 16 and 17.

Chas. Tollner of Pulaski, was granted a patent last week on a circular sawing machine.

Rev. Geo. W. Wood, and family of New Haven are enjoying themselves camping at Demster Beach.

The game at Mexico Friday between the picked nine from Oswego and the Mexico nine resulted in favor of Oswego by a score of 17 to 10. It was a good game.

Henry Dart, who has been absent in British Columbia for over thirty years, surprised his friends and relatives by returning to his former home in Central Square last week. He is a brother of Mrs. Miron Coville.

Cleveland will celebrate the "ever glorious." The Press says that the amount apportioned for fireworks exceeds the total amount heretofore apportioned for all purposes.

One hundred and forty-six crates of strawberries were shipped to New York Friday; 835 to Philadelphia, Saturday and 514 to New York. For the first 12 days this year 4,649 crates have been shipped. Last year for same time 5,055 crates.

Burglars last Saturday broke into the office of Post & Henderson at Sand Bank, also the railroad office and attempted to break open the safe but did not succeed. Both locks were ruined. Private houses were entered and considerable property stolen. Parties there are suspected but there are no definite clues as yet.

John Coe, ex-collector of the town of Constantia, was arrested last week by Deputy Sheriff Sullivan and brought to this city on a charge of grand larceny. Coe furnished $1,500 bail for his appearance when wanted. About three years ago he was collector for the town of Constantia and when his term of office expired it is alleged that Coe was short in his accounts $428, which he has never made good.—[Palladium.

Don't forget to call at Rosenbloom's to see the bargains they are offering all through their departments.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expeditiously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying. [illegible]

BASE BALL.

The standing of the International league are in the following order: Toronto, Stars, Rochester, Utica, Hamilton, Buffalo, Binghamton, Oswego. In the national league: Detroit, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Washington.

Keefe of the New Yorks does not watch a man on first base, but depends on signs from his catcher.

Morrill of the Bostons is the most patient and judicious waiter in the league, and has reached first on balls more times than any other player.

No pitcher has as yet this season disposed of a team without a base hit in a championship game.

Thompson seems bound to be the leading home run getter in the league, in this, his his first regular season in that organization.

Chicago has made 14 home runs this season, Philadelphia 11, St. Louis 8, Washington 6, Detroit 13, Boston 6, New York 0, and Kansas City 3. Of this number Thompson, of Detroit, has made 5, and Hines, of Washington, 3.

Latham was the first player in the American Association who has scored fifty runs this season. He did this by excellent base running, and not so much by hard hitting, as he does not rank among the first twenty leading batters.

A. J. Bushong and W. A. Latham, of the St. Louis team, have been fined $100 apiece for engaging in a fight on the Baltimore base ball grounds. The fine was imposed by President Wyckoff.

Anson captain of the Chicagos, was fined $110 for "chinning" to an umpire one day last weeck.

The Detroits made seven home runs in a recent game with the St. Louis league nine.

The league championship since 1876 has been won as follows: Boston 1877, 1878, 1883; Chicago, 1876, 1880, 1881, 1882, 1885; Providence, 1879, 1884.

The Chicagos hold the lead on base running thus far this season, and have the largest number of "bases stolen" to their credit.

Any of our friends intending to visit New York will be pleased to learn that their well-known and favorite stopping place, French's Hotel is ready to receive them. The house has been in the hands of skilled workmen for months, and is completely renovated. Every hall and room has handsome Brussels carpets, and all the furniture is new, and of cherry or mahogany, while innumerable french plate looking glasses adorn the walls in every part of the house. The general dining-room is one of the largest and handsomest in the city, and is with the private dining-rooms, elaborately furnished. All the sleeping-rooms have electric call bells used for awakening guests, without the old-fashioned kicking on the door, and ample ventilation. One of the new proprietors, Mr. F. W. Coleman, was for several years manager and part owner, and still owns one-fourth of the Carrolton Hotel, Baltimore and is the son of the far-famed Robert B. Coleman of the Astor House. The Hotel is kept on the European Plan, the price of rooms being $1 per day, and the bill of fare is equal to that of any first-class hotel in the city, though the prices are very moderate. See the card of the Hotel in another column.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Adkins, of Syracuse spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs Wm. Morton.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The co-partnership heretofore existing between Drs. W. A. Hall and W. H. Loomis is this day dissolved by mutual consent. Dr. Loomis will continue the business at the old established office, No. 41, First street, and Dr. Hall will remove to Syracuse to occupy the office of the late Dr. Pease, at No. 88 Montgomery street. All parties indebted to the firm of Hall & Loomis for professional services rendered between April 15th, 1886, and this date will please call at the office of Dr. Loomis and settle the same.

Dated, Fulton, N. Y. } W. A. HALL,
June 30, 1886. } W. H. LOOMIS.

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
[illegible]

Fulton Trotting Association.

The summer meeting of the Fulton Trotting Association is to be held on the Fair Grounds at Oswego Falls, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 13, 14 and 15, for purses of $1,500.

PROGRAM:

First Day—Tuesday, July 13.
No. 1—Purse $250.00; 3:00 class.
No. 2—Purse $250,00; 2.29 class.
Second Day—Wednesday, July 14.
No. 3—Purse $250.00; 2:45 class.
No. 4—Purse $250.00; 2:33 class.
Third Day—Thursday, July 15.
No. 5—Purse $250.00; 2:37 class.
No. 6—Purse $250.00; free for all.

CONDITIONS.

All races to be mile heats, best three in five to harness. National Association rules to govern. Entrance fee ten per cent of purse, and should accompany nomination. Winner to receive first money only. All purses divided as follows: 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent. No conditional entries received. Four to enter, three to start. Heats in each day's races trotted alternately. The Association reserve the right to postpone on account of unfavorable weather, or other unavoidable cause.

Entries close Saturday, July 3d, at 9 p. m. and should be addressed to

J. H. CASE, Secy.
Fulton, N. Y.
O. J. JENNINGS, Prest.

Phœnix Trotting Association.

The summer meeting of the Phœnix Trotting Association will be held at Phœnix on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 5th, 6th and 7th for purses of $1,200.

Monday, July 5th—Entries No. 1.
Purse $175.00—3 Min. Class.
Salina Boy—Susie Swift.
Roscoe—Flora M.
Gip S.—Lady Whitefoot.
Lady Blaze.
No. 2, Purse $225.00.—2:29 Class.
Henry Gratton—Milkmaid.
King Silnayo—N. J. Fuller.
Helping Hand—Little Volunteer.
Tuesday, July 6th, Entries.
No. 3, Purse $175.00—2 45 Class.
Salina Boy—Nellie K.
Susie Swift—Roscoe.
Lady Blaze—Lysander Bell.
Flora M.—Gip S.
No. 4, Purse $200.00—2:33 Class.
Daisy—Lysander Girl.
C. A. C.—Bessie I.
Little Volunteer—Lady M.
Waxford—Dan.
Wednesday, July 7th, Entries No. 5.
Purse $200.00—2:37 Class.
Christopher—Daisy.
Ned—Susie Swift.
Lysander Belle—Zadoc.
Hattie Fisher—Mattie B.
No. 6.—Purse $200.—Free For All.
Star Duroc—Milkmaid.
King Silnayo—Kitefoot.
Julia C.—N. J. Fuller.
Henry Gratton.

Admission 50 cents. Season Tickets $1.
Ladies and Carriages free.

☞Excursion rates on round trip tickets from all stations on the Syracuse, Phœnix & Oswego division of the R. W. & O. road.

Special trains will leave Phœnix each evening, for Syracuse about 7 o'clock; for Oswego about 8.

H. S. Robinson of Clay, Onondaga county was visiting in Fulton yesterday.

"Wimpling" is Good.

The glinting sunlight caused the ripples on the river to look so inviting, that we are afraid many were led to sail over the wimpling waters and listen to the music of the oars splashing amid the blue, during the 27th.—[Fulton Correspondent Times-Express.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

• Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

HART BROS.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK.
[illegible]

BOWENS CORNERS.

The cheese factory at this point is making 18 cheeses a day. W. H. Marriam the cheese maker is very highly spoken of and the product of his factory is pronounced by buyers to be the best cheese ever manufactured here. A considerable advance over the ruling is always brought.

The young men of this place will meet next Friday evening for the purpose of organizing a band. The Hannibal Center band will be present. There is some really first-class talent here which will enable us to have a good band.

Last Thursday evening a festival was held in the church under the auspices of the church soceity. The bad weather kept many away, but a fair attendance was present. The festival netted the society over $30.

A number of young people from here attended the festival at Hannibal Center last Saturday evening.

W. H. Merriam last Monday had the misfortune to seriously cut his right thumb, nearly severing that useful member. Dr. Loomis of Fulton, dressed the wound.

Palermo.

Sunday was children's day at the Palermo Centre church. The church was very nicely arranged and all the children did remarkably well.

The base ball club of Clifford say that they were shamefully used at the G. A. R. picnic on the fair ground by the Fulton club.

Justices of the Peace and Constables are having a harvest in town at present.

Mrs. William Wideman of Vermillion was arrested and brought before W. B. Forsyth Justice of the Peace on a charge of stealing wood of James Hill on Thursday last. She was tried by a jury which failed to agree, and while getting another jury the parties settled.

VOLNEY.

Mrs. Rugg, her daughter and Mrs. Jane Cook started from here last week for Ohio on a visit.

Mrs. Maria Baldwin is home from Hampton, Virginia, where she has been teaching school.

Mrs. Celestia Graves Ball is home from Atlanta, where she has been teaching a number of years.

Mrs. Young, of Oswego, was very much refreshed and invigorated by her stay of eight days in Volney, besides making many friends.

Mrs. Fitch has gone to visit her sister in Lysander.

"Delays are Dangerous."

If you are pale, emaciated, have a hacking cough, with night-sweats spitting of blood and shortness of breath, you have no time to lose. Do not hesitate too long—'till you are past cure; for taken in its early stages, consumption can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," as thousands can testifiy. By druggists.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, June 28.

The market to-day, was active and very satisfactory to salesmen. Some little doubt was expressed about putting the price quite so high, the fear being that shippers might go back on them; but on the whole, cheese was taken freely and no holding back was found among factory men. The fact that a good deal of cheese was bought during the last week in the northern part of the state on the basis of the market, speaks well for the prices to-day as it was the policy of buyers to keep prices down as much as possible. There is a large shrinkage in the country, not so much on account of a slender flow of milk as because there is a decrease in the number of cows and factories. Dairymen became discouraged last year and sold off their cows to the butcher. We heard an excellent judge of this matter, who has traveled extensively through the country, estimate that the yield would be 25 per cent short of an average this year.

Transactions of the day are as follows: 75 boxes, at 6¾c.; 15 lots, 1,194 boxes, at 7c.; 8 lots, 810 boxes at 7⅛c.; 73 lots, 7,784 boxes, at 7¼c.; 20 lots, 281 boxes, at 7⅜c.; 22 lots, 2,646 boxes at 7½c.; 9 lots, 872 boxes at 7⅝c. Sales 15,462 boxes; commission 820 boxes; total 16,282 boxes. Ruling price 7¼c. Transactions of corresponding day last year 16,158, ruling price 8⅝c. Two years ago, 15,214 boxes, ruling price 10. Cheese is now sold down as close to the hoop as buyers will take it, so there is no accumulation at the factories.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, June 28.

Cheese—It is an agreeable change to be able to say something good of the market. The advance of three-fourths of a cent in prices to-day, has put a decidedly cheerful phase upon the faces of both salesmen and buyers. The flow of milk is kept up well to the usual standard, i. e., the falling off has been less than in former years, the feed never was better, cheese is sold down close to the hoop, with favorable reports of the past and advance to-day the condition of the market may be said to be more hopeful than for some weeks. Our table of transactions is as follows;

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
17	777	7 cents
42	3,804	7¼ cents
48	4,202	7½ cents
8	626	com.
115	9,386
Farm dairy	873
Total	10,259

Farm dairy—The offering of farm dairy cheese amounted to [illegible] boxes, and sold at prices ranging from [illegible] with the bulk at 7¼c.

Butter—[illegible] packages farm dairy butter sold at [illegible], and the same quantity of creamery at [illegible] cents.

AT FULTON.

[illegible]

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., June 29, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, a full board, except Trustee Pardee.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

W. G. Gage by Trustee Johnson presented a warranty deed of south ½ of lot No. 1, Block No 66, and on motion the Clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of W. G. Gage for $112, in payment for the same.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the Clerk was directed to draw orders for the amounts on the proper funds.

Geo. F. Sharp, Highway Work,	$165.38
Fred Bennett, printing,	28.50
M. C. Higbriter, Clerk's salary,	25.00
" " Janitor services,	3.75
C. S. Eggleston, stationary,	5.24
Pooler & Wilson, coal bill,	2.88
J. C. Dresser, repairing and cleaning jail bedding,	2.50
Paul Roderick, freight on hose carts,	2.75
Willard Hutchins, Board of Health,	2.00

Trustee Pardee came in.

The bill of John Cavanaugh for lamp-lighting, $38.07, was laid over until the next meeting, and the Clerk directed to count the street lamps belonging to the village and ascertain their condition.

A petition was presented signed by F. Dilts and others asking for the construction of a sidewalk adjacent the west side of W. G Gage & Co's. mill. The same was referred to committee on sidewalks.

A telegram was received from the Thompson Houston Electric Co., Boston, asking the Board to defer action regarding street lighting until the next regular meeting of the Board.

On motion, action was deferred.

Ordered that the Clerk be directed to notify H. J. Case, the owner or occupant of the premises corner of Broadway and Second streets, to relay the sidewalk adjacent said premises in accordance with a resolution passed March 18th, 1886.

The committee to procure place for hose cart in southern portion of the village reported they had secured a suitable place adjoining the grocery store of A. W. Stoneburgh. On motion the report was accepted and the place designated, to be occupied as such for one year without cost to the village.

The committee appointed to settle with Jas. N. Clarke, late street commissioner, reported that he had paid over $19.22, monies belonging to the village. The committee were given further time.

The committee on drinking fountains reported the fountains set and in working order.

Prentice Yeomans appeared before the Board and asked for the enlargement of a ditch on Fourth street between Ontario and Harrison streets. The same was referred to the committee on streets.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday, July 7th, 1886, at 7½ o'clock p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

MOTH-WAX
KILLS THE MOTH
and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents.
W. H. H. CHILDS,
73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

CHEAPEST and BEST. Prices REDUCED.
HOLMAN'S NEW PARALLEL BIBLES!
Over 2,000 pages. Fully Illustrated. Agents Wanted. Circulars free.
A. J. HOLMAN & CO., Philada.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING
NOT WHEN
PLASTIC PAINT
Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits.
MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO.
109 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., and 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

--LUMBER YARD!--
—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—
Complete Assortment
—OF—
Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.
—And in fact everything pertaining to a—
FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	aud DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke-pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N.Y.
[illegible] } GEO. JOHNSTON [illegible]

FULTON TIMES

[illegible], Local Editor.

FULTON 'BUS

The Fulton Omnibus will leave the Lewis House for trains on the Oswego & Syracuse Railroad by the following time table:

	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
For Syracuse	7:55	11:25	2:25	5:35	7:25
For Oswego	7:35	11:35 P. M.	2:35	6:46	6:50

Tickets to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents for sale on the Omnibus.

LEONARD & WILSON, Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:16 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:47 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:47 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:18 p. m.
Day Express	2:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:13 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:15 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:24 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:10	11:20	3:20	5:20
For Oswego,	9:20	12:30	2:31	6:30

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Miss Libbie Lee is home from Oberlin, Ohio.

Mrs. Joseph Francis and son of Brooklyn, are visiting friends in this village.

G. C. Bartley of Lower Oswego Falls, is seriously ill.

Mrs. Julius Heimburger is in Cortland for a few weeks.

Miss Anna Gilmour returned last Thursday from Smith's college.

Frank Waterman is home from Princeton to spend his vacation.

Mrs. A. Bristol leaves to-morrow to visit friends in Cambridge, N. Y.

Mrs. Jas. Hoff has gone to Buffalo to spend a few weeks with relatives.

Dr. W. L. Woodbury, wife and child have been visiting friends in Ithaca.

Miss Ettie Morton has returned from New York, where she has been visiting.

Mrs. H. G. Hull and daughter of Brooklyn, are visiting Mrs. C. G. Case.

Miss Helen Barnes has returned from Oswego, where she has been visiting.

Mrs. E. B. Cottier of Buffalo, has been in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hoff.

Mrs. Charles Metcalf of Owego, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Green.

Mrs. E. T. Jacobs and daughter of Boston, are in town visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Ada Thayer has gone to Napanee, Ont., to visit friends. She will be gone several weeks.

Rev. B. R. Dow and wife are visiting at the lady's home in the eastern part of the village.

Willard G. Reynolds, who has been attending college at Andover, Mass., returned home Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen of Mexico, who have been spending a short time with the lady's sister Mrs. C. R. Nichols, returned home last Monday.

Harry P. DeForest, who has been teaching school in Illinois for the past year, has returned to Fulton for a short time.

C. H. David and wife and daughter, returned yesterday, after a five week's visit to New York, Boston and other eastern cities.

Rev. Peter Veeder for eight years proprofessor in the University of Japan, now of Lake Forest, Ill., has been spending a few days in town, the guest of Mrs. Jas. Gilmour.

All colors and black cashmere Shawls from $1.25 to $5,00 at F. E. BACON'S.

Cabbage plants, the best variety. For sale at L. K. Wilbur's, Fay street. 6w2

Buy the Underhill Opera Slipper of Goodjon. The best made.

Positively the largest line of Boy's Waists ever kept by any concern in this town. Call and see them at H. & A. Rosenbloom's.

Gents' Bal. Button and Congress Shoes in the latest tip of the style, only $1.50 at COLLINS'. 7tf

For the next 10 days Specia Bargains in Calf Boots at GOODJON'S.

[illegible]

(Special to The Times.)

Strange as the statement may appear at first sight, New York is a college town. This is the season of commencements, and it is at such a time that public attention is drawn to the educational facilities of our city, especially those outside of the public schools. There are in the limits of the Metropolis two Universities of acknowledged reputation, besides five colleges, having a high standard of excellence. There is not a city in the United States that can boast of the same record, not even Boston. The Columbia College, or better Columbia University, is one of the seven institutions that were founded before the Revolution. Originally it was called Kings College; but on the acknowledgment of American Independence, its name was changed to its present title. When first erected, the buildings and grounds occupied some 20 or more acres in the vicinity of what is now Chambers and Warren streets, West Broadway and College Place. The rapid growth of the city made this unavailable and the present site, the square bounded by 49th and 50th streets, Madison and Fourth Aves., was chosen, and a building was erected. If I mistake not, the down town property was sold and a large tract of land above 42d street and west of 4th Avenue was obtained, much of which is now in the possession of the college and furnishes the income of the institution. The original building, a part of which is still standing, was built of brown stone in true Ionic style of architecture. The exigencies of the growth of the college have demanded more modern buildings, so that the greater part of the original structures have been removed, and now handsome buildings, fitted with all the modern educational appliances, supply the place.

The list of graduates, during its existence of more than a century contains the names of men who have filled honorable places in the nation's history. By far the most illustrious name is that of the lamented Hamilton. At the breaking out of the Revolution, Hamilton was a student of Columbia. It is related that on the occasion of an incipient riot when the old building, then standing in what is now College Place, was threatened, Hamilton addressed the crowd and the speech gave promise of the oratorical greatness he afterward achieved.

Columbia University, for such it must be called, embraces now a department of arts, of science, of law, of political science, and indirectly, one of medicine.

The name of Draper is indissolubly connected with the fame of the University of New York. There are some important discoveries in science connected with and which have been achieved in the laboratory of this University. It has had an existence of a half century or more. The building is on University Place and faces Washington Park. This plot of ground was once the Potters field and afterwards the parade ground. Architecturally, the building is of Gothic style. Connected with it, are schools of law, medicine, science, and arts. As I said before the family of Drapers is connected with the University. They have filted chairs of Chemistry of Anatomy, and Philosophy. Under the guidance of Prof. John Draper, investigations in the electric telegraph were made within its walls. The first practical use of the telegraph was here developed.

Besides these two institutions are the colleges connected with the educational system of the city, St. Francis Xavier, Rutgers, (Female), St. Johns, Manhattan, besides the Theological Seminary of the Episcopal church and the Union Theological Seminary. Making a rough estimate, the college students of these Metropolitan collegiate institutions number about 4,000. The age of ignorance in this city is past. The classical and scientific courses in the university and the college of this city are free. The deserving and painstaking youth can find enough to do to earn his living expenses while in attendance.

⁂

Among the financial men of Wall St., considerable excitement now exists at the recent attempt of the Gold and Stock Telegraph Co. to monopolize the quotations of the Exchange. Jay Gould is the managing spirit of this company. The danger of this movement lies in the fact that its fulfillment meant the parceling out of the quotations to suit the purposes of Gould. The legitimate trade of Wall streed is sufficiently perverted as it is without this new element, tending as it does toward dishonest speculation. The policy of Gould as shown in the testimony of the Bankers & Merchants suit seems to be toward the destruction of all honest and honorable competition. The opinion seems to have prevailed that he had left the street and was in partial retirement, but this new move, looking as it did towards the virtual control of the Exchange itself, shows his retirement to be a very aggressive one. There exists in Wall St. a clique of men whose chief delight is to bankrupt railroads and then buy them in for little or nothing. The recent legislative inquiry of the Massachusetts assembly showed Messrs. Field and Sage in a very unenviable light. The attempted reorganization of the Texas and Pacific shows that the object of Jay Gould is to bankrupt that road and for a comparatively small sum, place it under the control of the Missouri Pacific of which road he is president. With the Western Union under his absolute control, it is easy to see what a tremendous influence he might exert should he use the company for the accomplishment of so open and illigitimate ends.

⁂

